To whom it may concern,

I strongly oppose the plan to replace Hyper Karting at the Entertainment Quarter with a car park.

This makes no sense. The site is directly serviced by the light rail. It is one of the few places in Sydney where families can arrive easily without a car. Replacing an active, family venue with more parking sends the opposite message.

My son loves Hyper Karting. He talks about it constantly and wants his birthday there. It gets him off a screen and into a real activity. There are very few places like this left.

The Entertainment Quarter already struggles to offer meaningful options for families. Removing one of the only engaging attractions and replacing it with a car park reduces its value even further.

This is a step backwards. It prioritises cars over people, and space over experience.

Please reconsider this decision and retain a family-focused attraction at this site.

Regards,
Daniel

To whom it may concern,

It's come to my attention that the new parking lot proposal would have to shut down Hyper Karting at Moore Park. You probably have received countless of emails like these and I urge you to take note of them.

Hyper Karting is a great venue for socialising and has brought a lot of joy to people in Sydney. It's not everywhere or at many venues that people can race using electric Go Karts. It's a staple for corporate socials and hangouts with friends. Closing it permanently would be a big blow, especially for something as superficial and boring as new parking lots, something which would not be able to inspire the same happiness as Hyper Karting does at all.

I deeply urge you to reconsider the parking lot proposal.

Sincerely,
Sijin

Hello City of Sydney,

Hyper Karting is a special place to me as I go there to pass the time waiting for games at the SCG or Allianz Stadium. It's not only a place where people have fun and make memories, but it is also a workplace for more than 100 people. It's a great place of the community to have fun with one another whether friends or not. As shown on the social media pages of Hyper Karting, even on the busiest days, especially when there's events at the SCG and Allianz Stadium, not all parking spaces are full. In fact, there's more than 60 spots remaining!

Me personally, and a lot of people would agree with me on this, I think an extra 200+ spots aren't necessary. This is my polite request that you keep Hyper Karting in business, as it being the community together, makes for some great memories and is a workplace for a lot of people. Thanks you.

Dear City of Sydney,

I'm writing to strongly oppose the proposed closure of Hyper Karting at Moore Park to make way for additional parking.

This facility is not just another commercial venue—it's a unique recreational asset that brings energy, community engagement, and genuine enjoyment to the area. I've personally visited multiple times, and it consistently delivers a high-quality, memorable experience that is difficult to replicate elsewhere in Sydney.

Replacing a vibrant, active-use destination with more parking is a step in the wrong direction. Cities should be moving toward creating engaging, people-focused environments —not reducing them in favour of more space for cars. Hyper Karting contributes to Moore Park as a destination, encourages social interaction, and provides a safe, structured activity for a wide range of people.

There are already numerous parking options servicing the precinct. Removing a distinctive attraction to marginally increase parking capacity undermines the broader value Moore Park offers to residents and visitors alike. Once a facility like this is gone, it is unlikely to return.

I urge the City of Sydney to reconsider this proposal and prioritise retaining amenities that actively contribute to the cultural and recreational life of the city. Hyper Karting is exactly the kind of venue that makes Sydney more dynamic and enjoyable.

Please do not replace it with something as low-value and easily substituted as additional parking.

Regards,

Sheree

To the City of Sydney Council,

I'm writing as a Sydney resident deeply frustrated by the council's decision to refuse Hyper Karting's application for a two-year operating extension at Moore Park.

Let me be direct: replacing a thriving, zero-noise-complaint entertainment venue with empty parking spaces is exactly the kind of decision that makes people lose faith in local government. You are not managing infrastructure — you are removing something genuinely good from this city.

Hyper Karting has attracted over 500,000 visitors since 2021. It employs more than 150 people. It runs programs for NDIS participants, some of whom attend hundreds of sessions a year as part of their social development. It has produced young racing talent being scouted for Red Bull development programs. It generates foot traffic that benefits every surrounding business in the Entertainment Quarter. And it has done all of this without a single noise complaint.

The council's stated reason — that using 298 car spaces for a commercial activity is 'unacceptable' — does not hold up. Data shows parking demand in the precinct during major events does not justify prioritising those spaces over a functioning, well-loved business. A new underground car park is already set to open nearby. The arithmetic does not support this decision, and nor does any reasonable weighing of community benefit.

I am asking the council to:

1. Reconsider the refusal of the lease extension
2. Engage genuinely with Hyper Karting to find a workable long-term solution
3. Recognise that 'orderly development' should not mean trading a vibrant entertainment precinct for an underused car roof

Sydney is a city that constantly talks about activation, liveability, and attracting people back to its public spaces. Closing Hyper Karting contradicts every one of those stated goals. I urge the council to make a better decision here — one that reflects what this city actually wants to be.

Yours sincerely,
Karl Glebe Resident

Dear Council,

Attn: Shannon Rickersey….

Submission - RD/2023/897/A - 116 Lang Rd Moore Park NSW 2021

Could you please explain your decision to add more parking to an already under-used facility?

Can you please provide proof of the complaints you have received from the community requiring more parking?

Please save Hyper Kart!!! Think of the kids, think of the families, think of our sanity during school holidays and rainy days & think of the people YOU service. Have a heart & save Hyper Kart!

Thank you,
Olivia Vass

Hi there,

I just wanted to reach out about the plan to close Hyper Karting at Moore Park.

Honestly, this feels like a really disappointing decision. Hyper Karting is one of the most fun things to do in that whole area — it actually gives people a reason to go to the Entertainment Quarter and makes the precinct feel alive.

Every time I've been there, it's been busy and full of energy. Without it, the area risks going back to feeling pretty flat.

If the issue is needing more parking, surely there are better solutions than shutting it down. Build a new car park, expand parking elsewhere, or look at alternative options — but replacing something like Hyper Karting with parking feels like a step backwards.

And if it really can't stay where it is, then at least work with the operators to find another central Sydney location and help facilitate a move. It would be a shame to lose it entirely.

Sydney already struggles with having enough genuinely fun, unique things to do — this is one of the few that actually delivers.

Would really encourage you to reconsider.

Thanks,
Sam

UNOFFICIAL

Good afternoon

RD/2023/897/A

I write in support of retaining Hyer Karting at Moore Park car park (level 5).

I only discovered Hyper Karting in February when I attended my nephew Raphael's 21st birthday celebration there with his friends, and it was genuinely one of the most fun and inclusive experiences I've ever had in the inner city (as a resident of 28 years in Sydney CBD).

We enjoyed it so much that I immediately planned to make Hyper Karting a regular fixture for family and friend catch-ups, and it was clear from the atmosphere - it was buzzing - that others were enjoying it just as much as we were. It caters for all ages and abilities and all were present that birthday night. I've never got a driver's licence (I'm 54) and even I could participate fully and confidently! And the team who ran it were so friendly and efficient; it was so well organised. They were such good ambassadors for the sport, and there was great camaraderie among them which added to the occasion.

It's a wonderful addition to Moore Park - it offers a completely different kind of entertainment to what's otherwise available at the Entertainment Quarter, standing apart from movies and music venues with a more active social experience. I travelled there by light rail and family & friends attending the birthday part didn't rely on the car park at all, which reflects how accessible the venue is without driving. As the only go-karting option servicing Sydney's inner city and eastern suburbs, Hyper Karting adds a unique personality and energy to Moore Park that would be greatly diminished if it were lost.

Now that I've just discovered it, it's so disheartening to hear that level of fun – right on the city's doorstep only minutes away by light rail - may be a short-lived experience.

Thank you for considering my submission.

Hi Shannon
While the promise of EQ years ago was bright, it has decidedly dimmed in recent years. I can't understand why council would take a viable business and close it down.
If the goal is to have plenty of free car parking - then of course you will achieve this because you will have zero people bothering to attend this dying precinct.
Hyperkarting is the only reason I travel from the Shire to EQ. I can get bowling, cinema and fast food locally.
regards
Henry

Item 4.

Development Application: 125A Kent Street, Millers Point - D/2026/97

File Number: D/2026/97

Summary

Date of Submission:	4 February 2026
Applicant:	Mecone
Architect/Designer:	Cortese Gilder Architects
Owner:	Jeffrey International Investment Pty Ltd
Planning Consultant:	Mecone
Cost of Works:	$3,792,771
Zoning:	SP5 Metropolitan Centre
Proposal Summary:	Adaptive reuse of the existing 3 storey building including the retention of the existing 3 stories and construction of 5 storey addition above to the northern extent of the site to be used as a residential flat building (RFB) accommodating 5apartments, communal open space on level 2 and the rooftop and 6 bike parking spaces. The application has been referred to the Local Planning Panel for determination as it is considered both sensitive development (Development to which State Environmental Planning Policy (Housing) 2021, Chapter 4 (Design of residential apartment) applies and is 4 or more storeys in height), and contentious development receiving over 25 unique public submissions. The application was notified for a period of 21 days and received 126 submissions. The application is recommended for refusal for the following reasons: • The proposal fails to comply with all relevant objectives of the SP5 Metropolitan Centre zone as it constrains adjoining development and undermines the efficient and orderly development of land in a compact urban centre.

- The development does not appropriately respect and respond to adjoining heritage items and is therefore inconsistent with Clause 5.10 'Heritage conservation' of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 and applicable Sydney Development Control Plan 2012 provisions.
- The proposal provides inadequate residential amenity, particularly in regard to private open space, building separation, building setbacks, and visual privacy and is inconsistent with the Housing SEPP design principles, and relevant design criteria of the Apartment Design Guidelines and Sydney Development Control Plan 2012.
- The development fails to achieve Design Excellence under Clause 6.21C due to poor public domain contribution, inadequate heritage and environmental response, amongst other things.
- Insufficient information has been provided to properly assess impacts, including structural, landscaping, waste, acoustic, external works, and contextual impacts, resulting in non-compliance with both the Apartment Design Guidelines and Sydney Development Control Plan 2012.
- As a result of the above, the proposal is not in the public interest.

Summary Recommendation: This proposal is recommended for refusal.

Recommendation

It is resolved that consent be refused for Development Application Number D/2026/97.

Reasons for Recommendation

The application is recommended for refusal for the following reasons:

(A) The application fails to satisfy all objectives of the SP5 Metropolitan Centre Zone of the Sydney LEP as it fetters development on adjoining sites and undermines the efficient and orderly development of land in a compact urban centre.

(B) The proposed development does not appropriately respond to nor complement adjoining heritage items. The proposal is also inconsistent with the Conservation Management Plan for the adjoining heritage item at 123 Kent Street. The proposal is therefore contrary to Clause 5.10 of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 (SLEP 2012) and Sections 3.9.5(1)(c), 3.9.5(1)(4)(d), 3.9.5(1)(f), 3.9.5(1)(h) and 3.9.5(3) and 5.1.3.2 of the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012 (SDCP 2012).

(C) The proposed development is contrary to principles 1 to 6 of the design principles for residential apartment development in Schedule 9 of the State Environmental Planning Policy (Housing) 2021 (Housing SEPP). The proposal provides inadequate amenity to apartments and unjustifiably impinges on the amenity of neighbouring residential buildings, due to non-compliance with multiple provisions of the ADG, including Objectives 2F, 3E, 3F, 4B and 4E.

(D) The proposed development fails to exhibit Design Excellence pursuant to Clause 6.21C of the SLEP 2012 due to the following:

(i) The form and external appearance of the proposed development will not improve the quality of the public domain, inconsistent with Clause 6.21C(2)(b) and Clause 6.21C(2)(d)(x),

(ii) The application fails to appropriately address heritage issues and streetscape constraints, inconsistent with Clause 6.21C(2)(d)(iii),

(iii) The application fails to adequately address all environmental impacts, pursuant to the provisions outlined under Clause 6.21C(2)(d)(vii),

(iv) The application fails to adequately consider vehicular and service access and circulation requirements, inconsistent with Clause 6.21C(2)(d)(ix), and

(v) The proposed development does not achieve an appropriate interface at ground level between the building and the public domain, inconsistent with Clause 6.21C(2)(d)(xii).

(E) The development does not provide appropriate amenity for residents. The development does not provide adequate building setbacks, private open space, internal common area or tree canopy. Poor outlook is also provided to apartments on the ground floor and level one due to proximity to the site boundary and proposed screening. As such, the proposal is non-compliant with Sections 3.5, 4.2.3.3, 4.2.3.6, 4.2.3.7, 4.2.3.10, 5.1.1.3(7) and 5.1.2 of the SDCP 2012.

(F) The primary building entrance is recessed and concealed. The development fails to activate the street frontage and address the public domain. As such, the proposal is contrary to Section 3.2 of the SDCP 2012.

(G) Inadequate information has been submitted to properly assess the application and the proposed development therefore fails to satisfy the following requirements:

(i) The application provides insufficient information to determine the impacts of potential footing reinforcement works upon the structural integrity of neighbouring heritage buildings, inconsistent with Section 3.9.13 of the SDCP 2012.

(ii) The application fails to demonstrate 15% tree canopy coverage within 10 years of completion, inconsistent with Sections 3.5.1 and 3.5.2 of the SDCP 2012.

(iii) The application fails to demonstrate compliance with the City of Sydney Guidelines for Waste Management in New Development and Section 3.11.13(3) of the SDCP 2012.

(iv) The Acoustic Report assesses the proposal against the incorrect criteria. As such, the proposal has not demonstrated compliance with Provision 4.2.3.11 of the SDCP 2012, and it remains unclear whether the proposal is capable of compliance with the City's Acoustic privacy controls.

(v) The proposal lacks certainty regarding works outside the site and is therefore contrary to provision 5.1.1.3(7) of the SDCP 2012.

(vi) The proposal is incongruent with the established pattern of scale and form in the context of the site and is likely to impact views from and to the setting of Observatory Hills and Millers Point. As such, insufficient information has been provided to satisfy Provision 5.1.8(4) of the SDCP 2012.

(H) The development is unsatisfactory when assessed pursuant to the matters for consideration at section 4.15(1)(e) of the EP&A Act and is therefore not in the public interest.

Background

The Reason the Application is Reported to the Local Planning Panel

1. The application is reported to the Local Planning Panel for determination as it is identified in Schedule 3 of the Local Planning Panels Direction of 3 March 2024 as being within the following category(s):

   (a) Contentious Development

   (b) Sensitive Development

2. The development application falls within the category of Contentious Development as it has received more than 25 unique submissions by way of objection.

3. The development application falls within the category of Sensitive Development as it is development to which State Environmental Planning Policy (Housing) 2021, Chapter 4 (Design of residential apartment) applies and is 4 or more storeys in height.

The Site and Surrounding Development

4. The site has a legal description of Lot 3 in DP 737194, and is known as 125A Kent Street, Millers Point. It is irregular in shape with area of approximately 154sqm. Primary pedestrian access to the site is provided via a 1.525m wide x 28m long easement for light, air & access from Kent Street. Secondary access for servicing and vehicle access is provided via Jenkins Street.

5. The site contains a three-storey brick and concrete commercial building. The site was originally a terrace house which was replaced with a laboratory for Esso Australia.

6. The surrounding area is characterised by a mixture of land uses, primarily being residential and commercial. The site is land locked to the north, east and west with the immediate surrounding context consisting of the following:

   - North – State & Local Heritage Terrace Duplexes 3, 5, 7 & 9 High Street, Millers Point
   - North-East – State & Local Heritage Terraces 115, 117, 119 & 121 Kent Street, Millers Point
   - East – State & Local Heritage Terraces 123 & 125 Kent Street, Millers Point
   - South-East – 127-153 Kent Street, multi-storey residential flat building known as 'Highgate' Apartments
   - South – Jenkins Street
   - West – 20-24 Hickson Road, multi-storey commercial building known as the 'Bond Store'

7. The site is not a heritage item nor is it located within a heritage conservation area. However, as noted above, the site adjoins both state and locally listed heritage items and heritage conservation areas to the north and north-east.

8. The site is located within Central Sydney and borders the Millers Point Locality.

9. The site is not identified as being subject to flooding.

10. A site visit was carried out on 17 February 2026. Photos of the site and surrounds are provided below.

Development Applications

11. The following applications are relevant to the current proposal:

- PDA/2023/96 – Pre-DA advice was provided on 18 August 2023 for the adaptive reuse and expansion of the site to be used as a residential flat building. Council Officer's advised that given the site constraints and lack of established easement for light and air, the proposed residential land use would result in unacceptable built form and amenity impacts and would likely not be supported. It was recommended that a commercial development be explored.

- PDA/2023/200 – Pre-DA advice was provided on 28 November 2023. The advice provided was consistent with that provided for PDA/2023/96, noting the ill-suitability of the site for a residential development and recommending investigation of commercial development options.

- D/1999/857 – Stage 1 Development Application, construction of two new residential/commercial buildings, conservation and adaptive reuse of existing buildings .

  Under this application the subject site known as 30-38 Hickson Road & 1 High Street Millers Point included 30-24 Hickson Road (the 'Bond' Store), 36-38 Hickson Road, 125A Kent Street and 1 High Street.

  The application was withdrawn on 14 April 2000 for demolition.

Amendments

12. Following a preliminary assessment of the proposed development, Council Officers issued a letter to the applicant advising the application was not supported on 12 March 2026.

13. The letter detailed the extent of issues associated with the proposal and advised that if not withdrawn, the application would be determined based on the information submitted.

14. The applicant did not elect to withdraw the application.

Proposed Development

15. The application seeks consent for the adaptive reuse and retention of the existing 3 storey building and construction of a 5-storey addition above to the northern extent of the site to be used as a residential flat building (RFB). The RFB will include the following:

- 5 apartments:
  - 1 x studio – Ground Floor
  - 1 x 1-bedroom – Ground Floor

- 1 x 2-bedroom (single storey) – Level 1
- 2 x 2-bedroom (split level) – Levels 2, 3, 4 & 5

- Communal open space on level 2 (25sqm), the level 6 rooftop (50sqm) and common internal space on lower ground level (40sqm) and
- 6 bike parking spaces (5 residential, 1 visitor).

16. Plans and elevations of the proposed development are provided below.

Assessment

17. The proposed development has been assessed under Section 4.15 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (EP&A Act).

State Environmental Planning Policies

State Environmental Planning Policy (Housing) 2021

18. The aim of SEPP (Housing) 2021 is to provide a consistent planning regime for the provision and maintenance of affordable rental housing and to facilitate the delivery of new affordable rental housing.

19. Section 7.32 of the EP&A Act and states that where the consent authority is satisfied that the development meets certain criteria, and a Local Environmental Plan authorises an affordable housing condition to be imposed, such a condition should be imposed so that mixed and balanced communities are created.

Chapter 4 - Design of Residential Apartment Development

20. The aim of Chapter 4 is to improve the design quality of residential apartment development in New South Wales.

21. When determining an application for a residential flat development of 3 or more floors and containing 4 or more apartments, the SEPP requires the consent authority take into consideration a number of matters relating to design quality, including the design quality principles as set out in Schedule 9.

22. The applicant has submitted a design verification statement and design report prepared by Andrew Cortese (Architect REG No: 6652) with the application, addressing the design quality principles and the objectives of parts 3 and 4 of the Apartment Design Guide. The statement is deemed to satisfy Clause 29 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulation 2021.

23. An assessment of the proposal against the design quality is provided as follows:

    (a) Principle 1: Context and Neighbourhood Character

    (b) Principle 2: Built Form and Scale

    (c) Principle 3: Density

    (d) Principle 4: Sustainability

    (e) Principle 5: Landscape

    (f) Principle 6: Amenity

    (g) Principle 7: Safety

    (h) Principle 8: Housing Diversity and Social Interaction

    (i) Principle 9: Aesthetics

24. The development is unacceptable when assessed against the SEPP including the above stated principles and the associated Apartment Design Guide (ADG). These controls are generally replicated within the apartment design controls under the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012. A detailed assessment of the proposal against the ADG is provided below.

2E Building Depth	Consistency	Comment
12-18m (glass to glass)	Yes	The apartments provide acceptable levels of glass to glass depth.

2F Building Separation	Consistency	Comment
Up to four storeys (approximately 12m):	No	The development is 8 stories in height. The proposal does not provide the required building separation from

• 12m between habitable rooms/balconies • 9m between habitable and non-habitable rooms • 6m between non-habitable rooms 5 to 8 storeys (approximately 25 metres): • 18m between habitable rooms / balconies • 12m between habitable and non-habitable rooms • 9m between non-habitable rooms		adjoining residential developments to the north and east. Refer to 'Building Setbacks & Separation' subheading in the 'Discussion' section below for further assessment.
At the boundary between a change in zone from apartment buildings to a lower density area, increase the building setback from the boundary by 3m.	No	The subject site is within the SP5 Metropolitan Zone and adjoins the R1 General residential zone to the immediate north and east. The proposal does not provide a 3m setback from the boundary with the lower density residential zone.

3D Communal and Public Open Space	Consistency	Comment
Communal open space has a minimum area equal to 25% of the site.	Yes	The proposal provides 75sqm (49%) communal open space which complies.
Developments achieve a minimum of 50% direct sunlight to the principal usable part of the communal open space for a minimum of two (2) hours between 9am and 3pm on 21 June (midwinter).	Yes	The primary communal open space located on the rooftop receives a minimum of 2 hours of direct sunlight between 9am and 3pm on June 21.

3F Visual Privacy	Consistency	Comment
Up to 4 storeys (25 metres): • 6m between habitable rooms / balconies3 between non-habitable rooms 5 to 8 storeys (25 metres): • 9m between habitable rooms / balconies • 4.5m between non-habitable rooms	No	The development is 8 stories in height. The proposal does not provide the required separation from adjoining residential developments. Refer to 'Building Setbacks & Separation' subheading in the 'Discussion' section below for further assessment.
Bedrooms, living spaces and other habitable rooms should be separated from gallery access and other open circulation space by the apartment's service areas.	Yes	Bedrooms, living spaces and other habitable rooms are separated from the building's circulation spaces.

4A Solar and Daylight Access	Consistency	Comment
70% of units to receive a minimum of 2 hours of direct sunlight in midwinter to living rooms and private open spaces.	Yes	4 of 5 apartments (80%) receive at least 2 hours of direct sunlight to living room windows between 9am and 3pm at mid-winter.
Maximum of 15% of apartments in a building receive no direct sunlight between 9am and 3pm at midwinter.	Yes	None of the apartments receive no direct solar access between 9am and 3pm at mid-winter.

4B Natural Ventilation	Consistency	Comment
All habitable rooms are naturally ventilated.	Partial	The architectural plans state that all habitable rooms are naturally ventilated. However, the BCA Report creates ambiguity in relation to the nature of these windows due to the lack of required setbacks. As such, it is unclear if the proposal complies with this control.

		Refer to 'Building Setbacks & Separation' subheading in the 'Discussion' section below.
Minimum 60% of apartments in the first 9 storeys of the building are naturally cross ventilated.	Partial	The architectural plans indicate that 67% of apartments are naturally cross ventilated. However, the BCA Report creates ambiguity in relation to the nature of these windows due to the lack of required setbacks. As such, it is unclear if the proposal complies with this control. Refer to 'Building Setbacks & Separation' subheading in the 'Discussion' section below.
Overall depth of a cross-over or cross-through apartment does not exceed 18m, measured glass line to glass line.	Partial	Cross through apartment depths are less than 18m measured from glass line to glass line for all apartments except the level 1 2-bedroom apartment which measures 23m, from glass (north) to glass (south).

4C Ceiling Heights	Consistency	Comment
Habitable rooms: 2.7m	Yes	All apartments have a minimum floor to ceiling height of 3.3 metres.
Non-habitable rooms: 2.4m	Yes	All apartments have a minimum floor to ceiling height of 3.3 metres.
2-storey apartments: 2.7m for main living area floor, 2.4m for second floor, where it does not exceed 50% of the apartment area.	Yes	All apartments including the 2-storey apartments, have a minimum floor to ceiling height of 3.3 metres.
If located in mixed use areas – 3.3m for ground and first floor to promote future flexibility of use.	Yes	The ground floor provides a 3.440m floor to ceiling height.

4D Apartment Size and Layout	Consistency	Comment
Minimum unit sizes: • Studio: 35sqm • 1 bed: 50sqm • 2 bed: 70sqm • 3 bed: 90sqm The minimum internal areas include only one bathroom. Additional bathrooms increase the minimum internal area by 5sqm each. A fourth bedroom and further additional bedrooms increase the minimum internal area by 12sqm each.	Yes	All apartments achieve the minimum required unit sizes as follows: • Ground Floor Studio: 40sqm • Ground Floor one-bedroom: 51sqm • Level 1 two-bedroom: 103sqm • Level 2/3 two-bedroom: 102sqm • Level 4/5 two-bedroom: 102sqm
Every habitable room is to have a window in an external wall with a minimum glass area of 10% of the floor area of the room.	Yes	All habitable rooms have a window within an external wall with an area of at least 10% of the room's floor area.
Habitable room depths are to be no more than 2.5 x the ceiling height.	Yes	All habitable rooms have a depth less than 2.5m x the ceiling height of the apartment.
8m maximum depth for open plan layouts.	Yes	All open plan spaces have a maximum depth of 8m from a window.
Minimum area for bedrooms (excluding wardrobes): • master bedroom: 10sqm • all other bedrooms: 9sqm Minimum dimension of any bedroom is 3m (excluding wardrobes).	Yes	All bedrooms meet the minimum size requirements and are at least 3m in depth.

4D Apartment Size and Layout	Consistency	Comment
Living and living/dining rooms minimum widths: • Studio and one-bedroom: 3.6m • 2-bedroom or more: 4m	Yes	The studio, one-bedroom and two-bedroom apartments provide the minimum widths for living/dining rooms.
4m minimum width for cross over and cross through apartments.	Yes	All apartments provide a 4m minimum width for cross over/through.

4E Private Open Space and Balconies	Consistency	Comment
Studio apartments are to have a minimum balcony area of 4sqm with a minimum depth of 1m. One bed apartments are to have a minimum balcony area of 8sqm with a minimum depth of 2m. 2 bed apartments are to have a minimum balcony area of 10sqm with a minimum depth of 2m. 3 bed apartments are to have a minimum balcony area of 12sqm with a minimum depth of 2.4m.	No	The proposal does not provide any areas of private open space for the five apartments.
Private open space for apartments on ground level, on a podium, or similar, must have a minimum area of 15sqm and a minimum depth of 3m.	No

4F Common Circulation and Spaces	Consistency	Comment
The maximum number of apartments off a circulation core on a single level is 8.	Yes	The development has a maximum of two apartments on one level and therefore complies.
Primary living room or bedroom windows should not open directly onto common circulation spaces, whether open or enclosed. Visual and acoustic privacy from common circulation spaces to any other rooms should be carefully controlled.	Yes	Primary living room and bedroom windows do not open directly onto common circulation spaces for any of the apartments.
Daylight and natural ventilation are provided to all common circulation spaces.	Yes	All common circulation areas are naturally ventilated.

4G Storage	Consistency	Comment
Minimum storage provision facilities: • Studio: 4m^3 • 1 bed: 6m^3 • 2 bed: 8m^3 • 3 bed: 10m^3 (Minimum 50% storage area located within unit)	Yes	The following storage areas are provided within the units: • Ground Floor Studio: 2.63m3 • Ground Floor one-bedroom: 4.76m3 • Level 1 two-bedroom: 6.59 m3 • Level 2/3 two-bedroom: 6.15m3 • Level 4/5 two-bedroom: 6.15m3 Each unit has a 4.18 m3 storage space on lower ground. As such, the proposed storage complies with the control.

4J Noise and Pollution	Consistency	Comment
Have noise and pollution been adequately considered and addressed through careful siting and layout of buildings?	Yes	Glazing performance solutions are proposed to mitigate external noise sources to comply with the acoustic requirements of the BCA.

State Environmental Planning Policy (Sustainable Buildings) 2022

25. The aims of this Policy are as follows—

    (a) to encourage the design and delivery of sustainable buildings,

    (b) to ensure consistent assessment of the sustainability of buildings,

    (c) to record accurate data about the sustainability of buildings, to enable improvements to be monitored,

    (d) to monitor the embodied emissions of materials used in construction of buildings,

    (e) to minimise the consumption of energy,

    (f) to reduce greenhouse gas emissions,

    (g) to minimise the consumption of mains-supplied potable water,

    (h) to ensure good thermal performance of buildings.

Chapter 2 Standards for residential development - BASIX

26. A BASIX Certificate has been submitted with the development application 1823466M.

27. The BASIX certificate lists measures to satisfy BASIX requirements which have been incorporated into the proposal.

Sydney Environmental Planning Policy (Biodiversity and Conservation) 2021 – Chapter 6 Water Catchments

28. The site is located within the designated hydrological catchment of Sydney Harbour and is subject to the provisions of the above SEPP. The SEPP requires the Sydney Harbour Catchment Planning Principles to be considered in the carrying out of development within the catchment.

29. The site is within the Sydney Harbour Catchment and eventually drains into Sydney Harbour. However, the site is not located in the Foreshores Waterways Area or adjacent to a waterway and therefore, with the exception of the objective of improved water quality, the objectives of the SEPP are not applicable to the proposed development.

Local Environmental Plans

Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012

30. An assessment of the proposed development against the relevant provisions of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 is provided in the following sections.

Part 2 Permitted or prohibited development

Provision	Compliance	Comment
2.3 Zone objectives and Land Use Table	No	The site is located in the SP5 Metropolitan Centre zone. The proposed development is defined as a Residential Flat Building (RFB) and is permissible with consent in the zone. However, the proposal is inconsistent with the following objective of the zone: • To promote the efficient and orderly development of land in a compact urban centre. The proposal fetters development on adjoining sites and therefore does not promote the efficient and orderly development of land.

Part 4 Principal development standards

Provision	Compliance	Comment
4.3 Height of buildings	Yes	A maximum building height of 30m is permitted. A height of 28m is proposed. The proposed development complies with the maximum height of buildings development standard.
4.4 Floor space ratio	Yes	A maximum floor space ratio of 7.5:1 or 1157sqm is permitted. A floor space ratio of 3.49:1 or 540sqm is proposed. The proposed development complies with the maximum floor space ratio development standard.

Part 5 Miscellaneous provisions

Provision	Compliance	Comment
5.10 Heritage conservation	No	The site is not a heritage item nor is it located within a Heritage Conservation Area. However, it is located in close proximity to a number of state and locally listed heritage items and adjoins the Millers Point conservation area.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
		The proposed development will have a detrimental impact on the heritage significance of surrounding items and Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area. See further details in the 'Discussion' section below.

Part 6 Local provisions – height and floor space

Provision	Compliance	Comment
Division 3 Height of buildings and overshadowing
6.17 Sun access planes	Yes	The site is identified as land affected by a Sun access plane. Council's Model Unit have reviewed the proposal and advised that the maximum height complies with the sun access plane.
Division 4 Design excellence
6.21 Design excellence	No	The proposed development uses high quality materials and detailing. It is also noted that the internal unit planning is generally well resolved. However, the development is not considered compatible with the surrounding context and does not have regard for the amenity of the surrounding area. The proposed development does not demonstrate design excellence. See further details under the 'Design Excellence' heading in the 'Discussion' section below.

Part 7 Local provisions – general

Provision	Compliance	Comment
Division 1 Car parking ancillary to other development
7.5 Residential flat buildings, dual occupancies and multi dwelling housing	Yes	The proposed development does not include any car parking spaces and therefore complies with the relevant development standards.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
Division 4 Miscellaneous
7.14 Acid Sulfate Soils	Yes	The site is located on land with class 5 Acid Sulfate Soils. The application does not propose works requiring the preparation of an Acid Sulfate Soils Management Plan.

Development Control Plans

Sydney Development Control Plan 2012

31. An assessment of the proposed development against the relevant provisions within the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012 is provided in the following sections.

Section 3 – General Provisions

Provision	Compliance	Comment
3.2. Defining the Public Domain	No	The development's primary building entrance is not located on a street frontage but rather set back from Kent Street via a 28m, varied level narrow easement. The primary building entry is concealed via a separate gate on Kent Street and does not maximise visibility from the public domain. The development's only street frontage to Jenkins Street is a secondary frontage which provides access to the lower ground floor. The Jenkins Street frontage is fortified with access primarily designed for waste collection and service vehicles. As such, the building is not considered to successfully activate the street frontage and address the public domain.
3.5 Urban Ecology	Partial compliance	The proposed development does not involve the removal of any trees. However, it is noted that the proposal does not meet the requirements of Section 3.5.2 in relation to providing 15% canopy cover, enhancing the urban environment and mitigating urban heat.
3.6 Ecologically Sustainable Development	Yes	The proposal satisfies BASIX and environmental requirements.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
3.7 Water and Flood Management	Yes	The site is not identified as being on flood prone land.
3.9 Heritage	No	The site is not a heritage item nor is it located within a Heritage Conservation Area. However, it is located in close proximity to a number of state and locally listed heritage items and adjoins the Millers Point conservation area. The proposed development will have a detrimental impact on the heritage significance of surrounding items and Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area. See further details in the 'Discussion' section below.
3.11 Transport and Parking	Partial compliance	The proposal includes five resident bicycle parking spaces on lower ground floor with access from Jenkins Street. However, the proposal fails to demonstrate how waste collection vehicles can access the waste room in a forward direction.
3.12 Accessible Design	Yes	The Access Report prepared by Accessible Building Solutions, submitted with the proposal confirms compliance with the access requirements of the BCA including D4D2 Requirements for Access for people with a disability.
3.13 Social and Environmental Responsibilities	Partial compliance	The development's only street frontage to Jenkins Street is a secondary frontage which provides access to the lower ground floor. The primary building entry via Kent Street is recessed and not clearly identifiable from the street. Due to the building's location, the development does not provide adequate passive surveillance and is unable to achieve the CPTED design principles.
3.14 Waste	Partial compliance	The proposal provides adequate general waste and recycling bins and a suitably sized storage area on the lower ground floor level. However, the proposed waste access and collection strategy is problematic given the nominated waste collection point on Jenkins Street. Council's Waste Management Unit have reviewed the proposal and advised that given the change of use to residential development, the site must be able to be serviced by Council's Waste Trucks which will only service sites in a forward-forward direction. The proposal has not demonstrated that Council's standard 10.6m waste trucks would be capable of servicing the site without reversing.

Section 4 – Development Types

4.2 Residential Flat, Commercial and Mixed Use Developments

Provision	Compliance	Comment
4.2.3 Amenity
4.2.3.1 Solar access	Yes	4 of 5 apartments (80%) receive at least 2 hours of direct sunlight to living room windows between 9am and 3pm at mid-winter. The proposal maintains 2 hours of direct solar access to the neighbouring residential properties.
4.2.3.3 Internal common areas	Partial compliance	The lift lobbies have access to daylight and have been designed with adequate dimensions. The common corridor on Lower ground provides the required corridor width of 2m. However, the corridors on levels 2-6 have a width of 1.8m which is non-compliant.
4.2.3.5 Landscaping	Partial compliance	Landscaping is proposed on level 2 and the rooftop communal open space. Insufficient information has been provided to confirm the suitability of the proposed landscaping. However, it is noted that the proposal does not provide the required 15% canopy cover.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
4.2.3.7 Private open space and balconies	No	The proposal does not provide any private open space for the individual apartments. It is noted that up to 25% of dwellings may have juliet balconies only or a floor to ceiling window with a balustrade. However, this is also not provided.
4.2.3.8 Common open space	Yes	Refer to the assessment provided in relation to Part 3D of the Apartment Design Guide in the compliance table above.
4.2.3.9 Ventilation	Yes	5 out of 6 apartments (83.3%) are naturally cross-ventilated and most are dual aspect to promote natural airflow.
4.2.3.10 Outlook	Partial compliance	Short range outlook from the ground and level 1 apartments is poor. Similarly, the apartments above will have outlook directly into the neighbouring properties private open space and drying racks resulting in visual privacy impacts.
4.2.3.11 Acoustic privacy	No	The Acoustic Report submitted assesses the proposal against the acoustic criteria of the State Environmental Planning Policy (Transport and Infrastructure) 2021 (Transport SEPP). As the site is not located adjacent to a main road with traffic volumes greater than >20000 cars per day, these controls are not applicable. As the site is adjacent to Kent Street and Hickson Road, the proposal should be assessed against the noise criteria of the SDCP 2012. It is noted that the SDCP 2012 acoustic controls are stricter than the criteria of the Transport SEPP. It is also noted that the Acoustic Report incorrectly references North Sydney Council. Given the missing information, it is unclear whether the proposal is capable of compliance with the City's Acoustic privacy controls.

4.2.6 Waste and recycling Management	Partial compliance	Refer to the assessment provided under Section 3.14 above.
4.2.7 Heating and cooling infrastructure	Yes	The proposal incorporates a pump room on the lower ground floor level of the building and therefore complies.
4.2.8 Letterboxes	Partial compliance	The letter boxes are proposed to be located within the easement for access behind the Kent Street access gate. It is noted that the relevant owner's consent has not been provided to enable these physical works.

Section 5 – Specific Areas

Provision	Compliance	Comment
5.1 Central Sydney
5.1.1 Built Form Controls 5.1.1.1 Street frontage height and street setbacks	Yes	The proposal provides a compliant street wall frontage height of 10m which is setback more than 3m to Jenkins Street.
5.1.1.3 Side and rear setbacks and building form separations	Partial compliance	As the proposed building height is less than 55m, no side or rear setbacks are required under provision 5.1.1.3(2), however in accordance with provision 5.1.1.3(7), the facades containing windows are required to be set back from the side and rear site boundaries by a minimum of 2m to allow for maintenance of the facade unless an easement exists for maintenance over the adjoining land. The proposal does not provide the required 2m setback from the side and rear boundaries where windows are proposed and no easement for access and maintenance has been established.
5.1.2 Development outlook and demonstrating amenity compliance	Partial compliance	Section 5.1.2 requires all developments to provide adequate setbacks within their development sites so as to guarantee their own minimum outlook and not unreasonably borrow amenity from neighbouring sites including access to views and sunlight. Provision (1) requires a minimum outlook depth of: • 6m (to primary windows to living spaces and associated balconies) at a height upto 12m; • 9m (to primary windows to living spaces and associated balconies) at a height from >12m up to 25m; and • 12m (to primary windows to living spaces and associated balconies) at a height from >25 upto 45m. The Design Report submitted with the proposal notes that most of the apartments will reach an outlook field of at least 90 degrees. However, due to the site constraints, the development proposes use of a closed cavity window system to manage outlook and maintain visual amenity of surrounding areas. It is unclear whether the required outlook field is provided.

5.1.3 Heritage items, warehouses and special character areas 5.1.3.2 Development adjacent to heritage items	No	As noted in the 'Heritage' discussion below, the proposal does not respect nor reinforce the historic scale, form and modulation to the adjacent heritage items. The development dominates the skyline above the heritage items, and therefore has a negative impact on the setting of these heritage items.
5.1.4 Building exteriors	Partial compliance	It is noted that the proposed building exteriors use high quality materials, however the development does not positively respond to the existing site context nor public domain for the reasons outlined elsewhere in this report.
5.1.8 Views from public places	Partial compliance	The Statement of Environmental Effects submitted with the proposal states that views from Observatory Hill to Sydney

Provision	Compliance	Comment
		Harbour will be maintained. However, there is no mention of the impacts of the proposal on views from Observatory Hill to Millers Point, adjoining areas and distant views to the east, west and north. It is noted that Provision 5.1.8 (4) states that new buildings in Millers Point should be limited and that no new building should exceed the established pattern of scale and form, nor should it have an adverse impact on any identified views or the setting of Observatory Hill and Millers Point. The proposal exceeds the established pattern of scale and form in the context of the site and may impact views from and/or the setting of Observatory Hill and Millers Point.

Discussion

Design Excellence

32. Whilst it is acknowledged that the development uses high quality materials and incorporates well-resolved internal unit planning, overall, the proposal is not considered to exhibit design excellence for the following reasons:

- Clause 6.21C (2)(b) 'whether the form and external appearance of the proposed development will improve the quality and amenity of the public domain' - The development's primary building entry is concealed via a separate gate on Kent Street and does not maximise visibility from the public domain. The development's only street frontage to Jenkins Street is a secondary frontage which provides access to the lower ground floor. The Jenkins Street frontage is fortified with access primarily designed for waste collection and service vehicles. As such, the building is not considered to successfully activate the street frontage and address the public domain.

- Clause 6.21C (2)(d) (i) 'how the proposed development addresses the suitability of the land for development' - As noted throughout this report, the site is land locked on three frontages and does not provide the required building separation or setbacks. The proposal lacks certainty in relation to the future amenity of both the subject property and surrounding residential uses and is therefore not considered a suitable development of the land.

- Clause 6.21C (2)(d)(ii) 'how the proposed development addresses the existing and proposed uses and land mix' - The proposed residential land use is not considered compatible with the subject site due to the existing site constraints.

- Clause 6.21C (2)(d)(iii) 'how the proposed development addresses any heritage issues and streetscape constraints' - As noted in the 'Heritage' discussion below, the proposal is incompatible with the surrounding heritage context and results in a number of heritage issues.

- Clause 6.21C (2)(d)(vii) 'how the proposed development addresses - As detailed in the ADG and SDCP 2012 assessment tables above and Discussion section below, the proposal will have unacceptable environmental impacts.

- Clause 6.21C (2)(d)(viii) 'how the proposed development addresses environmental impacts, such as sustainable design, overshadowing and solar access, visual and acoustic privacy, noise, wind and reflectivity' - It is unclear whether the proposed glazing system will sufficiently mitigate against radiant heat gain. It is noted that the BCA report notes that performance solutions will be required at the CC stage to manage the reduced building setbacks. This may result in an unacceptable building design in relation to sustainable performance.

- Clause 6.21C (2)(d)(ix) 'how the proposed development addresses pedestrian, cycle, vehicular and service access and circulation requirements, including the permeability of any pedestrian network' - As noted under Section 3.14 above, the proposal does not demonstrate compliance with vehicular and service access and circulation requirements.

- Clause 6.21C (2)(d)(x) 'how the proposed development addresses the impact on, and any proposed improvements to, the public domain & (xii) achieving appropriate interfaces at ground level between the building and the public domain' - As noted under Section 3.2 above, the building is not considered to successfully activate the street frontage and address the public domain.

33. For the reasons summarised above and detailed further throughout this report, the development is not considered to exhibit design excellence.

Building Setbacks & Separation

34. There are discrepancies between the Architectural Plans and BCA Report in relation to the operability of windows on the boundary and compliance with the Natural Cross Ventilation (NCV) requirements of the Apartment Design Guidelines (ADG). The Architectural Plans prepared by Cortese Associates, depicts a number of operable windows on the northern, eastern and western facades of the building. Operable windows on the northern facade appear to be on the boundary on ground floor and level 1. A minor 300mm setback is then introduced for levels 2 and above. The operable windows to the east are setback 1m from the boundary whilst the windows to the west are built on the boundary.

35. The BCA Report prepared by Steve Watson Partners identifies the lack of sufficient setbacks to the boundaries as a significant constraint of the project. Unlike the Architectural Plans, the report indicates that most windows are proposed to be fixed, with apartments relying on mechanical ventilation for air. The Report states that a Performance Solution will be required at the Construction Certificate (CC) Stage of the project to justify the reduced window setbacks, however this solution will likely require input from a planning lawyer and or the creation of light/air easements, and is therefore not considered an appropriate performance solution.

36. The applicant provided a letter of advice prepared by Mills Oakley dated 2 January 2026. The legal advice provided by the applicant concludes that there is “no principle of property law that prevents a building being erected with windows close to (but not extending across) a property boundary merely because there is no easement for ‘light and air”. Whilst it is acknowledged that Council Officer’s cannot legally condition the establishment of an easement for light and air on an adjacent property, it is noted that impacts on the development potential of adjoining sites are a matter for consideration under Clause 4.15(1)(b) of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (EPAA 1979) and in the absence of secured easements for light and air, or appropriate set backs, the proposal is considered to be effectively borrowing amenity from adjoining properties.

37. The letter of advice from Mills Oakley states that “there is no real chance or possibility that the heritage properties to the north and east will be re-developed (beyond their current envelopes). Similarly, there is no such chance or possibility that the 'Bond' office building will be re-developed to bring it (or a new building) closer to the boundary line”.

38. Council Officer’s do not agree with this assertion, noting that development of Heritage items is not unlikely, and that development would; if proposed on such a site be focused to the rear of the property to avoid impacts on the original heritage fabric of the item. It is also possible that the commercial building known as the 'Bond', be redeveloped closer to the property boundary with the subject site.

Heritage Issues & Impacts

39. It is noted that whilst the site is not identified as a heritage item or being within a conservation area, it is located in close proximity to the following items of heritage significance:

State Significance:

- North: 3, 5, 7 & 9 High Street, Millers Point – SHR#00918 ‘Terrace Duplexes’
- North-East: 115, 117, 119 & 121 Kent Street, Millers Point – SHR#00908 ‘Terrace’
- East: 123 & 125 Kent Street, Millers Point – SHR#00901 ‘Terrace’
- North: Millers Point Conservation Area – SHR#00884
- East: Millers Point & Dawes Point Village Precinct – SHR#01682

Local Significance:

- North: 3, 5, 7 & 9 High Street, Millers Point – I884 ‘Terrace duplex group including interiors’
- North-East: 115, 117, 119 & 121 Kent Street, Millers Point – ‘Terrace group (115–121 Kent Street) including interiors’
- East: 123 & 125 Kent Street, Millers Point – I924 ‘Terrace group including interiors’

- South: 5010 Jenkins Street, Millers Point – I890 ‘Lane off Gas Lane including sandstone walls and wrought iron streetlight’

- North & East – Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area #C35

40. In accordance with Clause 5.10(4) of the SLEP 2012, the consent authority is required to consider the effect of the proposed development on the heritage significance of the area concerned, noting objective (b) of Clause 5.10(1) which states “to conserve the heritage significance of heritage items and heritage conservation areas, including associated fabric, settings and views”.

41. Council’s Heritage Specialist has reviewed the proposal and accompanying Heritage Impact Statement (HIS) prepared by Weir Phillips Heritage. It is noted that the existing concrete and brick three storey building on the site relates well to the scale of the adjoining heritage listed duplexes and terraces. The Bond Store commericial building located west of the site at 30-40 Hickson Road, also steps down in height to the north which respects the scale of the duplexes on High Street.

42. The proposed 5-storey addition will result in a dominant 8 storey building adjoining the rear yards of the terrace pair at 123 and 125 Kent Street and the duplexes at 3-9 High Street. The addition will also be particularly close to the drying decks and private open space of 7A and 9A High Street. Provision 3.9.5(1)(c) of the SDCP 2012 states that development affecting a heritage item is to enable the interpretation of each of the significant values of the item, through the treatment of the item's fabric, spaces and setting. The addition does not comply with this provision due to it being a contemporary building dominating the visual setting. This will have an adverse the heritage setting of these items.

43. The State Heritage Inventory Statement of Significance for the Millers Point & Dawes Point Village Precinct states:

> It's ability of the precinct to demonstrate in its physical forms, historical layering, documentary and archaeological records and social composition, the development of colonial and post-colonial settlement in Sydney and New South Wales. The natural rocky terrain, despite much alteration, remains the dominant physical element in this significant urban cultural landscape in which land and water, nature and culture are intimately connected historically, socially, visually and functionally.

44. The proposed development will alter the physical and visual landscape of the area and is therefore considered to have an adverse impact on the significance of the Millers Point HCA

45. Expanding on this, the proposal will also have an overbearing visual impact, particularly when viewed from these heritage items as well as from High Street. The proposed additions will result in an over scaled building, which will have an unacceptable impact on the setting and views to and from the surrounding heritage items and conservation area. This is contrary to provisions 3.9.5(1)(f) and 3.9.5(1)(4)(d) of the SDCP 2012 which requires development affecting a heritage item to not reduce of obscure the heritage significance of the item(s).

46. Provision 3.9.5(1)(h) of the SDCP 2012 requires development affecting a heritage item to be consistent with an appropriate Conservation Management Plan (CMP), policy or guidelines contained win the Heritage Inventory Assessment report for the Item. A CMP for 123 Kent Street, Millers Point, one of the adjoining Heritage Items is of relevance to the proposal. Section 6.5.3 Setting, of the CMP for 123 Kent Street states the following in relation to site context and setting:

> "Setting" means the immediate or extended environment of a place that is part of or contributes to its cultural significance and distinctive character.
> Part of the significance of Millers Point arises from the remarkably intact late nineteenth and early twentieth century houses that form historically important streetscapes. The maintenance of the current scale and appearance of the terraces and houses in these streetscapes and broader settings requires consideration of the impacts of changes beyond individual property boundaries and ownerships. The setting of Millers Point houses is broad as well as intimate…
> In summary, consideration of the impact of development on the setting of Millers Point buildings requires equal care and consideration as changes to the building itself. The sum of the parts is greater than the whole in this conservation area".

47. The CMP goes on to state that "Development in the vicinity of 123 Kent Street and its pair 125 Kent Street should have regard to the heritage significance and setting of this pair of Victorian Georgian terraces".

48. The proposal does not maintain the current distinctive character nor is it considered to positively contribute to the setting of the Millers Point HCA. As such, the proposal does not sufficiently consider the provisions of this CMP and does not comply with provision 3.9.5(1)(h) of the SDCP 2012.

49. The overall design of the building is not considered to respect nor complement the surrounding heritage items in terms of the proposed building envelope, proportions, materials and building and street alignment. As such, the proposal does not comply with provision 3.9.5(3) of the SDCP 2012.

Easements

50. The proposal indicates works within the existing easement for light, air and access which runs between 125 Kent Street and 127-153 Kent Street. This easement benefits the owners of 125A Kent Street. As such the construction of the proposed letterboxes, fire booster and platform lift within the easement will require owner's consent from the relevant property owner which has not been provided.

51. It is also noted that the proposal has not indicated whether an agreement has been established with the affected adjoining property owners to enable maintenance of the facades in accordance with provision 5.1.1.3(7) of the SDCP 2012.

Privacy

52. The proposal utilises a closed cavity façade system and extensive glazing. There is insufficient information provided regarding the closed cavity system and whilst the subject site may be afforded privacy by the proposed privacy system, neighbouring properties will have no control of the extent of apparent overlooking and/or light spill at night and are likely to experience reduced privacy and amenity.

53. It is also noted that the proposal fails to provide the required building setbacks as per ADG guideline 3F. As such, the proposal fails to provide sufficient visual privacy measures to safeguard the amenity of existing surrounding development.

Structural Buildability

54. The structural report submitted with the proposal identifies that strengthening of the existing footings is likely to be required to accommodate the additional load generated by the proposed 5 stories above the current building. However, the footings are understood to be accessible only from within the subject site, and the proposal does not include demolition or removal of the existing slab to facilitate these works.

55. Accordingly, it is unclear how the necessary structural upgrades would be undertaken in practice. Further detailed investigation and information would be required to demonstrate the feasibility of the proposed works and to confirm that the required footing stability works can be achieved without unreasonable construction impacts, particularly on the surrounding heritage items.

56. It is noted that if excavation is required to strengthen the existing footings, in accordance with Provision 3.9.13(1) of the Sydney DCP 2012 both a Structural Engineering Report and Geotechnical Report would be required.

Consultation

Design Advisory Panel Residential Subcommittee

57. The proposal was presented to the Design Advisory Panel Residential Subcommittee on 3rd March 2026.

58. The Panel considered the site to be highly constrained and unsuitable for the proposed residential development, with the scheme relying heavily on borrowed amenity from neighbouring properties and resulting in unacceptable impacts on privacy, outlook, light and acoustic conditions. In particular, the Panel noted the following:

- Significant concern regarding overlooking and cross-viewing due to the extent and proximity of glazing, noting that even with the proposed louvre and/or curtains, adjoining terraces houses are likely to experience reduced privacy. It is also noted that neighbouring properties will have no control of the extent of apparent overlooking and/or light spill at night.

- The development is considered out of character with the established urban pattern and does not sit comfortably within the heritage context, resulting in poor urban coherence.

- The proposal fails to adequately resolve key planning and design issues, including setbacks, building separation, deep soil provision, private open space, waste management, servicing, and façade access.

- Amenity within the development itself is also questionable, with concerns regarding natural ventilation, acoustic privacy, solar heat gain, and reliance on mechanical systems.

- The proposed glazing system will not adequately mitigate against radiant heat gain. Constrained window operation and use of double glazing will reduce the ability to purge heat during day or night. External shading to the east, north and west would be required to manage solar loads on the proposed extent of glazing.

- Technical and design uncertainties remain, including fire egress, structural capacity, and inconsistencies in submitted documentation.

59. In summary, whilst the Panel acknowledged that the architectural expression and internal planning is of a high quality, the fundamental site constraints and resulting impacts are not capable of being resolved. As such, the Panel concurred with Council's previous advice to the applicant, being that the site is not suitable for residential development.

Internal Referrals

60. The application was discussed with Council's:

(a) Building Services Unit;

(b) Environmental Health Unit;

(c) Heritage and Urban Design Unit;

(d) Public Domain Unit;

(e) Surveyors;

(f) Transport and Access Unit;

(g) Environmental Projects Unit;

(h) Tree Management Unit; and

(i) Waste Management Unit.

61. The above Unit's raised concerns with the proposed development which are discussed in the assessment tables and 'Discussion' section above.

Advertising and Notification

62. In accordance with the City of Sydney Community Participation Plan 2019, the proposed development was notified for a period of 21 days between 5 February 2026 and 27 February 2026. A total of 274 properties were notified and 126 submissions were received.

63. The submissions raised the following issues:

(a) Issue: Overdevelopment & Scale

- The proposal adds multiple upper levels to a small, constrained site, producing a dominant, monolithic form that is out of character with surrounding low-rise terraces. The development results in excessive height and bulk which is not suitable for the site.
- The proposal provides little to no upper-level setbacks which reduces visual separation and increases perceived massing.
- The design priorities apartment yield rather than a context-sensitive outcome.

Response: As noted in the 'Discussion' section above, the proposed built form results in unacceptable heritage and environmental impacts and is not supported.

(b) Issue: Heritage and Streetscape Impact

- The addition interrupts the consistent low-rise roofline and visually overwhelms the Millers Point Conservation Area. The development will visually dominate the surrounding heritage listed terraces.
- The Statement of Heritage Impact understates the proposal’s incompatibility with adjacent heritage items and is inadequate.

Response: As noted in the heritage discussion above, the proposal results in unacceptable heritage outcomes and is not supported.

(c) Issue: Neighbouring Amenity (Privacy, Overshadowing & Noise)

- Adjacent terraces and lower-level apartments will have reduced sunlight as a result of the proposal.
- The development's excessive windows and communal open area with minimal separation distances will have substantial privacy impacts for surrounding residents.
- The proposal will result in negative acoustic impacts associated with the rooftop use, plant equipment and increased activity such as potential rooftop parties.

Response: As discussed throughout this report, the proposal does not safeguard amenity of the subject site or surrounding properties and is therefore recommended for refusal.

(d) Issue: Access, Traffic & Servicing

- The primary vehicular access point to the property is narrow and would only be accessible in a singular direction. Additional construction vehicles and waste collection will impede garage access for neighbouring properties and result in congestion.

- The proposal does not include any on-site parking which may result in illegal parking, blocked access and increased local congestion.

Response: In accordance with Clause 7.5 of the Sydney LEP 2012, the proposal is not required to provide any on-site car parking. However, it is noted that the proposal fails to demonstrate adequate waste servicing of the site. For this reason and others outlined throughout this report, the proposal is recommended for refusal.

(e) Issue: Planning compliance and design quality

- The application does not comply with all relevant planning controls under the Sydney LEP 2012, Sydney DCP 2012 and the NSW Apartment Design Guidelines including but not limited to internal corridor space, private open space, landscaping, setbacks and building separation.

- The proposed glazed, monolithic façade is inappropriate for the heritage streetscape and likely to cause glare and wind effects.

Response: As discussed in the ADG and DCP assessment tables above, the proposal does not comply with all relevant planning controls. For this reason and others outlined throughout this report, the proposal is recommended for refusal.

(f) Issue: Technical, easement and safety issues

- It is unclear whether existing easements legitimately support the proposed servicing, access and increased use.

- Construction and safety risks have not been addressed in the proposal which is concerning given the close proximity to neighbouring properties.

- Condensers and plant equipment is sited too close to neighbouring balconies and windows. This may result in excessive heat, noise and vibration impacts.

Response: The subject site is highly constrained resulting in a number of technical issues which have not been addressed nor resolved. For this reason and others outlined throughout this report, the proposal is recommended for refusal.

Financial Contributions

Levy under Section 7.12 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulation 2000

64. If approval were to be recommended, the development would be subject to a contribution under the Central Sydney Development Contributions Plan 2020 as the cost of development is over $250,000.

Contribution under Section 7.11 of the EP&A Act 1979

65. If approval were to be recommended, the development would not be subject to a contribution under the City of Sydney Development Contributions Plan 2015 as the Plan does not apply to the site.

Contribution under Section 7.13 of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012

66. If approval were to be granted, the development would be subject to a contribution as it is located on land within Central Sydney and involves the creation of more than 100 square metres of GFA and a change of use of existing commericial floor area to residential accommodation.

Housing and Productivity Contribution

67. If approval were to be granted, the development would be subject to a Housing and Productivity Contribution (Base component) under the Environmental Planning and Assessment (Housing and Productivity Contribution) Order 2023.

68. The site is located with the Greater Sydney region, the development is a type of residential development to which the Housing and Productivity Contribution applies, and the development is not of a type that is exempt from paying a contribution.

Relevant Legislation

69. Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

Conclusion

70. The application seeks consent for the adaptive reuse of the existing 3 storey building including the retention of the existing 3 stories and construction of 5 storey addition above to the northern extent of the site to be used as a residential flat building (RFB) accommodating five apartments, communal open space on levels 2 and the rooftop and 6 bike parking spaces.

71. The application has been referred to the Local Planning Panel for determination as it is considered both sensitive development (State Environmental Planning Policy (Housing) 2021, Chapter 4 (Design of residential apartment) applies and is 4 or more storeys in height) and contentious development receiving over 25 unique public submissions.

72. The proposal fails to comply with all relevant objectives of the SP5 Metropolitan Centre zone as it constrains adjoining development and undermines orderly development.

73. The development does not appropriately respond to adjoining heritage items and is inconsistent with Clause 5.10 of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 and applicable Sydney Development Control Plan 2012 provisions.

74. The proposal provides inadequate residential amenity and is inconsistent with the Housing SEPP design principles, and relevant design criteria of the Apartment Design Guidelines and Sydney Development Control Plan 2012.

75. The development fails to achieve Design Excellence under Clause 6.21C due to poor public domain contribution, inadequate heritage and environmental response.

76. Insufficient information has been provided to properly assess impacts, including structural, landscaping, waste, acoustic, external works, and contextual impacts, resulting in non-compliance with both the Apartment Design Guidelines and Sydney Development Control Plan 2012.

77. For the above reasons, the proposal is not considered to be in the public interest and the application is recommended for refusal.

ROOF PLAN - No. 125A SCALE 1:100

NOTES

1. COPYRIGHT This drawing and/or design is the property of Harrison Friedmann & Associates Pty Ltd and should not be reproduced in part or whole without the written permission of the company.
2. Bearings, distances and areas of boundaries are from Land & Property Information records unless stated otherwise. Bearings shown are orientated to M.G.A. North (approximate True North).
3. NO ACCURATE BOUNDARY SURVEY HAS BEEN CARRIED OUT. Relationship of improvements to boundaries are approximate only. Boundary fences and retaining walls are located approximately with relation to boundaries. DO NOT SCALE OFF THIS PLAN. Where offsets are critical they should be verified by an additional survey and/or placement of marks.
4. The services information shown on this plan have been determined from visual inspection only. It is passed on with the understanding that no excavation or works will be commenced without a current services search of all services being obtained from "Dial before you dig" (DBYD) (phone 1100 fax 1300 652 077) or from any individual service provider. Note that not all services providers are members of DBYD.
5. The location of Sydney Water's Sewer Main has been plotted approximately, based on information from Sydney Water. This information can not be relied on. Any construction near Sydney Water Mains requires further investigation, a Service Protection Report (sewer pegout) and approval from Sydney Water.
6. The locations of spot levels are diagrammatic only. They are accurate to ± 0.3m in relation to boundaries. Levels critical to design, excavation or construction must be verified. If contours are shown they depict the topography rather than represent the exact level at any particular point. Care should be taken if extrapolating levels or contours.
7. The spread of the crown of the trees shown on this plan is diagrammatic only, based on the average spread observed in the field. Prior to any development proposal which might be affected by trees it is recommended that the tree spreads be verified by field inspection.
8. Australian Height Datum was established from P.M. 150373 (R.L. 23.086 A.H.D.). Datum source obtained from S.C.I.M.S. dated 9/04/2018.

1. Introduction

This report presents the findings of a DA Stage BCA assessment for the proposed residential flat building at 125A Kent Street, Millers Point. The development has been assessed against the relevant Deemed-to-Satisfy (DtS) provisions of Building Code of Australia (BCA) 2022.

This report has been prepared by Steve Watson and Partners for Jeffrey International Investment Pty Ltd.

Locality image sourced from Cortese Architectals

1.1. Purpose

The purpose of this report is to assess the current design proposal against the Deemed-to-Satisfy Provisions of BCA 2022, and to clearly outline those areas (if any) where compliance is not achieved, where areas may warrant redesign to achieve strict BCA compliance or where areas may be able to be assessed against the relevant performance criteria of BCA 2022.

1.2. Scope

The scope of this assessment is limited to the design documentation referenced in Appendix A of this report.

1.3. Limitations

This report does not include nor imply any detailed assessment for design, compliance or upgrading for:

1. the structural adequacy or design of the building,
2. the inherent derived fire-resistance ratings of any proposed structural elements of the building (unless specifically referred to).

This report does not include, or imply compliance with:

1. The National Construction Code – Plumbing Code of Australia Volume 3;
2. The accessibility provisions of the BCA2022 and Access to Premises Standard

2. the Disability Discrimination Act 1992 including the Disability ((Access to Premises – Buildings) Standards 2010 – unless specifically referred to)
3. The accessibility and Energy Efficiency parts of BCA2022 (Part D4 and Section J).
4. Demolition Standards not referred to by the BCA;
5. Work Health and Safety Act 2011;
6. Requirements of Australian Standards unless specifically referred to;
7. Requirements of other Regulatory Authorities including, but not limited to, Telstra, Telecommunications Supply Authority, Water Supply Authority, Electricity Supply Authority, Work Cover, Roads and Maritime Services (RMS), Local Council, ARTC, Department of Planning and the like; and
8. Conditions of Development Consent issued by the Local Consent Authority.

Note: The BCA report and associated compliance advice is not intended or permitted to be relied on by any other party with respect to their obligations to ensure compliance including but not limited to the making of a compliance declaration under the NSW Design and Building Professionals Act.

2. Description of Proposed Development

The proposed development comprises an eight-storey residential flat building.

Summary of Construction Determination
BCA Classification	Lower Ground to Roof – Class 2
Number of storeys contained	Eight (8)
Rise in storeys (RIS)	Eight (8)
Type of construction required	Type A
Effective height	23.47 metres (RL 41.15 – 17.68)

3. Assessment

The assessment undertaken is in relation to the plans prepared for the Development Consent Application. The technical details required for a Development Consent are far less than that required for a Construction Certificate and as such, this assessment is designed to address a higher-level assessment of the building against the provisions of the BCA.

The main purpose of this report is to address any major design changes required to the building, services required to be installed, and the fundamentals of design required by sections C, D, E, F and G of the BCA. This report does not address the design requirements for the structure of the building (Section B), or for the detailed design of services (Section E).

3.1. Section C: Fire Resistance

In line with the requirements of Clause C2D2, the proposed building will be subject to Type A Construction requirements. Compliance with the fire rating requirements of Type A Construction is readily achievable at CC stage. Note: Where the certifier at CC stage deems the bike store a Class 7b part, then a Performance solution may be required to reduce the FRL's.

The building will require all external walls and internal fire rated walls (non-load bearing) to be constructed of non-combustible construction in accordance with Clause C2D10. Compliance is readily achievable at CC stage.

It is unknown which type of Sprinkler system will be used, however this report will recommend the use of an AS 2118.1 sprinkler system which will provide a concession for no fire rated spandrels as per Clause C3D7.

The building will have multiple openings within all elevations that are within 3m of a fire source feature i.e the boundary line. To achieve compliance with C4D3 and C4D5, the following options are available:

- Fixed or automatic closing glass windows with external drenchers installed (noting that spatials must be allowed for to ensure the drenchers remain inside the property boundary lines);
- FRL -/60/- fire rated windows; or
- Operable windows with FRL -/60/- automatic closing fire shutters (noting that spatials must be allowed for to ensure the drenchers remain inside the property boundary lines).

The details of the protection methods will need to be coordinated at the CC stage.

The bounding construction of the Class 2 units and other rooms which open onto the public corridors will be required to meet the fire rating provisions of Clause C4D12. A Fire Engineered Solution will be required to permit the passenger lift to open directly into the SOU located on level 1, noting that lift landing doors do not achieve a 30-minute insulation rating.

The building design will incorporate a glass curtain wall design from level 2 to level 6. The curtain wall can be designed to meet the concession under S5C6(4), subject to all elements being non-combustible and the external surface is fully protected by automatic external wall wetting sprinklers. Spatials shall be provided to ensure all drenchers remain inside the property boundary lines. Details to be provided at the CC stage.

A Fire Engineered solution will be required to address the non-compliance with Clause S5C16, noting that the glazed roof above the Communal area is within 3m of a boundary.

3.2. Section D: Access and Egress

The building is under an effective height of 25 m, therefore a single exit must be provided from each storey. It is noted that each storey is served by the fire-isolated stairway, therefore compliance with Clause D2D3 is achieved.

The building is served by a single stair which has provisioning to become fire-isolated, therefore compliance with Clause D2D4 is readily achievable at CC stage.

Based off scaled measurements, all Class 2 unit entry doors will be no further than 6 m from the fire-isolated stair egress door. All parts that aren't within an SOU (i.e common areas) are located no further than 20 m to an exit. Compliance with Clause D2D5 is achieved.

The proposed fire-isolated stairway will be required to maintain a minimum clear width of 1 metre (measured clear of the handrails and hydrant/sprinkler services) to ensure compliance with Clause D2D8.

The lower ground floor has a common area room that opens directly into the fire-isolated passageway. The common area is not deemed an SOU, therefore egress into the Fire-isolated passageway must be from a public corridor. During design development at the CC stage, FRL -/60/60 construction shall be provided between the common area and the fire-isolated passageway to create a public corridor – see figure 1 below.

A Fire Engineered Solution will be required to address Clause D2D12 to allow the lower ground floor fire-isolated passageway/stair to discharge to a point which is not deemed open space.

At CC stage, details of the stairway and all subsequent barriers will be required to confirm compliance with Clause D3D14 – D3D22.

3.3. Section E: Services and Equipment

The building is required to be provided with the services and equipment set out in Appendix B of this report. The annexure also outlines the standard of performance to be achieved by the services and equipment.

3.4. Section F: Health and Amenity

The proposed external communal area terrace will be required to have external waterproofing membranes provided as well as grated drains across the doorway thresholds in accordance with Clause F1D5.

The proposed Class 2 sole occupancy units have bathrooms, kitchens and laundry facilities proposed in accordance with F4D2.

The ceiling heights throughout the Class 2 parts can readily achieve compliance with Clause F5D2, however a further assessment will be required at CC stage when RCP plans are provided.

The DtS provisions for Part F6 require all habitable rooms within a Class 2 building to achieve natural light in line with F6D2 and F6D3. The required natural light must have an aggregate opening size no less than 10% of the floor area of the habitable room being provided with natural light i.e if a bedroom is $10m^2$, the window must be no less than $1m^2$.

Whilst the window opening sizes may be compliant throughout the various levels, it is noted that Clause F6D3(2) requires windows to be setback at least 1m, or even further if the calculations under F6D3(2)(c) require a greater than 1m setback i.e. For the windows on level 1 the required setback would be 50% square root 21.9m = 2.33m setback.

If the proposed building envelop is pursued, a Performance Solution will be required at the CC stage to justify the reduced window setbacks. Please note that this Performance Solution will likely require input by a planning lawyer and/or the creation of light/air easements.

Note: SWP cannot prepare the above solution, therefore this would need to be prepared by a third party and agreed too by the PCA at the CC stage.

Clause F6D6 requires all the habitable rooms within a Class 2 building to either have natural or mechanical ventilation. Given that most of the windows will be fixed, this report assumes that mechanical ventilation in accordance with Clause F6D6(b) will be provided. Details to be provided at the CC stage.

Some of the units have sanitary compartments opening directly into a kitchen, therefore the sanitary compartment must be provided with mechanical exhaust ventilation as per F6D10. Details to be provided at the CC stage.

The Sound transmission/insulation and condensation management provisions of Part F7 and F8 will apply throughout the Class 2 parts. A further assessment will be required at CC stage.

3.5. Performance Solutions required at CC Stage

Item	Clause	Clause Number	Description
1	Bounding Construction: Class 2 and 3 buildings and Class 4 parts	C4D12	Permit the passenger lift to open directly into the SOU located on level 1, noting that lift landing doors do not achieve a 30-minute insulation rating.
2	Type A Fire-resisting construction – Roof lights	S5C16	Allow glazed roof lights within 3 m of the boundary (communal area on level 6)
3	Travel via fire-isolated exits	D2D12	Allow the lower ground floor fire-isolated passageway/stair to discharge to a point which is not deemed open space.
4	Natural light	F6D3	Allow natural light to be obtained from windows which have non-compliance setbacks. Note: SWP cannot prepared this Performance Solution.

Note: This table may need to be updated as the design develops.

3.6. Conclusion

The plans assessed were developed to a standard suitable for submission as a Development Application and do not contain all the details necessary to allow a CC to be issued. As such, this assessment was limited to the major items of the BCA with the view of identifying any items that may result in a modified Development Consent being required, or additional key items that need to be included in the design.

The architectural design documentation as referred to in this report have been assessed against the applicable provisions of the Building Code of Australia, (BCA) and it is considered that such documentation is capable of complying with that Code subject to the listed Performance Solutions being prepared at the CC stage.

1.0 Introduction

Our vision is to adaptively reuse a 1960's commercial building breathing new life into an underutilised structure. Skillfully crafted and thoughtfully considered, providing a sophiticated architctural response delivering high-quality living environments with superior amenity.

1.1 Project Proposal

Following the Pre DA meeting with City of Sydney Council held on the 30th June and additional meeting on the 17th November 2023, this report further develops and refines the design, taking into consideraton the site constraints and the surrounding contextual relationships for the proposed residential redevelopment at 125A Kent Street Millers Point Sydney.

The development consists of the alteration and refurbishment of the of the existing three storey ESSO building, and the addition of four residential stories and roof top communal area above, containing a modest five residential apartments.

2.0 Site + Context

2.1 Greater Context

Millers Point is a quilt composed and patched with a variety of architectural expressions that underline the history of Sydney's built form.

From the Italian influenced Sydney Observatory to the early workers cottages, the use of local sandstone, metals, timber, brick, and iron lattice work, to the contemporary residential towers and office buildings made of glass and steel. Millers Point creates a diverse and unique urban condition of heritage and contemporary with an extensive degree of scale and purpose.

125A Kent Street sits at the crossroads of Millers Point, flanked by heritage houses and cottages, multi-storey residential buildings, and a commercial office, this 1960's commercial building now finds itself commissioned for re use. Repurposed and rearranged to become more than its original intention.

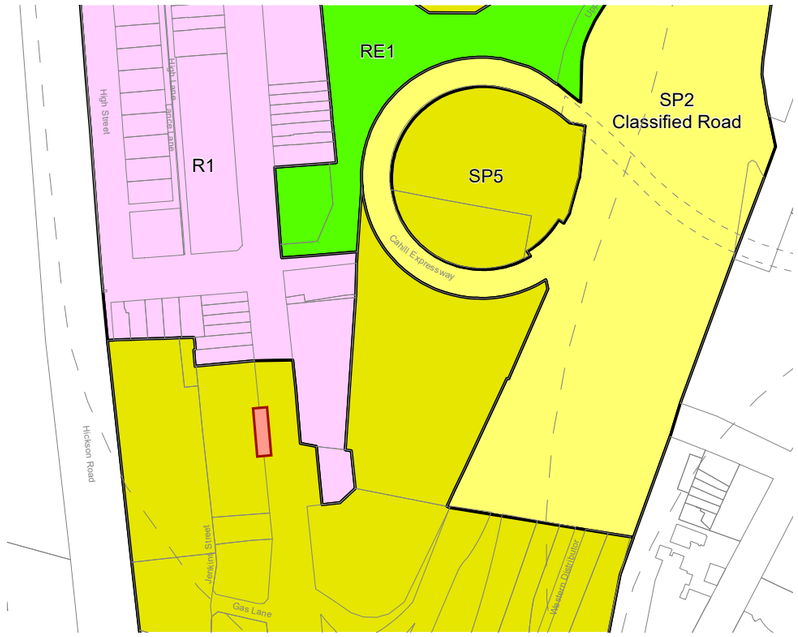
2.2 Planning Context



The subject site is centrally located within the City of Sydney Council LGA. The site is located within the SP5 Metropolitan Centre land use zoning.

To the west is land zoned ECH (Eastern City Harbour) and relates to the future Baranagroo Central Precinct. To the immediate north and east is land zoned R1 general residential, with land zoned RE1 (Public Recreation) further to the north, associated with the Observatory Hill Park.

2.3 Immediate Context

The site is located adjacent to the state significant Millers Point Conservation area which is made up of state listed early twentieth century 'workers housing' fronting High St and early victorian stone terraces fronting Kent St.

These state heritage listed dwellings are located within 'Area 10' of the LEP, with the relevant development control plan applicable to these sites being the Sydney DCP 2012.

Given the state significance of these dwellings and the wider Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area re-development of these exeptional examples of early twenthieth century architecture is highly remote.

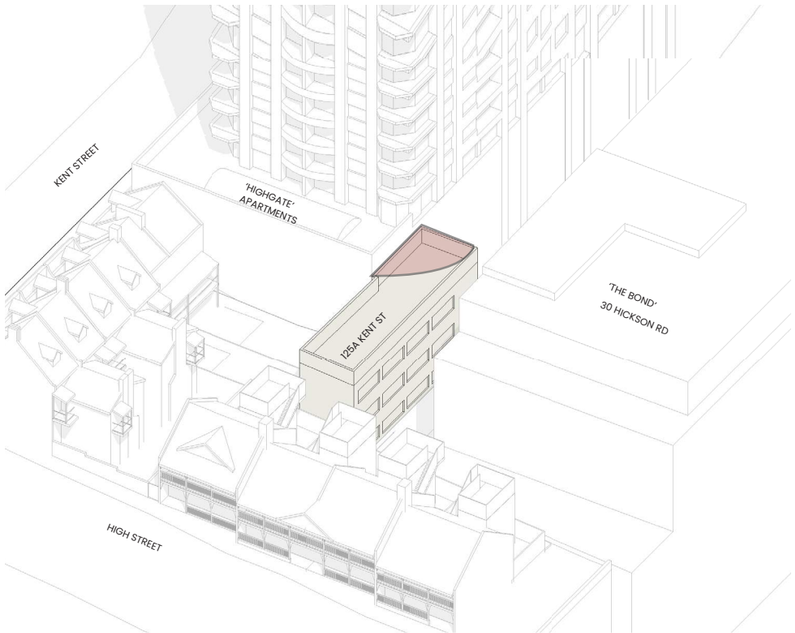
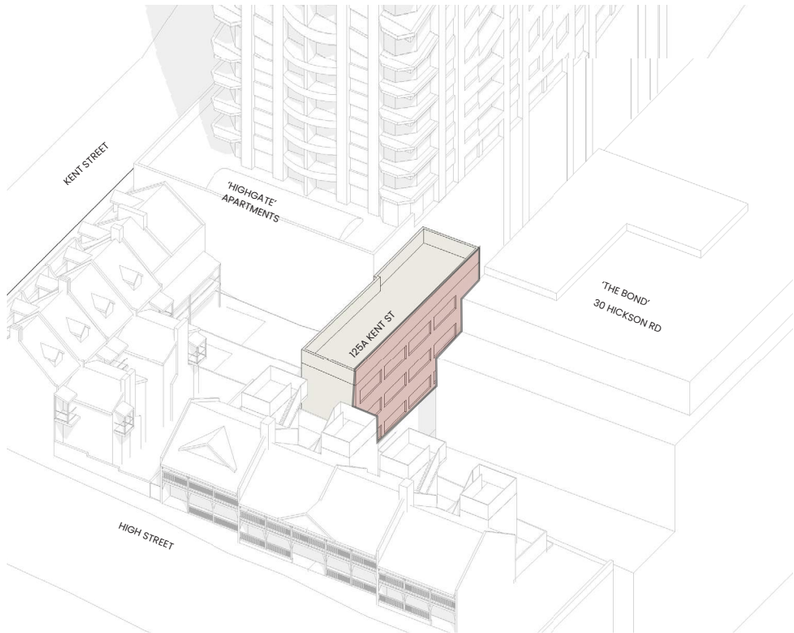
2.3 Immediate Context



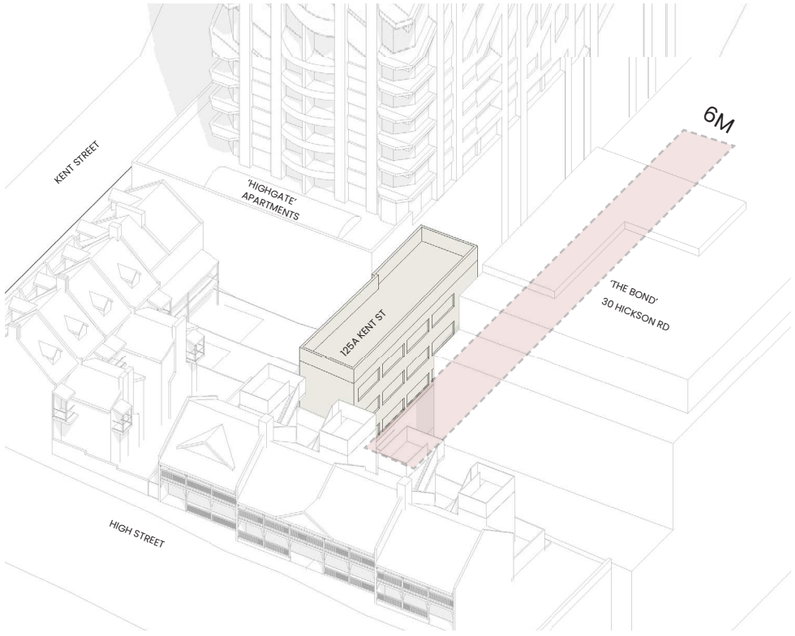
Contemporary residential and commercial buildings form a back drop to the site and its heritasge neighbours.

The high rise residential apartment development ‘Highgate apartments’ is located to the south while to the west is the commercial offce development ‘The Bond’ 30 Hickson Rd.

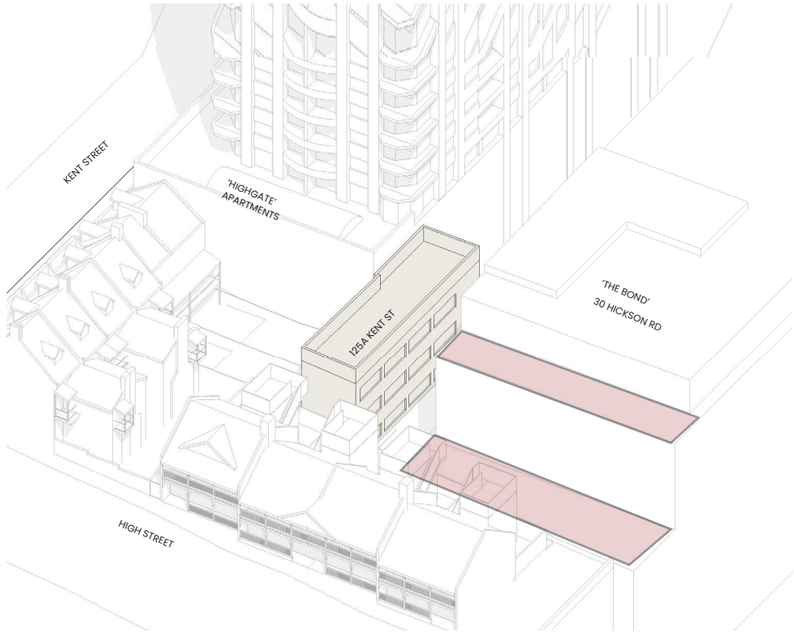


The subject site is burdened by a ‘light and air’ easement to its southern end. This easement is to the benefit of the ‘Highgate’ apartments to the south. This easement will be maintained.

The contemporary commercial development ‘The Bond’ has been set back 6m from its eastern boundary due to the existing glazed windows and drencher system to the western facade of 125A Kent St. The use of these windows in part will be retained for the proposal maintainng the existing boundary condition.

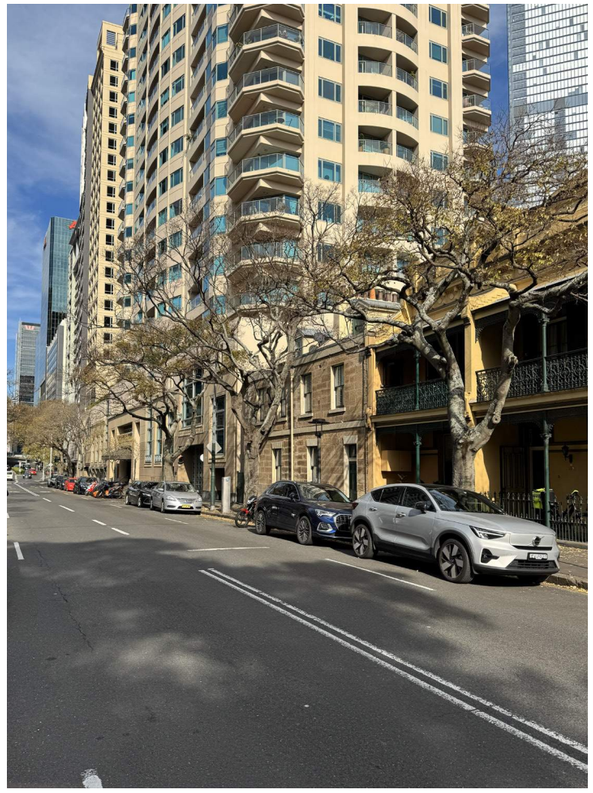


The Bond has also been set back along the length of its eastern boundary due to an existing easement to allow for ‘drainage over texisting pipes’



Easement for light and air benefiting ‘Highgate’ Apartment to the south maintained

125A Kent St - Existing windows to western facade retained maintaining access to light to internal areas



Adjacent commercial building setback 6m from boundary due to existing adjacent condition & easement

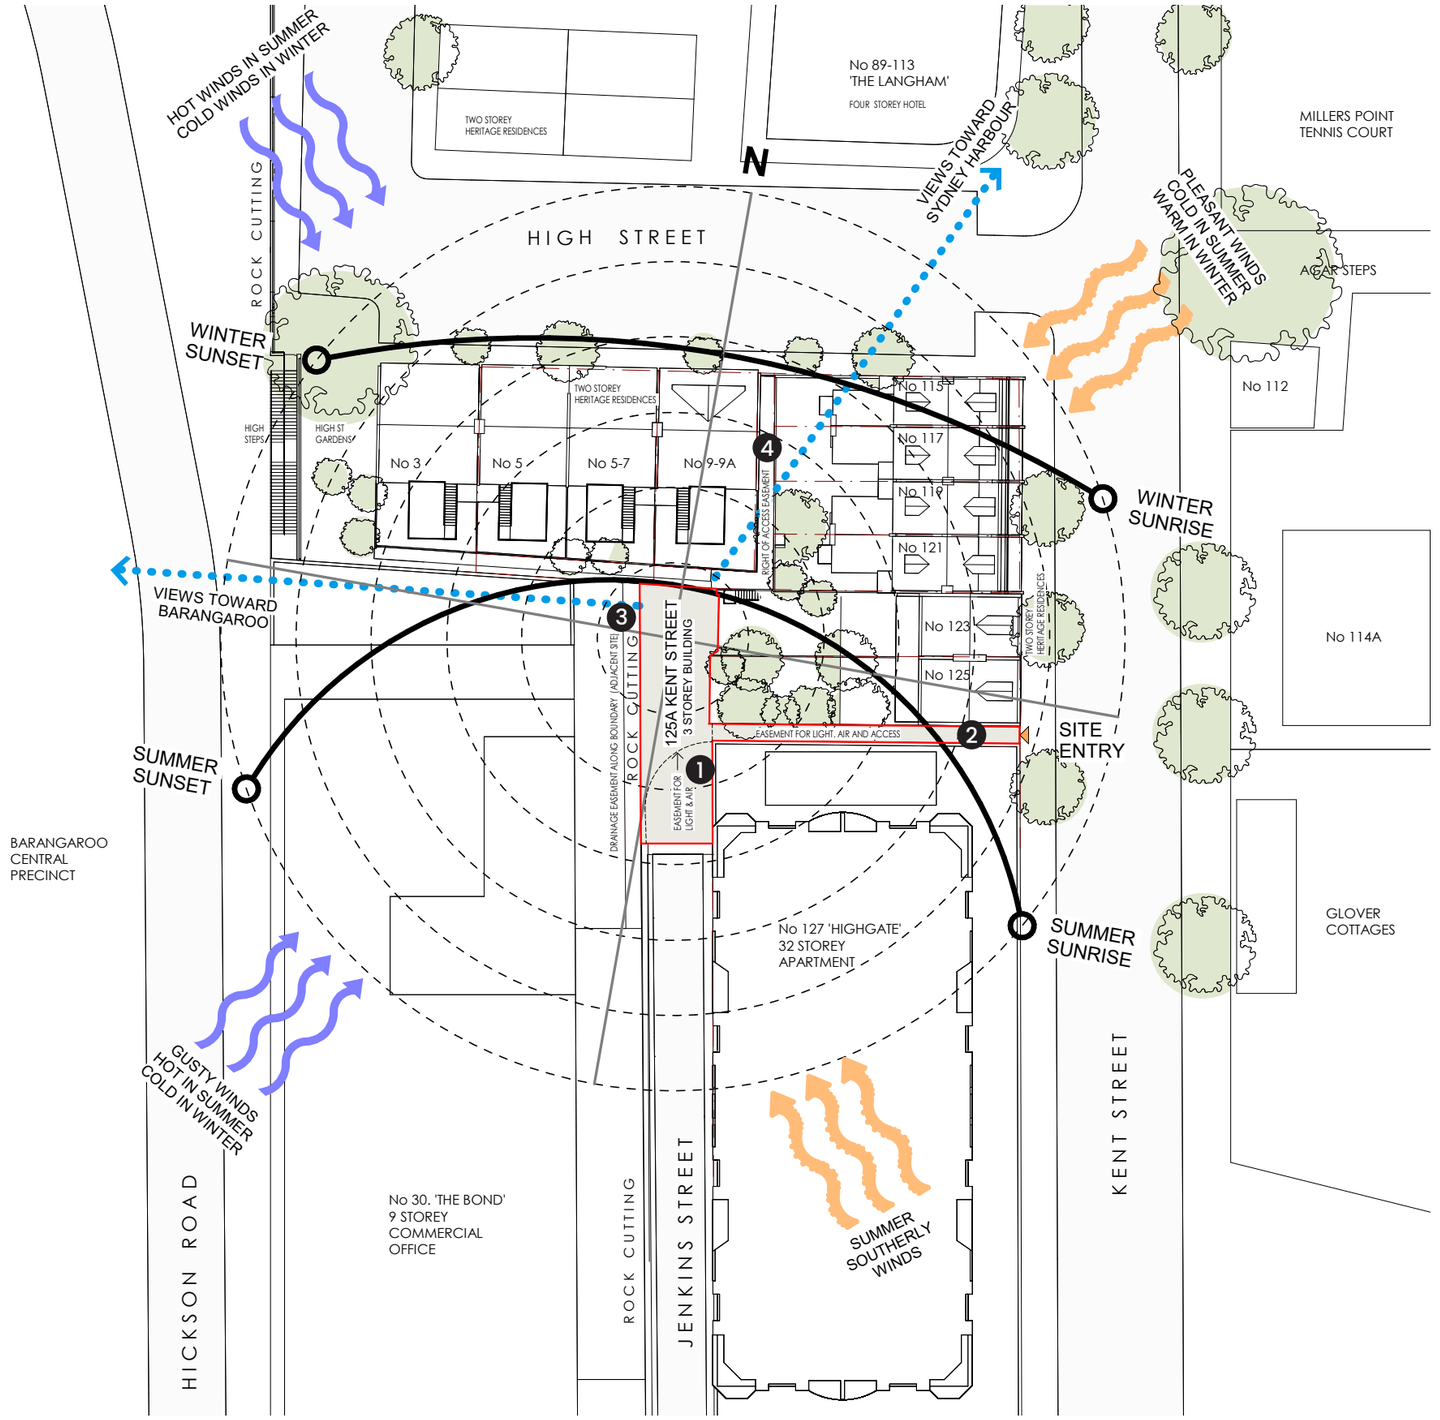
2.5 Site Analysis

The site has an area of approximately 154 sqm, with a frontage of 6.5m wide along Jenkins Street, and a depth of approximately 23.5m. Oriented north to south, it benefits from ample natural light and ventilation.

The site is occupied by an existing three storey building built boundary to boundary. To the north and east of the site is the Millers Point Conservation area consisting of two storey state heritage listed dwellings. To the south east is the 'Highgate' residential tower development and to the west is 'The Bond' a commercial office building.

The site address and existing pedestrian access is from Kent Street to the east while servicing to the site is from Jenkins Street to the south.



The site is located within the Sydney CBD and is in walking distance to all modes of public transport.

The western facade of the existing building on the subject site is built to the boundary and contains drenched glazed windows that face the adjacentr building No.30 'The Bond'.

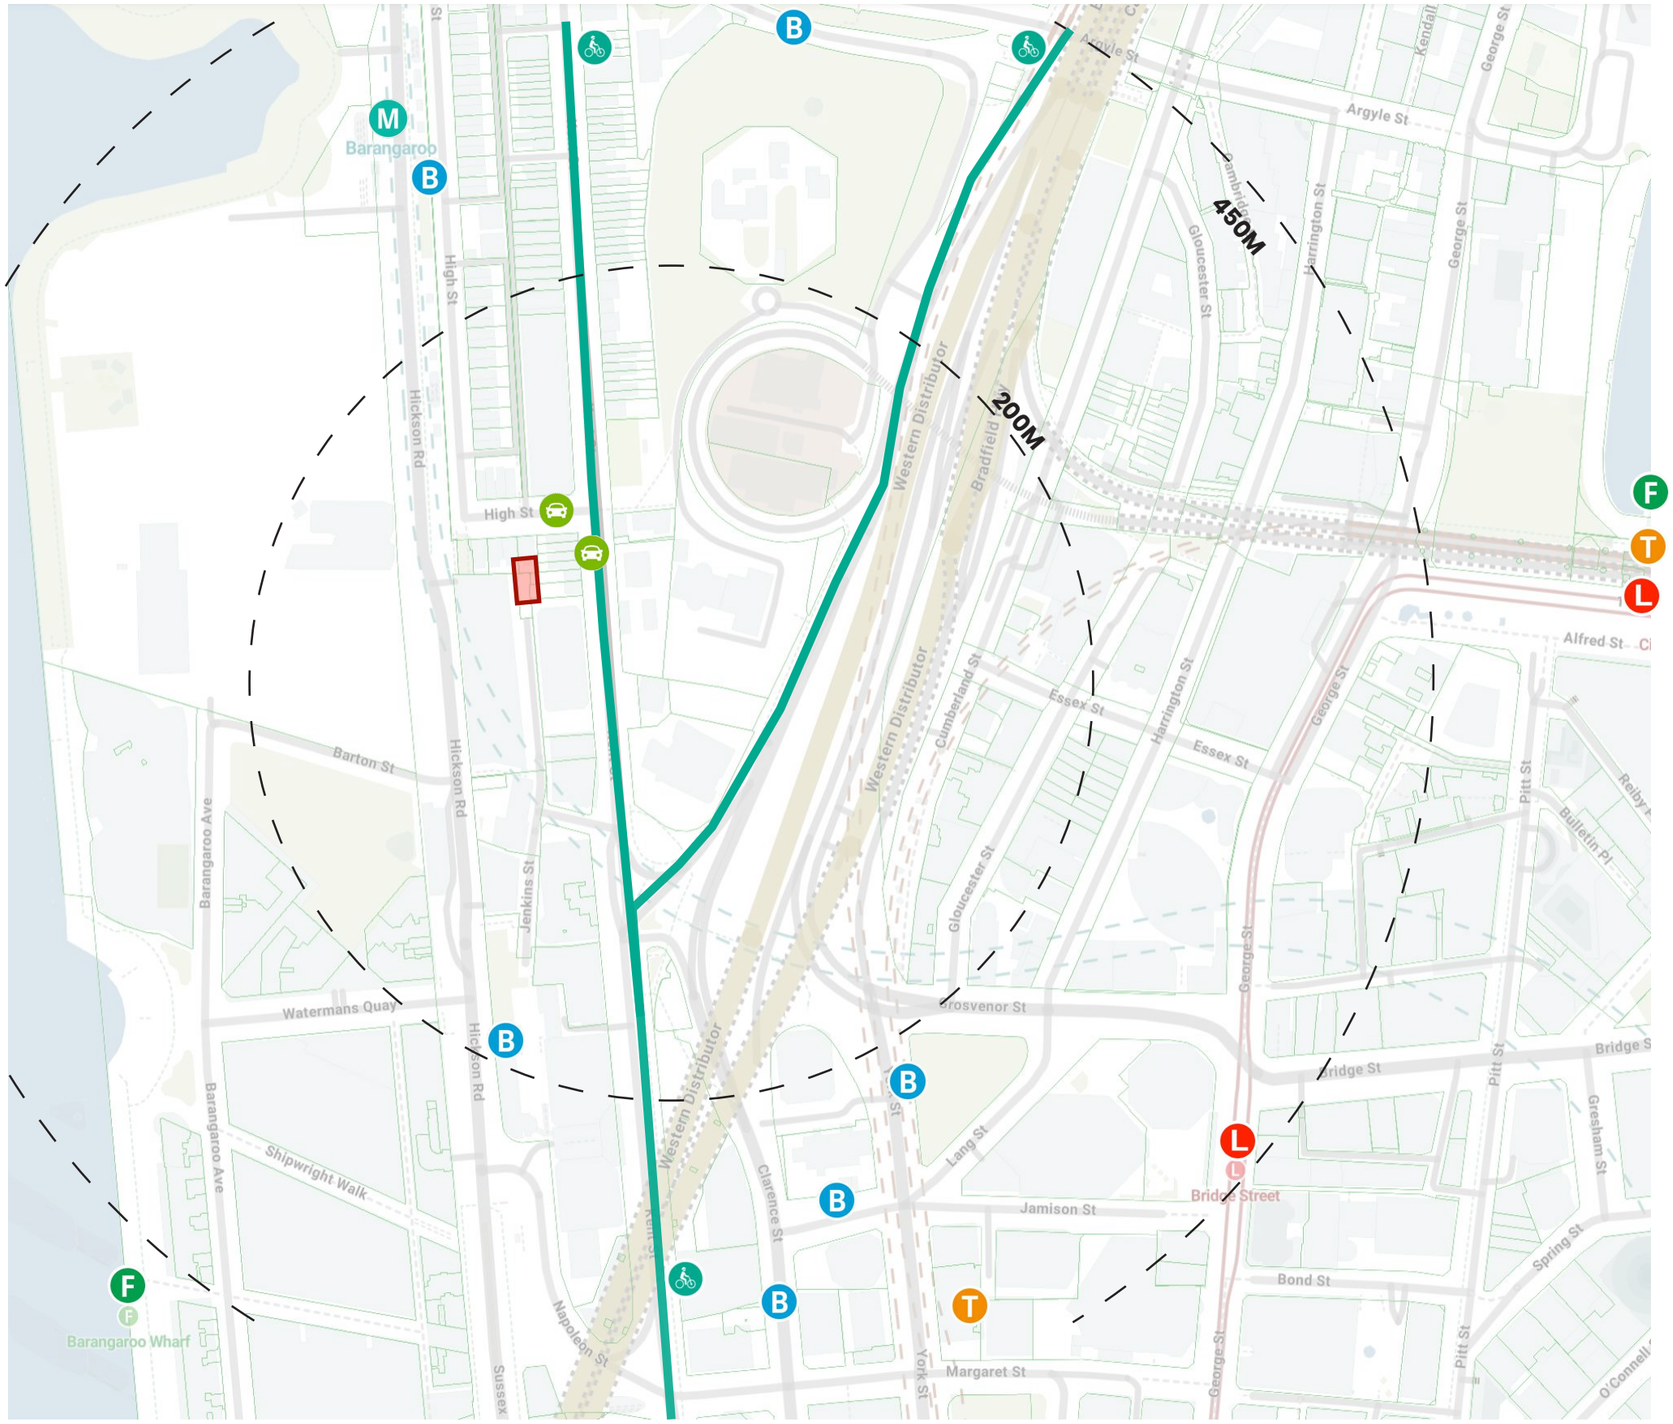
There are a number of easements in place on the site including and easements for light, air and access.

There are also easements in place for access and services to the heritage listed properites to the north of the site fronting High St, and a drainage easement along the eastern boundary of No.30 'The Bond'

1. Easement for light and air
2. Easement for acces, light and air
3. Easement for drainage
4. Easement for access and services

2.6 Transport Overview

The site has excellent access to a range of public transport modes including the recently completed Sydney Metro Rail network, and existing Sydney rail, light rail, ferry and bus networks all within walking distance of the site.



The site is also in close proximity to public car share facilities located on High Street and Kent Street.

The site is currently occupied by an existing 3 storey concrete and masonry building built to the full extent of the site footprint, no carparking is currently provided on site.

As part of the environmentally sustainable adaptived reuse of the existing building, the existng site constraints and the sites excellent access to public and private transport modes, no residential or vistor car parking is proposed for the development.

Vistors are encouraged to use enviromentally sustainable modes of public transport. or alternatively are able to utilise the many existing parking stations located in close proximity to the site.

Secure bicycle parking at the lower ground level has been provided for the residents and visitors. Five residential spaces and one vistior bicycle space has been provided inaccordance with City of Sydney Council DCP 2012.

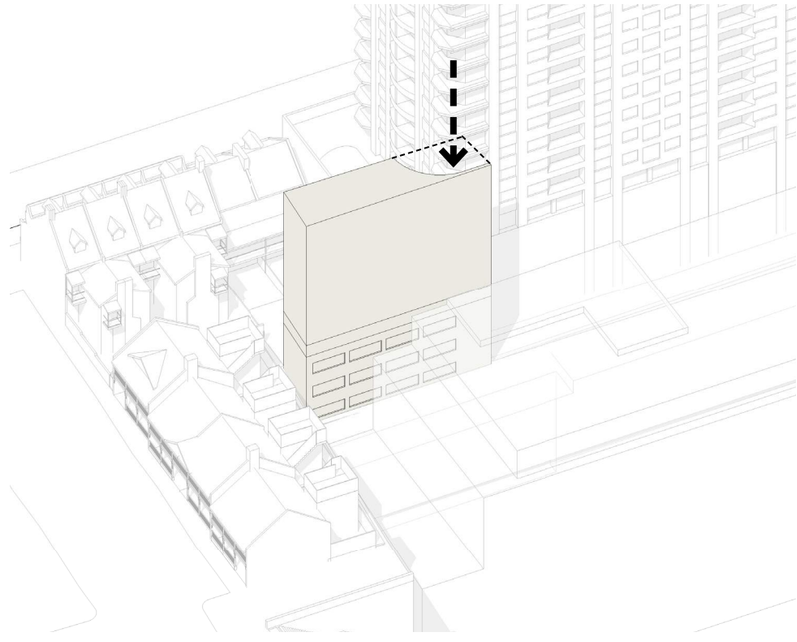
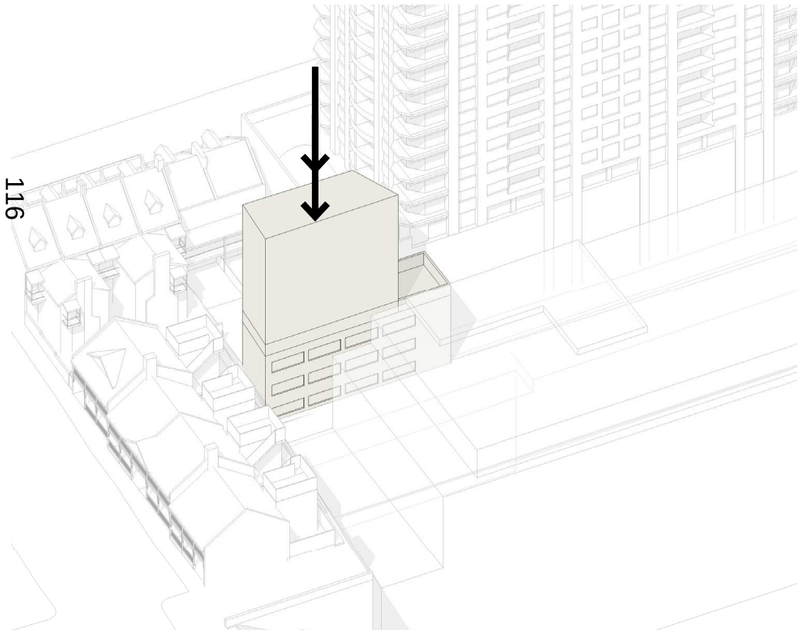
3.0 Design Concept

3.1 Building form

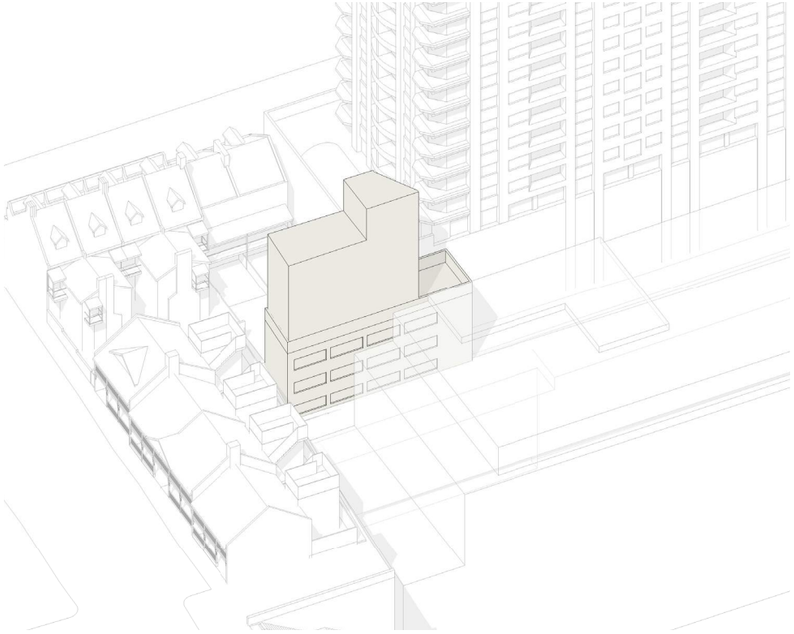


The following design concept diagrams illustrate the key principles guiding the development. They highlight the site response, built form articulation and spatial organisation that strategically shape the development.

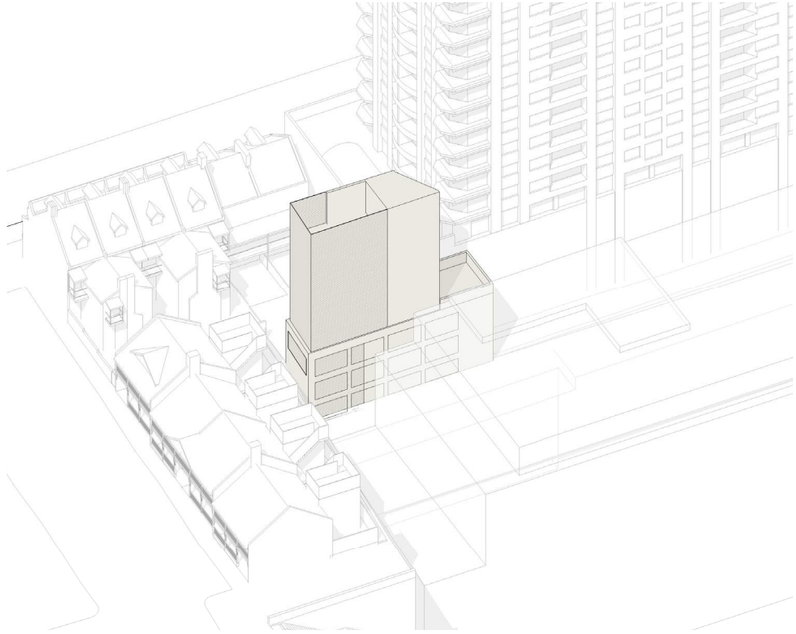
1. Existing building envelope



2. Maximum developable height



3. Subtraction for Light and Air Easement (benefit to Highgate Apartments)

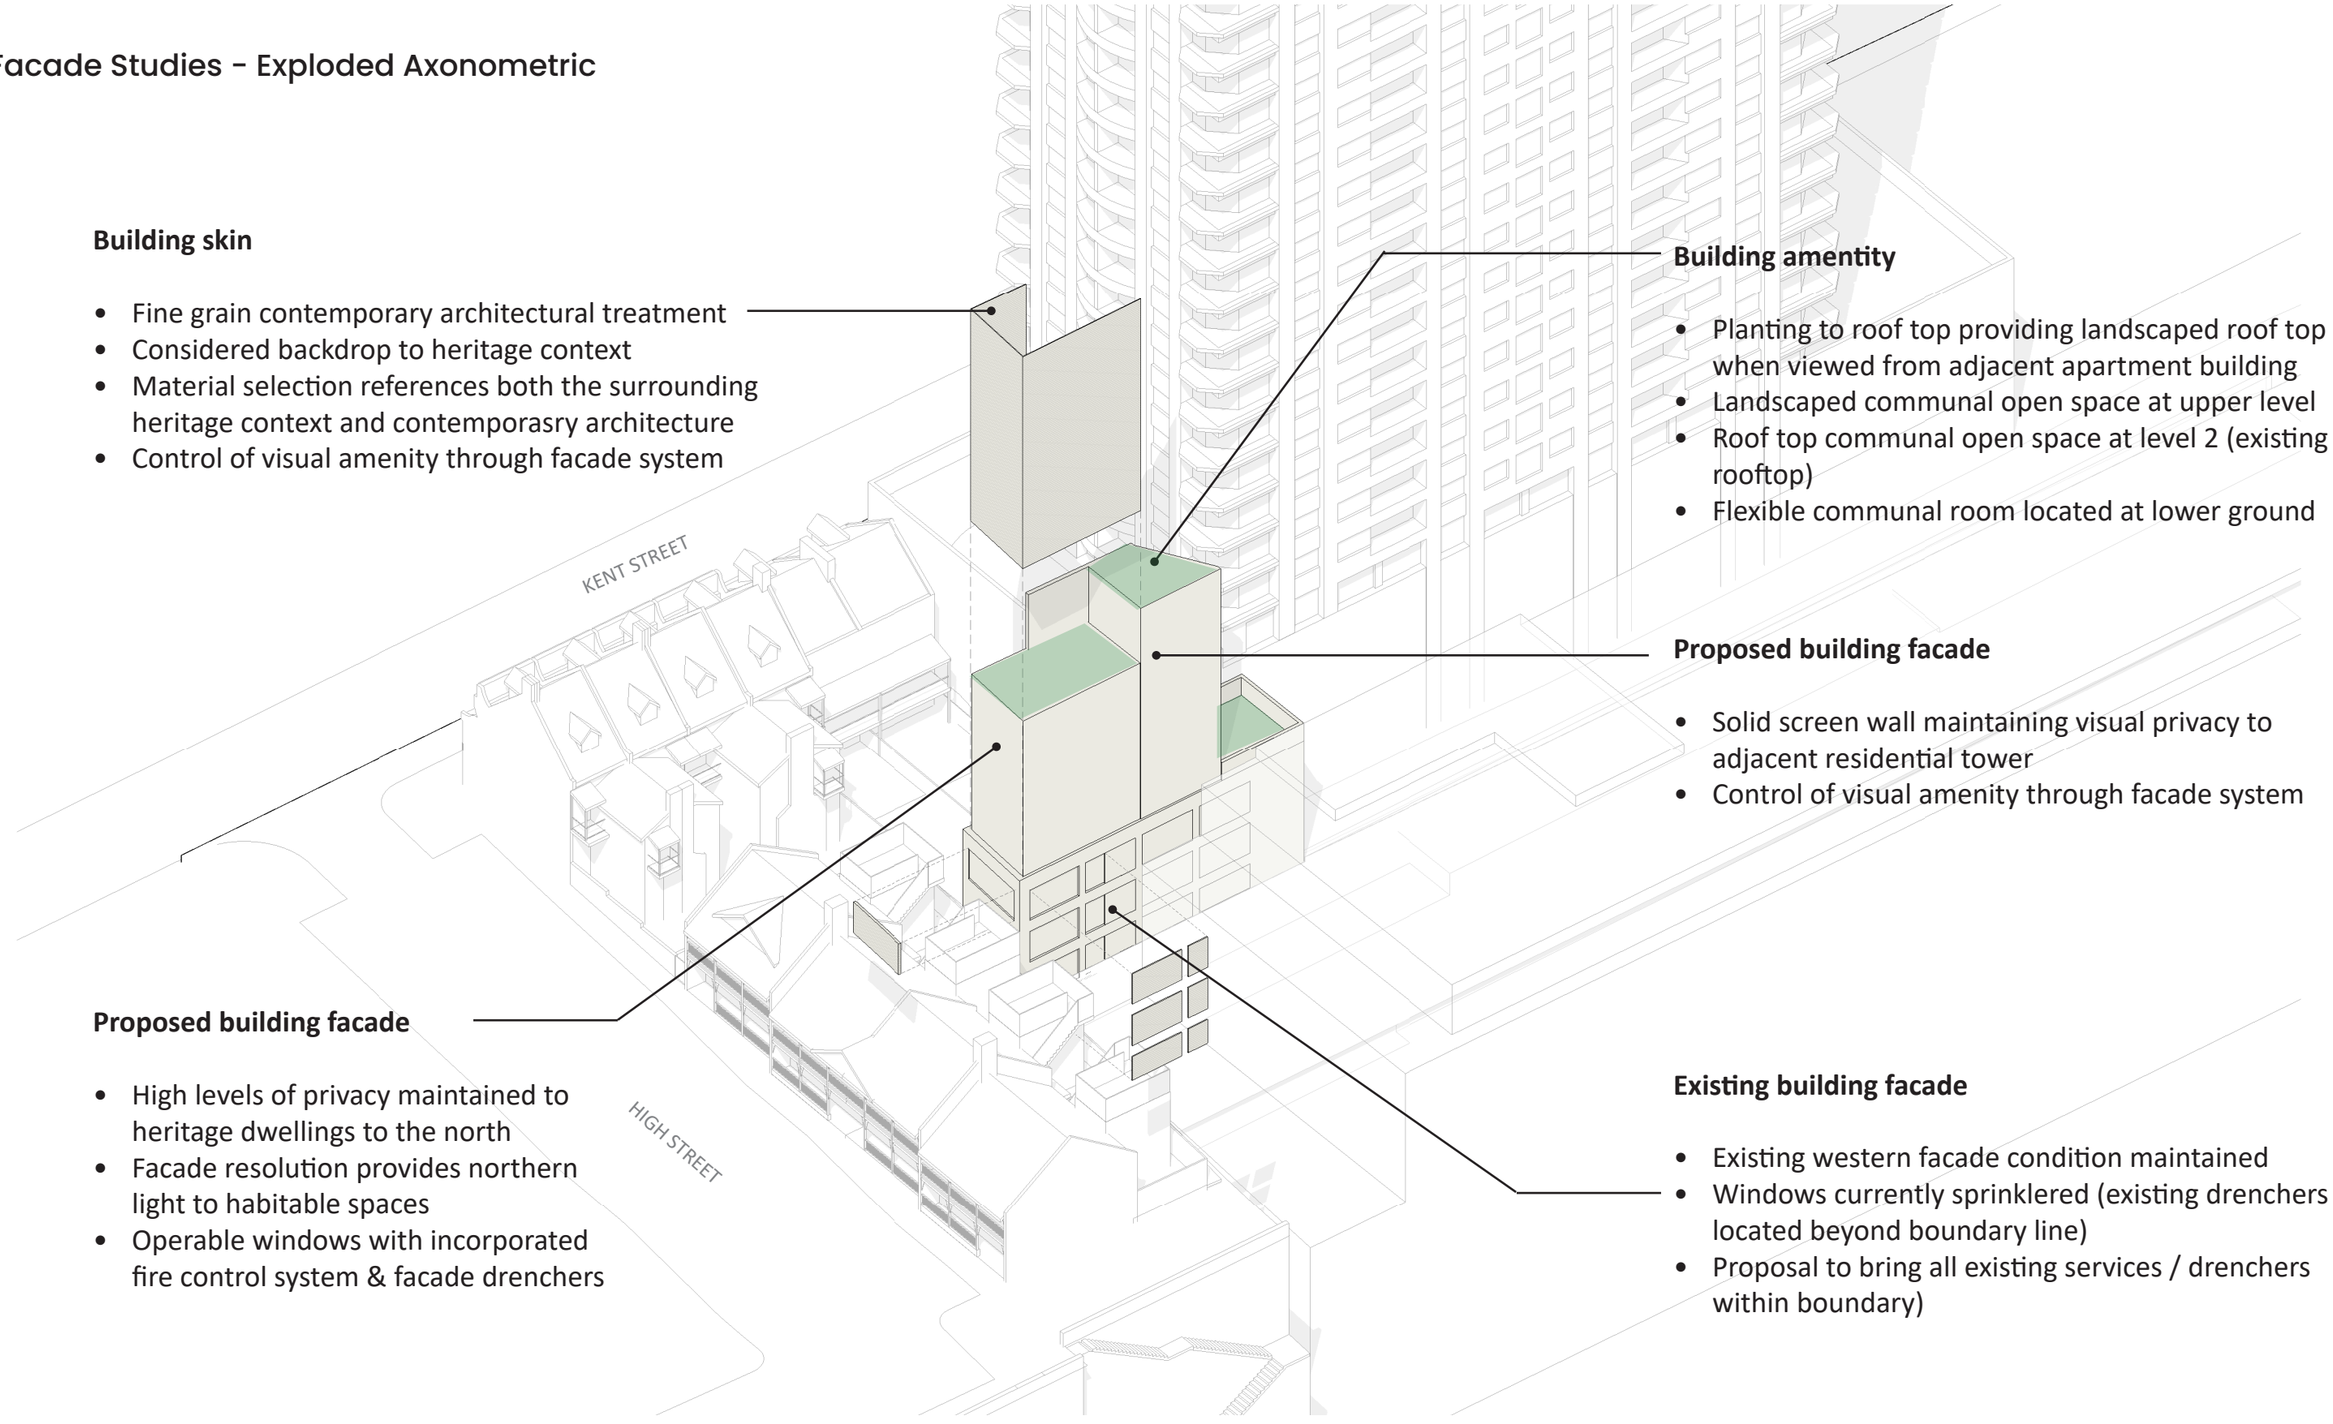


3.1 Building form

4. Envelope rationalised and height reduced

5. Shaping of of building envelope responding to building program and location

6. Introduction of the building skin resulting in a fine grain architecural outcome and a high quality design response to the buildings context



3.2 Facade Studies - Exploded Axonometric

Building skin

- Fine grain contemporary architectural treatment
- Considered backdrop to heritage context
- Material selection references both the surrounding heritage context and contemporasry architecture
- Control of visual amenity through facade system

Building amentity

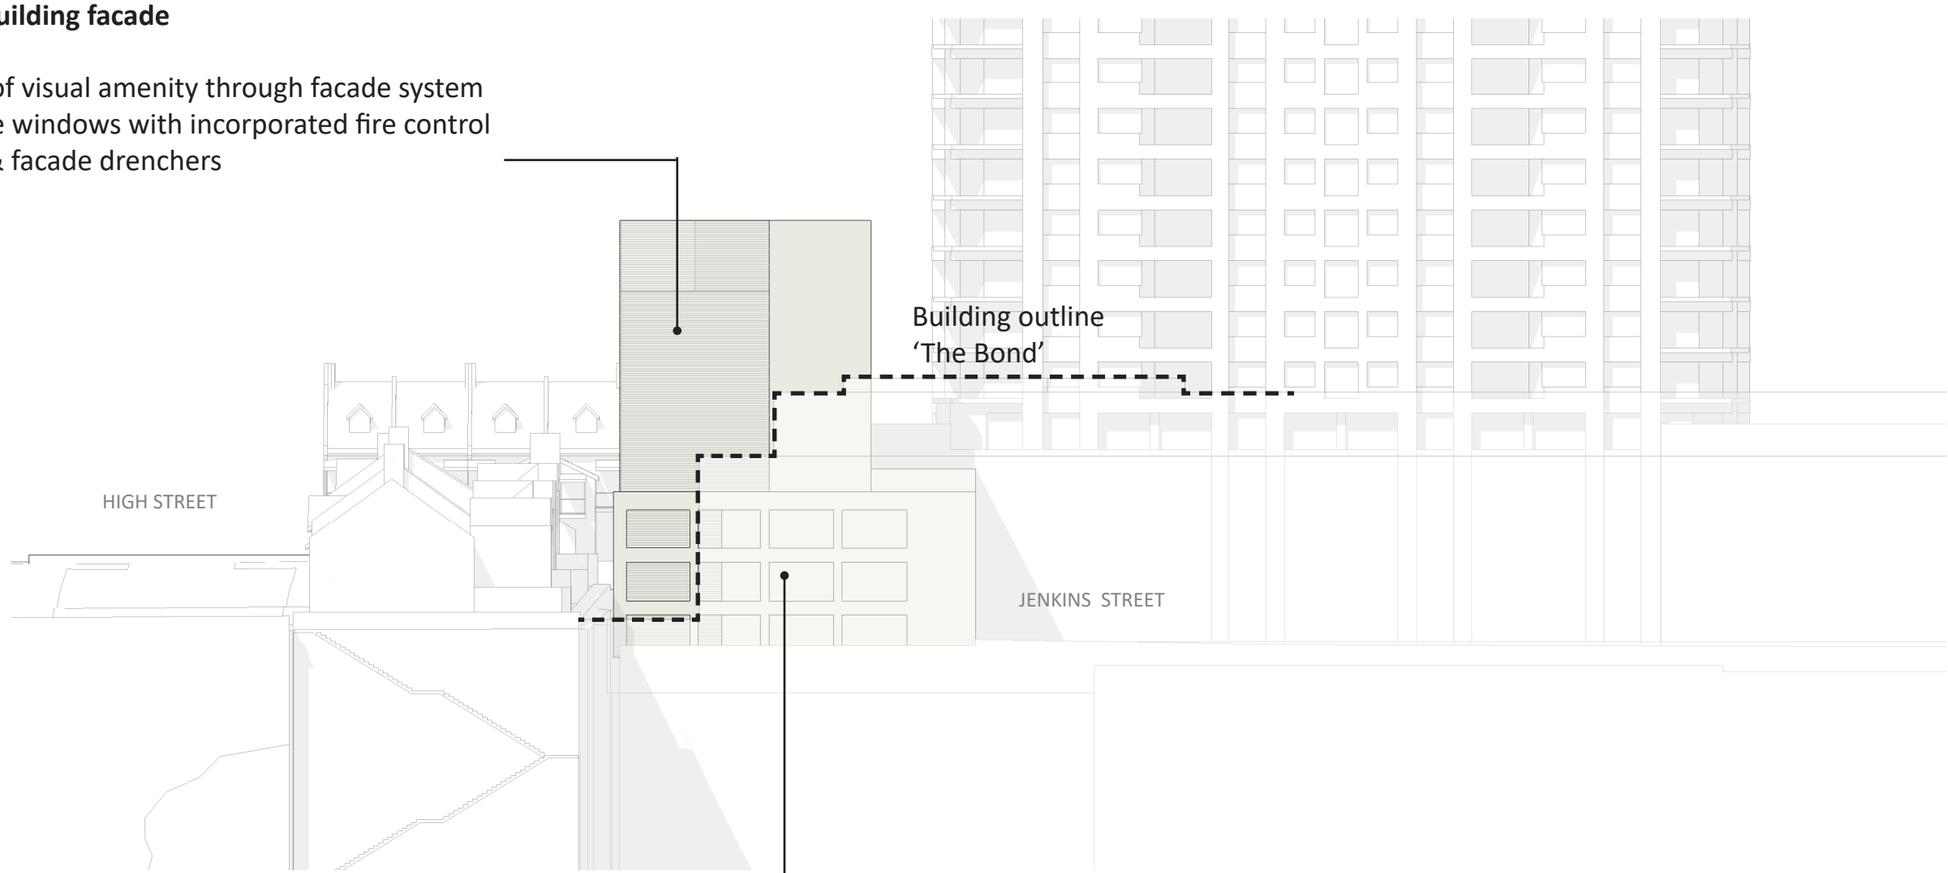
- Planting to roof top providing landscaped roof top when viewed from adjacent apartment building
- Landscaped communal open space at upper level
- Roof top communal open space at level 2 (existing rooftop)
- Flexible communal room located at lower ground

Proposed building facade

- Solid screen wall maintaining visual privacy to adjacent residential tower
- Control of visual amenity through facade system

Proposed building facade

- High levels of privacy maintained to heritage dwellings to the north
- Facade resolution provides northern light to habitable spaces
- Operable windows with incorporated fire control system & facade drenchers

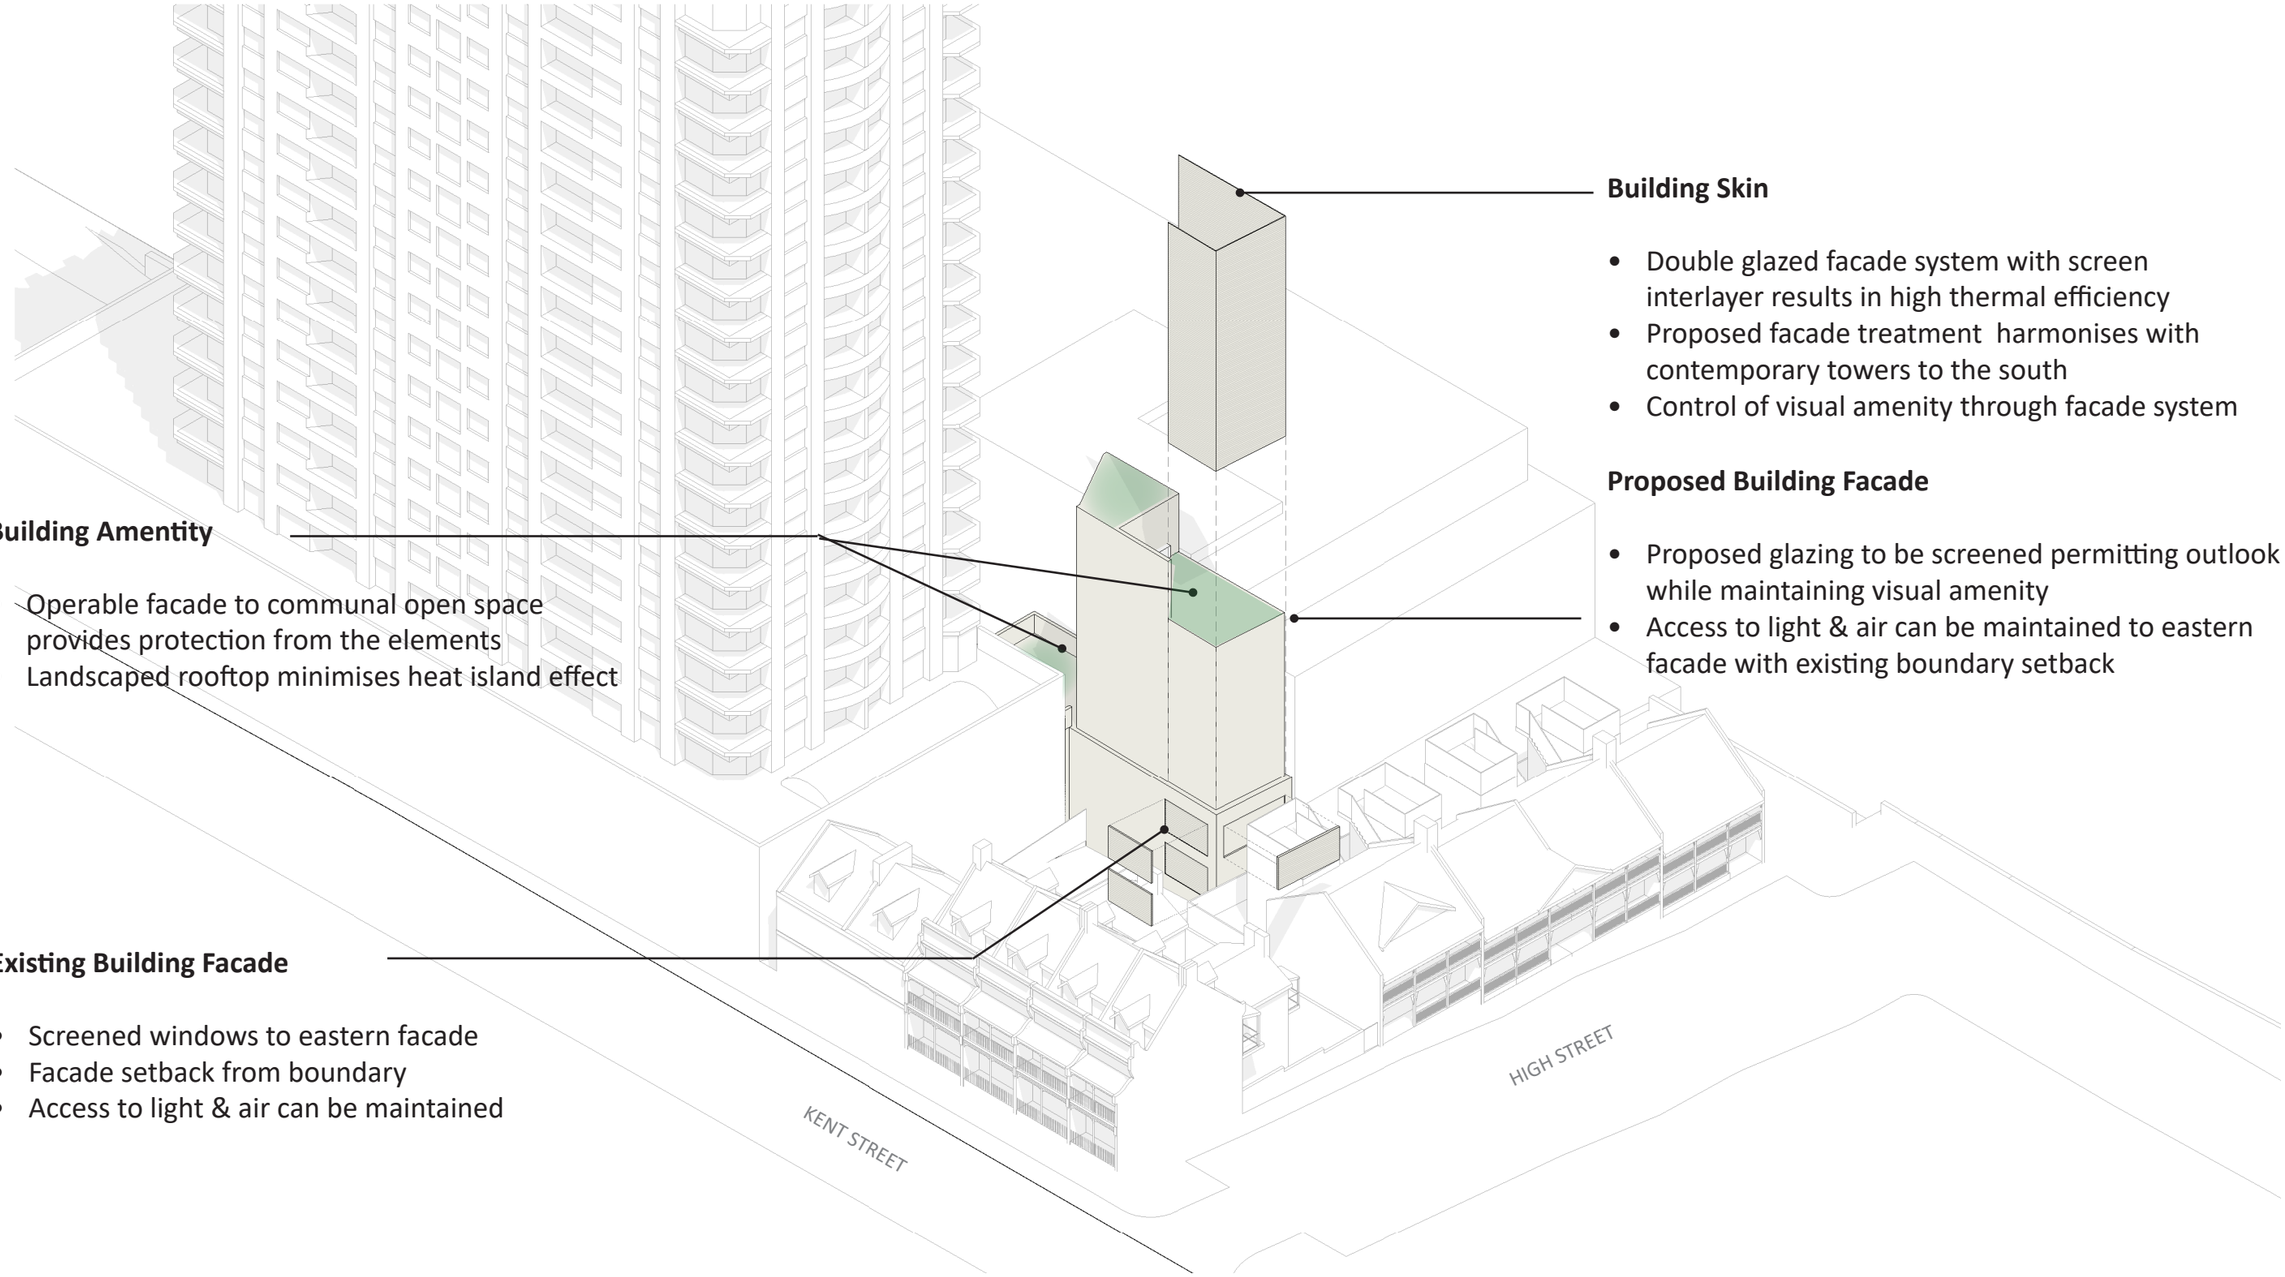


Existing building facade

- Existing western facade condition maintained
- Windows currently sprinklered (existing drenchers located beyond boundary line)
- Proposal to bring all existing services / drenchers within boundary)

3.2 Facade Studies - Elevation West

Proposed building facade



- Control of visual amenity through facade system
- Operable windows with incorporated fire control system & facade drenchers

Existing building facade

- Panelised infill of existing windows to part of western facade
- Existing windows locations maintained to northen end of exsitng facade

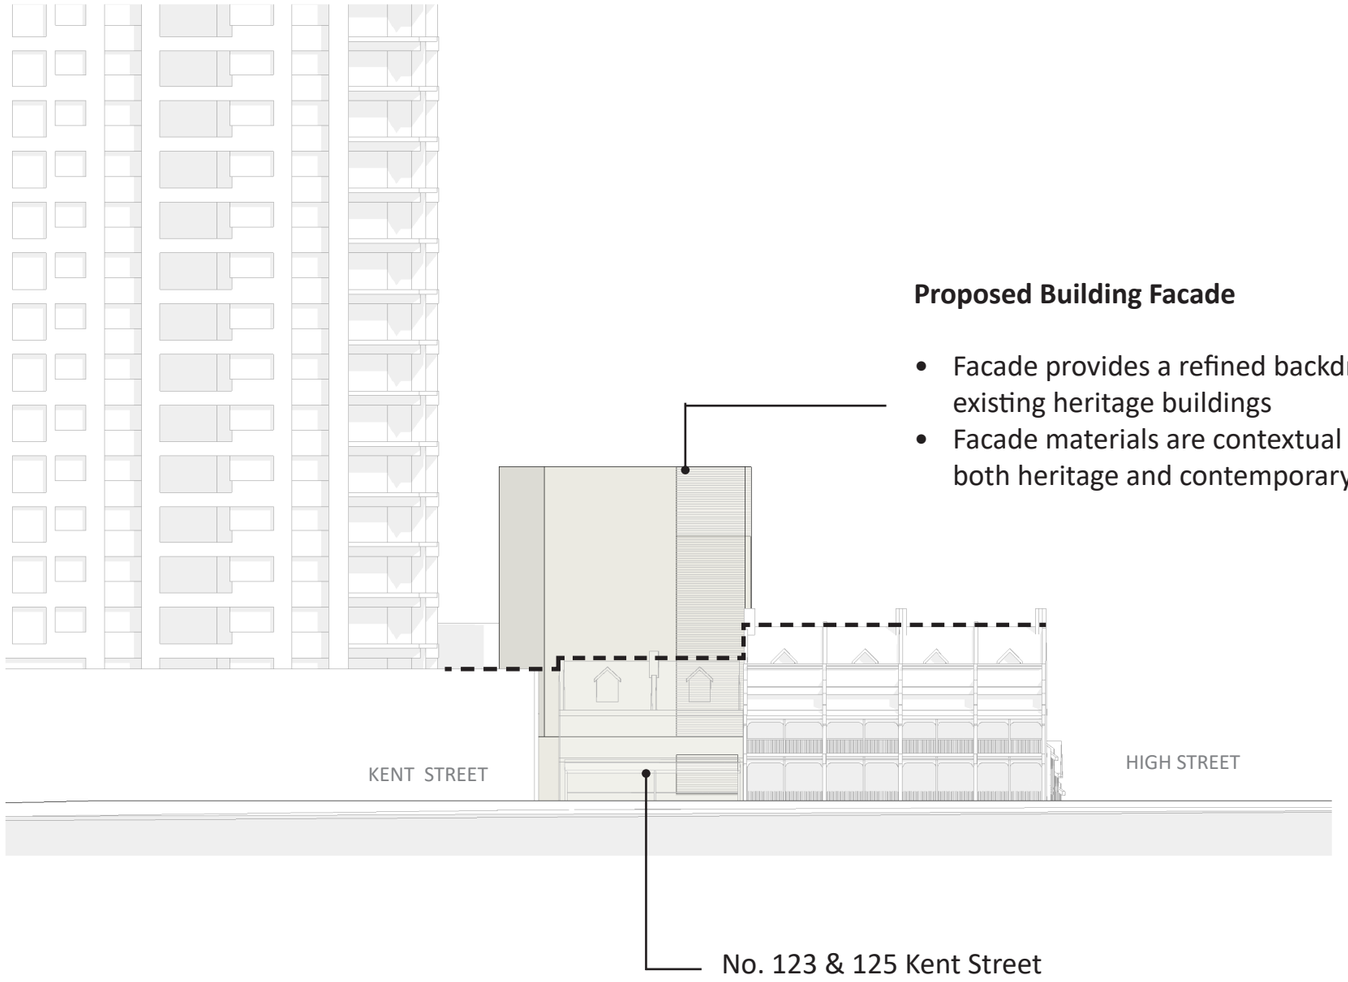
3.2 Facade Studies - Exploded Axonometric

Building Skin

- Double glazed facade system with screen interlayer results in high thermal efficiency
- Proposed facade treatment harmonises with contemporary towers to the south
- Control of visual amenity through facade system

Proposed Building Facade

- Proposed glazing to be screened permitting outlook while maintaining visual amenity
- Access to light & air can be maintained to eastern facade with existing boundary setback



Building Amentity

- Operable facade to communal open space provides protection from the elements
- Landscaped rooftop minimises heat island effect

Existing Building Facade

- Screened windows to eastern facade
- Facade setback from boundary
- Access to light & air can be maintained

3.2 Facade Studies - Elevation East

Proposed Building Facade

- Facade provides a refined backdrop to the existing heritage buildings
- Facade materials are contextual referencing both heritage and contemporary context

Architectural Design Report

4.0 Project Description

4.1 Overview

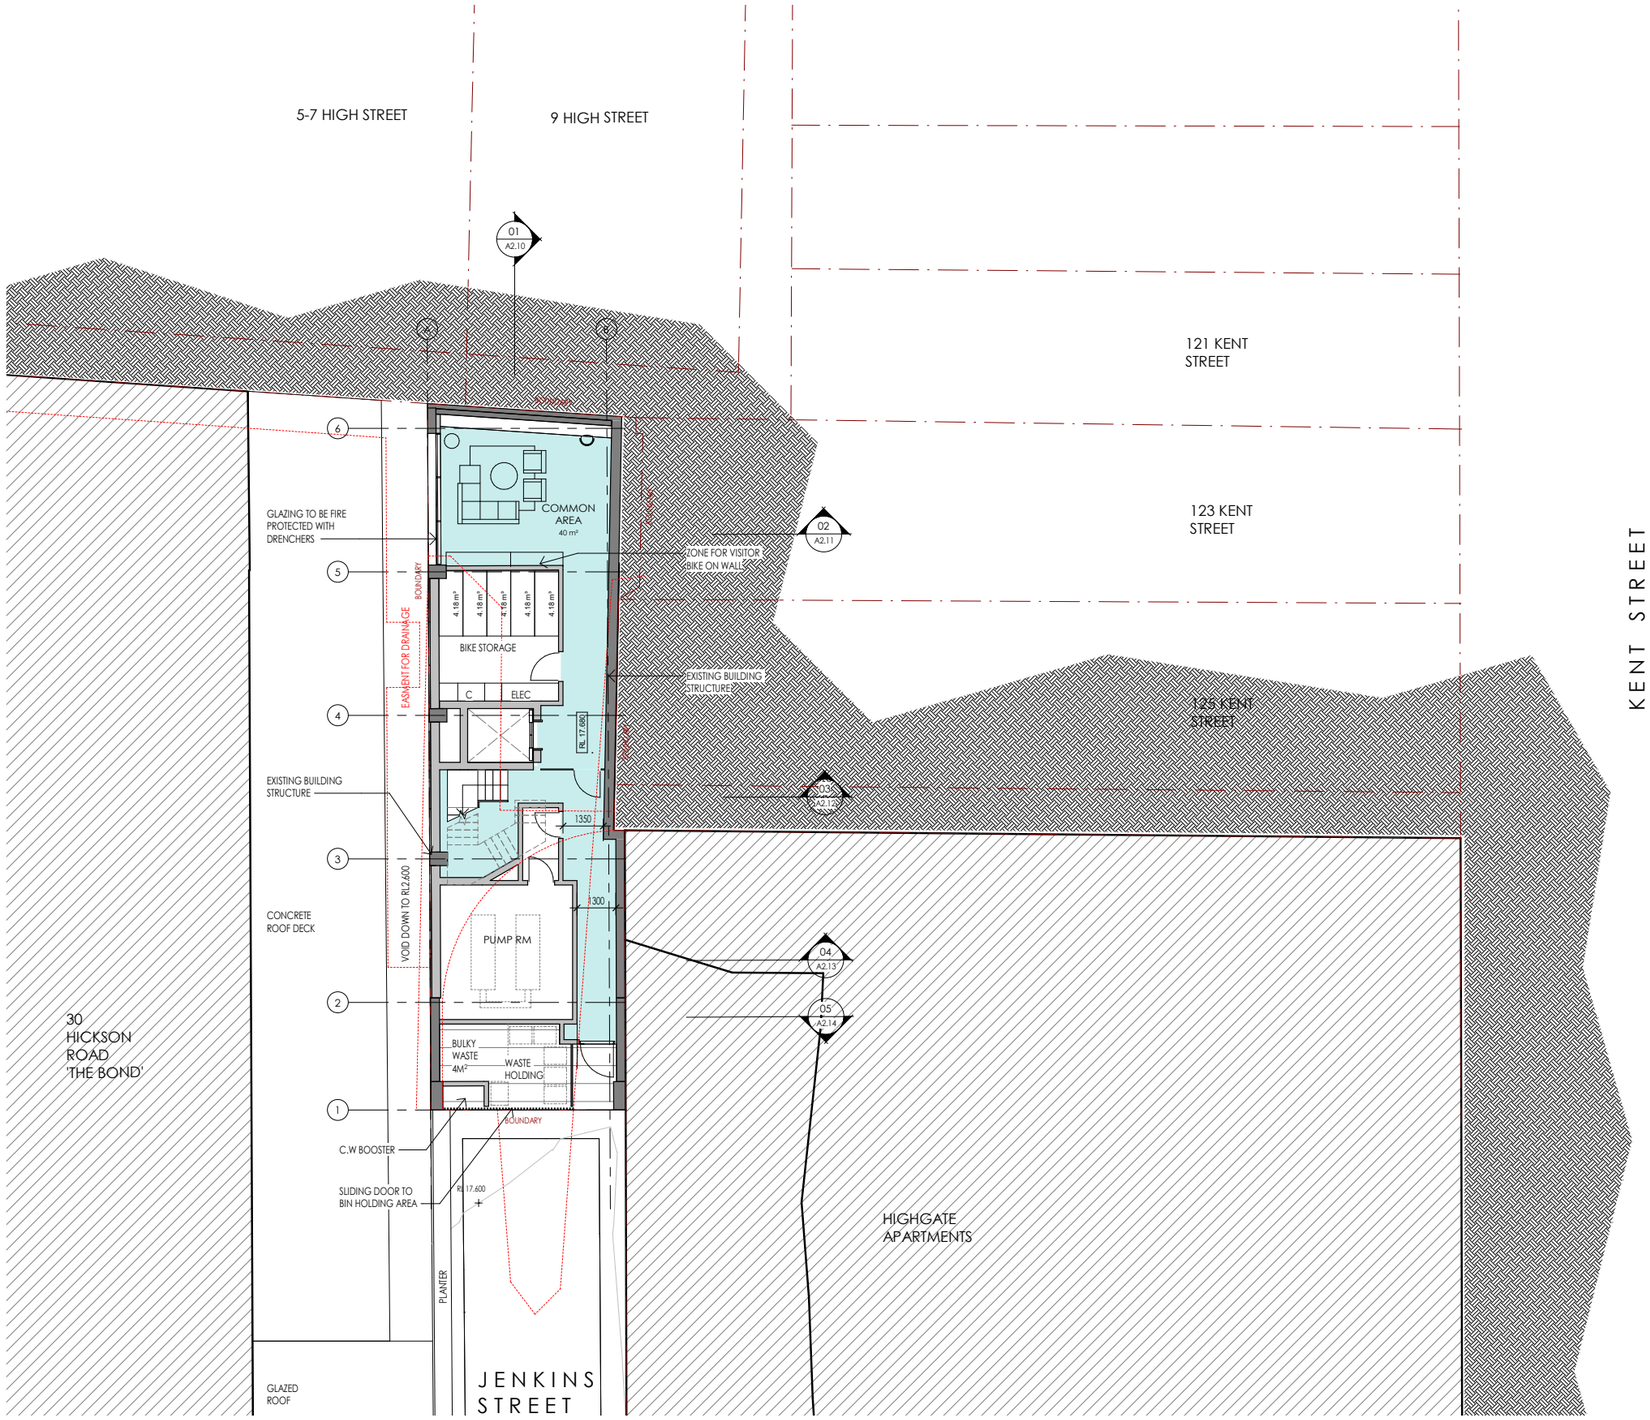
The proposed development at 125A Kent St Millers Point is a high-quality residential project designed to adaptively reuse an existing building breathing life into an utilised asset in line with sustainable design principles.

The modest development delivers five well designed apartments within a seven-storey plus roof top envelope.

Key features of the project include:

- Five apartments consisting of one Studio, one 1 -bedroom, and three 2-bedroom apartments
- Two extensive communal landscaped areas fostering resident interaction and wellbeing.
- Five bicycle spaces, and one visitor bicycle space providing sustainable transport options.
- No on site carparking given the environmentally sustainable adaptive reuse of the building and the sites excellent proximity to public transport networks including rail, metro, light rail, ferry, bus and car share facilities.

The building's design prioritises visual separation, privacy, and high residential amenity, while providing a contextual response to the adjacent heritage dwellings with a restrained yet sophisticated design response.



The proposal has a strong focus on sustainability and urban integration, this development will contribute positively to the Millers Point precinct.

4.2 Building Design

Lower Ground

The building's lower ground level features a flexible communal area providing opportunities of social interaction. This level also accommodates, residents and visitor bicycle parking and storage areas, integrated on-site waste management and collection area for efficient servicing, via Jenkins Street. Plant and equipment required to operate the building is also located at this lower level.

4.2 Building Design

Ground

The building maintains the existing pedestrian entry from Kent Street with site access via the pedestrian path located between the 'Higate Apartments' to the south and the heritage terraces to the north.

The ground level contains one studio and one, one-bedroom apartment. Apartments have been designed to optimise natural light and ventilation, while maintaining visual privacy and high amentity to adjacent sites through the buildings facade system.

The 1m boundary setback to the eastern facade provides facade setbacks suitable to maintain light and ventilation to the apartments, while the western facade maintains the existing buildings facade condition and window locations as part of the environmentally sustainable adaptive reuse of the building.

Level 1

This plan is located within the upper level of the existing building and contains a single two-bedroom apartment. The layout prioritizes efficiency, privacy, and high amenity, while maintaining visual privacy to adajcent developments through the buildings proposed double glazed closed cavity facade system and plan layout.

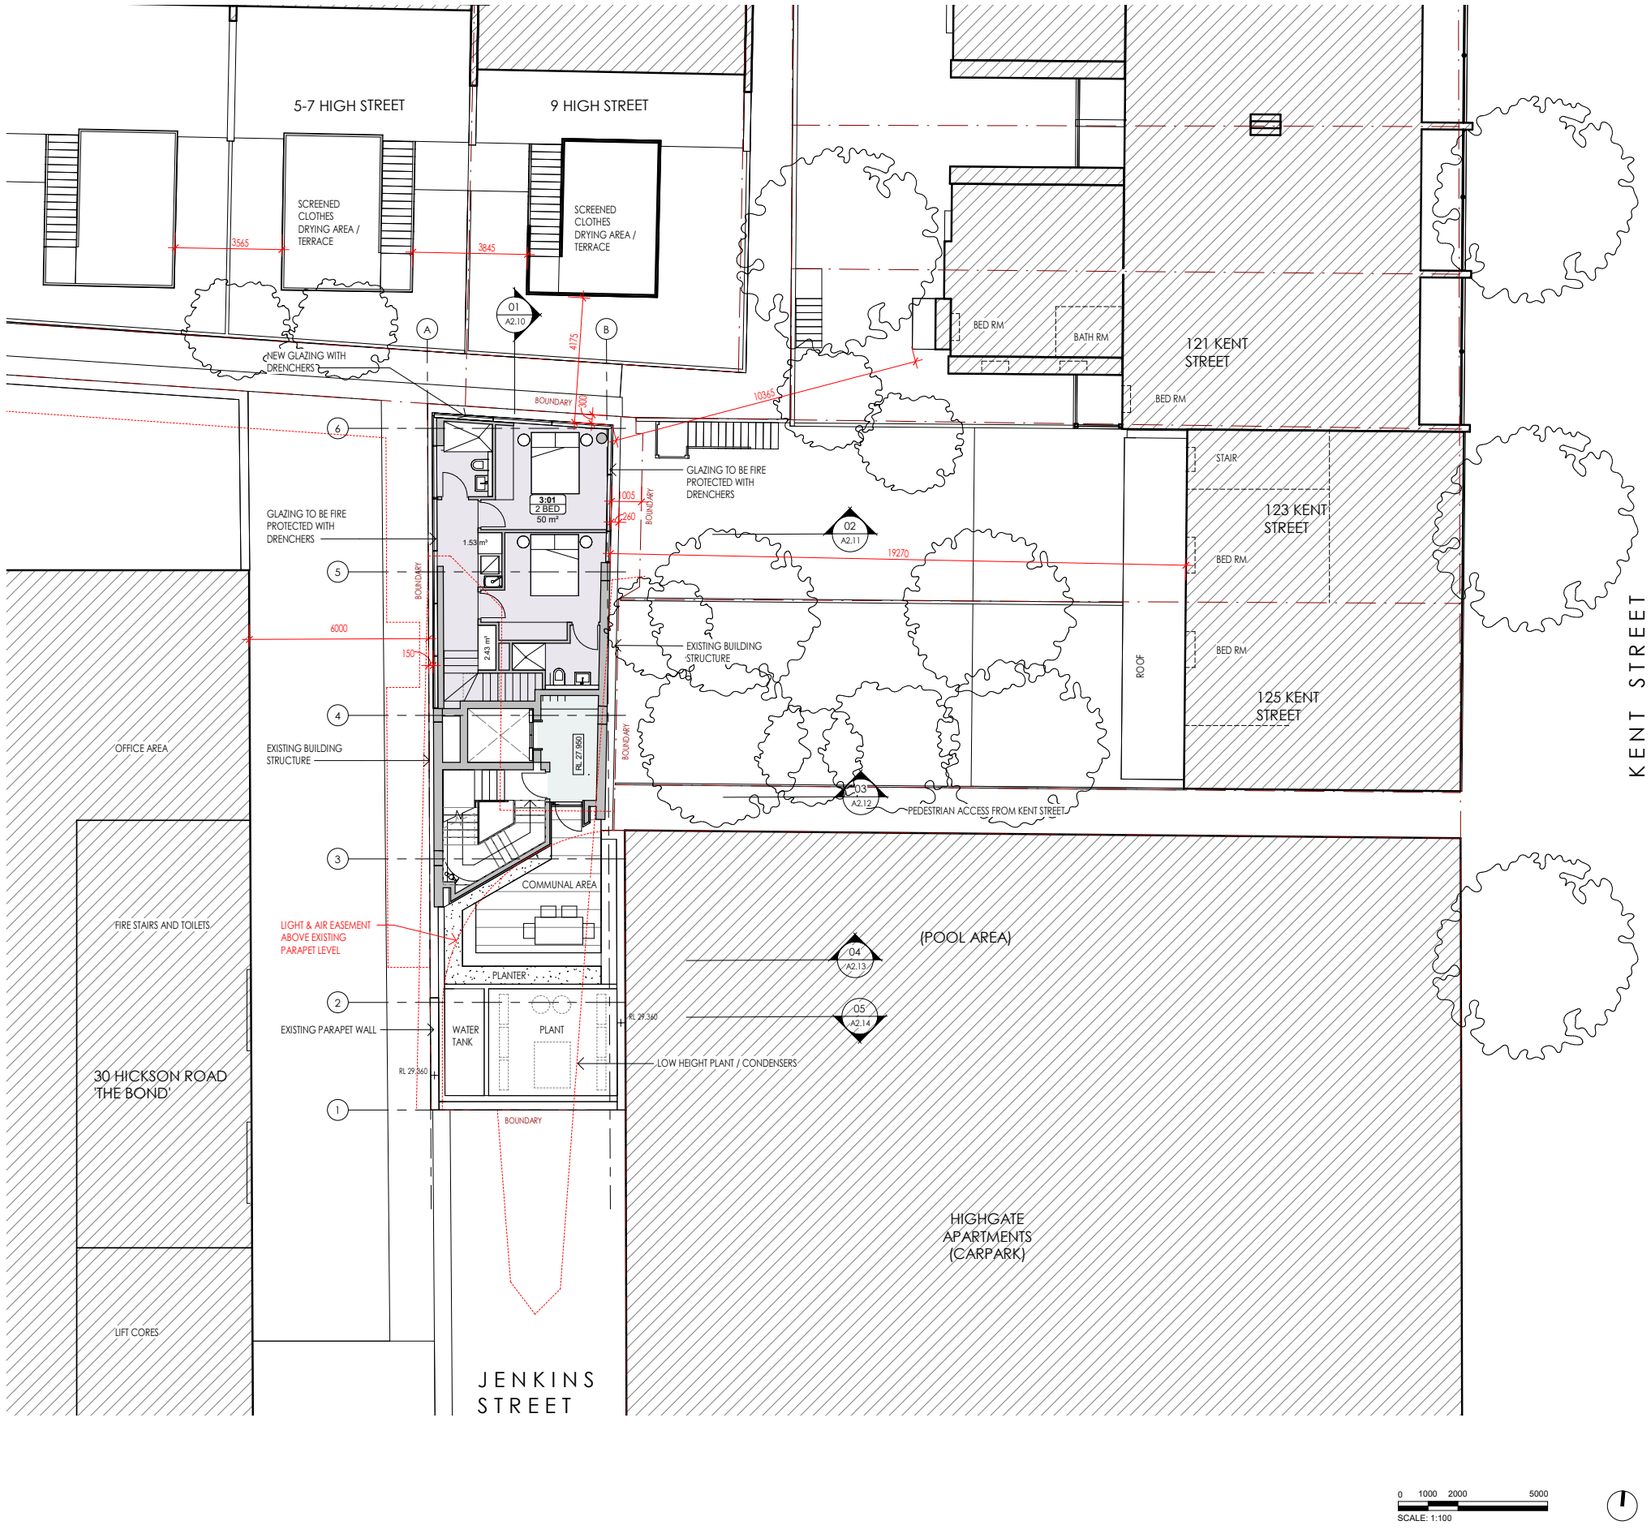
Bedroom windows have been orientated south towards Jenkins Lane or for the western facade located opposite existing blank walls of the adjacent commercial building maintaining visual privacy.

Solid sceened wall treatments have been incorporated into the western facade where directly opposite the existing commercial office uses while the proposed glazed facade to living areas at the northern end of the floor plan will provide a high level of visual privacy while still allowing for light and ventilation to the apartment.

4.2 Building Design

Level 2 (Level 4 Similar)

This level is located at the roof top of the existing building structure and contains the lower level of the first 2 storey two-bedroom apartment.



The apartment layout has been carefully considered with non habitable areas located opposite neighbouring commercial uses along the western facade and bedrooms located on the eastern facade providing improved environmental comfort to these areas.

Visual privacy to adajcent developments is achieved through the buildings proposed double glazed closed cavity facade system and plan layout.

A historic easement for light and air benefiting the 'Highgate Apartments' to the east takes effect from the top of the existing building parapet, this easement has been maintained.

This level also contains the lower landscaped communal terrace providing additional amentity to the residents and visual greening of the building.

Low level plant and equipment has been located at the southern end of the floor plan. This plant will be screened by the existing high parapet walls and proposed landscaped area. The low level plant location is consistent with the current location of plant located on the roof top of the existing building.,

Level 3 contains the upper level of the first 2 storey two-bedroom apartment.

The apartment layout has been planned to locate non habitable uses including the powder room and stairs, and secondary kitchen zone to the rear of the floor plate providing optimal relationship and amenity to the adjacent commercial development.

Noting occupation of the commercial building is typically bewteen Monday to Friday during office hours (this includes the approved hours of use for terrace areas) where as typical occupation of the residential apartments would be outside of these hours, eg: early morning, evening and weekends. The differing times of use further mitigates any percieved visual amenity concerns.

Again visual privacy to adajcent developments is achieved through the buildings proposed double glazed closed cavity facade system, solid wall treatments and plan layout. In addition to the facade system all glazing to the apartments will contain operable blinds providing further amenity control for the residents.

Levels 5 apartment layout is identical to the lower level 3 plan.

4.2 Building Design

Screening

The screening strategy utilises a double glazed sealed cavity facade with an interlayer of louvre blades within this cavity.

The configuration of this system enables excellent access to natural light while screening angled views to and from adjacent developments,

This glazed system seamlessly integrates with adjacent contemporary facade materials to create a cohesive and refined aesthetic forming an appropriate backdrop to the heritage dwellings fronting High Street.

This approach simplifies the material palette while providing effective privacy screening, maintaining ventilation, and allowing filtered natural light. The design ensures a balance between openness and seclusion, enhancing both functionality and visual appeal.

Level 6

A landscqaped communal open space area has been located at the upper most level of the proposed building , providing additional amenity and opportunities for social interaction.

The facade system has been extended to the top of this level mitigating the effects of wind, improving the funcionality of the roof top area.

The upper roof level has been planted out providing increased visual amenity when viewed from the higher adjacent tower buildings.

These landscaped elements also contribute to reducing the urban heat island effect, improving thermal comfort and sustainability within the development.

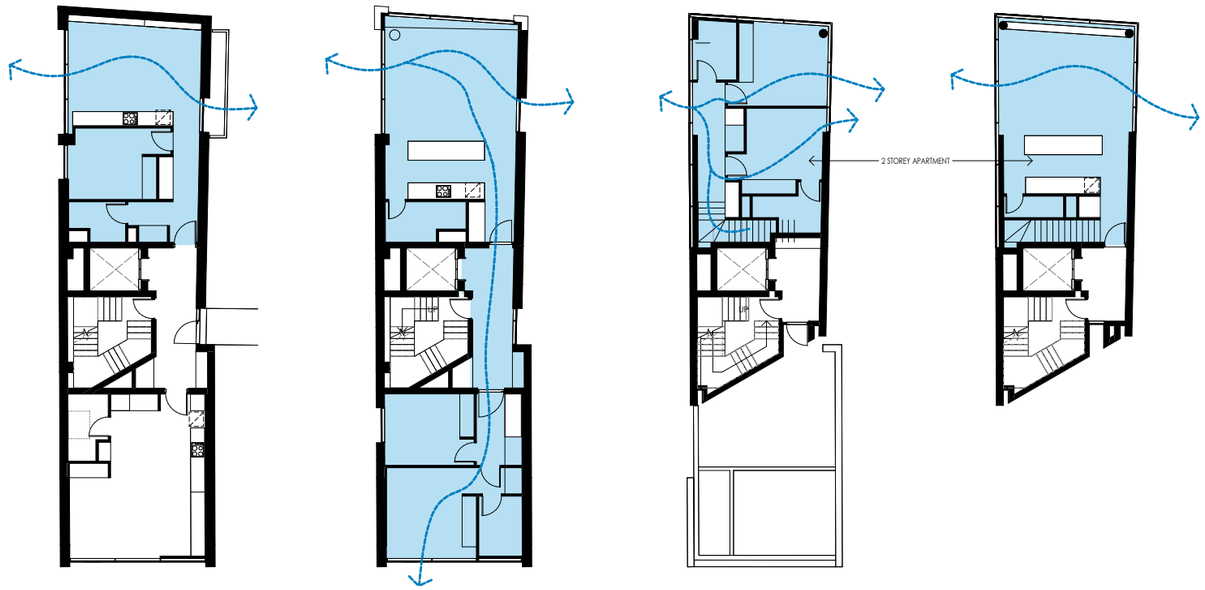
4.3 Residential Amenity

The proposed development at 125A Kent Street Millers Point has been carefully crafted to provide high-quality living environments, exceeding Apartment Design Guide (ADG) standards, while addressing the sites unique context. Apartments are planned to maximise opportunites for light and ventilation while maintaing a high level of amenity for the residents and surrounding developments through the buildings layered facade system.

Solar Access

With its northern orientation, the development optimises solar access, ensuring ample daylight penetration into living spaces.

80% of apartments receive a minimum of 2 hours direct sunlight between 9 am and 3 pm at mid-winter to habitable areas.



4.3 Residential Amenity

Cross Ventilation

The majority of apartments feature dual aspects, allowing for excellent cross ventilation and improved indoor air quality. This reduces reliance on mechanical cooling, creating a comfortable and energy-efficient living environment, while operable windows and strategically positioned openings further enhance natural airflow.

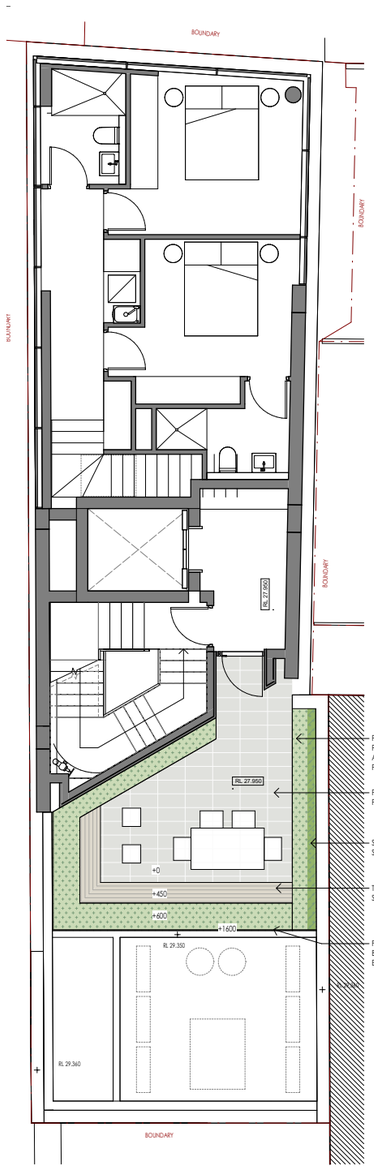
67% of apartments in the development are naturally cross ventilated.

The remaining apartments having a single orientation have been designed with shallow floor plate depths providing improved air circulation within the apartments.

5.0 Landscape

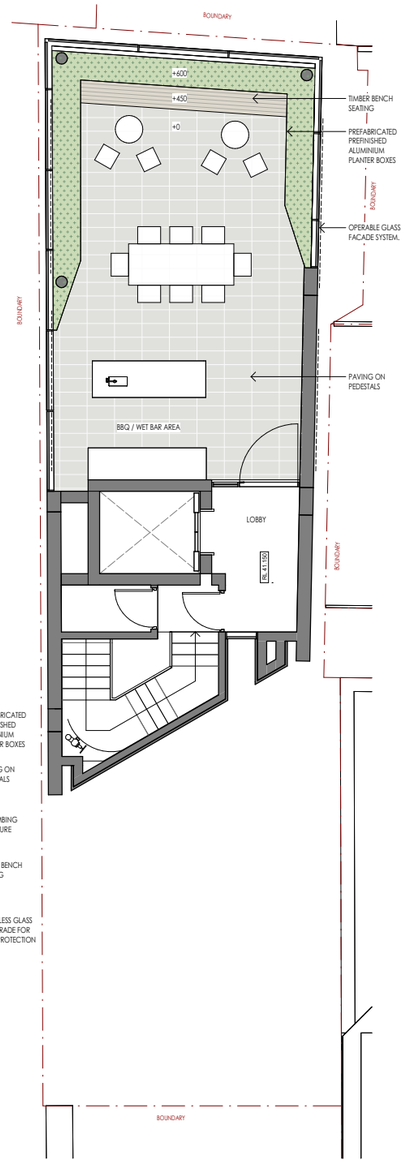
5.1 Landscape Concept Overview

The proposed landscape design at 125A Kent Street Millers Point enhances resident amenity, ecological sustainability, and provides visual amenity when viewed from the neighbouring tower developments.



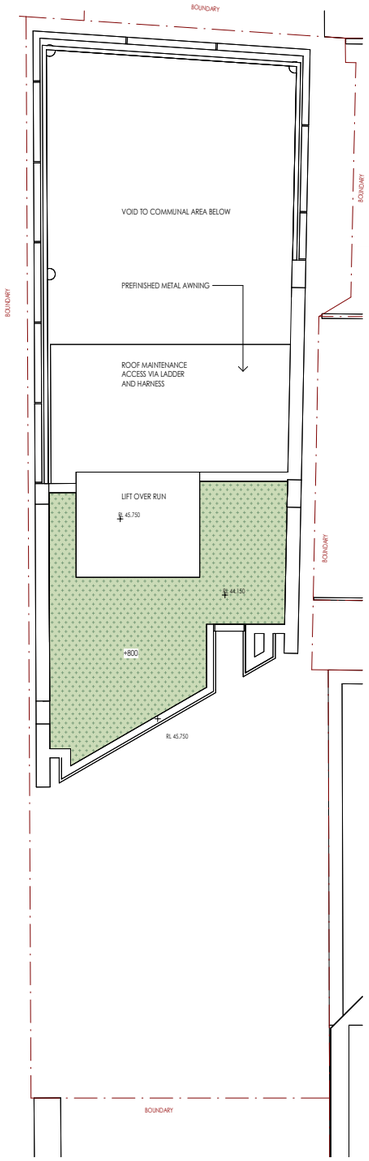
Landscaped communal roof terraces located at level 6 roof area provides opportunities for small gatherings and includes formal, informal seating arrangements and kitchen facilities. The lower level 2 roof terrace provides flexibility and choice for the residents, while enabling social interaction fostering a strong sense of community.

The planting palette including native and adaptive species, have been selected to be water conscious while supporting local biodiversity.



Sustainable design principles have been incorporated into the landscape design including:

- Rainwater captured from roof top areas to be reused for landscape irrigation.
- Green roof top will improve water quality prior to collection and reuse
- Landscaped roof top and communal areas provide biodiversity benefits acting as an extension to other green roof tops and surrounding landscaped ground planes.
- Native and low water species selected
- Greening of rooftops providing additional habitat opportunities.
- A variety of accessible spaces have been provided encouraging exchanges between user groups.



Landscape areas will be maintained by a suitably qualified landscaped contractor, managing green waste from the landscaped areas.

5.2 Communal Open Space

The development provides generous communal open spaces, exceeding ADG requirements for high-quality outdoor areas. The northeast space offers excellent views, solar access, and seamless indoor connectivity, enhancing accessibility and community interaction. Additional southwest and rear spaces include seating and shaded zones, integrating with the landscaped setting for diverse recreational opportunities. The various communal spaces offer diverse recreational opportunities in a secure and welcoming setting.

Security is prioritised through passive surveillance, well-lit areas, and clear access points.

6.0 Facade and Materials

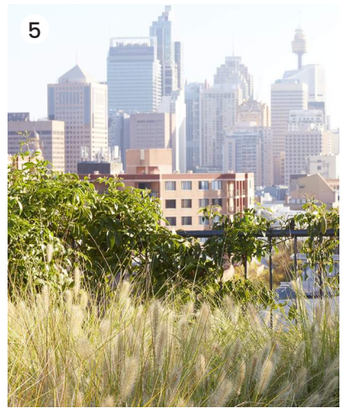
6.1 Proposed Materials & Finishes Schedule

A material palette that reflects Sydney's unique coastal climate, rich architectural heritage, and diverse urban context, ensuring durability, visual harmony, and cultural relevance.

The proposed facade treatment will form a simple backdrop to the adjacent heritage dwellings seamlessly blending in agasinst the contemporary tower facades to the south.

Insulated glass facade system incorporating light-diffusing or energy-efficient inserts (e.g. mesh, or wood) optimising daylighting, privacy, and thermal performance while maintaining visual interest.

Dark bronze aluminium cladding offers a refined, contemporary finish with subtle reflectivity. It provides warmth and depth, enhancing material richness while ensuring durability and low maintenance.



Grooved GRC sandstone-look cladding evokes Sydney's sandstone heritage with a contemporary interpretation. It provides lightweight durability, tactile texture, and sculptural shadowing, referencing traditional masonry within a modern architectural language.

Australian native planting on a Sydney rooftop terrace offers a resilient, textural landscape with seasonal colour, movement, and habitat value—enhancing urban biodiversity while reflecting the local ecological character.

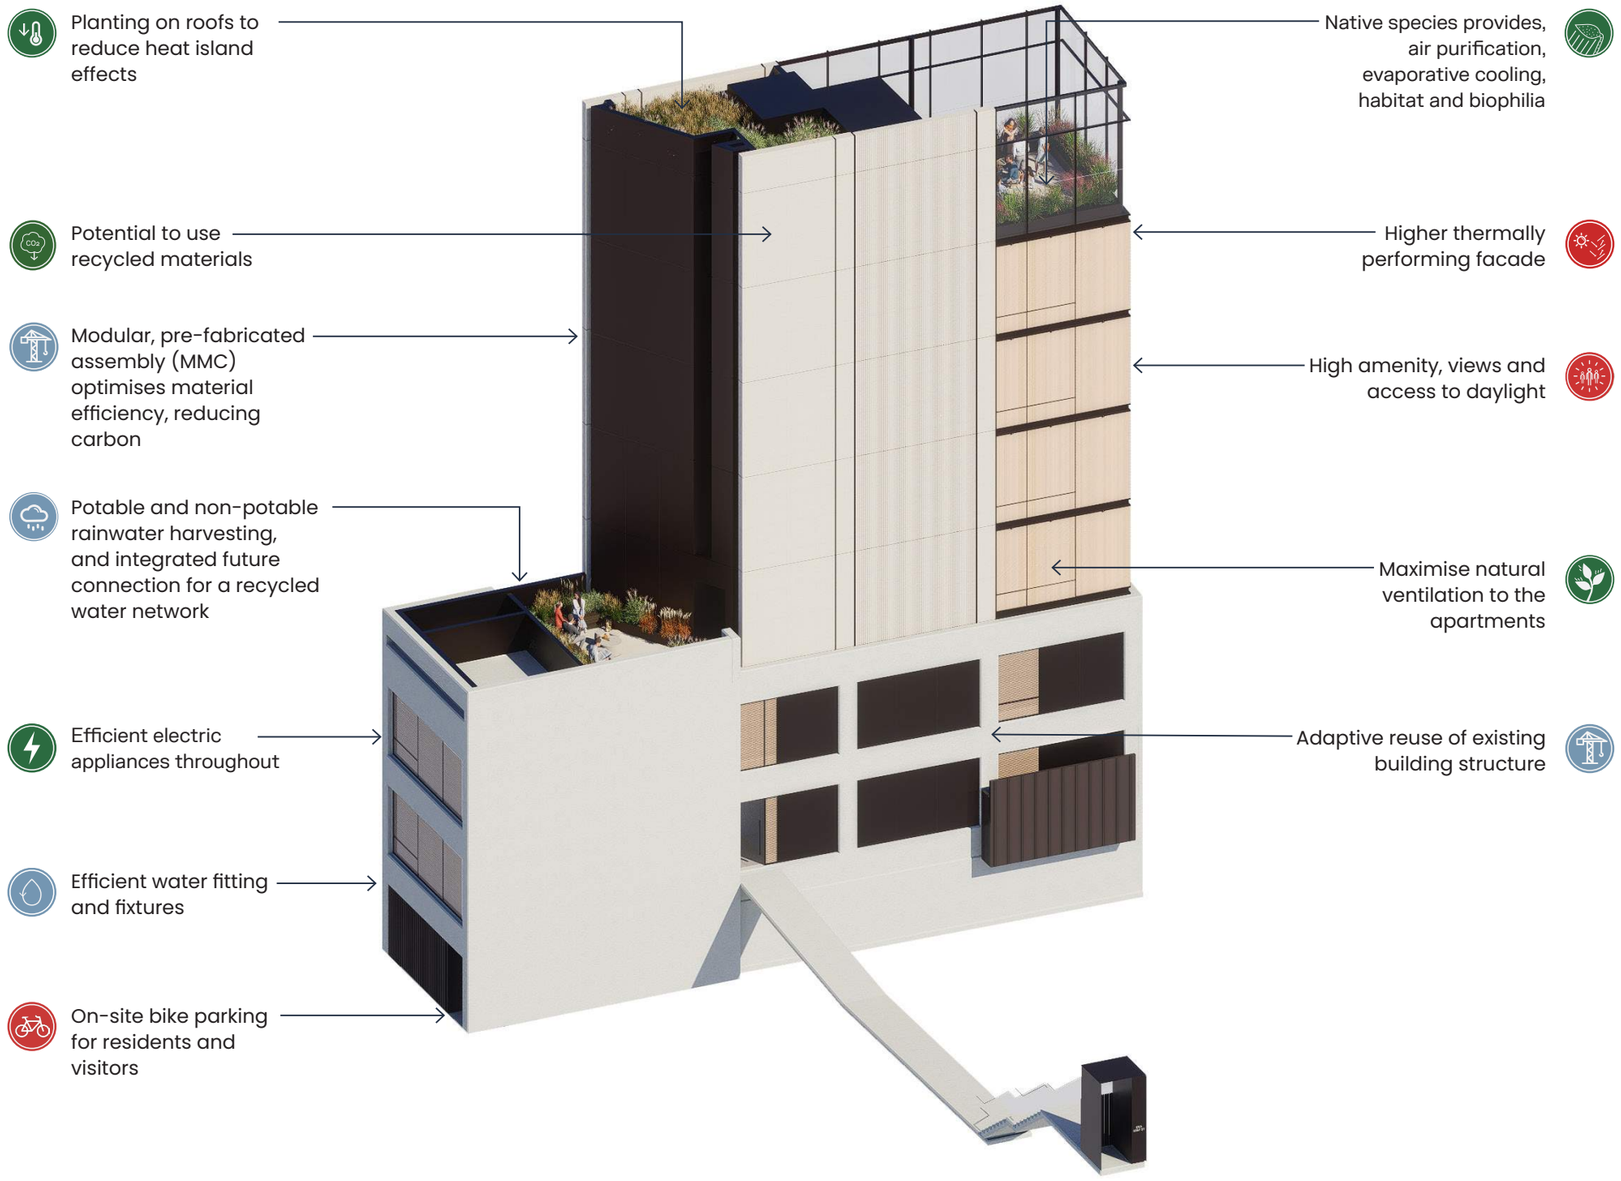
7.0 Environmentally Sustainable Design

7.1 ESD Strategies

The development integrates Environmentally Sustainable Design (ESD) strategies to enhance energy efficiency, reduce environmental impact, and improve occupant comfort.

The existing building structure will be adaptively reused reducing the requirement for materials and resources and minimising construction waste.

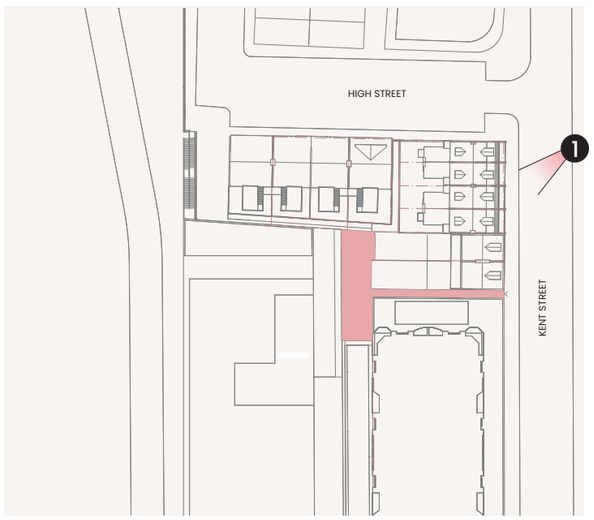


Prefabricated modular construction is considered to improve material efficiency, reduce construction waste, and lower embodied carbon, contributing to a more sustainable building process.

The building's orientation and facade design optimize solar access and natural ventilation, minimizing reliance on artificial heating and cooling. High-performance double glazing with louve interlayer provides solar control reducing heat gain while maximizing daylight penetration.

In line with the recent City of Sydney's renewable energy policy, gas will not be used within the building.

The project also incorporates water-efficient fixtures, rainwater harvesting for irrigation, and energy-efficient lighting and appliances further promote sustainability.



Additionally, given the sites proximity to public transport including car share facilities, and the adaptive reuse of the building parking will not be provided on site. The provision of secure bicycle parking will be provided supporting low-carbon mobility, reinforcing the project's commitment to long-term environmental and social sustainability.

9.0 Housing SEPP Design Principles

PRINCIPLE	COMMENT	CONSISTENCY
Principle 1: Context and neighbourhood character (1) Good design responds and contributes to its context, which is the key natural and built features of an area, their relationship and the character they create when combined and also includes social, economic, health and environmental conditions. (2) Responding to context involves identifying the desirable elements of an area's existing or future character. (3) Well designed buildings respond to and enhance the qualities and identity of the area including the adjacent sites, streetscape and neighbourhood. (4) Consideration of local context is important for all sites, including sites in the following areas— (a) sites in established areas, (b) areas undergoing change, (c) areas identified for change.	The project is located in an established urban area falling within the central Sydney Metropolitan Area, and is surrounded by a varitey of built froms including low scale heritage dwellings within the Millers Point Heritage Precinct to the north and east, and contemporary commercial and residential tower forms to the south and west of the site. The site is well positioned to support the proposed modest increase in residential density given its excellent proximity to all modes of public transport, car share facilities, local amenities, and employment hubs. The proposed development at 125A kent St Millers Point is designed to integrate into the existing patchwork of heritage and contemporary development while also contributing to the wider area's established and evolving identity. The design carefully responds to this existing context by balancing the scale and massing of the proposed development being respectful of the surrounding character. The design also talks to the contemorary developments to the south blending seamlessly in with its context forming a simple backdrop to the heritage buildfings to the north. The site's favourable orientation allows for well-designed apartments that benefit from natural light, and ventilation. Apartment design and the buildings facade system has been carefully considered to ensure a high level of amenity and visual privacy is achieved . This approach enables the development to integrate seamlessly into its established urban context resulting in a well-connected, high-amenity residential outcome.	YES

PRINCIPLE	COMMENT	CONSISTENCY
Principle 2: Built form and scale (1) Good design achieves a scale, bulk and height appropriate to the existing or desired future character of the street and surrounding buildings. (2) Good design also achieves an appropriate built form for a site and the building's purpose in terms of the following— (a) building alignments and proportions, (b) building type, (c) building articulation, (d) the manipulation of building elements. (3) Appropriate built form— (a) defines the public domain, and (b) contributes to the character of streetscapes and parks, including their views and vistas, and (c) provides internal amenity and outlook.	The proposed development's bulk and scale have been carefully considered to minimise impacts to adjacent developments, maintain a high level of amenity and be considerate of the the urban fabric of Millers point. The building's facade articulation and detailing strategies play a key role in ensuring visual privacy and amenity while providing a simple yet sophiticated backdrop to the surrounding heritage buildings to the north and east, harmonising with the contemporary glazed towers to the south. The overall form is a modest slender insertion placed over an existing 3 storey built form, that responds to the existing residential context, integrating seamlessly with the urban streetscape and wider context. Facades incorporate fine detailing, articulation and material variation providing depth and texture, creating a contemporary contextual architectural expression. Material selection ensures the building fabric is durable and low maintenance while enhancing the public domain. The development provides high resident amenity by offering carefully planned appropriately sized apartments with supporting amenity in the form of high quality landscaped communal spaces and facilities. This careful balance between internal space, building articulation, and landscaping ensures a high-quality residential environment while maintaining a human-scaled, visually engaging yet respectful presence. Landscaping is further prioritised to improve outlook for surrounding residents, and enhance the project's contribution to the public domain.	YES

PRINCIPLE	COMMENT	CONSISTENCY
Principle 3: Density (1) Good design achieves a high level of amenity for residents and each apartment, resulting in a density appropriate to the site and its context. (2) Appropriate densities are consistent with the area's existing or projected population. (3) Appropriate densities are sustained by the following— (a) existing or proposed infrastructure, (b) public transport, (c) access to jobs, (d) community facilities, (e) the environment.	The proposed development delivers a modest increase in density consisting of 5 high-quality residential apartments, complemented by well-designed communal open spaces, a communal room, storage and bicycle parking. This modest development is consistent with the surrounding densities of the lower scale heritage developments to the north and sits comfortably against the higher density towers to the south. The site is well supported by existing infrastructure situated within walking distance of public transport modes including rail, light rail, metro rail , ferry and frequent bus services. The siter is also in close proximity to car share spaces located on Kent St and High St immediately adjacent to the site. The proposed adaptive reuse of an underutilised building will contribute to the local economy by supporting local businesses. The proposal successfully balances high-quality design outcomes, providing a high level of amentity while creating a sustainable, well-resolved residential building that supports the area's rich urban fabric.	YES

PRINCIPLE	COMMENT	CONSISTENCY
Principle 4: Sustainability (1) Good design combines positive environmental, social and economic outcomes. (2) Good sustainable design includes— (a) use of natural cross ventilation and sunlight for the amenity and liveability of residents, and (b) passive thermal design for ventilation, heating and cooling, which reduces reliance on technology and operation costs. (3) Good sustainable design also includes the following— (a) recycling and reuse of materials and waste, (b) use of sustainable materials, (c) deep soil zones for groundwater recharge and vegetation.	The proposed development prioritises sustainability by integrating environmentally responsive design strategies that enhance resident comfort while minimising environmental impact. The compact floor plate and shallow widths enable opportunities for cross-ventilation and passive cooling, while also providing access to high levels of natural daylight. The site's northern orientation results in 80% of apartments receiving at least two hours of direct solar access mid winter. These measures improve indoor air quality, reduce reliance on mechanical heating and cooling, and enhance overall liveability. The development adopts a best-practice approach adaptively reusing the existing building reducing the extent of new building materials minimising resource and energy consumption. Additional sustainable initiatives include the installation of efficient fixtures and fittings to reduce resource consumption, and the use of materials with high thermal performance and recycled content where possible. Rainwater harvesting, roof top planting for microclimate benefits, and the integration of bicycle parking facilities further contribute to a low-carbon, future-ready development. Opportunities for prefabricated modular construction will also be explored to improve construction efficiency and reduce embodied carbon. Through these strategies, the project delivers a resilient, sustainable, and high-quality living environment that aligns with contemporary best practices and the long-term sustainability goals.	YES

PRINCIPLE	COMMENT	CONSISTENCY
Principle 5: Landscape (1) Good design recognises that landscape and buildings operate together as an integrated and sustainable system, resulting in development with good amenity. (2) A positive image and contextual fit of well designed development is achieved by contributing to the landscape character of the streetscape and neighbourhood. (3) Good landscape design enhances the development's environmental performance by retaining positive natural features that contribute to the following— (a) the local context, (b) co-ordinating water and soil management, (c) solar access, (d) micro-climate, (e) tree canopy, (f) habitat values, (g) preserving green networks. (4) Good landscape design optimises the following— (a) usability, (b) privacy and opportunities for social interaction, (c) equitable access, (d) respect for neighbours' amenity. (5) Good landscape design provides for practical establishment and long term management.	The landscape design at 125A Kent Street has been carefully developed to complement the architectural form, enhance resident amenity, and contribute to the urban context. The proposal integrates soft and hard landscaping to create cohesive, sustainable, and functional outdoor environments. The outdoor communal roof top and lower roof terrace spaces are designed as high quality, landscaped environments that offer high usability, privacy, flexibility and opportunities for social interaction while maintaining neighbouring amenity. These outdoor landscaped spaces feature flexible seating arrangements, BBQ facilities at the upper level, and provide opportunities for small gatherings, fostering a sense of community while integrating seamlessly into the architectural design. The upper most roof level has been landscaped greening the toip of the building, providing visual amentiy to the neighbouring tower buildings. Planting selections prioritising low-maintenance species contributing to ecological outcomes. Rainwater will be harvested and reused for irrigation of the landscape areas in line with good design principles. Through these strategies, the development delivers a high-quality, enduring landscape outcome within a dense urban context that supports sustainability, community interaction, and long-term maintenance.	YES

PRINCIPLE	COMMENT	CONSISTENCY
Principle 6: Amenity (1) Good design positively influences internal and external amenity for residents and neighbours. (2) Good amenity contributes to positive living environments and resident well-being. (3) Good amenity combines the following— (a) appropriate room dimensions and shapes, (b) access to sunlight, (c) natural ventilation, (d) outlook, (e) visual and acoustic privacy, (f) storage, (g) indoor and outdoor space, (h) efficient layouts and service areas, (i) ease of access for all age groups and degrees of mobility.	The proposed development at 125A Kent St Millers Point is designed to provide exceptional residential amenity within an urban context, prioritising high-quality living environments that enhance well-being and comfort. The development exceeds the Apartment Design Guide (ADG) standards, ensuring that residents benefit from optimal natural light, ventilation, privacy, and functionality. Apartments have been carefully planned to ensure the layouts are functional, efficient,, appropriately sized, contain sufficient storage and provide a well-considered mix of apartment layouts to suit diverse resident needs. The apartments have been designed to provide a high level of amenity achieving good levels of solar access and natural ventilation all while managing and maintaining appropriate levels of visual privacy between the site and surrounding development. Visual privacy is a key consideration for the site, with a mix of commercial, apartment and low scale residential uses located immediately adjacent to the site. Strategic screening measures have been provided through a combination of carefully condidered layouts, solid screen walls, and proposed closed cavity glazed facade system with louvre interlayer, minimising overlooking to the neighbouring properties. High quality outdoor amenity has been provided in the form of communal landscaped areas at the roof top, lower level roof terrace and lower ground level communal room, offsetting the area of private balconies. within the development. These landscaped spaces and communal areas offer opportunities for social interaction, relaxation, and recreation. These spaces are designed to be comfortable and usable year-round, providing shileded seating areas, and green buffers that contribute to a tranquil and high-quality residential environment. The site also benifits from its city location and is in close proximity to high quality public recreation spaces such Barangaroo Reserve, Observatory Hill Park, Darling Harbour and the Sydney CBD. By balancing internal and external amenity with high standards of sustainability, and urban integration, the development provides desirable apartment living in the heart of Sydney.	YES

PRINCIPLE	COMMENT	CONSISTENCY
Principle 7: Safety (1) Good design optimises safety and security within the development and the public domain. (2) Good design provides for quality public and private spaces that are clearly defined and fit for the intended purpose. (3) Opportunities to maximise passive surveillance of public and communal areas promote safety. (4) A positive relationship between public and private spaces is achieved through clearly defined secure access points and well lit and visible areas that are easily maintained and appropriate to the location and purpose.	The proposed development at 125A Kent Street Millers Point prioritises safety and security through a combination of passive surveillance, well-lit communal areas, and clearly defined access points. The design carefully balances the relationship between public, communal, and private spaces, ensuring a secure and welcoming environment for residents and visitors. Passive surveillance is maximised through the strategic placement of lower level communal areas, lobby windows and entry points. Clear sightlines are maintained to pedestrian access points, discouraging unwanted activity. Access control measures ensure a secure living environment, with clearly defined, restricted access to private and communal residential areas. The main residential entry is positioned to be highly visible and legible from the street, providing a strong sense of arrival and security. Secure building entry points, key card and video intercom systems, prevent unauthorised entry while ensuring ease of use for residents. The upper level communal landscaped spaces are designed to provide a safe, secure and enjoyable environment, encourage activity while maintaining privacy for adjacent dwellings. The integration of Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED) principles ensures that the development not only provides high-quality, liveable spaces but also enhances the safety of the broader neighbourhood.	YES

PRINCIPLE	COMMENT	CONSISTENCY
Principle 8: Housing diversity and social interaction (1) Good design achieves a mix of apartment sizes, providing housing choice for different demographics, living needs and household budgets. (2) Well designed residential apartment development responds to social context by providing housing and facilities to suit the existing and future social mix. (3) Good design involves practical and flexible features, including— (a) different types of communal spaces for a broad range of people, and (b) opportunities for social interaction among residents.	The proposed development at 125A Kent St Miller Point supports housing diversity and social interaction by offering a range of apartment types and communal spaces within a compact design, fostering a sense of community. The development provides 5 apartments including 1 studio, 1 one-bedroom, and 3 two-bedroom apartments, ensuring a variety of housing options suitable for different demographics, including singles, couples, downsizers, and families all within a compact footprint. Beyond private dwellings, the development promotes social engagement through well-designed communal spaces, providing two landscaped communal areas. The lower outdoor communal area located at level 2 provides well designed outdoor seating in a landscape setting, while the roof top communal area provides opportunites to entertain small gatherings having kitchen facilities along with flexible seating arrangements. A communal room has also been provided at the lower ground level providing further opportunities for social interation and flexibility within the development. These spaces are designed to accommodate a broad range of uses, from quiet relaxation to small social gatherings, ensuring opportunities for interaction between residents. By integrating diverse housing types and fostering a connected residential community, the development at 125A Kent Street contributes positively to the social fabric of Millers Point area. Through high-quality design and a commitment to inclusivity, the project creates a welcoming and vibrant living environment that meets the needs of the future residents.

PRINCIPLE	COMMENT	CONSISTENCY
Principle 9: Aesthetics (1) Good design achieves a built form that has good proportions and a balanced composition of elements, reflecting the internal layout and structure. (2) Good design uses a variety of materials, colours and textures. (3) The visual appearance of well designed residential apartment development responds to the existing or future local context, particularly desirable elements and repetitions of the streetscape.	The design and material palette for 125A Kent St Millers Point is well proportioned, restrained yet sophitocated, forming a simple backdrop to the adjacent heritage dwellings to the north and east of the site. This considered selection ensures the development integrates seamlessly with the existing local context with the dematerialisation of facade materials when viewed against the contemporary back drop of glazed towers located to the south of the site. At the lower levels the existing structure will be retained as part of the adaptive reuse of the building in line with sustainable principles. The existing facade of expressed off form concrete will be retained acknowledging the buildings past life. Dark bronze aluminium infill cladding and framing will compliment the existing building structure offering a refined, contemporary finish with subtle reflectivity. The dark bronze tones provides warmth and depth, enhancing material richness while ensuring durability and low maintenance. At the upper levels the use of GRC sandstone-look cladding evokes Sydney's sandstone heritage with a contemporary interpretation. It provides lightweight durability, tactile texture, and sculptural shadowing, referencing traditional masonry within a modern architectural language. The proposed insulated glass facade system incorporating light-diffusing or energy-efficient inserts (e.g. mesh, or wood) optimises daylighting, privacy, and thermal performance resulting in a restrainbed yet sophitocated aesthetic. Landscaping to the roof top and low level roof terrace further enhance the connection to the local environment, reinforcing a material continuity with the natural and built character of Millers Point. While the material selection remains restrained, it is rich in depth and variation, providing a sophisticated, enduring, and contextually responsive architectural language that enhances both the surrounding context and residence experience.	YES

10.0 Apartment Design Guide Compliance Table

125A KENT STREET - MILLERS POINT
DA SUBMISSION - July 2025

Design Criteria Item
Design Guidance Item

APARTMENT DESIGN GUIDE COMPLIANCE SUMMARY

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
PART 3B - ORIENTATION
Objective 3B-1 Building types and layouts respond to the streetscape and site while optimising solar access within the development	Y
Buildings along the street frontage define the street, by facing it and incorporating direct access from the street (see figure 3B.1)	Y	The building envelope defines the street frontage on Jenkins Street and maintains direct access from the existing Kent Street entry.
Where the street frontage is to the east or west, rear buildings should be orientated to the north	N/A
Where the street frontage is to the north or south, overshadowing to the south should be minimised and buildings behind the street frontage should be orientated to the east and west (see figure 3B.2)	N/A
Objective 3B-2 Overshadowing of neighbouring properties is minimised during mid winter	Y
Living areas, private open space and communal open space should receive solar access in accordance with sections 3D Communal and public open space and 4A Solar and daylight access	Y	The primary communal open space zone has been located on the roof top and recieves solar access accordance with the requirements of the ADG.
Solar access to living rooms, balconies and private open spaces of neighbours should be considered	Y
Where an adjoining property does not currently receive the required hours of solar access, the proposed building ensures solar access to neighbouring properties is not reduced by more than 20%	N/A	More than 2 hours of solar access is maintained to the adjacent residential dwellings.
If the proposal will significantly reduce the solar access of neighbours, building separation should be increased beyond minimums contained in section 3F Visual privacy	N/A
Overshadowing should be minimised to the south or down hill by increased upper level setbacks	N/A	The proposed buildings orientation and small footprint minimises the effects of overshadowing to the surrounding areas.
It is optimal to orientate buildings at 90 degrees to the boundary with neighbouring properties to minimise overshadowing and privacy impacts, particularly where minimum setbacks are used and where buildings are higher than the adjoining development	Y
A minimum of 4 hours of solar access should be retained to solar collectors on neighbouring buildings	N/A	There are no solar collectors on the southern neighbouring buidings. The proposal will not impact on potential future placement of solar panels to the roof areas of the neighbouring residentiual dwellings.
PART 3C - PUBLIC DOMAIN INTERFACE
Objective 3C-1 Transition between private and public domain is achieved without compromising safety and security	Y
Terraces, balconies and courtyard apartments should have direct street entry, where appropriate	N/A	The ground floor apartments have been configured to suit the adaptive reuse of the existing building structure and existing site conditions.
Changes in level between private terraces, front gardens and dwelling entries above the street level provide surveillance and improve visual privacy for ground level dwellings (see figure 3C.1)	Y	Apartments located within the lower levels of the existing building provide surveillance to the public realm.
Upper level balconies and windows should overlook the public domain	Y	Upperlevel windows from the common areas overlook the public domain (Jenkins Street) while maintaining visual privacy and
Front fences and walls along street frontages should use visually permeable materials and treatments. The height of solid fences or walls should be limited to 1m	N/A	The proposal is for the adaptive reuse of the existing building and as such maintains the existing boundary conditions.
Length of solid walls should be limited along street frontages	Y	Walls along the 6.5m street frontage are articulated to provide a high quality architectural outcome.
Opportunities should be provided for casual interaction between residents and the public domain. Design solutions may include seating at building entries, near letter boxes and in private courtyards adjacent to streets	N/A	The proposal is for the adaptive reuse of the existing building and as such maintains the existing boundary conditions at the ground floor level.
In developments with multiple buildings and/or entries, pedestrian entries and spaces associated with individual buildings/entries should be differentiated to improve legibility for residents, using a number of the following design solutions: • architectural detailing • changes in materials • plant species • colours	N/A
Opportunities for people to be concealed should be minimised	Y

APARTMENT DESIGN GUIDE COMPLIANCE SUMMARY

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
Objective 3C-2 Amenity of the public domain is retained and enhanced	Y
Planting softens the edges of any raised terraces to the street, for example above sub-basement car parking	N/A
Mail boxes should be located in lobbies, perpendicular to the street alignment or integrated into front fences where individual street entries are provided	Y	The mail boxes have been located within the froint fence consistent with the existing mail box location.
The visual prominence of underground car park vents should be minimised and located at a low level where possible	N/A
Substations, pump rooms, garbage storage areas and other service requirements should be located in basement car parks or out of view	Y	Plant rooms, garbage holding areas and other service facilities are located at the lower ground level within the footprint of the existing building. The lower level façade fronting Jenkins St will be designed to integrate into the overasl architecural building design.
Ramping for accessibility should be minimised by building entry location and setting ground floor levels in relation to footpath levels	N/A	The existing site access contitions are maintained given the adaptive reuse of the site - refer to the attached access report.
Durable, graffiti resistant and easily cleanable materials should be used	Y
Where development adjoins public parks, open space or bushland, the design positively addresses this interface and uses a number of the following design solutions: • street access, pedestrian paths and building entries which are clearly defined • paths, low fences and planting that clearly delineate between communal/private open space and the adjoining public open space • minimal use of blank walls, fences and ground level parking	N/A
On sloping sites protrusion of car parking above ground level should be minimised by using split levels to step underground car parking	N/A
PART 3D - COMMUNAL & PUBLIC OPEN SPACE
Objective 3D-1 An adequate area of communal open space is provided to enhance residential amenity and to provide opportunities for landscaping	Y
Communal open space has a minimum area equal to 25% of the site.	Y	The project provides approximkately 49% of the site area as communal open space over two levels, which is in excess of the minimum requirement of 25%.
Developments achieve a minimum of 50% direct sunlight to the principal usable part of the communal open space for a minimum of 2 hours between 9 am and 3 pm on 21 June (mid winter)	Y	The primary communal spaces located at the roof level, and having a northern orientation, recieves a minimum of 2 hrs between 9am and 3pm
Communal open space should be consolidated into a well designed, easily identified and usable area	Y
Communal open space should have a minimum dimension of 3m, and larger developments should consider greater dimensions	Y	Usable areas of the communal open spoace have a minimum dimension of 3m.
Communal open space should be co-located with deep soil areas	N/A	The adaptive reuse of the building and the solid sandstone foundation prohibits deep soil zones on the site
Direct, equitable access should be provided to communal open space areas from common circulation areas, entries and lobbies	Y
Where communal open space cannot be provided at ground level, it should be provided on a podium or roof	Y
Where developments are unable to achieve the design criteria, such as on small lots, sites within business zones, or in a dense urban area, they should: • provide communal spaces elsewhere such as a landscaped roof top terrace or a common room • provide larger balconies or increased private open space for apartments • demonstrate good proximity to public open space and facilities and/or provide contributions to public open space	N/A	The site is located in a dense uran area, the proposed communal landscaped areas have been located at the roof top levels. Additional residential amentity has also been provided in the form of a communal room located at the lower ground level.
Objective 3D-2 Amenity of the public domain is retained and enhanced	Y
Facilities are provided within communal open spaces and common spaces for a range of age groups (see also 4F Common circulation and spaces), incorporating some of the following elements: • seating for individuals or groups • barbecue areas • play equipment or play areas • swimming pools, gyms, tennis courts or common rooms	Y	Seating areas for individuals and groups have been provided in the outdoor communal open space areas and indoor communal room.
The location of facilities responds to microclimate and site conditions with access to sun in winter, shade in summer and shelter from strong winds and down drafts	Y
Visual impacts of services should be minimised, including location of ventilation duct outlets from basement car parks, electrical substations and detention tanks.	Y

APARTMENT DESIGN GUIDE COMPLIANCE SUMMARY

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
Objective 3D-3 Communal open space is designed to maximise safety	Y
Communal open space and the public domain should be readily visible from habitable rooms and private open space areas while maintaining visual privacy. Design solutions may include: • bay windows • corner windows • balconies	N/A	The communal open space is located at the roof top levels with the apartments located below.
Communal open space should be well lit	Y
Where communal open space/facilities are provided for children and young people they are safe and contained	Y
Objective 3D-4 Public open space, where provided, is responsive to the existing pattern and uses of the neighbourhood	N/A
The public open space should be well connected with public streets along at least one edge	N/A
The public open space should be connected with nearby parks and other landscape elements	N/A
Public open space should be linked through view lines, pedestrian desire paths, termination points and the wider street grid	N/A
Solar access should be provided year round along with protection from strong winds	N/A
Opportunities for a range of recreational activities should be provided for people of all ages	N/A
A positive address and active frontages should be provided adjacent to public open space	N/A
Boundaries should be clearly defined between public open space and private areas	N/A PART 3E - DEEP SOIL ZONES
Objective 3E-1 Deep soil zones provide areas on the site that allow for and support healthy plant and tree growth. They improve residential amenity and promote management of water and air quality	N/A
Deep soil zones are to meet the following minimum requirements: Minimum dimension: 6m Percentage of site area: 7%	N/A	The adaptive reuse of the exiting builing does not permit deep soil zones at the ground floor level.
On some sites it may be possible to provide larger deep soil zones, depending on the site area and context: • 10% of the site as deep soil on sites with an area of 650m2 - 1,500m2 • 15% of the site as deep soil on sites greater than 1,500m2	N/A
Deep soil zones should be located to retain existing significant trees and to allow for the development of healthy root systems, providing anchorage and stability for mature trees. Design solutions may include: • basement and sub basement car park design that is consolidated beneath building footprints • use of increased front and side setbacks • adequate clearance around trees to ensure long term health • co-location with other deep soil areas on adjacent sites to create larger contiguous areas of deep soil	N/A
Achieving the design criteria may not be possible on some sites including where: • the location and building typology have limited or no space for deep soil at ground level (e.g. central business district, constrained sites, high density areas, or in centres) • there is 100% site coverage or non-residential uses at ground floor level. Where a proposal does not achieve deep soil requirements, acceptable stormwater management should be achieved and alternative forms of planting provided such as on structure	Y

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
PART 3F - VISUAL PRIVACY
Objective 3F-1 Adequate building separation distances are shared equitably between neighbouring sites, to achieve reasonable levels of external and internal visual privacy	Y	The objectives relating to external and internal visual privacy have been addressed to ensure reasonable levels of visual privacy are achieved through the provision of fixed horizontal privacy screens contained in a closed cavity facade system. In addition to the proposed privacy system the lift and stair core has been positions to futher enhance visual privacy with these elements being located to the south providing visual screening to the Highgate apartments.
• Separation between windows and balconies is provided to ensure visual privacy is achieved. Minimum required separation distances from buildings to the side and rear boundaries are as follows: - 4 storeys: 6m for habitable rooms and balconies; 3m for non-habitable rooms. - 5-8 storeys: 9m for habitable rooms and balconies; 4.5m for non-habitable rooms. = 9+ storeys: 12m for habitable rooms and balconies; 6m for non-habitable rooms.	N	The visual privacy and amentity from the development to its neighbours has been achieved through a considered design approach incorporating a combination of solid walls, obscure glazing and screening devices. The extent of glazing has been carefully analysed with the proposed facade consisting of a closed cavity window system encapsulating horizontal blades, controlling outlook and maintaining visual amenity to the surrounding areas.This system will control the angle of outlook from within the habitable space by permitting horizontal outlook but blocking and screening angled views to the lower neighbouring sites. The proposed facade system maintains visual privacy to the surrounding properties and is consistent with the design intent of the ADG.
Generally one step in the built form as the height increases due to building separations is desirable. Additional steps should be careful not to cause a 'ziggurat' appearance.	Y
For residential buildings next to commercial buildings, separation distances should be measured as follows: • for retail, office spaces and commercial balconies use the habitable room distances • for service and plant areas use the non-habitable room distances	Y / N	The separation distance between the adjacent existing commercial building to the west and the proposed building is 6m and is consistent with the non-habitable to non-habitable separation distances outlined in the ADG. The glazed facade system generally and to habitable areas of the proposed building will consist of a double glazing with encapusulated privacy blades providing a high level of visual amenity and privacy consistent with the design intent of the ADG.
New development should be located and oriented to maximise visual privacy between buildings on site and for neighbouring buildings. Design solutions include: • site layout and building orientation to minimise privacy impacts (see also section 3B Orientation) • on sloping sites, apartments on different levels have appropriate visual separation distances (see figure 3F.4)	Y	Building orientation and apartment layouts have been carefully considered taking into acount the relationship between the existing low scale heritage dwellings to the north and east, the commercial office to the west and high rise residential apartment building to the south east. The design response provides a high level of visual privacy to the surrounding sites maintaing amenity to both the proposed apartments and the surrounding existing buildings. Refer to Architectural Design Report for further details.
Apartment buildings should have an increased separation distance of 3m (in addition to the requirements set out in design criteria 1) when adjacent to a different zone that permits lower density residential development to provide for a transition in scale and increased landscaping (figure 3F.5)	N	The adaptive reuse of the existing building and upper level additions, maintain the current building separation, with façade treatments carefully considered to maintain a high level of amenity to the adajcent properties. The site context is one of high density urban development and is consistent with the surrounding area.
Direct lines of sight should be avoided for windows and balconies across corners	N/A
No separation is required between blank walls	Y	Noted
Objective 3F-2 Site and building design elements increase privacy without compromising access to light and air and balance outlook and views from habitable rooms and private open space	Y	The objectives relating to privacy have been addressed without compromising access to light and air and outlook from habitable rooms through the provision of fixed horizontal privacy screens contained in a closed cavity facade system that permits light, air and outlook while maintaining visual privacy and amentity to the surrounding areas..
Communal open space, common areas and access paths should be separated from private open space and windows to apartments, particularly habitable room windows. Design solutions may include: • setbacks • solid or partially solid balustrades to balconies at lower levels • fencing and/or trees and vegetation to separate spaces • screening devices • bay windows or pop out windows to provide privacy in one direction and outlook in another • raising apartments/private open space above the public domain or communal open space • planter boxes incorporated into walls and balustrades to increase visual separation • pergolas or shading devices to limit overlooking of lower apartments or private open space • on constrained sites where it can be demonstrated that building layout opportunities are limited, fixed louvres or screen panels to windows and/or balconies	Y	Communal open space has been provided at the roof top levels avoiding conflict with the private open space located at the lower levels.
Bedrooms, living spaces and other habitable rooms should be separated from gallery access and other open circulation space by the apartment's service areas	Y
Balconies and private terraces should be located in front of living rooms to increase internal privacy.	N/A
Windows should be offset from the windows of adjacent buildings	Y	The proposed façade incorporates a combination of strategies to maintain the visual amentity to adjacent sites, including off set windows, screen walls, and obscured glazing treatments.
Recessed balconies and/or vertical fins should be used between adjacent balconies	N/A

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
PART 3G - PEDESTRIAN ACCESS AND ENTRIES
Objective 3G-1 Building entries and pedestrian access connects to and addresses the public domain	Y
Multiple entries (including communal building entries and individual ground floor entries) should be provided to activate the street edge	N/A	The existing building entry has been retained as part of the adaptive reuse of the existing building on the site.
Entry locations relate to the street and subdivision pattern and the existing pedestrian network	Y
Building entries should be clearly identifiable and communal entries should be clearly distinguishable from private entries.	Y
Where street frontage is limited and multiple buildings are located on the site, a primary street address should be provided with clear sight lines and pathways to secondary building entries.	N/A
Objective 3G-2 Access, entries and pathways are accessible and easy to identify	Y
Building access areas including lift lobbies, stairwells and hallways should be clearly visible from the public domain and communal spaces	Y	The building entry (existing) is clearly visible from the Kent Street frontage
The design of ground floors and underground car parks minimise level changes along pathways and entries.	N/A
Steps and ramps should be integrated into the overall building and landscape design.	Y
For large developments 'way finding' maps should be provided to assist visitors and residents (see figure 4T.3)	Y	Way finding signage will be incorporated into the design as required.
For large developments electronic access and audio/video intercom should be provided to manage access.	Y	Audio/ video security intercom is proposed for the development.
Objective 3G-3 Large sites provide pedestrian links for access to streets and connection to destinations	N/A
Pedestrian links through sites facilitate direct connections to open space, main streets, centres and public transport	N/A
Pedestrian links should be direct, have clear sight lines, be overlooked by habitable rooms or private open spaces of dwellings, be well lit and contain active uses, where appropriate	N/A
PART 3H - VEHICLE ACCESS
Objective 3H-1 Vehicle access points are designed and located to achieve safety, minimise conflicts between pedestrians and vehicles and create high quality streetscapes	N/A
Car park access should be integrated with the building's overall facade. Design solutions may include: • the materials and colour palette to minimise visibility from the street • security doors or gates at entries that minimise voids in the facade • where doors are not provided, the visible interior reflects the facade design and the building services, pipes and ducts are concealed	N/A	Given the proposed adaptive reuse of the existing building and the sites excellent proximity to public transport being located in the heart of the CBD, no parking is proposed on the site. Note: secure bicycle facilities will be provided for the residents of the site.
Car park entries should be located behind the building line	N/A
Vehicle entries should be located at the lowest point of the site minimising ramp lengths, excavation and impacts on the building form and layout	N/A
Car park entry and access should be located on secondary streets or lanes where available	N/A
Vehicle standing areas that increase driveway width and encroach into setbacks should be avoided	N/A	The drieway width is kept to minimum dimensions whilst being compliant with council codes and Australian Standards.
Access point locations should avoid headlight glare to habitable rooms	N/A	No windows to habitable rooms are located above or in the proximity of the driveway ramps.
Adequate separation distances should be provided between vehicle entries and street intersections	N/A
The width and number of vehicle access points should be limited to the minimum	N/A
Visual impact of long driveways should be minimised through changing alignments and screen planting	N/A
The need for large vehicles to enter or turn around within the site should be avoided	N/A	Existing site servicing will be maintained as part oft he proposal.
Garbage collection, loading and servicing areas are screened	Y	The garbage collection will be screened and located off Jenkins St where existing garbage collection occurs for the site.
Clear sight lines should be provided at pedestrian and vehicle crossings	N/A
Traffic calming devices such as changes in paving material or textures should be used where appropriate	N/A
Pedestrian and vehicle access should be separated and distinguishable. Design solutions may include: • changes in surface materials • level changes • the use of landscaping for separation	N/A

PART 3J - BICYCLE & CAR PARKING
Objective 3J-1 Car parking is provided based on proximity to public transport in metropolitan Sydney and centres in regional areas	Y	Refer to comments below.
For development in the following locations: • on sites that are within 800 metres of a railway station or light rail stop in the Sydney Metropolitan Area; or • on land zoned, and sites within 400 metres of land zoned, B3 Commercial Core, B4 Mixed Use or equivalent in a nominated regional centre, the minimum car parking requirement for residents and visitors is set out in the Guide to Traffic Generating Developments, or the car parking requirement prescribed by the relevant council, whichever is less. The car parking needs for a development must be provided off street	Y	The Sydney LEP policy aims to 'minimise vehicular trafic generated by development' and reduce reliance on car parking within the central city metropolitan area. The Maximum parking for the site is 2.5 car spaces. As part of the adpative reuse of the existing building no car parking will be provided to the development, this is consistent with the sites current conditions. The site is in walking distance (less than 400m) to a range of public transport facilities including the Sydney Metro and Sydney busses. Sydney rail, ferry and light rail are also in close proximity to the site (approx 500m). The site has access to car share facilities located on High St and Kent St adjacent to the site. Bicycle parking has been provided to each dwelling inaccordance with Sydney City Counncils policy promoting sustainable modes of transport.
Where a car share scheme operates locally, provide car share parking spaces within the development. Car share spaces, when provided, should be on site	N/A
Where less car parking is provided in a development, council should not provide on street resident parking permits	N/A
Objective 3J-2 Parking and facilities are provided for other modes of transport	Y	Refer to comments below.
Conveniently located and sufficient numbers of parking spaces should be provided for motorbikes and scooters	N/A
Secure undercover bicycle parking should be provided that is easily accessible from both the public domain and common areas	Y	Secure bicycle parking is provided at the lower ground floor level
Conveniently located charging stations are provided for electric vehicles, where desirable	N/A
PART 4A - SOLAR AND DAYLIGHT ACCESS
Objective 4A-1 To optimise the number of apartments receiving sunlight to habitable rooms, primary windows and private open space	Y
Living rooms and private open spaces of at least 70% of apartments in a building receive a minimum of 2 hours direct sunlight between 9 am and 3 pm at mid winter in the Sydney Metropolitan Area and in the Newcastle and Wollongong local government areas.	Y	80% (4 of 5 apartments) of apartments receive at least 2 hours of direct sunlight into thehabitable areas between 9am and 3pm in mid-winter.
In all other areas, living rooms and private open spaces of at least 70% of apartments in a building receive a minimum of 3 hours direct sunlight between 9 am and 3 pm at mid winter.	N/A
A maximum of 15% of apartments in a building receive no direct sunlight between 9 am and 3 pm at mid winter.	Y
The design maximises north aspect and the number of single aspect south facing apartments is minimised.	Y	The design maximises the number of apartments with a northerly aspect. There is only one apartment with a south facing orientation.
Single aspect, single storey apartments should have a northerly or easterly aspect.	Y	The design has maximised the number of north facing apartments with the limited number of single aspect apartments without a northerly aspect being designed to have a shallow depth plan layout enabling good levels of daylight penetration into the apartment
Living areas are best located to the north and service areas to the south and west of apartments.	Y	The building design maximises the number of living areas with a northerly aspect ensuring a high level of aminity is achieved. Services areas are generally provided to the rear or in central locations minimising their impact on the most desirable areas of the apartments.
To optimise the direct sunlight to habitable rooms and balconies a number of the following design features are used: • dual aspect apartments • shallow apartment layouts • two storey and mezzanine level apartments • bay windows	Y	The proposal uses an number of these features within the design including, two storey apartments, dual aspect and through apartments and shallow depth plan layouts - all of which optimise direct sunlight to habitable areas and provide good levels of amaentity to the residents.
To maximise the benefit to residents of direct sunlight within living rooms and private open spaces, a minimum of 1m2 of direct sunlight, measured at 1m above floor level, is achieved for at least 15 minutes.	Y
Achieving the design criteria may not be possible on some sites. This includes: • where greater residential amenity can be achieved along a busy road or rail line by orientating the living rooms away from the noise source • on south facing sloping sites • where significant views are oriented away from the desired aspect for direct sunlight Design drawings need to demonstrate how site constraints and orientation preclude meeting the design criteria and how the development meets the objective	N/A

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
Objective 4A-2 Daylight access is maximised where sunlight is limited	N/A
Courtyards, skylights and high level windows (with sills of 1,500mm or greater) are used only as a secondary light source in habitable rooms.	N/A
Where courtyards are used : • use is restricted to kitchens, bathrooms and service areas • building services are concealed with appropriate detailing and materials to visible walls • courtyards are fully open to the sky • access is provided to the light well from a communal area for cleaning and maintenance • acoustic privacy, fire safety and minimum privacy separation distances (see section 3F Visual privacy) are achieved.	N/A
Opportunities for reflected light into apartments are optimised through: • reflective exterior surfaces on buildings opposite south facing windows • positioning windows to face other buildings or surfaces (on neighbouring sites or within the site) that will reflect light • integrating light shelves into the design • light coloured internal finishes	Y	Noted Light coloured internal finished will be investigated as part of the design development / detailed design phase.
Objective 4A-3 Design incorporates shading and glare control, particularly for warmer months	Y
A number of the following design features are used: • balconies or sun shading that extend far enough to shade summer sun, but allow winter sun to penetrate living areas • shading devices such as eaves, awnings, balconies, pergolas, external louvres and planting • horizontal shading to north facing windows • vertical shading to east and particularly west facing windows • operable shading to allow adjustment and choice • high performance glass that minimises external glare off windows, with consideration given to reduced tint glass or glass with a reflectance level below 20% (reflective films are avoided).	Y	A number of passive design features have been incorporated into the building design to manage solar gain such as, integrated shading blades within the glass façade system, and high performance glass.
PART 4B - NATURAL VENTILATION
Objective 4B-1 All habitable rooms are naturally ventilated	Y
The building's orientation maximises capture and use of prevailing breezes for natural ventilation in habitable rooms.	Y
Depths of habitable rooms support natural ventilation.	Y	All apartments have been designed to maximise natural ventilation effects.
The area of unobstructed window openings should be equal to at least 5% of the floor area served.	Y
Light wells are not the primary air source for habitable rooms.	N/A
Doors and openable windows maximise natural ventilation opportunities by using the following design solutions: • adjustable windows with large effective openable areas • a variety of window types that provide safety and flexibility such as awnings and louvres • windows which the occupants can reconfigure to funnel breezes into the apartment such as vertical louvres, casement windows and externally opening doors.	Y	Doors and openable windows are placed to optimise natural ventilation conditions.
Objective 4B-2 The layout and design of single aspect apartments maximises natural venitaltion	Y
Apartment depths are limited to maximise ventilation and airflow (see also figure 4D.3).	Y
Natural ventilation to single aspect apartments is achieved with the following design solutions: • primary windows are augmented with plenums and light wells (generally not suitable for cross ventilation) • stack effect ventilation / solar chimneys or similar to naturally ventilate internal building areas or rooms such as bathrooms and laundries • courtyards or building indentations have a width to depth ratio of 2:1 or 3:1 to ensure effective air circulation and avoid trapped smells.	Y	The one proposed single aspect apartment has been designed with a shallow apartment depth improving access to daylighting and ventilation.
Objective 4B-3 The number of apartments with natural cross ventilation is maximised to create a comfortable indoor environment for residents	Y

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
At least 60% of apartments are naturally cross ventilated in the first nine storeys of the building. Apartments at ten storeys or greater are deemed to be cross ventilated only if any enclosure of the balconies at these levels allows adequate natural ventilation and cannot be fully enclosed.	Y	67% of apartments are naturally cross ventilated in accordance with standard design principles
The building should include dual aspect apartments, cross through apartments and corner apartments and limit apartment depths.	Y
In cross-through apartments external window and door opening sizes/areas on one side of an apartment (inlet side) are approximately equal to the external window and door opening sizes/areas on the other side of the apartment (outlet side) (see figure 4B.3).	Y
Apartments are designed to minimise the number of corners, doors and rooms that might obstruct airflow	Y
Apartment depths, combined with appropriate ceiling heights, maximise cross ventilation and airflow	Y
PART 4C - CEILING HEIGHTS
Objective 4C-1 Ceiling Height achieves sufficient natural ventilation and daylight access	Y
Minimum ceiling heights are: Habitable rooms: 2.7m Non-Habitable: 2.4m 2 Storey apartments: 2.7m for min living room floor, 2.4m for second floor (where its areas does not exceed 50% of the apartment area) Attic spaces: 1.8m at the edge of the room with 30 degree minimum ceiling slope If located in mixed use areas: 3.3m for ground and first floors.	Y	The deisgn is fully compliant with minimum ceiling heights.
Ceiling height can accommodate use of ceiling fans for cooling and heat distribution.	Y
Objective 4C-2 Ceiling height increases the sense of space in apartments and provides for well proportioned rooms	Y
A number of the following design solutions can be used: • the hierarchy of rooms in an apartment is defined using changes in ceiling heights and alternatives such as raked or curved ceilings, or double height spaces • well proportioned rooms are provided, for example, smaller rooms feel larger and more spacious with higher ceilings • ceiling heights are maximised in habitable rooms by ensuring that bulkheads do not intrude. The stacking of service rooms from floor to floor and coordination of bulkhead location above non-habitable areas, such as robes or storage, can assist.	Y
Objective 4C-3 Ceiling heights contribute to the flexibility of building use over the life of the building	Y
Ceiling heights of lower level apartments in centres should be greater than the minimum required by the design criteria allowing flexibility and conversion to non-residential uses (see figure 4C.1).	N/A	The existing building strucutre will provide opportunirty for greater than minimum ceiling heights at the lower levels

APARTMENT DESIGN GUIDE COMPLIANCE SUMMARY

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
PART 4D - APARTMENT SIZE AND LAYOUT
Objective 4D-1 The layout of rooms within an apartment is functional, well organised and provides a high standard of amenity	Y
Apartments are required to have the following minimum internal areas: Studio: 35m2 1 Bedroom: 50m2 2 Bedroom: 70m2 3 Bedroom: 90m2 The minimum internal areas include only one bathroom. Additional bathrooms increase the minimum internal area by 5m2 each. A fourth bedroom and further additional bedrooms increase the minimum internal area by 12m2 each.	Y	All apartments meet the minimum requirements.
Every habitable room must have a window in an external wall with a total minimum glass area of not less than 10% of the floor area of the room. Daylight and air may not be borrowed from other rooms.	Y	As required to comply with the BCA.
Kitchens should not be located as part of the main circulation space in larger apartments (such as hallway or entry space).	Y
A window should be visible from any point in a habitable room.	Y
Where minimum areas or room dimensions are not met apartments need to demonstrate that they are well designed and demonstrate the usability and functionality of the space with realistically scaled furniture layouts and circulation areas. These circumstances would be assessed on their merits.	N/A	The proposed apartments comply with the minimum areas and room dimensions and are generally in excess of those minimums. Furniture layouts are indicated at a realistic scale.
Objective 4D-2 Environmental performance of the apartment is maximised	Y	Refer to Basix Certificate
Habitable room depths are limited to a maximum of 2.5 x the ceiling height.	Y
In open plan layouts (where the living, dining and kitchen are combined) the maximum habitable room depth is 8m from a window.	Y
Greater than minimum ceiling heights can allow for proportional increases in room depth up to the permitted maximum depths.	Note.	Greater ceiling heights are not required to justify increased apartment depth. Proposal meets the ADG requirements of height to depth ratios.
All living areas and bedrooms should be located on the external face of the building.	Y
Where possible: • bathrooms and laundries should have an external openable window • main living spaces should be oriented toward the primary outlook and aspect and away from noise sources	Y	Noted
Objective 4D-3 Apartments layouts are designed to accomodate a variety of household activities and needs	Y
Master bedrooms have a minimum area of 10m2 and other bedrooms 9m2 (excluding wardrobe space).	Y
Bedrooms have a minimum dimension of 3m (excluding wardrobe space)	Y
Living rooms or combined living/dining rooms have a minimum width of: • 3.6m for studio and 1 bedroom apartments • 4m for 2 and 3 bedroom apartments	Y
The width of cross-over or cross-through apartments are at least 4m internally to avoid deep narrow apartment layouts.	Y
Access to bedrooms, bathrooms and laundries is separated from living areas minimising direct openings between living and service areas.	Y
All bedrooms allow a minimum length of 1.5m for robes.	Y
The main bedroom of an apartment or a studio apartment should be provided with a wardrobe of a minimum 1.8m long, 0.6m deep and 2.1m high.	Y
Apartment layouts allow flexibility over time, design solutions may include: • dimensions that facilitate a variety of furniture arrangements and removal • spaces for a range of activities and privacy levels between different spaces within the apartment • dual master apartments • dual key apartments Note: dual key apartments which are separate but on the same title are regarded as two sole occupancy units for the purposes of the Building Code of Australia and for calculating the mix of apartments • room sizes and proportions or open plans (rectangular spaces (2:3) are more easily furnished than square spaces (1:1)) • efficient planning of circulation by stairs, corridors and through rooms to maximise the amount of usable floor space in rooms.	Y	Apartment layouts incorporate open plan style living and dining areas providing good functional and efficient spaces with a level of flexibility in potential furniture configurations.

APARTMENT DESIGN GUIDE COMPLIANCE SUMMARY

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
PART 4E - PRIVATE OPEN SPACE AND BALCONIES
Objective 4E-1 Apartments provide appropriately sized private open space and balconies to enhance residential amenity	Y	Additional landscape opens space at the roof top and level 2 has been provided to enhance residential amenity addressing the objectives of 4E-1. Refer to comments below
All apartments are required to have primary balconies as follows: Studio: 4m2 1 Bedroom: 8m2, 2m minimum depth 2 Bedroom: 10m2, 2m minimum depth 3 Bedroom: 12m2, 2.4m minimum depth The minimum balcony depth to be counted as contributing to the balcony area is 1m	N	Given the proposed adaptive resue of the existing building and site constraints no private balconies have been provided to the apartments. This shortfall has been offset by providing additional landscaped communal area at the roof top. level 2 roof terrace and lower ground communal room. The amount of outdoor communal open space provided on the site (75m2 or 49% of site) and communal room at lower ground (38m2 or 25% of site) is more than sufficient to offset this shortfall in private open space. The site is also in close proximity to expansive open space and recreation areas being centrally located within the CBD.
For apartments at ground level or on a podium or similar structure, a private open space is provided instead of a balcony. It must have a minimum area of 15m2 and a minimum depth of 3m.	N/A	There are no apartments provided at the lowest ground floor level fronting the street.
Increased communal open space should be provided where the number or size of balconies are reduced.	Y	Increased outdoor communal areas have been provided that equate to 74m2 or 48% of the site. Additional indoor communal space of 38m2 or 25% of the site has aslo been provided at the lower ground level providing a high level of amenity for thge residents. Note that the site is centrally located within the Sydney CBD having access to parks and recreation areas such as Observatory Hill Park to the north and Hickson Rd Park and waterfront to the west, all within a short walking distance.
Storage areas on balconies is additional to the minimum balcony size.	N/A
Balcony use may be limited in some proposals by: • consistently high wind speeds at 10 storeys and above • close proximity to road, rail or other noise sources • exposure to significant levels of aircraft noise • heritage and adaptive reuse of existing buildings In these situations, juliet balconies, operable walls, enclosed wintergardens or bay windows may be appropriate, and other amenity benefits for occupants should also be provided in the apartments or in the development or both. Natural ventilation also needs to be demonstrated.	Y	The adaptive reuse of the existing building limits the introduction of balconies within the development. Increased communal open space has been provided to maintain a high level of amenity for the residents. The site is also well placed with excellent access to parks and recreation spaces all within short walking distance of the site.
Objective 4E-2 Primary private open space and balconies are appropriately located to enhance livability for residents	Y	Increased communal opens space has been provided at the roof top and level 2 to enhance livability for the residents. The site is in close proximity to a range of outdoor areas being located in one of the most livable cities in the world.
Primary open space and balconies should be located adjacent to the living room, dining room or kitchen to extend the living space.	N/A
Private open spaces and balconies predominantly face north, east or west.	N/A
Primary open space and balconies should be orientated with the longer side facing outwards or be open to the sky to optimise daylight access into adjacent rooms.	N/A
Objective 4E-3 Private open space and balcony design is integrated into and contributes to the overall architectural form and detail of the building	Y	All open space areas have been carefully considered and integrate into the architectural design.
Solid, partially solid or transparent fences and balustrades are selected to respond to the location. They are designed to allow views and passive surveillance of the street while maintaining visual privacy and allowing for a range of uses on the balcony. Solid and partially solid balustrades are preferred.	N/A
Full width full height glass balustrades alone are generally not desirable.	N/A
Projecting balconies should be integrated into the building design and the design of soffits considered.	N/A
Operable screens, shutters, hoods and pergolas are used to control sunlight and wind.	Y
Balustrades are set back from the building or balcony edge where overlooking or safety is an issue	N/A
Downpipes and balcony drainage are integrated with the overall facade and building design.	Y
Air-conditioning units should be located on roofs, in basements, or fully integrated into the building design.	Y	Screened roof top spaces have been provided
Where clothes drying, storage or air conditioning units are located on balconies, they should be screened and integrated in the building design.	N/A
Ceilings of apartments below terraces should be insulated to avoid heat loss.	Y	Refer to BASIX Certificate.
Water and gas outlets should be provided for primary balconies and private open space.	Y	To communal open space areas
Objective 4E-4 Private open space and balcony design maximises safety	Y	All open space areas have been designed to maximise safety
Changes in ground levels or landscaping are minimised.	N/A
Design and detailing of balconies avoids opportunities for climbing and falls.	Y

APARTMENT DESIGN GUIDE COMPLIANCE SUMMARY

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
PART 4F - COMMON CIRCULATION AND SPACES
Objective 4F-1 Common circulation spaces achieve good amenity and properly service the number of apartments	Y
The maximum number of apartments off a circulation core on a single level is eight	Y
For buildings of 10 storeys and over, the maximum number of apartments sharing a single lift is 40	N/A
Greater than minimum requirements for corridor widths and/ or ceiling heights allow comfortable movement and access particularly in entry lobbies, outside lifts and at apartment entry doors.	Y	Corridors and entry lobbies have been designed for comfortable movement and provide suitable widths to comply with accessibility requirements.
Daylight and natural ventilation should be provided to all common circulation spaces that are above ground.	Y	Corridors and lobbies have access to light and ventilation.
Windows should be provided in common circulation spaces and should be adjacent to the stair or lift core or at the ends of corridors.	Y
Longer corridors greater than 12m in length from the lift core should be articulated. Design solutions may include: • a series of foyer areas with windows and spaces for seating • wider areas at apartment entry doors and varied ceiling heights	N/A
Design common circulation spaces to maximise opportunities for dual aspect apartments, including multiple core apartment buildings and cross over apartments.	N/A
Achieving the design criteria for the number of apartments off a circulation core may not be possible. Where a development is unable to achieve the design criteria, a high level of amenity for common lobbies, corridors and apartments should be demonstrated, including: • sunlight and natural cross ventilation in apartments • access to ample daylight and natural ventilation in common circulation spaces • common areas for seating and gathering • generous corridors with greater than minimum ceiling heights • other innovative design solutions that provide high levels of amenity	N/A
Where design criteria 1 is not achieved, no more than 12 apartments should be provided off a circulation core on a single level	N/A
Primary living room or bedroom windows should not open directly onto common circulation spaces, whether open or enclosed. Visual and acoustic privacy from common circulation spaces to any other rooms should be carefully controlled.	Y
Objective 4F-2 Common circulation spaces promote safety and provide for social interaction between residents	Y
Direct and legible access should be provided between vertical circulation points and apartment entries by minimising corridor or gallery length to give short, straight, clear sight lines.	Y
Tight corners and spaces are avoided.	Y
Circulation spaces should be well lit at night.	Y
Legible signage should be provided for apartment numbers, common areas and general wayfinding.	Y
Incidental spaces, for example space for seating in a corridor, at a stair landing, or near a window are provided.	N
In larger developments, community rooms for activities such as owners corporation meetings or resident use should be provided and are ideally co-located with communal open space.	Y	A communal room has been provided at lower ground floor
Where external galleries are provided, they are more open than closed above the balustrade along their length.	N/A

APARTMENT DESIGN GUIDE COMPLIANCE SUMMARY

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
PART 4G - STORAGE
Objective 4G-1 Adequate, well designed storage is provided in each apartment	Y
In addition to storage in kitchens, bathrooms and bedrooms, the following storage is provided: Studio: 4m3 1 Bedroom: 6m3 2 Bedroom: 8m3 3 Bedroom: 10m3 At least 50% of the required storage is to be located within the apartment.	Y	A minimum of 50% of the storage requirements has been provided in apartments. The remainder is provided at the lower ground level in secure storage zones.
Storage is accessible from either circulation or living areas.	Y
Storage provided on balconies (in addition to the minimum balcony size) is integrated into the balcony design, weather proof and screened from view from the street.	N/A
Left over space such as under stairs is used for storage.	N/A
Objective 4G-2 Additional storage is conveniently located, accessible and nominated for individual apartments	Y
Storage not located in apartments is secure and clearly allocated to specific apartments.	Y
Storage is provided for larger and less frequently accessed items.	Y
Storage space in internal or basement car parks is provided at the rear or side of car spaces or in cages so that allocated car parking remains accessible.	N/A
If communal storage rooms are provided they should be accessible from common circulation areas of the building.	N/A	Noted
Storage not located in an apartment is integrated into the overall building design and is not visible from the public domain.	N/A
PART 4H - ACOUSTIC PRIVACY
Objective 4H-1 Noise transfer is minimised through the siting of buildings and building layout	Y
Adequate building separation is provided within the development and from neighbouring buildings/adjacent uses (see also section 2F Building separation and section 3F Visual privacy).	Y
Window and door openings are generally orientated away from noise sources.	Y
Noisy areas within buildings including building entries and corridors should be located next to or above each other and quieter areas next to or above quieter areas	Y	The building layouts locate areas such as corridors and wet areas above each other to assist in maintaining acoutic privacy.
Storage, circulation areas and non-habitable rooms should be located to buffer noise from external sources.	Y
The number of party walls (walls shared with other apartments) are limited and are appropriately insulated.	Y
Noise sources such as garage doors, driveways, service areas, plant rooms, building services, mechanical equipment, active communal open spaces and circulation areas should be located at least 3m away from bedrooms.	Y
Objective 4H-2 Noise impacts are mitigated within apartments through layout and acoustic treatments	Y
Internal apartment layout separates noisy spaces from quiet spaces, using a number of the following design solutions: • rooms with similar noise requirements are grouped together • doors separate different use zones • wardrobes in bedrooms are co-located to act as sound buffers	Y
Where physical separation cannot be achieved noise conflicts are resolved using the following design solutions: • double or acoustic glazing • acoustic seals • use of materials with low noise penetration properties • continuous walls to ground level courtyards where they do not conflict with streetscape or other amenity requirements	Y	Noted. As required.

APARTMENT DESIGN GUIDE COMPLIANCE SUMMARY

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
PART 4J - NOISE AND POLLUTION
Objective 4J-1 In noisy or hostile environments the impacts of external noise and pollution are minimised through the careful siting and layout of buildings	Y
To minimise impacts the following design solutions may be used: • physical separation between buildings and the noise or pollution source. • residential uses are located perpendicular to the noise source and where possible buffered by other uses. • non-residential buildings are sited to be parallel with the noise source to provide a continuous building that shields residential uses and communal open spaces. • non-residential uses are located at lower levels vertically separating the residential component from the noise or pollution source. Setbacks to the underside of residential floor levels should increase relative to traffic volumes and other noise sources. • buildings should respond to both solar access and noise. Where solar access is away from the noise source, nonhabitable rooms can provide a buffer • where solar access is in the same direction as the noise source, dual aspect apartments with shallow building depths are preferable (see figure 4J.4) • landscape design reduces the perception of noise and acts as a filter for air pollution generated by traffic and industry	Y
Achieving the design criteria in this Apartment Design Guide may not be possible in some situations due to noise and pollution. Where developments are unable to achieve the design criteria, alternatives may be considered in the following areas: • solar and daylight access • private open space and balconies • natural cross ventilation	N/A
Objective 4J-2 Appropriate noise shielding or attenuation techniques for the building design, construction and choice of materials are used to mitigate noise transmission	Y
Design solutions to mitigate noise include: • limiting the number and size of openings facing noise sources • providing seals to prevent noise transfer through gaps • using double or acoustic glazing, acoustic louvres or enclosed balconies (wintergardens) • using materials with mass and/or sound insulation or absorption properties e.g. solid balcony balustrades, external screens and soffits.	Y	Glazing performance will be designed to mitigate external noise source to comply with the acoustic requirements of the BCA. Solid facade elements and insulation will be provided to assist in external noise reduction where applicable.
PART 4K - APARTMENT MIX
Objective 4K-1 A range of apartment types and sizes is provided to cater for different household types now and into the future	Y
A variety of apartment types is provided.	Y
The apartment mix is appropriate, taking into consideration: • the distance to public transport, employment and education centres • the current market demands and projected future demographic trends • the demand for social and affordable housing • different cultural and socioeconomic groups.	Y	The apartment mix is based on projected market demand and specific locational factors such as transport and access to amenities.
Flexible apartment configurations are provided to support diverse household types and stages of life including single person households, families, multi-generational families and group households.	Y	The apartment mix and types provided in the proposed development cater for a wide range of users, ranging from single occupiers to families
Objective 4K-2 The apartment mix is distributed to suitable locations within the building	Y
Different apartment types are located to achieve successful facade composition and to optimise solar access (see figure 4K.3).	Y
Larger apartment types are located on the ground or roof level where there is potential for more open space and on corners where more building frontage is available.	Y

APARTMENT DESIGN GUIDE COMPLIANCE SUMMARY

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
PART 4L - GROUND FLOOR APARTMENTS
Objective 4L-1 Street frontage activity is maximised where ground floor apartments are located	N/A
Direct street access should be provided to ground floor apartments.	N/A	Refer to previous comment
Activity is achieved through front gardens, terraces and the facade of the building. Design solutions may include: • both street, foyer and other common internal circulation entrances to ground floor apartments • private open space is next to the street • doors and windows face the street.	N/A
Retail or home office spaces should be located along street frontages.	N/A
Ground floor apartment layouts support small office home office (SOHO) use to provide future opportunities for conversion into commercial or retail areas. In these cases provide higher floor to ceiling heights and ground floor amenities for easy conversion.	N/A
Objective 4L-2 Design of ground floor apartments delivers amenity and safety for residents	Y
Privacy and safety should be provided without obstructing casual surveillance. Design solutions may include: • elevation of private gardens and terraces above the street level by 1-1.5m (see figure 4L.4) • landscaping and private courtyards • window sill heights that minimise sight lines into apartments • integrating balustrades, safety bars or screens with the exterior design	N/A
Solar access should be maximised through: • high ceilings and tall windows • trees and shrubs that allow solar access in winter and shade in summer.	Y	Floor to ceiling windows have been introduced to main living areas to provide good levels of solar access.
PART 4M - FACADES
Objective 4M-1 Building facades provide visual interest along the street while respecting the character of the local area	Y	The proposed building façade provides a simple yet sophistocated backdrop to the adjacent residential dwellings, while blending harmoniously with the more contemporary towers locagted to the south of the subject site.
Design solutions for front building facades may include: • a composition of varied building elements • a defined base, middle and top of buildings • revealing and concealing certain elements • changes in texture, material, detail and colour to modify the prominence of elements.	Y
Building services should be integrated within the overall façade.	Y
Building facades should be well resolved with an appropriate scale and proportion to the streetscape and human scale. Design solutions may include: • well composed horizontal and vertical elements • variation in floor heights to enhance the human scale • elements that are proportional and arranged in patterns • public artwork or treatments to exterior blank walls • grouping of floors or elements such as balconies and windows on taller buildings.	Y	The proposed design provides well resolved facades having appropriate levels of detail, and variance in articulation resulting in a high quality architecural outcome.
Building facades relate to key datum lines of adjacent buildings through upper level setbacks, parapets, cornices, awnings or colonnade heights.	N/A	The proposed building maintains the existing lower building structure and alignments.
Shadow is created on the facade throughout the day with building articulation, balconies and deeper window reveals.	Y	The building design with provide shadow relief thruogh the introduction of slab edge recesses, inset windows to the lower levels, variation in façade materiality and fine grain detailing.
Objective 4M-2 Building functions are expressed by the façade	Y
Building entries should be clearly defined.	Y	The existing building entry has been maintained and is clearly defined at the street front,.
Important corners are given visual prominence through a change in articulation, materials or colour, roof expression or changes in height.	Y
The apartment layout should be expressed externally through facade features such as party walls and floor slabs.	Y

APARTMENT DESIGN GUIDE COMPLIANCE SUMMARY

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
PART 4N - ROOF DESIGN
Objective 4N-1 Roof treatments are integrated into the building design and positively respond to the street	Y
Roof design relates to the street. Design solutions may include: • special roof features and strong corners • use of skillion or very low pitch hipped roofs • breaking down the massing of the roof by using smaller elements to avoid bulk • using materials or a pitched form complementary to adjacent buildings.	Y	The top of the building has been designed as an extention of the buildings architectural expression providing a high quality and sophiticated architectural outcome apprpriate to the site central CBD location.
Roof treatments should be integrated with the building design. Design solutions may include: • roof design proportionate to the overall building size, scale and form • roof materials compliment the building • service elements are integrated.	Y
Objective 4N-2 Opportunities to use roof space for residential accommodation and open space are maximised	Y
Habitable roof space should be provided with good levels of amenity. Design solutions may include: • penthouse apartments • dormer or clerestory windows • openable skylights.	Y	Communal open space has been provided to the top of the building.
Open space is provided on roof tops subject to acceptable visual and acoustic privacy, comfort levels, safety and security considerations.	Y
Objective 4N-3 Roof design incorporates sustainability features	Y	The roof top has been landscaped reducing solar absorbtion, water filtration and providing habitat for local fauna.
Roof design maximises solar access to apartments during winter and provides shade during summer. Design solutions may include: • the roof lifts to the north • eaves and overhangs shade walls and windows from summer sun.	N/A
Skylights and ventilation systems should be integrated into the roof design.	N/A	Additional roof ventilation systems or sylights are not required to achieve complianced with the ADG, with the proposed design achieving a high level of solar and ventilation compliance.
PART 4O - LANDSCAPE DESIGN
Objective 4O-1 Landscape design is viable and sustainable	Y
Landscape design should be environmentally sustainable and can enhance environmental performance by incorporating: • diverse and appropriate planting • bio-filtration gardens • appropriately planted shading trees • areas for residents to plant vegetables and herbs • composting • green roofs or walls.	Y	The proposal incorporates landscaping at the roof levels and will include diverse and appropriate planting.
Ongoing maintenance plans should be prepared.	Y	Landscaped areas are easily accessible from the roof terrace levels. To be prepared for OC stage.
Microclimate is enhanced by: • appropriately scaled trees near the eastern and western elevations for shade • a balance of evergreen and deciduous trees to provide shading in summer and sunlight access in winter • shade structures such as pergolas for balconies and courtyards.	Y
Tree and shrub selection considers size at maturity and the potential for roots to compete (see Table 4).	Y
Objective 4O-2 Landscape design contributes to the streetscape and amenity	Y	Roof top landscaping provides amenity when viewed from the surrounding areas.
Landscape design responds to the existing site conditions including: • changes of levels • views • significant landscape features including trees and rock outcrops.	Y
Significant landscape features should be protected by: • tree protection zones (see figure 4O.5) • appropriate signage and fencing during construction.	N/A	The existing site conditions are built out.
Plants selected should be endemic to the region and reflect the local ecology.	Y

PART 4P - PLANTING ON STRUCTURES
Objective 4P-1 Appropriate soil profiles are provided	Y
Structures are reinforced for additional saturated soil weight.	Y
Soil volume is appropriate for plant growth, considerations include: • modifying depths and widths according to the planting mix and irrigation frequency • free draining and long soil life span • tree anchorage.	Y	Proposed soil volumes over structure will be suitable for shrubs and screen planting.
Minimum soil standards for plant sizes should be provided in accordance with Table 5.	Y
Objective 4P-2 Plant growth is optimised with appropriate selection and maintenance	Y
Plants are suited to site conditions, considerations include: • drought and wind tolerance • seasonal changes in solar access • modified substrate depths for a diverse range of plants • plant longevity.	Y
A landscape maintenance plan is prepared.	Y	To be prepared at CC stage.
Irrigation and drainage systems respond to: • changing site conditions • soil profile and the planting regime • whether rainwater, stormwater or recycled grey water is used.	Y	The landscaped areas will be irrigated. To be prepared at CC stage.
Objective 4P-3 Planting on structures contributes to the quality and amenity of communal and public open spaces	Y
Building design incorporates opportunities for planting on structures. Design solutions may include: • green walls with specialised lighting for indoor green walls • wall design that incorporates planting • green roofs, particularly where roofs are visible from the public domain • planter boxes Note: structures designed to accommodate green walls should be integrated into the building facade and consider the ability of the facade to change over time.	Y	Planter boxes over structure will be incorporated into the architectural design at the upper roof levels.
PART 4Q - UNIVERSAL DESIGN
Objective 4Q-1 Universal design features are included in apartment design to promote flexible housing for all community members	Y
Developments achieve a benchmark of 20% of the total apartments incorporating the Livable Housing Guideline's silver level universal design features.	Y	20% of apartments will meet this requirement as noted in the ADG
Objective 4Q-2 A variety of apartments with adaptable designs are provided	Y
Adaptable housing should be provided in accordance with the relevant council policy.	N/A	Given the limited number of dwellings in the development (5 apartments) adaptable apartments are not required under the coiuncil controls
Design solutions for adaptable apartments include: • convenient access to communal and public areas • high level of solar access • minimal structural change and residential amenity loss when adapted • larger car parking spaces for accessibility • parking titled separately from apartments or shared car parking arrangements.	N/A
Objective 4Q-3 Apartment layouts are flexible and accommodate a range of lifestyle needs	Y
Apartment design incorporates flexible design solutions which may include: • rooms with multiple functions • dual master bedroom apartments with separate bathrooms • larger apartments with various living space options • open plan 'loft' style apartments with only a fixed kitchen, laundry and bathroom.	N/A

PART 4R - ADAPTIVE REUSE
Objective 4R-1 New additions to existing buildings are contemporary and complementary and enhance an area's identity and sense of place	Y
Design solutions may include: • new elements to align with the existing building • additions that complement the existing character, siting, scale, proportion, pattern, form and detailing • use of contemporary and complementary materials, finishes, textures and colours.	Y	The proposal includes the adaptive reuse of the existing building and will use contemporary and complimentary materials.
Additions to heritage items should be clearly identifiable from the original building.	N/A
Objective 4R-2 Adapted buildings provide residential amenity while not precluding future adaptive reuse	Y
New additions allow for the interpretation and future evolution of the building	Y
Design features should be incorporated sensitively into adapted buildings to make up for any physical limitations, to ensure residential amenity is achieved. Design solutions may include: • generously sized voids in deeper buildings • alternative apartment types when orientation is poor • using additions to expand the existing building envelope.	Y	The proposed adaptive reuse design provides additional residential levels over the existing built structure with careful consideration to apartment planning and façade treatments to ensure a high level of amenity is provided to the development and its surrounds.
Some proposals that adapt existing buildings may not be able to achieve all of the design criteria in this Apartment Design Guide. Where developments are unable to achieve the design criteria, alternatives could be considered in the following areas: • where there are existing higher ceilings, depths of habitable rooms could increase subject to demonstrating access to natural ventilation, cross ventilation (when applicable) and solar and daylight access (see also sections 4A Solar and daylight access and 4B Natural ventilation) • alternatives to providing deep soil where less than the minimum requirement is currently available on the site • building and visual separation – subject to demonstrating alternative design approaches to achieving privacy • common circulation • car parking • alternative approaches to private open space and balconies.	Y	The proposal provides a number of design solutions in relation to building and visual separation as part of the adaptive design solution. These solutions ensure that privacy and amentity is maintained to the existing surrounding developments.Alternative arrangements to private open space have been proposed by providing increased communal open space for the development. Refer to architectural design report.
PART 4S - MIXED USE
Objective 4S-1 Mixed use developments are provided in appropriate locations and provide active street frontages that encourage pedestrian movement	N/A
Mixed use development should be concentrated around public transport and centres.	N/A
Mixed use developments positively contribute to the public domain. Design solutions may include: • development addresses the street • active frontages are provided • diverse activities and uses • avoiding blank walls at the ground level • live/work apartments on the ground floor level, rather than commercial.	N/A
Objective 4S-2 Residential levels of the building are integrated within the development, and safety and amenity is maximised for residents	N/A
Residential circulation areas should be clearly defined. Design solutions may include: • residential entries are separated from commercial entries and directly accessible from the street • commercial service areas are separated from residential components • residential car parking and communal facilities are separated or secured • security at entries and safe pedestrian routes are provided • concealment opportunities are avoided	N/A
Landscaped communal open space should be provided at podium or roof levels.	N/A

PART 4T - AWNINGS AND SIGNAGE
Objective 4T-1 Awnings are well located and complement and integrate with the building design	N/A
Awnings should be located along streets with high pedestrian activity and active frontages.	N/A
A number of the following design solutions are used: • continuous awnings are maintained and provided in areas with an existing pattern • height, depth, material and form complements the existing street character • protection from the sun and rain is provided • awnings are wrapped around the secondary frontages of corner sites • awnings are retractable in areas without an established pattern.	N/A
Awnings should be located over building entries for building address and public domain amenity.	N/A	Undercover entries are provided to lobbies.
Awnings relate to residential windows, balconies, street tree planting, power poles and street infrastructure.	N/A
Gutters and down pipes should be integrated and concealed.	N/A
Lighting under awnings should be provided for pedestrian safety.	N/A
Objective 4T-2 Signage responds to the context and desired streetscape character	Y
Signage should be integrated into the building design and respond to the scale, proportion and detailing of the development.	Y	Noted and to be integrated in final design.
Legible and discrete way finding should be provided for larger developments.	Y	Noted and to be integrated in final design.
Signage is limited to being on and below awnings and a single facade sign on the primary street frontage.	Y	Noted and to be integrated in final design.
PART 4U - ENERGY EFFICIENCY
Objective 4U-1 Development incorporates passive environmental design	Y
Adequate natural light is provided to habitable rooms (see 4A Solar and daylight access).	Y	The design fully complies.
Well located, screened outdoor areas should be provided for clothes drying.	N	Energy efficient clothes dryer will be provided to the apartments.
Objective 4U-2 Development incorporates passive solar design to optimise heat storage in winter and reduce heat transfer in summer	Y
A number of the following design solutions are used: • the use of smart glass or other technologies on north and west elevations • thermal mass in the floors and walls of north facing rooms is maximised • polished concrete floors, tiles or timber rather than carpet • insulated roofs, walls and floors and seals on window and door openings • overhangs and shading devices such as awnings, blinds and screens	Y	Noted and to be integrated in final design where appropriate.
Provision of consolidated heating and cooling infrastructure should be located in a centralised location (e.g. the basement)	Y
Objective 4U-3 Adequate natural ventilation minimises the need for mechanical ventilation	Y
A number of the following design solutions are used: • rooms with similar usage are grouped together • natural cross ventilation for apartments is optimised • natural ventilation is provided to all habitable rooms and as many non-habitable rooms, common areas and circulation spaces as possible.	Y

PART 4V - WATER MANAGEMENT AND CONSERVATION
Objective 4V-1 Potable water use is minimised	Y
Water efficient fittings, appliances and wastewater reuse should be incorporated.	Y	Refer to Basix Certificate
Apartments should be individually metered.	Y	As required by local authorites
Rainwater should be collected, stored and reused on site.	Y	Refer to Basix Certificate
Drought tolerant, low water use plants should be used within landscaped areas.	Y
Objective 4V-2 Urban stormwater is treated on site before being discharged to receiving waters	Y
Water sensitive urban design systems are designed by a suitably qualified professional.	Y
A number of the following design solutions are used: • runoff is collected from roofs and balconies in water tanks and plumbed into toilets, laundry and irrigation • porous and open paving materials is maximised • on site stormwater and infiltration, including bio-retention systems such as rain gardens or street tree pits.	Y	Provision is made to collect and detain all stormwater in accordance with Authority requirements.
Objective 4V-3 Flood management systems are integrated into site design	Y
Detention tanks should be located under paved areas, driveways or in basement car parks.	N/A	Refer to civil stormwater documentation
On large sites parks or open spaces are designed to provide temporary on site detention basins.	N/A
PART 4W - WASTE MANAGEMENT
Objective 4W-1 Waste storage facilities are designed to minimise impacts on the streetscape, building entry and amenity of residents	Y
Adequately sized storage areas for rubbish bins should be located discreetly away from the front of the development or in the basement car park.	Y	Refer Waste Management Report
Waste and recycling storage areas should be well ventilated.	Y
Circulation design allows bins to be easily manoeuvred between storage and collection points.	Y	Refer Waste Management Report
Temporary storage should be provided for large bulk items such as mattresses.	Y	Refer Waste Management Report
A waste management plan should be prepared.	Y
Objective 4W-2 Domestic waste is minimised by providing safe and convenient source separation and recycling	Y
All dwellings should have a waste and recycling cupboard or temporary storage area of sufficient size to hold two days worth of waste and recycling.	Y
Communal waste and recycling rooms are in convenient and accessible locations related to each vertical core.	Y
For mixed use developments, residential waste and recycling storage areas and access should be separate and secure from other uses.	N.A
Alternative waste disposal methods such as composting should be provided.	Y	Refer Waste Management Report

APARTMENT DESIGN GUIDE COMPLIANCE SUMMARY

DESIGN CRITERIA OR GUIDANCE	COMPLIANCE	ADDITIONAL COMMENTS
PART 4X - BUILDING MAINTENANCE
Objective 4X-1 Building design detail provides protection from weathering	Y
A number of the following design solutions are used: • roof overhangs to protect walls • hoods over windows and doors to protect openings • detailing horizontal edges with drip lines to avoid staining of surfaces • methods to eliminate or reduce planter box leaching • appropriate design and material selection for hostile locations	Y	A number of features such as robust material selectionand appropriate façade design and detailing have been incoproated into the design to provide protection to areas of the building façade prolonging the need for building maintanance.
Objective 4X-2 Systems and access enable ease of maintenance	Y
Window design enables cleaning from the inside of the building.	N/A	Awning windows with opening restrictors are used for safety, in accordance with BCA requirements. Window cleaning is envisaged to be performed from the roof top area down, via davit arm and safety harness or similar. Maintenace personel are able to traverse the building facade and detatch at either the level 2 roof terrace area or at street level on Jenkins St.
Building maintenance systems should be incorporated and integrated into the design of the building form, roof and façade.	Y	The building will include integrated safety harness points and removeable davit arms from the roof perimeter framing and roof deck levels allowing for building maintenance while being unobtrusive. Screened plant and equipment is located at level 2 and within the building footprint of the building at the lower ground level ensuring easy access for maintenance while being unobtrusive.
Design solutions do not require external scaffolding for maintenance access.	Y	As above.
Manually operated systems such as blinds, sunshades and curtains are used in preference to mechanical systems.	Y	A combination of manual and automated systems will be incorporated into the building design to suit compliance and residents expec
Centralised maintenance, services and storage should be provided for communal open space areas within the building.	Y
Objective 4X-3 Material selection reduces ongoing maintenance costs	Y
A number of the following design solutions are used: • sensors to control artificial lighting in common circulation and spaces • natural materials that weather well and improve with time such as face brickwork • easily cleaned surfaces that are graffiti resistant • robust and durable materials and finishes are used in locations which receive heavy wear and tear, such as common circulation areas and lift interiors	Y	Sensors will be installed to control artificial lighting in common circulation spaces Robust and durable materials and finishes have been incoproated into the building to provide longevity and minimise building maintenace.

NOTES

1. COPYRIGHT This drawing and/or design is the property of Harrison Friedmann & Associates Pty Ltd and should not be reproduced in part or whole without the written permission of the company.
2. Bearings, distances and areas of boundaries are from Land Registry Services records unless stated otherwise. Bearings shown are orientated to M.G.A. North (approximate True North).
3. ACCURATE BOUNDARY SURVEY HAS BEEN CARRIED OUT. Relationship of improvements to boundaries are approximate only. Boundary fences and retaining walls are located approximately with relation to boundaries. DO NOT SCALE OFF THIS PLAN. Where offsets are critical they should be verified by an additional survey and/or placement of marks.
4. The services information shown on this plan have been determined from visual inspection only. It is passed on with the understanding that no excavation or works will be commenced without a current services search of all services being obtained from "Before You Dig Australia" (BYDA) or from any individual service provider. Note that not all services providers are members of BYDA.
5. The location of Sydney Water's Sewer Main has been plotted approximately, based on information from Sydney Water. This information can not be relied on. Any construction near Sydney Water Mains requires further investigation, a Service Protection Report (sewer pegout) and approval from Sydney Water.
6. The locations of spot levels are diagrammatic only. They are accurate to ± 0.3m in relation to boundaries. Levels critical to design, excavation or construction must be verified. If contours are shown they depict the topography rather than represent the exact level at any particular point. Care should be taken if extrapolating levels or contours.
7. The spread of the crown of the trees shown on this plan is diagrammatic only, based on the average spread observed in the field. Prior to any development proposal which might be affected by trees it is recommended that the tree spreads be verified by field inspection.
8. Australian Height Datum was established from P.M. 150373 (R.L. 23.086 A.H.D.). Datum source obtained from S.C.I.M.S. dated 9/04/2018.

I am a resident of Highgate and I have a couple of concerns about this development.

1 safety and congestion during construction as we will have to enter the car park from Jenkins st right next to the site. Our experience over the years has been that builders and tradespeople occupy the road and leave screws and nails and other hazards.

Despite what they say on the work method statements, these are often ignored so we would appreciate if there is regular inspections to ensure they are behaving.

2 A tall thin retrofit building will be risky from a construction point of view and so protection against a collapse and falling objects is essential. How will this be done?

3 The rooftop common area noise will be a problem if it is accessible late at night and people are having parties.

I like the idea of utilising the space and maximising the existing building to enhance the area but hopefully without the rest of us having to suffer.

Thanks for the opportunity to comment

I wish to strongly object to the above development application.

I suggest you visit the narrow access lane which will make it abundantly clear that such a large undertaking would be out of the question. Not only is it frequently blocked by various tradesmen entering the neighbouring apartments but the adjacent two buildings also use this lane for their underground parking.
Should they consider seeking approval to use the laneway out of business hours, the noise to surrounding dwellers would preclude this as an option.

The addition of a glass topped common area, while visually appealing, would be totally impractical. The cost of cooling what will be , on a hot day, an unbearably hot enclosure would be prohibitive and , I believe, rarely used.

I do hope the council will reconsider this application.

Dear Sir/Madam,
In reference to the development application D/2026/97 for 125A Kent Street,
I would like to express concern about the potential disruption this may cause during the building process.
I suspect that much of the building access will be via Gas Lane and Jenkins Street, the latter being a very narrow street accessible from only one direction and already the access for several large apartment blocks , including our own Highgate.

In addition, we already have the huge development underway at 179 Kent Street, and again, much of the access for this demolition and building is via Gas Lane. Gas lane where it joins Kent street is already an awkward intersection, which is also a busy foot traffic crossing, and if both projects were to proceed at the same time, I believe this will create massive problems at this intersection.

Your faithfully

regards

Objection to Development

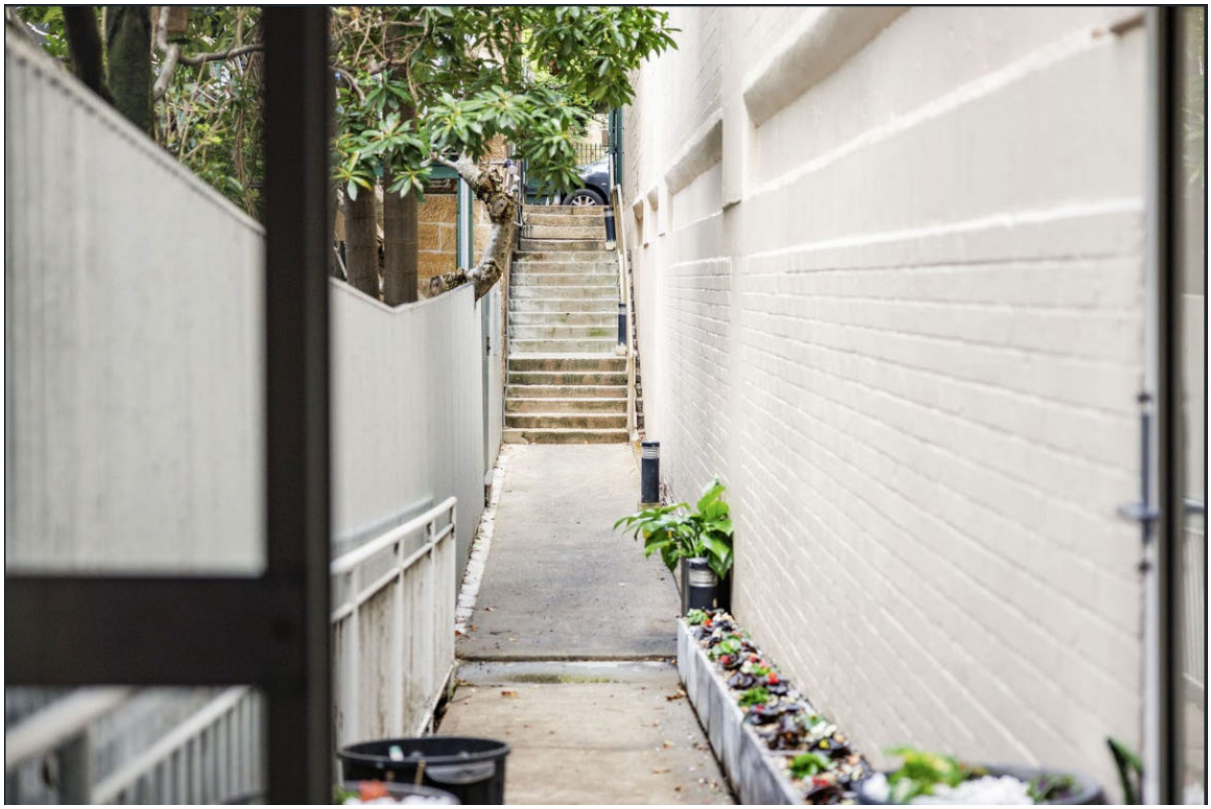
This proposal takes a site that is/was appropriate in its context of providing a commercial laboratory and access to developments at the rear of Highgate and The Bond commercial and apartment developments. It is land-locked with limited access and abuts the highest-level conservation zone available under NSW Law. The lack of access and setbacks make it inappropriate for a higher scale residential development. Many of these issues have been raised by Council in their pre-DA meetings with the applicant back in 2023 and have not been – and in fact many can't be - suitably addressed due to the limitations of the site.

The proposed development effectively "steals" amenity from the neighbouring heritage terraces and streetscape and provides a relatively low-amenity development to a handful of small apartments.

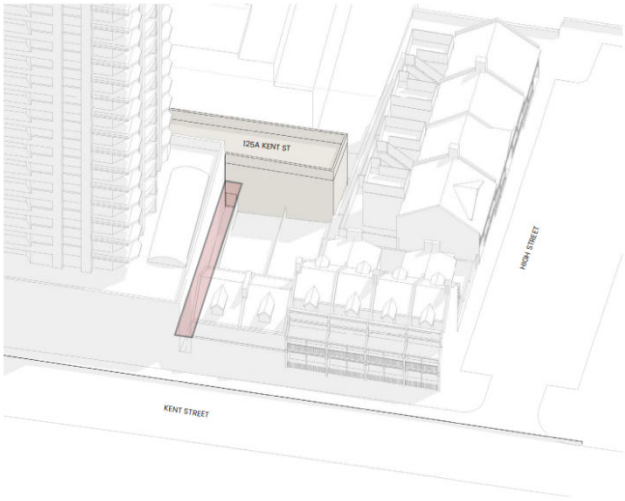
The application should be rejected.

Some of the key issues are:

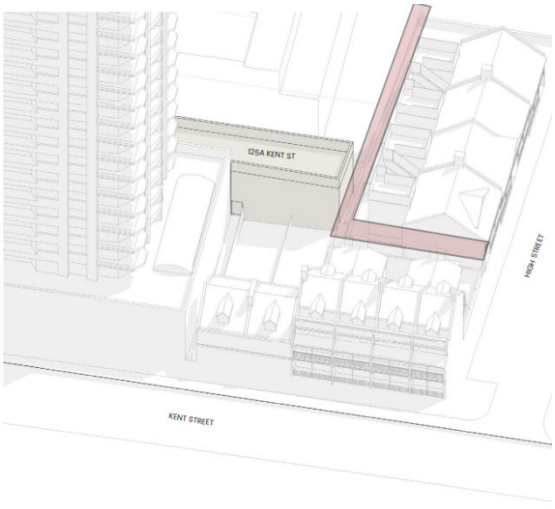
1. The development is literally on the boundary of the Millers Point Conservation Area. It is applying the zoning of City of Sydney SP5 Metropolitan Centre which has a floor to space ratio of 7.5:1. The current building height control for this zone is 30m and the development plans 28m. This compares to the lower FSR within the R1 Residential conservation zone and a maximum building height of only 9m. Site Area 154.3m^2 , proposed Gross Floor Area 540m^2 , proposed Floor Space Ratio 3.49:1. It's visual impact on the heritage precinct is unacceptable.



2. The current building is an adaptive re-use of the former ESSO laboratory building into a mixed showroom/commercial building which currently sits at the same roof line as the surrounding terraces in Kent and High Streets. The current building height does not exceed the RL of neighbouring heritage items in Kent Street and High Street.



3. There is extremely limited and difficult access to the site, relying on a shared easements from (a 1.524m wide) 125 Kent Street, (with stairs) and High Street, and access from a cul-de-sac in Jenkins Street to the south. No vehicular access or parking is provided in the development application. Note that Jenkins Street is used for rear access and underground parking for adjacent high rise apartment buildings.



4. Easements being referenced are those of Kent Street and High Street terraces, many not provided for 125A Kent and are insufficient to meet the needs of the larger development.

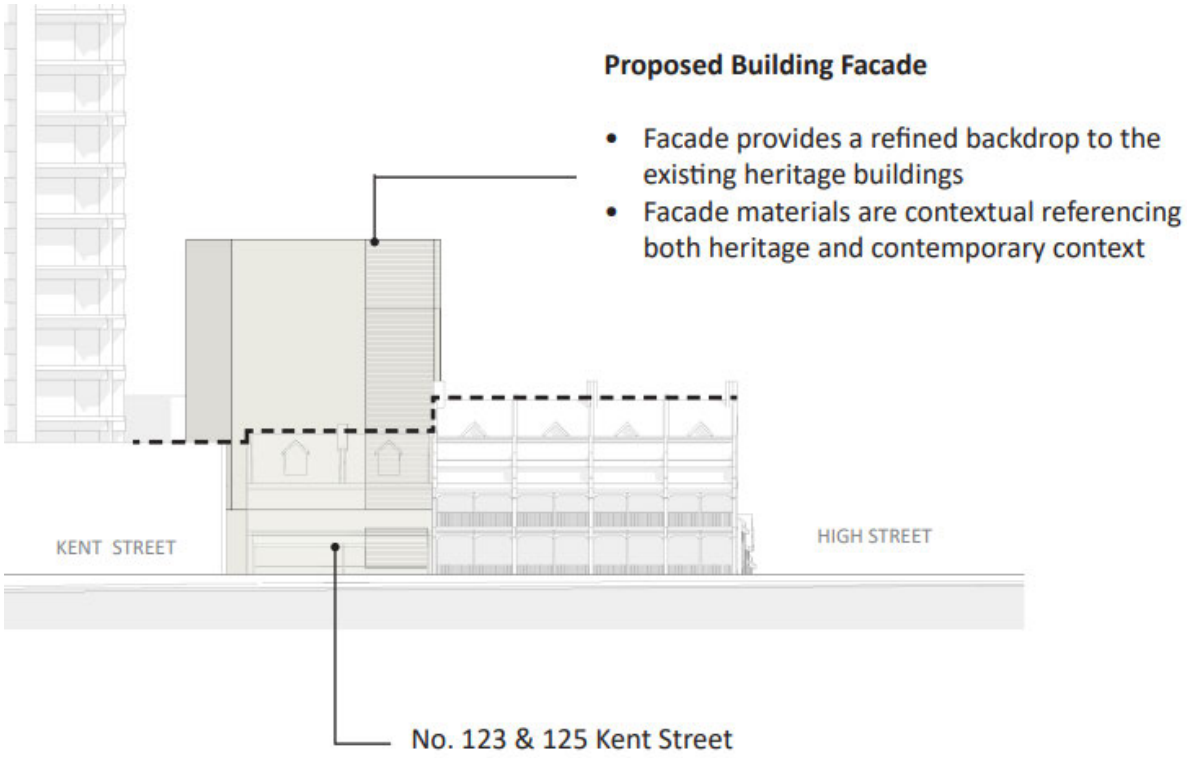
Easements for access , light and air along Kent Street heritage dwelling

Easements for access, drainage, servicing and restriction on use, to rear of heritage dwellings fronting High Street

5. The development is non-compliant in the areas of:
    a. 4.2.3.3 Internal common areas (corridors are too narrow)
    b. 4.2.3.7 private open space and balconies (there are no balconies, and the public open space is a ”hot box” on the roof (see image).
    c. 4.2.3.8 Common open space (unpaved soft landscaped area must comprise a minimum of 5% of the total area of common open space (it does not. There is only the “hot box” on the roof and “communal terrace areas”.

d. 5.1.1.3 side and rear setback and building form separation. “Due to the… constrained nature of the site, achieving a 2m setback is not achievable for this project”

The “hot box”.



6. Heritage

The proposal states “*The SoHI (Statement of Heritage Impact) states that the proposed works are well-designed and adopt a clearly contemporary aesthetic that is similar to and in keeping with other contemporary buildings located within the setting of heritage items and conservation areas*.

The proposed extension to the existing building is considered minor in comparison to existing height and scale of adjoining buildings. The proposal is set well behind the heritage items and will comfortably form part of the existing backdrop of much taller contemporary buildings.” (emphasis added).

A visual assessment of the proposal clearly illustrates how out of place this development is in regard to the heritage terraces in Kent Street and High Street.

Proposed Building Facade
• Facade provides a refined backdrop to the existing heritage buildings
• Facade materials are contextual referencing both heritage and contemporary context
KENT STREET
HIGH STREET
No. 123 & 125 Kent Street

7. Overlooking/over shadowing of neighbouring properties.

Each of the adjacent terraces in High Street and Kent Street will be overlooked and overshadowed by the proposed development. Terraces typically have open spaces at the rear of the property to provide outdoor living space and privacy from the street scape. Given the large scale of the rooftop open space (the “hot box”), overlooking to adjoining properties will be severe.

I object to this proposal as it is totally inappropriate for the area.
The proposal fails to satisfy the objectives and key controls of Sydney LEP 2012 and Sydney DCP 2012, and does not comply with the intent of the NSW Apartment Design Guide in relation to solar access, visual privacy, building separation, overshadowing, and urban design quality.
I recommended that the application be refused or substantially redesigned, including reduced height and FSR, increased setbacks, façade articulation, and demonstrable compliance with ADG and DCP amenity criteria to ensure equitable outcomes for neighbouring properties and the broader city.

Christine

To the City of Sydney Assessment Team,

I am writing to lodge my formal objection to Development Application D/2026/97 for the proposed five-level construction and extension at 125A Kent Street.
I am a resident of Highgate and I am extremely concerned about the scale and impact of this development on the existing building and its residents. The proposal represents a significant overdevelopment of the site and will result in serious and lasting negative impacts.

In particular, I am concerned about:
• Loss of amenity for existing apartments, especially lower-level units, through overshadowing, loss of natural light, and reduced privacy.
• Increased noise, vibration, and disruption during a lengthy construction period.
• Interference with access to the Jenkins Street garages, creating safety risks and daily inconvenience for residents.
• Increased traffic, congestion, and safety issues along Jenkins Street, which is already heavily constrained.
• The cumulative impact on the character, scale, and liveability of the Highgate complex.

Highgate residents purchased their homes with the reasonable expectation that the current built form and amenity would be protected. This proposal undermines that expectation and would materially diminish the quality of life for many residents.

For these reasons, I strongly request that the City of Sydney refuse this application.
Thank you for considering my submission.
Kind regards,
Panos

Dear Sir/Madam,

I write to formally object to Development Application D/2026/97 concerning 125A Kent Street.

The proposal to substantially expand the existing building through a five-level addition represents an excessive intensification of a constrained inner-city site. In my view, the height, scale and bulk of the extension are out of keeping with the surrounding built form and the established character of Kent Street and its immediate context.

A development of this magnitude, constructed hard to the site boundaries, will impose directly on adjoining properties. The absence of meaningful setbacks or separation distances will result in unacceptable overlooking and loss of privacy for neighbouring apartments. The proximity of new habitable rooms and communal rooftop areas to existing dwellings will materially diminish residential amenity.

Overshadowing is another significant concern. The proposal is likely to reduce sunlight access to neighbouring apartments and shared spaces, particularly during winter months when solar access is most critical. This outcome is inconsistent with the planning framework's clear intent to safeguard reasonable daylight and amenity for surrounding residents.

The design response also appears inconsistent with the objectives of the Sydney LEP 2012 and the Apartment Building Design Guide. The scale of development, limited building separation, and reliance on a dominant glazed façade do not demonstrate a context-sensitive or high-quality design outcome. Rather than integrating respectfully with adjacent heritage buildings and the established streetscape, the proposed form would visually dominate and erode the character of the area.

I am also concerned about the impact on the public domain and local residents during and after construction. Increased traffic movements, service access, and construction activity via Jenkins Street will adversely affect access, safety and daily living conditions. Longer term, intensified use of the site will increase noise, traffic and general activity in what is already a constrained and sensitive locality.

In summary, the proposal prioritises development yield over compatibility with its context and the protection of neighbouring amenity. It fails to achieve an appropriate balance between redevelopment and preservation of the character, heritage setting and liveability of the area.

For these reasons, I respectfully request that Development Application D/2026/97 be refused, or at minimum substantially redesigned to reduce height and bulk, provide appropriate setbacks and separation, and ensure genuine compliance with the applicable planning controls.

Yours faithfully,

Eve Crestani

UNOFFICIAL

Good afternoon

Development proposal D/2026/97 – 125A Kent Street

I am writing to oppose this development application.

- The building being proposed is far too big for the small site. Its size and scale and bulk don't match the surrounding area and would end up overpowering the neighbouring buildings.
- The plans also show the structure built right up against the boundaries, leaving no breathing room between buildings.
- The new structure would create a lot of overshadowing, especially in winter, and this would reduce sunlight for nearby apartments.
- The lack of separation between buildings would also cause overlooking and loss of privacy for neighbours.

The overall design, especially the large glass front, does not blend with the existing buildings.

Kind regards

To the City of Sydney,

We are residents of Highgate, 127 Kent Street (Apartment 2409), and we write to formally object to Development Application D/2026/97.

The proposal represents serious overdevelopment of a confined site, with excessive height and bulk that are inconsistent with the established character of the area. The boundary-to-boundary construction, without meaningful setbacks, is inappropriate for this inner-city location and will dominate adjoining buildings.The design fails to meet the objectives of the Sydney LEP 2012, particularly in relation to protecting neighbouring amenity and delivering high-quality, context-sensitive design outcomes. It also appears inconsistent with the Apartment Design Guide requirements for privacy distances, natural ventilation and private open space. The monolithic glass façade, with limited articulation, would create a stark and reflective structure that is out of character with the surrounding built form and heritage streetscape. The design raises legitimate concerns regarding glare, heat reflection and potential wind tunnelling, reducing pedestrian comfort and safety.

I also note that aspects of the architect's Design Statement appear misleading in relation to context, scale, privacy and amenity, as these claims do not align with the practical design outcomes. The proposal appears focused on maximising yield rather than achieving design excellence or genuine compliance with DCP and ADG objectives. As a resident who uses Jenkins Lane daily to walk to the office, I am concerned that construction activity and additional traffic movements will exacerbate existing congestion and reduce pedestrian safety in what is already a constrained access point.

Overall, the development would unacceptably harm neighbouring amenity, heritage character and public domain conditions. I respectfully request that the application be refused or substantially redesigned to reduce height and increase setbacks.

Yours sincerely,

We wish to lodge the strongest possible objection to the ill conceived and inappropriate over development 125a Kent St.
The submission contemplates a building that is overlarge for the site ,overlooks a number of Highgate Apartments and greatly impedes access to Jenkins Lane which is already often blocked with service and or delivery vehicles.
All in all an unrealistic plan which in effect try's to " squeeze a quart into a pint bottle".

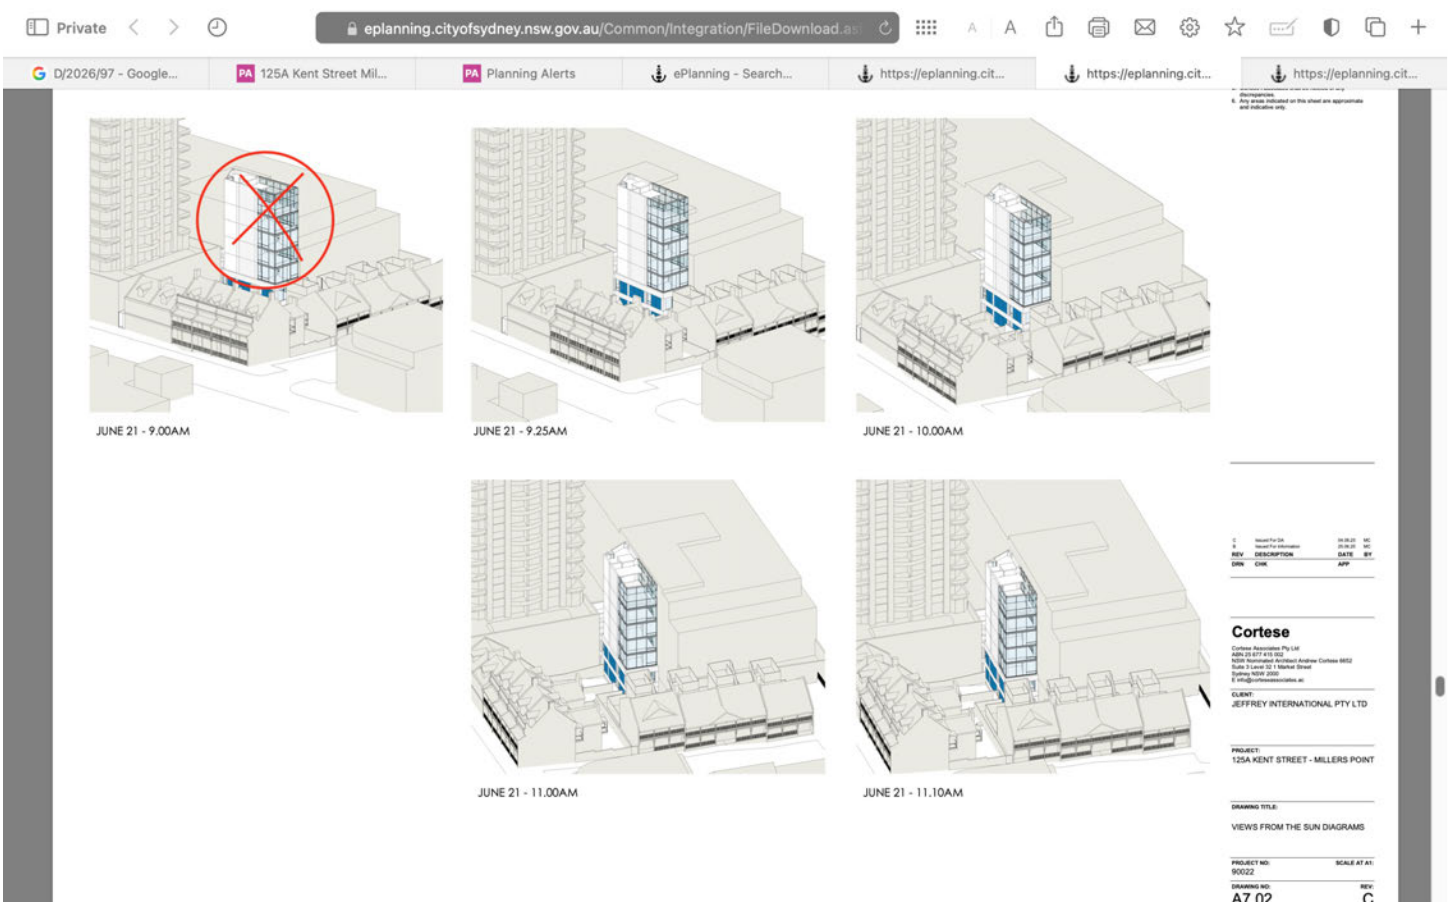
The Chief Executive Officer
City of Sydney Council

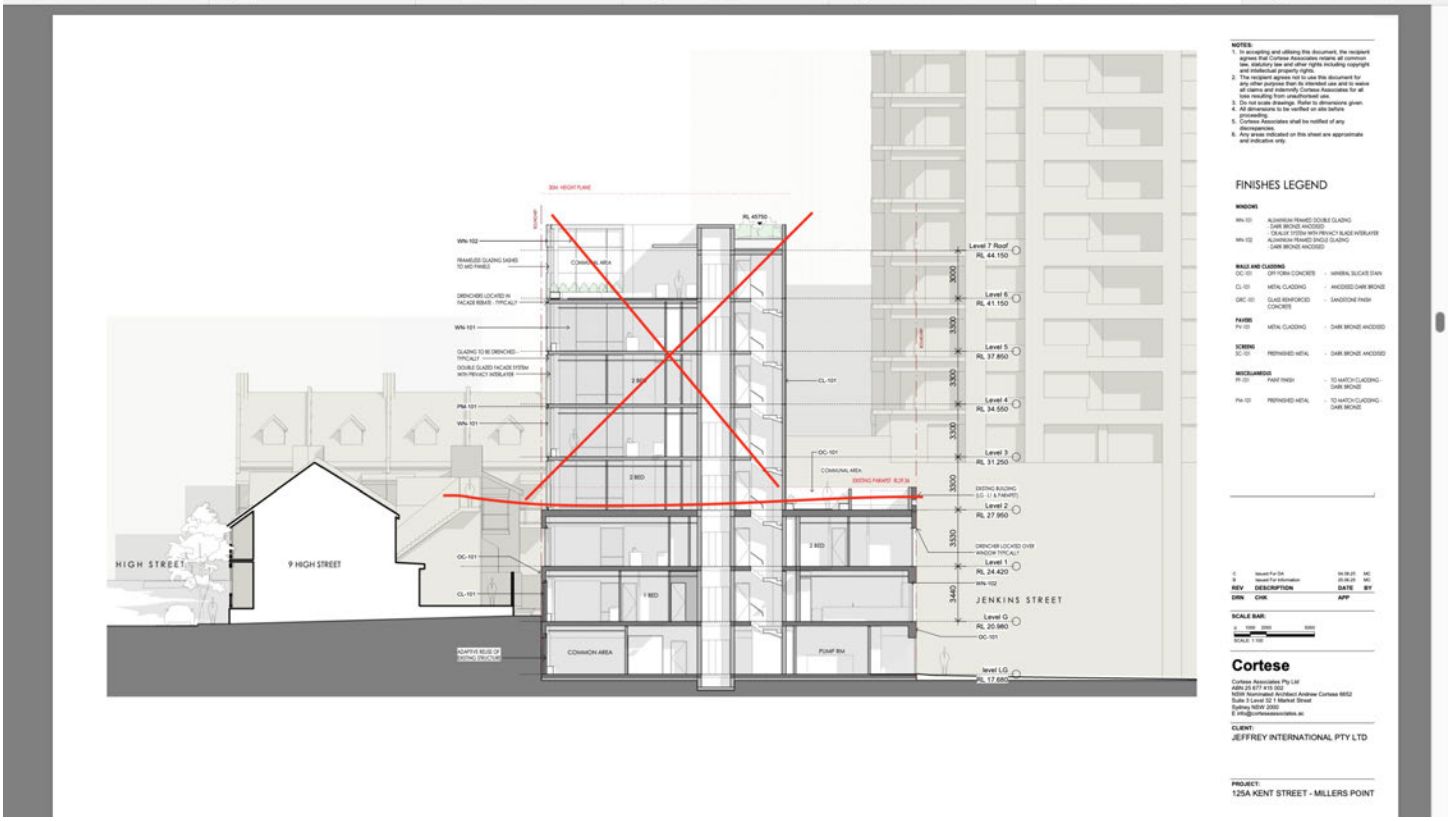
Dear Madam,

I strongly object to Development Application D/2026/97.

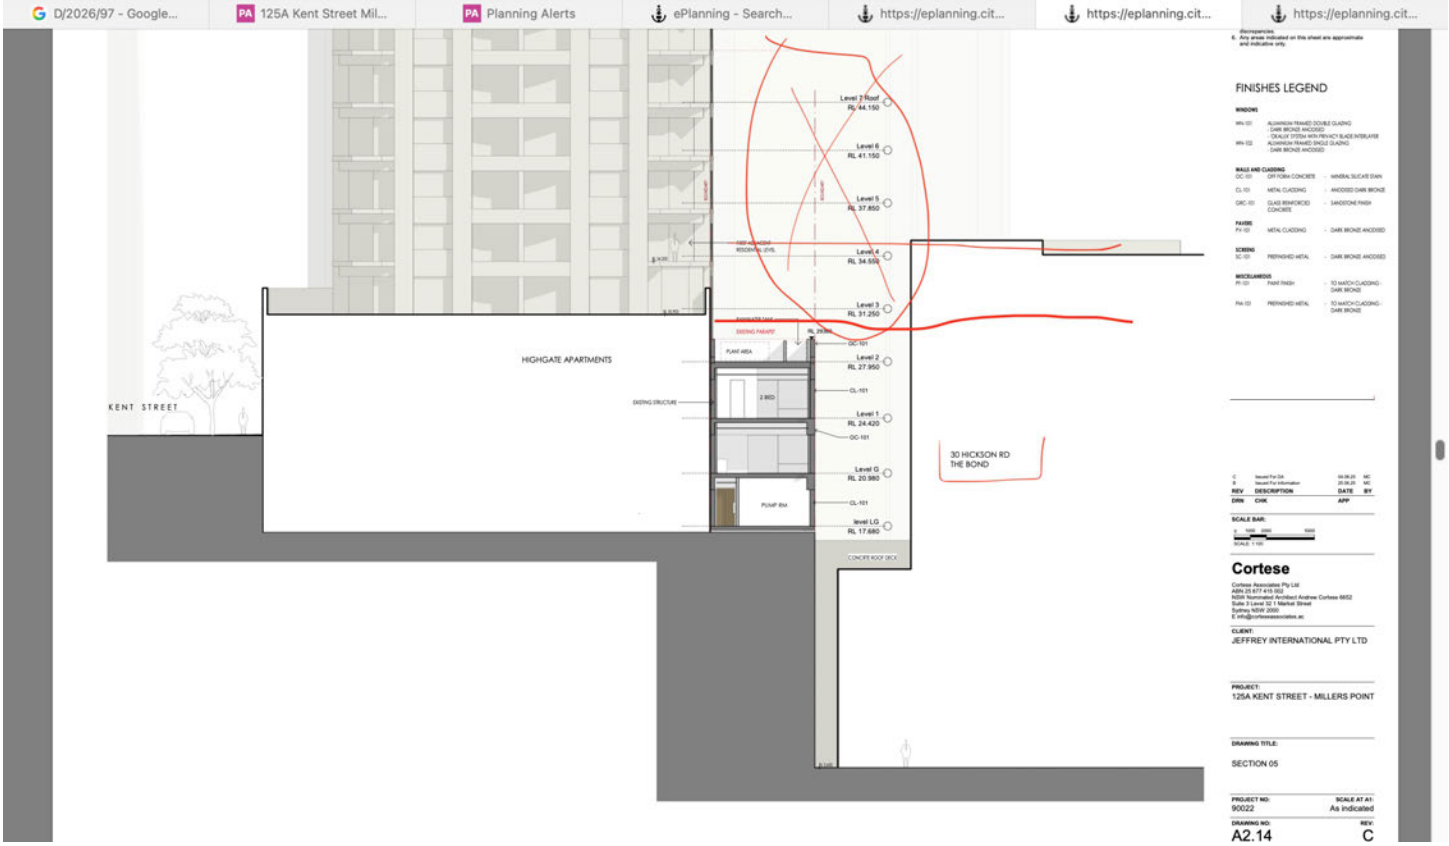
Specifically, I refer to the document titled "125A Kent Street, Millers Point – Development Application Architectural Drawings" (available at: City of Sydney ePlanning portal https://eplanning.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au/Common/Integration/FileDownload.ashx?id=!!Z%2bzK5zLsArCCZ2HwMFzWzz2bzmqkPxtTSZTEFQ%3d%3dGc8EHufLwP8%3d&ext=PDF&filesize=12320604&modified=2026-01-19T01:27:16Z



It is clear from the attached marked excerpts that the height of the proposed development above the existing building at 125A Kent Street is entirely unacceptable. The proposal not only interferes directly with the Highgate Apartments but also exceeds the height of The Bond Building at 30 Hickson Road, in direct violation of the Barangaroo design envelope.



Accordingly, levels 3 through 7 of the proposed development should be removed.



Furthermore, the proposal represents boundary-to-boundary overdevelopment without adequate separation and should be significantly reduced in all directions.

To the CEO and Planning Department of City of Sydney,

I am writing as an owner of the Highgate building at 127 Kent Street to formally lodge my opposition to the proposed development at 125A Kent Street (DA D/2026/97).

While I understand the concept of adaptive reuse, the proposed five-level construction is a significant overdevelopment of such a constrained site. My primary concerns regarding this application are as follows:

Impact on Living Amenity and Privacy
The plan for boundary-to-boundary construction without appropriate setbacks is highly concerning. The lack of separation will result in a severe loss of privacy for those of us in the lower levels of Highgate, as the new windows will look directly into existing living spaces.

Overshadowing
The height and bulk of the proposed tower will block essential sunlight, particularly during the winter months, overshadowing our apartments and outdoor areas well beyond what should be considered acceptable for this neighbourhood.

Heritage and Aesthetic Incompatibility
The "monolithic glass" design is completely at odds with the historic character of Kent Street. Rather than complementing the adjacent heritage buildings, this design would visually overwhelm them.

Access and Traffic Issues
I am very worried about the impact on Jenkins Street. The construction phase will likely make accessing our garages impossible, and the long-term increase in traffic and noise on such a narrow street is unsustainable.

Failure to Meet Standards
The proposal falls short of the Apartment Design Guide (ADG) requirements regarding natural ventilation and privacy distances, suggesting that the project prioritizes the number of units over quality design and community impact.

I ask that the City of Sydney to kindly refuse this application in its current form and require a full redesign that respects the scale, heritage, and privacy of the surrounding residents.

Could you please keep me informed at this email address?

With thanks and kind regards,

Stephen Leong

Dear Planning Minister

I wish to lodge objection to the above DA Application.

The proposed development is simply too large in scale and concept for the site .

It should be scaled back to a more acceptable design, perhaps 5 stories with increased setbacks and more favourable FSR.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to formally object to the proposed development at 125A Kent Street, Millers Point.

My objection is based on the following concerns:

1. Inadequate Site Size and Overdevelopment

The subject site is extremely limited in size and physical capacity. The proposal to expand the existing single apartment into five apartments plus additional business space represents a clear overdevelopment of the site. The physical constraints of the property simply do not support such density, and the scale of the proposal appears incompatible with the limited footprint and surrounding built environment.

2. Lack of Parking and Ongoing Illegal Parking Issues

The property currently has no on-site parking provision. Despite this, the current owner has been using Jenkins Street for parking, despite clear “No Parking” and “No Stopping” signage along various parts of the street.

Jenkins Street is already a sensitive access point, as several Kent Street properties rely on it for garage access. There have been multiple confrontations and ongoing tensions since the current owner purchased the property due to obstruction and illegal parking behaviour.

We are seriously concerned about how the applicant intends to address parking demand if the development increases from one dwelling to five apartments plus business use. An increase in residents and commercial activity will inevitably increase vehicle numbers. Without dedicated parking provision, this will further exacerbate congestion, illegal parking, access blockages, and conflict among residents.

The cumulative impact on neighbouring properties, particularly those requiring access via Jenkins Street, has not been adequately addressed.

3. Unsuitable Location and Physical Constraints

The building occupies a highly constrained and unusual position in a narrow area between the rear of a 28-storey building and a rocky cliff face. This creates a confined and restrictive environment that is not appropriate for accommodating multiple additional residents.

Given these physical limitations, the site is fundamentally unsuitable for the level of residential density and mixed-use intensity proposed.

Conclusion

For the reasons outlined above — overdevelopment of a constrained site, absence of parking provision, ongoing illegal parking impacts, and the unsuitable physical context — I respectfully request that this development application be refused.

Thank you for considering this submission

Attention Bill MacKay. Manager Planning Assessments.

Dear Bill.

I strongly object to the proposed development at 125A Kent St. Millers Point.

This development will seriously impact the residents in our building. It is a massive over development of a confined site and totally inconsistent with the character of the area. It will seriously restrict sunlight to nearby apartments and will visually overwhelm adjacent heritage building eroding the historic Kent Street style.

It would appear that this design fails the objective of the Sydney LEP 2012 by disregarding the need to protect the amenity of neighbouring properties.

Parking and building access via Jenkins Lane would also appear to have been ignored. There is no doubt that residents of this proposed building would have to park temporarily in Jenkins Lane in order to drop off goods and supplies. This is over and above the massive Jenkins Lane impact during construction.

Overall, the project would harm neighbouring amenity and heritage character. It should be refused.

Regards.

RE:

Objection to Development Application D/2026/97

125A Kent Street

Millers Point NSW 2000

Dear City of Sydney Council,

I write to you to wholeheartedly request that the DA submission D/2026/97 is rejected. I formally object to the alterations outlined to reuse the existing 3 storey building and construct a new 4 part 5 storey extension.

I am the owner of Unit 602/127 Kent Street in the adjacent 'HighGate' building and have been since I purchased the property in 2009. It is a lovely unit that I have lived in on and off for many years. It is a unit that I love and is close to my heart – I hope to see my children live in this unit at some stage in the future. This unit is on the northwest corner of 6th floor of the HighGate and is likely the most significantly impacted unit in this DA.

I have many concerns about this proposal that specifically are related to my unit. To simplify in point form:

- The proposed development will significantly impact on my westerly and northwesterly views. I currently have views of the harbor, and this development will block most of this.
- There will be significant impacts to my westerly and northwesterly sunshine. I love the westerly sunshine that I currently receive, and the shadows created by this extension will completely impact on this.

- The proposed development is very close to my unit and my outdoor verandah. The privacy concerns and feeling of confinement it will create will impact on the units sense of space. I am very concerned about impact it will have on my privacy.
- There will be noise from the development occupiers and building services that will be heard from my unit impacting on living conditions.
- The above points will significantly impact on the valuation of my property. This will have a significant impact on my financial and psychological well-being.

Speaking for myself and other residences of the Highgate building and other impacted residential buildings in the area.

- This is an overdevelopment of a site with little access that will impact all other occupants in the area. Just because it is a car-free development does not mean that there won't be traffic implications. Jenkins St is essentially one way. Services, removalists, waste, maintenance vehicles etc. will need to use this. There is no turning circle, and this will make Jenkins Street unusable at times for cars trying to enter and exit the Highgate and adjacent buildings.
- This development is an attempt for the developer to maximize profit rather than take in the surrounding architecture and complement the historic Kent Street and adjacent heritage buildings. The proposal supports profits over the local residents of Sydney.

Thank you for giving me an opportunity to express my concerns. This development should not be supported. It will significantly impact on myself and other local communities as well as degrade the adjacent architecture and heritage buildings. There are also significant safety concerns with regards to access. The overshadowing, overdevelopment and lack of building separation is unacceptable.

Kind Regards,

Alex Mackey

We hereby object to this development at 125A Kent Street Millers Point.

I am a resident of The Bond apartments which backs on to Jenkins Street the amenity of which will be severely impacted by the proposed development.

I also note that this development adds 5 stories to an existing 3 story height building as a “boundary to boundary” development in a State Heritage Listed area where the history of Sydney is represented by the terraces in Kent and High Streets.

The issues, apart from the traffic impact in Jenkins Street, are:

- overshadowing
- solar access
- no building separation
- bulk and scale

This proposed development represents unacceptable over development of a compact inner-city site.

Dear City of Sydney Councillors

I strongly object to the DA - reference D/2026/97 -

“Adaptive reuse of existing 3 storey building and construct a new 4 part 5 storey extension to the northern extent of the site and use as a residential flat building containing a total of 5 apartments with roof top communal open space"

As an owner of an apartment in 127 Kent St, Millers Point/Sydney, I object on the following grounds

The design fails the objectives of the Sydney LEP 2012. It disregards the need to protect the amenity of neighbouring/surrounding properties and achieve high-quality, context-sensitive design.

The proposal certainly does not meet the Apartment Design Guide (ADG) requirements for privacy distances, natural ventilation, or private open space.

c.
The tower will cause significant overshadowing, particularly during winter, thus reducing the sunlight to nearby apartments and outdoor areas well beyond acceptable limits.

d.
The monolithic glass façade and lack of articulation will produce a stark, reflective appearance that is inconsistent with surrounding built form.

The development would visually overwhelm adjacent, and most important and significant heritage buildings and erode the historic Kent Street streetscape, which no doubt the Council would wish to protect.

f.
The glass tower design raises serious concerns about glare, heat and sun reflection, and wind tunnelling, making the street less comfortable and safe for pedestrians. The latter is regularly used and enjoyed by many.

I do hope the Council will consider seriously these concerns and take appropriate action and reject the DA outright or quite rightly propose changes which are in keeping with this area and the Council's own regulations

Thank you for your time

Sincerly

Subject: Objection to Development Application – Proposed 5 apartments with rooftop communal open space at 125A Kent Street, Millers Point NSW 2000

February 21, 2026

Dear General Manager,

I would like to formally object to the Development Application for:
"Adaptive reuse of existing 3-storey building and construction of a new 4-part 5-storey extension to the northern extent of the site and use as a residential flat building containing a total of 5 apartments with rooftop communal open space."

Strict heritage controls apply to the development area which is within the Millers Point Conservation Area. In my view, the proposal is fundamentally at odds with these controls and should not be supported in its current form.

1. Inconsistency with Heritage and Conservation Area objectives

In the heritage area of Millers Point, continuous rows of terraces, their rear wings, and the low, consistent roofscape are central to the heritage significance. Council's heritage analysis for Millers Point acknowledges that roof alterations and additional storeys visible from the public domain can substantially diminish the significance of the area.

While the planning framework anticipates limited roof alterations in conservation areas, these are clearly intended to be minor in scale, subordinate, and consistent with established forms. By contrast, the current proposal introduces a full additional rooftop level above an already tall three-storey warehouse. This would materially alter the historic roofline and the way the building presents to the street and wider precinct.
In my opinion, the scheme is inconsistent with the purpose and intent of Section 4.1.5 (Roof alterations and additions) of the DCP and the broader heritage and conservation objectives that apply to Millers Point. Rather than a carefully controlled, low-impact modification, it constitutes a substantial and visually dominant new built form.

2. Excessive height, bulk, and visual prominence
The development seeks to increase height and bulk above the existing roof of a multi-storey warehouse in a context where the prevailing skyline is deliberately low, and roof forms are modest and cohesive. The rooftop structure would:

- Not provide a respectful height transition to the adjoining heritage-listed terraces at 123–125 Kent Street and the surrounding terrace streetscape.

- Introduce excessive visual mass that conflicts with the fine-grain, traditional roof profiles characteristic of Millers Point.

- Be clearly visible from different points along Kent Street and surrounding streets and laneways, drawing the eye away from original heritage roofs.

Consider that Sydney LEP 2012 and associated planning work for Millers Point stress the importance that building heights must be in harmony with heritage and conservation sites, including by providing suitable transitions and protecting important views. The additional storeys proposed on this site run counter to those aims.

3. Undesirable effects on public views, roofscape, streetscape
The building at 125A Kent Street is already a tall, detached structure within a heritage setting of high significance. A conspicuous rooftop level will:

- Interrupt valued public views across and around Millers Point, where the layered pattern of heritage terraces, restrained roof forms and natural topography are important elements.

- Create contemporary elements – including extensive glazing, balustrades and rooftop services – that would read as an intrusive "bolt-on" addition, visually detached from the original building form.

- Contribute to diminishing the continuity of the roofscape that Council's heritage studies identify as fundamental to Millers Point's intactness and special character.

The Millers Point and Dawes Point Village Precinct design guidelines state that new development must not disrupt the established roofscape and that roof additions must be tightly controlled to preserve heritage values and key views. The proposed rooftop structure in question does not meet the required standards.

4. Accumulated intensification and undesirable precedent
The warehouse at 125A Kent Street already represents a substantial built form within the conservation area. Increasing its height and bulk would:

- Contribute to cumulative building mass in a precinct where Council's own reporting notes that existing FSR and height controls can already allow more development than is compatible with conservation outcomes.

- Set an undesirable precedent for similar rooftop extensions on other buildings within Millers Point. If replicated, such additions would incrementally dismantle the largely intact roofscape and heritage character that current controls are intended to safeguard.

Planning documents for Millers Point – both statutory and advisory – make clear that while change will occur, it must be rigorously managed so that the area's overarching heritage significance is not undermined. A prominent, visible rooftop extension of the type proposed is inconsistent with that approach.

5. Privacy, overlooking, overshadowing and amenity impacts

Rooftop and upper-level additions generally incorporate outdoor terraces, larger glazing areas, and expanded habitable spaces. On a tall building within a compact heritage neighbourhood, this raises significant concerns about privacy and amenity. In this context, elevated new spaces can:

- Directly overlook the private backyards, balconies, and internal rooms of neighbouring dwellings. I am particularly concerned that the proposed increase in height and mass will significantly obstruct existing outlooks from lower levels of Highgate and contribute to a sense of visual crowding , overshadowing and enclosure.

- The very close proximity of the building at 125A Kent to the Highgate Building and surrounding terraces demands a sensitive approach to any structural changes.

- Increase noise and activity at roof level, adversely affecting the acoustic environment of nearby residents.

Council's DCP seeks to ensure that new development maintains reasonable privacy and does not cause unacceptable impacts on the amenity of adjoining properties, particularly in relation to overlooking and noise. Converting the roof into an occupied level with communal open space on this site makes it highly unlikely that those objectives can be satisfied.

6. Loss of Space & Outlook.

Residents of Millers Point are already experiencing substantial change due to the very tall towers at Barangaroo and the further development to come. These projects are altering outlooks, reducing harbour views, and changing the setting of this important historic precinct. Allowing additional encroachment on existing buildings and views – especially via a discretionary rooftop extension within a conservation area – would further diminish residential amenity and erode the qualities that make Millers Point an attractive and distinctive place to live.

.....

Requested outcome
For the reasons outlined above, I submit that the proposal for 5 apartments with rooftop communal open space at 125A Kent Street is inconsistent with the heritage, character, visual, and amenity objectives applying to the Millers Point Conservation Area. On this basis, the application should not be approved in its present form.

I respectfully request that Council:

- Refuse consent to the proposal for 5 apartments with rooftop communal open space as currently designed: or, failing that

- Require a fundamental redesign so that the perceived height and bulk of the existing building are not increased, and so that the heritage significance, roofscape, privacy, and amenity of the surrounding area are clearly protected in accordance with the LEP, DCP, and the Millers Point design guidelines.

Thank you for considering this submission.

Yours faithfully,

As am owner of a Unit at 127 Kent Street aka Highgate, I am writing to object to the above referenced application which is the least aesthetic and most out of character with the architecture and community in the immediate vicinity of the subject site.

We urge you to refuse this application due to the following reasons:

* The Design Statement in the application has a narrative that is not borne out by facts of the proposed design including matters like privacy, amenity, and density. The proposed design detail is clearly disrespectful of these matters.

* The design does not meet the objectives of the Sydney LEP 2012 which stipulates the need to protect the amenity of neighbouring properties and achieve highquality, context-sensitive design

* The proposal violates the Apartment Design Guide
(ADG) Which require respect for privacy distances and private open spaces as well as the need for natural ventilation

* The development would impair sunlight and privacy of nearby apartments by overlooking into neighbours

* The proposal if approved woul lead to a significant overdevelopment of a relatively small constrained site,

* The proposed height and density violate the aesthetics and character of the surroundings and would stick out like a sore thumb

* The proposed reflective glass structure is ugly, does not respect the character of the vicinity and would detract from the history and heritage of the existing buildings on Kent Street

* The sole objective of the proposed design is over capitalisation in defiance of the objectives of the DCP and ADG.

We request you to refuse this application.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am a low-level resident of Highgate, living approximately 15 metres from the proposed development site. I am writing to formally object to application D/2026/97.

My concerns are threefold:
1. Existing impacts are already significant -
The current building has a rooftop open space. From my home, I can clearly see people working there every day. When I open my windows, I can hear their conversations. This is the reality today.

2. The proposal will make everything UNACCEPTABLE - Adding a taller building with a rooftop terrace just 15 metres away will escalate this situation. My privacy will be completely lost, and the noise will become unbearable for every low-level resident.

3. Construction phase will harm our residents' wellbeing - Months of construction so close to our homes will bring constant noise and dust. Many middle-aged and elderly residents live here. We CANNOT be expected to keep our windows sealed and live in darkness during this period.

This development simply does not respect the rights of those already living here.I urge you to REFUSE this application.

Yours faithfully,
Ellen Ding

I find the consideration of this project seriously flawed.

It represents serious overdevelopment of the confined site which will adversely affect surrounding communities in many respects. Seems to be no meaningful building separation which will result in severe loss of privacy for surrounding apartments.

Traffic in the narrow Jenkins Street will become unwieldy and create significant congestion.

There are many more issues involved and I would be grateful to have some explanation from Council as to how this project can be contemplated - it seems completely out of order in so many aspects.

I would also suggest that the date for submissions be extended. It's a major issue to the surrounding community and I feel allows little time for full discussions.

To whom it may concern,
I'd like to object to D/2026/97 – to the adaptive reuse proposal lodged for 125A Kent Street.
The proposal states it is to reuse the existing 3 storey building and construct a new 4 part 5 storey extension to the northern extent of the site and use as a residential flat building containing a total of 5 apartments with roof top communal open space.
Under Sydney LEP 2012, Clause 4.3 (Height of Buildings) and Clause 4.4 (Floor Space Ratio) seeks to establish maximum height and FSR controls intended to ensure development intensity is appropriate for site constraints, infrastructure capacity, and surrounding context.
While the proposal may technically seek to meet numerical height and FSR controls, it fails to satisfy the LEP objectives of:

- Ensuring building height and bulk are consistent with the desired future character of the area;
- Minimising adverse impacts on the amenity of adjoining properties;
- Achieving high-quality urban design outcomes.

The boundary-to-boundary tower form, lack of upper-level setbacks, and monolithic glazing result in an over-scaled and visually dominant building envelope that undermines these objectives.

Hi

Am writing to disapprove of this Application.

We live in the building next door and it would be extremely noisy and inconvenient. The building two doors down from ours is currently getting knocked down and rebuilt and the building opposite is also getting built. All these renovations are extremely disruptive to all of the surrounding residents.

The carpark on Jensen Street will be extremely inconvenienced with access to the carpark and having no building separation will be extremely close for noise and privacy between the buildings. If a roof access is given for this building it will also cause extra noise given the close proximity and will cause lack of privacy. It will also cause light being blocked into our building.

The building on Kent Street is very historic and should remain that way. A modern building would look out of place.

Thank You

Dear City of Sydney CEO and staff,

Hope you are well.

I am writing to formally express my serious concerns regarding the 125A Kent Street Development Proposal (D/2026/97), which seeks approval for adding a 5-level construction at Highgate's north east corner.

In my view, the proposal constitutes an excessive overdevelopment of a constrained site. The scale, height, and bulk are out of keeping with the established character of the surrounding area and fail to respond appropriately to its context.

The design does not satisfy the objectives of the Sydney LEP 2012, particularly in relation to protecting the amenity of neighbouring properties and delivering high-quality, context-sensitive development. The proposed tower would result in significant overshadowing, especially during winter months, substantially reducing sunlight access to nearby apartments and communal outdoor spaces beyond reasonable limits.

In addition, the proposal provides inadequate building separation, leading to direct overlooking into adjacent dwellings and a serious loss of privacy. It also falls short of the Apartment Design Guide (ADG) standards for privacy separation, natural cross-ventilation, and provision of private open space.

The development would visually dominate nearby heritage buildings and detract from the historic character of the Kent Street streetscape. Furthermore, the extensive glass façade raises concerns regarding glare, heat reflection, and potential wind tunnelling effects, which could negatively impact pedestrian comfort and safety at street level.

Overall, the proposed development would result in unacceptable impacts on residential amenity, heritage significance, and the public domain. For these reasons, I respectfully submit that the application should be refused.

Yours sincerely,

Sophie Lan

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to formally object to the proposed development at 125A Kent Street, Millers Point, specifically on the grounds of inadequate parking provision and the resulting impact on surrounding residents.

The property currently has no on-site parking spaces attached to it. Despite this, the current owner has been regularly using Jenkins Street for parking, even though there are clear “No Parking” and “No Stopping” signs along various sections of that street. Jenkins Street is not designed to accommodate additional parking demand and is relied upon by several Kent Street properties for access to their garages.

Since the current owner purchased the property, there have already been multiple disputes and confrontations due to vehicles obstructing access. The existing situation demonstrates that parking demand from even a single dwelling is already creating tension and operational problems within the street.

The proposal seeks to expand the current single apartment into five apartments plus business space. This will significantly increase the number of residents, visitors, and potentially employees requiring parking. However, the development application does not provide any on-site parking solution. It is unreasonable to assume that parking demand will not increase proportionally with the proposed expansion.

Jenkins Street is narrow, contains clear parking restrictions, and functions primarily as an accessway. Additional vehicle pressure will likely result in:

- Increased illegal parking
- Obstruction of garage access for neighbouring properties
- Traffic congestion and safety risks
- Escalation of disputes between residents

Approving a development that intensifies residential and commercial use without addressing parking provision will unfairly shift the burden onto neighbouring properties and public space.

Given the existing history of parking issues and the absence of any realistic parking solution within the proposal, I respectfully request that this development application be refused, or at minimum, that adequate on-site parking provisions be required before any approval is considered.

Thank you for your consideration

Dr Lee Koh

Good Morning,

I would like to express my opposition to the DA for the site 125A Kent Street at the northern end of Jenkins Street .

Firstly the land area of the site is small and a further 5 level boundary to boundary extension is a serious overdevelopment. It's construction without setbacks and overshadowing Highgate apartments is intrusive.

Secondly, access to the site is restricted…at the of a pedestrian lane from Kent street and at the end of narrow Jenkin Street, where two way traffic is hazardous at any time. Are there to be prevision for parking within the building? But, even more worrying, is how workers and materials are to be moved into the site during construction.

Thirdly, the strange shape of the building will add nothing to the appearance of the area and only inconvenience neighbours.

The extension of the existing building is inappropriate and should not be considered.

Hello
I am an owner in 2307 Kent St and I strongly object to this application.

Part of my reasoning is that this application is an inappropriate overdevelopment by adding 5 stories to an existing 3 story building behind the State Heritage Listed terraces in Kent and High Street, Millers Point.

This is effectively proposing a 'boundary to boundary' 8 story development overlooking the heritage houses.

I am of the opinion some of the issues with this over development will cause overshadowing, solar access, privacy, lack of building separation, lack of urban design quality, not in line with the surrounding heritage properties, parking problems and more traffic in this neighbourhood, just to name a few.

The wind tunnel affect will increase and this is already a problem in Kent St.

The proposed glass tower at 125A Kent Street is an unacceptable overdevelopment on and in a heritage inner-city site such as Millers Point.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

REFERECE; D/2026/97

I have received a proposed development under the above reference in relation to site

125A Kent Street, Millers Point.

I am horrified that such a proposal would even be entertained by Council.

This is a very confined area, adjacent to historical homes and it would impede on their privacy as well as not being in accordance with the heritage guidelines of the area.

The impact on neighbouring apartment buildings would also create many problems, eg., glare and heat reflection from the proposed glass façade. We already have this problem with the Crown building and its neighbouring residential buildings.

The access is via Jenkins Street. There are three apartment buildings accessing this small thoroughfare. Highgate has two garage entrances, one of which I use and I can see nothing but problems and inconvenience with trades people vehicles, construction and machinery. There is no suitable access for this from Kent Street.

Where do the proposed residents park their vehicles. There is limited parking in the surrounding streets now and I can envisage residents parking in Jenkins Street, blocking our entrances to our driveways. The three apartments have delivery vehicles and removalist using this space weekly.

The height of this proposal is most unacceptable as is the request for a roof top communal open space.

Please strongly reconsider this proposal and refuse this development immediately.

Yours faithfully

Margaret Anne Cormie (Mrs)

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to formally object to Development Application D/2026/97 concerning the proposed development at 125A Kent Street.
As a resident and owner at Highgate, I have serious concerns about the scale, design, and impacts of this proposal on the surrounding properties and the broader neighbourhood.
The proposal represents a clear overdevelopment of a confined site, with excessive height and bulk that are inconsistent with the established character of the area. The boundary-to-boundary construction and lack of appropriate setbacks will dominate adjoining buildings and significantly reduce amenity for neighbouring residents.

In particular, I am concerned about:
- Substantial overshadowing of nearby apartments, especially during winter months
- Direct overlooking and loss of privacy due to inadequate building separation
- Increased noise, traffic, and disruption—especially affecting access via Jenkins Street
- Non-compliance with the Apartment Design Guide in relation to privacy, ventilation, and open space

The visual impact of the proposed design, which is not in keeping with the surrounding heritage streetscape
Additionally, the proposal appears to prioritise development yield over design quality and fails to adequately respond to the objectives of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012, particularly in relation to protecting neighbouring amenity and ensuring context-sensitive design.
Overall, I believe this development would have a significant negative impact on residents, the streetscape, and the character of the area. I respectfully request that the City of Sydney refuse this application, or at the very least require a substantial redesign that reduces height, bulk, and impacts on neighbouring properties.

Thank you for considering my submission.

Proposed Development: 125A Kent Street Millers Point NSW 2000

Attention Elizabeth L Jones:

As a resident of Highgate Apartments, I wish to lodge my opposition to the above development proposal.

Both height issues and proximity to adjacent and surrounding apartments and homes show extreme overdevelopment.

Distance between buildings is minimal; resulting in loss of privacy; impacting on the aesthetics of the area particularly the heritage character.

Parking via Jenkins Street will be an issue with the increase in traffic to the street, which at present has no turning ‘circle’ or adequate parking for the existing building, before the proposed development.

Please reconsider this development which shows no consideration to neighbours and their existing quality of lifestyle.

The General Manager
City of Sydney Council

RE: Development Application D/2026/97

I am writing as the owner of an apartment at [redacted], Millers Point, to express my concerns regarding the above Development Application. Having reviewed the proposal, I am worried that the scale, height and bulk of the development represent an overdevelopment of a relatively confined site and are not in keeping with the established character of the Kent Street precinct. In particular, the boundary-to-boundary construction and overall massing appear excessive and would visually dominate adjoining properties.

I am also concerned about the likely impacts on neighbouring amenity. The proposal appears to result in significant overshadowing—especially during winter—along with loss of privacy due to limited building separation and direct overlooking into nearby apartments. The design does not seem to fully meet the objectives of the Sydney LEP 2012 or the Apartment Design Guide in relation to privacy, natural ventilation and appropriate setbacks. In addition, the largely monolithic glass façade may create glare, heat reflection and wind impacts, while sitting uncomfortably within the heritage streetscape of Millers Point.

Overall, I feel the proposal prioritises maximising development profit over achieving a context-sensitive and well-considered outcome. I respectfully request that Council carefully assess these impacts and consider requiring a substantial redesign—particularly in relation to height, setbacks and building separation—or refuse the application in its current form.

Dear CEO,

We are residents of Highgate at 127 Kent Street, and our apartment directly faces the proposed development at 125A Kent Street. The home that we have grown to love will be significantly and personally affected if this application proceeds, and we are writing to formally object to Development Application D/2026/97.

The planned five-storey extension on such a tight site feels like clear overdevelopment. Its height and bulk are out of character with this part of Kent Street and would dominate neighbouring buildings, including Highgate. The lack of meaningful setbacks, especially where the building comes so close to existing apartments, is particularly worrying for those of us living directly opposite.

From my windows, I will be looking straight into the new building, and the new residents will be looking straight into mine. This loss of privacy is unacceptable and deeply disturbing. The minimal separation between buildings means that everyday living spaces and bedrooms will be directly overlooked, fundamentally changing how I can use and enjoy my own apartment.

I am also very concerned about the loss of natural light. The increased height and bulk of the proposed structure will cast substantial additional shadow, particularly in winter, reducing sunlight to my apartment and surrounding homes. Access to daylight is a key part of residential amenity, and this proposal will noticeably diminish it for existing residents.

The design itself, with its largely glass façade and limited articulation, appears harsh and out of keeping with the established character of the street and nearby heritage buildings. I am worried about glare, heat reflection, and wind tunnelling at street level, which could make the area less comfortable and inviting for residents and pedestrians alike.

In addition to the long-term impacts, the construction period would seriously disrupt access via Jenkins Street, including to garages and building services used by Highgate residents. Noise, vibration, construction traffic, and access restrictions will have a very real day-to-day impact on those of us living here.

Taken together, these issues mean the proposal would significantly reduce my quality of life in my own home. It prioritises squeezing more yield out of a small site rather than respecting existing residents, local character, and planning objectives. So, I would like to ask that Council not allow this development application or require a substantial redesign that reduces height and bulk, increases setbacks and separation, and properly addresses privacy, overshadowing, and streetscape impacts.

Having already given several City of Sydney officers access to our apartment to share our perspective, we can accommodate additional visits if needed to address the situation.

Thank you for considering my submission. We would be happy to provide more information or speak with Council staff if that would help you.

Yours sincerely,

Samurdya Vishmi Wijeratne Hashan Gayasri Udugahapattuwa

Dear Submission Officer

My wife Rosemary Cave and I reside in Unit 20 127 Kent Street, Sydney, which adjoins the above development proposal. My wife is the owner of Unit20. We have learnt of the above proposal through the Chairman of our Body Corporate. The proposal should be rejected for the following reasons :-

1. The addition of 5 storeys is a serious over development.
   It will seriously impact upon the outlook and living amenity of the lower apartments closest to the proposal.
   Access to our Jenkins street garages will be significantly restricted both during construction and after.
   The long term amenity of many owners of Highgate will be seriously compromised.
   Parking along Kent Street, always scarce, will be impossible.

2.The existing site, which is already confined,will be greatly overdeveloped, putting it completely out of step with the wonderful heritage street scape. This is ugliness beyond compare.

3. Further to 2 above the proposal is so out of character it will have the appearance of "a pig with one ear"

4.Although I have no access to shadow diagrams I would expect that the height of the proposal would give rise to substantial overshadowing, and compromise the amenity of neighbours.Sun and space in a crowded city are of paramount importance.

I should be pieased if these submissions could be weighed up in the overall importance of the application as an approval will place a bad precedent on Council's records and reputation.

Yours Sincerely

Graham Limburg.

Dear Sir

I am very concerned and wish to raise my objections to the proposed development D/2026/97 at 125A Kent Street Millers Point.

I am a resident of Highgate Apartments 127 Kent Street and enjoy peaceful residential amenities in this small residential enclave.

My apartment outlook, light, and privacy would not be affected by this proposal but I strongly feel for those that will be affected. However I certainly will be affected by the decreased light, increased propensity for wind tunnelling, increased traffic, noise, garbage, and disruptions in Jenkins Lane where I access my car space.

The proposed modern stark facade and boundary-to-boundary construction is inappropriate in this residential area and would negatively impact the Highgate Apartments overall street visual appeal as well as that of the neighbouring heritage buildings. This highly inappropriate build would be an awful blight on the character of this highly significant heritage listed conservation area and should be refused. I live in this small highly regarded heritage enclave of Sydney known as “Australia’s first village”. Please respect the efforts of conservationists that have retained the 19th-century charm of this neighbourhood with its sandstone cottages, worker terraces, and Georgian houses, and stand with us against inappropriate developments such as this.

Yours sincerely

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

We are the owners of a unit in the Highgate Building. I am registering a complaint re the planning of a five storey building at 125AKent .
The beauty of Highgate is its space around the living unit of our block. It gives our building a sense of space and air. Any building built on our perimeter leaving full building separation would have a terrible effect on privacy ,Noise and views on some lower units of Highgate.
Kent Street is a unique street with its location and we must treasure its beauty.
Please consider this application and consider your neighbours welfare.

Alex Mackey 602/127 Kent St, Millers Point

Submission for Objection for D/2026/97
Objection to 125A Kent Street, Millers Point

We are the owners of 2202/127 Kent St, Millers Point and our son Alex Mackey owns 602/127 Kent St, Millers Point. Our son is at present overseas for work and will not be in Australia when the submission is due. His apartment 602 is the lowest apartment on the north west corner of the Highgate so would be the apartment the worst affected by the proposal. Due to the significant unacceptable impact the proposed development will have on his apartment, and his present lack of access and time to be able to get together a well informed submission we are combining objections regarding Apartments 602 and 2202 at the Highgate. Alex has written a quick submission before he left Australia, but if you need him to add to it with additional information below please let us know and we will contact him overseas at a suitable time.

As Alex was not available, on his behalf we got in touch with the nominated contact, Elizabeth L Jones. We are very appreciative that she and her supervisor were keen to meet with us and the Highgate building manager, Paul Upham in 602 on Tuesday 17th February for a site inspection.

Please see firstly below a major concern for 602 in regard to the noise and thermal impact from the 125A plant equipment, which we discussed with Elizabeth and her supervisor.

IMPACT FROM MECHANICAL PLANT ON LEVEL 2 TO NORTH WEST FACING HIGHGATE APARTMENTS, PARTICULARLY THE LOWEST LEVEL APARTMENT 602

We have firstly a major objection to the proposed development on the grounds that the close proximity of the new mechanical plant has not been demonstrated to protect the acoustic and heat (thermal comfort impacts) amenity of apartment 602/127 Kent St, particularly the balcony and habitable rooms which are only a few metres directly above the proposed plant.

Apartment 602 in The Highgate will be the nearest residential balcony or window for testing NSW EPA noise criteria.

Due to the non compliant setback of the proposed level 2 plant area, the proposed plans have the new air conditioning condenser units directly below 602 balcony and living areas. Laser measurements would have the proposed condenser fans only 5 metres below the 602 Highgate balcony. Please note page 27 of the development application shows the location of the condensers and states the plant area is screened from the adjoining 125A communal area, but this is not screened from the Highgate apartments above.

The proposed new plant area will not be consistent with the old unserviceable existing plant area as stated in the proposal.

Condensors located below apartments are problematic because

A. Hot air rises and as the primary function of condensors is to emit heat, it would create a heat discharge rising into apartments. The thermal impact of this on the close Highgate apartments, especially 602, has not been addressed in the proposal,
B. Noise travels upwards especially cumulative compressors emitting low frequence noise which will be both continuous and intermittent depending on the weather. Night time operation affects sleep disturbance. NSW noise regulations states especially night noise must not be audible inside neighbours habitable rooms. Balconies are also considered as noise receivers so would be relevant.
C. The acoustice report has not assessed these plant disturbances.
D. In the absence of an acoustic assessment demonstrating compliance with applicable daytime and night time noise criteria including tonal and low frequency noise impacts and vibration borne noise from air conditioning plants, the proposal fails to adequately protect existing residential amenity.
E. Post construction noise compliance testing, and remediation at the developers expense would need to be stipulated as a condition if any consent was ever considered.
F. Additionally there is a noise and obvious privacy concern from the proposed level 2 communal area of 125A located next to the air conditioning plant. This is again in very close proximity to 602 and lower north west facing Highgate apartments. Please see 5.2 on page 36 of the development application depicting the level 2 communal area and showing 602's bedroom window just above on the left of the illustration. Communal noise from this area would be clearly audible, especially if the residents need to speak loudly to be heard over the adjoining plant noise.

Is this a design failure if this communal area is next to and dominated by the adjoining plant area noise and able to look into adjoining properties?

Please see view looking southward towards Highgate Apartments, 19 page 12 of the development application design report which shows the view looking directly towards apartment 602 from 125A. Residents would be able to directly look at NW Highgate apartments.

Apartment 602 in the Highgate is an existing residential dwelling and is a sensitive receiver under NSW planning and noise policy. The balcony and habitable rooms are directly exposed to the proposed plant and must be protected from unreasonable noise and heat impacts

LIST OF OTHER SIGNIFICANT OBJECTIONS RELATING TO THE HIGHGATE APARTMENTS AND ITS NEIGHBOURS AND THE PUBLIC DOMAIN OF JENKINS STREET

Besides the specific negative impacts on apartment 602 and the other lower level north western facing Highgate apartments please see the below list of our objections, being a resident of the Highgate Apartments and Millers Point.

The proposed development has an oversized for the space vertical extension for just three, two storey apartments yet the bulk and lack of compliance for just these 3 apartments would create substantial negative impacts to many neighbouring apartments and the heritage terraces below. The negative impacts to the neighborhood far outweigh any possible benefit proposed.

1. Visual impact and lack of open space

The main views from Highgate apartments 602,702,802,902 1002 on the north west corner is very pleasant with a light filled outlook over the heritage terraces below in Millers Point, Nawi Cove, the harbour and Barangaraoo Headland Park. This view shown on 8.3 “Views from Adjacent properties” (eg level 6 i.e.602 on page 66) is a deceptive depiction of the present more expansive view and open space .Nor is the depictions from the apartments above accurate. The illustration does not depict the true height of the proposal and it is from a deceptive angle which does not depict the present view to the north west. The council representatives who viewed 602 would be able to attest to this.

The proposal for 125A would totally block this outlook from 602 and greatly enclose the space as it would also to the apartments above. Instead the view would be a very dominant unappealing building facade at a close distance due to non compliant setbacks.

The lower apartments in the Highgate in the north eastern corner would also have a negative visual impact, as the view from their balconies to the north west would also be blocked.

The heritage terraces to the east and north of 125A will certainly have their open space enclosed by a dominating taller building façade overlooking them which they will address separately.

2. Solar overshadowing to both the north western Highgate Apartments and especially the heritage terraces below is significant. I cannot see in the proposal how the overshadowing of the balconies of NW Highgate Apartments has been shown at all. (eg A7.11 drawing).

3. Significant privacy concerns have not been adequately addressed. This is especially relevant from the communal areas of 125A and the windows looking out to the front and to the side. Again with building separation not complying this causes a severe detriment to neighbouring residences rights to privacy. For example please see 5.2 , page 36 of the building application design report showing the bedroom window of 602 just above on the left of the level 2 communal sitting area. From this area 125A can look into the living space of Highgate NW facing apartments. I’m sure the terraces below will detail their very relevant concerns also.

4. Traffic Conflict on Jenkins Street and access

We cannot understand how access to the proposed apartments at 125 A Kent Street could work?

From my understanding truck and car access is proposed to be from a busy loading space in Kent Street (which is mostly busy with deliveries for the neighbouring apartment blocks), and from there it would be necessary to cross on foot busy Kent St to walk to 125A building entrance along a narrow walkway beside a heritage listed terrace. This does not seem feasible for removals, couriers etc and certainly not possible for construction.

Jenkins Street on the southern entrance is a heritage listed narrow road/lane and the 125A building does not have the right for parking or any parking facilities for vehicles, only push bikes.

Therefore how would cement trucks and other vehicles get access for construction, removals etc.

There is no driveway or turning circle for 125A so vehicles wanting access to the apartments would either risk parking nearby in Jenkins Street, and then have to reverse all along Jenkins Street until they could do a 2 point turn into Gas Lane. The difficulty is attested by viewing the damage to the fence protecting the heritage building behind. The damage is from vehicles trying to turn here.

There would also be traffic jamming for oncoming and reversing vehicles having to back up to let others pass. The Highgate, Georgia and Stamford Mark Apartments have access via 4 parking entrances to an estimated 100 plus parking spaces along this section of Jenkins Street and inevitably their entrances would get blocked.

Pedestrian safety is another issue with reversing vehicles as pedestrians use Jenkins Street for access to the Bond

Building and the stairs and lift going down directly to Hickson Road and the pedestrian crossing to Barangaroo.

Access for garbage collection would also require garbage trucks to reverse up the heritage listed Jenkins Street. The proposal states this would be the same as access to garbage collection for the Highgate Apartments. This is incorrect. The Highgate garbage collection is via their driveway on Kent St, not Jenkins Street and any other apartment buildings have driveway access for trucks to turn in and then be able to move forward along Jenkins Street.

In summary the proposal for 125 A Kent Street is deceptive, totally unacceptable and unreasonable.It does NOT as the proposal claims “maintain a high level of amenity and be considerate to the urban fabric of Millers Point.” Instead it is a serious overdevelopment for the small site with non compliant setbacks. The proposal of 125A Kent St disregards the amenities of the many neighbouring properties for the proposal of just 3 apartments.

We would be happy to discuss our concerns at any time and would appreciate any updates.

Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Sir/Madam,

We are Savic-Urosevic family, the owners of 902/ 127-153 Kent Street MILLERS POINT NSW 2000.

Firstly, we would like to inform you that we tried to upload our feedback to the ePlanning online portal which could not open properly. We are thus sending you our comments and objections on the D/2026/97 proposal directly to the [redacted] email as instructed on the DA section of your website.

Our family members strongly and categoricaly object the DA proposal D/2026/97. It is an inappropriate overdevelopment proposal to add 5 stories to an existing 3 storey building that is in touching boundary proximity to our building - Highgate (127-153 Kent Street). Our appartment 902/ 127-153 Kent St is listed on the Affected Properties Report attachment in the D/2026/97 submitted to Sydney Council for approval. This subject proposal of an 8 storey development eyesore will also negatively impact the State Heritage Listed terraces in Kent and High Street, Millers Point which have their own unique charm and visual appeal that need to be preserved.

Westrongly believe and based on clear facts the issues with this over development pertain to overshadowing, solar access, water views, lack of building separation, bulk, scale, lack of urban design quality, out of context with the surrounding heritage properties, the cumulative neighbour amenity impact to name a few.

The proposed boundary-to-boundary glass tower at 125A Kent Street representsunacceptable overdevelopment of a constrained inner-city site and more precisely northern part of the Sydney CBD. The proposal fails to satisfy the objectives and key controls of Sydney LEP 2012 and Sydney DCP 2012, and does not comply with the intent of the NSW Apartment Design Guide in relation to solar access, visual privacy, building separation, overshadowing, and urban design quality. The proposed "roof top communal open space" will be a direct intrussion to our privacy and interefernce with the use and enjoyment of our property and quality of our life.

The subject application should be absolutely refused or substantially redisigned, including reduced height and FSR, increased setbacks, facade articulation, and demonstrable compliance with ADG and DCP amenity criteria to ensure equitable outcomes for neighbouring properties and the broader city.

In case you decide to approve this absolutely unreasonableand damaging 125A Kent Street (D/2026/97) over-development eyesore, we reserve our right to exercise all legal options and/or engagea reputable media outlets, newspapers and TV networks to bring this issue to light.

As an owner of 1308/127 Kent Street (Highgate apartments) we are responding to the DA submission to add a five level construction at Highgate NE corner.
I strongly object to the DA application for the following reasons:

Heritage and cultural significance of the area enjoyed by residents and visitors will be significantly diminished.

The area surrounding this development proposal is a heritage area with significant cultural and heritage buildings enjoyed by residents and visitors to the area.
Overall, the project would unacceptably harm, heritage character, neighbouring amenity and the publics enjoyment and access to the area.
The development would visually overwhelm adjacent heritage buildings and erode the historic Kent Street streetscape.

Design of building will diminish enjoyment of the area by visitors and residents.

The glass façade, will result in glare, heat reflection and wind tunnelling.
The design of building is large in comparison with surrounding buildings restricting access to the area.

Design of building will significantly diminish the enjoyment of Highgate Building residents and other surrounding buildings.

The scale and design of the building design will diminish privacy and amenity of Highgate residences.
The design does not achieve or comply with DCP and ADG objectives, rather appears to simply maximise the site without due regard for other buildings in the area or the current streetscape.

In conclusion, I believe the building submission needs to be completely rejected or redesigned with a more sympathetic and appropriate approach to the area and surrounding buildings, particularly regarding, design and scale.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to you to express my disagreement with the proposed development application 125A Kent Street.

This will negatively impact the residents not only in Highgate but also neighbouring terraces. That little bit of privacy they currently have will be gone completely. This proposed development would rise literally in their face out of nowhere.
Our area has been blasted with so much overdevelopment in last five years. I really hope that someone could put a stop to it.
It changes the whole feel of the historic Kent street visual and neighbourhood.
I don't agree that the development should go any higher than the current building structure is at.

I hope this will be considered when assessing the proposal.

Thank you and have a nice day.

Mr Bill MacKay
Manager Planning Assessments

Ref number: D/2026/97.

Dear Sir,
I write with concern when hearing of the proposed development at 125A Kent St

This inner city location does not need any further height and bulk added to its attractive and historically important streetscape. The scale of this, and further, the glass facade and tower would visually overwhelm the ambiance and acceptable design of Kent St.

There is little doubt that Sydney has foregone its previous pride, in developing an attractive, architecturally acceptable precinct in this northern end of Sydney. In place of design, compliance, and beauty, we clearly have a money grab.

This project would unacceptably harm neighbouring amenity and public domain conditions.

I urge you to
1. Reject this proposal outright. Or
2. Totally redesign to reduce height and setbacks. Any new design needs to seriously consider the existing historic nature of old buildings in Kent St and fit into this gentle streetscape. - an Architect with a different attitude and vision, needs to take over the project.

To the Assessing Office /Planning Department, City of Sydney Council

Dear Sir/Madam,

The undersigned owns apartment No 911 at 127 Kent Street, the Highgate Building and would like to oppose the above named proposal due to that in my opinion this represents a serious overdevelopment of a confined site, furthermore the proposed boundary to boundary construction without setbacks is non appropriate for the location.

We are seriously concerned for privacy reasons, having no building separation the development would result in direct overlooking into neighbours living spaces.

We are of the opinion that the proposal would affect the neighbouring amenity, heritage character of the area and design should be revised to reduce height, setbacks inline with the heritage character and public domain conditions of the area.

To whom it may concern

As an owner of 1308/127 Kent Street (Highgate apartments) I am responding to the DA submission to add a five level construction at the Highgate apartment block NE corner.
We strongly object to the DA application for the following reasons:

1. The design does meet the objectives of the Sydney LEP 2012 as it disregards to protect the amenity of neighbouring properties and does not achieve high quality contextual sensitive design.
2. It is a significant over development with extreme height and bulk that destroys the character of the neighborhood.
3. The building will result in significant over shadowing particularly in winter and will reduce sunlight to a large number of apartments and outside areas beyond reasonable limits.
4. The building is without setbacks and for an inner City neighbourhood it will dominate neighbouring buildings. Furthermore there is no meaningful building separation, affectively overlooking neighbours living spaces and a resultant loss of privacy. In this regards the building does not meet the Apartment Design Guide (ADG) for requirements for privacy distances, natural ventilation or private open space.
5. The development is inconsistent with adjacent heritage buildings and it erodes the historic Kent Street space with its monolithic glass façade. This glass façade lacks articulation, resulting in a stark reflective appearance with the surrounding built forms. Furthermore the glass façade raises significant issues related to glare, heat. reflection and wind tunneling.
6. The design statement is misleading regarding context, privacy, scale and amenity, none of which aligns with the actual design submitted.

In summary the proposal is about maximizing yield rather than design excellence or compliance with DCP and ADG objectives. The project harms neighbouring amenity, heritage character and public domain conditions. The proposal should therefore be rejected or redesigned to reduce height and provide greater setback

D/2026/97 Development proposal at 125A Kent Street

We are owners of an apartment in Highgate that is the adjacent building.

We object vehemently to the above proposed development for the following reasons:

a) The boundary to boundary construction without any setback creates a wall of wind and disrupts the natural airflow from the sea and the view of the sea for the adjacent buildings .It is not consistent with the design concepts of the Barangaroo area. Basically, the view of the sea and space is to be shared and enjoyed by all buildings in the vicinity.
b) The proposal is built with the aim of maximising the yield of the building without regard to the design concepts of excellence that were painstaking achieved before this proposal came along. This proposal is an overbuild for the site.
c) This proposal erodes the heritage and calm atmosphere that currently exists.
d) This enormous building is close to the sea and will ruin the existing setup, atmosphere of the area
e) The enormous glass tower in the sun will create a wind tunnel, blinding glare and increase the ambient temperature which is very undesirable for the pedestrians and the surrounding areas.
f) The building will also cause a lot of shadows on the streetscape
g) Basically the design fails the objectives of the Sydney LEP 2012 .

Stop this building – we do not want the Sydney harbour area to be another congested Hong Kong !

Thank you

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am the residence of Highgate, 127 Kent Street, Millers Point, NSW 2000, a direct neighbour to the Development proposal above. I am objecting to the Development proposal because of the following concerns :

1. The development proposed in a very confined site which failed the objectives of the Sydney LEP 2012 and inconsistent with the characteristics of the local area.

2. Boundary to boundary construction with any setbacks

3. The proposed development will cause substantial overshadowing.

4. No meaningful building separation causing severe loss of privacy to the neighbour.

5. The proposal does not meet the Apartment Design Guide requirements for privacy, natural ventilation or private open space.

6. The development is visually inconsistent and overwhelm the surrounding heritage building and streetscape.

7. The proposal would unacceptably harm the neighbouring heritage character, public amenities and privacy.

This proposal should be refused and and redesigned with regard to height and setbacks to address the concerns above.

I strongly object to the proposed development.

Best Regards,

Ling Hann Kim

Caution: This email came from outside the organisation. Don't click links or open attachments unless you know the sender, and were expecting this email.

All

I am writing in response to the development application at 125A Kent Street, Millers Point.
I am a resident of the Highgate Building at 125 Kent Street, Millers Point and I believe that the development proposed for 125A Kent St is poorly designed and will adversely impact on the amenity of the area, and of the existing buildings, including the Highgate Building.
The DA as proposed will seriously interfere with the access to Highgate from Jenkins St. This will be especially egregious during construction, but will have lasting negative impacts through increased traffic congestion.

Design / Appearance
The DA indicates that proposed structure has the following impacts

- Façade – the use of a monolithic glass façade is not in keeping with the area, and is in stark collision with the form of the surrounding buildings.
    - The use of glass will produce negative amounts of glare and heat reflection to the detriment of the neighbours, and will further increase the effects of wind tunnelling.
- Size – the monolithic size of the proposed building appears to encompass the whole of the property.
    - This scale will overwhelm the heritage buildings of Millers Point, and the use of so much glass does not sit well with these heritage buildings
    - No building separation is planned with a loss of privacy and ventilation and the resulting overshadowing and overlooking of neighbour's living spaces
    - Boundary to boundary construction on the property is more indicative of an effort to maximise the developers' yield, rather than design excellence
    - Apartment Design Guide – this DA does not meet the requirements for privacy distances, ventilation or private open space
    - Overshadowing - the design will cause significant overshadowing to a level beyond acceptable limits

Design / Fitting into the neighbourhood

- The Sydney LEP 2012 set clear objectives to protect the amenity of a neighbourhood and of the neighbouring properties. This design clearly does not address or meet these objectives.
- Putting a monumental glass box into a heritage neighbourhood is not a context-sensitive design, and shows little or no thought for design excellence.
- Open Space has not been provided for either the future occupants, or for the positive benefit of the neighbourhood.

In summary the proposed DA for 125A Kent Street will result in serious denigration of the amenity of the neighbourhood and of adjacent buildings.
The proposed DA should be rejected so that the architect/developer can reflect on the shortcomings in their offering and return with a DA less onerous and more in keeping with the neighbourhood.

The property, the subject of this proposed development, has I understand recently been sold and it is literally wedged in between a number of properties and is without any main street frontage. What the new owner now seeks via the proposed Development Application is a substantial increase in the building located on the property which due to it's land size and location basically comes at the expense of all those properties in the immediate precinct. So what the owner is effectively saying, via this Development Application, is stuff everybody else who will be adversely affected ,because no compensation is offered to any of them nor are their properties enhanced in value as a result, (on the contrary , their properties will decrease in value , if this Development Application is approved) but allow me to profit at their expense.

Where do you start when you have such an appalling underlying breach of fundamentals . Basically all aspects of the development are abhorrent, including , but not limited to ;

1. Any increase in the building footprint comes at the expense of all the neighboring properties ,from a light, view, shadow , privacy, open space ,visual aspect etc. These properties are largely occupied by residents as opposed to businesses.
2. Any increase in activity on Jenkins Street put at risk the pedestrian traffic that now flows from/to Kent Street, across Jenkins St to and from Barangaroo. Already this is an issue and pedestrian traffic is on the increase with further development underway in both the immediate precinct in Kent St and Barangaroo. Many of these pedestrians are tourists to the area and are not alert as to the risk of traffic ,particularly in the lane way. Additionally many occupants of Highgate and the adjoining buildings now exit via the rear of the buildings and go to and from Barangaroo. These residents stroll along Jenkins Street.
3. Similarly any increase in traffic in Jenkins Street will only increase the backlogs that now occur when this traffic enters Kent Street. This traffic is already putting pressure on pedestrians flows walking along Kent Street. It is also causing significant interruption to traffic travelling along Kent Street. These are risks which will only be increased with the proposed Development.
4. A surprising percentage of the traffic entering Jenkins Street are small trucks / delivery vans servicing the residents/ buildings in the area. This Traffic only compounds the current traffic problems in Jenkins Street /Gas Lane /Kent Street. This traffic due to it 's size often reduces traffic flow to one way and means that considerably delays as resultant on residents/ other traffic using these roads.

In short ,I can see no merit in the City of Sydney approving this Development Application , but only increased risks to those who utilize the area ,economic loss to those whose properties adjoin the proposed development and a suffering of individuals who will be adversely affected by the matters detailed herein.

Dear Sir

In regard to 125A Kent St development.
We cannot support it based on the following potential problems.

• The proposal represents serious overdevelopment of a confined site, with excessive height and bulk inconsistent with the character of the area.
• The design fails the objectives of the Sydney LEP 2012 by disregarding the need to protect the amenity of neighbouring properties and achieve high-quality, context-sensitive design.

• Boundary-to-boundary construction without setbacks is inappropriate for this inner-city location and will dominate adjoining buildings.
• The tower will cause substantial overshadowing, particularly during winter, reducing sunlight to nearby apartments and outdoor areas well beyond acceptable limits.
• No meaningful building separation is provided—resulting in direct overlooking into neighbours' living spaces and severe loss of privacy.
• The proposal does not meet the Apartment Design Guide (ADG) requirements for privacy distances, natural ventilation, or private open space.
• The monolithic glass façade and lack of articulation will produce a stark, reflective appearance that is inconsistent with surrounding built form.
• The development would visually overwhelm adjacent heritage buildings and erode the historic Kent Street streetscape.
• The glass tower design raises concerns about glare, heat reflection, and wind tunnelling, making the street less comfortable and safe for pedestrians.
• Claims in the architect's Design Statement are misleading, particularly regarding context, privacy, amenity, and scale—they do not align with the actual design outcomes.
• The proposal appears focused on maximizing yield rather than achieving design excellence or compliance with DCP and ADG objectives.
• Overall, the project would unacceptably harm neighbouring amenity, heritage character, and public domain conditions, and should be refused or fully redesigned to reduce height and increase setbacks.

Thank you for your attention.

Dear DA section,

Re: D/2026/97 125A Kent Street Millers Point NSW 2000

I am writing to oppose the development proposed at 125A Kent Street.

The proposed development is out of keeping with the character of the street and the neighbourhood. We are losing too many of the beautiful terrace homes that are in Kent Street. The history and heritage of the neighbourhood is being destroyed.

The DA represents significant overdevelopment of one site. To build a 5 storey building on that site is inappropriate.

There will be no separation between the new building and existing buildings and this would have safety implications.

Please do NOT approve this DA.

Yours sincerely,
Avril Fortuin

Dear Sir/Madam,

We reside in Highgate and wish to strongly object to the over development at 125A Kent Street, Millers Point
As our building and adjacent buildings (Georgia, Stamford on Kent) age, it is imperative that tenants refurbish their apartments.
Jenkins Street is already hazardous with trucks, removalists and material delivery vehicles and general traffic in and out of garages.
It defies logic that access to 125A is added to the traffic in Jenkins Street.
Often there is a utility van, parked in front 125A and being unable to turn, we have seen him reverse all the way down to Gas Lane.

As to adding a five level construction to this site is totally unacceptable in every way. An approved scheme would ruin the carefully designed and constructed Highgate and adjacent buildings in this historic area.

We are surprised the Council would even consider approving this over development of 125A.

Objections to Proposed DA – D/2026/97

Introduction

The proposed development at 125A Kent Street Millers Point is for the conversion of an existing 3 storey warehouse to an 8-storey apartment building. The proposed 5 apartments will cover 540m2 on a site area of 154m2 with no setbacks.

Site description

The existing warehouse occupies the northern end of Jenkins Street and appears to have been constructed c1971 as a laboratory for the adjacent 19-storey Esso House completed in 1971 to a design by modernist architects Oser Fombertaux & Rice. In 1992, Esso House was sold and converted to the 32-storey residential tower Highgate by 1995, designed by Crone & Associates.

Easements covering the site

There are 7 easements affecting the subject site in Jenkins Street; - the first, Easement A, being created in 1970. Easement D allows for a '1,524m wide passageway between the subject site and Kent Street to provide light, air and access to the property. The easement burdens the residential property to the west (No 125 Kent Street…) and

The fact that so many easements are required to manage the land-locked warehouse at the end of Jenkins Street indicates the complexity of the site in relation to its many and varied neighbours which will only be exacerbated by the proposed increase in height and density.

Clearly, a building should never have been allowed to occupy the difficult land-locked site at the end of Jenkins Street in the first place and was probably initially tolerated as a service building of low height tucked away at the end of a service lane with low visitation.

Is the site a heritage item?

The current development is predicated on the use of the easement to 125 Kent Street for access, light, air, ventilation etc. The easement is part of the state heritage listing for 125 Kent Street and falls within the state heritage listed Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area (MPHCA). If part of the site is state heritage listed, shouldn't the whole development then be subject to the requirements of state heritage listed items? See figures 8.0 and 9.0 below.

The fact that the address chosen to identify the property is the Kent Street address, rather than the Jenkins Street address, immediately identifies the property as belonging within the MPHCA.

Jenkins Street has been identified as an item of local heritage significance (LEP#1890) as it 'contains remnants of a past streetscape' including 'remnant sandstone walls and decorative wrought iron street light' (NSW SHI listing). A remnant historic sandstone wall forms the foundations for the structure at 125A Kent Street, see figure 5.0 above. This is the same sandstone wall/cutting deemed of sufficient aesthetic significance to form a major component of the ground floor public spaces to the former Lend Lease Bond building (Bond 30) which won numerous architecture awards on completion in 2004. Therefore, the subject building contains within it significant sandstone elements deemed to be of local significance by the City of Sydney.

Heritage Impact

The SHI argues that the proposed 8-storey building is acceptable as it 'will comfortably form part of the existing backdrop of much taller contemporary buildings' (Weir Phillips SHI: 41). It fails to note the corollary which is that the proposed 8-storey building will very uncomfortably form part of the backdrop of existing much smaller heritage buildings.

The SHI also argues that the ...'proposal...is set well behind the heritage items...' (Weir Phillips SHI: 41). The proposal in fact has no set back from the heritage items that surround it on 3 sides. The boundaries of the proposed development are in fact the boundaries of Jenkins Street (a local heritage item), 125-123 Kent Street (State heritage significant items) and 3-9 High Street (State heritage significant items) – with no setbacks.

In fact, as the SHI indicates, setbacks between the state heritage items of the HCA and the areas zoned for 30- and 80-metre-high development are needed to provide breathing space between the lower rise, fine grain of the heritage items and the much larger scale of the residential tower blocks.

The importance of rear lanes in the urban grain of Millers Point

A significant feature of the urban grain of Millers Point is the network of rear lanes which service each of the thousand-odd properties in the area. These rear lanes include High Lane, Argyle Lane, Downshire Lane, Rodens Lane, Ferry Lane and Parbury Lane. The rear lanes behind 1-9 High Street and 115-125 Kent Street are interconnected and lead out into High Street at the rear of 115 Kent Street. Each property has a gate through to the rear lane which is used for garbage bin storage. They are also used as an informal communication channel between neighbours and provide additional ventilation and light to the rear of each property.

The 1943 aerial photo, figure 10.0 below, shows the density of the Kent Street / High Street corner and the openness provided by the rear lanes and particularly Jenkins Street which appears to go right through to the junction with the High Street properties. This indicates the possibility that the subject property was built on a public roadway.

Jenkins Street and Gas Lane form part of the early 20th century fabric of Millers Point and although not included within the boundaries of the MPHCA are nevertheless an important part of the urban grain of this state significant heritage area which needs protecting from over-development.

The construction of an 8-storey building at the end of Jenkins Street facing the rear lanes of the High Street / Kent Street terraces would destroy the amenity of the rear lanes, destroy the connection between Jenkins Street and the rear lanes and break the continuity of rear lanes and service streets in the area.

The subject site should become part of MPHCA

The subject site sits at the pivotal junction between the high-rise residential zoning and the low-rise heritage conservation area and is somewhat of an anomaly. The south-western boundary of the MPHCA is the only boundary which meets an abrupt wall of high-rise development – already substantially in place when the MPHCA was placed on the State Heritage Register in 2003, see figure 11.0 below.

The remainder of the boundaries to the MPHCA are defined by existing topographical features of the landscape – sandstone cuttings etc. The ability to coherently read the heritage landscape of Millers Point as a unified part of the peninsula landscape is one of its aesthetically defining characteristics. The only area where this coherency is weak is the south-west junction with the high-rise components of Kent Street and Hickson Road around Jenkins Street. One of the joys of Millers Point is entering the precinct through one of the few roads leading into it – George Street North, Argyle Place, Kent Street, Dalgetty Street – and immediately feeling that you have entered a unique heritage precinct, see figure 12.0 below.

Logically the southern boundary of the MPHCA should have continued along the southern boundary of 125 Kent Street to meet the western side of Jenkins Street, however, this would have meant leaving the existing warehouse straddling 2 development zones. Hence on Heritage Map 013, the subject site appears as a no-man's-land disconnecting the adjacent heritage properties, see figures 13.0 and 14.0 below.

In an ideal planning world, the subject warehouse would be demolished to allow the significance of Jenkins Street to be re-claimed, for good planning reasons as well as heritage reasons. The advantages of this would be:

- Allowing the heritage values of Jenkins Street to be enhanced by providing views through to the rear of the heritage-listed properties along High Street (similar to Phillip Lane which provides glimpses through to the dome of the Chief Secretary's building). A distinctive characteristic of Sydney is the juxtaposition of old and new buildings often glimpsed through slot views allowed from narrow streets and the undulating terrain.
- Providing an enhanced 'rear lane' experience which is already valued within the urban grain of the city of Sydney – such as Loftus Lane.
- Providing a linking element between the high-rise developments and the low-rise heritage properties, with a chance to appreciate the contrast of building types, with space between.
- Allowing air and ventilation to the wall of high-rise apartments on either side of Jenkins Street, as well as to the heritage properties at the northern end.

CONCLUSION

The proposal to develop 125A Kent Street into an 8-storey residential block should be rejected for the following reasons:

- The site should be identified as a heritage item as part of it includes the easement off 125 Kent Street which is part of the MPHCA.
- The proposal diminishes the surrounding heritage items and HCA.
- The proposal destroys the quality of the rear lanes to the High Street / Kent Street properties which are an integral part of the significance of Millers Point as a fine-grained urban heritage precinct.
- The proposal diminishes the local significance of Jenkins Street and the historic remnants within it such as sandstone cuttings.
- The proposal reduces the amenity of adjacent heritage items and high-rise development by reducing the amount of light, sunshine, air and cross-ventilation to these properties.
- The proposal diminishes the quality of the rear lanes to the High Street / Kent Street heritage properties which are an integral part of the significance of Millers Point as a fine-grained urban heritage precinct of state significance.

This is an opportunity for the City of Sydney and Heritage NSW to remedy the anomaly of the weak south-west border of the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area by strengthening the buffer zone around the High Street and Kent Street heritage properties bounded by Jenkins Street.

I wish to make a submission concerning D/2026/97, 125A Kents Street Millers Point.

My name is [redacted]. I am a resident of Highgate, [redacted].

Would you please keep my name and address private.

Submission – D/2026/97, 125A Millers Point

I make this submission concerning development proposal D/2026/97 for 125A Kent Street, Millers Point.

The proposal is for the conversion of the former Esso Australia laboratory to a residential building. The development will convert the existing two level building into a seven level building containing a studio apartment, a one bedroom apartment, and a further two apartments of two bedrooms each. The two bedroom apartments will be built as a tower at the northern end of the existing laboratory; the tower being five levels in height above the existing two level building, the completed building at the northern end will then be seven levels in height. The southern end of the building remains two levels in height.

I have studied the drawings for the proposed development and viewed the site as far as possible from the adjacent Kent Street, Jenkins Street and High Street and from the High Street Gardens.

I have reached the conclusion that the proposed building is totally out of character with the surroundings.

The tower, being built to the north of the nearby Highgate apartment building, will stand alone; it will tower above the adjacent low level residential housing and stand apart from the multi-storey Highgate building. Thus when complete, it will appear as a stand-alone tall, spindly structure, looking down on nearby housing. The tower will obstruct the views from apartments in the northern end of Highgate. As an amateur it is difficult to be sure from the drawings, but it would seem Highgate apartments up to levels 9 or 10 will have their views obstructed. I would also note that the part of the Highgate development closest to the proposed 125A Kent Street is low rise, not high rise, containing the building swimming pool, spa and sauna.

Considering earlier developments in the area, it is clear that these developments were designed to harmonise with previously existing structures. I believe the proposed development is not in harmony with the surrounding area.

Thus, the Lanhams Hotel, previously the Observatory Hotel, is an attractive low level building which is in harmony with the adjacent terrace houses in Kent Street. In contrast, 125A Kent Street will tower above its nearby low level housing.

I note that to the south of High Street, there are several high rise apartment buildings - Highgate, Observatory Tower, Georgia, etc. With the exception of Georgia, these were all previously office buildings now converted to residential buildings. Georgia is built on the site of the Dumbarton Castle Hotel, a local "pub". Georgia, built between two previous office buildings, now converted to apartment buildings, harmonises well with its surroundings.

The proposed 125A Kent Street development, towering above adjacent low level residential properties and standing apart from the nearby Highgate building, while also blocking views from apartments at the northern end of Highgate, will appear as a tall, spindly structure, totally out of harmony with its surroundings.

I sincerely request that the Council reject the proposed D/2026/97.

Re: D/2026/97 Development Application | 125A Kent Street, Millers Point, Sydney
Notice of Objection by The Owners - Strata Plan 53158 | Observatory Tower

We are the strata managing agents for the Owners Corporation of Strata Plan 53158 being the building known as Observatory Tower, 168 Kent Street, Millers Point NSW 2000. Observatory Tower is a mixed use but predominantly residential tower. It contains 199 apartments which accommodate in excess of 450 residents at any point in time

We write on behalf of the Owners Corporation to formally object to the above referenced Development Application.

The application proposes the adaptive reuse of the existing three-storey building and the construction of a new part four, part five-storey extension comprising five apartments and rooftop communal open space.

As a neighbouring building, the Owners Corporation of Observatory Tower has serious concerns regarding the scale, bulk, and impact of this proposal on the amenity of Observatory Tower, its residents, apartment owners and the broader Millers Point precinct.

These concerns include:

- Overdevelopment of a constrained site, resulting in excessive height and bulk that is inconsistent with the established character of the area;
- Loss of privacy, due to inadequate building separation and direct overlooking into nearby apartments;
- Overshadowing impacts, particularly during winter months, reducing access to natural light for surrounding residential properties;
- Construction impacts, including noise, dust, vibration, and disruption to local access routes such as Jenkins Street, which will affect residents' daily living and safety;
- Traffic and access pressures, with increased vehicle movements in already narrow and highly constrained local streets;
- Inconsistency with planning controls, including the objectives of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 and the Apartment Design Guide, particularly in relation to amenity, privacy, appropriate scale, and contextual design response; and
- Visual and heritage impacts, as the proposed glass-dominant, monolithic façade is out of character with the historic Kent Street and Millers Point streetscape and risks overwhelming adjoining built form.

The proposal appears to prioritise development yield over sensitive urban design and neighbouring amenity. In its current form, it would result in unacceptable impacts on surrounding residents and the public domain.

For these reasons, the Owners Corporation respectfully requests that Development Application DA/2026/97 be refused, or substantially redesigned to reduce its height and bulk, increase setbacks, and better protect neighbouring amenity.

Dear Sir/Madam,
I would like to strongly oppose this proposition for 125A Kent Street.
I am a resident of neighbouring 127 Kent Street (Highgate Apartments).
-the area is already very congested and this new development represents a serious overdeveloped.
-with the lack of separation of buildings, this is a major issue on privacy.
-it seems the developers seem to have focused on maximising yield rather than the various compliances with DCP !
-this development will also visually destroy the kent street historic features
Apart from the above there are various other points I am happy to discuss and thus strongly suggest that this application be declined .

I strongly oppose the ridiculous overdevelopment being sought for the 125A Kent St property.

Shoehorning a seven storey glass tower into this tiny property is way over the top.

It is grossly unfair to the existing owners in the adjacent Highgate building. Their existing open balconies and windows will be crowded adjacent to the new building with complete loss of privacy.

Vehicle access via Jenkins Lane, particularly during construction, will be a nightmare and for long periods inaccessible.

The open roof area will accentuate the intrusion of noise and activity to the adjacent Apartment owners.

The only purpose of this overdevelopment would seem to be to produce a profit for the developers at the expense of existing home owners.

Thank you.

Objection to Development Application D/2026/97

125A Kent Street, Millers Point

1. Introduction and Nature of Objection

I am a resident of Kent Street, Millers Point and I write to object to the proposed development at 125A Kent Street. My objection relates to both the unacceptable impact on the heritage character of this sensitive corner within the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area and the significant adverse impacts the proposal would have on the residential amenity including privacy of neighbouring terrace houses in Kent and High Streets. In totality, the proposal does not meet the public interest.

2. Significance of the Site and Its Setting

125A Kent Street occupies a sensitive and prominent junction between the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area and adjoining multi-storey residential and commercial development. The site lies directly behind and projects into a landmark corner defined by individually listed heritage terrace groups on both Kent and High Streets. Although the site is differently zoned and positioned behind the street frontage, it is visually and physically connected to these heritage homes and forms part of the setting in which they are experienced.

3. Existing Built Form and Established Character

At present, the wider corner formed by Kent and High Streets reads as a coherent low-rise grouping. The terrace groups and the existing three-storey building together establish a consistent height and scale. The existing building reads as recessive and its scale allows the heritage terrace groups to remain the defining elements of the corner.

4. Impact of the Proposed Height and Bulk

The proposal to increase the building to seven storeys plus a rooftop level (effectively eight storeys) would fundamentally alter the existing balance at this corner. Built to the boundaries immediately behind the terraces, a structure of this height would no longer sit quietly in the background. It would rise well above the established rooflines and shift the visual hierarchy so that the new development, rather than the heritage terraces, becomes the dominant built form within the corner composition.

Such an increase in height would disrupt the continuity that currently defines both Kent and High Streets. The existing terraces create a consistent low-rise streetscape, with parapets and rooflines aligning to form a clear and recognisable rhythm. The proposed building would extend far beyond this established line, breaking that rhythm and introducing a scale that is out of keeping with the surrounding terrace fabric.

As a result, the corner would cease to read as a cohesive heritage grouping. Instead of a unified, human-scale terrace precinct, views of and across the corner would be marked by a substantially taller structure projecting into it. This would materially alter the experience of moving through the conservation area and diminish the prominence of the individually listed terraces. The proposed height and bulk are excessive for a site so closely connected to heritage buildings of modest scale and do not conserve the setting or significance of the Heritage Conservation Area.

5. Residential Amenity Impacts

In addition to these heritage concerns, the proposal raises serious issues regarding residential amenity for the immediately affected terrace houses in Kent and High Streets.

These heritage terraces are characterised by narrow floorplates, rear rooms with limited solar access, and modest private open spaces that rely heavily on available sky exposure and shared roofscape outlook. In this context, built form at the rear of the properties has a direct and pronounced effect on day-to-day living conditions.

The proposed increase in height and bulk would result in severely reduced access to natural light, particularly to rear habitable rooms and gardens. It would cause overshadowing of private open spaces, diminish the usability and comfort of rear courtyards, and introduce unreasonable overlooking from elevated levels, resulting in loss of privacy.

The scale and proximity of the proposed building would also introduce excessive bulk and a looming presence when viewed from adjoining properties. This would create an acute sense of enclosure and visual dominance, fundamentally at odds with the established low-rise character of the area. The proposed non-compliant setbacks would intensify this effect, bringing the bulk of the building closer to adjoining properties and amplifying the perception of confinement. Existing outlook, including partial views toward the harbour and the broader district, would be reduced or lost.

Attachment D2

Residential amenity in Millers Point is closely linked to its heritage character. The cohesive low-rise roofscape and absence of dominant vertical elements contribute directly to the quality of living experienced by residents. The proposed building would disrupt this established character and materially alter the lived experience of the precinct. The heritage and amenity impacts are therefore inseparable.

6. Public Interest

Millers Point is valued for its cohesive low-rise character and intact heritage streetscapes. Residential amenity in this precinct is closely linked to that character. The significance of the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area lies not only in individual heritage items, but in the collective reading of terraces, rooflines and streets that together form a shared cultural asset for the people of Sydney and NSW.

The proposed development would materially alter this established character and undermine both the heritage significance and residential environment of this important corner. The proposal provides for just five apartments but would materially impact at least five times that many immediate neighbouring residences. Many more residents within the conservation area would be affected, as well as the wider community for whom this precinct holds historic and social value.

In these circumstances, the balance between private benefit and public impact is plainly disproportionate. A modest increase in dwelling yield for a single site would come at the cost of diminished heritage setting, reduced residential amenity, and erosion of a place of recognised collective significance. The public interest requires that private development outcomes not compromise shared cultural heritage or the established living environment of a much larger community.

For these reasons, the proposal is clearly not in the public interest.

7. Refuse this Development

The proposed development is excessive in height and bulk, incompatible with its heritage context, and demonstrably harmful to the residential amenity of neighbouring properties. It fails to conserve the setting and significance of the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area and would permanently erode the established low-rise character that defines this precinct.

Approval would prioritise a limited private benefit over the protection of a shared cultural asset and the living environment of a much larger community. In doing so, it would not serve the public interest.

For these reasons, the application should be refused.

Objection – Development Application D/2026/97
125A Kent Street, Millers Point

I am a resident of Kent Street, Millers Point. I write to object to Development Application D/2026/97.

The proposal would add significant height and bulk immediately behind State Heritage Register listed terraces and within the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area. In doing so, it would impair the setting and heritage values of the precinct and negatively affect the amenity of neighbouring terrace houses.

1. Heritage Setting – Clause 5.10, Sydney LEP 2012 and Clause 5.10 DCP
The site is within the vicinity of State Heritage Register listed terrace groups and the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area and forms part of their visual and spatial setting. Under Clause 5.10 of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012, Council must consider the effect of development within the vicinity of a heritage item or heritage conservation site on heritage significance, including setting. The Sydney Development Control Plan 2012 similarly identifies the conservation of heritage significance, including setting, as a core objective.

The existing building sits within the prevailing low-rise scale and does not dominate the adjoining terraces. The proposed extension would rise well above the established terrace roofline and would occupy the site boundary to boundary. It would visually dominate the adjoining State Heritage terraces at the Kent and High Street corner.

That change would alter the established scale hierarchy between the heritage terraces and surrounding development. The terraces would cease to read as the principal-built form at this location. The proposal would therefore diminish the setting of the State Heritage Register listed terraces and weaken the spatial coherence of the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area.

Compliance with maximum height and floor space ratio controls do not satisfy the separate statutory requirement to conserve the adjacent state significant heritage items and their setting.

2. Scale and Built Form Compatibility
The immediate context of the site is defined by two- and three-storey terrace buildings forming part of the state significant Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area and adjoining State Heritage items.

The proposal would introduce a pronounced step change in height and bulk on a small site with minimal setbacks. The combined effect of increased height, proximity and boundary-to-boundary massing would produce a built form that is not compatible with the established scale of the adjoining heritage terraces.

In heritage contexts, compatibility requires subordination in scale and massing. The proposed built form would not remain subordinate. It would introduce a visually dominant element into a low-rise heritage setting.

3. Amenity Impacts – including privacy - Arising from Scale

Rear built form in this precinct directly affects light, outlook and sense of openness for adjoining terrace dwellings on Kent and High Streets.

The proposed scale and siting would reduce sky exposure to rear rooms and courtyards, increase overshadowing of already constrained private open space, introduce additional overlooking from elevated levels into adjoining rear windows and gardens, and intensify the sense of enclosure created by boundary-to-boundary development.

These impacts would arise from the scale and proximity of the proposal and are inherent in the height and bulk proposed on this constrained site.

4. Site Constraints and Development Control Plan Non-Compliance
The application (Statement of Environmental Effects) identifies extensive non-compliance with the Development Control Plan provisions relating to side and rear setbacks, common open spaces, private open spaces and internal common areas.

These non-compliances confirm that the proposal exceeds the site's capacity to absorb additional bulk while maintaining appropriate heritage and amenity, including privacy, outcomes.

Where acceptable separation and amenity outcomes cannot be achieved, the appropriate planning response is to limit scale. Increasing height and bulk in those circumstances would compound the impact on adjoining heritage terraces.

5. Public Interest and Precedent – Section 4.15 EP&A Act
Under section 4.15 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979, Council must consider the likely impacts of the development and the public interest.

The public interest at this location includes conserving the setting of State Heritage Register listed terraces and maintaining the established low-rise scale relationship that defines the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area.

Approval of this proposal would establish a precedent for additional height and bulk on similarly constrained sites adjoining the Heritage Conservation Area and within the vicinity of State Heritage items. That would incrementally erode the established scale hierarchy that protects the setting of those heritage terraces, which form part of the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area and are listed on the State Heritage Register.

The Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area and adjoining State Heritage Register listed terraces form part of one of the most intact nineteenth-century harbour-side precincts in Sydney. Their conservation is a matter of significance not only to local residents but to the City of Sydney and to the State of New South Wales.

For that reason, approval would not be in the public interest.

Conclusion
The proposal is fundamentally incompatible with the heritage values of the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area and would adversely affect the amenity of neighbouring homes.

For the reasons set out above, I respectfully ask that Council refuse this application.

D/2026/97 125A Kent Street, Millers Point NSW 2000

I write to strongly oppose granting of this DA.

This site is ridiculously constrained and totally inappropriate for the proposed development.

The proposed building is in conflict with the Heritage Precinct and is effectively in the backyard of heritage listed terraces. This proposed construction will overwhelm the adjacent heritage buildings. While the existing building stands at the edge of the Heritage Precinct the DA's given address and right of way on 125 Kent Street are within the precinct.

One must also question the intent of the original granting of a right of way across 125 Kent Street. Were the grounds for granting this right of way simply to provide access to what I understand was originally a service adjunct to the original Esso Building? If so, use of this right of way for access to an apartment building tower is inappropriate and an unacceptable imposition on 125 Kent Street.

Everyting about the DA for this constrained site is inappropriate; the boundary to boundary construction is without meaningful building separation, there is excessive height and bulk, these are not only inappropriate for the site but also impact on the pricacy, amentity and views of adjacent residences, and the bulk and glass façade will cause undue glare, heat reflection and in winter considerable overshadowing.

This proposed building would be both a blight on the Heritage Precint, and a grossly unreasonable imposition on surrounding residents.

Yours sincerely

Objection 125A Kent Street Development Proposal - D/2026/97

We strongly object to the development proposal at 125A Kent Street Millers Point. Our concerns are outlined below.

- The building will cause significant shadowing particularly in winter months to adjacent properties and to the Highgate pool decreasing the enjoyment of the facility for residents. A naturally sunlit pool area will become a dark area requiring electric lighting during daylight hours.

- There will be additional traffic in Gas Lane which is only single lane access. Traffic delays and related additional vehicle noise and exhaust pollution will be inevitable.

- Previously the building in question was used for commercial space with access for a small number of people. The re-design into units with additional height provides for many more people coming and going at all hours of the night which will cause huge problems for both pre-existing and new residents due to the single lane access of Gas Lane.

- The development will be problematic for the heritage listed properties in Kent Street next to Highgate with shadowing and loss of existing views and free air space caused by the scale and size of the new development.

Thank you for considering our concerns.

Caution: This email came from outside the organisation. Don't click links or open attachments unless you know the sender, and were expecting this email.

Dear Sir/Madam,

SUBMISSION OF OBJECTION – DEVELOPMENT APPLICATION D/2026/97
ADDRESS: 125A Kent Street, Millers Point NSW 2000
PROPOSAL: Adaptive reuse of existing building and construction of a four-part, five-storey extension for a residential flat building containing five apartments.

I am writing to formally object to Development Application D/2026/97. I do so as a long-term resident of 127 Kent Street, living in proximity to the subject site.

I am not opposed to development in principle. However, this particular application represents a fundamental overdevelopment of an inherently constrained site. It fails to meet the core objectives of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012, is inconsistent with the Apartment Design Guide, and will cause unacceptable and permanent harm to the amenity of neighbouring properties and the heritage character of Millers Point.

My objections are set out below.

1. The Proposal Represents a Clear Overdevelopment of an Inadequate Site
The subject site has a total area of approximately 153m² and a primary frontage to Jenkins Street of approximately 6.53 metres. To propose a five-storey, four-part residential building on such a footprint is entirely inappropriate. The design proposes boundary-to-boundary construction with no meaningful setbacks. This is inconsistent with the character of the locality and fails to achieve the context-sensitive design outcomes required by the Sydney LEP. A site of this size simply cannot accommodate a building of this scale without causing significant and unreasonable harm to its surroundings.

2. The Impact on Residential Amenity Is Unacceptable
As a resident of 127 Kent Street, I am directly affected by this proposal. The apartments at 127-153 Kent Street were purchased, in many cases, for their access to north-facing sunlight and their views. These attributes are fundamental to the desirability and value of these homes.

The proposed five-storey extension will rise directly to the north of our building. It will permanently block solar access and views that residents have reasonably expected to enjoy. This constitutes a severe and unreasonable loss of amenity. Furthermore, the complete absence of building separation will result in direct overlooking into the living spaces of dozens of apartments. This fails to satisfy the privacy requirements of the Apartment Design Guide and represents a significant diminution of residential quality of life.

3. The Proposal Will Adversely Affect the Adjacent Heritage Conservation Area
The site shares a boundary with four terraces located within a designated Heritage Conservation Area. The proposed development is a five-storey structure with no articulation, no transition, and no setback from the adjacent heritage conservation area. The result will be an extreme and visually jarring difference in scale, with the new development towering over and dominating its neighbours. This will irrevocably erode the historic character of the Millers Point streetscape and the conservation area more broadly. The LEP requires that development protect and enhance heritage significance. This proposal does the opposite.

4. Construction and Ongoing Traffic Impacts Have Not Been Adequately Addressed
The primary access to the site is via Jenkins Street, a narrow laneway that serves as the sole vehicular access point to the secure, gated car parks of hundreds of residents at 127-153 Kent Street, 155 Kent Street, and 161 Kent Street. This laneway is wholly unsuited to the demands of construction traffic, including heavy vehicles, concrete trucks, and other large equipment. The application does not adequately address how these impacts will be managed. The construction phase will inevitably cause significant disruption, safety risks, and frustration for residents. Moreover, the permanent increase in vehicular movements generated by five new apartments will continue to negatively affect the amenity and functionality of this quiet residential lane well into the future.

Conclusion
This application has been assessed against the relevant planning instruments and, in my view, it fails on multiple fronts. It does not achieve acceptable design outcomes. It does not protect the amenity of neighbouring properties. It does not respect the heritage character of Millers Point. And it does not adequately address the practical realities of its location.

I urge the City of Sydney Council to refuse Development Application D/2026/97 in its entirety.

Regards,

Augustine Goh

Caution: This email came from outside the organisation. Don't click links or open attachments unless you know the sender, and were expecting this email.

Dear City of Sydney,

I hope this email finds you well.

My name is Selina Wong, and I am the owner of Suite 2408 at 127 Kent Street, Millers Point, NSW 2000, Australia. I am writing to express my serious concerns regarding the recent development proposal for our area, which constitutes significant overdevelopment.

Here are the main points of my concern:

1. The proposed design is inconsistent with the area's guidelines and exceeds the acceptable height and bulk guidelines.
2. It fails to meet the objectives outlined in the Sydney Local Environmental Plan (LEP) 2012, particularly in protecting neighbouring properties and ensuring high-quality, context-sensitive design.
3. The boundary-to-boundary construction without proper setbacks is inappropriate for this inner-city location and will overshadow and dominate adjacent buildings.
4. The tower will cause substantial overshadowing, especially during winter, significantly reducing sunlight to nearby apartments and outdoor areas beyond acceptable limits.
5. There is a lack of meaningful separation between buildings, leading to direct overlooking into neighbouring living spaces and a severe loss of privacy.
6. The proposal does not comply with the Apartment Design Guide (ADG) requirements for privacy distances, natural ventilation, or private open space.
7. The monolithic glass façade and absence of articulation present a stark, reflective appearance that does not harmonise with the surrounding built form.
8. This development would visually overpower adjacent heritage buildings and detract from the historic character of the Kent Street streetscape.
9. There are concerns about glare, heat reflection, and wind tunnelling arising from the glass tower design, which would make the street less comfortable and unsafe for pedestrians.
10. Numerous claims in the architect's are misleading, particularly regarding context, privacy, amenity, and scale, as they do not align with the actual design outcomes.
11. - The focus of the proposal is on maximising development yield rather than achieving design excellence and compliance with the Development Control Plan (DCP) and ADG objectives.

Overall, I believe this project would unacceptably harm neighbouring amenities, undermine the area's characterarea'snegatively impact public domain conditions.
Additionally, please dismiss the DA process at your earliest convenience.

Thank you for considering these concerns.

Kindest regards,
Selina Wong

Dear Sir/Madam,

125A Kent Street Development Proposal – D/2026/97 - Add a 5 Level Construction.

I refer to the above-mentioned Development Proposal. I vehemently oppose this Proposal for the following reasons:

- The proposal represents serious overdevelopment of a confined site, with excessive height and bulk inconsistent with the character of the area.
- The design fails the objectives of the Sydney LEP 2012 by disregarding the need to protect the amenity of neighbouring properties and achieve highquality, context-sensitive design.
- Boundary-to-boundary construction without setbacks is inappropriate for this inner-city location and will dominate adjoining buildings.
- The tower will cause substantial overshadowing, particularly during winter, reducing sunlight to nearby apartments and outdoor areas well beyond acceptable limits.
- No meaningful building separation is provided—resulting in direct overlooking into neighbours' living spaces and severe loss of privacy.
- The proposal does not meet the Apartment Design Guide

(ADG) requirements for privacy distances, natural ventilation, or private open space.

- The monolithic glass façade and lack of articulation will produce a stark, reflective appearance that is inconsistent with surrounding built form.
- The development would visually overwhelm adjacent heritage buildings and erode the historic Kent Street streetscape.
- The glass tower design raises concerns about glare, heat reflection, and wind tunnelling, making the street less comfortable and safe for pedestrians.
- Claims in the architect's Design Statement are misleading, particularly regarding context, privacy, amenity, and scale—they do not align with the actual design outcomes.
- The proposal appears focused on maximizing yield rather than achieving design excellence or compliance with DCP and ADG objectives.

Overall, the project would unacceptably harm neighbouring amenity, heritage character, and public domain conditions, and should be refused or fully redesigned to reduce height.

I urge you to take the above matters into consideration. I request a written response to my submission.

Dear madam , sir
I am sorry to see the over development of my neighbourhood 125 A Kent Street.
I have been living in Highgate for few years now and I chose this residence as it was not over crowded like the rest of CBD of Sydney and having more privacy and getting my sunshine in the winter months for few hours in a day and as I am in my later stags of life I have problems with glares and noise and this project is going to increase all these problems and defeat the purpose of my choice in making my home in Highgate building.
So please I ask you do not allow this project to go ahead with it's over extension.

Re: D/2026/97

Dear CEO

I wish to make you aware that I oppose the development application D/2026/97 at 125A Kent Street, Sydney.

I have lived and owned a property at 127 Kent Street, Sydney since 1995. The development proposal represents clear overdevelopment of a constrained site, with excessive height, bulk, and boundary-to-boundary construction that is out of character with the area. It fails key Sydney LEP 2012 and ADG objectives by not protecting neighbouring amenity, providing no meaningful setbacks or building separation, and causing unacceptable privacy loss and overshadowing—especially in winter.

The largely unarticulated glass façade would appear stark and reflective, overwhelm nearby heritage buildings, and negatively alter the Kent Street streetscape. The design also raises concerns about glare, heat reflection, and wind impacts at street level.
Claims in the Design Statement about context, scale, privacy, and amenity are inconsistent with the actual outcomes, and the scheme appears driven by yield rather than design quality.

Overall, the development would significantly harm neighbouring amenity, heritage character, and public domain conditions, and should be refused or substantially redesigned with reduced height and increased setbacks.

Dear Mr MacKay,

Thank you for your letter of 5th February advising of this “adaptive reuse” application and for the opportunity to comment.

My objection to this application is twofold. The building profile as it currently stands is inoffensive because it is largely hidden. This will not be the case if, as proposed, a modern structure appears above the roofline of terraces of Kent St or High Street. Millers Point is an historic precinct, one of very few in the city. Its historical, architectural integrity must be preserved and protected. I do not subscribe to the view that they can heritage architecture be successfully mixed with modern additions either on top or juxtaposed.
The modern addition to the top of the Palisades Hotel nearby and the offices built among the terraces on Kent St between High Street and Argyle Street are eyesores in my view that I would hope would not be repeated.

Furthermore, there is no workable vehicular access, let alone space for large trucks or cranes to be able to build this proposed extension. Jenkins Street is the only access for garage users for the northern garage of Highgate. There is no room for even a parked car.

I hope this impractical, ugly proposal is rejected.

Yours sincerely,

Anne Keating

Dear Ms Jones,

I would like to object to the proposed construction of the said location with reasons below:

- Privacy concern - the added 5 stories to an existing 3 story building is right behind the State Heritage Listed houses , it is deemed to be too close between the houses and the building which raise privacy concerns to the owners in both properties.
- There is a lack of building separation
- The proposed design is out of context with the surrounding heritage properties
- The area has already become overcrowded with overdevelopment of residential and commercial properties. The development will add further negative impact to the existing residents in the surrounding area.
- The quality of living of the nearby residents will be affected. For example, there will be increased sun glare (reflected by the glass exterior of the proposed building), the residents may need to draw their curtains all the time with the new floors being so close to their home.

Please consider the above concerns when assessing the above mentioned submission.

Kind Regards,
Lydia.

125A Kent St is too close to 127 Kent St, and this boundary to boundary construction and overshadowing to our building has serious negative impact to us and to the environment nearby. The proposed overdevelopment also excesses the height and not consistant with the neibourwood.

Please consider this oppostition. Thank you.

Ms Elizabeth L Jones

Dear Sir/Madam,

RE: 125A Kent Street over development (D/2026/97)

JEFFREY INT'L INVESTMENT PTY LTD

We are Savic-Urosevic family, the owners of 902/ 127-153 Kent Street MILLERS POINT NSW 2000.

Firstly, we would like to inform you that we tried to upload our feedback to the ePlanning online portal which could not open properly. We are thus sending you our comments and objections on the D/2026/97 proposal directly to the council@cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au email as instructed on the DA section of your website.

Our family members strongly and categoricaly object the DA proposal D/2026/97. It is an inappropriate overdevelopment proposal to add 5 stories to an existing 3 storey building that is in touching boundary proximity to our building - Highgate (127-153 Kent Street). Our appartment 902/ 127-153 Kent St is listed on the Affected Properties Report attachment in the D/2026/97 submitted to Sydney Council for approval. This subject proposal of an 8 storey development eyesore will also negatively impact the State Heritage Listed terraces in Kent and High Street, Millers Point which have their own unique charm and visual appeal that need to be preserved.

We strongly believe and based on clear facts the issues with this over development pertain to overshadowing, solar access, water views, lack of building separation, bulk, scale, lack of urban design quality, out of context with the surrounding heritage properties, the cumulative neighbour amenity impact to name a few.

The proposed boundary-to-boundary glass tower at 125A Kent Street represents unacceptable overdevelopment of a constrained inner-city site and more precisely northern part of the Sydney CBD. The proposal fails to satisfy the objectives and key controls of Sydney LEP 2012 and Sydney DCP 2012, and does not comply with the intent of the NSW Apartment Design Guide in relation to solar access, visual privacy, building separation, overshadowing, and urban design quality. The proposed "roof top communal open space" will be a direct intrussion to our privacy and interefernce with the use and enjoyment of our property and quality of our life.

The subject application should be absolutely refused or substantially redisigned, including reduced height and FSR, increased setbacks, facade articulation, and demonstrable compliance with ADG and DCP amenity criteria to ensure equitable outcomes for neighbouring properties and the broader city.

In case you decide to approve this absolutely unreasonable and damaging 125A Kent Street (D/2026/97) over-development eyesore, we reserve our right to exercise all legal options and/or engagea reputable media outlets, newspapers and TV networks to bring this issue to light.

Yours faithfully ,

Dear Sir or Madam,
I have lived in a west facing High Gate Apartment for 27 years and the last 12 have been filled with torment as each subsequent development consumed my harbour view and eroded my property value. The 125A Kent Street development (D/2026/97) would indelibly impact my quality of life and those who reside in the High Gate building.

Please take into consideration the sustained over-development of the area and what impact further development in such a confined space will have on the liveability of the long suffering residents of High Gate.

Jenkins Street is now a hub of commotion during peak hours, when before it was a safe, secluded road leading to my building's carpark. Further development would only exacerbate it.

Additionally, the development in question does not align with the Millers Point Conservation Area and would tarnish the views of multiple low level, north facing apartments in High Gate.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Couani

Dear Sir/Madam

Ref: 125A Kent St Development Proposal

I am writing to register my objection to the above development application.

The proposal represents serious overdevelopment of an already confined & access restricted site.

Due to the location of the site, there will be potential restrictions to access and parking for residents, significantly impacting existing residents of neighbouring properties – especially during construction.

The close proximity of the construction to neighbouring properties is unsuitable for this inner-city location and will dominate & overshadow adjoining historic buildings, and will lead to lack of privacy for the tenants of the lower levels of adjacent high rise buildings.

The development, as proposed, would have detrimental effects on surrounding amenity, heritage values, and local access conditions. It should not be approved unless it is fundamentally redesigned to lower its scale, introduce meaningful setbacks, and better integrate with its surroundings.

Thank you for considering this submission.

Dear sir/madam,

Objection to Development Proposal D/2026/97

I wish to make this submission to object to the proposed development D/2026/97 at 125A Kent Street Millers Point. I have lived at 127 Kent Street for more than 5 years and love the area.

I believe the proposal is for an over development of the site, too big and high to fit in with the existing streetscape. It has no setbacks, and will dominate and overshadow surrounding residential premises, including causing loss of privacy. I believe the design is not in accordance with the objectives of Sydney LEP 2012, nor does it meet the Apartment Design Guide requirements for ventilation, privacy, or open spaces. It does not protect the amenity of neighbouring properties and is not a high quality, locally appropriate design. The glass façade does not fit the existing streetscape, and will be reflective and ugly, causing glare and heat reflection.

In summary, the proposal should be rejected or modified to address these issues.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require more information.

Yours sincerely

I strongly oppose the ridiculous overdevelopment being sought for the 125A Kent St property.

Shoehorning a seven storey glass tower into this tiny property is way over the top.

It is grossly unfair to the existing owners in the adjacent Highgate building. Their existing open balconies and windows will be crowded adjacent to the new building with complete loss of privacy.

Vehicle access via Jenkins Lane, particularly during construction, will be a nightmare and for long periods inaccessible.

The open roof area will accentuate the intrusion of noise and activity to the adjacent Apartment owners.

The only purpose of this overdevelopment would seem to be to produce a profit for the developers at the expense of existing home owners.

Thank you.

Dear Chief Executive Officer.

125 Kent Street Development Proposal

I write to voice my strong objection to this extraordinary development proposal. One wonders why its proponents have even gone to the trouble, although their trouble is certainly somewhat limited so far, judging by the documents we have seen and their paucity of detail. This really should not have seen the light of day.
It is hard to know where to start:

Serious Overdevelopment.
Too much height and bulk in a very sensitive heritage area

Lack of Boundary Separation
No real setback for the proximity to the balconeys and view of the adjoing buildings.

Impossible to Build

There is only a pedestrian access path from Kent sSreet and a narrow one way lane, Jenkins Street, which services car parks, removals and building and maintainance for Highgate.

Loss of Amenity

The loss of amenity to its neighbours, in terms of view, overshadowing and the harassment of prolonged building due to access would be unprecedented in the area.

Glass Cladding

The extensive use of glass brings concerns about reflection, heat and wind tunnelling, to name but a few.

Sydney LEP 2012

To say the development fails these is understatement. Nothing it seems complies in any sense.

Please decline this proposal with the speed and certaintly it deserves. If it ever came to Land and Envirinment Juristricion, it would be laughed out of court as an embarrassment to all.

Yours Faithfully

Attention: City of Sydney CEO,

I email to object to the proposed development D/2026/97 of 125A Kent Street.

The proposal is out of scale and context with the rest of the Millers Point precinct.

The proposed eight storey tower will create significant negative visual impacts for the surrounding residents, particularly the heritage terraces on the northern and eastern sides of the site. Shading and loss of sunlight will also be a negative loss for neighbours.

Resulting traffic issues created in Jenkins Street will be a negative impact for existing residents in The Georgia, The Stamford Marque and Highgate apartment buildings.

City of Sydney is asked to reject this development proposal on the basis of its overall negative impacts on the local area and its residents..

Thank you.

Caution: This email came from outside the organisation. Don't click links or open attachments unless you know the sender, and were expecting this email.

I wish to express my objection to the proposed development (DA/2026/97) on Kent Street.

I support sensible development in this area. Growth is inevitable and, when done properly, can improve the street and the city. The problem here is not development itself — it is the scale and form of what is being proposed.

In my view, this project is simply too big for the site and out of character with its surroundings.

My concerns are as follows:

- The building is excessive in height and bulk for a confined site. It would introduce a scale that does not reflect the existing character of Kent Street and would stand out for the wrong reasons.
- Building from boundary to boundary, with no meaningful setbacks, creates an overbearing wall of development. Rather than fitting into the street, it would dominate it.
- The level of overshadowing is significant, particularly in winter. Nearby apartments and outdoor areas will lose sunlight to a degree that goes well beyond minor impact.
- The separation between this building and its neighbours is inadequate. Directly overlooking into living areas is unavoidable under the current design, resulting in a clear and unreasonable loss of privacy.
- The proposal appears not to meet key Apartment Design Guide requirements, particularly around privacy distances, ventilation and usable private open space. These standards exist for a reason.
- The façade treatment — largely glass with little variation — will present as a stark, monolithic tower. It does not reflect the finer detail and material character of surrounding buildings.
- The scale and visual impact of the tower would overwhelm nearby heritage buildings and diminish the established character of the Kent Street streetscape.
- A highly glazed structure of this scale also raises concerns about glare, reflected heat and wind impacts at street level. These are practical issues that affect everyday comfort and safety, not only for residents but for workers and other visitors to this historic precinct
- The Design Statement suggests the building responds appropriately to context and protects amenity. When reading the plans, that is difficult to accept. The actual outcomes shown do not align with those claims.
- Overall, the proposal feels driven by maximising floor space rather than producing a well-considered building that genuinely respects its setting and neighbours.

For these reasons, I ask that Council refuse the application in its current form.

Dear Sir/ Madam,

We strongly disagree with the the development of the building for various reasons;

1.The views would be blocked & totally spoil the aesthetic outlook - not to mention valuations of all apartments will be affected, absolutely unacceptable!!
2. Noise & further congestion on roads . Already parking can be an issue for guests etc .
3. Noise from construction, been putting up with all levels on surrounding Barangaroo as it is & that still hasn't finished !!
4. The light / sunshine will be diminished too.

We hope the above points will be taken into consideration & the development will not be processed any further.

Dear Madam/Sir,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the above proposal. Given the site's historical significance and sensitive urban context, we believe the development requires a more considered design approach to protect surrounding amenity and character.

We strongly object to the proposal for the following reasons:

- The scale, bulk, height, and façade treatment are inappropriate for this historically significant and constrained location.
- Insufficient setbacks result in an overdeveloped outcome that dominates the surrounding area.
- The development will significantly reduce privacy and amenity for existing residents on High Street and Kent Street, particularly for lower-level apartments in the Highgate building.
- Noise impacts from the proposed rooftop area will further diminish residential amenity for adjoining properties.
- The proposed tower will cause substantial overshadowing, especially during winter months, resulting in unacceptable loss of sunlight to nearby apartments and outdoor spaces.
- The monolithic glass façade is inconsistent with the local character and will to cause heat glare, adversely affecting nearby dwellings and increasing cooling requirements during summer.

We request that these concerns be carefully considered as part of the assessment process.

I would like to express my objection to D/2026/97 125A Kent Street Development Proposal. I would like to request that you look at this proposal to protect the amenity of neighbouring properties and achieve high-quality, context-sensitive design.

My objections to this site are as follows.

- the architect's Design Statement regarding context, privacy, amenity and scale are misleading in that they do not align with the actual design outcomes.

the glass tower design creates concerns about glare, heat reflection and wind tunnelling, making the street less comfortable and safe for pedestrians.

there are families, elderly, children and people with disabilities who enter and exit the surrounding buildings multiple times of the day and this proposal if it went ahead, would create significant traffic issues to this dead-end street.

the proposed 8 level tower is an overdevelopment of a confined site and would visuallyoverwhelm adjacent heritage buildings and would affect the historic Kent Street streetscape.

the proposal does not meet the Apartment Design Guide (ADG) requirements for privacy distances, natural ventilation, or private open space.

There is no meaningful building separation which will result in direct overlooking into neighbours' living spaces and severe loss of privacy.

The tower will cause overwhelming overshadowing, particularly in winter which will reduce sunlight to nearby apartments and outdoor areas well beyond acceptable limits.

In summary, the project would unacceptably harm neighbouring amenity, heritage character and public domain conditions and should therefore be refused or fully redesigned especially in regard to reducing height and increase set backs.

Dear Sir

I have some objections to the proposal to increase the height of 125a Kent Street Millers point

The premises are in a cul-de-sac and access to the site would make it very difficult for the buildings that have car park and builders access in Jenkins Street to cope.

The increase in height would disadvantage the outlook for quite a number of appartements in the property at 127 Kent Street

OBJECTION – DA/2024/2639931

125A Kent Street, Millers Point

Submitted by: Dr Judy Hyde
Date: 27 February 2026
Contact: [redacted]

To the City of Sydney Council Development Assessment Team,

I object to this proposal on clear planning grounds under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

1. Heritage Harm

The site sits immediately adjacent to State-listed heritage items within Millers Point.

Under Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 Clause 5.10, Council must protect not only heritage items but their setting.

This proposal introduces excessive height and bulk directly behind heritage terraces, fundamentally altering that setting.

That impact has not been adequately justified.

2. No Design Excellence

Clause 6.21 requires design excellence before consent can be granted.

This proposal fails that test:

- Zero setbacks to boundaries
- Blank walls and excessive bulk
- Poor relationship to adjoining buildings
- Significant privacy and amenity impacts

This is not design excellence—it is maximised envelope.

3. Unjustified Departures from Controls

The development:

- Exceeds height expectations
- Provides nil setbacks where 2m is required

- Fails private open space requirements

These are not minor variations—they go to the core of amenity and urban form.

No sufficient environmental planning grounds have been demonstrated to justify them.

4. Severe Amenity Impacts

The proposal creates:

- Direct overlooking from rooftop and upper levels
- Enclosure due to boundary-to-boundary walls
- Likely noise impacts from plant and communal areas
- Poor internal amenity for future residents

These outcomes conflict with the Apartment Design Guide and Sydney Development Control Plan 2012.

5. Public Interest

This is a constrained, heritage-adjacent site in one of Sydney's most sensitive precincts.

Approving a development of this scale and intensity would set a damaging precedent for similar sites.

Conclusion

This proposal:

- Fails to conserve heritage setting
- Does not achieve design excellence
- Relies on unjustified non-compliances
- Creates unacceptable amenity impacts

It should be refused.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Judy Hyde

Subject: Re D/2026/97- Kent St. Millers Point Sydney 2000

At a basic level, we have a fundamental objection to the short timeframe given for residents to make their way through over 200 pages of documents for this development.

Regarding the DA itself, and as owners of Apt 907 127 Kent St. (Highgate), we do not believe the development should be allowed to proceed for a number of critical reasons:

1. The lack of provision of car parking will result in at least another 15-20 motor vehicles (allowing for visitors) requiring street parking, when Kent Street is already well over capacity from a street-parking perspective. And there would be potential for increased obstruction of the Fire Station access.

2. It will to the risk of accidents with so many more vehicles likely to be doing U turns on kent St., whereas all apartments in Highgate have their own internal car spots with direct drive-in/out access.

3. And because of lack of car parking, it will lead to regular blockage and traffic congestion in Jenkins St. with cars being unable to turn. This is the key vehicular access point for most of Highgate residents. I just recently had to allow a large RAM Ute into Highgate car park to turn because he could not manage to turn on Jenkins St. And, because they will be unable to turn, they will have to dangerously reverse the whole length of Jenkins St. putting all Highgate, Georgia and Stamford Marque, pedestrian residents at risk (many of whom are elderly).

4. The development will create significant shadowing onto existing apartments in Highgate, particularly later in the afternoon and evening, and over many heritage cottages.

5. It will also create significant shadowing over the large swimming pool sky-light for Highgate - the brightness of that pool amenity area in Highgate is one of the most important features of Highgate. Not to mention the incongruity of the large glass facade of the common area compared with the heritage cottages it overlooks.

6. Whilst we are not in one of the immediately impacted apartments, it is grossly unfair to the owners of the lower floor apartments on that corner of the building. It will virtually eliminate their view due to the closeness of the development at only 7.8m away. Despite the much larger size of the other Barangaroo buildings in the area, they are sufficiently far enough away not to close out viewing angles. And not to mention probably a 25/30% reduction in value - grossly unfair.

7. Finally, all of Highgate residents and other residents in the area are very proud of the heritage nature of the Kent St. precinct. To add 5 levels onto this building - squeezed into such a small area, poking up like a middle-finger to the neighbourhood, butting directly up against at least 2/3 heritage houses, and over-shadowing many more, is almost a case of heritage vandalism.

And, as the application itself notes, this development will impact on 274 residences - that in itself is evidence enough that this development should not proceed.

We respectfully ask ‘City of Sydney’ - which has had a great reputation for protection of heritage and residential rights over many years - to decline this application.

Kind regards
Patrick Lynam/Kathy Bowman

Caution: This email came from outside the organisation. Don't click links or open attachments unless you know the sender, and were expecting this email.

Dear Sir/Madam,

SUBMISSION OF OBJECTION – DEVELOPMENT APPLICATION D/2026/97 for 125A Kent Street, Millers Point NSW 2000

We write to lodge a formal objection to Development Application D/2026/97. We are residents at 127 Kent Street, residing on the 8th floor above neighbouring apartments that adjoin the subject site. From this elevated position, we are acutely aware of the proposal's likely impacts on outlook, light penetration, privacy and the broader streetscape.This proposal is fundamentally an inappropriate response to its constrained context. In our view, it represents an excessive scale of development for a small and sensitive site and will produce enduring adverse impacts on nearby residents and the established character of Millers Point.

Our concerns are outlined below.

1. Inappropriate Bulk and Scale for a Narrow, Constrained Lot
The site is exceptionally limited in width and overall area, yet the proposal introduces a five-storey extension built effectively boundary-to-boundary. From my level, the cumulative bulk is particularly apparent: the height and massing will visually crowd the northern outlook of our building and present as an abrupt vertical wall rather than a contextual addition. A development of this height and depth on such a narrow parcel does not demonstrate a sensitive or proportionate design response and fails to respect the fine-grained scale that characterises surrounding development.

2. Significant Impacts on Outlook, Daylight and Sky Visibility
Living on the upper floor, the current open northern aspect provides an important sense of openness, sky visibility and access to daylight across living areas and balconies. The proposed extension will substantially reduce this openness by introducing a dominant structure directly opposite our building. Even where total sunlight is not fully eliminated, the perceived enclosure and loss of expansive outlook will materially diminish residential amenity. These impacts are not minor; they will be permanent and felt across multiple levels of the adjoining building.

3. Heightened Overlooking and Privacy Concerns
At upper levels, residents rely heavily on a reasonable expectation of visual privacy. The proposed building, with habitable room windows and balconies facing towards existing apartments, will create new direct sightlines into living rooms, bedrooms and private outdoor spaces. This degree of mutual overlooking is inconsistent with accepted privacy principles and will force residents to rely on blinds and screening, thereby further reducing natural light and outlook.

4. Adverse Relationship to the Heritage Context
The site sits adjacent to historic terraces within the conservation area. The proposed form does not appear to provide a meaningful transition in height or articulation to respond to this context. Instead, the new extension reads as a monolithic insertion that will loom above and visually dominate the neighbouring heritage buildings. Such an outcome risks eroding the established streetscape rhythm and undermining the distinctive historic qualities that define this precinct.

5. Construction Disruption and Ongoing Access Constraints
The subject property's address is currently 125A Kent Street but for all intents and purposes, human and vehicular access in practice will be via the narrow laneway off Jenkins Street, which already functions as the sole or main functional access point for at least eight (8) buildings in the immediate vicinity:

Residential buildings:
1. 127-153 Kent Street
2. 139 Kent Street
3. 157 Kent Street

Mixed use residential buildings:
4. 167 Kent Street
5. 187 Kent Street

Commercial buildings:
6. 201 Kent Street
7. 36 Hickson Road
8. 30 Hickson Road

From experience, even minor obstructions in this lane create congestion and safety concerns. A project of this scale will inevitably require frequent heavy vehicle movements, crane operations and material deliveries, placing sustained pressure on an accessway not designed for such use. The application does not convincingly demonstrate how safe and continuous access for existing residents and occupants will be maintained during construction, nor how additional long-term vehicle movements will be accommodated without degrading the amenity of this quiet residential environment.

Conclusion
For the reasons above, we consider that the proposal is excessive in bulk, detrimental to outlook and privacy, insensitive to the surrounding heritage context, and highly likely to cause ongoing access and amenity issues for neighbouring residents. These impacts are amplified for upper-level occupants such as ourselves, who will experience a pronounced loss of openness and visual amenity.

Accordingly, we respectfully request that the City of Sydney Council refuse Development Application D/2026/97.

Yours faithfully,

Hock Goh

D/2026/97 – Objection to 125A Kent Street

Dear CEO,

I write to strenuously object to development proposal D/2026/97 for 125A Kent Street.

The new tower would create a massive visual impact directly in front of my apartment 702 in the Highgate building. Sunlight, fresh air and amenity will be permanently blocked via a building wall in close proximity to my apartment balcony.

My youngest son James has serious and ongoing medical issues. He requires light and positive outlook for his health and well-being. I am concerned his health will be negatively affected if this development proposal is allowed to proceed.

Noise from the new apartment building at close proximity would also negatively affect the amenity of my family.

The proposed construction is not in keeping with the Millers Point heritage area. The proposal is a massive overdevelopment on a small compact site.

I ask Council to reject this proposal as it is not in the best interests of the many surrounding residents of Millers Point.

Objection to 125A Kent Street - D/2026/97

Dear Mrs CEO,

I am objecting to the 125A Kent Street Millers Point development proposal D/2026/97.

Traffic issues created in Jenkins Street by this development will be a hazard for all current residents who use the street. It is a small street with no turn circle.

The new 8 storey tower will be a massive visual impact for surrounding residents.

The proposed structure is simply not in keeping with the Millers Point area.

This would be overdevelopment to the extreme.

I request Council to not approve this proposal. It would be a negative for the residents of Millers Point.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs Helen Bayfield

Dear Sir/Madam,

I write as a resident of Observatory Tower to formally object to Development Application DA/2026/97 relating to the proposed development at 125A Kent Street.

In all my 17 years of living in Millers Point, I have never come across a development application (DA) so ridiculous and absurd, not only will it impact the community and outrage local residents but it will set a precedent for developers to come to Millers Point and tear down the historic and irreplaceable value of Millers Point.

I strongly urge for DA/2026/97 to be rejected and never be reconsidered again.

I pray common sense prevails here.

Dear Elizabeth - I refer to the above DA.

Please record my objection to this application on various grounds - heritage, amenity, privacy and scale.

In relation to my heritage concerns, I endorse Anne Warr's excellent paper. As a highly experienced and credentialled heritage professional, Ms Warr's concerns should send a serious warning to Council about the inappropriateness of this application in this location.

In relation to amenity, the loss of sunshine in people's backyards should be enough to bin this application.

In terms of privacy, it borders on ridiculous that the applicant thinks its ok for the proposed building to be looking into people's bedrooms and leisure areas. It is not, and should be rejected for this reason alone.

And in terms of scale, it is completely out of kilter with the surrounding heritage properties as noted in Ms Warr's report. It is almost as if they feel the approval of the Central Barangaroo building heights gives it some form of "precedence". It does not. It fundamentally overwhelms this important pocket of the Millers Point Conservation Area.

This property was purchased by the applicant in December 2022. They have taken a bet that their $5m purchase will triple/quadruple in value based on this application. This speculative pursuit should not be approved and the applicant should be satisfied with an alternative development with its existing envelope which complements the significant heritage environment around it.

Any and all of the above bases for objection should be enough for this application to be rejected.

Kind Regards

Bernard Kelly

Caution: This email came from outside the organisation. Don't click links or open attachments unless you know the sender, and were expecting this email.

Dear Elizabeth,

I am the owner of 119 Kent Street, Millers Point, and I wish to lodge an objection to the development application for 125A Kent Street.

My property sits very close to the proposed development, and the scale and form of the building would have direct and significant impacts on both the amenity of 119 Kent Street and the broader heritage character of the area.

1. Loss of Privacy, Visual Intrusion and Unreasonable Overlooking
The proposal includes full-height glazing and apartments positioned with no setbacks, extremely close to the rear of surrounding properties. The outdoor balconies and rear courtyard of our property are our only outdoor open spaces and would all be directly overlooked by multiple levels of the new building. This level of intrusion is inconsistent with the privacy expectations within the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area and would materially diminish the amenity of this heritage item.

2. Excessive Height and Visual Dominance
The proposed tower form is far too tall and bulky for such a constrained site. Its boundary-to-boundary massing and reflective façade would create a visually dominant structure that interrupts the established pattern of heritage terraces along Kent Street. From 119, the building would appear as an abrupt vertical wall rising behind the heritage streetscape, undermining the cohesive character that defines this part of Millers Point.

3. Incompatibility with Heritage Setting
Kent Street is a key approach into the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area, and its character relies on the consistent scale and rhythm of the historic terraces. The proposed development fails to provide the spatial relief, setbacks, or transitional form needed at this sensitive interface. Instead, it introduces a monolithic structure that would visually overwhelm the surrounding heritage items and erode the legibility of the historic landscape. It would be highly prominent within the heritage conservation area, as seen from several key public viewpoints, including High Street, Kent Street, and the summit of the Agar Steps. Due to its excessive scale, the building would visually overwhelm and compromise the setting of the surrounding heritage items.

4. Overdevelopment of a Constrained Site
The site is heavily constrained by its narrow footprint, surrounding heritage buildings, and multiple easements. Attempting to accommodate a tall residential tower in this location results in a building envelope that is simply too large for the site. The lack of setbacks, the reliance on sheer glazing, and the intensity of development all point to overdevelopment rather than a context-responsive design.

5. Parking
The proposed eight-storey development fails to provide any parking provisions, which will severely impact the amenity of local heritage residents who already face intense competition for on-street parking on Kent Street.

For these reasons, I request that the City of Sydney refuse the application or require substantial redesign to ensure that any future development respects the heritage context and protects the amenity of neighbouring properties, including 119 Kent Street.

Dear Colleagues,

125A KENT STREET DEVELOPMENT PROPOSAL - OBJECTION

I am a resident of the Highgate apartment building located at 127 Kent Street, Millers Point.

I refer to the proposed development by Jeffrey Int'l Investment Pty Ltd, which involves the construction of a 5-storey extension to the 3-storey building located at 125A Kent Street.

I am concerned by the potential impact of this development on myself, and other residents of the Highgate community.

I am aware that the proposal does not meet the Apartment Design Guide requirements for privacy distances, and no meaningful building separation is provided. The resulting substantial loss of privacy in living spaces due to apartments directly overlooking one another is a matter causing significant distress.

Furthermore, the historic Kent Street streetscape, defined by its fine-grained rhythm, masonry façades, and articulated shopfronts that collectively express the layered evolution of the area, is an esteemed feature of living at on Kent Street and in Highgate..

Many of the surrounding heritage buildings contribute to a coherent urban fabric where materiality, scale, and proportion reinforce one another. The introduction of a contemporary full-height glass façade would be visually inconsistent with the prevailing build form, departing fundamentally from the established material palette and compositional order of the street, causing a dominant visual rupture in the streetscape.

The proposed boundary-to-boundary construction compounds this issue. I am concerned that the development risks visually overpowering neighbouring structures through its scale, uniformity, and reflective surface treatment.

I am unsettled by the potential environmental and amenity impact of the development. Its height and mass are likely to result in overshadowing of nearby apartments and outdoor communal areas, reducing access to direct sunlight, particularly during winter months. The scale and continuous vertical plane of the proposed building may contribute to wind tunnelling at street level, creating uncomfortable or even hazardous pedestrian conditions.

Ultimately, the proposal appears to prioritise maximising development yield over achieving genuine design excellence or responding meaningfully to local area context. The scale, mass, and façade treatment suggest a focus on floor area optimisation rather than compliance with the objectives of the NSW Apartment Design Guide (ADG). Insufficient regard appears to have been given to the concerns of neighbouring residents, including impacts on sunlight, outlook, privacy, and pedestrian comfort. The 2012 LEP objectives are, respectfully not met at all. As presented, the development reads as a commercially driven outcome rather than a carefully considered architectural response that balances viability with heritage sensitivity, planning principles and instruments, and with reasonable community expectations.

To : City of Sydney,

I have lived in Highgate since 1998 and access to my two car garage is through Jenkins St.

Jenkins St. is constantly busy with traffic. As well as all the residents cars constantly coming and going, I am often held up with delivery trucks servicing all the buildings. Last week the truck delivering to our next door building parked in the middle of Jenkins St and held up all traffic for 15 minuets,while they completed their delivery.

The incoming cars backed up into Kent St.

I am horrified to think of the traffic chaos a large construction at 125A at the end of Jenkins St. will cause.

To whom it may concern.

We have been owners / occupiers of Unit 2110 / 127 Kent Street since 2015 as well as the related Parking Lot 251 in the same building accessible via Jenkins Street.

We understand the current Development Application for 125A is to add a 5-level construction to Highgate's northeast corner which would create addition traffic on Jenkins Street.

Apart from impacting low level Highgate apartments this development will seriously interfere with access to Jenkins Street garages during the construction and affect long term amenity by noise and access traffic via Jenkins Street.

Given that Jenkins Street, a one-lane dead-end street with no U-turn options, is often affected by traffic jams in both directions all the way back to Gas Lane, i.e. private cars, deliveries, maintenance, repairs, bin trucks, removal trucks, foot traffic etc., we are convinced, based on our experience over the last 10 years, that the current road is not sufficient to safely manage the expected traffic during construction and after completion.

Already now the free access to Jenkins Street is impacted by reversing cars or worse U-turns in an area that is not designed for U-turns or reversed traffic. Often this leads to cars and trucks dangerously manoeuvring up and down Jenkins Street all the way back to Gas Lane affecting Public pathways from Kent Street to Gas Lane and Jenkins Street, as well as Public Stairs and Lift traffic from and to Hickson Road which further increases the risks.

We are also of the opinion that boundary-to-boundary construction is inappropriate for this inner-city location and will partially dominate adjoining buildings. Neighbouring heritage buildings would visually be dominated by a glass tower that doesn't seem to fit into the current surrounding design.

Overall, the project would harm neighbouring amenity, heritage character, and public domain conditions, and should be refused. As neighbouring Highgate owners / occupiers we herewith oppose this DA.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I wish to submit my concerns re the proposal for the redevelopment of the above site.

I reside in [redacted].

My concerns with the redevelopment proposal are as follows:-

- The final height will end up at my unit level or just below. That would be the end of my privacy not to mention real potential for obstruction of views.
- Given that the additional height of the building will be glass and my unit faces West, I'm definitely concerned over any sun glare reflection and additional heat into my unit
- The movement of trucks and other construction vehicles will be accessing narrow Jenkins Street causing noise, dirt and potential road/kerb damage. I often work from home and any negative effect from noise will not be ideal.
- The image of the completed project doesn't fit with the current surrounding architecture. The tinted glass storeys look like a broken blade stuck in a block of concrete! Not only is that negative fung shui (and yes, that is a real thing that many believe in), it is an eyesore as well.

I truly understand that Sydney City needs more residential properties but is it worth the aggravation to all nearby residents and the months and months of noise, pollution and heavy traffic on Jenkins Street, etc for 5 residential units in a less than aesthetic looking building.

Thank you for your consideration.

OBJECTION to D/2026/97: 125a Kent Street, Millers Point NSW 2000

Dear Sir/Madam

As a resident of Highgate I am writing to object to the proposed development of 125a Kent Street, as bulkily inappropriate in the heritage-listed neighbourhood.

The proposed lump of an uplift to a restricted access building will overwhelm adjacent heritage-listed properties, ruin heritage-listed public views, occlude views from Highgate apartments, generate intrusive and nuisance noise, and intimately overlook adjacent residences and apartments in Highgate.

NOISE

Nuisance noise from the rooftop community and plant areas will directly impinge on Highgate apartments only a few metres away. Any noise from the rooftop airconditioning and other plant plus residents making noise in the community area will be reflected and amplified by the hard surfaces of the Bond, Highgate and 125a Kent St.

It is noted that the proponent's noise report prepared for DA submission is to North Sydney Council, and it refers to traffic noise impact on 125a Kent St only. Noise from construction for the proposed uplift of 125a Kent Street, and the subsequent apartments and communal use of the north and south roof areas, on Highgate residents, those of 115-125 Kent Street and the 1-9 High Street residents will be significant, intrusive and is not addressed.

CONSTRAINED ACCESS AND IMPACT ON SURROUNDING RESUDENTS

125a Kent Street was the ESSO Petroleum Laboratory, which required minimal road and pedestrian access. It's subsequent use without modification for light commercial has also not required excess traffic nor congestion in Jenkins Street and its pedestrian easement between 125 and 127 Kent Street.

However access for the proposed construction and services will be impossibly constrained by the small Jenkins Street roadway, its other uses, and the tiny pedestrian easement off Kent Street.

The Jenkins St access is only wide enough for two light vehicles side-by-side and is a very busy access already for the Highgate, Georgia and Stamford Marque buildings, their garages and loading docks being six entrances off Jenkins Street already. There is no room for additional vehicles jamming the Jenkins Street roadway and at the end of Jenkins Street at 125a Kent Street, both during 125a Kent St construction and subsequent residents' usage.

The pedestrian easement off Kent Street is a very narrow walkway with long steps alongside the Heritage-listed 125 Kent Street. It is impractical for any construction movement.

Easements to the north are for the heritage-listed High St and Kent St properties. DA states that easement between 9/9a High St and rear of 115-121 Kent St is 'Right of Access Easement' for 125a, which is incorrect. These easements are not available for construction access nor service usage by 125a Kent St.

HERITAGE IMPACT

The proposed bulky inappropriate windowed lump will ruin the important heritage streetscape of Kent and High Streets. Public iconic views over the heritage-listed streetscape from Observatory Park and Agar Steps will be dominated by an ugly block sticking up above the old houses. Council will be aware of the increasing focus on preserving what we have in heritage views and for public enjoyment and that this proposed development will devastate one of the iconic Sydney viewpoints.

WINDOWS AND PRIVACY INTRUSION

The existing bricked in areas on the building's facades are proposed to be converted to windows. There is no consideration for the neighbours' privacy and amenity from these new windows overlooking their yards and windows.

The windows and extensive use of glass will also cause strong sun reflections throughout the day into the yards and windows of the adjacent properties.

CONCLUSION

The proposed uplift of 125a Kent Street must be abandoned since it is an inappropriate expansion of an almost-orphan property that has very limited access for construction or additional residential use. It will impact significantly on the heritage values of outlooks, streetscapes and the heritage-listed properties. It is too close to Highgate and the surrounding residences with almost no setback and excessive proposed windows, overlooking and intrusively looking into bedrooms and yards.

Yours sincerely

Philip Bruce

Please reject this development application.

The suggested development is completely out of place at this location. It does not fit with the heritage precinct. It negatively affects the people living in the adjoining terraces. It casts shadows on the terraces, on Highgate, on Jenkins Street. It affects the privacy of adjacent residents. The extent of glass would be a reflective local eyesore. It blocks the views from the terraces and lower levels of Highgate. It is totally out of place crammed onto this minute block. It would be a blight on our historic precinct.

To whom it may concern,
I am writing to object to submission D/2026/97.
The building extension will affect all properties nearby potentially including observatory hill.
People who have not been overlooked will have people being able to look into their apartments almost from the property borderline. They will also lose any view they previously had.
The lighting for our communal pool will be affected as well as the skylight immediately abuts this development.
There is also limited access to the building, either through a narrow walkway or down a road.
People from that building already park at the end in a limited parking area, the extra new residents will almost certainly try to park in the lane causing congestion and access issues for everyone else.

RE: OBJECTION TO DEVELOPMENT APPLICATION D/2026/97

Dear Council Officers,

I am writing to formally object to Development Application D/2026/97, which proposes the adaptive reuse of an existing 3-storey building and construction of a new 4-part 5-storey extension for residential flat development at the northern extent of the subject site. As a resident in the immediate vicinity, I have significant concerns about this proposal's impact on our community and its failure to meet established planning standards.

Scale and Character Concerns
The proposed development constitutes inappropriate overdevelopment of a constrained urban site. The excessive height and mass of the 5-storey extension is fundamentally incompatible with the established character of our neighborhood. This scale of development extends well beyond what is reasonable for the site's capacity and context. I recommend reducing the overall height of the re-development.

Non-Compliance with Planning Framework
The proposal fails to satisfy key objectives outlined in the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012, particularly those relating to protecting residential amenity and ensuring development responds sensitively to its urban context. The boundary-to-boundary construction approach, with minimal setbacks, will create an imposing structure that dominates surrounding properties rather than integrating respectfully with the existing built environment.

Amenity Impacts
The development will create unacceptable overshadowing of neighboring residential properties, particularly during winter months when natural light is most valued. The lack of adequate building separation distances will result in direct sight lines into private living spaces, fundamentally compromising the privacy that residents reasonably expect in their homes. An experience all people can empathise with. Furthermore, the proposal does not demonstrate compliance with the Apartment Design Guide requirements for appropriate privacy distances, adequate natural ventilation, or sufficient private outdoor space provision.

Heritage and Streetscape Impact
The monolithic glass facade design presents a stark contrast to the area's established architectural character and will visually overwhelm adjacent heritage buildings. This approach undermines the historic integrity of the Kent Street streetscape and fails to demonstrate the design excellence expected for such a sensitive urban location. It is more suitable in Barangaroo rather than Millers Point.

Design Quality Concerns
The extensive use of reflective glass raises legitimate concerns about glare impacts, heat reflection effects, and potential wind tunneling that could make pedestrian areas uncomfortable and unsafe. The design appears to prioritize development yield over genuine design quality and community benefit. The wind will ricochet off the glass into Highgate apartments.

Construction Impact
The construction process will severely disrupt access to Jenkins Street garages and create ongoing amenity issues for existing residents through noise, dust, and traffic impacts.

Recommendation
I respectfully urge Council to refuse this development application in its current form. Should Council be minded to consider any development on this site, it should require a complete redesign that significantly reduces height, incorporates meaningful setbacks, and demonstrates genuine compliance with relevant planning controls and design guidelines.The current proposal fails to achieve the balance between development opportunity and community amenity that good planning requires.

Thank you for considering my submission.

Yours sincerely,
Charlie Watts

Dear Sir/Madam

I wish to express my strong opposition to this development application.

I moved to The Highgate apartments 4 1/2 years ago. My apartment faces west and many apartments and other residences in my complex and surrounding properties will be adversely affected by the development, the construction works and the unsightly structure.

Over the past 10 years the Barangaroo and surrounding areas have become a haven for multiple massive scale developments for residential, commercial and other purposes. These have resulted in overcrowding, they dominate the landscape which should be way more sympathetic to the centuries old heritage properties.

The lack of space and access during the construction phase of this development and after residents move in is unacceptable. I use Jenkins street to access my parking within the Highgate, which is already a challenging space for all vehicles especially delivery trucks, removalists, garbage trucks and tradespeople.

The proposal is for the construction of an unecessary structure that will be a ‘boundary to boundary’ 8 story development overlooking other smaller heritage properties, the cumulative neighbour amenity impact to name a few.

The proposed boundary-to-boundary glass tower at 125A Kent Street represents an unacceptable overdevelopment of a constrained inner-city site. The proposal fails to satisfy the objectives and key controls of Sydney LEP 2012 and Sydney DCP 2012, and does not comply with the intent of the NSW Apartment Design Guide in relation to solar access, visual privacy, building separation, overshadowing, and urban design quality.

I request that the application be refused or significantly redesigned, including reduced height and FSR, increased setbacks, façade articulation, and demonstrable compliance with ADG and DCP amenity criteria to ensure equitable outcomes for neighbouring properties and the broader city.

Enough is enough! When will this overdevelopment stop?

Yours sincerely

I wish to object to the DA D/2026/97 proposed for 125A Kent Street Millers Point.

1. The proposed development rises too high above the adjacent and adjoining Heritage Terraces in Kent Street and High Street, and the Bond Building at 30 Hickson Rd notto be noticeable from a number of viewpoints, including the public pathway from Kent Street to Observatory Hill, from the Crown building, looking towards Millers Point, and from 1 Sydney Harbour. It should be no higher than the Bond building and the zoning should not allow for residential use on such an enclosed site.
2. It is so close to the Heritage terraces 123 and 125 Kent Street and 7 and 9 High Street that is appears to be an odd, out-of-keeping extension with no relation to the Heritage style or age of the terraces or their curtilage.
3. The building is squeezed in behind other buildings except for the dark south side facing Jenkins Street. It has questionable merit as a residential building.
4. It negatively impacts sunlight and outlook for apartments in 127 Kent Street and outlook from the Heritage terraces mentioned above
5. The rooftop use has potential to disturb adjacent neighbours. The rooftop terrace should be deleted from the proposal.

I ask that the Proposed DA be refused.

To whom it may concern.

We have been owners / occupiers of Unit 2110 / 127 Kent Street since 2015 as well as the related Parking Lot 251 in the same building accessible via Jenkins Street.

We understand the current Development Application for 125A is to add a 5-level construction to Highgate's northeast corner which would create addition traffic on Jenkins Street.

Apart from impacting low level Highgate apartments this development will seriously interfere with access to Jenkins Street garages during the construction and affect long term amenity by noise and access traffic via Jenkins Street.

Given that Jenkins Street, a one-lane dead-end street with no U-turn options, is often affected by traffic jams in both directions all the way back to Gas Lane, i.e. private cars, deliveries, maintenance, repairs, bin trucks, removal trucks, foot traffic etc., we are convinced, based on our experience over the last 10 years, that the current road is not sufficient to safely manage the expected traffic during construction and after completion.

Already now the free access to Jenkins Street is impacted by reversing cars or worse U-turns in an area that is not designed for U-turns or reversed traffic. Often this leads to cars and trucks dangerously manoeuvring up and down Jenkins Street all the way back to Gas Lane affecting Public pathways from Kent Street to Gas Lane and Jenkins Street, as well as Public Stairs and Lift traffic from and to Hickson Road which further increases the risks.

We are also of the opinion that boundary-to-boundary construction is inappropriate for this inner-city location and will partially dominate adjoining buildings. Neighbouring heritage buildings would visually be dominated by a glass tower that doesn't seem to fit into the current surrounding design.

Overall, the project would harm neighbouring amenity, heritage character, and public domain conditions, and should be refused. As neighbouring Highgate owners / occupiers we herewith oppose this DA.

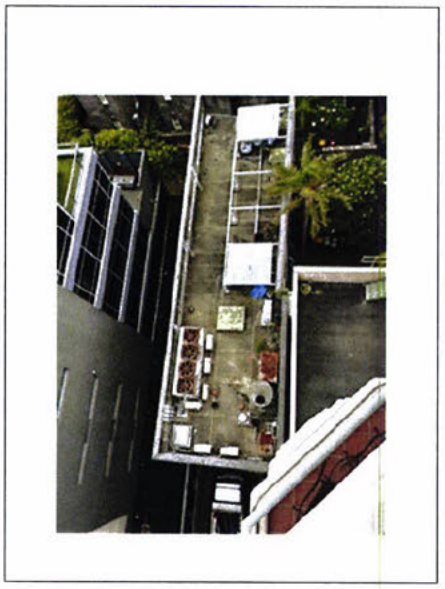
D/2026/97 – 125A Kent Street - Objection

Dear CEO,

Objection / I object to the massive glass façade that is not in keeping with this small site and will cause reflective inconvenience.

Objection / The construction façade is not in keeping with the Millers Point heritage plan.

I have been a local resident for over 13 years and really care about our community and will only support construction that is positive for this building and our neighbours.



I have lived next door to this building at 125A Kent Street and the current roof open space (pictured) is a rubbish tip and there are two disused and broken water containers that are a breeding ground for mosquitoes which causes health challenges.

Another major concern is the intimate proximity of this proposed building to the adjoining Highgate apartments. The people in existing apartments on the lower levels could shake hands with residents in the newly proposed apartments in 125A Kent Street.

Yours sincerely and with gratitude.

D/2026/97 – 125A Kent Street

Dear CEO,

I write to object to the development proposal D/2026/97 for 125A Kent Street, Millers Point.

The proposal put to City of Sydney is out of context with the current Millers Point area. The negative visual impact on the adjoining heritage houses will be significant.

The proposal is overdevelopment of a small, confined site. The height and bulk of the new building would be inconsistent with the character of the Millers Point area.

The new tower would cause overshadowing, even more during winter, reducing sunlight to nearby terraces, apartments and outdoor areas. This would be well beyond acceptable limits.

The overall amenity of all neighbouring local residents would be diminished by the proposal.

It is requested that City of Sydney reject this development proposal.

Objection to 125A Kent Street - D/2026/97

Dear Mrs CEO,

I am objecting to the 125A Kent Street Millers Point development proposal D/2026/97.

Traffic issues created in Jenkins Street by this development will be a hazard for all current residents who use the street. It is a small street with no turn circle.

The new 8 storey tower will be a massive visual impact for surrounding residents.

The proposed structure is simply not in keeping with the Millers Point area.

This would be overdevelopment to the extreme.

I request Council to not approve this proposal. It would be a negative for the residents of Millers Point.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs Helen Bayfield

Please note that date for extension for submission granted by Elizabeth L. Jones

Objection for D/2026/97 125A Kent St, Millers Point

Please note - My apartment 602, 127 Kent St, Millers Point in The Highgate apartments is the lowest northwest facing apartment and thus has the closest proximity to any other residence to the proposed development at 125A Kent St, Millers Point.

As my apartment would be particularly adversely affected, I would appreciate it if council could address the unreasonable impact on my property amenities, in regards to Section 4.15 of the Environment Planning Assessment Act 1979.

As I was departing for an overseas work conference the day after the initial proposal was due, I only had time to make a last-minute submission but have been granted an extension. My parents and the Highgate building manager met with Sydney City Council representatives Elizabeth L Jones and her associate in my apartment. Unfortunately, I could not attend but I appreciate them personally viewing the very significant impact the proposal would have on my apartment.

I am sure there will be many very valid objections submitted from both the neighboring Heritage terraces and apartments which can be addressed separately.

After having time to thoroughly look through the proposal for 125A Kent Street I would like to outline the objections which are specific to my apartment and are valid reasons why the proposal does not comply with development regulations.

1. Plant noise and thermal heat emissions

Due to 125A Kent adjoining the Highgate building and proposed non-compliant building separation, the plans for the proposal have the air conditioning condensers 5 meters by laser measurement directly below my balcony and living room areas. The air conditioning fans, which function it is to extract heat are likely to operate concurrently during peak periods, resulting in cumulative noise and continuous heat discharge towards my balcony and living rooms and this would be exasperated by the parapet walls surrounding the plant area. At this proximity due to noise and rising heat, there is a clear likelihood of adverse acoustic and thermal amenity impacts and sleep disturbance which should have amenity protection.

Under NSW Noise control regulations air conditioning noise must not be heard in a neighbour's habitable room, whether windows/doors are open or closed between 7am to 10pm Monday to Friday and weekends and public holidays 8am to 10pm.

Adjoining the plant area is a communal area, also in close proximity to my apartment, which would impact on the apartments right to privacy. Also, there will be significant noise from social gatherings in this area. The plans for 125A indicate this area will be screened from the plant area, however no equivalent screening or mitigation is proposed for my apartment despite it being directly exposed to the same plant area. This inconsistent treatment demonstrates that adverse impacts are recognized for 125A residents but not adequately addressed for adjoining residential properties.

The acoustic report in the proposal does not address the noise impact of the air conditioning to the nearest residence, which would be my apartment and should be assessed from my balcony and living area windows.

Neither does the proposal address the heat discharge which would affect balcony useability and reduce ability to open windows due to noise and warm air discharge.

Lack of noise and heat compliance and remediation should be stipulated to be at the developers expense if any approval is ever considered.

2. Privacy issues

The northwestern facing apartments in the Highgate, and heritage terraces below, will be very negatively affected by the bulk and lack of setback compliance of the proposal. The proposal significantly impacts on their privacy, light, outlook and visual impact.

From my apartment 602, the lower communal area on the proposal will allow for residents to look directly on to my balcony and living area at close proximity.

Although windows on the east and north of the apartment have louvres in the proposal are these fixed? From experience with louvred windows, you can still look down and to the sides with ease. Being able to view the terraces below and Highgate apartments to the side at close range is a significant impact to existing residents privacy.

3. Spatial, light and air access and visual impact

The 125A proposal is deceptive in the outlook illustrations, displaying incorrect heights and using deceptive angles. In 5.3.3 it states Highgate apartments benefit from a 208-degree view towards Sydney Harbour Bridge, Darling Harbour and Millers Point. This is not true.

My apartment is one bedroom with the western view to the west and Darling Harbour being blocked by the Bond building. There is no Harbour Bridge view as stated and illustrated in the proposal.

There is however a nice open, sunny outlook to the northwest over Millers Point and towards Barangaroo Headland Park. This is the main visual outlook of my apartment. The building proposal would almost totally block this outlook, and the result would be looking at a large building wall in close proximity rather than the current open and light filled outlook.

It is insulting that the proposal states, “north west views would be partially affected by the proposal due to the proposed extension above the existing built form.”

The proposal will have an enormous visual impact, reduce natural light and create a sense of visual enclosure due to the proximity and structure of the proposal above the existing built form.

I cannot find in the proposal how solar access/shadowing will negatively affect the lower Highgate NW facing apartments. The northwest Highgate balconies seem to not be included for solar access / shadow impact in shadow diagrams such as A7.11

4. Traffic Conflict

As there is no turning point or driveway into 125A, there will be many problems with vehicles needing to reverse back along what is essentially a one-way heritage listed Jenkins Street. As it is totally impractical to rely on a busy loading zone for removalists and deliveries across the road in Kent Street for access to 125A as proposed (5.12.4), the residents would obviously recommend vehicles get access via Jenkins Street. Yet this is a public street and not the property of 125A. It would cause constant problems with vehicles from 125A reversing and blocking oncoming vehicles wanting access to the 4 vehicle entrances for apartment buildings on Jenkins Street. There is also an obvious danger from reversing vehicles including garbage trucks to pedestrians on Jenkins Sreet.

Of importance the proposal specifies servicing access via Jenkins Street. How will it be possible for construction? How would cement trucks and vehicles necessary for building construction have access for building. It could only create enormous and unreasonable disruption when there is no right for such vehicles to park during construction or afterwards in Jenkins Street.

5. Excessive height and bulk for the proposed extension for the only 3 apartments.

The proposed extension to the building 125A Kent St, only provides for 3 apartments yet negatively impacts many more existing residents.

The scale of the development appears disproportional for its intended use and certainly does not provide benefits for the greater good of the heritage listed neighborhood. It is an overdevelopment for the small site with non-compliant setbacks which significantly negatively impact adjacent residents.

The 4.0 project description on page 21 states the proposal "prioritizes visual separation, and high residential amenity, while providing a contextual response to the adjacent heritage dwellings".

This is blatantly false for the many neighboring properties, whose existing amenities are unconscionably disregarded in this unreasonable development proposal.

Thankyou for taking the time to consider the significant negative impacts to my apartment 602 in The Highgate Apartments and the surrounding neighborhood. As I have stated 602 and it's amenities are particularly detrimentally affected by the building extension proposition at 125A Kent St, Millers Point.

Kind Regards,

Alex Mackey

as an owner of a property in 168 Kent Street Millers Point 2000 I object to more development or redevelopment along Kent Street.

Already there is a major development happening in Kent Street and cars continue to speed along the street not to mention push bikes speeding past pedestrians.

If approved, the proposal is likely to:
• Reduce natural light to surrounding apartments, particularly during winter
• Increase overlooking and reduce privacy due to limited building separation of Highgate
• Introduce extended construction impacts including noise, dust, vibration, and restricted access
• Create traffic and access pressures in already constrained local streets, including Jenkins Street
• Alter the visual character and amenity of the Kent Street and Millers Point area
There are also broader concerns regarding consistency with the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 and the Apartment Design Guide, particularly in relation to building scale, setbacks, privacy, and protection of neighbouring amenity.

Objections to Proposed DA – D/2026/97 – 125A Kent Street

We own and reside at the property at 123 Kent Street, directly behind the proposed development site. In fact, the rear, western, wall of our property is the side wall of the existing building at 125A Kent Street. The pictures below show the proximity of the development to our property:

The proposed development will directly and adversely affect us in the following ways:

1. Blocking our harbour views
   At the moment, we enjoy looking onto Darling Harbour from our upper floors – in fact this is one of the main reasons we purchased the property recently.
   The new development will completely block all our harbour views. Our only outlook will be onto the side wall of the new development.

2. Taking away our privacy

The proposed development will have windows facing on to our property, so it will allow people in the units to look directly into our property, thus taking away our privacy. The architectural plans indicate that only the windows on the lower two levels will have louvres 'angled up to maintain visual privacy'. The remaining 4 floors plus roof terrace will have no angled louvres, thus allowing people in these units to look directly into our property.

In addition to the lack of visual privacy, we will also be subjected to the noise from these 5 apartments when the windows are open, plus the rooftop entertainment area coming directly into our yard and house. The area is noisy enough as it is, without the additional noise from 5 apartments and roof top terrace coming directly into our back yard. It will be unbearable.

3. Taking away the cross ventilation

At the moment, we enjoy the sea breezes which come from the west across Darling Harbour and through our terrace house. These breezes are very welcome on Sydney's hot humid days. The proposed 8 storey building will completely prevent the harbour breezes and any cross ventilation from coming into our property, making it stifling on hot days. This will mean that we may have to install air-conditioning and keep all the windows and doors shut. Not the sort of living we intended when we bought this house.

4. Taking away our afternoon sun.
While we do get some northern sun into our yard, we rely on the afternoon sun for warming our west facing rear rooms and balcony. We enjoy this afternoon sun very much. The 8-storey building will completely block the afternoon sun from our property.

Conclusion

The 8-storey building proposed to be built directly onto our rear boundary will make life for us in this terrace house almost un-liveable for the reasons, as outlined above:

- Destroying our visual privacy
- Introducing noise sources directly on our boundary
- Entirely removing our access to sea breezes and cross-ventilation.
- Removing all western sun from our west facing rooms
- Removing our harbour views entirely.

Please do not allow this development to go ahead,

Dear Elizabeth,

I am one of owners of 123 Kent St and 62 Kent St Millers Point.

I refer to DA/2026/97 for 125A Kent St, Millers Point. Given the significant issues the DA raises we are seeking advice, which takes time. We therefore request an extension till 20th March 2026 to submit our comments.

Hi there

As residents of this street, we wanted to register our objection to this development.

In particular:

- We are worried that that this development will create significant construction impacts including noise, dust, vibration, and restricted access
- It will exacerbate traffic and access pressures in already constrained local streets, especially Jenkins Street
- It will unfavourably alter the visual character of the Kent Street and Millers Point area

Thanks for your consideration.

Dear Elizabeth,

I'm one of the owners of 62 Kent Street, Millers Point. My parents live at 123 Kent Street, Millers Point.

I'm writing to provide a submission regarding DA/2026/97 for 125A Kent St, Millers Point.

While I am not the owner of the adjoining property 123 Kent Street, I am a frequent visitor to my parents' home which directly backs onto the site 125A Kent Street. I regularly spend time there with my toddler and as I am currently pregnant, I anticipate that 123 Kent Street will continue to be an important place where my parents support me with childcare and family activities.

For this reason, I am concerned that the proposed additional five storeys will materially impact the residential liveability and amenity currently enjoyed at the home.

In particular, I would like to raise the following concerns:

1. Privacy Concerns
    a. The proposed increase in an additional five stories on top of the existing building has the potential to introduce significant overlooking into the backyard and internal living spaces of the neighbouring property. This will directly overlook private outdoor spaces and internal living spaces where children play, affecting the safe use of these ares for young children and diminishing the sense of privacy expected in a residential setting.
2. Solar Access
    a. Access to sunlight is particularly important for the safe and comfortable use of outdoor areas used by families with young children. The sun is particularly important for vitamin D in children as well as preventing toxic substances such as mould and fungal growth. The scale of the proposed height increase raises concerns that the backyard and adjoining living spaces may experience reduced sunlight, particularly during winter months. Reduced solar access would impact the usability of this outdoor space for children's play and general family use.
3. Noise and Activity
    a. The noise and debris from construction presents as a safety hazard for young children.
4. Heritage Concerns
    a. As detailed in the submission prepared by heritage architect Ann Warr, the proposed addition of five storeys to the existing structure would introduce a scale and bulk that is inconsistent with the established built form of the surrounding heritage items and the Heritage Conservation Area (HCA).
    b. The increased height and visual dominance of the development would diminish the heritage significance of the surrounding area, including the character of Jenkins Street and its historic sandstone retaining walls, which contribute meaningfully to the heritage fabric of the precinct and warrant recognition as a heritage item.

c. In addition, the scale of the proposed development has the potential to adversely affect the amenity of adjacent heritage properties by reducing access to sunlight, natural light, air circulation and cross-ventilation.

In summary, the proposal will result in:

- The loss of privacy
- Reduced solar access
- Noise pollution
- Impact on heritage setting

Taken together, the impacts above significantly affect the day-to-day amenity of neighbouring residential properties. These effects are particularly relevant for families who rely on outdoor spaces for childcare and recreation.

As a result, I respectfully object to the proposed development in its current form. I urge the consenting authority to carefully consider these impacts in its assessment of the application. The proposal represents an overdevelopment of the site and is inconsistent with the scale and character of the surrounding area.

I've also attached the submission from my parents from 123 Kent Street and heritage architect Ann Warr.

Thank you for considering my submission.

Yours sincerely,
Elizabeth Xue

Millers Point

Objections to Proposed DA – D/2026/97

Introduction

The proposed development at 125A Kent Street Millers Point is for the conversion of an existing 3 storey warehouse to an 8-storey apartment building. The proposed 5 apartments will cover 540m2 on a site area of 154m2 with no setbacks.

Site description

The existing warehouse occupies the northern end of Jenkins Street and appears to have been constructed c1971 as a laboratory for the adjacent 19-storey Esso House completed in 1971. In 1992, Esso House was sold and converted to the 32-storey residential tower Highgate by 1995.

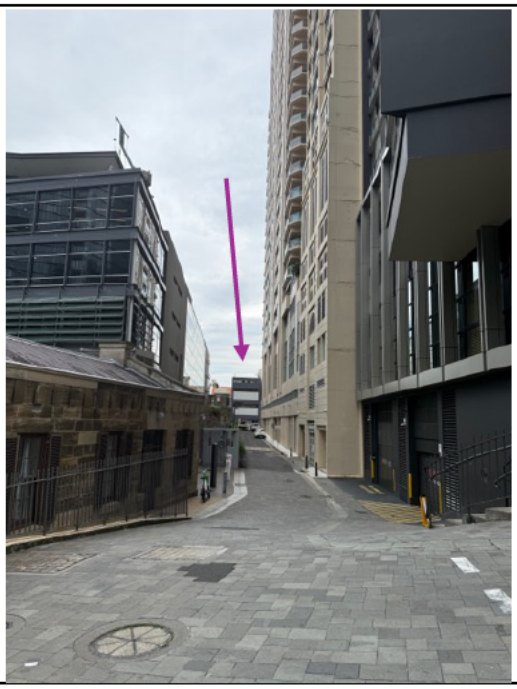

Figure 1.0, Looking north from junction of Gas Lane and Jenkins Street towards the subject property marked with red arrow, AW 23.02.26

Figure 5.0, Western elevation of subject property looking south, with former Lend Lease building on RHS. Note the sandstone cutting which supports the subject property – the same cutting that can be viewed from inside former Lend Lease building, AW 23.02.26

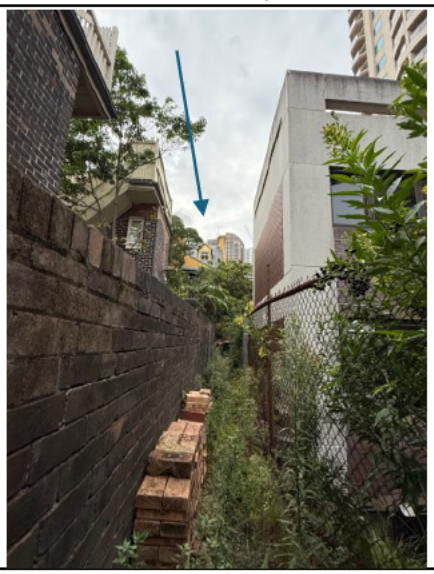

Figure 6.0, From back lane looking east towards 121 Kent Street (green arrow) with subject property on RHS, with High Street properties on LHS, AW 23.02.26

Easements covering the site

There are 7 easements affecting the subject site in Jenkins Street; - the first, Easement A, being created in 1970. Easement D allows for a '1,524m wide passageway between the subject site and Kent Street to provide light, air and access to the property. The easement burdens the residential property to the west (No 125 Kent Street…) and

The fact that so many easements are required to manage the land-locked warehouse at the end of Jenkins Street indicates the complexity of the site in relation to its many and varied neighbours which will only be exacerbated by the proposed increase in height and density.

Clearly, a building should never have been allowed to occupy the difficult land-locked site at the end of Jenkins Street in the first place and was probably initially tolerated as a service building of low height tucked away at the end of a service lane with low visitation.

Is the site a heritage item?

The current development is predicated on the use of the easement to 125 Kent Street for access, light, air, ventilation etc. The easement is part of the state heritage listing for 125 Kent Street and falls within the state heritage listed Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area (MPHCA). If part of the site is state heritage listed, shouldn't the whole development then be subject to the requirements of state heritage listed items? See figures 8.0 and 9.0 below.

The fact that the address chosen to identify the property is the Kent Street address, rather than the Jenkins Street address, immediately identifies the property as belonging within the MPHCA.

Jenkins Street has been identified as an item of local heritage significance (LEP#1890) as it 'contains remnants of a past streetscape' including 'remnant sandstone walls and decorative wrought iron street light' (NSW SHI listing). A remnant historic sandstone wall forms the foundations for the structure at 125A Kent Street, see figure 5.0 above. This is the same sandstone wall deemed of sufficient aesthetic significance to form a major component of the ground floor public spaces to the former Lend Lease Bond building which won numerous architecture awards on completion in 2004. Therefore, the subject building contains within it significant sandstone elements deemed to be of local significance by the City of Sydney.

Heritage Impact

The SHI argues that the proposed 8-storey building is acceptable as it 'will comfortably form part of the existing backdrop of much taller contemporary buildings' (Weir Phillips SHI: 41). It fails to note the corollary which is that the proposed 8-storey building will very uncomfortably form part of the backdrop of existing much smaller heritage buildings.

The SHI also argues that the ...'proposal...is set well behind the heritage items...' (Weir Phillips SHI: 41). The proposal in fact has no set back from the heritage items that surround it on 3 sides. The boundaries of the proposed development are in fact the boundaries of Jenkins Street (a local heritage item), 125-123 Kent Street (State heritage significant items) and 3-9 High Street (State heritage significant items) – with no setbacks.

In fact, as the SHI indicates, setbacks between the state heritage items of the HCA and the areas zoned for 30- and 80-metre-high development are needed to provide breathing space between the lower rise, fine grain of the heritage items and the much larger scale of the residential tower blocks.

The subject site should become part of MPHCA

The subject site sits at the pivotal junction between the high-rise residential zoning and the low-rise heritage conservation area and is somewhat of an anomaly. The south-western boundary of the MPHCA is the only boundary which meets an abrupt wall of high-rise development – already substantially in place when the MPHCA was placed on the State Heritage Register in 2003, see figure 10.0 below.

The remainder of the boundaries to the MPHCA are defined by existing topographical features of the landscape – sandstone cuttings etc. The ability to coherently read the heritage landscape of Millers Point as a unified part of the peninsula landscape is one of its aesthetically defining characteristics. The only area where this coherency is weak is the south-west junction with the high-rise components of Kent Street and Hickson Road around Jenkins Street. One of the joys of Millers Point is entering the precinct through one of the few roads leading into it – George Street North, Argyle Place, Kent Street, Dalgetty Street – and immediately feeling that you have entered a unique heritage precinct, see figure 11.0 below.

Logically the southern boundary of the MPHCA should have continued along the southern boundary of 125 Kent Street to meet the western side of Jenkins Street, however, this would have meant leaving the existing warehouse straddling 2 development zones. Hence on Heritage Map 013, the subject site appears as a no-man's-land disconnecting the adjacent heritage properties, see figures 12.0 and 13.0 below.

In an ideal planning world, the subject warehouse would be demolished to allow the significance of Jenkins Street to be re-claimed, for good planning reasons as well as heritage reasons. The advantages of this would be:

- Allowing the heritage values of Jenkins Street to be enhanced by providing views through to the rear of the heritage-listed properties along High Street (similar to Phillip Lane which provides glimpses through to the dome of the Chief Secretary's building). A distinctive characteristic of Sydney is the juxtaposition of old and new buildings often glimpsed through slot views allowed from narrow streets and the undulating terrain.
- Providing an enhanced 'rear lane' experience which is already valued within the urban grain of the city of Sydney – such as Loftus Lane.
- Providing a linking element between the high-rise developments and the low-rise heritage properties, with a chance to appreciate the contrast of building types, with space between.
- Allowing air and ventilation to the wall of high-rise apartments on either side of Jenkins Street, as well as to the heritage properties at the northern end.

CONCLUSION

The proposal to develop 125A Kent Street into an 8-storey residential block should be rejected for the following reasons:

- The site should be identified as a heritage item as part of it includes the easement off 125 Kent Street which is part of the MPHCA,
- The proposal diminishes the surrounding heritage items and HCA,
- The proposal diminishes the local significance of Jenkins Street and the historic remnants within it such as sandstone walls.
- The proposal reduces the amenity of adjacent heritage items and high-rise development by reducing the amount of light, sunshine, air and cross ventilation to these properties.

This is an opportunity for the City of Sydney and Heritage NSW to remedy the anomaly of the weak south-west border of the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area by strengthening the buffer zone around the High Street and Kent Street heritage properties bounded by Jenkins Street.

Objections to Proposed DA – D/2026/97 – 125A Kent Street

We own and reside at the property at 123 Kent Street, directly behind the proposed development site. In fact, the rear, western, wall of our property is the side wall of the existing building at 125A Kent Street. The pictures below show the proximity of the development to our property:

The proposed development will directly and adversely affect us in the following ways:

1. Blocking our harbour views
   At the moment, we enjoy looking onto Darling Harbour from our upper floors – in fact this is one of the main reasons we purchased the property recently.
   The new development will completely block all our harbour views. Our only outlook will be onto the side wall of the new development.

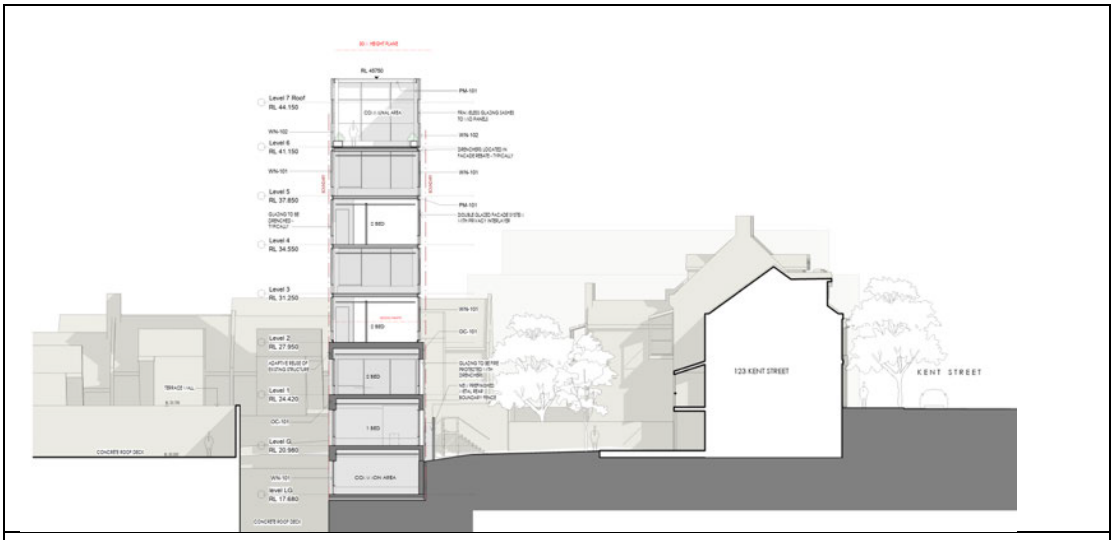

Figure 6.0, This section from the architectural plans shows the huge wall of development directly facing onto our property which will block our harbour views, sunlight and cross-ventilation.

2. Taking away our privacy

The proposed development will have windows facing on to our property, so it will allow people in the units to look directly into our property, thus taking away our privacy. The architectural plans indicate that only the windows on the lower two levels will have louvres 'angled up to maintain visual privacy'. The remaining 4 floors plus roof terrace will have no angled louvres, thus allowing people in these units to look directly into our property.

In addition to the lack of visual privacy, we will also be subjected to the noise from these 5 apartments when the windows are open, plus the rooftop entertainment area coming directly into our yard and house. The area is noisy enough as it is, without the additional noise from 5 apartments and roof top terrace coming directly into our back yard. It will be unbearable.

3. Taking away the cross ventilation

At the moment, we enjoy the sea breezes which come from the west across Darling Harbour and through our terrace house. These breezes are very welcome on Sydney's hot humid days. The proposed 8 storey building will completely prevent the harbour breezes and any cross ventilation from coming into our property, making it stifling on hot days. This will mean that we may have to install air-conditioning and keep all the windows and doors shut. Not the sort of living we intended when we bought this house.

4. Taking away our afternoon sun.
While we do get some northern sun into our yard, we rely on the afternoon sun for warming our west facing rear rooms and balcony. We enjoy this afternoon sun very much. The 8-storey building will completely block the afternoon sun from our property.

Conclusion

The 8-storey building proposed to be built directly onto our rear boundary will make life for us in this terrace house almost un-liveable for the reasons, as outlined above:

- Destroying our visual privacy
- Introducing noise sources directly on our boundary
- Entirely removing our access to sea breezes and cross-ventilation.
- Removing all western sun from our west facing rooms
- Removing our harbour views entirely.

Please do not allow this development to go ahead,

Raymond Xue (Lei XUE) &
Canna Cao (Ying CAO).

Subject: D/2026/97 - 125A Kent Street - Objection to Development Proposal
Attachments: excerpt from architect plans.jpg (284.23 KB)

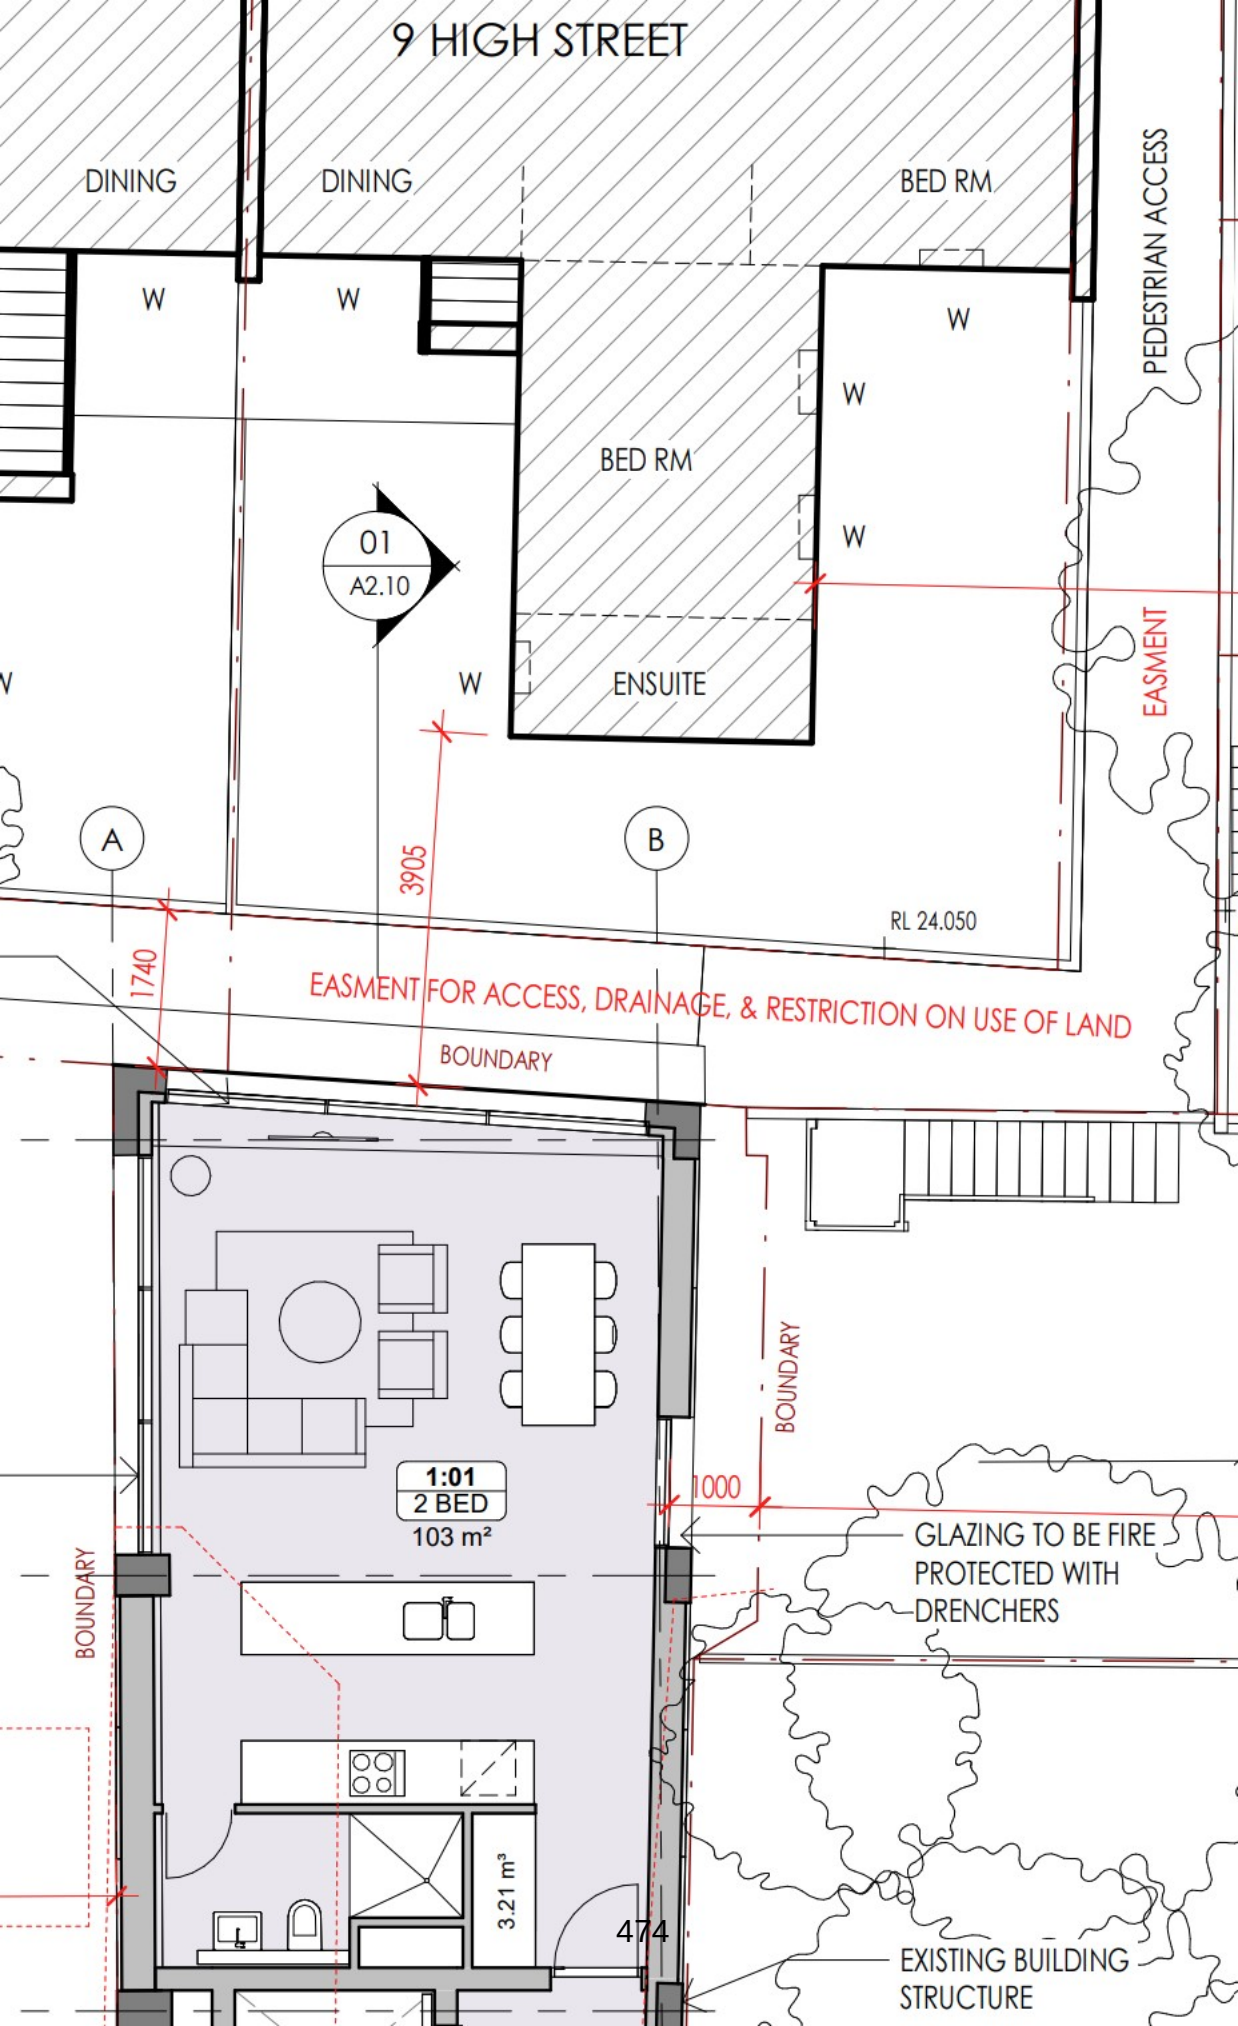
Dear Mr/Mrs,

I am the owner and resident of 9 and 9A High Street, Millers Point, and I wish to lodge a formal objection to the development application for 125A Kent Street. My concerns are outlined below.



1. Non-compliant Building Separation, Invasion of Privacy and Acoustic impact
Sydney DCP 2012 (Section 4.2.3 - Amenity) and the Apartment Design Guide (Part 2F) establish clear minimum separation distances between residential buildings to prevent unreasonable overlooking. For buildings of these heights, separations of at least 12 metres are required between habitable rooms and between habitable rooms and balconies. The proposal provides virtually no side or rear separation and instead introduces extensive full-height glazing positioned extremely close to neighbouring properties.

This creates unavoidable direct overlooking into adjoining living areas and into our only private open space. Privacy screens or glazing treatments do not resolve the fundamental issue of inadequate separation. As shown in the architectural plans appendix 2 (see excerpt attached), the distance between 125A and my house is 3.905 metres. Such a small gap creates an overwhelming invasion of privacy and is also too small to buffer the noise of an 8-storey development.

A glass-faced tower in such proximity would significantly diminish the privacy and amenity of our outdoor areas.The proximity will lead to highly intrusive noise from residents and shared spaces, which will be felt most intensely within my property because of how close the buildings are.

2. Heritage and Streetscape Impacts
High Street is an important part of the Millers Point heritage precinct, with a cohesive and historically significant streetscape. The proposed building disrupts this character by inserting a tall, visually dominant structure into the centre of a heritage cluster. It overwhelms the surrounding terraces and intrudes upon the south-western edge of the conservation area. The development would be highly visible from High Street and from Agar Steps, where it would appear as an intrusive and incompatible element. This outcome is inconsistent with the heritage objectives that guide development in Millers Point.

Re: D/2026/97
125A Kent Street, Millers Point NSW 2000

Dear Elizabeth,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposal to build an eight-storey building on 125/A Kent Street Millers Point (D2026/97).

I own 115 Kent Street Millers Point, a beautiful fully restored 1886 terrace house. Before I could undertake the restoration, I had to obtain the consent of the Government of NSW, which had owned the house since the early 1900's, the City of Sydney and the Heritage Council. The principal factors all considered the remediation being undertake was in character with the existing building and in sympathy with and complementary to the historic fabric of the Millers Point, Dawes Point, Rocks Precinct. Their determinations included such things as windows, colour scheme, a TV antenna (which was disallowed) and the restoration of a "crucifix" clothesline.

It would be outrageous if the monstrosity proposed at 125A Kent Street were allowed to proceed after all effort that has already been expended on maintaining the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area ("MPHCA").

Whilst 115 Kent Street has no immediate boundary to 125A Kent Street it is only about 25 metres away, consequently, I strongly object as this development will affect us in the following manner;

- It is visibly ugly dark brown monolith which adds nothing to the surrounding architecture.

  Under Sydney LEP 2012 the Height and Floor Space Ratio controls intended to ensure development intensity is appropriate to site constraints, infrastructure capacity and surrounding context. I don't believe this proposed development meet the LEP's objectives of;

  i. Ensuring building height and bulk are consistent with the desired future character of the area,
  ii. Minimising adverse impacts on the amenity of the adjoining properties,
  iii. Achieving high-quality urban design outcomes.

- Sunshine: A tall boundary-to-boundary building on a narrow inner-city site will inevitably cast extensive shadows on neighbouring properties (including my home) particularly during winter when sunshine is most needed. The houses at 123 and 125 Kent Street are most affected as they will receive very little sunshine throughout the year. Consequently, I would strongly contest the proponent's assertion of very little solar effect.

- Wind and Environmental Impacts. Sydney DCP2012 requires wind effects to be assessed and mitigated, particularly for tall buildings in dense CBD environments. Tall boundary-to-boundary towers are known to exacerbate downwash and pedestrian-level wind impacts. (One only has to walk up Kent Street from Napoleon Street to Argyle Place to feel the downwash already). This development because it is taller than any adjourning buildings will only add to this discomfort.

- Neighbourhood Amenity The impacts to my property and to the immediate community in Kent Street, High Street and the Highgate building include;

  i. Significant loss of daylight and winter solar access,
  ii. Severe visual privacy impacts from zero separation and full-height glazing. (It will directly over-look the rear of our house including bedrooms and our outdoor dining veranda),
  iii. Excessive bulk and visual dominance inconsistent with DCP urban design,
  iv. Potential wind, glare and environmental comfort impacts,
  v. Adverse impacts on heritage setting and streetscape character.

  One has to query the egregious claims by the Developer and/or its Consultants such as;

  i. The design 'enables the development to integrate seamlessly into its established urban context resulting in a well-connected, high amenity residential outcome" or
  ii. "the proposed development's bulk and scale have been carefully considered to minimise impacts to adjacent developments, maintain a high level of amenity and be considerate of the urban fabric of Millers Point" or
  iii. "while the material selection remains restrained, it is rich in depth and variation, providing a sophisticated, enduring and contextually responsive architectural language that enhances both the surrounding context and resident experience".

  I cannot believe a professional could describe such a cheap and nasty building in such glowing terms!!

In conclusion I strongly object to this proposal as it fails on all counts of social amenity, architectural design excellence as set out in LEP 2012 and has a direct negative effect on my quality of life.

I look forward to your advice that the City of Sydney Council has rejected this DA/2026/97.

Yours sincerely

Karen Knight

Dear Elizabeth

Please find attached our objection submission, as owners of 125 Kent Street.

Best regards

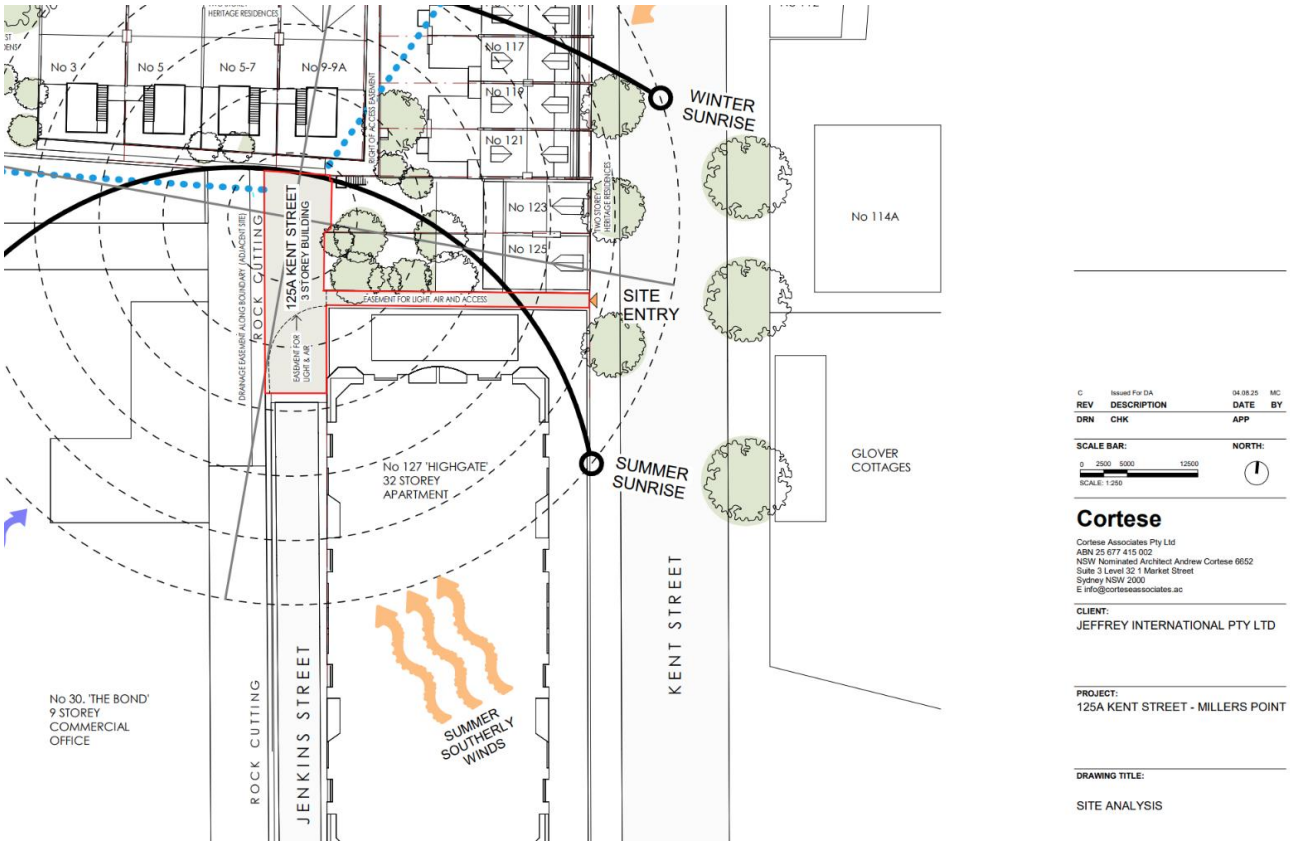
Summary:

We are Alison and Doan V. Tran, the owners of the state heritage property at 125 Kent Street, Millers Point.

The DA D/2026/97 for 125A Kent Street, Millers Point should have indicated in the submission that it is in fact an integrated development because it involves works on our property and our easement which are state heritage listed items. Section 60 application under the NSW Heritage Act 1977 is a mandatory approval process for undertaking works, alterations, or excavations on items listed on the State Heritage Register (SHR). In conclusion,

1) We do not give consent to the use of our building and the easement (under Section 23 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulation 2021, supported by Section 4.12 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979).
- We do not give consent to the Fire booster to be attached to our state heritage building.
- We do not give consent to the reconfiguration of the stairways on the heritage-listed easement.
- We do not give consent to the construction of the stair platform lift on the easement.
- We do not give consent to the demolition of the existing heritage-approved gate which will be replaced by a modern gate on the easement with many letter boxes attached.



2) The new development will significantly reduce our solar access.
3) The new development will severely invade our privacy.
4) The new development will significantly diminish the value and severely affect the amenity of our property as well as many of the surrounding state heritage terraces.

1. Use of Easement

We do not give consent to the use of the easement. The easement is a 1.525m wide path described as “light, air and access” burdening our heritage house and land at 125 Kent Street. The easement is included in the DA as part of the development site (refer to the two excerpts from the DA below). It is referred to throughout the DA as the main entrance to the site. The DA proposes to modify the existing staircases on it, install a platform lift on it, install a fire booster on it, demolish the heritage-approved gate on it and build a new modern gate with many letter boxes on it. In fact, the DA D/2026/97 is an integrated development; and without our permission, the owners of 125A shouldn’t have been even permitted to submit a DA that proposes the use of our heritage-listed building and easement. The DA should therefore be refused on this basis.

In the past, being a good neighbour, we have given permission for the owners of 125A to install their NBN connection with its cable running along the easement to their building. We also did not object when they installed a security camera over the easement pointing into our backyard and along the easement. However, we object to the new development because it will significantly diminish the value and severely affect the amenity of our property as well as many of the surrounding heritage properties.

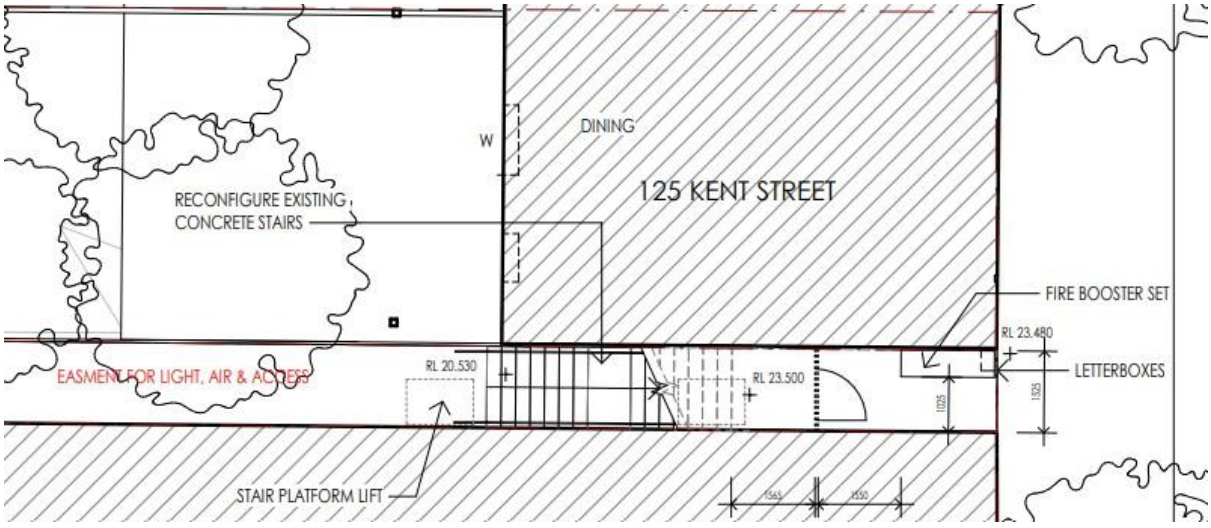
The easement is land that belongs to us. The easement grants light, air and access and right of carriage-way.

The right of carriage-way is defined in Part 1, schedule 8 of the Conveyancing Act as follows:

CONVEYANCING ACT 1919 - SCHEDULE 8



Part 1 - Right of carriage way

Full and free right for every person who is at any time entitled to an estate or interest in possession in the land herein indicated as the dominant tenement or any part thereof with which the right shall be capable of enjoyment, and every person authorised by that person, to go, pass and repass at all times and for all purposes with or without animals or vehicles or both to and from the said dominant tenement or any such part thereof

- Fire booster, letter boxes, platform lift and gate

Please refer to the below excerpt from the architectural plans.

Excerpt 3 from DA:

As shown above, a fire booster set, letter boxes and gate are proposed to be attached to our state heritage sandstone building. The reconfiguration of the existing concrete stairs on our easement as well as the installation of a stair platform lift are also shown above. We do not give consent to these works. This is a state heritage listed building and easement. Even if we gave consent, this would need to be approved by the Heritage Council.

The right of carriageway does not give a right to build on, constrict or impinge on this narrow strip. The fire booster will significantly constrict the width of the easement, from 1.525m narrowed down to 1.025m as shown.

We do not give consent to the demolition of the existing heritage-approved gate which is proposed to be replaced by a modern gate further into the easement with many letter boxes attached.

- Intensification of use of Easement

The building has up until now been a single unit. The proposed development converts the single unit into an 8-storey residential building consisting of 5 apartments, a communal space as well as a rooftop communal area. As such the proposed DA is to substantially and significantly increase the number of occupants who will have the right to pass through our land, 125 Kent Street. This is a significant intensification of traffic on the easement that will destroy our amenity, in terms of privacy, security and peace and quiet.

2. Reduced solar access

- The DA severely blocks light into all our living areas - dining room, living room, 3 out of 4 bedrooms, landing, staircases and hallways which open onto and shed light into rooms, including kitchen, living room and all 4 bedrooms. Our west facing balcony is a key living area for us. We are very dependent on light coming in through the west facing windows. We have no north facing windows, and only 3 rooms have east-facing windows, we have no south facing windows.
- Our home relies heavily on the existing level of natural light being preserved. The state heritage listed terrace, built under different building/planning rules, already has low internal light, well under today's standards. No adaptations are possible (no walls can be changed) to increase window size to allow in more light.
- From the rear of our house the sun will disappear behind the extended 125A much, much, earlier in the day. The effect will be felt most severely in the winter. There are no sun diagrams in the DA for 22 March, yet it is an obligation under section 4.2.3.1(1) of Sydney DCP 2012 to provide them in the DA. The DA only provides sun diagrams for 21 June. As you progress from June through to March and through to December the impact increases because the sun travels more south-west than north-west. See photo below, taken standing at the rear of house at 5:39pm, 28 February 2026.
- There are no sun diagrams showing light impact to our west walls (where our windows are) - they will be much more in shadow hence much less light hitting our living areas.
- A lack of sunlight falling on sandstone walls can deteriorate them. There will be very much reduced hours of sunlight (if any hours at all) on the west facing sandstone walls.

3. Reduced sky

- What sky outlook we have now from our home will be totally obliterated by the massive wall that would be facing us from the west / north-west side. We have always treasured what sky we can see in the west / north-west for a sense of wellbeing. Sky outlook from 2 bedrooms, lounge, landing, staircase and hallway, and the balcony will be obliterated.

4. Sense of enclosure

- From inside our living areas and two bedrooms looking out of the windows to the rear of our home, we will feel like we are in a prison. The existing massive (south) wall of Highgate will join together with the newly massive (west and north-west) wall of 125A and both will now tower over us, totally enclosing us on south, west and northwest sides (the 125A wall is not just west but also extending north-west from where we are). Highgate itself is to our south side; the sunlight does not come from the south and we have no windows on the south. If a perpendicular towering wall is affixed to it at our west, it will become prison-like.

5. Privacy

The key privacy concerns (which of course also impact our mental well-being) are:

- All the east facing proposed windows will be an unbearable invasion of privacy into the rear of our property.
- The apartment windows would overlook all our living areas including two of our bedrooms resulting in us no longer having privacy in any part of those two bedrooms. We already have Highgate apartments looking down on us from the south. With the proposed development, 125A would overlook us from the west and north-west resulting in nowhere to hide.

- Privacy in our only open spaces, our balcony and backyard, will be totally destroyed.
- There are no setbacks for the windows. The proposed windows on Level 1 and ground floor plans abut the boundaries of our property. See Level 1 and ground floor plans.

6. Statement of Environmental Effects (SEE) is unbalanced and misrepresents and omits the impact to heritage items

- The SEE Appendix 13 cites some Principles from the Millers Point Locality Statements of the DCP, yet the SEE fails to address them. Principles include:
    - "Retain, conserve and reinforce the historic character and heritage significance of the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area and individual items on the State Heritage Register."
    - "New development is to respect and maintain the existing heights and established character of the area."
- On page 28 the SEE states: "The new addition is of slender design which minimises overshadowing and view impacts to neighbouring developments." This is patently unbalanced and absolutely not correct. This is a one-sided view, and the severely damaging effect on the low-lying heritages terraces are intentionally omitted. From all the terraces at 115 to 125 Kent street, the view at the new extended building at 125A is quite towering and not slender at all, especially for our property and our neighbours at 123 and 121. The extended 125A will absolutely overshadow its neighbouring properties due to its bulk and its almost 30 metre height.
- See page 40, section 5.10 on Overshadowing. The SEE states: "Noting the slender design for the 4-storey extension, solar access to neighbouring residential developments, namely Highgate apartments located to the south-east of the site, will maintain a minimum of 2 hours of solar access between 9am to 3pm during Winter Solstice. As such, the proposal maintains adequate solar access to neighbouring developments in accordance with Objective 3B-2 of the ADG." This intentionally ignores the impact to solar access on our property. The towering 125A building on our north-west side will absolutely reduce by more than 20% our solar access, which is not compliant with Objective3B-2.

7. Access

- How will the project be completed without access to our land? We will not provide permission to use our land for access.
- How will maintenance occur on the building once finished without going over our land?
- The proposal is non-compliant with 5.1.1.3 (7) - facades that contain windows must be set back from side and rear site boundaries by a minimum of 2 metres. The SEE Appendix 13 proposes "Where access from neighbouring properties is required, this will be managed with neighbours as per existing conditions." What existing conditions are being referred to? No windows should be built on the facades that abut neighbouring properties, or the facades should be set back 2 metres according to the rules to avoid trespassing onto those properties.

We would welcome the opportunity to discuss with you.

Best regards
Alison & Doan V. Tran

Dear sir/madam

I am the owner and a full time resident in Observatory Tower in Kent Street.

I am writing to object to the above development proposal.

The proposal indicates a residence completely out of character with the area, consistent with neither the modern high-rise towers such as ours nor the Victorian and early 19th century terraces and homes in our street. It will:also create additional parking and access pressures in a street which already has existing challenges.

The floor space available means that the five apartments built over 5 levels in a constrained floor area , allowing for floor access will be very small. It is hard to see how it will accommodate even a small number of additional permanent residents given the size of the plot and is more likely to be used for short term letting creating even greater challenges for our suburb.

With recent upgrades to the Fort Street School we need to make more homes available for families not what look likely to be smallish apartments with limited space.

Finally given teh incredible constraints placed on heritage homes in the area to ensure these were and remain in character with the area it would be outrageous for this to go ahead.

Finally the proposal will unnecessarily create additional construction noise and other impacts in a suburb where we have had to suffer this for too long.

Kind regards

Dear Sir/Madam,

RE: Development Application - 125A Kent St Millers Point NSW 2000
D/2026/97
Submissions from adjoining property 125 Kent St Millers Point NSW 2000

A. This Objection

We represent the owners of the attached terrace house at 125 Kent St Millers Point (Our clients' land). The row of terraces of which our client's property is a part is a State listed heritage item.

Our clients object strongly to the above DA made for a new residential flat building 125A Kent St Millers Point.

The grounds upon which our client objects are:

(a) Owners Consent – The DA includes part of our client's land within the DA site which is subject to a limited right of carriageway. The DA cannot lawfully be made without their consent.

(b) Heritage Act approval required – because our client's land is a State listed heritage item, and physical work is proposed in the DA on our client's land (in addition to the architectural plans including part of our client's land in the "Site"), approval is required under the Heritage Act (see s 57(1)(e))

(c) Bulk and scale – the relationship of the proposed seven storey wall (plus roof top garden) to the backyards and built form of the heritage listed terraces is unacceptable.

(d) Overlooking – There would be unacceptable privacy impacts from the proposed windows, private open space and common areas overlooking the backyards of the heritage listed residences is unacceptable.

(e) Unlawful impacts on right of carriageway – the right of way is a shared accessway over which the owner of the development site has limited rights. It has no right to construct the proposed letter boxes, relocated front gate, stair platform lift and level changes proposed for the access way.

(f) Heritage impacts – The DA proposal would detract unreasonably and unacceptably from the heritage significance of the adjoining State listed heritage item, as well as the other State listed items such as the heritage pedestrian walk between the UNESCO listed Harbour Bridge and Barangaroo which involves a number of other State listed heritage sites.

(g) Acoustic impacts – The proposed development includes elevated common and private recreation areas with a zero setback to the rear yards, bedrooms and living areas of the heritage listed residences, and will cause unacceptable acoustic impacts.

(h) Unacceptable impacts on common accessway – the proposal would pose unacceptable impacts upon the common access way over the listed heritage item comprising our client's land by intensifying its use far beyond what might ever have been anticipated at the time of the easement's creation.

(i) Inadequate parking provision – The 5 large apartments have no parking provided, no loading or unloading area, and no provision for dropoff of disabled vehicles

These separate points of objection are expanded below.

B. Relationship of the proposal to the listed heritage residences

The proposed development at 125A Kent St Millers Point is for the conversion of an existing 3 storey warehouse to an 8-storey apartment building, with 5 apartments that will cover 840sqm on a site area of 154sqm with no setbacks. That intensity of development is inappropriate for its context and must be refused.

The proposed development significantly affects the neighbour 125 Kent St not only by proposing to improperly impinge upon an easement on 125 Kent St, but also by significantly increasing the height of a building in an area where low level heritage housing and heritage zoned land all surrounds. The residents of 125 Kent St in particular will see substantial disappearance of visible sky in their backyard, because converting from a 3 storey to 8 storey apartment building in a small backyard will virtually remove any sunlight after around 2pm.

This section extracted from the DA plans shows the self evidently unacceptable relationship between the open space and west facing windows of the heritage listed residences:

As seen from that section, the proposal would completely dominate the State listed item and change the environment of its rear yards.

Owners Consent and the easement

The first fundamental problem with the DA is that it proposes development over our client's land without their 'owners consent' as required by s 23 of the Environmental Planning & Assessment Regulation 2021, which reads:

> 23 Persons who may make development applications
> (1) A development application may be made by—
> (a) the owner of the land to which the development application relates, or
> (b) another person, with the written consent of the owner of the land."

This is the "Site Plan" included at Sheet A0.10 of the Architectural plans, which shades a part of our client's land subject to a right of way as part of the Site.

The right of way allows only passage over the strip of land, not any development. Despite this the DA plans propose significant development including a relocated gate, a stair platform lift, letterboxes for many apartments within the new development, fire fighting infrastructure and changes to the shared pathway.

The Construction, Demolition and Operational Waste Management Plan describes the changes to the narrow strip comprising the area of the right of carriageway.

The terms of the easement are as follows:

> "An easement for the free and uninterrupted access of light and air across the Servient Tenement through the airspace shown on the Plan as "Easement for Light, Air and Access", to and for any building erected or to erected on the Dominant Tenement at all times, as well as a right of carriageway, over and across the land as shown on the plan as "Easement for Light, Air and Access" at all times

It does not permit the proposed work which are not essential for passage across the way. It does not permit the area of the easement for letterboxes, waste management, or fire fighting.

The right of carriage-way is defined in Schedule 8 to the Conveyancing Act as being:

> Full and free right for every person who is at any time entitled to an estate or interest in possession in the land herein indicated as the dominant tenement or any part thereof with which the right shall be capable of enjoyment, and every person authorised by that person, to go, pass and repass at all times and for all purposes with or without animals or vehicles or both to and from the said dominant tenement or any such part thereof.

The original easement that burdens our client lot 125 Kent St Millers Point, was intended to be a right of carriageway for one lot and impliedly for one lot occupant. The proposed DA D/2026/97 is to convert the one lot into 5 apartments or 5 occupants spread over multiple levels, 3 of which are 2 bedroom apartments, as well as for a rooftop communal area likely to entertain including for guests. As such the proposed DA is to substantially and significantly increase the traffic and number of people who will have the consequential right of pathway through our client lot 125 Kent St, from one occupant to 5 sets of occupants and their guests. If the DA is granted, every person who occupies any of the 5 apartments as well as all their guests, will have a right to pass through our client lot pursuant to the easement.

This is contrary to the spirit of the easement as it was originally granted. The DA should be refused as it significantly and seriously overburdens the easement as a right of carriageway in a way that was not intended nor envisaged when the easement was granted. It seriously affects our client land in an unacceptable manner, and affects acoustics, privacy and security of that pathway.

In Lowe v Kladis [2018] NSWCA 130, the Court of Appeal recognised that both the dominant and servient tenements have rights over a right of way and neither should "unreasonably interfere" with the other. The Court held at [88] that:

> "This Court has held that for this purpose it is permissible to have regard to the physical features of both the dominant and servient tenements. The justification for this view is that the court is not taking into account matters, such as the intentions of the original grantor and grantee, that are inaccessible to a third party inspecting the register."

In this case it could not have been contemplated that a right of way in favour of land that small could ever have been intended to provide access for so many dwellings.

At Page 15 of the Construction, Demolition and Operational Waste Management Plan, there appears a FireBooster set rectangle that constricts the entrance to the easement on Kent St and narrows that entrance. That is not permissible by the easement. A FireBooster set cannot be interpreted in any reasonable manner to be part of any right of carriageway as defined in the Conveyancing Act. The FireBooster set, if it were to be installed, would presumably need to be drilled into place on the wall of 125 Kent St: see attached and marked "A" photo of this area that would need to be drilled into place. The Heritage Impact report in the DA, quite remarkably omits any consideration of how a FireBooster set would be installed on a heritage protected sandstone wall, as well as heritage zoned easement strip.

The current occupants of 125 Kent St live in a house that is inside and outside sandstone, where they are prohibited from nailing or drilling any holes of any kind whatsoever onto the walls by the Heritage Council. The DA hasn't properly considered this, and in truth, has intentionally omitted this from the Heritage Impact report, which should be highly discredited and disregarded in support of the DA.

Secondly, there is now a stair platform lift within the easement strip. There is no explation of how that stairlift will be serviced by electricity.

As stated above, an easement with right of carriageway, does not permit any building or construction items within this narrow strip. The right of carriageway is a right to "go, pass and repass", it is not a right to build a stair platform lift. Building a stair platform lift, is not permitted by the easement, which is only to “go, pass and repass”. Any construction within the easement is not permitted. Further, the Heritage Impact report in the DA again conveniently omits any consideration of the stair platform lift being constructed on heritage zoned land that is the entire block 125 Kent St including the easement. And has also omitted to state that such stair platform lift would need to be approved by the Heritage Council which is highly unlikely.

Thirdly, there also appears on the easement a doorway or gateway midway between the proposed stair platform lift and the FireBooster set. That is not permitted in the easement, which is only to “go, pass and repass”, not to build a gateway or doorway for what appears to be the exclusive use of 125A. Further, the Heritage Impact report in the DA again conveniently omits any consideration of a doorway or gateway midway between the proposed stair platform lift and the FireBooster set, being constructed on heritage zoned land that is the entire block 125 Kent St including the easement.

The easement strip is only to “go, pass and repass”, not to build or constrict in any manner shape or form, erect FireBooster sets, erect stair platform lift, erect gateways and doorways.

Further, there is described at the entrance the plural “letterboxes”. Again, we now have a situation of a narrow entrance easement, created and intended for one occupant, now to be expanded for 5 letterboxes at the entrance of what is already a narrow strip. That cannot be within the original spirit of the creation of the easement, that there are now 5 occupants with antecedent 5 letterboxes, and 5 sets of occupants with rights of way. The visual and purposeful impact of 5 letterboxes must be considered very seriously at the entrance of such a narrow easement strip. Again, the Heritage Impact report intentionally omits any consideration of the impact of the simple green heritage approved gate to the easement entrance, to now be expanded to have 5 letterboxes. Attached and marked “B” is a current photo of this gate entrance with one letterbox only, and it is not clear how 5 letterboxes can fit on this small heritage approved gate. All changes and installations to the current approved gate, must be vetted and approved by the Heritage Council. The Heritage Impact report of the DA is very clearly biased in omitting so many crucial aspects, and as such the Heritage Impact report should be highly discredited and disregarded in support of the DA.

It should also be stated that the FireBooster set is proposed to be attached to the wall of 125 Kent St, which is a heritage sandstone wall. That would need consent of the owners of 125 Kent St, because the FireBooster set has nothing to do with any right to “go, pass and repass”. Further it would need approval from the Heritage Council regarding visual impact as it would be visible from the street.

The proposed modern gate housing all 5 letterboxes, replaces an already wooden Heritage Council approved wooden gate, and that modern gate needs to be approved by the Heritage Council. In this regard, it is highly misleading for one of the photos in the DA labelled as “existing view” to have photoshopped out the existing Heritage Council approved wooden gate, and superimposed a modern gate in its place as if it was already there and as if it were already approved by the Heritage Council.

Additionally, the DA must not obstruct the occupants of 125 Kent St from continuing to use this easement land, which is technically land owned by 125 Kent St. The DA plans show that the FireBooster set would narrow the strip from 1.525m which it currently is with the existing gate, to become 1.025m. As such the proposed DA obstructs the use by 125 Kent St by narrowing it substantially. This includes the modern gate with its numerous letterboxes. The proposed DA is impermissible as it substantially interferes with the usage by 125 Kent St, in a manner that must be found unlawful to the grant.

The owners of 125 Kent St do not give consent to the expanded usage of the easement in the various ways sought in the DA, and such refusal does not give rise to any rights to the owners of 125A Kent St to assert any unreasonableness or assertion of substantial interference or other ancillary right to relief: Owners Corporation Strata Plan 533 v. Random Primer Pty Ltd [2025] NSWCA 8, a decision of the Court of Appeal.

C. Overlooking

The DA proposes for there to be multiple windows on the new East facing wall of 125A Kent St, that overlooks our client backyard at 125 Kent St, being one window above the easement strip, and multiple windows in rooms above 123 Kent St that also gives vision of 125 Kent St backyard: see Architectural Plans Appendix 2 in the DA. The current situation is for a 3 storey wall, without any windows that can invade the privacy of 125 Kent St. This backyard is directly overlooked by this east facing wall, and the proposed DA is to add all these numerous windows that provides direct vision and overlooks the private backyard and bedrooms of 125 Kent St amounting to an unacceptable privacy issue as the proposed windows would see into the backyard, bedrooms and be clearly visible because of the small distance. The apartment windows would overlook all the living areas of 125 Kent St including two of their bedrooms resulting in no longer having privacy in any part of those two bedrooms.

D. Building Height and solar access

The owners of 125 Kent St already have a 3 storey building in the west side of their lot, that curtails sunlight from around 4pm each day in summer, whereas sunlight in summer continues to around 8pm. If this were to be converted into an 8 storey building, the backyard to 125 Kent St would see significant diminishment of sunlight, possibly losing sunlight from around 2pm every day in summertime. As it is, the backyard for 125 Kent St is already boxed in, with walls on the west and south. To increase the building height for the west wall to 8 storeys will significantly diminish sunlight into the backyard and house generally. See attached pictures showing the backyard and current 3 storey building on the west wall.

The DA would severely block light into all living areas of 125 Kent St - dining room, living room, 3 out of 4 bedrooms, landing, staircases and hallways which open onto and shed light into rooms, including kitchen, living room and all 4 bedrooms. There is also the west facing balcony of 125 Kent St that would very significantly diminished from loss of sunlight. The owners of 125 Kent St are very dependent on light coming in through the west facing windows, because there are no north facing windows, and only 3 rooms have east facing windows.

State listed heritage terraces like the current heritage house at 125 Kent St, are built under different building/planning rules, already have low internal light, well under today's standards.

The effect will be felt most severely in the winter. There are no sun diagrams in the DA for 22 March, yet it is an obligation under section 4.2.3.1(1) of Sydney DCP 2012 to provide them in the DA. The DA only provides sun diagrams for 21 June. As you progress from June through to March and through to December the impact increases because the sun travels more south-west than north-west.

There are no sun diagrams showing light impact to the west walls (windows) of 125 Kent St - they will be much more in shadow hence much less light hitting these living areas.

Lack of sunlight falling on sandstone walls can deteriorate them (as is evident on the south side of the house of 125 Kent St. There will be very much reduced hours of sunlight (if any hours at all) on the west facing sandstone walls.

E. Outlook

What sky outlook there is now for 125 Kent St will be totally obliterated by the massive wall that would be facing them from the west / north-west side. This includes from 2 bedrooms, lounge, landing, staircase and hallway, and the balcony will be obliterated. These points above will have a detrimental impact on both physical and mental health of occupants of 125 Kent St - a depressing lack of light, lack of sky outlook and feeling of enclosure and being hemmed in.

F. Parking

With no dedicated parking provided with the DA, this is going to exacerbate the issue of parking for residents and impact all heritage residents severely. All neighbouring heritage residents do not have parking and have to park on the street. Increasing from one occupant into 5 apartments without parking in an already limited parking area for residents, will be to strain to an unacceptable level the parking issue in the area for residents. There is no provision for loading or unloading, or access by disabled persons.

G. Construction and Maintenance

The DA provides inadequate information as to how the building will be constructed and maintained given the zero setback to the heritage listed residences.

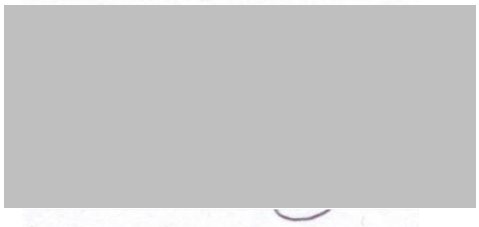
An important consideration is for maintenance of the eastern wall of 125A Kent St once it is constructed. How will this maintenance be done without impinging on the quite enjoyment by 125 Kent St of their backyard? How will the walls be maintained, or painted once finished, without accessing the private property of 125 Kent St.

H. Setbacks

The proposal appears to be non-compliant with 5.1.1.3 (7) of the DCP - facades that contain windows must be set back from side and rear site boundaries by a minimum of 2 meters

I. Heritage

Our clients purchased their residence because of its heritage significance.



The existing building on 125A should never have been constructed and meets no reasonable planning standards.

However, to increase the size of that building by more than double will exacerbate the stark and undesirable impacts of the commercial intrusion. The backyards and west facing windows will be loomed over by the new building which will totally dominate them.

On the whole the DA does not adequately or even properly consider the heritage impacts, purports to impose improperly and unlawfully on the easement that burdens 125 Kent St, and unreasonably burdens and impacts the resident of 125 Kent St visually, privacy wise, parking wise for wider residents in the area, including sunlight and enjoyment of land of 125 Kent St. Any approval in the form it currently presents itself, must be highly problematic and subject to scrutiny.

Development Proposal
6 February 2020
Applicant name:
JEFFREY INTL INVESTMENT PTY LTD
Reference number:
D/2020/87
Site address:
125A Kent Street , MILLERS POINT NSW 2000
Proposed development:
Adaptive reuse of existing 3 storey building and construct a new 4 part 5 storey extension to the northern extent of the site and use as a residential flat building containing a total of 5 apartments with roof top communal open space.
The City of Sydney has received the above application. As part of our assessment, we are notifying surrounding neighbours and property owners to seek their views on the proposal.
We are accepting comments on the proposal until 27 February 2020. If this date is on a weekend or public holiday, the period is extended to the next working day.
We encourage you to review all documents to understand the details of the proposal.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to formally object to DA/2026/97. The proposal's excessive height, inadequate setbacks, and boundary-to-boundary construction will result in overshadowing, loss of privacy, and substantial disruption to the surrounding community. For these reasons, I do not approve of this application.

Thank you very much for your consideration.

Best regards,

Julie

RE: ADAPTIVE REUSE OF EXISTING 3 STOREY BUILDING AND CONSTRUCT A NEW 4 PART 5 STOREY EXTENSION AND USE AS A RESIDENTIAL FLAT BUILDING, CONTAINING A TOTAL OF 5 APARTMENTS WITH ROOFTOP COMMUNAL OPEN SPACE, DA D/2026/97, PPTY: 125A KENT STREET, MILLERS POINT

Dear Elizabeth,

I refer to the abovementioned Development Application (DA) D/2026/97, on the property at 125A Kent Street, Millers Point (subject site).

I was requested by the owners and residents of an adjoining Residential Flat Building, known as “Highgate”, at 127 Kent Street, Millers Point, to assess the above proposed development and to provide my professional opinions.

My Clients’ property lies generally to the southeast of the subject site.

I confirm that I have examined the documents, plans, reports, and Statement of Environmental Effects (SEE) lodged in support of the proposed development.

For the reasons referred to in my submission, I am of the strong professional opinion that the above DA is most unreasonable and objectionable and is not worthy of approval.

Prior to providing my points of objection, I wish to provide the following preliminary comments:-

- By way of introduction, I wish to advise you of my qualifications and experience. I am a Consultant Planner with 15 years’ experience in 3 Local Government Councils, including 9 years as a Senior Development Control Planner. I hold a Bachelor of Town Planning Degree from the University of NSW and a Bachelor of Laws Degree (Hons) from the University of Technology, including a High Distinction in Environmental Studies. I have appeared as an Expert Planning Witness for 9 Councils in the Land and Environment Court (Court), and I have also appeared in numerous Appeals as a Court Appointed Expert. I have also previously appeared as the Expert Planning Witness for City of Sydney Council (Council) in the Court.
- On behalf of my Clients, myself and fellow adjoining owners, thank you for your courtesy in granting an extension to the exhibition period. Your courtesy is greatly appreciated.

My points of objection can be summarised in the following areas of concern:-

1. RESPONSES TO SEE

- Figure 4 shows the existing Residential Flat Building, known as "Highgate", which is my Clients' building at 127 Kent Street.
- At Section 2.4 entitled "Pre-DA Meeting", I note that there was a previous Pre-DA Meeting with the relevant Officers of City of Sydney Council (Council). There are references to various comments of Council Officers made not only during the above Pre-DA Meeting but also at a follow up meeting. I consider that the various "Council comments" indicate a range of concerns raised by Council Officers. For the reasons referred to in this submission, I am also strongly of the opinion that the current DA is objectionable, and my objections reflect the majority of Council's concerns. Of particular note is that Council Officers raise the following concerns:-

  i. Council Officers contend that "the apartments will receive substandard amenity and will not meet the objectives of the Apartment Design Guide (ADG) nor demonstrate Design Excellence". I agree with this concern raised by Council Officers.
  ii. Council Officers raise a concern regarding the non-compliant setbacks from the boundaries, visual privacy and obstruction of outlook and solar access. I agree with Council's concerns.
  iii. Council Officers raise a concern that the proposed apartments are not able to be naturally cross ventilated. The Applicant now contends that 4 of the 5 apartments are now cross ventilated.
  iv. Council Officers note that "no private open space is provided, and the common open space is undersized and overshadowed". The Applicant concedes that no private open space areas are provided but contends that the proposed communal open space "adequately offsets the provision of private open space areas". I strongly disagree for the reasons referred to in my submission.
  v. Council Officers consider that there would be "adverse impacts on the adjoining properties with visual and acoustic privacy impacts, loss of outlook, sense of enclosure and possible reduced solar access". I strongly agree with Council's concerns.

- Figures 8 and 9 in the SEE indicate the layout of the proposed development. The SEE acknowledges the "constrained nature of the site". It could be fairly said that the subject site is severely constrained by the following features:-

  i. Small area of only 153sqm.
  ii. Narrow width of the subject site in an east west direction.
  iii. The subject site is enclosed by adjoining developments, including my Clients' property to the southeast, residential terraces to the east and north and other approved residential developments to the west. The adjoining residential terraces are part of a Heritage Conservation Area (HCA) and are State Heritage Items.

iv. Due to the narrow width of the subject site and the fact that the subject site is surrounded by a range of residential development, I consider that the internal amenity of the proposed development will be inadequate and furthermore the proposed development will generate a range of adverse impacts on adjoining properties.

v. The subject site is also affected by various easements and restrictions including, but not limited to, "easement for drainage", "right of carriageway for easement of light and air", "easement for access", "easement to drain water" and "easement for sewerage purposes of existing line of pipes". Please refer to Deposited Plan 873158 which is included as part of the DA.

The above elements i. to v. reflect a severely constrained site which limits potential redevelopment. The fact that the proposed development breaches numerous Planning Controls evidence the severely constrained nature of the subject site and the excessive bulk and scale of the proposed development. Furthermore, the adjoining locality, primarily the HCA and State Heritage Items, requires a sensitive development on the subject site. Rather than providing the required sensitive development on the subject site, the proposed development reveals numerous breaches of Council's Planning Controls with associated adverse amenity impacts.

- Section 3.6 entitled "Landscaping" indicates the proposed landscaping. It could be fairly said that the "Landscaping Details" do not constitute deep soil landscaping but rather are peripheral plantings at various upper levels. The proposed landscaping is essentially small landscaping above structures which do not provide appropriate deep soil landscaping. In other words, there is no meaningful deep soil landscaping around the curtilage of the proposed building.
- The bottom of Table 4 refers to the "Design Verification Statement" which seeks to address the 9 Design Quality Principles and assessment against the ADG. Please refer to additional comments later in this submission.
- In relation to Clause 4.4 entitled "Floor Space Ratio" (FSR) and Clause 4.3 entitled "Height of Buildings", the SEE notes that the proposed development complies with both Development Standards.
- Despite compliance with the FSR and Height Standards, there still must be a proper and informed assessment against the full range of matters under Section 4.15 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act before one can form a final opinion as to whether the proposed development is worthy of approval. In this case, despite compliance with the FSR and Height Standards, I strongly consider that the proposed development fails on a range of matters under Section 4.15 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act which are referred to in my submission.
- In relation to Clause 6.21 "Design Excellence", I do not consider that the proposed development exhibits Design Excellence as required under Clause 6.21 of Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 (SLEP 2012) for the reasons referred to in my submission.

- In relation to Section 4.2 entitled "Sydney Development Control Plan 2012" (SDCP 2012), I that the proposed development fails to comply with the following Planning Controls under SDCP 2012:-

    i. Internal Common Areas.
    ii. Private Open Space and Balconies.
    iii. Common Open Space in relation to Unpaved Soft Landscaped Area.
    iv. Side and Rear Setbacks.
    v. A range of Amenity Impact under SDCP 2012.

- There are also breaches of the ADG referred to in my submission.
- Section 5 entitled "Planning Evaluation" assesses the proposed development in terms of various impacts. I consider that the proposed development will result in a range of adverse Amenity Impacts including, but not limited to, the following:-

    i. The SEE claims that the proposed development "maintains its relationship with neighbouring buildings". I strongly disagree. The proposed development does not maintain the relationship with neighbouring buildings but introduces a significantly larger building with nil boundary setbacks to the adjoining properties. Simply put, I consider that the proposed building is a significantly larger building than currently exists on the subject site and therefore significantly changes the relationship with adjoining buildings, including my Clients' building. On this point, please refer to the attached "Photomontages". I consider that the Applicant's Photomontages evidence the fact that the proposed building will tower over the adjoining terraces and will generate a Sense of Enclosure to those terraces. The Heritage status of the terraces exacerbates the adverse impact.
    ii. In terms of Visual Impact, I consider that the proposed development, particularly in terms of its height and nil boundary setbacks, is a very unsatisfactory interface with lower scale terraces in the immediate vicinity. Even in relation to the interface with my Clients' building, the proposed development likely generates adverse View Loss and Overlooking Impact from a number of my Clients' lower-level units. Further assessment is required in relation to View Loss.
    iii. In relation to Sense of Enclosure, which was raised by Council Officers, I consider that the proposed development generates adverse Sense of Enclosure, particularly from the terraces and their private open space areas to the east and north.
    iv. In relation to the issue of View Loss, I refer to Section 5.3 entitled "View Impacts-Private View Points". I raise the following concerns relating to the assessment of View Impact from my Clients' lower level units:-

        a. The View Impact Assessment (VIA) is only based on "indicative views". In other words, the Photomontages which accompany the VIA are not based on the Court's protocol for Photomontages. There is no evidence to suggest that the Photomontages have been produced in accordance with the Court's protocol.

b. No representative of the Applicant has ever requested access to my Clients' units to personally observe the current views from my Clients' units.
c. The VIA has not considered the 4 Steps under Tenacity Consulting v Warringah Council (Tenacity), which is a Court Planning Principle.

- Section 5.5 entitled "Visual Privacy" correctly sets out the Building Separation Control under the ADG. The proposed development clearly breaches the ADG Building Separation Control.
- The Design Report claims that a "combination of solid walls, obscure glazing and screen devices have been utilised to ensure adequate visual privacy for future tenants within the proposal and neighbouring developments". Thus, the Design Report acknowledges that without the visual privacy measures, there would be unreasonable and adverse Overlooking Impact into adjoining properties. The concern that I raise is that the various Visual Privacy measures will adversely impact the internal amenity of the proposed development for future occupants. Thus, to solve one problem (that is privacy), a second problem arises (that is poor internal amenity for the proposed units). The severe constraints of the subject site result in a proposed development which generates a range of adverse impacts not only in terms of the amenity of adjoining properties, including my Clients' property, but also the poor internal amenity for future occupants of the proposed development.
- Despite the proposed privacy measures, I also consider that the proposed development will still generate adverse Overlooking Impact from both the proposed lower and roof top Communal Open Space and the proposed northern and eastern glazed surfaces.
- Section 5.6 entitled "Private Open Space" correctly identifies that the proposed development breaches the Private Open Space Control under the ADG. No Private Open Space is proposed. In its place, the Applicant proposes Communal Open Space, but I do not consider that Communal Open Space of itself overcomes the need for Private Open Space. In fact, in the circumstances of the current DA, I consider that Private Open Space is far more essential for future occupants rather than Communal Open Space for the following reasons:-

i. The Court has previously established that public open space can satisfy Communal Open Space if the public open space is within 400m walking distance. There are public open space areas within 400m of the subject site. In other words, there is ample public open space area within easy walking distance.
ii. The poor internal amenity arising from the proposed privacy measures referred to above is further worsened by the lack of private open space.

- Section 5.8 entitled "Acoustic" has only assessed "Traffic Noise" and has not assessed Acoustic Impact arising from the following noise sources:-

i. Acoustic Impact arising from the proposed use of the Communal Open Space on Level 2 and the rooftop. The Acoustic Impact likely from the use of the rooftop Communal Open Space and Level 2 Communal Open Space has not been investigated.

ii. Acoustic Impact from proposed plant and equipment has not been considered. The Acoustic Report advises that "A specific mechanical plant selection has not been provided at this stage".

- In relation to Parking, Traffic and Loading, please refer to additional comments below.
- Section 5.15 entitled "Site Suitability" claims that the proposed development "is suitable without adverse impacts on the environment and surrounding Heritage context" and "ensures suitable amenity is maintained for neighbouring developments and the site".
- I disagree with the above claims and say as follows:-

i. For the reasons referred to in this submission, I consider that the internal amenity for future occupants of the proposed units will not be reasonable.

ii. Adjoining properties would also suffer an unreasonable loss of amenity for the reasons referred to in this submission.

- Section 6 entitled "Conclusion" at the 2nd paragraph claims that the proposed development ensures "a high level of amenity is achieved for future residents". I disagree. I consider that the internal amenity for future residents will be poor.
- Furthermore, the SEE in the 2nd paragraph in the "Conclusion" section claims that the "amenity for neighbouring properties will be maintained". This is simply not the case.
- Overall, I disagree with many of the claims in the SEE for the reasons referred to above.

2. LOSS OF VIEWS

- As previously advised in my submission, I raise the following concerns relating to the assessment of View Impacts from adjoining residential properties which are generated by the proposed development:-

i. The View Impact Assessment (VIA) is only based on "indicative views". In other words, the Photomontages which accompany the VIA are not based on the Court's protocol for Photomontages.

ii. There is no evidence to suggest that the Photomontages have been produced in accordance with the Court's protocol.

iii. No representative of the Applicant has requested access into my Clients' units to personally observe the current views from my Clients' units.

iv. The VIA has not considered the 4 Steps under Tenacity Consulting.

- Overall, the VIA is inadequate for the reasons referred to in i. to iv. above.

3. ADVERSE VISUAL IMPACT – INCOMPATIBLE DEVELOPMENT

- In the 2nd paragraph in Section 3.2 entitled "Built Form and Massing", the SEE claims that the proposed development is a "modest tower extension" (emphasis added). This is a totally unfounded claim. Whilst the proposed tower is described as "a slender 4 storey extension", a proposed extension of 4 storeys cannot be described as a "modest" tower extension. Please refer to the attached Photomontages which evidence the significant proposed tower extension.

- There are references in the current DA claiming that the proposed development is "compatible" with the adjoining developments. I strongly disagree for the following reasons:-

i. The documents, plans and reports claim, in effect, that the proposed development is compatible with the adjoining character. Based on the Court's Planning Principle in Project Venture Developments v Pittwater Council (Project Venture), the Court established that there are 2 major aspects relating to compatibility which are physical impacts and visual impacts.

ii. In terms of physical impacts, I reiterate my concerns relating to Overlooking Impact, Overshadowing Impact, Acoustic Impact and Sense of Enclosure.

iii. In terms of Visual Impact, the Court raised the query in Project Venture as to whether the proposed development is "in harmony with the buildings around it and the character of the street".

iv. Given the fact that the proposed development is immediately adjacent to a row of State Heritage Items which are contained in a HCA, I consider that the assessment of compatibility must be tested primarily in relation to the adjoining HCA and the row of Heritage Items.

v. I particularly note the Court's Planning Principle in Project Venture at paragraph 30 which states as follows "Conservation Areas are usually selected because they exhibit consistency of scale, style or material. In Conservation Areas, a higher level of similarity between the proposed and existing is expected than elsewhere. The similarity may extend to an architectural style expressed through roof form, fenestration, and materials".

vi. Whilst the subject site is not within the HCA, it immediately adjoins the HCA to the east and north and one must obviously take into consideration the bulk, scale, height and design of the proposed development relative to the Heritage listed terraces in the HCA to ensure "harmony with the buildings around it and the character of the street".

vii. I strongly consider that the proposed development is not in harmony nor compatible in its physical appearance given the following features of the proposed development:-

a. The proposed development is of a height, bulk and scale which are contrary to the adjoining terraces in the HCA. On this point, please refer to the attached "Photomontages".
b. The proposed glazed multi storey tower is also incompatible to the terraces in the HCA in terms of design, finishes, and materials. On this point, please refer to the attached "Photomontages".

viii. The fact that the proposed development has nil boundary setbacks on 3 sides of the subject site is incompatible with the adjoining terraces.

- The proposed development represents an abrupt change in scale and height compared to the adjoining terraces contrary to Project Venture. On this point, please refer to the attached Photomontages.

- The SEE claims that the proposed development represents a "minor increase" in height. Clearly, this claim is totally unfounded. Please refer to the attached Photomontages.
- Whilst the adjoining terraces have deep soil landscaping, the proposed development provides no soft deep soil landscaped area.
- Thus, based on the criteria set out in Project Venture, it cannot be said that the proposed development is compatible with the existing character of the area.
- I note that there are numerous references in the SEE and supporting documents to the effect that the subject site is a constrained one. I fully agree for the reasons that I have raised in my submission. I, however, strongly disagree with the Applicant's justification to breach numerous Planning Controls on the basis that the subject site is a constrained one. In circumstances where a subject site is constrained, the Court has previously established that in such circumstances, a proposed development should be more conservative compared to the relevant Planning Controls, including the ADG. In this case, the proposed development breaches numerous relevant Planning Controls.

4. OVERLOOKING IMPACT

- There is clearly potential for adverse Overlooking Impact into my Clients' units, the adjoining terraces, and rear yards of the terraces to the east and north. As noted above, there is potential for adverse Overlooking Impact back into the lower-level units of my Clients to the southeast.
- The adverse Overlooking Impact is generated not only by the proposed units themselves, but also by the 2 elevated Communal Open Space. One communal area is at Level 2 fronting the laneway and a second communal area is at the rooftop of the proposed development.
- The Applicant clearly acknowledges the potential for adverse Privacy Impact by reason of proposed privacy measures which include the proposed "facade system" including "horizontal privacy blade interlayer". No proper details have been provided to demonstrate that these privacy measures will be effective. Any privacy blades must be kept in a fixed manner.
- I, however, note my continuing concerns relating to Privacy Impact onto adjoining properties by reason of the following elements:-

  i. The proposed Communal Open Space on the rooftop and at Level 2 do not contain adequate privacy measures to ensure privacy protection to adjoining properties.
  ii. The northern glazed portions of each proposed unit do not contain adequate privacy measures to ensure protection to the adjoining terraces to the east, northeast and north.

- The Overlooking Impact is clearly generated by the fact that the proposed development is to be placed on a site with severe constraints and thus results in a proposed development which breaches important Building Envelope Controls, particularly in relation to Side Setback Controls. Simply put, the nil boundary setbacks on 3 property boundaries place the proposed development too close to adjoining properties, including the building of my Clients and thus generates the adverse Overlooking Impact.

- I also note that the proposed privacy measures generate adverse impact on the internal amenity of the proposed units. In other words, to solve one problem (that is Overlooking Impact) by privacy measures generates a subsequent adverse impact in terms of the internal amenity of the future occupants of the proposed units.

5. ACOUSTIC IMPACT

- There has been no assessment of noise from plant and equipment given that "specific mechanical plant selection has not been supplied at this stage". I particularly note the proposed "pump roof".
- There has been no assessment of the noise from the 2 proposed elevated Communal Open Space at Level 2 and the roof. The open communal areas have the potential for adverse Acoustic Impact subject to further assessment.

6. BREACHES OF PLANNING CONTROLS OF COUNCIL

- The Applicant's DCP Compliance Table acknowledges a number of the breaches of Council's Planning Controls, but not all breaches.
- I consider that the proposed development breaches numerous relevant Planning Controls of Council under SDCP 2012 and the ADG including, but not limited to, the following:-

  i. Breach of the "Millers Point Locality Area-Locality Statement", particularly d.,requiring "new development is to respect and maintain the existing heights and established character of the area". Given the fact that the subject site immediately adjoins a HCA and State Heritage Items, the proposed development must be compatible with the HCA and the State Items. Based on Project Venture in the Court's Planning Principle, the proposed development is completely incompatible with the adjoining HCA.
  ii. Breach of Section 3.2.2 in that the proposed development has not been designed to "positively address the street".
  iii. Breach of Section 3.9 entitled "Heritage" due to the incompatible nature of the proposed development based on the criteria set out in the Court's Planning Principle in Project Venture.
  iv. Breach of Section 4.2.3.3 entitled "Internal Common Areas" relating to the width of common corridors.
  v. Breach of Section 4.2.3.7 entitled "Private Open Space and Balconies". The proposed development does not provide any private balconies. On this point, Part 4E of the ADG entitled "Private Open Space and Balconies" of the ADG states that "private open spaces are encouraged to enhance the amenity and indoor/outdoor lifestyle of residents. Furthermore, private open spaces are also important architectural elements on the outside of an apartment building contributing to the form and articulation on the building with fences, balustrades, and screens". As previously advised, the proposed development does not provide important private open space nor balconies.

vi. Section 5.1.1 entitled "Street Frontage Height and Street Setbacks".

vii. Section 5.1.1.3 entitled "Side and Rear Setbacks and Building". On this point, the proposed development provides no setback to side nor rear boundaries. Of particularly note is the fact that the proposed development has no side boundary setback to the terraces to the east, northeast nor north of the subject site. The lack of required setbacks is of significant concern and contributes to the incompatible nature of the presentation of the proposed development when viewed from the adjoining terraces in the HCA.

- Again, the Applicant asserts that breaches of the Council's Planning Controls are justified because of the "constrained" nature of the subject site. This is not a justification for the numerous breaches of Council's Planning Controls. Where a site is constrained, the proposed development should not propose numerous breaches with consequential adverse impacts on an adjoining sensitive HCA, and my Clients' units to the southeast.

7. LACK OF ON-SITE PARKING AND LOADING FACILITIES AND TRAFFIC

- Section 5.12 entitled "Traffic and Parking" in the SEE claims to be an assessment of Traffic and Parking elements of the proposed development.
- I raise very significant concerns relating to the Traffic and Parking elements of the proposed development, particularly noting the following:-

i. In terms of Parking, there are no on-site parking spaces provided. I acknowledge that Council's SLEP 2012 under Clause 7.5 expresses maximum required number of carparking spaces. The proposed development complies but the failure to provide any carparking in response to the scale of the proposed development is of concern, particularly when one considers the adjoining constrained access arrangements to the subject site. Simply put, the adjoining laneway is a very narrow one with no opportunities for parking.

ii. I also note the failure to provide any Loading Dock to serve the future occupants of the proposed development. Obviously, the failure to provide any Carparking and Loading Facility is a direct result of the constrained nature of the subject site which has insufficient area to provide such facilities.

iii. In terms of Traffic, there is a complete lack of assessment in the SEE to properly assess the Traffic circumstances in the immediate laneway. My personal observations reveal that the laneway is severely constrained due primarily to its narrow width and due to the lack of loading facilities. There are frequent occurrences of trucks and other vehicles double parking in the laneway. By any measure, the laneway is a very congested one. The Applicant has clearly not addressed in any way the issues of Traffic and Loading in the laneway.

iv. There are clearly numerous objections raised by adjoining owners in relation to the issues of Traffic, Parking and Loading. I consider that the evidence of local residents/owners, including my Clients, should be given significant weight in the assessment, particularly in light of the judgement of then Senior Commissioner Moore (subsequently Judge Moore) in Presbyterian Church (NSW) Property Trust v Woollahra Municipal Council (Scots College). Then Senior Commissioner Moore refused the proposed development, primarily on the comments and observations of local residents/owners attesting to the problems and circumstances evident in the immediate locality. Of particular note is the finding of then Senior Commissioner Moore at paragraph 20 who was "fortified" in his view in relying upon lay witness in accordance with the following finding of his Honour Justice Craig in H and R Standen Pty Ltd v Minister for Planning and Infrastructure in which it was observed that "the practise in this Court in hearing evidence of lay witnesses on site is a practice that has been followed in the determination of almost all merit Appeals for many years. Although those giving evidence on-site are not sworn, the evidence has always been treated as if given in Court and in attending witness are usually so advised".

v. Thus, I consider that significant weight should be given to the concerns expressed by local residents/owners relating to the Traffic, Parking and Loading evident in the laneway. My own observations confirm the concerns of local residents/owners.

vi. The introduction of a significant development on the subject site will merely add to the current existing Traffic, Parking and Loading congestion. Again, the Applicant has failed to provide any assessment of such important issues.

8. POOR INTERNAL AMENITY WITHIN PROPOSED UNITS

- For the reasons referred to in this submission, I strongly consider that the proposed units will have poor internal amenity particularly in light of the following breaches of relevant Planning Controls:-

i. Lack of private open space, by way of proposed balconies. As noted in the ADG, the provision of private open space is a very significant element for internal amenity of future occupants and also provides important articulation and architectural relief. These objectives are not achieved by the proposed development due to the lack of private open space.

ii. Due to the adverse Overlooking Impact generated by the proposed units into terraces/dwellings on adjoining properties, there is a proposed a range of privacy measures to seek to resolve this adverse Overlooking Impact into adjoining properties. These privacy measures will generate adverse impact in terms of the internal amenity of the proposed units. In other words, trying to cure one problem (that is Overlooking Impact into adjoining properties) by privacy measures, generates a second impact of poor internal amenity for the proposed units.

iii. Breach of Building Separation Control under the ADG.

9. ADDITIONAL COMMENTS OF ADJOINING OWNERS

- There are a number of objectors who have raised various points of concern in response to the proposed development.

- I wish to particularly note the following points of objection raised by other adjoining owners:-

  i. One of the objectors considers that "any new design needs to seriously consider the existing historic nature of old buildings in Kent Street and fit into this gentle streetscape". I agree. Given the HCA nature of the adjoining locality, the benchmark for future development should not be my Clients' building at Highgate, but rather the State Heritage listed predominant 2-3 storey terraces/dwellings in the HCA.

  ii. The Locality Statement for the HCA requires a much more sensitive development than is currently proposed.

  iii. A further objector states that "the building is without setbacks for an Inner-City neighbourhood it will dominate the neighbouring buildings. Furthermore, there is no meaningful building separation". I agree.

  iv. A further objector states that the "development is inconsistent with the adjacent Heritage buildings, and it erodes the historic Kent Street space with this monolithic glass facade". I agree.

  v. A further objection states the lack of Design Excellence and non-compliance with DCP and ADG objectors". I agree.

  vi. The proposal does not "meet the ADG requirements for privacy, natural ventilation or private open space". I agree.

  vii. An objector claims that "open space has not been provided for either the future occupants, or for the positive benefit of the neighbourhood". I agree. The lack of private open space area, contrary to the ADG, is of significant concern. The establishment of Communal Open Space at Level 2 and on the rooftop are, in my opinion, not an adequate replacement for private open space area and actually generates potential adverse impacts on adjoining properties. Please refer to additional comments in this submission.

  viii. A number of objectors raise concerns relating to the compounding problems in the adjoining laneway and roads.

  ix. As previously advised, the subject site contains numerous easements and restrictions based on Figure 5 in the SEE. Legal advice should be obtained by Council as to whether the easements and restriction as to use would impact on consideration of the DA. Furthermore, there is a right of carriageway with a service easement in the narrow access pedestrian corridor from Kent Street. Query whether, in fact, the likely proposed significant intensification of the use of the right of way is contrary to this right of carriageway. I leave these matters for the consideration of Council's Legal Advisor.

  x. One of the objectors disagree with the comment in the Statement of Heritage Impact which argues that "the proposal is set well behind the Heritage Items". The objector claims that "the proposal in fact has no setback from the Heritage Items that surround it on 3 sides". I agree with the objector's concern.

  xi. A number of objectors refer to the potential adverse Visual Impact, Overshadowing, Sense of Enclosure and Overlooking Impact generated onto the rear yards of adjoining terraces/properties. I agree. Privacy measures need to be provided on the proposed eastern, northern, and western elevations to preclude adverse Overlooking Impact, but such privacy measures would diminish the internal amenity of the future occupants of the proposed development. Furthermore, there are potential Acoustic Impacts and Overlooking Impacts onto adjoining properties resulting from the proposed Communal Open Space.

xii. I note that one of the objectors is Anne Warr, Heritage Architect, B Arch, (Conservation Studies) with a PHD. Obviously, due to the qualifications and experience of Anne Warr, her comments on the issue of adverse Heritage Impact should be given serious consideration.

- A number of objectors referred to the "constrained site". As I previously advised, I agree with this contention due to the following features of the subject site:-

  i. The subject site is a small site area with a narrow width.
  ii. The subject site is constrained by a range of easements, restriction as to user and serviced by a right of way.
  iii. The subject site is within a HCA, with 3 boundaries adjoining lower scale 2-3 terraces and dwellings which include Heritage Items.
  iv. Numerous objectors referred to adverse impacts during construction should the application be approved. As previously advised, the Traffic/Loading/Parking circumstances in the adjoining laneway are seriously deficient. Construction vehicles during construction will be faced with the inability to park in the adjoining laneway due to existing parking restrictions and no ability to park on the subject site itself due to the lack of any Parking and Loading facilities. My Clients attest to significant adverse Traffic/Parking/Loading inadequacies in the adjoining laneway.
  v. Numerous objectors refer to the breaches of relevant Planning Controls, including Council's Development Control Plan, Local Environmental Plan, and the ADG. I agree.
  vi. The proposed development will have an adverse Visual Impact and Sense of Enclosure, particularly to the rear yards and adjoining terraces. I agree with this concern.
  vii. One of the objectors claims that the adjoining "Heritage terraces are characterised by narrow floor plates, rear rooms with limited solar access, and modest private open space areas that rely heavily on available sky exposure and shared roofscape outlook. In this context, built form at the rear of the properties has a direct and pronounced effect on day to day living conditions. The proposed increase in height and bulk would result in severely reduced access to natural light, particularly to habitable rooms and gardens. It will cause overshadowing of private open space areas, diminish the use of usability and comfort of rear courtyards, and introduce overlooking from the elevated levels resulting in loss of privacy. The scale and proximity of the proposed building would also introduce excessive bulk and a looming presence when viewed from adjoining properties. This would create an acute sense of enclosure and visual dominance, fundamentally at odds with established low-rise character of the area". Similar comments were raised by numerous other objectors. I agree with the above

viii. One of the objectors also claim that the right of way across 125 Kent Street was originally granted to a service station. Query whether the right of way can be used for a significant intensification of the existing building on the subject site also for an alternative use. I again defer to Council's Legal Advisor.

ix. Many objectors raise concern relating to the proposed materials and design of the proposed development. The use of extensive glazing appears to be totally inconsistent with the adjoining HCA, whilst a tower block of glazing would also appear to be inconsistent with the HCA.

10. CONCLUSION

- The subject site is acknowledged by the Applicant's Consultants to be a "constrained" site by reason of various features of the subject site. These features include, but are not limited to, a small area, narrow width, various easements, and restrictions impacting the subject site and the fact that the subject site adjoins a range of Heritage terraces within the HCA.
- Due to the severely constrained nature of the subject site, there are numerous breaches of Council's Planning Controls and the ADG referred to in my submission. Furthermore, there will be a range of adverse impacts generated on adjoining properties and these impacts include, but are not limited to, adverse Visual Impact, Incompatibility of the proposed development relative to the adjoining HCA, Overlooking Impact and Sense of Enclosure.
- I strongly consider that the proposed development is incompatible with the adjoining terraces/dwellings in the HCA based on the Court's Planning Principle in Project Venture. By any measure, the proposed multi-storey tower is incompatible in terms of height, bulk, scale and design with the adjoining terraces/dwellings in the HCA. The fact that the Heritage Consultant erroneously describes the proposed development as a "minor" extension also raises significant concerns in my mind. Simply put, it cannot be said that the proposed multi storey tower of glazed finishes is, in any way, compatible with the adjoining terraces/dwellings in the HCA.
- The Applicant's Consultants seek to justify numerous breaches based on the constrained site. It is my professional opinion, echoed by past Court judgements, that a constrained site must reflect a more conservative development than a site which does not have constraints. It is interesting to note the Court's Planning Principle in Parrott v Kiama Municipal Council in which the then Senior Commissioner Roseth considered a "sensitive site" with obvious constraints. Whilst the judgement in Parrott dealt with a subdivision, the site in Parrott was environmentally sensitive because of its features and Senior Commissioner Roseth held that "the likelihood of adverse impact is high. This is not to say that a dwelling cannot be designed on the allotment, only that it would require a higher than usual level of design skill". The current application is on a constrained site of small dimensions, various restrictions and immediately adjoining a sensitive HCA, comprising a range of Heritage terraces. As in Parrott, the sensitive nature of the immediately adjoining properties requires a more skilful design. The current proposed development is not a more skilful design evidenced by a range of adverse impacts on adjoining properties, including my Clients' property, and numerous breaches of relevant Planning Controls.

- The current application also has not properly assessed a number of matters, including the issue of View Impact. In terms of Traffic and Loading, the Applicant has failed to properly assess the circumstances relating to Loading and Traffic in the adjoining laneway. Local residents/owners have provided detailed concerns about the problems in the laneway. Based on the Scots' College Appeal judgement, I strongly consider that Council should give significant weight to the concerns expressed by local residents/owners.

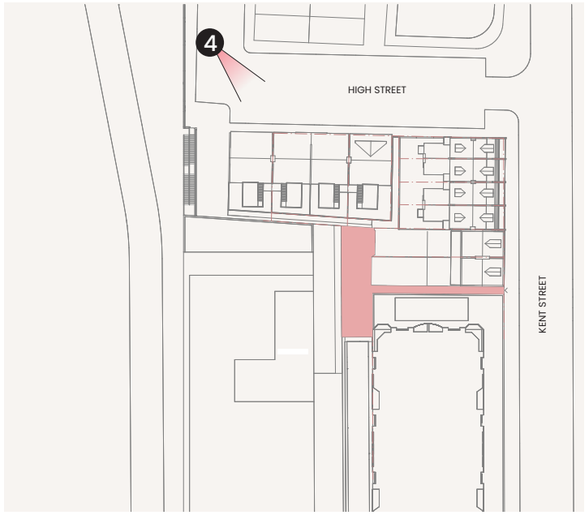
Accordingly, for the reasons raised in my submission and the various submissions from local residents/owners, I earnestly request that Council not support the current application.

Overall, I strongly consider that the proposed development is most objectionable and is not in the public interest.

Thank you for your consideration of this submission.

My Clients offer you the opportunity to inspect their building and the adjoining locality so that you are fully informed of the above points of objection.

Yours Sincerely,



Tony Moody

OBJECTION TO DEVELOPMENT APPLICATION DA/2024/2639931

125A Kent Street, Millers Point NSW 2000
(Also known as 8 Jenkins Street, Lot 1 DP 873158)

Submitted by: Millers Point Community Residents Action Group (inc.)
Date: 20th March 2026
Contact: Annie Crabb, President

To the City of Sydney Development Assessment Team,

1. Executive Summary

This submission objects to the proposed development on the grounds that it fails to achieve design excellence and results in unacceptable impacts within a sensitive heritage context. In a heritage-sensitive locality, the proposal fails to achieve compatibility with the established low-rise character and materially alters the setting of adjoining heritage items. Approval would set an undesirable precedent and would not be in the public interest.

While the proposal nominally complies with height and floor space ratio controls, it demonstrates widespread non-compliance with the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012 and the Apartment Design Guide, and fails to satisfy the matters for consideration under section 4.15 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

The proposal amounts to an overdevelopment of a highly constrained site, generating unacceptable impacts on neighbouring amenity, including visual privacy, solar access, acoustic conditions, and outlook. These impacts are not incidental but are direct consequences of the built form strategy, particularly the absence of boundary setbacks, excessive bulk, and reliance on inadequate mitigation measures.

A fundamental design conflict is also evident: measures introduced to mitigate privacy impacts result in unacceptable internal amenity outcomes. The proposal also fails to demonstrate that acceptable internal residential amenity can be achieved, with units relying on minimal setbacks, compromised outlook, and inadequate separation from neighbouring buildings.

The application is further undermined by critical deficiencies in supporting documentation, including an unreliable View Impact Assessment, a lack of meaningful traffic and servicing analysis, and an incomplete assessment of acoustic and operational impacts.

Critically, the application does not demonstrate that the development achieves design excellence as required under Clause 6.21 of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012. These impacts collectively affect approximately 274 neighbouring dwellings, largely arising from an increase in building height and rooftop activation that appears primarily driven by the objective of accommodating two additional apartments and a rooftop communal terrace.

For the reasons outlined in this submission, the proposal fails to satisfy the planning assessment framework under section 4.15 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 and should be refused.

2. Introduction

The Millers Point Community Residents Action Group (inc.) objects to Development Application DA/2024/2639931.

The proposal constitutes overdevelopment of a constrained and sensitive heritage site, fails to achieve design excellence, and generates substantial and avoidable impacts on heritage significance, neighbouring residential amenity, and internal residential standards.

The proposal's height, bulk and boundary-to-boundary massing overwhelm the adjoining heritage terraces and the broader precinct setting. It materially obstructs established outlooks and water views from Highgate Apartments, and introduces predictable acoustic and privacy impacts arising from minimal separation distances between buildings.

The development demonstrates a fundamental disregard for the statutory and policy framework established under:

- the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (EP&A 1979)
- the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 (SLEP 2012)
- the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012 (SDCP 2012)

including:

- Clause 5.10 Heritage Conservation
- Clause 6.21 Design Excellence

Given the systemic and unmitigated nature of these impacts, the application fails to meet the reasonable standards of planning, amenity and design expected within this precinct.

3. Heritage Impacts

Millers Point is one of the most significant intact nineteenth-century harbour precincts in Australia and is recognised for its cohesive urban grain, consistent building scale and strong visual relationship to Sydney Harbour.

The site is located immediately adjacent to, and functionally integrated with, the Millers Point and Dawes Point Village Precinct (State Heritage Register listing).

Although the site is outside the mapped heritage conservation area (C35), it:

- Directly adjoins State-listed terraces;
- Forms part of the immediate setting and visual curtilage of the precinct;
- Contributes to the transition between contemporary and heritage fabric.

Accordingly, the site is clearly within the “vicinity” of heritage items and a conservation area for the purposes of Clause 5.10. Technical exclusion from C35 mapping doesn't exempt 125A Kent Street, Millers Point from its duty of care to protect adjacent State heritage fabric of 'outstanding State and National significance' (SHR Statement of Significance). The tower fractures SHR precinct reading from key vantage points.

The proposed development introduces additional height, bulk, and rooftop elements that are incompatible with the established heritage character of the precinct.

Key concerns include:

- Excessive building height and nil boundary setbacks overwhelm adjoining heritage terraces;
- Rooftop structures and terraces that disrupt the established roofscape;
- Boundary-to-boundary massing that erodes the fine grain of the historic streetscape;
- The contemporary glazed form is visually discordant in a fine-grain heritage context.

Compatibility (Project Venture Principle)
Compatibility requires both physical and visual harmony. The proposal fails both limbs:

- Physical impacts include overlooking, overshadowing and acoustic intrusion;
- Visual impacts include scale, materiality and form that are not in harmony with the surrounding built environment.

In a heritage context, a higher degree of consistency is required. This threshold is not met.

Additionally, the proposal includes a 50 m² rooftop terrace serving five dwellings, positioned prominently within a sensitive heritage context. This terrace significantly alters the historic roofscape, introduces visual intrusion, and undermines the consistency of the terrace roofline that characterises the precinct.

Rather than reinforcing the historic urban form of the precinct, the proposal introduces a scale and massing that overwhelms the surrounding built form and diminishes the heritage significance of the area.

These impacts are inconsistent with the objectives of Clause 5.10 of the SLEP, 2012, which seeks to conserve the environmental heritage of the City of Sydney.

While the SLEP establishes the statutory test, the DCP provides the detailed planning controls and qualitative benchmarks for assessing whether heritage significance is conserved.

DCP Controls – Key Requirements

The Sydney DCP 2012 requires that development:

- Retains and reinforces the significance of heritage items and conservation areas, including their setting;
- Is compatible with the scale, form and character of surrounding heritage fabric;
- Maintains fine-grain subdivision patterns and streetscape rhythm;
- Responds appropriately to laneways and rear interfaces;
- Ensures new development is subordinate to heritage items and does not dominate.

These controls directly mirror and operationalise the Clause 5.10(4) requirement.

Non-Compliance with DCP Heritage Controls

The proposal fails to satisfy DCP heritage objectives:

Requirement	Failure
Scale compatibility	28 m high zero-setback wall dominates 2–3 storey terraces;
Subservience	Dominant built form overwhelms heritage items;
Fine-grain rhythm	Continuous blank wall eliminates articulation and spacing;
Laneway interface	Treated as blank vertical wall, ignoring secondary elevation function;
Heritage setting	Spatial and visual context materially altered;
Streetscape transition	Abrupt interface, visually intrusive gateway.

Weight to be Given to DCP Non-Compliance

Consistent with established reasoning of the New South Wales Land and Environment Court:

- DCP controls, while not statutory, are key indicators of planning merit;
- Systemic non-compliance with DCP provisions—particularly in heritage contexts—carries significant weight;
- Where DCP objectives are not achieved, it is difficult to conclude that the proposal is acceptable in planning terms.

The extent of non-compliance in this case is substantive and outcome-driven, not minor or technical.

Conclusion

The proposal:

- Conflicts with Clause 5.10(4) of the SLEP 2012;
- Fails to satisfy the heritage objectives and controls of the SDCP 2012;
- Results in dominance, loss of rhythm, and degradation of heritage setting.

In a location adjoining State-listed terraces (I884 and I885), architectural quality must be measured not merely by contemporary detailing but by contextual calibration of scale, depth, and shadow. The proposal does not demonstrate that calibration.

4. Amenity Impacts on Neighbouring Residential Amenity

The proposal generates significant impacts on neighbouring residential amenity along High and Kent Streets, and The Bond, particularly in relation to visual privacy, solar access and acoustic conditions. It results in direct and elevated overlooking into neighbouring dwellings.

Under E P & A 1979 (NSW) s 4.15(1)(b), the consent authority must consider the likely impacts of development on the environment, including impacts on adjoining land. The NSW ADG and SDCP 2012 establish objectives for maintaining reasonable levels of residential amenity, including adequate privacy, solar access and acoustic conditions.

In residential interface cases, the Land and Environment Court commonly assesses amenity impacts by reference to whether they are reasonable and unavoidable, having regard to the design of the development and the potential for mitigation.

In this instance, the amenity impacts arise primarily from two key design elements:

- The boundary-to-boundary massing of the building, and
- the Level 7 communal rooftop terrace, located approximately 28 metres above ground level.

These design decisions introduce elevated activity areas and additional building bulk immediately adjacent to neighbouring dwellings.

4.1 Visual Privacy

The proposal results in direct and elevated overlooking into neighbouring dwellings.

Reliance on horizontal blades and internal louvres is inadequate:

- Oblique and downward sightlines penetrate slatted devices;
- Night-time silhouetting exposes occupants;
- Rooftop and upper-level interfaces enable direct overlooking.

Privacy mitigation cannot substitute for adequate building separation, which is absent.

The Level 7 communal terrace creates a direct elevated vantage point overlooking neighbouring properties along High and Kent Streets. From this location, occupants would have clear views into neighbouring bedrooms, living areas and private open space.

The communal nature of the terrace increases the frequency and intensity of overlooking compared with private balconies. The design does not incorporate effective mitigation measures such as increased setbacks, fixed privacy screening or reorientation of the terrace.

In Project Venture Developments v Pittwater Council, the Court recognised that direct overlooking into principal living areas arising from the design of a development weighs strongly against approval.

Reliance on horizontal blades and internal louvres is inadequate:

- Oblique and downward sightlines penetrate slatted devices;
- Night-time silhouetting exposes occupants;
- Rooftop and upper-level interfaces enable direct overlooking.

Privacy mitigation cannot substitute for adequate building separation, which is absent...

4.2 Solar Access

The proposal also generates overshadowing impacts on neighbouring residential properties. Overshadowing arises from:

- Boundary-to-boundary massing;
- Absence of upper-level setbacks.

These impacts are design-driven and avoidable. They arise from the boundary-to-boundary building envelope and absence of upper-level setbacks, which increase the building bulk adjacent to neighbouring dwellings.

The Court has consistently held that compliance with numerical controls does not preclude a finding of unacceptable amenity outcomes. In Veloshin v Randwick Council, excessive building bulk and resulting amenity impacts were considered determinative.

4.3 Acoustic Impacts

The acoustic assessment is deficient:

- Focuses on internal amenity only;
- Does not assess impacts on neighbouring receivers;
- Does not consider communal terrace or plant noise.

Communal and rooftop uses introduce predictable, ongoing noise impacts that are unmitigated.

The proposal introduces foreseeable noise impacts associated with the Level 7 communal terrace.

The acoustic report prepared by Rodney Stevens Acoustics focuses solely on the internal acoustic performance of the development and does not assess the potential impacts on neighbouring residential receivers. The report also incorrectly identifies the consent authority as North Sydney Council, rather than the City of Sydney.

The communal terrace is likely to generate activity noise — including conversation and social use — in close proximity to neighbouring bedrooms. The built form configuration, characterised by hard reflective surfaces and minimal separation, increases the likelihood of airborne noise transmission.

The application does not provide evidence of mitigation measures such as acoustic screening or operational controls.

In Newcastle & Hunter Valley Speleological Society Inc v Upper Hunter Shire Council, the Court emphasised that where environmental impacts are foreseeable and capable of mitigation, failure to implement mitigation measures weighs against approval.

4.4 Reasonableness and Avoidability

When considered collectively, the amenity impacts arising from the proposal are:

- Foreseeable, given the elevated communal terrace and minimal building separation;
- Design-generated, arising directly from the chosen building envelope and rooftop activation;
- Capable of mitigation, through reduced building bulk, increased setbacks or relocation of communal spaces.

The proposal therefore fails to demonstrate that the resulting impacts on neighbouring amenity are reasonable in the circumstances.

4.5 Cumulative Amenity Impacts

The amenity impacts identified above should not be considered in isolation. The proposal introduces a combination of privacy intrusion, overshadowing and foreseeable noise impacts affecting neighbouring dwellings along High and Kent Streets and The Bond.

These impacts arise from the same underlying design strategy, namely:

- The boundary-to-boundary building massing, and
- the elevated communal rooftop terrace positioned approximately 28 metres above ground level.

When experienced together, these impacts materially reduce the residential amenity currently enjoyed by neighbouring properties. The cumulative effect includes increased overlooking into private living spaces, reduced solar access, and the introduction of activity noise in close proximity to bedrooms and living areas.

Importantly, these impacts are not inherent to the site but are the consequence of design choices that maximise building bulk and rooftop activation. Alternative design approaches, including increased setbacks, reduced upper-level bulk, or relocation of communal spaces, could materially reduce these impacts.

Accordingly, when assessed cumulatively, the proposal results in unreasonable and avoidable impacts on neighbouring residential amenity, contrary to the objectives of the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012 and the assessment framework under Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (NSW) s 4.15.

4.6 Planning Outcome

For the reasons outlined above, the proposal results in unreasonable and avoidable impacts on neighbouring residential amenity, including direct overlooking, reduced solar access and foreseeable noise impacts arising from the elevated communal terrace and boundary-to-boundary building massing.

These impacts arise primarily from the scale, height and configuration of the proposed development, rather than unavoidable site constraints, and could be materially reduced through alternative design responses.

Accordingly, the development fails to demonstrate acceptable planning outcomes under Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (NSW) s 4.15 and is inconsistent with the amenity objectives of the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012.

Conclusion

The proposal introduces direct privacy intrusion, overshadowing and foreseeable noise impacts on neighbouring dwellings along High and Kent Streets and The Bond.

These impacts arise primarily from the scale, height and configuration of the proposed building and rooftop terrace, rather than unavoidable site constraints.

Accordingly, the development fails to achieve acceptable residential amenity outcomes under s 4.15 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 and the objectives of the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012.

5. Impacts on Highgate Apartments

Some of the most significant impacts of the proposal occur in relation to Highgate Apartments, located immediately adjacent to the site.

The proposed 28m building at 125A Kent Street, with setbacks ranging from 0-2 metres, will result in substantial and unreasonable impacts on the amenity of Highgate Apartments.

The proposed increase in building height and bulk would materially obstruct established outlooks and harbour views currently enjoyed by residents of Highgate Apartments.

These views form a significant component of the residential amenity of these dwellings.

The proposal would introduce a substantial built form immediately adjacent to Highgate, effectively blocking existing sightlines and replacing them with a close-range built interface.

Given the extremely limited separation distances between the buildings, the resulting loss of outlook would be severe and permanent.

The proposal also creates direct and unavoidable privacy conflicts between the proposed development and neighbouring dwellings.

The proposal introduces multiple noise sources with both airborne and structure-borne transmission pathways to neighbouring dwellings, particularly Highgate Apartments.

These impacts arise from excessive height, bulk, proximity and poor interface design, and are inconsistent with:

- Clause 6.21 of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 (design excellence);
- The amenity and interface objectives of the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012;
- The assessment framework under section 4.15(1)(b) of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

5.1 Loss of Established 30-Year Sky Gap

A ~30 metre sky gap has existed for more than 30 years between Highgate Apartments and The Bond building. This separation forms an established and relied-upon component of residential amenity, providing:

- Open outlook and visual relief;
- Access to sky and daylight;
- Acoustic dispersion between buildings.

The proposed development would substantially erode this long-standing condition, introducing a tall built form within 0–2 metres of the boundary, resulting in:

- A pronounced sense of enclosure;
- Loss of openness and sky visibility;
- Compression of the spatial relationship between buildings.

5.2 Loss of Water Views to Sydney Harbour

The proposal would introduce a substantial built form immediately adjacent to Highgate, effectively blocking existing sightlines and replacing them with a close-range built interface.

Given the extremely limited separation distances between the buildings, the resulting loss of outlook would be severe and permanent.

The proposal causes substantial and unreasonable obstruction of outlooks and water views from north-facing Highgate apartments. Key points:

- Bulk and height implemented solely to accommodate two additional apartments and a rooftop terrace materially compromises multiple dwellings;
- Existing water views over Barangaroo toward Sydney Harbour will be lost;
- Visual material is misleading, portraying water views as more distant than reality;
- The Statement of Environmental Effects (SEE) misrepresents baseline conditions, preventing proper impact assessment.

5.3 Misleading Visual Material and Failure of Proper Assessment

The Visual Impact Assessment is unreliable:

- Uses “indicative” photomontages;
- Not prepared in accordance with Court protocols;
- No verified viewpoints or site inspections;
- Does not apply the Tenacity assessment methodology.

The consent authority cannot rely on this material.

For example, the developers provide the current views from Level 7 of Highgate as:

Source: Cortese Gilder

Source: Cortese Gilder

Photographs taken from Level 7 balconies of Highgate demonstrate a different reality:

Actual photographic view north-west from balcony of Apartment 702 of Highgate

Actual view to the north-east from balcony of Apartment 703 of Highgate

- No Harbour Bridge or North Sydney views exists from Level 7 north-facing Highgate apartments;
- Images distort the baseline and underestimate impacts;

Photographs confirm the proposal materially obstructs established outlooks.

The View Impact Assessment (VIA) is based on "indicative views" and does not demonstrate compliance with the photomontage methodology required by the Land and Environment Court of New South Wales. No verification is provided that images are prepared in accordance with accepted geometric accuracy, view line mapping, or camera position protocols. In addition, no access to affected dwellings has been undertaken to verify baseline conditions. Accordingly, the VIA is of limited evidentiary weight and cannot be relied upon to accurately assess view loss impacts.

5.4 Acoustic Conflict with Highgate Apartments

The proposal creates a foreseeable and unreasonable acoustic conflict with adjoining Highgate Apartments, arising from the siting of communal spaces and mechanical plant within extremely limited separation distances of approximately 0–2 metres.

The development introduces multiple sources of noise with both airborne and structure-borne transmission pathways affecting neighbouring dwellings. Primary noise sources include:

- Mechanical plant, including HVAC systems and pumps;
- Level 2 communal area; and
- Rooftop communal terrace.

The Statement of Environmental Effects fails to adequately demonstrate that acceptable acoustic amenity can be achieved.

In particular, the application does not provide:

- Receiver-based noise modelling;
- Plant noise specifications or predicted operational noise levels;
- Effective mitigation measures such as acoustic screening, isolation or attenuation.

Given the close proximity of residential receivers, these omissions represent a significant deficiency in the assessment of environmental impacts.

Although the Level 2 communal outdoor area is located below the floor level of Highgate Apartments, the built form configuration significantly amplifies its potential acoustic impact.

The space is effectively located within a confined vertical "canyon" formed by surrounding building façades, with separation distances of approximately 0–2 metres.

In such a configuration, established acoustic principles indicate that sound generated within the space will be amplified and directed toward neighbouring receivers.

Relevant acoustic effects include:

- Reverberation and reflection, where hard surfaces such as masonry and glazing reflect sound and increase persistence of noise;
- Vertical channelling, where the geometry of the surrounding built form directs sound energy upward;
- Line-of-sight transmission, allowing speech to remain highly intelligible at receiver locations;
- Lack of absorption, due to the absence of vegetation or deep soil landscaping that would otherwise dampen sound.

As a result, noise generated within the Level 2 communal space will be reflected and projected upward toward the north and north-west facing apartments of Highgate.

The communal nature of the space introduces additional amenity concerns, including:

- Repeated and intermittent noise events;
- Evening and weekend peak usage;
- Conversational noise with high speech intelligibility, which is widely recognised as a primary driver of residential noise complaints.

In assessing acoustic impacts, the Land and Environment Court consistently applies a test of reasonableness and avoidability when assessing acoustic impacts on neighbouring residential properties.

In this instance:

- The impacts arise directly from the design and siting of the communal space;
- No effective mitigation measures are demonstrated;

- The resulting impacts are predictable, ongoing and avoidable.

The proposal therefore gives rise to unreasonable acoustic impacts contrary to the amenity objectives of the Sydney Development Control Plan.

5.5 Bulk, Proximity and Absence of Deep Soil Buffer

The proposal creates a hard, unbuffered interface between residential buildings, with no meaningful separation and no deep soil zone.

The proposal

- Provides no meaningful separation or deep soil zone;
- Eliminates landscape-based mitigation;
- Reinforces sense of bulk and enclosure;
- Increases acoustic reflectivity of the interface;
- Results in unmediated and incompatible interface with adjoining residential uses.

Conclusion

Impacts are substantial, systemic, and unmitigated. Under s4.15(1)(b), they weigh heavily against approval.

6. Internal Residential Amenity and ADG Non-Compliance

The proposal demonstrates a fundamental design failure:

- Without screening → unacceptable overlooking;
- With screening → poor daylight, outlook, and ventilation.

This confirms the design cannot satisfy ADG objectives in an integrated manner and fails the requirements of design excellence.

The proposal raises significant concerns regarding the internal amenity of the proposed residential units. The development exhibits multiple internal design deficiencies indicative of overdevelopment:

- Minimal setbacks to neighbouring buildings;
- Compromised outlook
- Common corridors below 2m width;
- No compliant private open space for the majority of apartments;
- Insufficient deep soil provision;
- Non-compliant façade setbacks;
- Excessive floorplate depth preventing effective cross-ventilation (ADG 4B-3);
- Sub-minimum internal widths creating constrained habitable rooms (ADG Part 4D);

- Reduced ceiling heights below ADG 4C objectives;
- Insufficient solar access to certain units.
- No private open space is provided.
- Communal space:
    - Is undersized and impacted by overshadowing;
    - Introduces additional amenity conflicts;
    - Does not provide functional outdoor space for residents.

  Private open space cannot be substituted in this manner.

The Level 1 studio lacks cross-ventilation and receives negligible sunlight due to single-aspect orientation toward a service lane. This is inconsistent with ADG natural ventilation and solar access objectives.

The constrained nature of the site, combined with the proposed building envelope, raises questions as to whether acceptable residential amenity standards can realistically be achieved.

These issues further indicate that the proposal represents overdevelopment of the site.

7. Design Excellence Failure

Clause 6.21 of the SLEP 2012 requires that development achieving additional height or floor space must demonstrate design excellence. The SDCP 2012 and the NSW ADG 2015 provide qualitative benchmarks to operationalise these objectives. Failure to meet these requirements cannot be justified.

7.1 The proposal fails to meet this standard.

Rather than exhibiting exemplary architectural design, the proposal demonstrates:

- Excessive bulk and massing;
- Poor integration with the surrounding heritage context;
- Unresolved amenity conflicts with neighbouring properties;
- Compromised provision of high-quality internal amenity;
- Lack of integration of sustainable and accessible design;
- Reliance on minimal setbacks and boundary-to-boundary development.

The resulting building form appears driven primarily by the objective of accommodating additional floor space, rather than by a coherent design response to the site and its heritage context.

Accordingly, the proposal cannot reasonably be said to achieve design excellence.

7.2 Respect for Special Character Areas

Clause 6.21C(xi) requires consideration of whether the proposal responds appropriately to the character of the locality.

The site sits immediately adjacent to State-listed heritage terraces (I884 and I885) within the Millers Point context. The proposed bulk:

- Disrupts established spatial relationships;
- Overwhelms adjoining low-scale heritage buildings;
- Compresses laneway character;
- Erodes the transition between heritage fabric and contemporary infill.

The outcome is not a respectful insertion but a volumetric intrusion.

7.3 Failure to Achieve Appropriate Relationship with Neighbouring Development

Clause 6.21C(d)(iv) requires consideration of whether the building achieves appropriate relationships with neighbouring development in terms of separation, setbacks, amenity, and urban form.

The proposal provides effectively zero setbacks to Highgate Apartments along key interfaces. The result is the creation of a 28-metre high vertical boundary wall at a separation distance of approximately 0–2 metres. This configuration:

- Eliminates or severely compromises north-west outlook from multiple Highgate dwellings (Levels 6–15);
- Substantially reduces sky exposure and perceived openness;
- Compromises western solar access;
- Intensifies acoustic reflection and vertical noise transmission from communal areas.

The built form does not mediate scale transition. It imposes full-height bulk directly at the boundary. This is not a contextual response; it is a maximisation response.

Design excellence requires generosity in separation and modulation where adjoining residential interfaces are sensitive. The absence of setbacks or articulation is fundamentally inconsistent with that requirement.

7.4 Architectural Quality and Material Resolution

Clause 6.21C(a) requires high architectural quality, appropriate materials, and contextual responsiveness.

The proposal presents:

- Extensive blank boundary walling;

- Minimal façade articulation;
- Repetitive louvred treatments presented as privacy mitigation;

7.5 View Sharing and Protection of Visual Corridors

Clause 6.21C(c) requires consideration of the impact on significant views.

Highgate Apartments currently obtain north-west outlook toward Barangaroo and Sydney Harbour over the existing three-storey roofline of 125A Kent Street. The proposed 28m extension would materially obstruct that outlook.

While there is no absolute right to a private view, the established planning principle of equitable view sharing requires that:

- Impact be minimised where feasible;
- Height and bulk be moderated where severe view loss occurs;
- The development demonstrate public benefit commensurate with private loss.

Here, the view loss is substantial and arises from avoidable vertical amplification on a constrained site. The proposal does not balance that loss with any evident urban benefit.

7.6 Visual Privacy and Neighbouring Amenity

Clause 6.21C(d)(vii) of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 requires that development minimise adverse environmental impacts, including impacts on visual privacy, solar access and acoustic amenity.

A fundamental planning principle reflected in the NSW Apartment Design Guide is that visual privacy should primarily be achieved through adequate building separation, setbacks and careful building design, rather than reliance on architectural screening devices.

In the present case, the proposal provides minimal to no effective separation along key interfaces with neighbouring residential buildings. Instead, the design relies on internal louvres and horizontal façade blades as the principal privacy mitigation strategy. This approach is inconsistent with the objectives of the Apartment Design Guide, particularly Design Criteria D5.P1 and Objective 3F-1, which emphasise spatial separation as the primary mechanism for protecting residential amenity.

Architectural screening devices cannot reliably substitute for physical separation. The proposed façade treatment is unlikely to prevent overlooking for several reasons:

• Upward and oblique sightlines remain possible between horizontal blades when viewed from elevated neighbouring dwellings;
• Operable windows located behind screening elements allow direct viewing pathways through façade openings;
• The Level 7 communal terrace creates an elevated vantage point from which direct overlooking into neighbouring rear elevations may occur;
• Night-time silhouetting will occur when internal lighting illuminates occupants behind horizontal screening elements; and

• The blades or louvres are not fixed or permanently configured, meaning their effectiveness as privacy mitigation is minimal for neighbours.

Planning authorities and the NSW Land and Environment Court have consistently recognised that façade screening alone does not provide a reliable or enforceable privacy outcome, particularly where windows remain operable and where habitable rooms or communal spaces are positioned in close proximity to neighbouring residential windows.

Importantly, the privacy impacts in this case are not an unavoidable consequence of urban density, but arise directly from the design decision to maximise building envelope and minimise setbacks on a constrained site. The resulting overlooking is therefore design-generated and avoidable through alternative built-form arrangements.

In this context, the proposal effectively substitutes architectural screening for physical separation, creating predictable and direct overlooking of neighbouring residential windows and private open space.

The development therefore fails to demonstrate that reasonable levels of visual privacy can be maintained for adjoining residents.

In addition, acoustic impacts associated with the Level 7 communal terrace and rooftop plant have the potential to further affect neighbouring residential amenity. The application does not adequately demonstrate how activity noise, plant noise, or structure-borne transmission will be mitigated given the limited spatial separation between buildings.

Design excellence under Clause 6.21 requires development to demonstrate high environmental performance and sensitivity to surrounding residential context. Rather than protecting neighbouring amenity, the proposal effectively externalises privacy and acoustic impacts onto surrounding dwellings, contrary to the intent of the planning framework.

7.7 Building Separation and Spatial Privacy

ADG 3F-1 establishes separation benchmarks (e.g. 3m window-to-window, 9m floor-to-floor across sites) to achieve equitable privacy outcomes.

The proposal:

- Provides no meaningful separation across the laneway to heritage terraces;
- Introduces full-height development at near-zero boundary offset;
- Attempts to rely on façade devices rather than spatial buffering.

The cumulative effect is a 28m high louvred wall forming an oppressive interface inconsistent with the spatial intent of the ADG.

7.8 Bulk, Height, and Boundary-to-Boundary Massing
The proposal fails to meet design excellence objectives in multiple respects:

- A 28-metre-high building on a 154.3m² site represents excessive scale for the context, dominating adjoining heritage terraces;
- Zero or minimal setbacks eliminate transitional spacing, creating abrupt interfaces with both heritage fabric and neighbouring apartments;
- The boundary-to-boundary massing generates a continuous blank façade, eroding streetscape rhythm and visual amenity;
- The minor additional yield (two apartments and a rooftop terrace) does not justify the substantial built form impacts.

Conclusion

Under s 4.15(1)(b) of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979, the consent authority must consider the likely environmental impacts of the development, including impacts on adjoining land.

In this case, the proposal generates direct and foreseeable impacts on neighbouring residential amenity, including visual privacy intrusion, potential acoustic disturbance from communal spaces and rooftop plant, and reduced environmental quality resulting from the minimal spatial separation between buildings.

These impacts arise primarily from the boundary-to-boundary massing and absence of meaningful setbacks, which place habitable rooms and communal areas in close proximity to neighbouring residential windows and private open space. The application attempts to mitigate these impacts through façade devices such as horizontal blades and internal louvres, rather than through appropriate built-form design.

However, privacy and amenity outcomes are ordinarily achieved through adequate spatial separation, building articulation and careful orientation, consistent with the objectives of the NSW Apartment Design Guide and the design excellence provisions of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012.

Accordingly, the amenity impacts generated by the proposal are design-generated, foreseeable and capable of mitigation through alternative design approaches, but have not been adequately addressed in the submitted scheme. In these circumstances, the consent authority cannot reasonably conclude that the development provides an acceptable level of amenity protection for neighbouring residential properties.

8. Internal Amenity and Functional Deficiencies

The development does not achieve acceptable design standards for residential use:

- Level 1 studio apartment lacks direct sunlight and cross-ventilation, rendering it effectively uninhabitable;
- Communal spaces (Level 2 and Level 7) are poorly oriented, lack solar access, and fail to support active recreation;

- Internal layouts are constrained by deep floorplates and limited site area, reducing functionality and liveability;
- These design-driven deficiencies represent over-intensification of a constrained site.

Conclusion

The proposal fails to achieve design excellence as required under Clause 6.21 of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012. The development's excessive height, bulk, and boundary-to-boundary massing dominate the adjoining heritage terraces and precinct, materially altering heritage context and streetscape rhythm. Internal amenity is compromised, with at least one studio apartment rendered effectively uninhabitable due to lack of sunlight, poor ventilation, and constrained floor area. Accessibility provisions are inadequately demonstrated, and communal terraces generate predictable acoustic and privacy impacts on neighbouring Highgate Apartments. These impacts are direct, foreseeable, and avoidable, yet the design provides no credible mitigation.

The combination of overdevelopment, poor interface design, and unmitigated impacts demonstrates a fundamental disregard for statutory and policy frameworks, including the EP&A Act 1979, SLEP 2012, and Sydney DCP 2012.

Accordingly, the consent authority cannot be lawfully satisfied that the proposal exhibits design excellence as required by Clause 6.21 of the Sydney LEP 2012.

9. Accessibility Failures

The report cites AS 1428.1-2009 that has been superseded. The currently mandated reference under the NCC is AS 1428.1-2021 (as adopted by the relevant NCC edition applicable at the time of determination).

Reliance on a superseded standard is not a minor technical error — it indicates that the assessment is not aligned with the current regulatory framework. Compliance is assessed against the version of the Standard adopted by the NCC in force at determination.

The Accessibility Statement is materially inadequate:

- No dimensioned evidence of compliance with NCC 2022 and AS 1428.1-2021;
- Principal access relies on a stairway platform lift in a manner likely impermissible under NCC for new residential dwellings;
- Required accessible common facilities are omitted;
- Lift and corridor geometries are not demonstrated to comply with circulation and clearance standards;
- Tactile Ground Surface Indicators (TGSIs) are not detailed in location, extent, or luminance contrast;
- Multiple compliance matters are impermissibly deferred to the Construction Certificate stage.

These failures indicate that the building, as proposed, cannot be demonstrated to be safe, accessible, or equitable.

10. Traffic, Access and Servicing

The application fails to properly assess traffic and servicing impacts.

- No on-site parking or loading;
- No analysis of existing laneway constraints;
- Increased servicing demand placed on already congested infrastructure.

The absence of a substantive assessment represents a failure under s4.15.

The design does not adequately address operational functionality:

- Waste management strategy is insufficient for a seven-storey building; manual handling and storage in constrained areas create hygiene and safety risks;
- Zero on-site parking for five dwellings generates cumulative traffic and kerbside pressure in a constrained heritage precinct.

Observed congestion and operational constraints within the surrounding laneway network are corroborated by local resident evidence. The Presbyterian Church (NSW) Property Trust v Woollahra Municipal Council confirms that consistent, site-based observations from residents may be afforded significant weight in merit assessment, particularly where technical analysis is absent or incomplete. In this case, the absence of a robust traffic and loading assessment heightens reliance on such evidence.

11. Easements and Legal Constraints

The site is further burdened by multiple easements and restrictions, including rights of carriageway, drainage and services infrastructure. These constraints are not merely physical but legal in nature and may limit the capacity to intensify use or alter access arrangements. The proposal does not demonstrate that the increased intensity of use is compatible with the terms or practical operation of these encumbrances. This raises unresolved legal and operational risks relevant to site suitability under s4.15(1)(c).

The proposal may:

- Overburden access arrangements;
- Conflict with easement purposes;
- Introduce operational and legal uncertainty.
- These matters are unresolved and weigh against approval.

12. Fire and Safety Deficiencies

The development presents significant fire and safety deficiencies that compromise occupant safety and appear inconsistent with the requirements of the National Construction Code

(NCC). These deficiencies are critical in assessing the suitability of the proposal for approval and include:"

- Egress and lift discharge arrangements are unclear and potentially inconsistent with NCC fire safety requirements;
- Rooflight proximity and site constraints may contravene external fire spread provisions;
- No evidence of a safe evacuation strategy is provided.

In the absence of clearly demonstrated compliance with fire safety and evacuation requirements, the development cannot be considered safe or acceptable. These unresolved risks weigh heavily against approval of the application.

13. Construction Access and Safety Impacts

13.1 Constrained Access Route

Jenkins Street is the sole access route for the proposed development at 125A Kent Street and also serves the parking garages of four high-rise buildings: Highgate, The Georgia, Stamford Marque, and Stamford on Kent. While nominally two-way for light vehicles, the street functions as a narrow lane where two vehicles can pass only if one mounts the pavement. The street lacks turning capacity for heavy vehicles, creating unavoidable conflicts between construction traffic and resident access.

13.2 Construction Vehicle Conflicts

Using Jenkins Street for construction will require heavy trucks, concrete vehicles, and delivery trucks to navigate an already congested lane used continuously by residents. This will inevitably result in:

- Repeated blockages of garage entries;
- Queuing and gridlock;
- Dangerous manoeuvres, including reversing and mounting pavements to pass;
- Compromised pedestrian safety at the Bond lift and Gas Lane shared zone;
- Potential obstruction of emergency vehicle access.

No Construction Traffic Management Plan has been submitted demonstrating safe access, servicing, and movement of construction vehicles without impeding existing parking or damaging kerbs, pavements, and building frontages. In its current state, Jenkins Street lacks the physical and functional capacity to accommodate construction traffic in addition to its existing role. Council should not approve the DA unless a viable alternative access arrangement is provided. Failing this, consent should be refused on traffic, access, and safety grounds.

13.3 Construction Noise and Dust Impacts

The extreme site constraints—zero setbacks, shared party walls, and sole reliance on Jenkins Street—will expose neighbouring residents to significant construction impacts.

Anticipated activities include demolition, jackhammering, and fit-out works. Expected outcomes include:

- Noise levels exceeding EPA construction guidelines by 5–10dB(A) above background (LAeq 53dB);
- Low-frequency vibration transmitted through shared party walls directly into Highgate Apartments, causing disturbance to bedrooms and living areas;
- Dust from Class 5 acid sulfate soils, concrete cutting, and scaffolding infiltrating unsealed windows, impacting air quality and health;
- Exacerbated dust entrapment due to the cul-de-sac configuration, affecting garages and apartments across three buildings.

13.4 Vibration Risks

Due to zero side setbacks, construction will transmit damaging vibrations through party walls to Highgate Apartments. Structural coupling bypasses normal ground attenuation, likely breaching residential PPV limits (<12.7mm/sec for internal plasterboard walls) from standard piling, jackhammering, and vibratory compaction required on the constrained 153m² site. The DA provides no:

- Vibration management plan;
- Pre-construction condition surveys of Highgate;
- Real-time seismograph monitoring; or
- Developer-funded indemnity mechanisms.

Without these, structural damage—including cracking, misaligned doors/windows, and tile fractures—is highly probable, leaving Highgate strata liable for remediation.

13.5 Waste and Skip Management Constraints

The 153m² site cannot accommodate multiple 4m³ skips for demolition/fit-out or temporary bin storage. Storage within site boundaries is impossible, forcing bins/skips onto Jenkins Street and potentially blocking garage ramps, in direct contravention of SDCP 3.8 (which requires on-site storage). The DA incorrectly states Highgate waste is collected from Jenkins Lane, when it is collected from Kent Street, further complicating logistics. There is no waste collection from Jenkins Street north.

13.6 Public Domain Encroachment

Nil setbacks necessitate scaffolding overhang into Jenkins Street, obstructing pedestrian and vehicle access. The narrow footpath cannot accommodate compliant 2.1m-high temporary fencing, making encroachment inevitable. No Public Domain Works Certificate or verge occupation plan has been provided to manage these conflicts or ensure safe pedestrian bypass.

Conclusion

Given the constrained street geometry, shared party walls, and lack of mitigation measures, construction at 125A Kent Street will:

- Cause severe traffic and access conflicts;
- Create significant safety hazards for residents and pedestrians;
- Expose neighbouring apartments to elevated noise, dust, and vibration;
- Generate unresolvable operational challenges for waste and skip management;
- Result in inevitable public domain encroachments.

Council cannot satisfy its obligations under s4.15 of the EP&A Act without a fully resolved access, safety, and operational strategy. Approval in the absence of such measures would impose unacceptable risk on the community and neighbouring residents.

14. OVERALL CONCLUSION

While adaptive reuse of existing buildings is supported in principle, the scale, bulk and configuration of the proposed extension represent overdevelopment of a constrained heritage-adjacent site.

The proposal introduces significant and avoidable impacts on heritage significance, neighbouring residential amenity and internal residential quality.

In particular, the proposal results in:

- Unacceptable heritage impacts;
- Significant and avoidable amenity impacts;
- Poor internal amenity;
- Non-compliance with key planning controls;
- Fundamental design conflicts;
- Inadequate supporting documentation.

These impacts affect approximately 274 neighbouring dwellings and arise largely from an increase in building height and rooftop activation that appears primarily driven by the objective of accommodating two additional apartments and a rooftop terrace.

For these reasons, the proposal fails to satisfy the planning assessment framework under section 4.15 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

Accordingly, Development Application DA/2024/2639931 should be refused.

15. Public Interest and Precedent Considerations

Approval would:

- Establish an undesirable precedent in a heritage-sensitive area;
- Undermine the integrity of planning controls;
- Encourage overdevelopment of constrained sites.

The proposal is not in the public interest.

The proposal at 125A Kent Street is inconsistent with the public interest as defined under s4.15(e) of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979. The development prioritises minimal additional yield over the long-term protection of heritage, streetscape, and amenity. Approval would expose residents and the broader community to substantial and avoidable impacts, including overshadowing, loss of views, acoustic conflicts, and visual intrusion, while undermining confidence in planning controls designed to protect one of Australia's most intact maritime heritage villages.

Further, Millers Point is exceptionally sensitive to precedent. The approval of a boundary-to-boundary, 28 m tower on a constrained site would create a highly undesirable benchmark for future developments, encouraging overdevelopment and intrusive bulk within this finely grained heritage precinct. Such an outcome would erode the objectives of Clause 5.10 and the Sydney DCP 2012 heritage controls and set a precedent inconsistent with established Land and Environment Court decisions that emphasise the cumulative protection of heritage precincts. In this context, the public interest and precedent considerations weigh decisively against approval.

16. Recommendations

Public interest demands protection of Australia's most intact heritage maritime village over opportunistic infill.

There exists cumulative amenity harm, unresolved access liabilities, and precedent for boundary-hugging adaptive reuse.

This development fails design excellence (SLEP 6.21) by prioritizing density over neighbour impacts.

The extent of inconsistency with both Clause 5.10 and the Sydney DCP 2012 heritage controls demonstrates that the proposal is not a case of acceptable impact with variation, but a fundamental failure to conserve heritage significance.

Council must reject the Development Application for 125A Kent Street Millers Point.

Yours sincerely,
Annie Crabb

Objection to Development Application

D/2026/97

125A Kent Street, Millers Point

Must be Rejected

The proposed development of the site 125A Kent Street, Millers Point, at the South end of the Millers Point Heritage Conservation Area, demonstrates a blatant disregard for the heritage buildings and the residents that surround the site on three sides who will be significantly impacted by this development. By aligning the proposal against a backdrop of blending-in with existing high-rise development it fails to recognise its own historical footprint in the area and the heritage sandstone the existing building stands on. With the proposed main access only through a state heritage-listed laneway at 125A Kent Street, the applicant has dismissed any direct relationship to the heritage importance of its surrounds.

There appear many technical and planning faults in the Development Application, that even as a novice in building and construction, stand out. The application makes a poor attempt to meet building standards and objectives for an inner-city land-locked location that borders significant heritage properties on three side. My objection to this development application will focus on the following areas that directly impact me:

- Loss of Amenity
- Visual impact on heritage property and surrounds
- Environment and health
- Pressure on existing infrastructure and services.

Loss of Amenity

The proposed development has an enormous impact of the amenity of 121 Kent Street. With most windows and balconies located on the west side of the heritage terrace and servicing 4 bedrooms, kitchen and dining room, this development affects every aspect of my home. The distances between my property and the redevelopment of an existing building with an additional five stories will create for me, and the surrounding heritage terraces, a boxed in and overlooked environment that would impact considerably with the health and well-being of occupants. The following visual representation provides some idea of the closeness of the site to my property and the impact it will have.

The Development Application does not include the impact on its surrounds in any measure other that a choice of building materials would mitigate any issues. As is obvious from the representation images this is from the effect it will have on the lives of many people who occupy these heritage home 115-125 Kent and 3-9 High Street.

Visual impact on heritage property

Owners of the state heritage-registered properties of Millers Point must comply with a stringent set of regulations in restoring their homes to the highest level of heritage compliance, including the laneways that service them and redundant washing lines etc as features of the precinct's history, and as contained in their individual Conservation Management Plans.

As an owner of 121 Kent Street since 2011 a key feature in these plans is to ensure the integrity of the building is not disrupted and changes to adapt the external structure of the building to include air-conditioning systems, solar panels, skylights, ventilation windows etc were likely not approved. These additions, it is argued, created a negative visual impact for surrounding heritage sites, views from established high rise buildings, and vistas of heritage architecture seen from Wulugul Walk, from Balmain, from the water traffic, from Observatory Hill, from aerial perspectives, as well as the street-level Millers Point.

Against this background, 125A Kent Street is positioned on a 152 sqm block built flush to the boundary of two unique garden properties (123-125 Kent), the natural sandstone wall of Jenkins Street, and the boundary of the laneways that services the heritage properties 115-125 Kent and 3-9 High Street.

The proposed development overlooks and shadows all heritage properties to the East - two 1840s sandstone garden terraces (123 and 125 Kent Street), to the East and Northeast a row of four (4 story – not 2 story as stated in the proposal) 1880s Victorian Terraces (115-121) Kent Street, and to the North (3-9 High Street), a row of 1915 Federation two-level apartments with roof balconies. Each of these heritage-listed residences will be impacted significantly by the proposed height of the redevelopment, that they will have little natural light, absolutely no privacy, and will have little or no view and light corridors to the South Barangaroo high-rise developments and south city views. This complete loss of amenity in an area of significant heritage must not be approved.

Throughout the.Heritage.Impact.Statement.attached to the Application, it claims there is little impact on the heritage surrounds and low visibility, and the site will blend with the existing high-rise building.

It states:
The proposed works will have a minimal and acceptable impact on these items for the following reasons:

> • The existing building has no visibility within significant view corridors to and from the items.
> Response: As outlined above, the existing building borders at rear fence line 123-125 Kent Street and hence fully visible, it is highly visible from each level of the four-story terraces of 121 -115 Kent Street, and from 9-3 High Street where it will form a highly-visible seven-story wall of building fabric from the roof terraces and the south-facing windows. The existing building is clearly visible from the Barangaroo waterway walk where it is clearly seen in the foreground of the heritage properties. The addition of a further five levels will completely obscure the roof lines of 123-125 Kent Street and Richmond Villa Kent Street from this significant park and walkway development. It will detract focus away from the heritage sites to other vistas.

- The increase in height will result in it becoming slightly more visible at street level on Kent Street. …….. This will have an acceptable impact as the proposal will form the backdrop to much taller contemporary buildings.

Response: The proposed development only heightens the visibility of the site from 3 stories to 8 stories. It will have a major impact on residents' access to view corridors and air flows to the south and the west. It will completely obscure the view of these heritage buildings from surrounding existing high-rise buildings in Kent Street, South Barangaroo and the waterfront walkways of Barangaroo.

- to ensure it remains visually recessive and contrasting to the more highly decorative architectural style of the heritage item

Response: The proposed development will obscure visibility of the roof lines and rear windows and dormers of the heritage items from 125-115 Kent Street, and Richmond Villa Kent Street and 114-110 Kent Street, when viewed from South Barangaroo in the existing high-rise towers and Central Barangaroo.

- Significant view corridors to and from heritage items and Conservation Areas will be retained with minimal impact and will still enable the significance of the heritage items to be read and understood.

Response: The current view corridors from South and Central Barangaroo, the waterways, Pyrmont and Balmain to the south end of the Millers Point Heritage Precinct will be blocked.

Health and environmental impact

For the residents of Millers Points - the high-rise development at the southern border of the Millers Point Heritage Precinct, comprising Crown and the three towers of the One Sydney Harbour complex, has had a notable impact on the local environmental conditions. Having lived here prior to their construction I have first-hand experience of this impact. This includes serious changes to the wind tunnels along Kent Street, Gas Lane, Jenkins Street, Hickson Road, Barton Street and the Barangaroo waterfront. Residents have already had a significant loss of sky vision, significantly less sunlight on many properties, increased reflective light from the glass and metal materials used in construction, and all-night white light from the surrounding (occupied and vacant) high-rise apartments that are lit 24/7.

The development proposal of 125a Kent Street is a further impost on the health and well-being of residents. The proposed height and profile will potentially add to the wind tunnel problem (which is extremely dangerous for the young and the frail), and will seriously impact the amount of light, sun and ventilation that is needed to achieve a healthy environment.

The proposed development will fully overlook all west and south facing windows and balconies of 125-115 Kent and 9-3 High Street. It will exacerbate the pollution trap for air quality which already suffers from the Barangaroo developments and the White Bay shipping terminal. The distance from the perimeter of the proposal site to the heritage properties is a metre laneway for 8-1 High Street and115-121 Kent Street and flush to the boundary at 123-125 Kent Street.

Without adequate sun these properties will have increased in damp and mould. The lack of sunlight to the ground poses an extreme health problem for residents and a breeding ground for rodents.

The proposed access for the development of 125A Kent Street, is a heritage-listed laneway owned by 125 Kent Street, with right of carriageway. Millers Point is serviced by many laneways which are used for storing garbage bins, emergency exits, community planting etc and generally assigned to one ratepayer. However, to propose that the lane at 125A be used as the main gateway to the proposed development site, raises many concerns around personal security, surveillance, fire and emergency access, liability and so on. These issues have not been addressed in the application.

In addition, in the proposed construction stage, it is not clear how access to the site will be made that is safe for residents including transport, noise, movement of machinery etc. As the existing building site is built to the boundary of the lot, the use of cranes and other machinery would pose a higher risk danger for the heritage properties and the high rise, as well as their occupants.

Pressure on existing infrastructure and services.

Parking

The development provides no car parking only bicycle park space. If the residences are used as short-term rentals and Air BnB it would add to many issues faced by residents of the area in respect of garbage and unacceptable excess waste, food delivery, share-rides and e-bikes used by visitors in the area. It would also impact the security of the access lane from 125 Kent Street. If the residences are used as long-term rental then parking on Kent and High Streets is extremely competitive for existing residents who compete with tradespeople, metered parking and the excessive number of Mobility Parking Permit users that are attached to cars all day, week/s. Occupants in this development would add to this pressure.

Waste services management

Waste management in Millers Point is a major issue, with Air BnB residences across the neighbourhood abusing the residential waste management collection.

The application states that council waste collection will continue as current. As I am aware only 161 Kent Street Apartments has its waste management collected from the corner of Gas Lane and Jenkins Street daily. Waste collection for 155 Kent Street is collected in bins on Kent Street and Highgate waste is cleared daily from Kent Street. For the residents 115-125 Kent St, waste bins are stored in the rear and side laneways and placed on High Street for collection each week.

In conclusion

As the owner and resident of 121 Kent Street for over 14 years I have witnessed the rebirth of Millers Point through a guided planning process for the restoration and maintenance of a significant heritage precinct.

There can be no argument for extending development on the border of a heritage precinct for a few rental apartments. The area is overserviced by 1000 new residences in the South Barangaroo precinct – and many remain vacant.

This proposed development -a mix of studio, one and two bed apartments offers nothing to its surrounding environment but a blank façade that overlooks and shadows the heritage buildings that makes Millers Point a unique and highly visible heritage precinct. The Development takes from its neighbouring heritage terraces and streetscape and provides no amenity in return.

The application must be rejected.

Hello Elizabeth,
Thank you for sending the plans and details of the proposed development. Not being expert in the field, I make comment on what a lay person might conclude from the drawings. I shall add my general remarks after that.

1. The drawings are deceptive in relation to the site occupied by Highgate. The residential tower is set back from the ground level footprint and is not nearly as big as the drawings suggest. Therefore, the view from neighbouring buildings is not obstructed by the existing Highgate to the extent that the drawings might imply. The sight lines from the north-west facing apartments in Observatory Tower will be significantly affected by the proposed building. The same applies to other buildings looking west towards the upper harbour.

2. The drawings show a calculated shadow line for 3.0pm on 21 June (the shortest day). The inference is that the effect that the resulting shade only lasts till that time. The shadow of course persists to 5.0pm or so at that time of year and thus the total time of shadow introduced by the mini-tower is quite long. That must be a concern for all buildings to the east of “125A”.

3. From my reading of the architectural drawings, there would appear to be issues in relation to emergency services access. Fire Brigade access carrying emergency equipment is a lengthy narrow walkway along the easement from Kent Street. Ambulance paramedics with a stretcher face a more difficult path, particularly on exit. First the internal lift (which I assume does meet minimum size standards, although the doors look narrow). The outside lift is clearly too small, and stairs are not easy with a heavily built patient on a stretcher. Then the exit past the letter boxes at the Kent Street end of the easement have to be navigated. It all looks quite awkward, so say the least.

I would like to comment generally on the suitability of the proposed mini-tower development. For decades, the Millers Point precinct has been labelled as a village. Lord Mayor Clover Moore refers to it as such in newsletters. Buildings in the area are mostly heritage listed, and the streets are not overcome by contrasting architectural styles and size.
When the Esso Building (now Highgate), the IBM Building (now Observatory Tower) and Caltex House (now The Grand) were built in the mid-1960s, they represented the north end of the city’s commercial development. Beyond that was a collection of early buildings to house dockworkers and shipping associated businesses. Most of the buildings in Kent Street, High Street, Argyle Street, Fort Street etc. are heritage listed. The Langham Hotel would be an exception, but it is in any case no higher than the surrounding terraces.

As it happens, the terraces numbered 119 to 125 Kent Street are among the best in the street.

Exterior stonework which suffered fretting from exposure to weather has been restored, and interiors updated. The balustrade iron work is in very good order. I walk these streets every week and have on occasions introduced this iconic area to visitors to Sydney. Then I would direct them to the Observatory Hill to note the historic time-ball, one of only six still in working order around the world.

This area is part of Sydney's history. It should remain in its original form although upgraded to meet health and safety standards. The idea of having a mini-tower inserted in complete contrast to its surrounds seems totally inappropriate. I am surprised that Council has accepted the proposal, and on behalf of others I have spoken to, I object to the DA.

Thank you for giving me a voice in the debate.

Regards,

Robert Merrick

Item 5.

Development Application: 96-100 Hay Street, Haymarket – D/2025/1144

File Number: D/2025/1144

Summary

Date of Submission:	The application was lodged on 17 November 2025 and has been modified by amended drawings during assessment.
Applicant:	Planning Lab
Architect:	Candalepas Associates
Owner:	Mrs May Ho Yee, Mr Stanley Yee & Hynsco Pty Ltd.
Planning Consultant:	Planning Lab
Heritage Consultant:	Urbis
Design Advisory Panel (Residential Subcommittee):	The application was considered by the City's Design Advisory Panel (Residential Subcommittee) on 2 December 2025. The application has been amended in response to comments received from the Panel.
Cost of Works:	$44,573,294
Zoning:	The site is zoned SP5 - Metropolitan Centre under the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012. The proposed development is a mixed-use development providing for future commercial and residential uses, these being permissible with consent in the zone.
Proposal Summary:	Approval is sought for the partial demolition and refurbishment of an existing 3-storey masonry building, constructed in 1911 by the Sydney Municipal Council as the Municipal Stores. The Municipal Stores have a long standing history of occupation by Chinese Australian firms, who provided stock for nearby markets and businesses. The refurbished Municipal Stores building is proposed to be retained as a 'commercial podium' containing food and drink/retail premises. A partial basement level is proposed, containing plant rooms.

A new residential tower is proposed above the podium, resulting in a 16-storey building. Twenty two residential apartments are proposed within the tower (20 x 2-bedroom apartments and 2 x 3-bedroom apartments).

The site is being developed by the long-standing owner-occupiers of the site, who indicate existing food and drink premises within the building will continue to trade post construction (The Emperors Garden Restaurant and Bakery).

The application is referred to the Local Planning Panel for determination as it constitutes Sensitive development as per the referral criteria for development applications to the Local Planning Panel, being a residential apartment building to which Chapter 4 of the Housing SEPP applies.

The applicant requests consent to vary the Clause 4.3 height of buildings development standard pursuant to Clause 4.6 of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012.

The proposal seeks to vary the Clause 4.3 height of buildings development standard by 9.8% (5m) due to the upper level of the building exceeding the 50m SLEP 2012 envelope. Notwithstanding this, the development does not exceed a height of 55m, and does not trigger a design excellence process.

The applicant has sufficiently justified that in this instance, compliance with the Clause 4.3 height of buildings development standard is unreasonable and unnecessary, and that there are sufficient environmental planning grounds to justify contravening the standard.

It is recommended that the variation requested to the Clause 4.3 Height of Buildings development standard in accordance with Clause 4.6 ‘Exceptions to development standards’ of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 be upheld.

Two deferred commencement conditions are recommended, requiring site investigations to be completed, prior to development approval being activated. This approach is recommended because City staff are satisfied the site can be remediated so it is suitable for the proposed use and reflects site specific conditions where investigative drilling cannot be undertaken completed during assessment.

A third deferred commencement condition is recommended, requiring the resolution of waste issues, prior to development approval being activated.

This is noting the large volumes of waste and recycling that are currently generated by existing food and drink premises within the site.

At the time of reporting, Council's officers are not satisfied the issue of waste disposal is suitably resolved.

The development proposal has been amended during assessment in response to the site being affected by localised flooding. The floor levels of proposed commercial premises facing Hay and Dixon Streets are proposed to be protected by the installation of flood gates. Council's public domain specialists have reviewed the proposal and are satisfied flood gates can be supported in this instance.

Further amendments have been made during assessment, including submission of a heritage assessment report, preliminary public art plan, street tree pruning report and the design of landscaped terraces. Architectural drawings were amended for the waste servicing of the site, which is challenging due to the narrow width of Kimber Lane at the western boundary.

The application was notified for 21 days between 21 November 2025 and 13 December 2025. A total of 1,330 properties were notified and 10 submissions were received. Issues raised in submissions include impacts on the character of Haymarket and Chinatown, impacts on residential amenity (overshadowing, noise and privacy), ecological impacts and around waste management.

The proposal responds appropriately to surrounding development and provides a desirable built form within the Haymarket/Chinatown Locality. The development achieves a standard of architectural design that exhibits design excellence in accordance with Clause 6.21C of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 and will provide for future commercial and residential uses that will contribute to the activation of the City.

Summary Recommendation: The development application is recommended for deferred commencement approval.

Recommendation

It is resolved that:

(A) pursuant to Section 4.16(3) of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979, a deferred commencement consent be granted to Development Application Number D/2025/1144 subject to the conditions set out in Attachment A to the subject report; and

(B) the variation requested to Clause 4.3 Height of Buildings development standard in accordance with Clause 4.6 'Exceptions to development standards' of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 be upheld.

Reasons for Recommendation

The application is recommended for approval for the following reasons:

(A) The proposal satisfies the objectives of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 in that, subject to conditions of consent, it achieves the objectives of the planning controls for the site for the reasons outlined in the report to the Local Planning Committee.

(B) Subject to recommended deferred commencement conditions and based upon the material available at the time of determining this application, the Committee is satisfied that:

(i) The site will be made suitable for proposed commercial and residential uses, subject to further investigation to determine the most effective means of conducting any remediation as required by the State Environmental Planning Policy (Resilience and Hazards).

(ii) The applicant has sufficiently justified, compliance with the respective height of buildings development standard is unreasonable and unnecessary and that there are sufficient planning grounds to justify contravening the development standard pursuant to Clause 4.6 of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012.

(iii) The proposal is in the public interest because it is consistent with the objectives of the SP5 - Metropolitan Centre zone and the floor space ratio development standard.

(C) The proposal has been assessed against the aims and objectives of the relevant planning controls including the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012, the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012, the State Environmental Planning Policy (Transport and Infrastructure 2021) and the State Environmental Planning Policy (Sustainable Buildings) 2022.

(D) Where non-compliances exist, they have been demonstrated in this report to be acceptable in the circumstances of the case or can be resolved by the recommended conditions of consent.

(E) The proposal exhibits design excellence in accordance with the relevant provisions and matters for consideration in Clause 6.21C of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012.

(F) The proposed development has a bulk, form and massing that is suitable for the site and its context within the Haymarket/Chinatown Locality. The intended future uses of the site are consistent with the objectives of the SP5 - Metropolitan Centre zone.

(G) The amended development application has addressed matters raised by Council staff. Subject to the recommended conditions of consent, the proposed development achieves good amenity for the existing and future occupants of the subject and adjoining sites.

(H) For the reasons above the proposed development is in the public interest.

Background

The Reason the Application is Reported to the Local Planning Panel

1. The application is reported to the Local Planning Panel for determination as it is identified in Schedule 3 of the Local Planning Panels Direction of 3 March 2024 as 'Sensitive Development', involving the provision of a residential apartment building to which Chapter 4 of the Housing SEPP applies.

The Site and Surrounding Development

2. The development site is made up of three lots (Lots 4-6 in DP 261942), known as 96, 98 and 100 Hay Street, Haymarket. Internal walls have been removed historically, and the site currently operates fundamentally as a single (combined) food and drink premises building.

3. The existing building on the site is the eastern pair of 2 buildings, constructed by the then Sydney Municipal Council in 1911 as the Municipal Stores. The stores serviced markets opposite the site (now called Paddy's Markets). The eastern building (subject site) has been occupied on a long-standing basis by Chinese Australian firms.

4. Until the 1970s, the stores provided fruit ripening facilities and storage facilities for stock sold at the markets. Subsequently, and until today, the building has been used for food and drink premises, which are a type of retail/commercial land use (The Emperors Garden Restaurant and Bakery). The building remains under the same family ownership.

5. The ground level and level 1 contains the dining rooms and kitchens of the Emperor's Garden restaurant and Bakery, that have frontages to Hay and Dixon Streets. The remainder of the ground floor contains fish tanks and a commercial kitchen with a pedestrian door to Kimber Lane. Level 2 contains storerooms, offices and a residential apartment. Small outbuildings containing plant are located at the roof level.

6. The site is irregular in shape with a combined area of 450.9sqm. It has primary street frontages of 19.9m to Hay Street and 18.4m to Dixon Street. The site has a secondary street frontage of 18.1m to Kimber Lane with no vehicle access. The site has a 4.4m splayed corner at the corner of Dixon and Hay Streets and is generally level.

7. Dixon Street is located at the eastern site boundary. It has been a pedestrianised street since 1980 and contains street trees that overhang the subject site. Dixon Street is framed at its northern and southern ends by gates known as the Chinatown Ceremonial Gates. These have recently been refurbished with new granite lions, new ceramic roof tiles and lighting.

8. Dixon Street and surrounding streets are a major tourist attraction, characterised by alfresco dining, night markets and high volumes of pedestrian activity. The City has recently commenced public domain upgrade works within Dixon Street including new decorative paving and lighting, upgraded seating and a review of street tree plantings.

9. The Hay Street footpath at the southern site boundary were widened (to approximately 3.5m). They contain street furniture and recently planted street trees. Vehicle traffic on Hay Street has been reduced to one west-bound lane. The Inner West light rail runs east-west along the Hay Street boundary.

10. Surrounding land uses are predominantly commercial and residential in nature. To the north and east of the site are located 3-5 storey commercial buildings with frontages to Dixon Street. To the west of the site, on the opposite side of Kimber Lane is located the western 'pair' of the Municipal Stores (90-94 Hay Street), which contain food and drink premises and a tattoo studio.

11. To the west of the site, reflecting the emerging character of the locality, is located the Darling Square development. It contains several multi-storey buildings that are mixed use, with active retail and food and drink premises on the ground floor frontages and residential towers above.

12. A large indoor marketplace known as Paddy's Markets is located to the south of the site, above which is located a mixed commercial development (Market City) and a residential tower (The Peak). The UTS Haymarket Campus is located to the south-west of the site.

13. The site is a not located within a heritage conservation area however has been identified as worthy of heritage listing due to its longstanding association with the Chinese Australian community. Its listing as a heritage item is awaiting formal gazettal at the time of reporting (discussion below).

14. Three heritage items are located within close proximity to the site, including the Chinatown Ceremonial Gates (at the south-eastern boundary of the site), the Covent Garden Hotel (opposite the site on Dixon Street) and the Former Kwong War Chong & Co building, at 82-84 Dixon Street (opposite to and north of the site), which is listed as both a local and state heritage item.

15. The site is located within the Haymarket/Chinatown Special Character Area locality and is identified as being subject to flooding along all site boundaries.

16. A site visit was carried out on 3 December 2025. Photos of the site and surrounds are provided below.

History Relevant to the Development Application

Development Applications

17. Council's electronic records systems contain many applications related to commercial and food and drink premises.

18. The existing restaurant, known as the Emperor's Garden, was established on the site in 1979 and remains under the same family ownership.

19. The following applications are relevant to the current proposal:

- D/2002/529 - On 18 September 2002, consent was granted for the reconfiguration of an existing restaurant and cake shop, new shopfront to Dixon Street, extension of an awning, and reconstruction of internal stair serving the upper level of the restaurant. Hours of operation for the restaurant were approved between 8.00am and 2.00am, daily.

- D/2014/1045 – On 8 September 2014, development consent was granted for the replacement of a weather protection awning.

Compliance Action

20. The site is not subject to any ongoing compliance actions relevant to the subject application.

Amendments

21. Following a preliminary assessment of the development by Council Officers and the City's Design Advisory Panel (Residential Subcommittee), requests were sent to the applicant on 22 December 2025 and 9 January 2026.

22. The applicant responded to the request during February and March 2026 with a series of amended drawings and supporting documents. These were discussed with Council's specialists and referred to external parties including Transport for NSW, who had provided a letter of concurrence and General Terms of Agreement.

23. No amendments show any increase to the scale of the proposed development. As such, they were not re-notified to surrounding properties.

24. Amended documents received during assessment include the following (see discussion section below for further details):

    (a) a revised heritage impact statement including a detailed analysis and fabric assessment of the existing building

    (b) a revised Preliminary Public Art Plan, showing increased opportunities for art within the development at the podium level and under the cantilevered soffit for the residential tower

    (c) an updated street tree pruning schedule which is satisfactory to the City's tree management officers

    (d) amended architectural drawings and a flood report addressing site flooding, showing details for proposed flood gates and their operation

    (e) details showing residential waste bin storage (acceptable) and an updated operational waste management plan for food and drink premises waste disposal (not accepted - See discussion section below)

    (f) amended architectural drawings showing deletion of structures extending over Kimber Lane and detailing operation of ventilation hatches over Hay Street within apartments

    (g) amended landscape drawings

Proposed Development

25. The subject application seeks consent for the partial demolition of an existing 3 storey c.1911 commercial masonry building (the eastern half of the Municipal Stores), maintaining the eastern and southern (Dixon Street and Hay Street) facade walls in place.

26. Excavation is proposed for a partial basement containing services and plant areas. No 'trafficable' basement or basement parking is proposed.

27. The application initially sought consent for site investigations in relation to potential site contamination. However, site specific conditions have prevented these investigative works from being carried during assessment. A deferred commencement condition is recommended, requiring these works to be completed prior to the activation of the consent. See discussion below.

28. Works are proposed to reinstate the floor levels of the 3 storey masonry building, which is intended to be used for ongoing food and drink premises.

29. The refurbished 3 storey building will read as a podium level for a proposed cantilevered, 13 storey residential tower building (16 storeys in total), containing 22 apartments (20 x 2 bedroom apartments and 2 x 3 bedroom apartments).

30. Vehicle access is proposed from a loading area at Kimber Lane, containing a single service vehicle space. Service and plant areas, bike storage, residential storage and residential communal open spaces are proposed at Level 3.

31. A non-trafficable roof level is proposed to contain services, PV panels, a fire water tank and kitchen exhausts, all concealed behind parapet walls.

32. Plans and elevations of the proposed development are provided below.

Assessment

33. The proposed development has been assessed under Section 4.15 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (EP&A Act).

State Environmental Planning Policies

State Environmental Planning Policy (Resilience and Hazards) 2021 – Chapter 4 Remediation of Land

34. Two deferred commencement conditions are recommended, requiring site investigations to be undertaken, prior to the development consent becoming operational.

35. A Preliminary Environmental Site Investigation (PESI) was lodged with the application, which concludes there is a low to moderate potential for site contamination. This is based on historic commercial uses of the subject site and surrounding sites. The PESI identifies potential contamination from the likelihood of underground fuel storage tanks and a dry cleaners.

36. Soil contamination from underground fuel storage tanks in Sydney is common and there are extensive examples where the remediation of soil contamination from historic commercial uses has been conducted successfully.

37. Council's officers requested the applicant provide a Detailed Site Investigation (DSI). However, there are operational constraints preventing the preparation of the DSI at this stage including the inability to provide access for a drilling rig.

38. Noting the PEI concludes there is a low to moderate potential for site contamination and that there will be no basement accessible to residents, it is reasonable in this instance to include a deferred commencement condition, requiring a DSI to be prepared (with a RAP if required), prior to the consent becoming operational. Reasons for this are as set out in more detail below in the Discussion section.

39. Subject to the satisfaction of recommend deferred commencement conditions pertaining to site investigations, Council's assessing officers are of the view the site can be made suitable for the proposed future uses.

40. This is in keeping with the key aim of State Environmental Planning Policy (Resilience and Hazards) 2021 Chapter 4, Remediation of Land, which is to ensure that a change of land use will not increase the risk to health, particularly in circumstances where a more sensitive land use is proposed.

State Environmental Planning Policy (Housing) 2021

Chapter 4 - Design of Residential Apartment Development

41. The aim of Chapter 4 is to improve the design quality of residential apartment development in New South Wales. The SEPP requires the consent authority to consider a number of matters relating to design quality, including the design quality principles as set out in Schedule 9.

42. A design verification statement prepared by Candalepas Associates was lodged with the application. The statement addresses the design quality principles and the objectives of parts 3 and 4 of the Apartment Design Guide. The statement satisfies Clause 29 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulation 2021.

43. An assessment of the proposal against the design quality is provided as follows:

    (a) Principle 1: Context and Neighbourhood Character:

        (i) The proposal responds sympathetically to existing development within the visual catchment of the site, both to the west, with nil setbacks to Hay Street and to the north, which has setbacks to Dixon Street.

        (ii) Proposed works will retain the character and setting of the existing three storey masonry building on the site, which is located at a key corner of the city block and adjacent to the Ceremonial Gates.

        (iii) The proposed residential tower has been designed with a suitable cantilevered separation to the podium level, with massing, articulation and materiality that are a good fit for the Haymarket / Chinatown Special Character Area.

    (b) Principle 2: Built Form and Scale:

        (i) Designed elements successfully reduce the perceived building mass of the residential tower. These include projecting balconies and bay windows.

        (ii) The bulk and height of the proposed tower are generally consistent with the current planning controls established by the completed planning proposal, which established a scale of development that is suitable for the area.

        (iii) Where departures from the controls are proposed, they justified as not having any significant impacts on neighbouring properties and the character of the Haymarket / Chinatown Special Character Area.

    (c) Principle 3: Density;

        (i) The proposal provides a density or residential development anticipated by the current development standards for the site, as established by the planning proposal for the site and surrounds. The subject proposal establishes a suitable scale for future development in the City block.

        (ii) The development scheme provides a high level of amenity for residents and each apartment, compliant with ADG minimums.

    (d) Principle 4: Sustainability:

        (i) As discussed below, the proposal retains a level of solar access, sufficient to ensure the amenity of neighbouring residential development to the south of the site (The Peak above Paddy's Markets).

        (ii) The building has been designed to a high standard with regard for sustainability, reducing reliance on fossil fuels and using low emission appliances.

(iii) The extent of pruning of street trees on Dixon Street is acceptable to Council's specialists.

(e) Principle 5: Landscape:

(i) High quality landscaped areas are to be provided at Level 3 of the development. These areas receive good solar access and are protected from prevailing westerly winds by the proposed tower and street tree canopy.

(ii) Communal private open spaces are provided with flexible furniture configurations for usable and discreet opportunities for social interaction, with equitable access.

(f) Principle 6: Amenity:

(i) High residential amenity is provided for future residents, as outlined in the table below.

(ii) Apartments have generous room dimensions and layouts, access to sunlight, natural ventilation, an outlook and visual and acoustic privacy. Adequate storage and balconies are provided.

(g) Principle 7: Safety:

(i) Commercial and residential premises are suitably designed with entries located both off Hay and Dixon Streets.

(ii) Letter boxes are internal to the building preventing opportunities for mail theft.

(h) Principle 8: Housing Diversity and Social Interaction:

(i) The design achieves a suitable mix of apartment sizes [(20 x 2 bedroom apartments (91%) and 2 x 3 bedroom apartments (9%)].

(ii) Four apartments are identified as being 'adaptable' (18%), in addition to 60% of apartments able to achieve a 'Silver' level of universal design for Liveable Housing.

(iii) The development proposal provides opportunities for social interaction within communal private open spaces at the Level 3 podium, which is to be landscaped and provided with flexible furniture for usable, discreet opportunities for social interaction, with equitable access.

(i) Principle 9: Aesthetics:

(i) The building is suitably scaled and detailed in relation to its materiality, and will positively contribute to the Haymarket / Chinatown Locality with regard for aesthetics.

44. The development is acceptable when assessed against the SEPP including the above stated principles and the associated Apartment Design Guide (ADG). These controls are generally replicated within the apartment design controls under the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012.

45. Consequently, compliance with the SEPP generally implies compliance with Council's own controls. A detailed assessment of the proposal against the ADG is provided below.

2E Building Depth	Consistency	Comment
12-18m (glass to glass)	Yes	15.5m

2F Building Separation	Consistency	Comment
9 storeys and above (over 25m): • 24m between habitable rooms / balconies • 18m between habitable and non-habitable rooms • 12m between non-habitable rooms	No	3.6m across Kimber Lane and 18m across Dixon Street. See discussion section below.

3D Communal and Public Open Space	Consistency	Comment
Communal open space has a minimum area equal to 25% of the site.	Yes	26% (115sqm)
Developments achieve a minimum of 50% direct sunlight to the principal usable part of the communal open space for a minimum of two (2) hours between 9am and 3pm on 21 June (midwinter).	Yes	Communal open space at Level 3 will receive solar access, particularly at the southern end, between 10:00am and 12:00 midday at the winter solstice.

3E Deep Soil Zones	Consistency	Comment
Deep soil zones are to have a minimum area equivalent to 7% of the site.	N/A	The entire site is covered by existing and proposed structures.

3F Visual Privacy	Consistency	Comment
9 storeys and above (over 25m): • 12m between habitable rooms / balconies • 6m between non-habitable rooms	Acceptable	3.6m across Kimber Lane and 18m across Dixon Street. Despite this, the proposal can be supported on the basis it largely complies with the built form controls and full compliance is not able to be achieved on such a small site. West-facing bedrooms face towards Kimber Lane. These have been designed in such a way that a building with a similar typology may be constructed to the west (90-94 Hay Street), with windows off-set from those proposed in the subject development.
Bedrooms, living spaces and other habitable rooms should be separated from gallery access and other open circulation space by the apartment's service areas.	Yes	Floor plates contain two apartments per level, with living areas isolated from lift lobbies.

4A Solar and Daylight Access	Consistency	Comment
70% of units to receive a minimum of 2 hours of direct sunlight in midwinter to living rooms and private open spaces.	Yes	All apartments (100%) receive direct sunlight in midwinter to east-facing living areas between 9:20am and 11:20am at the winter solstice.
Maximum of 15% of apartments in a building receive no direct sunlight between 9am and 3pm at midwinter.	Yes	All apartments receive solar access.

4B Natural Ventilation	Consistency	Comment
All habitable rooms are naturally ventilated. The area of unobstructed window openings should be equal to at least 5% of the floor area served.	Yes	All rooms are naturally ventilated. Living areas have large east-facing windows (approximately 3.6sqm per apartment), equating to 10% of the floor area served. Bedroom windows face west and are shown as sliding doors with areas of approximately 2.6sqm (10% of the floor area served).

Minimum 60% of apartments in the first 9 storeys of the building are naturally cross ventilated.	Yes	All apartments are naturally cross ventilated.
Overall depth of a cross-over or cross-through apartment does not exceed 18m, measured glass line to glass line.	Yes	Apartments have maximum depths of 15.5m.

4C Ceiling Heights	Consistency	Comment
Habitable rooms: 2.7m	Yes	Floor to floor heights allow for minimum ceiling heights of 2.7m.
2-storey apartments: 2.7m for main living area floor, 2.4m for second floor, where it does not exceed 50% of the apartment area.	Yes	Upper level 2-storey apartments have ceilings of 2.7m.
If located in mixed use areas – 3.3m for ground and first floor to promote future flexibility of use.	Acceptable	Ground level is flood affected and has various floor heights varying from 3.2m to 3.3m.

4D Apartment Size and Layout	Consistency	Comment
Minimum unit sizes: • 2 bed: 70sqm • 3 bed: 90sqm	Yes	2 bed apartments range from 83.3sqm to 103.1sqm. 2 bed apartments range from 151sqm to 192.1sqm.

4D Apartment Size and Layout	Consistency	Comment
Every habitable room is to have a window in an external wall with a minimum glass area of 10% of the floor area of the room.	Yes	Habitable rooms are provided sufficient window apertures.
Habitable room depths are to be no more than 2.5 x the ceiling height.	Acceptable	Living rooms have depths of 9m as measured kitchen rear walls to east-facing windows (3.3 times ceiling height). This is acceptable as these rooms also benefit from south-facing windows that provide indirect natural light and ventilation by way of mesh screens. See discussion section below.
8m maximum depth for open plan layouts.	Acceptable	See discussion above.
Minimum area for bedrooms (excluding wardrobes): • master bedroom: 10sqm • all other bedrooms: 9sqm Minimum dimension of any bedroom is 3m (excluding wardrobes).	Yes	Master bedrooms for 2 bedroom apartments have areas of approximately 13.9sqm, including a 'tail' or hall for access. Upper level master bedrooms for 3 bedroom apartments have areas of 25sqm. All other bedrooms exceed 9sqm.
Living and living/dining rooms minimum widths: • Studio and one-bedroom: 3.6m • 2-bedroom or more: 4m	Yes	Living rooms are provided with typical dimensions of 5.4 x 7.2m (39sqm), excluding kitchens.
4m minimum width for cross over and cross through apartments.	Yes	Cross over apartments have minimum widths of approximately 5m.

4E Private Open Space and Balconies	Consistency	Comment
2 bed apartments are to have a minimum balcony area of 10sqm with a minimum depth of 2m. 3 bed apartments are to have a minimum balcony area of 12sqm with a minimum depth of 2.4m.	Acceptable Yes	2 bed apartments have balconies of 8sqm with minimum depths of 2.4m. The size of the balconies is supported in this instance noting they provide for high amenity. They are sufficient to provide for a small table and chairs, are close to mature street trees and receive good solar access. Drawings were amended during assessment to increase the size of these balconies by removing decorative 'fins' that reduced their effective sizes. 3 bed apartments have balconies of 22sqm with minimum depths of 3m.

4F Common Circulation and Spaces	Consistency	Comment
The maximum number of apartments off a circulation core on a single level is 8. For buildings of 10 storeys and over, the maximum number of apartments sharing a single lift is 40.	Yes	Two apartments are located on all floors.
Primary living room or bedroom windows should not open directly onto common circulation spaces, whether open or enclosed. Visual and acoustic privacy from common circulation spaces to any other rooms should be carefully controlled.	Yes	Primary living and bedrooms are separated by structure from common circulation spaces.
Daylight and natural ventilation are provided to all common circulation spaces.	Yes	Lift lobbies have windows at both ends.

4G Storage	Consistency	Comment
Minimum storage provision facilities: • Studio: 4m^3 • 1 bed: 6m^3 • 2 bed: 8m^3 • 3 bed: 10m^3 (Minimum 50% storage area located within unit)	Yes	Full height storage cupboards are provided, providing for a minimum of 50% of the required storage within apartments. All apartments are provided with storage within a common area in Level 3, with the exception of units 14.01 and 14.02 (upper level 3 bedroom apartments), which are provided with storage within the apartments themselves (12-14 cubic metres).

4J Noise and Pollution	Consistency	Comment
Have noise and pollution been adequately considered and addressed through careful siting and layout of buildings?	Yes	Noise from the adjoining light rail line has been addressed by an acoustic report lodged with the application and by the design of the apartments. South-facing windows are fixed, with mesh ventilation hatches providing occupants further, optional ventilation.

State Environmental Planning Policy (Sustainable Buildings) 2022

46. The development proposal involves works resulting in a mixed-use building containing residential and commercial uses, with a capital investment value more than $10 million. As such, it is subject to the provisions of the Sustainable Buildings SEPP.

47. The development has been designed to address the sustainability provisions of the SEPP, with regard for Chapters 2 and 3 of the SEPP (Standards for residential development and Standards for non-residential development).

48. Particulars include:

    (a) Council's specialist has reviewed a NABERS Embodied Emissions Materials Form lodged with the application. All drawings have been stamped by an accredited NatHERS assessor.

    (b) An ESD Report lodged with the application confirms the development will meet all BASIX and NatHERS targets including energy efficiency (60 points), water efficiency (40 points) and will achieve a NatHers star rating of 7.

    (c) Residential design features addressing ESD include:

        (i) in addition to 100% cross-ventilation of apartments, a low window-to-wall ratio being achieved, with recessed glazing throughout the podium and tower

(ii) the building will be fully electrified, incorporating apartment heating and cooling by an air-cooled variable refrigerant flow (VRF) system, allowing for seasonal heat recovery, sealed LED lighting with high efficiency fixtures, regenerative drives to residential tower lifts, a PV array at the roof level (16-20kWp), energy efficient appliances including induction cooktops, electric ovens and dishwashers

(iii) high efficiency fixtures and fittings, drought resistant landscaping and a closed-loop fire protection system

(d) The proponent intends to reuse or recycle approximately 90% of all demolition and construction waste (by mass) and highlights the retention of the existing heritage facade.

49. The embodied emissions attributable to the development have been quantified in accordance with section 3.2 of the SEPP. Council's ESD specialist has advised that the application meets sustainability requirements and has recommended conditions that are included in the notice of determination.

50. The proposal is consistent with the aims of the SEPP Sustainable Buildings 2022 and complies with relevant standards for non-residential development.

State Environmental Planning Policy (Transport and Infrastructure) 2021

51. The provisions of SEPP (Transport and Infrastructure) 2021 have been considered in the assessment of the development application.

Division 5, Subdivision 2: Development likely to affect an electricity transmission or distribution network

Clause 2.48 Determination of development applications – other development

52. The application is subject to Clause 2.48 of the SEPP as the development will be carried out immediately adjacent to an electricity substation. As such, the application was referred to Ausgrid for a period of 21 days.

53. Ausgrid has provided advice with no objection to the proposal, subject to conditions that have been included in the notice of determination.

Division 15, Subdivision 2: Development in or adjacent to rail corridors and interim rail corridors

Clause 2.97 – Development adjacent to rail corridors

54. The application is adjacent to the Inner West light rail corridor and was subsequently referred to Transport for NSW (TfNSW) for comment. TfNSW have provided concurrence and recommended conditions which are included in the Notice of Determination.

Sydney Environmental Planning Policy (Biodiversity and Conservation) 2021 – Chapter 2 (Vegetation in Non Rural Areas) 2017

55. The proposal includes pruning street trees however does not involve the clearing of vegetation. See referral section below (tree management officers).

Sydney Environmental Planning Policy (Biodiversity and Conservation) 2021 – Chapter 6 Water Catchments

56. The site is within the Sydney Harbour Catchment and eventually drains into Sydney Harbour. However, the site is not located in the Foreshores Waterways Area or adjacent to a waterway and therefore, with the exception of the objective of improved water quality, the objectives of the SEPP are not applicable to the proposed development. The development is considered to satisfy the relevant matters for consideration.

Local Environmental Plans

Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012

57. An assessment of the proposed development against the relevant provisions of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 is provided in the following sections.

Part 2 Permitted or prohibited development

Provision	Compliance	Comment
2.3 Zone objectives and Land Use Table	Yes	The site is located in the SP5 Metropolitan Centre zone. The proposed mixed-use development includes commercial and residential uses, which are permissible with consent in the zone. The proposal generally meets the objectives of the zone.

Part 4 Principal development standards

Provision	Compliance	Comment
4.3 Height of buildings	No	Proposed works have a height of 54.9m, exceeding the maximum development standard for height of buildings (50m) by 4.9m (9.8%). A request to vary the height of buildings development standard in accordance with Clause 4.6 has been submitted. See further details in the 'Discussion' section below.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
4.4 Floor space ratio	Yes	As per Clause 4.4 of SLEP 2012, the site is subject to a maximum 'base' FSR standard of 7.5:1 (3,381.8sqm of GFA). The site is located within 'Area 4' and proposes retail and food and drink premises. As such, it is eligible for an amount of additional ' Accommodation floor space' FSR, per Clause 6.4(g) of SLEP 2012, equating to 1.5:1 (676.3sqm). Business premises comprise approximately 31% of GFA for the site, equating to a maximum permissible additional FSR of 0.47:1 (31% of 1.5:1 or 211.9sqm). The total combined permissible FSR for the site is 7.97:1 (3,591.5sqm). The development proposes a FSR of 7.87:1 (3,551.6sqm) and complies with the maximum floor space ratio development standard.
4.6 Exceptions to development standards	Yes	The proposed development seeks to vary the height development standard prescribed under Clause 4.3. A Clause 4.6 variation request has been submitted with the application. See further details in the ‘Discussion’ section below.

Part 5 Miscellaneous provisions

Provision	Compliance	Comment
5.10 Heritage conservation	Yes	The City is progressing the heritage listing of the subject site as well as two others within the Haymarket /Chinatown locality (see discussion below). The applicant has provided an amended heritage impact statement during assessment, which has been reviewed by Council's heritage specialist. Conditions are recommended in relation to the identification and protection of heritage fabric during construction.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
		The proposal has been amended during assessment to ensure works (specifically public art) will not have any significant impacts on or visually dominate the setting of the heritage listed Chinatown Ceremonial Gates, which are adjacent to the site.
5.21 Flood planning	Yes	Architectural drawings have been amended during assessment in response to site flooding, showing the provision of flood gates within ground level premises. The amended proposal is consistent with the relative provisions including compatibility with the flood function and behaviour on the land, works not affecting surrounding properties and that the safety and risk management of the (occupation and efficient evacuation of people) can be suitably managed. See Discussion section below.

Part 6 Local provisions – height and floor space

Provision	Compliance	Comment
Division 1 Additional floor space in Central Sydney
6.4 Accommodation floor space	Yes	The application complies with the relevant FSR standards for the site. See discussion above.
Division 3 Height of buildings and overshadowing
6.16 Erection of tall buildings in Central Sydney	Yes	The proposed residential tower does not exceed 55 metres above ground level and complies with the maximum floor space ratio for the site. As such this clause does not apply. Despite this, the development will not adversely impact on the wind conditions of public places, will not impact upon key views from public places and will not unreasonably impede sun and daylight access to public places.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
		The development provides a suitable height transition between the site and nearby buildings within the Haymarket/Chinatown Locality special character area.
6.17 Sun access planes	Yes	The proposal does not breach the sun access plane for Belmore Park between 10am and 2pm at the winter solstice.
Division 4 Design excellence
6.21 Design excellence	Yes	The design provides a high standard in relation to materials and detailing. The adaptive re-use of the existing building and proposed design response satisfy the principles of ecologically sustainable development and heritage conservation. The proposal retains the facade of a building intended to be heritage listed and responds by providing a massing and modulation that is a good fit with nearby buildings. The development provides a mix of commercial and residential uses that will contribute to the vitality and character of the Haymarket Chinatown area. The development provides a service vehicle space and bicycle parking. The development achieves a successful interface at the ground level between the building and the public domain and demonstrates excellence and integration of landscape design at the podium roof terrace.

Part 7 Local provisions – general

Provision	Compliance	Comment
Division 1 Car parking ancillary to other development
7.5 Residential flat buildings, dual occupancies and multi dwelling housing	Yes	SLEP 2012 does not specify a minimum number of car parking spaces. Rather it sets a maximum of 16 car parking

Provision	Compliance	Comment
7.7 Retail premises		spaces for residential uses in addition to those for business premises. The proposed development includes only one service vehicle parking space and complies with the relevant development standards.
Division 3 Affordable housing
7.13 Contribution for purpose of affordable housing	Yes	The site is located in Central Sydney. Clause 7.13(1)(d) is activated noting the development involves the demolition of existing floor area and the subsequent creation of more than 100 square metres of gross floor area. A condition is recommended requiring the payment of a contribution towards affordable housing.
Division 4 Miscellaneous
7.14 Acid Sulfate Soils	Yes	The site is located on land with class 5 Acid Sulfate Soils however the application does not propose works requiring the preparation of an Acid Sulfate Soils Management Plan.
7.16 Airspace operations	Yes	The proposed development will not penetrate the Obstacle Limitation Surface as shown on the Obstacle Limitation Surface Map for Sydney Airport.
7.19 Demolition must not result in long term adverse visual impact	Yes	The application does not indicate there will be any delay between the demolition of the existing level 3 of the building and the construction of additional storeys.
7.20 Development requiring or authorising preparation of a development control plan	Yes	The site area does not exceed 1,500 square metres and the resulting development will not exceed a height of 55 metres above existing ground levels. As such, the development is not subject to the Clause.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
7.26 Public art	Yes	An amended preliminary public art plan has been provided to the satisfaction of Council's public art team. The amended plan provides details in relation to suitable locations of public art and to the proposed estimated budget.
7.33 Sustainability requirements for certain large commercial development	Yes	The development satisfies the requirements of the sustainability requirements for large commercial development. Refer to the SEPP (Sustainable Buildings) 2022 discussion section above.

Development Control Plans

Sydney Development Control Plan 2012

58. An assessment of the proposed development against the relevant provisions within the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012 is provided in the following sections.

Section 2 – Locality Statements

59. The site is located within the Haymarket/Chinatown Special Character Area locality. The proposed development is in keeping with the current design principles of the locality, set out by Section 2.1.3 of the SDCP 2012 as set out below.

60. The development is also consistent with draft changes to the Locality Statement that were reported to a Council meeting on 11 December 2023 and that are anticipated to be included in an upcoming amendments to the City's SDCP 2012.

61. When compared against the existing locality statement, the development is consistent with the unique character and the design principles of the locality in that it will:

    (a) retain and enhance the urban character and scale of the Haymarket locality by providing a building that maintains commercial uses at the lower levels on the street frontage and is built to the street alignment

    (b) maintain the street frontage height of the subject building, which is intended to be listed as a heritage item

    (c) provide suitable building setbacks above street frontage heights and maintain a high level of daylight access to the street by providing a suitable building height and bulk

    (d) maintains existing vistas to a former market building (Paddy's Market) and conserve existing significant public domain features, including the Hay and Dixon Street frontages that have undergone extensive streetscape improvements

(e) provide public artworks in locations visible from open spaces including the public domain.

62. When compared against adopted (but not published) design principles for Haymarket/Chinatown Special Character Area, the development will:

(a) encourage Asian cultural expression in the public domain through the provision of suitable lighting and public artworks

(b) support the vibrancy of the area through providing an activated ground floor and retail/commercial tenancies to enable late-night trading

Section 3 – General Provisions

Provision	Compliance	Comment
3.1 Public Domain Elements	Yes	The proposal prioritises pedestrians, cycling and transit use by locating service parking and waste management services within Kimber Lane.
3.1.5 Public art	Yes	A Preliminary Public Art Plan has been provided during assessment that is supported by the Council's public art team. The strategy identifies opportunities for public art at the podium level and on the under-soffit of the new residential tower. The Plan identifies that public art budget will equate to 1% of the development cost which is commensurate with the ambition, scale and nature of the development. A condition of consent is recommended requiring a Detailed Public Art Plan to be submitted to and approved by Council prior to issue of a construction certificate.
3.2. Defining the Public Domain 3.2.2 Addressing the street and public domain 3.2.3 Active frontages	Yes	The development proposal contributes to the activity, safety and amenity of Hay and Dixon Streets by providing a mix of commercial and residential spaces that will further activate the public domain. Legible and accessible entries will be provided from the street level that respond positively to site flooding conditions.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
		The proposal retains existing retail entries from Dixon Street and an additional entry from Hay Street. Additional fire services are proposed to Hay Street, with a condition recommended to require detailed construction drawings in relation to proposed metal doors.
3.2.4 Footpath awnings	Yes	Footpath awnings are provided along the Hay and Dixon Street frontages to enhance pedestrian amenity and provide weather protection. The awning design responds to the building design and is does not visually dominate the setting of the heritage listed Chinatown Ceremonial Gates.
3.2.6 Wind effects	Yes	Reports lodged with the application confirm the proposed development will not result in any significant impacts for the public domain surrounding the development, as compared to the existing condition of the site. A supplementary wind report provided during assessment confirms that the proposed Level 3 outdoor terrace will be safe and comfortable for future users.
3.2.7 Reflectivity 3.2.8 External lighting	Yes	The building design has a high solid to void ratio. East and west-facing windows are shielded by external screens and other devices that minimise reflection of sunlight from the subject building to surrounding areas and buildings. A Reflectivity Report was lodged with the application, confirming reflections from the tower east facade towards Hay Street are very brief and will not have any significant impacts on neighbouring properties.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
3.3 Design Excellence and Competitive Design Processes	Yes	The development is not subject to a competitive design process as it does not result in a building with a height greater than 55 metres and does not have a capital value exceeding $100,000,000.
3.5 Urban Ecology 3.5.3 Tree management	Yes	The proposed development does not involve the removal of any existing street trees. However, street trees have been allowed to overgrow the site and will require significant pruning during construction for the installation of hoardings. Council's tree management team received an amended tree pruning report during assessment and are satisfied the viability of existing street trees can be maintained, subject to recommended conditions requiring protection of street trees.
3.6 Ecologically Sustainable Development	Yes	The proposal can satisfy its environmental obligations under the SEPP (Sustainable Buildings) 2022. Refer to the discussion above. The proposed location and placement of photovoltaic solar panels on the roof of the building is unlikely to be overshadowed by potential permissible building forms on adjacent properties, noting they will have a maximum permissible building height similar to the proposed development.
3.7 Water and Flood Management	Yes	The site is identified as being on flood prone land. Refer to the details under Section 7.15 of the SLEP 2012 above and below in the Discussion section.
3.8 Subdivision, Strata Subdivision and Consolidation	N/A	The proposed development does not seek consent for the subdivision of the site. Conditions are recommended, requiring application to Council for any future strata subdivision.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
3.9 Heritage	Yes	The site is a draft heritage item. An amended heritage impact statement has been assessed by Council's heritage specialist. See discussion section below.
3.11 Transport and Parking	Yes	The application provides suitable responses to transport and parking provisions. In addition to 4 x visitor bike parking spaces, 22 residential bike parking spaces (1 per apartment) are provided at Level 3 of the development. A service vehicle parking space is provided with access to Kimber Lane. A deferred commencement condition is recommended in relation to waste servicing. This is noting the applicant has not provided a sufficient response to issues raised by Council's waste management specialists. See discussion section below.
3.12 Accessible Design	Yes	An Access Report has been provided, demonstrating the proposal can comply with the accessibility requirements of the Access Code of Disability (Access to Premises - Buildings) Amendment Standards 2010 and the Disability Access relevant sections of BCA/NCC and that proposed adaptable units comply with the essential criteria of AS4299- adaptable housing.
3.13 Social and Environmental Responsibilities	Yes	Active retail and commercial uses are proposed to the Hay and Dixon Street boundaries, ensuring passive surveillance over the street. The development does not provide any opportunities for anti-social behaviour at any frontages such recessed doorways and has generally been designed in accordance with the 'Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design' (CPTED) principles.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
3.14 Waste	No	A deferred commencement condition is recommended to ensure the proposed development complies with the relevant provisions of the City of Sydney Guidelines for Waste Management in New Development. See discussion section below.
3.15 Late Night Trading Management	Yes	The site is located in a 'Late Night Management' area. Various (future) commercial uses of the building will, depending on their nature, be defined as a categories A, B or C premises (high to low risk). In the circumstances of the application, it is not necessary to impose any conditions of consent relating to the hours of operation for the future uses, noting they will be subject to future, separate development applications or complying development applications.
3.16 Signage and Advertising	Condition to apply	No signage is proposed under the subject application. Conditions are recommended, requiring the preparation of a signage strategy and for separate applications once tenancies are further developed.

Section 4 – Development Types

4.2 Residential Flat, Commercial and Mixed Use Developments

Provision	Compliance	Comment
4.2.1 Building height
4.2.1.1 Height in storeys and street frontage height in storeys	Yes	Refer to height discussion above (SLEP 2012 section) and in the discussion section below. Further, refer to section 5 - Specific Areas - Central Sydney Controls.
4.2.1.2 Floor to ceiling heights and floor to floor heights	Yes	Refer to discussion above - Chapter 4 - Design of Residential Apartment Development (Housing SEPP).

Provision	Compliance	Comment
4.2.2 Building setbacks	Acceptable	Refer to section 5 - Specific Areas - Central Sydney Controls.
4.2.3 Amenity
4.2.3.1 Solar access	Yes	Refer to discussion above - Chapter 4 - Design of Residential Apartment Development in State Environmental Planning Policy (Housing) 2021.
4.2.3.2 Lightwells	Yes	No lightwells are proposed.
4.2.3.3 Internal common areas	Yes	Corridors and lift lobbies have access to daylight and an outlook.
4.2.3.4 Design features to manage solar access	Yes	Fixed shading devices on the western edge of apartments provide for a high solid to void ratio, avoiding extensive, unprotected glazing receiving mid-summer sunlight and a reliance on high performance tinting or glazing. The fixed shading devices do not substantially restrict access to natural daylight or an outlook and provide a satisfactory design solution.
4.2.3.5 Landscaping	Yes	Amended landscape drawings have been received, to the satisfaction of Council's specialist. See referrals comments below.
4.2.3.6 Deep Soil	N/A	Deep soil provisions do not apply to development in Central Sydney.
4.2.3.7 Private open space and balconies	Yes	Refer to discussion above - Chapter 4 - Design of Residential Apartment Development (Housing SEPP).
4.2.3.8 Common open space	Yes	Refer to discussion above - Chapter 4 - Design of Residential Apartment Development (Housing SEPP).
4.2.3.9 Ventilation	Yes	Refer to discussion above - Chapter 4 - Design of Residential Apartment Development (Housing SEPP).

Provision	Compliance	Comment
4.2.3.10 Outlook	Yes	All apartments are provided with a pleasant outlook over neighbouring streets (Dixon Street and surrounds). Southern apartments have an outlook over the Paddy's Markets site.
4.2.3.11 Acoustic privacy	Yes	All apartments will achieve the minimum internal noise criteria, in accordance with an acoustic report lodged with the application. Apartment windows are fixed at the southern boundary, to address noise from light rail and prevent objects being thrown or accidentally dropped the rail corridor below.
4.2.3.12 Flexible housing and dwelling mix	Acceptable	The DCP specifies a quantum of 40-75% of 2 bedroom apartments, where 91% is provided, and 10-100% of 3 bedroom apartments is specified, where 9% are proposed. The dwelling mix is assessed as suitable as it will provide for a range of household types.
4.2.3.13 Wind affected balconies	N/A	Wind conditions do not require screens to protect balconies within the tower component of the building.
4.2.3.14 Apartments with setback bedrooms	Yes	No setback bedrooms are proposed.
4.2.4 Fine grain, architectural diversity and articulation	Yes	The site is not sufficiently large to be affected by this control. Notwithstanding this, the development provides suitable facade articulation and modulation .
4.2.5 Types of development	Yes	Refer to discussion below - Section 5 – Specific Areas.
4.2.6 Waste and recycling Management	No	The site is heavily constrained at ground level with existing narrow and heavily used service lanes and constrained site access. The dual residential and food and drink premises uses require separate and different waste access and storage. Council's Waste, Transport, and

Provision	Compliance	Comment
		Planning team worked with the applicant to explore the most efficient options to service the site without unreasonably impeding surrounding development. A deferred commencement condition is recommended to ensure the proposed development complies with the relevant provisions of the City of Sydney Guidelines for Waste Management in New Development. See discussion section below.
4.2.7 Heating and cooling infrastructure	Yes	Heating and cooling infrastructure is consolidated in centralised areas. Level 3 air-conditioning condensers are concealed from view by landscaping.
4.2.8 Letterboxes	Yes	Letterboxes are provided within the lobby of the building.

Section 5 – Specific Areas

Provision	Compliance	Comment
5.1.1 Built form controls 5.1.1.2 Street frontage heights and street setbacks in Special Character Areas	Yes Acceptable	Street frontage heights Figure 5.9 of SDCP 2012 specifies a maximum street frontage height of 15m to both Hay and Dixon Streets. Table 5.3 specifies a minimum street frontage height within the Haymarket Chinatown special character area of 15m or the street frontage height of the nearest heritage item within the same block. The development proposes to retain the existing building facade as a podium level for a new residential tower, which is intended to be listed as a heritage item. The podium has a street frontage height of approximately 14m. Street setbacks Table 5.2 of SDCP 2012 specifies minimum street setbacks of 8m to both southern and eastern site boundaries (Hay and Dixon Streets). The proposed residential tower has a nil setback to the Hay Street frontage (above the podium frontage height) and a 6.75m setback to the Dixon Street frontage. Notwithstanding this, the proposal can be supported with regard for the objectives of Section 5.1.1 of the SDCP 2012. Refer to the Discussion section below.

5.1.1.3 Side and rear setbacks and building form separations	Yes	Table 5.4 does not specify minimum side and rear setbacks and building form separations for buildings of less than or equal to 55m. This applies to the Kimber Lane frontage as well as to the northern facade, which contains no windows. Proposed works will provide a development consistent with the relevant objective of the clause, which is to ensure high quality of the Public Places in terms of wind mitigation, ventilation and daylight access.
5.1.1.4 Built form massing, tapering and maximum dimensions	Yes	The horizontal dimension of the new tower form will not exceed the 50m maximum required by SDCP 2012 (26 metres). The development scheme provides for a tall building that is articulated with high quality materials. It will not present as overly massive from any direction, and the northern facade is sufficiently detailed, as it will be exposed until such time as the neighbouring site is similarly developed.
5.1.2 Development outlook and demonstrating amenity compliance	Yes	The provisions require that all developments should provide for adequate setbacks within their development sites to guarantee their own minimum outlook.

Provision	Compliance	Comment
		The facades of the residential tower contain windows and balconies that achieve pleasant outlooks and field depths over street trees and development to the east and south.
5.1.3 Heritage items, warehouses and special character areas	Yes	The site is intended for heritage listing, noting the primary values of the site are related to its contribution to the culture and commercial vitality of the Haymarket Chinatown locality. Proposed works are consistent with the key objective of the clause, which is to conserve the setting of heritage items by ensuring that new development respects and reinforces the significant scale, form, modulation, articulation, proportions, street alignment, materials and finishes of heritage items in the vicinity. See discussion section below.
5.1.4 Building exteriors	Yes	The proposal will refurbish the retained heritage podium and is acceptable with regard for reduced street frontage heights as outlined above. The development will contribute to the streetscape with high quality architecture and design. Architectural interest is provided by articulated and well detailed facades. The development will provide a high quality development on an important street corner and will contribute to the quality of public spaces around Hay and Dixon Streets.
5.1.9 Managing wind impacts		An environmental wind statement lodged with the application concludes that it is expected that the changes to the architectural design will result in suitable wind conditions within the Ground Level trafficable areas and will comply with the relevant DCP controls for wind comfort and safety. Furthermore, it is expected that the wind conditions along the Level 3 communal terrace area will be suitable for their intended uses.

Discussion

Clause 4.6 Request to Vary a Development Standard

63. In accordance with the provisions of Clause 4.3 of the SLEP 2012, the site is subject to a maximum height of buildings control of 50m. The development proposes a maximum height above ground level of 54.9m and exceeds the standard by 4.9m (9.8% - Figure 27 below).

64. The applicant argues that, in accordance with Clause 4.6(3)(a) and (b) of the SLEP 2012, non-compliance with Clause 4.3 height of buildings development standard is reasonable in this instance by:

    (a) demonstrating that compliance with the development standard is unreasonable or unnecessary in the circumstances of the case

    (b) that there are sufficient environmental planning grounds to justify contravening the standard

65. The applicant justifies the contravention of the development standard as follows:

    (a) That compliance with the development standard is unreasonable or unnecessary in the circumstances of the case.

(b) The applicant refers to the first method of the 5-part test established in Wehbe v Pittwater Council [2007] NSW LEC 827 to demonstrate that compliance with the standard is unreasonable or unnecessary. This method seeks to demonstrate that the objectives of the development standard are achieved notwithstanding the non-compliance with the standard.

(c) Against the objectives of the height of buildings development standard contained in Clause 4.3 of the SLEP 2012:

Objective (a): to ensure the height of development is appropriate to the condition of the site and its context

(i) the subject site is identified in Council's existing and emerging broader Strategy and LEP and DCP controls that seek to achieve a balance between conserving the more significant historical and cultural elements of the Chinatown/ Haymarket Special Character Area, whilst providing the incentive for medium to high rise mixed commercial and residential buildings, as a catalyst for the economic and cultural revitalisation of this strategically important part of the City of Sydney.

(ii) The proposed building height of 54.87m (a variation of 4.87m or 9.74% of the LEP maximum) is appropriate in the context of the scale and density envisaged by Council for this precinct, as evident by Council's recent approval of similar height variations for the redevelopment of nearby properties, 413-415 Sussex Street and 82-84 – Dixon Street, 417-419 Sussex Street and 683-689 George Street.

(iii) The proposed building height is appropriate in terms of the consistency of its built form profile and massing with the design controls of the SDCP 2012, as well as the retention of the Hay and Dixon Streets facades of the existing commercial building.

Objective (b): to ensure appropriate height transitions between new development and heritage items and buildings in heritage conservation areas or special character areas

(iv) the proposed mixed-use podium and tower building at a height of 54.87m, inclusive of the retention of the Hay and Dixon Streets facades of the existing commercial building, achieves an appropriate balance between maintaining a respectful arrangement with the street level history and character of the Chinatown/Haymarket area.

Objectives (c): to promote the sharing of views outside Central Sydney

(v) No significant or iconic view corridors from surrounding buildings or public places have been identified that would be impacted by the proposal. The scale of the building is compatible in relation to the surrounding built form and the site will be surrounded by both existing and recently approved buildings that already block any extensive district views.

Objective (d): to ensure appropriate height transitions from Central Sydney and Green Square Town Centre to adjoining areas

(vi) the height and built form are consistent with the controls intended to revitalise the locality with extensive strategic planning and urban design analysis undertaken by the City;

(vii) the building's scale is guided by its surrounding context, CBD location and development controls applicable to the site such as the tower setback to Dixon Street Pedestrian Mall;

(viii) The tower's proportion, setbacks and the formal alignments to the heritage podium.

(d) That there are sufficient environmental planning grounds to justify contravention of the standard:

Overshadowing

(i) shadow diagrams demonstrate shadows generated by the proposal are to the south, south-east and south-west, and do not impact on the Dixon Street mall in mid-winter;

(ii) only limited additional overshadowing is created by the proposed mixed-use building (see discussion below). The proposed height exceedance contributes only a minor extent to this impact noting buildings are already significantly overshadowed in the mid-winter period.

Heritage and Special Character Area

(iii) The site has no major physical heritage significance, but rather a social heritage significance with proposed works including the refurbishment of the existing podium facades and reinstating and upgrading fenestration to original details;

(iv) the area of exceeded height will not adversely impact on the heritage significance and special character of this part of the Haymarket/Chinatown area

Privacy Impacts

(v) the windows of habitable spaces meet the ADG privacy criteria for visual privacy. Primary openings for habitable rooms are oriented towards the east, south and west with no north facing openings;

(vi) The proposed 8m setback to Dixon Street provides sufficient privacy protection to buildings across Dixon Street. To the south, an existing distance in excess of 20m from the building across Hay Street provides sufficient privacy;

(vii) In anticipation of possible future neighbouring development to the west (90-94 Hay Street), privacy screens and louvres are to be installed on the western façade;

(viii) The exceeded height area includes proposed residential apartment 14.01 on Level 15, where visual privacy impacts are minimised for both the new apartment residents and the residents of surrounding residential uses.

View Impacts

(ix) No significant or iconic view corridors from surrounding buildings or public places have been identified that would be impacted by the proposal (see discussion below).

(x) The scale of the building is compatible in relation to the surrounding built form and the site will be surrounded by both existing and recently approved buildings that already block any extensive district views.

(xi) The area of exceeded height will have minimal adverse impacts on the views from adjoining properties or the public domain.

Visual Impacts

(xii) The tower form is aligned to the Hay Street frontage with a 3m vertical offset between podium and tower. The tower is further setback from the Dixon Street frontage allowing the podium form to take primacy and connect directly to its immediate neighbours.

(xiii) The height exceedance of the upper-level residential unit and enclosed services parapet contributes to the appropriate building form sought by Council's LEP and DCP urban design controls, and creates no adverse visual impacts.

Sustainable Design

(xiv) passive and sustainable design elements have been incorporated and consideration given to wind velocities at height, with recessed ventilation openings moderating the flow of air and allowing ventilation to be maintained during inclement weather.

(xv) residential amenity is achieved through the orientation of the apartments' key habitable spaces (including the living rooms and private open space) to the eastern street frontages.

Pedestrian Environment Wind Impacts

(xvi) The architectural design will result in suitable wind conditions within the Ground Level trafficable areas and will comply with the relevant DCP controls for wind comfort and safety.

(xvii) The proposed exceeded height area will have minimal impact on the pedestrian wind environment of this building and its surrounding public domain.

66. Development consent must not be granted unless the consent authority is satisfied that that compliance with the development standard is unreasonable or unnecessary in the circumstances of the case, and that there are sufficient environmental planning grounds to justify contravening the standard.

67. The provisions of Clause 4.6(3)(a) of the SLEP 2012 specify that the consent authority must be satisfied that the applicant has demonstrated compliance with the development standard is unreasonable or unnecessary in the circumstances of the application.

68. In this regard, the applicant has demonstrated that in relation to the objectives of Clause 4.3 of SLEP 2012 relating to the height of buildings:

    (a) Clause 4.3 objective (a): the height of the development is appropriate to the condition of the site and its context within the streetscape. The building design is in keeping with existing development located to the west of the site and will retain the character of Hay and Dixon Streets.

    (b) Clause 4.3 objective (b): Noting the existing facade of the subject Municipal Stores building is to be largely retained, the part of the building that exceeds the height of buildings standard (upper level apartments over 50m) will not have any significant bearing on the City's intention to list the subject site as a heritage item and will not have any significant impacts on the setting of existing heritage items to the east of the site.

    (c) Clause 4.3 objective (c): the development proposal does not propose any additional building height above 50 metres that would significantly impact any existing views across the site, noting the clause refers to the sharing of views outside of Central Sydney.

    (d) Clause 4.3 objective (d): the site is not located within the Green square locality.

69. Further, the applicant has demonstrated that in this instance, as per the provisions of Clause 4.6(3)(b) of the SLEP 2012, there are sufficient environmental planning grounds to justify the contravention of the development standard. These include:

    (a) The part of the building that exceeds the 50m height of buildings standard will not have any significant impacts for the adjoining buildings in relation to overshadowing (see discussion below).

    (b) The development proposal retains the existing facade as a podium level, and will not impact upon the intention to list the site as a local heritage item.

    (c) Apartments have been designed to provide high residential amenity, noting screens and window designs will ensure sufficient and acceptable levels of internal visual privacy. The design of these windows provides for the potential development of the remaining western portion of the Municipal Stores (90-94 Hay Street) as a similar development.

    (d) As outlined below in the discussion section, that part of the building that exceeds the 50m height of buildings standard will not have any significant impacts for the adjoining buildings in relation to view loss.

    (e) The new tower addition is appropriately detailed, with the upper portion of the building exceeding 50m in height of buildings appropriately detailed to provide an interesting and articulated visual outcome.

    (f) As detailed below, the proposed development will provide suitable measures relating to environmental sustainability and minimisation of reliance on fossil fuels.

    (g) Sufficient detail has been provided to demonstrate the level 3 communal open spaces and footpath surrounding the site will provide high residential amenity and will not excessively affected by wind.

70. For the above reasons, it is recommended the applicant's request to vary the Clause 4.3 Height of Buildings development standard in accordance with Clause 4.6 ‘Exceptions to development standards’ of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 be upheld.

Deferred commencement conditions

71. Three deferred commencement conditions are recommended to the Local Planning Panel for inclusion in the notice of determination. Two relate to site investigation (contamination), which due to site specific conditions and have not been able to be resolved prior to determining the development application.

72. The third deferred commencement condition requires the resolution of commercial waste access and servicing around the site.

Deferred commencement conditions 1 and 2

Potential Contamination

73. Notwithstanding the continuation of commercial uses within the podium, the proposal introduces residential accommodation, which constitutes a more sensitive land use for the purposes of Chapter 4 of the State Environmental Planning Policy (Resilience and Hazards) 2021. Accordingly, the consent authority is required to consider whether the land is contaminated and, if so, be satisfied whether it is suitable or can be made suitable for the proposed use in accordance with clause 4.6 of the Policy.

74. Council officers requested the preparation of a Detailed Site Investigation (DSI) to further inform the assessment of land suitability. While the DSI has not been undertaken at this stage, the PESI provides sufficient preliminary evidence to indicate that contamination, if present, is capable of being appropriately managed through investigation and remediation measures prior to the occupation of the site.

75. The deferred commencement condition would not be satisfied until a Remedial Action Plan (if required by the DSI) has been independently reviewed by a NSW EPA-accredited Site Auditor, and a Section B Site Audit Statement (or interim advice letter) is provided confirming that the proposed remediation strategy is appropriate and confirm that the land will be suitable for the intended uses upon completion.

76. Subject to further detail of the proposed remediation strategy, the consent authority can be satisfied, for the purposes of clause 4.6 of the SEPP (Resilience and Hazards), that the land can be made suitable for the proposed development.

77. While the PESI identifies potential contamination consistent with historical and surrounding land uses, and states there is nothing to indicate the site is incapable of being remediated to an acceptable standard; that potentially contaminated material may require excavation and disposal in accordance with EPA Waste Classification Guidelines. The proposed absence of a trafficable basement further limits potential exposure pathways for future occupants.

78. This approach is consistent with the object of Chapter 4 of the State Environmental Planning Policy (Resilience and Hazards) 2021, which seeks to ensure that changes in land use do not result in increased risk to human health.

79. A deferred commencement consent is deemed as appropriate in the circumstances of the application. The land can be remediated to make it suitable for the proposed use, however, further investigation is required to determine the most effective means of conducting any remediation.

80. The recommended approach is in keeping with the key aim of State Environmental Planning Policy (Resilience and Hazards) 2021 Chapter 4, Remediation of Land, which is to ensure that a change of land use will not increase the risk to health, particularly in circumstances where a more sensitive land use is proposed. The use in question will be a retail or food and drink premises at the ground floor. Residential uses are three levels above this area at the podium and above for the residential flat building.

Deferred commencement condition 3

Waste Management

81. Council's waste management specialists reviewed architectural drawings and a draft operational waste management plan lodged with the application and raised issues with the applicant's intended approach to waste servicing and collection.

82. The applicant proposed a solution whereby all residential and commercial waste would be collected by commercial waste trucks using Kimber Lane (heading northwards from Hay Street towards Little Hay Street). Council's specialists did not support this approach for three reasons.

83. Firstly, Council requires all residential waste to be collected by the City's contractors rather than by commercial contractors. Residential Council rates include a waste collection levy, and requiring future residents to pay for commercial collection on top of their rates would result in them being levied twice for waste collection.

84. Secondly, for operational reasons and in accordance with the City's Guidelines for Waste Management in New Developments, Council will not service new residential developments using small waste trucks. All residential waste must be collected using larger waste trucks that due to their size, will not fit within Kimber Lane.

85. The third factor is that the northern end of Kimber Lane is currently effectively blocked, at most times by waste bins for separate commercial premises north of the site. For historic reasons, these premises do not have on-site waste bin storage rooms, meaning their bins are permanently stored on Kimber Lane (Figure 28).

Amendments - Residential Collection - SATISFACTORY

86. Waste access, storage, and management were identified as issues during assessment. Amended drawings and an operational waste management plan show:

(a) a narrow waste bin holding area for residential bins along the western boundary with Kimber Lane (Figure 29 below). The narrow waste bin holding area is within 10m of the Hay Street kerb, allowing collection by a Council waste vehicle;

(b) this arrangement is consistent with Section 3 of the City's Guidelines for Waste Management in New Developments (Waste and recycling collection points), which specify that the maximum manual handling distance between the storage point and the collection point for bins is 10 metres for wheeled Mobile Garbage Bins (MGBs).

(c) This arrangement will require a change to existing 'No Stopping' signs on Hay Street. However, this change can be supported by Council's transport specialists, who would support signage stating 'No Stopping except for Council Vehicles';

(d) An area for the collection of food and organic waste (FOGO) is also shown within the narrow waste bin holding area for residential bins along the western boundary with Kimber Lane. An access hatch is proposed within the ground floor residential lobby, allowing residents to dispose of FOGO as they exit the building. A condition is recommended, requiring further detailing of this element.

(e) Details have been provided in relation to red and yellow 'overflow' bins, which are to be stationed in cupboards near to lifts on all levels within the residential tower. Three bins would be used in the event garbage and recycling chutes are blocked for any period, with a dedicated space within lift lobbies.

(f) The applicant provided satisfactory amendments with regard for the collection of residential waste from the site, in response to issues raised by Council's waste specialists.

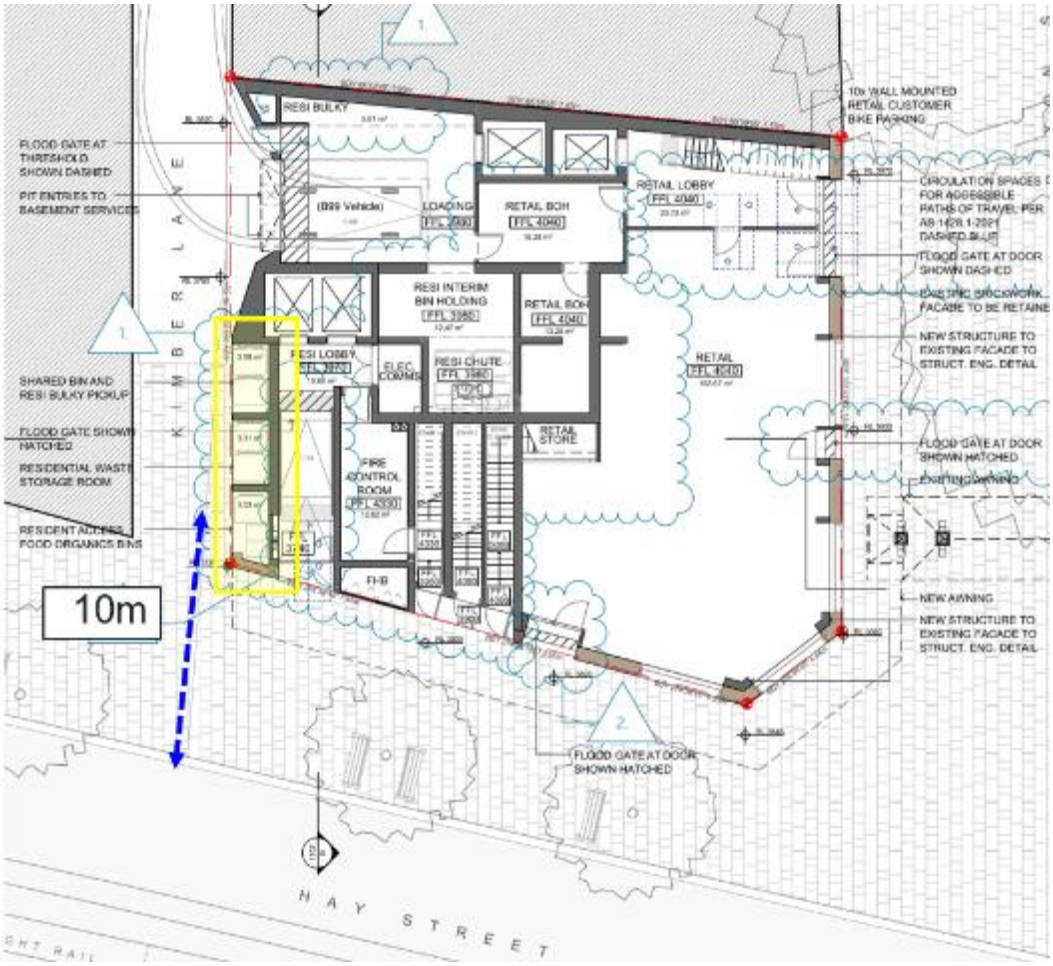

Figure 29: amended drawings showing residential waste bin store within 10m of Hay Street kerb. The loading bay is approximately 25m from Hay Street.

Amendments - Commercial collection - UNSATISFACTORY

87. Commercial Waste access, storage and management were also identified as issues during assessment.

88. Noting large volumes of commercial waste are expected to be generated by future food and drink premises, Council's specialists are not satisfied the updated operational waste management plan (OWMP) and architectural drawings provided by the applicant demonstrate a workable solution for the site.

89. The updated OWMP anticipates that within any 7-day period, future commercial uses of the site will require collection at the following frequency and volumes:

    (a) general waste (red bins): 3 x 660L bins, twice per week

    (b) recycling waste (yellow bins): 7 x 660L bins, 4 times per week

    (c) food organics (FOGO bins): 8 x 240L bins, twice per week

90. The updated operational waste management plan proposes that commercial waste trucks servicing the site will utilise Hay Street for collection, as per the arrangements agreed to by Council's specialists for residential waste collection.

91. The use of Hay Street by commercial waste trucks will not be supported by Council's specialists as wheeled Mobile Garbage Bins (MGBs) for commercial waste would need to be moved approximately 25m (greater than the allowed 10m) along Kimber Lane.

92. This would result in Hay Street being blocked for unacceptably long periods and may result in bins being stored prior to or after collection on Kimber Lane or Hay Street, up to 4 times per week.

93. Councils' specialists are satisfied this can be achieved using B99 vehicles. Further, that Kimber Lane is sufficiently wide (at its northern end) to allow for all bins to be stacked against one side and for a B99 vehicle to proceed north onto Little Hay Street.

94. In light of above, Council is confident that Waste access, storage and management can be solved through amended plans. Waste issues pertaining to collection of commercial waste have not been resolved at the time of reporting the application to the Local Planning Panel. As above, a deferred commencement condition is recommended to address this issue. These require an updated operational waste management plan (and if required, amended architectural drawings) to show commercial waste collection occurring within the site, by vehicles capable of reversing into the loading dock.

Design Advisory Panel (Residential Subcommittee) advice

95. The proposal was amended in response to comments received from the City's Design Advisory Panel (Residential Subcommittee).

96. Architectural drawings have been amended to delete projections over Kimber Lane, which the panel noted would impact development potential on neighbouring sites and the public domain. Further changes were made to improve the amenity of residential balconies by the deletion of deep, closely spaced blade columns.

97. The northern boundary has been provided with a quality finish noting it will be visually prominent from the public domain.

98. Changes have been made in response to panel comments regarding the ground floor layout, including addressing the City's waste management requirements, spatial requirements for services, lobby functions, and proposal to install flood gates.

99. Details have been amended in relation to conservation and reinstatement of existing public art in Kimber Lane, and further details provided for landscaped podium areas.

Solar access and overshadowing

Neighbouring sites

100. Public submissions were received in relation to solar overshadowing impacts on the Peak Building (south of the site), with regard for north-facing communal spaces at the roof level. These include a large open grassed area at the western end of the podium and a tennis court at the eastern end of the podium.

101. Council's model team provided solar access modelling to aid with assessment. The modelling (Figure 30 below) demonstrates that the proposed building casts shadows on the Peak's communal areas approximately between 9:15am and 1:30pm and that the outdoor areas of the Peak receive solar access between 9:00am and 3:00pm.

102. The proposed development will not have any significant additional impacts on the Peak in relation to overshadowing, noting:

    (a) an area of communal open space at the western end of the Peak's podium (containing turf and gardens) will receive solar access to 100% of its area between 9:00am and 11:00am at the winter solstice, before becoming partially shadowed by existing buildings on the northern side of Hay Street (however not being affected at any time by proposed works); and

    (b) a tennis court at the eastern end of the podium level is already affected throughout the day by existing buildings including Darling Square. Notwithstanding this, the tennis court will receive solar access to greater than 50% of its area between 1:00pm and 3:00pm at the winter solstice.

Figure 30: Solar access modelling prepared by Council's model team. Western and eastern communal open spaces will receive more than 2 hours of solar exposure, between 9:00am and 3:00pm at the winter solstice.

View Sharing

Neighbouring sites

103. Public submissions raise the issue of view sharing, with regard for balconies located within Darling Square, which is a multi-storey development located to the west of the site.

104. An assessment of impacts on views has been undertaken by Council's assessing officer. The assessment is based views from apartments located within Darling Square that have easterly aspects (Figure 31 below).

105. The assessment has been made against the planning principle established by Senior Commissioner Roseth in the Land and Environment Court decision of Tenacity Consulting v Warringah [2004] NSWLEC140, and is based on a photograph taken by the assessing officer. The photograph shows that views from east-facing apartments within the Darling Square will be affected.

106. Affected apartments are located at the lower levels of the Darling Square development, up to 16 storeys, which is the height of the proposed development.

107. Impacts on existing views are assessed as 'moderate'. Existing views are classed as an outlook over the Haymarket and Chinatown locality including over neighbouring buildings and the light rail line. Whilst these outlooks are highly valued by occupants of Darling Square, they are not considered iconic views as per the planning principle (such as uninterrupted views of the Sydney Opera House for example).

108. The outlooks over the site are available from living areas and balconies of residential apartments within towers of the Darling Square development. The amenity enjoyed by these apartments is considered to be 'borrowed amenity' in that it is likely to be interrupted by any new building that complies with the relevant height, floor space ratio and set back controls for the site.

109. The proposed development is not unreasonable to the extent it generally complies with the relevant planning controls. The impacts of the proposal would only be mitigated by reducing the height of the proposed development, below that allowed by the relevant development standards.

110. The planning principle asks whether a more skilful design could provide the applicant with the same development potential and amenity and reduce the impact on the views of neighbours. If the answer to that question is no, then the view impact of a largely complying development would probably be considered acceptable and the view sharing reasonable.

111. The proposed development has been skilfully designed and as noted elsewhere in the report, has a building height that is acceptable and an FSR that complies with the relevant development standard. The building provides an appropriate built form and scale.

112. For the reasons outlined above, and with consideration of guidance provided by the relevant planning principle, the impacts upon existing outlooks are acceptable and do not would warrant the refusal or substantial modification of the proposed development application.

Building Setbacks - Planning Controls

113. The relevant controls specify that the proposed tower setback should be setback by 8m from both the primary boundaries of Hay and Dixon Streets. However, the development seeks consent for a nil setback above the podium level to Hay Street and a 6.75m setback to the Dixon Street frontage (Figure 32 below).

114. Figure 5.3 of SDCP 2012 allows for a non-compliance with the 8m setback control in circumstances where it can be demonstrated, by way of a detailed urban design and options analysis, that a high quality urban design outcome will be achieved.

115. Figure 5.3 of SDCP 2012 permits building elements to encroach 2m forward of the minimum Street Setback within the middle third of the frontage. However, it also requires a compensating recess to be provided equal to or greater area up to 4m behind the minimum Street Setback (Figure 33 below).

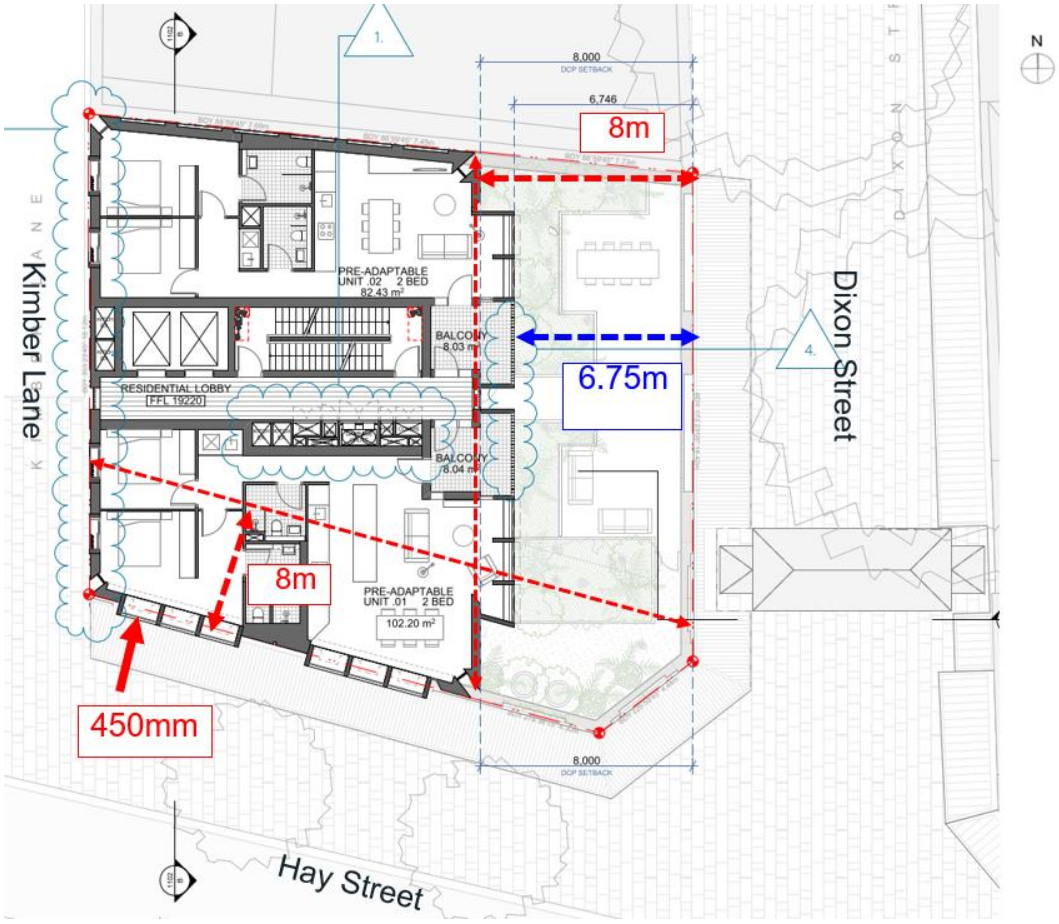

Figure 32: 6.75m setback proposed to Dixon Street and nil setback to Hay Street (with 450mm projections)

Nil setback to Hay Street

116. The development proposes a nil setback to Hay Street, with windows framed by architectural detail that extends by 450mm beyond the southern boundary (Figure 32 above).

117. The nil setback and accentuated window frames are supported on the basis Hay Street is a significantly wider street with building on opposite sides separated by approximately 26m. By comparison, buildings on Dixon Street are separated by approximately 11.3m.

118. The width of Hay Street provides scope for taller buildings with nil setbacks that will not have significant impacts on the character of the street and surrounds. This is evidenced by recently constructed buildings located at the western end of Hay Street including Darling Square. The photomontage and the applicant's design verification statement further justify this approach as being acceptable (Figure 34 below).

119. This approach is also supported by two examples of buildings within close proximity to the site, both with residential tower components facing Dixon Street. These include (Figure 35 below):

    (a) a residential tower at 49-53 Dixon Street has a flat and unarticulated eastern facade

    (b) an approved (but not constructed) development at 413-415 Sussex Street presents a flat facade does not provide any significant benefit for the streetscape of Dixon Street, as compared to the subject proposal

Figure 35: Residential towers at 49-53 Dixon Street and 413-415 Sussex Street, with relatively flat facades compared to the subject development

Setback to Dixon Street

120. The development proposes a 6.75m setback to the Dixon Street frontage, which extends by 1.25m into the required 8m setback. Elements that extend into the 8m setback include bay windows and balconies.

121. Proposed works do not extend by 2m into the setback as permitted by the control (extending by only 1.25m- see Figure 33 above). The elements that extend into the setback contain accentuated bay windows and balconies that improve the residential amenity of apartments whilst not significantly affecting the building appearance. As such, it is reasonable that no compensating setback be included at the edges of the building as required by Figure 5.3 of SDCP 2012.

Heritage Listing and Conservation

122. The City's 2023 Haymarket and Chinatown revitalisation strategy includes an action to recognise the cultural heritage of Chinatown through the heritage listing of culturally significant buildings.

123. This action was progressed in September 2025, with public consultation commencing in relation to the City's proposal to list three buildings (including the subject site) as local heritage items. The draft listings include:

    (a) 90–100 Hay Street: the subject site described as the Former Municipal Stores

    (b) 50–54 Dixon Steet (approximately 100m north of the site), described as the Goon Yee, Loong Yee and Loon Fook tongs building

(c) 75–77 Ultimo Road, described as the Kuo Min Tang building

124. Post-exhibition findings were reported to both the Council and the City's Transport, Heritage and Planning Committee in December 2025. The findings and recommendations were endorsed and SLEP 2012 amendments including the listings are currently going through the required gazettal process.

125. The draft heritage inventory report for the site describes the subject building as the eastern most building of a pair of buildings (the other being 90-94 Hay Street) that were constructed as the Municipal Stores, located opposite the Municipal Markets, which are known today as 'Paddy's Markets'.

126. The stores at 90-100 Hay Street were occupied by Chinese Australian fruit and vegetable produce firms between the 1910s and the 1970s. These firms were instrumental in pioneering the processes involved in banana ripening and were central to the trading, and distributing of vegetables and bananas coming from Chinese Australian communities across New South Wales, Queensland and Fiji. The site also contains the well-known Emperors Garden restaurant and a bakery. Both have been in operation for several decades.

127. The draft heritage inventory report notes that whilst some finishes and details (such as paint on the facades, balustrades, awnings and some windows) are not original, the exterior form has a high degree of intactness and integrity. The report notes a low degree of intactness for internal elements with 98-100 Hay Street having been largely altered with only some original fabric remaining.

128. The draft heritage report notes the stores were primarily open plan, would have had limited internal architectural elements or detailing and that little evidence survives of the historical banana and produce stores.

129. Council's heritage specialist notes that there is intact structure located within Level 2 of the building and recommends that walls be retained within this area, both as interpretive elements and to support the facade of the building, which is proposed to be retained. In addition and for the same reasons, Council's heritage specialist recommends that a 3m section of wall be retained along the northern boundary, at the north-eastern corner of the site (Figure 37 below).

130. The proposed development (subject to recommended conditions) is consistent with the recommendations of the draft heritage report in that:

(a) Proposed additions and alterations will ensure the retention of the whole form and original detailing of the exterior of the principal buildings.

(b) The proposed works including residential tower have been designed to allow for the legibility of the original building fabric at the podium level, with the future tower being a sympathetic design using suitable materials.

(c) The setback and scale of proposed vertical additions will sufficient to maintain the readability of the existing form and scale of the principal building with new building elements tying into the building as a whole, with floor levels and parapets integrated into the retained facade.

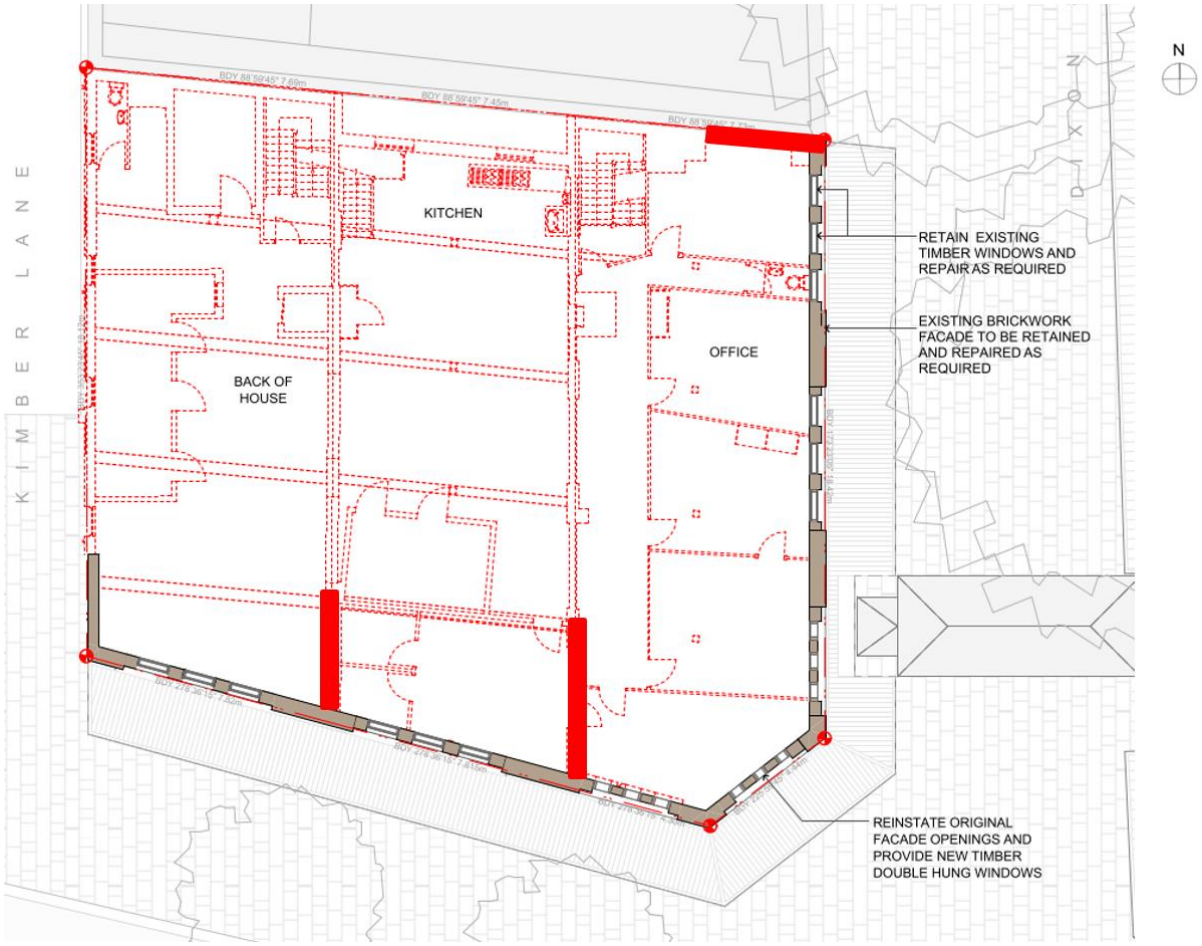

Figure 37: Walls recommended to be retained at Level 2, both as interpretive elements and to support the facade of the building are shown highlighted in red

Street Activation and Public Art - Dixon Street

131. In 2023, the City announced a strategy for the Revitalising of Haymarket and Chinatown including a public domain plan for works to upgrade Dixon Street. Stage 1 of the Revitalising strategy for Dixon Street was completed in June 2025, including works to restore the Chinatown Ceremonial Gates, adjacent to the site at the southern end of Dixon Street (Figure 38 below).

132. Stage 2 of works is currently being undertaken, consisting of public domain upgrade works to Dixon Street (paving, street furniture and a review of street tree plantings). These are anticipated to be completed midway through 2026.

133. The final stage 3 works will involve the construction of creative lighting installations, suspended above the footway and relying on surrounding buildings on the eastern and western sides of Dixon Street for support (Figure 39 below). These works are anticipated to be commenced midway through 2026 and completed by the Sydney Lunar Festival, early in 2027.

134. To facilitate the installation of creative lighting installations, a condition is recommended, specifying that fixing points must be shown on the eastern facade of the podium of the site.

Street Activation and Public Art - Kimber Lane

135. Kimber Lane contains a multi-dimensional art piece known as 'In Between Two Worlds'. The piece was completed in 2013 by artist Jason Wing. It consists of key 3 components, being painted wall murals, painted floor murals and suspended illuminated 'spirit' figures (Figures 41 and 42 below).

136. Proposed works to the subject site involve the demolition of the western wall of the existing former Municipal Store Building, which will require the removal and storage of suspended illuminated 'spirit' figures and the destruction of sections of the painted wall mural.

137. During assessment, the applicant has updated the preliminary public art plan for the site, to include details specifying the conserving and reinstating of suspended illuminated 'spirit' figures at the completion of works and mural.

138. Council's public art specialists are satisfied that subject to recommended conditions of consent, 'Between Two Worlds' can be suitably conserved and reinstated at the conclusion of works. Recommended conditions include:

    (a) that a conservator must be engaged to document any impacted elements of the artwork. The conservator must provide an inventory of impacted elements detailing, number and location of attachment points, catenaries and any other artwork elements; and

(b) conservator is to develop a methodology for approval by the City's Public Art Team, for the safe removal, packaging and transport to a nominated City of Sydney storage facility, return and reinstatement following development.

Response to site flooding

139. The site is located within the Darling Harbour Catchment which flows into Sydney Harbour. The site is identified by the City's modelling as being flood prone land.

140. While the proposed development generally retains the ground levels of the existing building (and does not propose any large basements), the proposed development involves new additions to a commercial building with an area greater than 100 square metres. In accordance with Section 3.2 of the City's Interim Floodplain Management Policy consideration must be given to mitigating site flooding conditions.

141. An amended flood impact and assessment report has been provided for assessment, which identifies flood levels around the site. The floor report recommends flood levels and that flood gates may be suitable for the mitigation of flood events. Architectural drawings were amended accordingly.

142. While flood gates are generally discouraged, Council staff recommend consideration be given to granting development consent to the development for the following reasons:

    (a) the development involves the adaptive re-use of an existing building that is intended to be heritage listed. The existing condition of the site does not meet the minimum flood requirements and noting the site constraints, consideration can be given to installing suitable flood mitigation measures that will upgrade the existing building to meet the flood levels specified by the flood report;

    (b) the application of proposed active flood control devices is recommended to be covered by a condition of consent, requiring the Flood control devices to be designed and certified by an appropriately experienced engineer and that the flood control devices are to be backed up by an independent back-up power supply, to be used in the event of a power failure.

143. The proposed response to site flooding is consistent with the provisions of Clause 5.21 of SLEP 2012 relating to flood planning and, as such, the development is recommended for approval. The application can be supported on the basis that:

(a) The development will be compatible with and will respond appropriately to the identified flood hazards of the land (where the existing building does not).

(b) Proposed works will not significantly adversely affect flood behaviour in a way that would impact other development or properties, noting no changes are proposed at the ground plane other than installing flood mitigation devices within the confines of the site.

(c) The development incorporates measures to mitigate the risk of life from flood, noting the existing building is to be upgraded to meet the recommended levels in accordance with the City's Interim Flood Policy.

Ventilation to living areas facing Hay Street (light rail corridor)

144. Sketch plans were received in response to comments made by the City's DAP(RS) and urban designer in relation to ventilating living areas facing Hay Street.

145. The sketch plans show mesh panels located within hatches and below fixed glazing (Figure 43 below). The mesh panels will provide for ventilation of living areas and are a suitable response to the design requirements of the current operators of the Light Rail (ALTRAC Light Rail), which are to prevent objects being dropped or thrown onto the light rail corridor below.

146. The proposed mesh panels will not restrict airflow through the ventilation panels - expand as discussed.

Consultation

Internal Referrals

147. The application was discussed with Council's:

    (a) Building Services Unit

    (b) Environmental Health officers

    (c) Heritage and Urban Design specialists

    (d) Public Domain specialists

    (e) Surveyors

    (f) Transport and Access specialists

    (g) Tree Management officers

    (h) Waste Management specialists

148. Key issues raised by Council's specialists are outlined in this report, noting deferred commencement conditions are recommended in relation to site investigation and waste management.

149. Council's urban designer suggests several design revisions that are addressed by way of recommended conditions of consent. These include:

    (a) provision of a window schedule, demonstrating Objective 4B1 of the Apartment Design Guide - that all habitable rooms are naturally ventilated

    (b) drawings showing the location of operable windows and how the area of unobstructed window opening should be equal to at least 5% of the floor area served

    (c) a physical material and finishes board is to be provided, keyed to elevations and including manufacturer's specifications

    (d) palisades of the balcony balustrades to be flat sections that are angled to provide privacy to the occupants and screen any urban storage being viewed from the public domain

150. Council's transport specialist recommended a condition requiring the provision of ten bike parking spaces for customers. This condition has not been included as site constraints prevent ground level areas are prioritised for waste servicing. Further, the site is well serviced by public transport and there is ample on-street bike parking for customers on Hay Street. Notwithstanding this, a condition is recommended, requiring 4 x staff bike parking spaces with associated end of journey facilities.

151. Council's health and building specialists recommended conditions regarding details being provided for kitchen design and fitout prior to the issue of a construction certificate. These conditions have not been included as no approval is granted under the subject consent for the fitout and use of commercial tenancies within the development.

External Referrals

Ausgrid

152. Pursuant to Section 2.48 of the SEPP (Transport and Infrastructure) 2021, the application was referred to Ausgrid for comment. A response was received raising no objections to the proposed development.

Transport for NSW

153. Pursuant to Section 2.97 of the SEPP (Transport and infrastructure) 2021, the application was referred to Transport for NSW (TfNSW) for concurrence. Concurrence was received on 2 December 2026. Recommended conditions of consent (terms of approval) are included in the Notice of Determination.

Sydney Water Corporation

154. Pursuant to Section 78 of the Sydney Water Act 1994, the application was referred to the Sydney Water Corporation for comment. A response was received raising no objections to the proposed development.

Advertising and Notification

155. In accordance with the City's Community Engagement Strategy and Community Participation Plan 2025–2029, the proposed development was notified for a period of 21 days between 21 November 2025 and 13 December 2025.

156. A total of 1,330 properties were notified and 10 submissions were received. The submissions raised the following issues:

    (a) Increased density and height: Negative changes to the character of Chinatown and Haymarket due to increased density and height. Negative demographic changes and impacts on property values.

    (b) The Clause 4.6 height variation is not properly justified. Approving this height exceedance could set a bad precedent for future development.

    (c) Haymarket is already facing intense pressure from heavy foot traffic, ongoing construction works, vehicle congestion and limited open space. demand on local infrastructure.

    Response:

    - The development scheme is generally consistent with the City's planning controls pertaining to scale and the built form and is a suitable precedent for future buildings within the Haymarket / Chinatown locality.

    - The development provides accommodation for 22 households and will not significantly affect the character of Haymarket / Chinatown. It is noted property values are not a consideration under the EP&A Act 1979.

    - Close attention has been given to the servicing of the site with particular regard for waste management. Residential waste access, collection and management are satisfactory. A deferred commencement condition is recommended to address commercial waste.

(d) Heritage impacts: the subject buildings should be retained due to their importance for local heritage and streetscape character.

Response:

- Heritage values have been considered during assessment, noting specialist reports justify the heritage listing with regard for historical / cultural attachments rather than with regard for internal fabric and structures.

- Consistent with draft heritage inventory, the facades of the building are to be protected during construction and refurbished using new fabric. Conditions are recommended for future conservation works.

(e) Buildings in Haymarket provide habitat and perching space for a number of urban bird species. The development provides inadequate sustainability measures and green infrastructure.

Response:

- Birds of prey are known to nest in higher buildings surrounding the site. The proposed residential tower includes a 'non-trafficable' roof and may provide habitat for birds in due course. Conditions are recommended to address circumstances in which birds or other animals are disturbed during tree pruning.

(f) Construction impacts: noise pollution, dust, reduced air quality, and road closures. Proceeds on preliminary geotechnical advice and a preliminary CMP which do not address key risks to neighbouring buildings

Response:

- Conditions are recommended to ensure future construction works will not have any significant impacts on neighbouring properties.

- A deferred commencement condition is recommended in relation to site investigations pertaining to potential site investigation. It is noted the consent cannot be activated without these works (and subsequent decontamination works if required) being mapped out / completed.

(g) Waste options are limited in this location. There is insufficient space along Kimber Lane noting bins frequently/constantly occupy and reduce the Lane's width. It is unrealistic for a B99 Van to travel along this Lane. Council should provide an off peak loading zone along Hay Street to service the proposed development.

Response:

- Waste management issues have been considered in the assessment of the application. Whilst arrangements for residential waste management are satisfactory, a deferred commencement condition is recommended, requiring further details to be provided to demonstrate management of commercial waste.

- As above, the consent cannot be activated without these arrangements being properly articulated to the satisfaction of Council's Waste and Transport specialists.

(a) Amenity impacts: View loss, solar access, natural light, privacy, noise and ventilation.

Response:

- The proposal is assessed as providing high amenity for future residents of the subject building as well as residents of surrounding buildings. See discussion section above.

Financial Contributions

Levy under Section 7.12 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulation 2000

157. The Central Sydney Development Contributions Plan 2020 applies to the site. The cost of the development is over $250,000. The development is therefore subject to a s7.12 contribution under this Plan. A condition relating to this contribution has been included in the recommended conditions. The condition requires the contribution to be paid prior to the issue of a construction certificate.

Contribution under Section 7.13 of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012

158. The site is located within the Central Sydney area. As the proposed development includes additional floor space, a contribution is required at a rate of $11,223.28 per square metre totalling $1,466,858. A condition of consent is recommended requiring payment prior to the issue of a construction certificate.

159. Section 7.32 of the Act outlines that the consent authority may grant consent to a development application subject to a condition requiring dedication of part of the land for the purpose of providing affordable housing, or payment of a monetary contribution to be used for the purpose of providing affordable housing where the section of the Act applies.

160. The Act applies with respect to a development application for consent to carry out development within an area if a State Environmental Planning Policy identifies that there is a need for affordable housing within the area. Clause 14 of the Housing SEPP identifies that there is a need for affordable housing within each area of the State.

161. An affordable housing condition may be reasonably imposed under Section 7.32(3) of the Act subject to consideration of the following:

(a) the condition complies with all relevant requirements made by a State environmental planning policy with respect to the imposition of conditions under this section, and

(b) the condition is authorised to be imposed by a local environmental plan, and is in accordance with a scheme for dedications or contributions set out in or adopted by such a plan, and

(c) the condition requires a reasonable dedication or contribution, having regard to the following -

(i) any other dedication or contribution required to be made by the applicant under this section or section 7.11.

162. Having regard to the provisions of Section 7.32 of the Act, the imposition of an affordable housing contribution is reasonable. A condition of consent is recommended requiring the payment of an affordable housing contribution prior to the issue of a construction certificate.

Housing and Productivity Contribution

163. The development is subject to a Housing and Productivity Contribution (Base component) under the Environmental Planning and Assessment (Housing and Productivity Contribution) Order 2023.

164. The site is located with the Greater Sydney region, the development contains residential and commercial development to which the Housing and Productivity Contribution applies, and the development is not of a type that is exempt from paying a contribution.

165. A condition relating to the Housing and Productivity Contribution has been included in the recommended conditions of consent.

Relevant Legislation

166. Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

167. Heritage Act 1977.

Conclusion

168. The proposal seeks consent for the redevelopment of the site, including retention of heritage facades and refurbishment of three commercial levels and for the construction of a residential tower, resulting in a 16 storey mixed-use building.

169. The applicant has sufficiently demonstrated that the variation requested to Clause 4.3 Height of Buildings development standard in accordance with Clause 4.6 ‘Exceptions to development standards’ of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 can be supported.

170. Two matters may be resolved by way of deferred commencement conditions and to the satisfaction of Council's specialists, prior to the formal activation of development consent. These relate to site investigations and any required subsequent remediation, and resolving commercial waste collection and management of the site.

171. The proposed development complies with remaining key development standards applicable to the site, including the design excellence provisions, floor space ratio, flooding, heritage and vehicle parking.

172. The application has undergone extensive consultation with Council staff and has been amended during the assessment to resolve a number of matters including heritage investigations, public domain and public art plans, design for flood levels and mitigation measures.

173. The proposal will provide for mixed commercial uses in an adaptively reused heritage façade. The site is highly accessible to existing and planned employment, services, and public transport infrastructure.

174. The proposal achieves the principles of ecologically sustainable development and has an acceptable environmental impact with regard to the amenity of the surrounding area and future users of the site.

175. Concurrence has been granted by Transport for NSW, subject to recommended conditions of consent. The application is recommended for approval, subject to recommended conditions of consent provided by Transport for NSW and Ausgrid.

176. As a result of public notification, 10 submissions were received. Issues raised in the submissions have been addressed as discussed within this report.

177. All matters raised by internal and external referrals have been adequately addressed, as discussed within this report.

178. The proposal is in the public interest and is recommended for approval by the Local Sydney Planning Committee.

Attachment A

Recommended Conditions of Consent

Relevant matters

This consent does not operate and may not be acted on until the consent authority is satisfied of the following matter(s):

DEFERRED COMMENCEMENT

PART A - DEFERRED COMMENCEMENT CONDITIONS

(A) The consent is not to operate until the following condition is satisfied:

(D1) DETAILED ENVIRONMENTAL SITE INVESTIGATION

(a) Before this consent becomes operative a Detailed Environmental Site Investigation (DESI) is to be carried out by a suitably qualified environmental consultant in accordance with the NSW Environment Protection Authority, Guidelines for Consultants Reporting on Contaminated Sites, Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 and Chapter 4 of the SEPP (Resilience and Hazards) 2021 and submitted to the Council's Area Planning Manager at email address:

hbapplications@cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au

Reason

To address potential for site soil contamination.

(D2) REMEDIATION ACTION PLAN

(b) Where the DESI states that the site requires remediation, a Remediation Action Plan (RAP) is to be prepared by a suitably qualified and competent environmental consultant in accordance with the NSW Environment Protection Authority, Guidelines for Consultants Reporting on Contaminated Sites, Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 and Chapter 4 of the SEPP (Resilience and Hazards) 2021.

(c) Any RAP must be reviewed by a NSW EPA Accredited Site Auditor and be accompanied with a Section B Site Audit Statement or letter of interim advice issued by the Auditor certifying that the RAP is practical and the site will be suitable after remediation for the proposed use.

(d) Prior to this consent becoming operative, any such RAP and endorsement required in (b) above must be submitted to Councils Area Planning Manager at email address:

hbapplications@cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au

Reason

To address potential for site soil contamination.

(D3) WASTE MANAGEMENT AND COLLECTION

(a) An amended operational waste management plan and architectural drawings are required to detail the following matters in relation to commercial waste management and collection from the site:

(i) all commercial waste must be collected from the loading dock at the rear of the site with the bin storage area being at the ground floor within 10m of the waste collection point.

(ii) the bin storage area must be sufficiently sized for the largest waste stream to be collected on any day and demonstrate compliance with 'Reference D - Waste and recycling storage area construction' of the City's Guidelines for Waste Management in New Developments;

(iii) swept path analysis to show vehicles entering Kimber Lane from Hay Street, loading and exiting into Kimber Lane travelling to Little Hay Street;

(iv) the amended operational waste management plan must detail:

i. specifications of commercial waste collection vehicles;
ii. bin size proposed for each waste stream, with reference to waste collection vehicle sizes; and
iii. frequency and volumes of expected waste collection for each waste stream.

(b) An amended operational waste management plan and architectural drawings are required to detail the following matters in relation to residential waste management and collection from the site:

(i) Demonstrate bin locations on each residential level, including an 'interim storage location' of red and yellow bins within the lift corridor in the event of chute malfunction (suggested location: west of lift entries under window);

(ii) how FOGO bins (adjacent to the lobby entrance) will be accessed by residents, internally via a chute style inlet from within the residential lobby.

(iii) demonstrate the methodology for moving residential waste bins from the storage rooms facing Kimber Lane to the interim holding room when bulky waste is waiting collection.

Reason

To provide for waste management on the site.

(B) Evidence that will sufficiently enable Council to be satisfied as to those matters identified in deferred commencement conditions, as indicated above, must be submitted to Council within 24 months of the date of determination of this deferred commencement consent failing which, this deferred development consent will lapse pursuant to section 4.53(6) of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

(C) The consent will not operate until such time that the Council notifies the Applicant in writing that deferred commencement consent conditions, as indicated above, have been satisfied.

(D) Upon Council giving written notification to the Applicant that the deferred commencement conditions have been satisfied, the consent will become operative from the date of that written notification, subject to the conditions of consent, as detailed in Part B Conditions of Consent (Once the Consent is Operation).

PART B – CONDITIONS OF CONSENT

SCHEDULE 1

GENERAL CONDITIONS

(1) APPROVED DEVELOPMENT

(a) Development must be in accordance with Development Application No. D/2025/1144 dated 17 November 2025 and the following drawings prepared by Candalepas Associates:

Drawing Number	Drawing Name	Date
DA 0151 (Revision B)	Site Plan	3 March 2026

and as amended by the conditions of this consent.

(b) In the event of any inconsistency between the approved plans and supplementary documentation, the drawings will prevail.

Reason

To ensure all parties are aware of the approved plans and supporting documentation that applies to the development.

(2) DESIGN MODIFICATIONS

Architectural drawings must be modified as follows:

(a) a window schedule must be provided, demonstrating:

(i) Objective 4B1 of the Apartment Design Guide - that all habitable rooms are naturally ventilated; and

(ii) the location of operable windows and how the area of unobstructed window opening should be equal to at least 5% of the floor area served; and

(iii) mesh screens and operable openings facing Hay Street, consistent with drawing number SK1306 (Revision 02), dated 20 March 2026;

(b) details must be provided to show an access hatch for food and organic waste (a FOGO chute), such that residents can deposit FOGO waste directly into a bin within the holding area at Kimber Lane from the residential lobby;

(c) detailed construction drawings must be provided in relation to proposed metal roller doors facing Kimber Lane and metal doors for fire services facing Hay Street;

(d) indicative locations must be shown for four (4) anchor points and electrical services on the eastern facade wall, consistent with the City's intended upgrades (lighting installations) for Dixon Street;

(e) palisades for east and west-facing balcony balustrades must be flat sections, angled to provide privacy and screening for occupants where they are viewed from the public domain; and

(f) ceiling fans must be provided in all apartments within bedrooms and living rooms.

The modifications are to be submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager prior to the issue of any Construction Certificate for above ground works.

Reason

To require amendments to the approved plans and supporting documentation following assessment of the development and to facilitate the City of Sydney's Haymarket upgrade works (lighting display).

(3) DESIGN MODIFICATIONS – HERITAGE - RETENTION OF INTERNAL FEATURES, AWNINGS & SHOPFRONTS

(a) Masonry walls providing for original room layouts of the former Municipal Stores Building must be retained as interpretative elements and to assist in the structural support of the facades, including:

(i) two internal walls separating 96, 98 and 100 Hay Street must be retained throughout the building, extending from the southern boundary in a northerly direction, measured by the length of one 'bay' (one internal room); and

(ii) a 3m section of masonry wall must be retained at all levels of the building, extending along the northern boundary for a length of 3m, as measured from the north-eastern corner of the site.

(b) The footpath awning must be designed to replicate the original design, based on historic photographs, including profiles, supporting metal ties and brackets. Downpipes must be concealed within the external walls of the building and must not be external to the facade.

(c) Details must be provided in relation to:

(i) the design of prominent rainwater heads on the eastern and southern elevations;

(ii) ground floor shopfronts including new framing, joinery, reveal depths and glazing; and

(iii) the retention of original face brickwork, decorative tiles, joinery components and parapet details of all facades.

The modifications are to be submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager prior to the issue of a Construction Certificate.

Reason

To protect the heritage significance of the building.

(4) SITE VALIDATION REPORT (SITE AUDITOR ENGAGED)

(a) Where the DESI states that the site requires a Remediation Action Plan (RAP) as per Deferred Commencement Condition (D2) above, and before the issue of any construction certificate associated with the built form of the development (excluding building work directly related to remediation), the proponent must submit a detailed validation report to the Council and the Certifier.

(b) The validation report must be prepared in accordance with:

(i) Council's Contaminated Land Policy;

(ii) NSW Contaminated Land Planning Guidelines(1998) as amended;

(iii) Relevant EPA Guidelines, noting in particular the NSW EPA (2020) Consultants Reporting on Contaminated Land – Contaminated Land Guidelines;

(iv) National Environmental Protection (Assessment of Site Contamination) Measure 1999 (as amended 2013);

(v) The validation report must be prepared or reviewed and approved by an appropriately qualified and certified environmental consultant.

(c) The validation report must be included within a Site Audit Report, verifying that the land is suitable for the proposed use(s) and that the remediation and validation of the site have been undertaken in accordance with the Remediation Action Plan referred to in Deferred Commencement Condition (D2).

Reason

To ensure that the site is appropriately remediated.

(5) DESIGN MODIFICATIONS – JASON WING ARTWORK (KIMBER LANE)

The following architectural drawings and supporting documents must be provided to detail the removal or impacted parts, their storage and reinstatement of the public artwork known as “In Between Two Worlds” by Jason Wing on Kimber Lane:

(a) prior to the issue of a construction certificate for above ground works, the applicant must provide the following details to the satisfaction of Council’s Area Planning Manager:

(i) evidence that a Conservator experienced in the installation/conservation of public art works has been engaged to document the impacted elements of the artwork known as “In Between Two Worlds” by Jason Wing that comprises a mural, sculptural catenary lighting elements on the façade of the building and paving inlay in the ground on Kimber Lane;

(ii) an inventory, prepared by the Conservator, of impacted elements detailing, number and location of attachment points, catenaries and any other artwork elements;

(iii) a methodology, prepared by the Conservator, for the safe removal, packaging and transport to a nominated City of Sydney storage facility, return and reinstatement following development for any of the catenary elements, and any necessary protection of in-ground elements and that the developer is responsible for ensuring the works are undertaken to the City’s satisfaction.

(iv) the Conservator must develop a methodology for approval by the City’s Public Art Team, to work with the artist, to reinstate any elements of the mural or paving inlay that will be demolished as part of the development of the building (The City will supply the original drawings indicating detail and location for anchor points).

(b) prior to the issue of a construction certificate for above ground works:

(i) the applicant must provide a document in the form of a digital survey, detailing the location of existing attachment points of the affected catenaries and ensure attachment points in the new building facade are in the same locations; and

(ii) the applicant must provide amended proposed elevation and structural engineering drawings showing attachment details, material details and location of all artwork elements to be reinstated on the new building facade.

(c) Prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate:

(i) the applicant must supply and install structurally sound anchor/attachment points in keeping with the existing artwork to the new building facade as indicated on the above mentioned drawings and specifications;

(ii) the applicant must reinstate elements of the artwork identified in the documents above; and

(iii) the applicant must provide to the satisfaction of City's specialists:

a. structural certification of the reinstated catenary elements by a qualified structural engineer; and

b. a statement prepared by the Conservator that all elements of the artwork have been reinstated to their specifications; and

c. provide a time for the City's Public Art Team to inspect the reinstated artwork.

Reason

To require amendments to the approved plans and supporting documentation following assessment of the development.

(6) CHANGES TO KERB SIDE PARKING RESTRICTIONS- COUNCIL VEHICLE EXCEPTED

(a) A separate submission must be made to the City's Traffic Operations team to approve any changes to kerb side parking arrangements on Hay Street for Council Waste Collection.

(b) The submission must include two plans. One showing the existing kerb side parking restriction signs and stems, the second showing the proposed kerb side parking restriction signs and stems. Both plans must include chainages to all signs and stems from the kerb line of the nearest intersection.

(c) All costs associated with the parking proposal will be borne by the developer.

(d) Notes:

(i) It is recommended that the applicant approach the City's Area Traffic Engineer to discuss the proposal before making a submission.

(ii) There is no guarantee kerb side parking will be changed, or that any change will remain in place for the duration of the development use. The proposal may require a submission to the Local Pedestrian, Cycling, Traffic Calming and Transport Forum (LPCTCTF) for advice.

Reason

To require separate consent to be obtained for changes to kerb side parking arrangements.

(7) FLOOD RISK MANAGEMENT

(a) Any material used for the habitable / non-habitable floor level below the respective PMF level shall comply with the flood compatible materials under section 6 – flood compatible materials of the Interim Floodplain Management Policy dated May 2014.

(b) All building structures are to be designed to ensure structural integrity for immersion and the impact of hydraulic forces of floodwaters and debris up to the 100 year flood level plus 0.5meter or Probable Maximum Flood level, whichever is the greater. For example, where glass is used, it must be toughened glass to resist the impact of hydraulic forces of floodwaters and impact loading of debris. Details of these works shall be submitted to and shall be approved by the Principal Certifying Authority prior to the issue of the Construction Certificate. A copy of the approved Certification report shall be provided to Council for record keeping purposes.

(c) Flood protection is required for all flood events up to and including the minimum flood planning levels applicable to each respective retail spaces and loading dock entry.

(d) The number and location of flood sensors and flood protection mitigation measures are to be certified by a flood engineer and indicated on the relevant plans. A minimum of two sensors is required to operate the doors (Flood Barriers) independently and ensure that one or both of the sensors activate when required. A sensor must also activate an alarm system (flashing lights) on the exterior of the building and the entry point to warn of flooding.

(e) Flood proofing is to be maintained for the life of the development. The design of the flood proofing is to be certified by a suitably qualified practitioner engineer with experience in flood proofing and is to be compatible with the design of the development set out in this development consent. The certification must ensure compliance with the relevant Australian Standards and codes for structural engineering. The certification must be supplied by the Applicant to the Certifying Authority prior to the issue of any Construction Certificate. A copy of the approved Certification report shall be provided to Council for record keeping purposes.

(f) All flood protection features requiring power to operate must have alternative backup power source.

(g) All electrical features including power points and other mechanical equipment must be set above the FPL. This must be shown on the detailed plans prior to the issue of the Construction Certificate.

(h) No toxic or other hazardous materials are to be stored below the respective flood planning level for each respective retail spaces.

(i) Details of proposed flood barriers and their operation to demonstrate:

(ii) Flood control devices or systems can withstand flood-related forces including hydro static load and dynamic load and impacts in a probable maximum flood event.

(iii) Flood control devices or systems have been certified by an appropriately experienced engineer registered on the National Engineers Register (NER).

(iv) Flood control devices or systems are integrated into the driveway of a building to descend from above or ascend from below to exclude floodwater.

(v) Automatic closure of flood control devices or systems, together with an anti-opening mechanism to prevent them from being opened in a flood event.

(vi) Appropriate peripheral safety measures will be provided to support the operation of the flood control devices or systems, including, but not limited to:

a. an independent back-up power supply, to be used in the event of a power failure; and

b. audible and visual alarm systems to warn of the operation of the flood doors and barriers. The alarm system must be linked to the building management system which indicates the status of the failsafe operation and back-up supply power;

c. flood sensors linked to the alarm system to provide information on the status of the operation of the flood doors and barriers; and

d. passenger lift programming is to ensure that the lift is deactivated when flood doors and barriers are activated.

(i) All building structures are to be designed to ensure structural integrity for immersion and the impact of hydraulic forces of floodwaters and debris up to the 100 year flood level plus 0.5m or Probable Maximum Flood level, whichever is the greater. For example, where glass is used, it must be toughened glass to resist the impact of hydraulic forces of floodwaters and impact loading of debris. Details of these works shall be submitted to and shall be approved by the Principal Certifying Authority prior to the issue of the stage 2 Construction Certificate.

(j) Flood protection is required for all flood events up to and including the minimum flood planning levels applicable to the relevant area.

(k) Flood proofing is to be maintained for the life of the development. The design of the flood proofing is to be certified by a suitably qualified practitioner engineer with experience in flood proofing and is to be compatible with the design of the development set out in this development consent. The certification must ensure compliance with the relevant Australian Standards and codes for structural engineering. The certification must be supplied by the Applicant to the Certifying Authority.

(l) All flood protection features requiring power to operate must have alternative backup power source.

(m) All electrical features including power points and other mechanical equipment must be set above the Flood Planning Level. This must be shown on the detailed plans prior to the issue of the Construction Certificate for the basement.

(n) A design certification report prepared by a suitably qualified practitioner engineer demonstrating compliance has been achieved of these requirements above shall be submitted to and shall be approved by the Principal Certifying Authority prior to the issue of any Construction Certificate.

Reason

To ensure flood risk management measures are complied with.

(8) FLOOD EMERGENCY RESPONSE PLAN

(a) A Flood Emergency Response Plan is to be prepared by a suitably qualified flood engineer and be implemented as a positive covenant on the title of the property (and annexed to the positive covenant). The Flood Emergency Response Plan is to be implemented and operated by the building owner and/or Owners Corporation at all times.

(b) The Flood Emergency Response Plan must include all measures required to be implemented to ensure the ongoing management of flooding risk in relation to the building, including (but not limited to) the following:

(i) Describe the flood conditions in the vicinity of the site.

(ii) If appropriate, direct persons on the site to seek refuge above the Probable Maximum Flood level for all levels of the building that are flood affected. Shelters in place for flood affected parts of the building is not permissible.

(iii) Include a map directing residents and visitors to a refuge via a flood free pathway within the building.

(iv) Describe the audible and visual alarm system for the basement area, including the linkage of this system to the building management system, details of failsafe operations and alternate power arrangements.

(v) Provide details (as an appendix) of all proposed flood sensors, their purpose, operation and maintenance (including the frequency of maintenance).

(vi) Provide details of lift design and operation in the event of a flood and specify how the lift will be deactivated in the event of a flood.

(vii) Provide details of access to flood free areas for disabled persons.

(viii) Provide details of all flood protection design features of the building (flood doors and the like) and describe their operation, maintenance, repair and replacement arrangements. Repairs are to be completed to ensure that the flood doors/gates/barriers remain operational and effective at all times.

(ix) A pumping option needs to be shown, along with the location of pumps (in case mechanical failures of flood barriers occur). The pumps must be designed to pump out the full range of flood volumes within 6 hours after floodwaters have receded.

(x) Details of the operations and maintenance of the pumps are to be included. Any pumping equipment used to disperse flood waters should have the same maintenance schedule as the flood doors; and

(xi) Make provision for three monthly testing by the building owner and/or Owners Corporation.

(c) The building owner and/or Owners' Corporation must enter into a service arrangement by which all identified faults or defects to all flood designed features of the building must be repaired within 24 hours.

(d) No toxic or other hazardous materials are to be stored below the Flood Planning Level or in the basement levels.

(e) Flood gates are to be:

(i) Readily deployable within the available warning time

(ii) Maintained regularly and in accordance with the manufacturer's specifications and requirements by the building owner and/or Owners' Corporation.

(iii) Subject to periodic inspection and testing carried out by the building owner and/or Owners' Corporation.

(f) Localised Flooding - For all entry points not protected by flood gates, an assessment is to be provided demonstrating that any inundation:

(i) Is contained within the immediate entry area (i.e. below the first step)

(ii) Does not propagate into internal building areas

(iii) Does not compromise safe access or egress

(g) Prior to the issue of any Stage 1 Construction Certificate for the basement, the Flood Emergency Response Plan (FERP) is to be submitted to and approved by Principal Certifying Authority (PCA). A copy of the approved FERP shall be submitted to the City for record keeping purpose.

(h) Prior to the issue of an Occupation Certificate, the approved Flood Emergency Response Plan and positive covenant relating to the flood protection measures shall be registered with the Land Title office.

Reason

To ensure flood risk management measures are complied with.

(9) USE - SEPARATE DA REQUIRED

No consent is granted or implied for the fitout or specific use of commercial tenancies in the podium level of the building (ground level to Level 2).

A development consent or Complying Development Certificate (as appropriate) must be obtained prior to the fitout or use of those tenancies commencing.

Reason

To require separate consent to be obtained for a use.

(10) SIGNAGE STRATEGY

A separate development application must be submitted seeking approval of a signage strategy for the building. The signage strategy development application must include information and scale drawings of the location, type, construction, materials and total number of signs appropriate for the building.

Reason

To require separate consent to be obtained for a signage strategy.

BUILDING WORK

BEFORE ISSUE OF A CONSTRUCTION CERTIFICATE

(11) AFFORDABLE HOUSING CONTRIBUTION – RESIDUAL LAND OR CENTRAL SYDNEY – PAYMENT IN LIEU OF FLOOR SPACE CONTRIBUTION – PRIOR TO CONSTRUCTION CERTIFICATE

(a) In accordance with the City of Sydney Affordable Housing Program and prior to the issue of a Construction Certificate, the applicant must provide evidence that a monetary contribution towards the provision of affordable housing has been paid to the City of Sydney Council.

(b) The contribution is $1,466,858 (indexed at 8 April 2026). This is calculated by establishing the sum of the equivalent monetary contribution $11,223.28 multiplied by 1% of the total floor area for non-residential development (1,393.3 sqm) and the equivalent monetary contribution $11,223.28 multiplied by 3% of the total floor area for residential development (3,892.2sqm).

(c) If the contribution is paid after the indexation period in which the consent is granted, being April 2026 to June 2026, the above contribution will be adjusted according to the Sydney LGA median strata dwelling price ('MDP') using the following formula.

(d) Contribution payable at Time of Payment = C x MDP2 / MDP1, where:

(i) C is the original total contribution amount payable to the City of Sydney as shown above;

(ii) MDP2 is the Median Strata Dwelling Price in Sydney LGA taken from the most recent NSW Government Rent and Sales Report at the time of indexation of the equivalent monetary contribution rate; and

(iii) MDP1 is the Median Strata Dwelling Price in Sydney LGA taken from the NSW Government Rent and Sales Report used to establish the current equivalent monetary contribution rate, being April 2026 to June 2026.

Contact Council's Planning Assessment Unit at planningsystemsadmin@cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au for written confirmation of the amount payable, with indexation as necessary, prior to payment.

Reason

To ensure development contributions are paid to contribute to the provision of essential affordable rental housing infrastructure.

(12) HOUSING AND PRODUCTIVITY CONTRIBUTION

Before the issue of any Construction Certificate, the housing and productivity contribution (HPC) set out in the table below is required to be made.

Housing and productivity contribution	Amount
Housing and productivity contribution (base component)	$265,130.54
Transport project component	$0
Total housing and productivity contribution	$265,130.54

The HPC must be paid using the NSW planning portal.

At the time of payment, the amount of the HPC is to be adjusted in accordance with the Environmental Planning and Assessment (Housing and Productivity Contributions) Order 2024 (HPC Order).

The HPC may be made wholly or partly as a non-monetary contribution (apart from any transport project component) if the Minister administering the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 agrees.

The HPC is not required to be made to the extent that a planning agreement excludes the application of Subdivision 4 of Division 7.1 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 to the development, or the HPC Order exempts the development from the contribution.

The amount of the contribution may be reduced under the HPC Order, including if payment is made before 1 July 2025. structure, attachment or activity which is proposed to be

Reason

To require contributions towards the provision of regional infrastructure.

(13) SECTION 7.12 CONTRIBUTIONS PAYABLE – SUBMITTED AND VERIFIED PRIOR TO ISSUE OF CONSTRUCTION CERTIFICATE

A monetary contribution is payable to the City of Sydney pursuant to Section 7.12 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 and the Central Sydney Development Contributions Plan 2020.

The Section 7.12 levy is determined by the development cost, as per the following table:

Development cost * * Refer to Section 2.3 of the Central Sydney Development Contributions Plan 2020 for information on determining the development cost.	Levy

Up to and including $250,000	NIL
More than $250,000, up to and including $500,000	1%
More than $500,000, up to and including $1,000,000	2%
More than $1,000,000	3%

The Section 7.12 levy is payable to the City of Sydney in accordance with the following:

(a) Prior to a Construction Certificate being issued, evidence must be provided of Council's written verification of the amount of the contribution as required in (b) below, and that the levy has been paid to the Council in accordance with this condition. Payments may be made by EFTPOS (direct card only), cash (up to $5,000 only), credit card (up to $300,000 only) or bank cheque made payable to the City of Sydney council. Larger payments to be by direct bank transfer in consultation with the City. Direct debit, personal cheques and company cheques will not be accepted.

(b) The contribution must not be paid to the City of Sydney until it is accompanied by separate written verification by the City of Sydney of the specific amount payable. In order to obtain such verification, one of the following must be submitted:

(i) For development between $250,000 and $3,000,000 – the City of Sydney Cost Summary Report must be completed by a suitably qualified person such as the Project Architect or Project Manager and submitted to the City of Sydney together with the copies of the plans the subject of the application for the Construction Certificate. An electronic copy of the Cost Summary Report is available from the City's website at www.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au; or

(ii) For development more than $3,000,000 – The City of Sydney Registered Quantity Surveyor's Detailed Cost Report must be completed by a Quantity Surveyor registered with the Australian Institute of Quantity Surveyors or a person who can demonstrate an equivalent qualification and submitted to the City of Sydney together with the copies of the plans the subject of the application for the Construction Certificate. An electronic copy of the Registered Quantity Surveyor's Detailed Cost Report is available from the City's website at www.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au.

(c) The Council will consider the documentation submitted under subclause (b) and determine the cost of the proposed development having regard to the information submitted and to such other matters as it considers appropriate and will notify the Registered Certifier accordingly.

(d) The development cost is to be determined in accordance with Section 2.3 of the Central Sydney Development Contributions Plan 2020, located in the version in force at the date of the grant of this consent.

Please contact Council's Planning Administration staff at Planningsystemsadmin@cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au to request a written Statement of Contributions Owing, prior to payment.

Reason

To ensure development contributions are paid to support the provision of public facilities, amenities, and services in Central Sydney.

(14) COMPLIANCE WITH SUBMITTED MATERIALS AND SAMPLES BOARD

The design details of the proposed building facade including all external finishes, colours and glazing must be in accordance with the materials schedule and sample board, and specifications prepared by Candalepas Associates and dated 3 March 2026.

Reason

To ensure all parties are aware of the approved materials and finishes that apply to the development.

(15) MATERIALS AND SAMPLES BOARD

(a) A physical material sample board which specifies all proposed materials, finishes and colours, (including visible rainwater goods and services) keyed to each building elevation must be submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager, prior to a Construction Certificate being issued; and

(b) Specifications for glazing, including manufacturer details.

The materials and samples board must not include generic material or colour descriptions or use terminology 'such as' or 'similar'.

Reason

To require the submission of a materials and samples board following assessment of the development.

(16) PHOTOGRAPHIC ARCHIVAL DOCUMENTATION (MAJOR WORKS)

(a) Prior to a Construction Certificate being issued, an archival photographic recording of the buildings at 96-100 Hay Street must be prepared to Council's satisfaction.

(b) The recording is to be in digital form, prepared in accordance with the Guidelines for 'Photographic Recording of Heritage Sites, Buildings and Structures', published by Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water in April 2025. One digital copy of the record is to be submitted to Council.

Procedure

For buildings or structures with heritage significance, the archival documentation, and the number and type of selected enlarged photographs required will be determined by the significance and quality of the building or structure. For a scope of work, refer to Council's Heritage Specialist to determine the particular architectural/design features of the building/site that may need to be recorded.

Because significant fabric may remain concealed and only be exposed during construction works, the archival recording is to be undertaken in stages, prior to the removal of any significant building fabric or furnishings from the site, during the removal of fabric on site that exposes significant building fabric or furnishings, and after work has been completed on site, as considered appropriate by the conservation architect commissioned for the project, and submitted as two parts as follows.

The first submission of the archival recording of significant building fabric or furnishings is to be prior to the removal of any significant building fabric or furnishings from the site and must be submitted to and approved by Council prior to the commencement of any work on site and prior to a Construction Certificate being issued.

The second submission of the archival recording is of significant building fabric or furnishings that is exposed during demolition or construction and after work has been completed on site and must be submitted to Council prior to any Occupation Certificate being issued.

The form of recording is to be a photographic documentation of the site and its context, and the exteriors and interiors of the existing building(s) photographed, where appropriate, using a camera/lens capable of 'perspective correction'.

For each of the two submissions listed above in (a) and (b), the digital form of the recording is to be as follows:

(a) The Development Application number and the Condition of Consent number must be noted.

(b) Include a summary report detailing the project description, date and authorship of the photographic record, method of documentation and limitations of the photographic record.

(c) The electronic images are to be saved as JPEG TIFF or PDF files with a size of approximately 4-6MB, and cross referenced to the digital catalogue sheets and base plans. Choose only images that are necessary to document the process and avoid duplicate images.

(d) Include written confirmation, issued with the authority of both the applicant and the photographer that the City of Sydney is granted a perpetual non-exclusive licence to make use of the copyright in all images supplied, including the right to make copies available to third parties as though they were Council images. The signatures of both the applicant and the photographer must be included.

(e) The report is to be submitted via digital file transfer in PDF/A format (created directly from the digital original), with a digital catalogue of images with the following data for each location, image subject/description and date.

Reason

To ensure appropriate archival documentation of the building. Guidelines for preparing archival recordings of heritage items as a condition of consent.

(17) SALVAGE, REUSE AND RECYCLING OF TRADITIONAL BUILDING MATERIALS – MAJOR DEVELOPMENT

Stone, bricks, roof tiles joinery and decorative architectural elements to be demolished, which include stairs, windows and doors, chimney pieces and ceiling roses must be salvaged and where possible reused on the project.

Salvaged building materials surplus to the project must either be stored on site for future reuse or transferred to an established second building material dealer for recycling.

Documentation of the salvage methodology must be submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager prior to the issue of a Construction Certificate for above ground works.

Reason

To ensure the salvaging and reuse of traditional building materials.

(18) BUILDING WORKS TO COMPLY WITH NATIONAL CONSTRUCTION CODE BCA – HERITAGE BUILDINGS OR BUILDINGS WITHIN CONSERVATION AREA

(a) Any building works required to ensure compliance with the NCC (previously known as BCA) or new building standards not specified in the submitted/approved plan must not damage existing fabric and building features.

(b) If such upgrading works have impact or potentially have impact on existing fabric and features, details of the works must be submitted and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager prior to issue of any Construction Certificate.

Reason

To ensure an appropriate heritage outcome.

(19) HERITAGE CONSERVATION WORKS - HERITAGE ITEM OR SIGNIFICANT BUILDINGS

(a) Prior to the issue of the Construction Certificate, a schedule of conservation works to be undertaken concurrent with the works is to be submitted to Council's Urban Design and Heritage Manager for approval.

(b) The schedule is to detail the conservation of all fabric identified as having a heritage significance/ value including but not limited to the following: brickwork and facade remediation, door and window joinery, glazing, awning, roof plumbing, roofing and painting.

(c) The schedule is to be supported by outline specifications, methodologies and detailed architectural sections, elevations and plans at 1:20 and 1:5 scales. The details should incorporate any structural and/or building services design for the building.

(d) The proposed works are to be carried out in a manner that minimises demolition, alterations and new penetrations/fixings to the significant fabric of the existing building. Any departure from approved plans requiring additional demolition/chasing of significant fabric is to be discussed with City of Sydney Heritage Specialists for acceptance.

(e) A schedule of site inspections at key points during construction (like after demolition, before covering significant fabric with new ceilings and floors and/or when design changes impacting significant fabric need to be implemented and required to be discussed with Council) is required to be submitted to City of Sydney for approval.

(f) All conservation and adaptation works are to be in accordance with the Articles of the Australian ICOMOS Burra Charter 2013. Appropriately qualified contractors and tradespersons are to be commissioned who are skilled in traditional building and engineering trades to carry out the proposed scope of works within the heritage building.

INSPECTION AND APPROVAL: The conservation works are to be progressively inspected by Council Heritage Specialists in accordance with approved scheduled site inspections as per point (e), and be implemented to the satisfaction of Council's Urban Design and Heritage Manager prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate or commencement of the use, whichever is the earlier.

Reason

To ensure the carrying out of appropriate heritage conservation works.

(20) USE OF HERITAGE CONSULTANT - MAJOR DEVELOPMENT

(a) An experienced heritage consultant is to be commissioned to work with the consultant team throughout the design development, contract documentation and construction stages of the project. The conservation architect is to be involved in the resolution of all matters where existing significant fabric and spaces are to be subject to preservation, restoration, reconstruction, adaptive reuse, recording and demolition. The heritage consultant is to be provided with full access to the site and authorised by the applicant to respond directly to Council where information or clarification is required regarding the resolution of heritage issues throughout the project.

(b) Evidence and details of the above commission on the above terms are to be provided to Council prior to the issue of any Construction Certificate or commencement of work on site whichever is the earlier.

(c) Throughout the documentation and construction stages of the approved works the experienced heritage consultant is to:

(i) Undertake site inspections of not less than fortnightly intervals.

(ii) Maintain a diary of site inspections that includes photographs of the works, details of heritage advice and decisions arising out of each inspection and any further physical evidence uncovered during the works.

(iii) Compile a final report, including the diary, verifying how the heritage conditions have been satisfied, and the works completed in accordance with the Conservation Management Plan.

(d) Upon completion of the works, the final report is to be submitted for approval by Council's Area Planning Manager prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate or the commencement of the use, whichever is earlier.

Reason

To ensure that the implementation of the approved development is carried out in a manner that does not have adverse heritage impacts.

(21) PUBLIC ART

(a) Public art must be installed to the City's satisfaction prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate.

(b) The public artwork must be in accordance with Preliminary Public Art Plan dated 10 March 2026, the Sydney DCP 2012, the Public Art Policy, and the Interim Guidelines: Public art in private developments.

(c) A Detailed Public Art Plan with final details of the proposed public artwork must be submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager prior to issue of any Construction Certificate for above ground works.

(d) Public artwork must be consistent with the preliminary public art plan referenced above, installed to the City's satisfaction, inspected, and approved, and the Final Public Art Report submitted and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate.

Note: Public Art must be reviewed and endorsed by the City's Public Art Team and/or the Public Art Advisory Panel prior to submission for Council approval. Further information is available online at http://www.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au/explore/arts-and-culture/public-art.

Please contact the Public Art Team at publicartreferrals@cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au for further information.

Reason

To ensure public art is installed to the City's satisfaction.

(22) SURVEY INFRASTRUCTURE - IDENTIFICATION AND RECOVERY

(a) Under Section 24 of the Surveying and Spatial Information Act 2002, it is an offence to remove, damage, destroy, displace, obliterate or deface any survey mark unless authorised to do so by the Surveyor-General. Accordingly, the applicant must, where possible, ensure the preservation of existing survey infrastructure undisturbed and in its original state or else provide evidence of the Surveyor-General's authorisation to remove or replace marks.

(b) Prior to the issue of any Construction Certificate, documentary evidence must be prepared by a Registered Surveyor and submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager or Area Coordinator. This evidence must include either:

(c) A copy of any Surveyor-General's Approval for Survey Mark Removal granted by NSW Spatial Services for the subject site, including all documentation submitted as part of that application (for example the survey mark audit schedule, strategy plan and strategy report); or

(d) A letter, signed by a current NSW Registered Land Surveyor and including his or her Board of Surveying and Spatial Information (BOSSI) identification number, stating that all investigations required under Surveyor-General's Direction No.11 have been made for the subject site and that no survey infrastructure will be affected by the proposal.

(e) Council's Principal Surveyor may request further information and/or add conditions to any Surveyor-General's Approval at their discretion.

(f) Note: Refer to Clause 4.7 in the City's 'Code of Practice: Hoisting and Construction Activities On and Above Roads' for further information.

Reason

To ensure the preservation of existing survey infrastructure.

(23) DILAPIDATION REPORT – MAJOR EXCAVATION/DEMOLITION

(a) Subject to the receipt of permission of the affected landowner, dilapidation report/s, including a photographic survey of 71-73 Dixon Street, 94 Hay Street and 7-9 Kimber Lane (and any other properties identified by the qualified structural engineer engaged to undertake the report) are to be prepared by an appropriately qualified structural engineer prior to commencement of demolition/excavation works. A copy of the dilapidation report/s together with the accompanying photographs must be given to the above property owners, and a copy lodged with the Registered Certifier and the Council prior to the issue of a Construction Certificate.

UPON COMPLETION OF EXCAVATION/DEMOLITION

(b) A second Dilapidation Report/s, including a photographic survey must then be submitted at least one month after the completion of demolition/excavation works. A copy of the second dilapidation report/s, together with the accompanying photographs must be given to the above property owners, and a copy lodged with the Principal Certifier and the Council prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate.

Any damage to buildings, structures, lawns, trees, sheds, gardens and the like must be fully rectified by the applicant or owner, at no cost to the affected property owner.

Note: Prior to the commencement of the building surveys, the applicant/owner must advise (in writing) all property owners of buildings to be surveyed of what the survey will entail and of the process for making a claim regarding property damage. A copy of this information must be submitted to Council.

Reason

To ensure that dilapidation reports are prepared and to identify damage to adjoining/nearby properties resulting from building work on the development site.

(24) UTILITY SERVICES

To ensure that utility authorities are advised of the development:

(a) Prior to the issue of a Construction Certificate a survey is to be carried out of all utility services within and adjacent to the site including relevant information from utility authorities and excavation if necessary, to determine the position and level of services.

(b) Prior to the commencement of work the applicant is to obtain written approval from the utility authorities (e.g. Energy Australia, Sydney Water, and Telecommunications Carriers) in connection with the relocation and/or adjustment of the services affected by the construction of the underground structure. Any costs in the relocation, adjustment or support of services are to be the responsibility of the developer.

Reason

To ensure that utility authorities are advised of the development and their approval is obtained in connection with the relocation and/or adjustment of services affected by the development.

(25) ELECTRICITY SUBSTATION AND TURRETS

If required by the applicable energy supplier, the owner must dedicate to the applicable energy supplier, free of cost, an area of land within the development site, but not in any landscaped area or in any area visible from the public domain, to enable an electricity substation and/or turrets to be installed. The size and location of the substation is to be submitted for approval of Council and Ausgrid, prior to a Construction Certificate being issued or the commencement of the use, whichever is earlier. Electricity turrets must be located wholly within the boundary of the site.

Reason

To ensure that the provision of a substation and turrets to service the development is appropriately incorporated into the design of the building in a manner that minimises streetscape impacts.

(26) APPROVED ACOUSTIC REPORT

The Touchstone Partners Pty Ltd dated 5 November 2025, ref 603533-AC01_v2, titled 96 Hay Street, Haymarket DA Acoustic Report is approved.

Where there is a conflict between the approved acoustic report and this development consent, this consent prevails.

Reason

To specify an acoustic report for reference in other noise control conditions.

(27) COMPLIANCE WITH THE ACOUSTIC REPORT PRIOR TO CONSTRUCTION CERTIFICATE

Prior to the issue of a relevant construction certificate, the Certifier must ensure the following:

(a) A suitably qualified acoustic consultant must be appointed in accordance with the definition noted in the City of Sydney – Environmental Noise Technical Requirements, dated October 2025.

(b) The consultant is required to review the relevant building plans, specifications, and associated documentation, and must:

(i) Verify that the construction plans, drawings, and construction methodology for the development are consistent with the approved acoustic report and comply with all relevant conditions and documentation of this consent.

(ii) Resolve any non-compliances through amended construction plans, drawings, and construction methodology as necessary.

(iii) Ensure that all requirements under this clause are completed to the written satisfaction of the Certifier.

(c) Following completion of the above tasks, the consultant must provide written notification to the Certifier outlining any identified non-compliances.

Reason

To ensure detailed construction and fit out plans comply with the relevant standards in the approved acoustic report.

(28) DEMOLITION, EXCAVATION AND CONSTRUCTION NOISE AND VIBRATION MANAGEMENT PLAN

A site-specific noise management plan must be submitted to the Council for comment and approval prior to issue of any Construction Certificate. The Plan must be prepared by a suitably qualified acoustic consultant who is a person who possesses the qualifications to join the Australian Acoustic Society, Institution of Engineers Australia (grade of member) or the Association of Australasian Acoustic Consultants (grade of member firm).The plan must include but not be limited to the following:-

(a) identification of noise sensitive receivers near to the site.

(b) A prediction as to the level of noise impact likely to affect the nearest noise sensitive receivers from the use and proposed number of high noise intrusive appliances intended to be operated onsite. A statement should also be submitted outlining whether or not predicted noise levels will comply with the noise criteria stated within the City of Sydney Construction Hours /Noise Code of Practice 1992 for the typical construction hours of 07.00am to 7.00pm. Where resultant site noise levels are likely to be in exceedance of this noise criteria then a suitable proposal must be given as to the duration and frequency of respite periods that will be afforded to the occupiers of neighbouring property.

(c) A representative background noise measurement (LA90, 15 minute) should be submitted, assessed in the vicinity of any potentially affected receiver locations and measured in accordance with AS 1055:1.2.1997.

(d) Confirmation of the level of community consultation that has/is and will be undertaken with Building Managers/ occupiers of the main adjoining noise sensitive properties likely to be most affected by site works and the operation of plant/machinery particularly during the demolition and excavation phases.

(e) Confirmation of noise monitoring methodology that is to be undertaken during the main stages of work at neighbouring noise sensitive properties in order to keep complaints to a minimum and to ensure that noise from site works complies with the noise criteria contained within City's Construction Noise Code.

(f) What course of action will be undertaken following receipt of a complaint concerning offensive noise.

(g) Details of any noise mitigation measures that have been outlined by an acoustic consultant or otherwise that will be deployed on site to reduce noise impacts on the occupiers of neighbouring noise sensitive property to a minimum.

(h) What plant and equipment is to be used on site, the level of sound mitigation measures to be undertaken in each case and the criteria adopted in their selection taking into account the likely noise impacts on the occupiers of neighbouring property and other less intrusive technologies available.

Reason

To ensure an adequate construction noise and vibration management plan is prepared.

(29) PARKING DESIGN

The design, layout, signage, line marking, lighting and physical controls of all off-street parking facilities must comply with the minimum requirements of Australian Standard AS/NZS 2890.1 Parking facilities Part 1: Off-street car parking. The details must be submitted to and approved by the Registered Certifier prior to a Construction Certificate being issued.

Reason

To ensure parking facilities are designed in accordance with the Australian Standards.

(30) ALLOCATION OF PARKING

The number of car parking spaces to be provided for the development must comply with the table below. Details confirming the parking numbers must be submitted to the satisfaction of the Registered Certifier prior to the issue of a Construction Certificate.

Car Parking Type	Number
Service vehicle spaces (B99 space)	1

Reason

To ensure the allocation of parking is in accordance with the Council's DCP.

(31) BICYCLE PARKING AND END OF TRIP FACILITIES

(a) The minimum number of bicycle parking spaces and end of trip facilities to be provided within the site boundary for the development must comply with the table below.

Bicycle Parking Type	Number	Requirements
Residential	22	Spaces must be a class 1 bicycle locker [1] or Class 2 bicycle parking facilities
Residential visitor	4	Spaces must be Class 3 bicycle rails
Staff/employee	4	Spaces must be Class 2 bicycle facilities
End of Trip Facility Type	Number

Showers with change area	1
Personal lockers	4

All bicycle parking spaces and end of trip facility must be provided on private land. The public domain cannot be used to satisfy this condition.

Notes:

(i) If a basement storage area on title that is large enough to store a bike and is no smaller than a class 1 bike locker this can be counted as a space.

(b) The layout, design and security of bicycle facilities must comply with the minimum requirements of Australian Standard AS 2890.3 Parking Facilities Part 3: Bicycle Parking Facilities. The details must be submitted to and approved by the Registered Certifier confirming prior to and form part of the Construction Certificate being issued.

Reason

To ensure the allocation of bicycle parking onsite that is in accordance with Australian Standards and the Council's DCP.

(32) HERITAGE INTERPRETATION PLAN

(a) An interpretation plan for the buildings at 96-100 Hay Street must be submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager prior to a Construction Certificate being issued for above ground works.

(b) The plan must be prepared by a suitably qualified and experienced heritage practitioner or historian and must

(i) detail how information on the history and significance of the site will be provided for the public and make recommendations regarding public accessibility, signage and lighting. Public art, details of the heritage design, the display of selected artefacts are some of the means that can be used.

(c) The plan must be done in consultation with the Chinese Australian community as recommended in the draft Inventory sheet.

(d) The plan must specify the location, type, making materials and contents of the interpretation device being proposed.

(e) The approved interpretation plan must be implemented to the satisfaction of Council's Area Planning Manager prior to the issue of any occupation certificate.

Reason

To ensure that the heritage of the site is appropriately interpreted and incorporated into the development.

(33) CONSTRUCTION TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT PLAN

(a) A Construction Pedestrian and Traffic Management Plan (CPTMP) must be submitted to and approved by Council and Transport for NSW (TfNSW) prior to any Construction Certificate being issued.

(b) The CPTMP must be prepared in consultation with Transport for NSW (TfNSW). Once TfNSW raises no objection (in writing), the applicant must submit the CPTMP to Council for formal endorsement by Council's Area Planning Manager.

(c) Prior to the issue of any construction certificate, and following Council's written endorsement, the applicant must provide a copy of the final Construction Pedestrian and Traffic Management Plan (CPTMP) to TfNSW for their endorsement via development.CTMP.CJP@transport.nsw.gov.au.

(d) The approved plan must be complied with during any demolition and/or construction work.

Reason

To ensure that the impacts of construction traffic is appropriately managed.

(34) LANDSCAPING OF THE SITE

(a) An updated landscape plan generally in accordance with drawing ISO0345-DA1 (Issue A) by Isthmus and the approved architecture plans must be submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager prior to the issue of a Construction Certificate. The plan must include:

(i) Location of existing and proposed planting on the site including existing and proposed trees, planting in natural ground, and planting on structure;

(ii) Location and details of existing and proposed structures on the site including, but not limited to, paving walls, services, furniture, shade structures, lighting and other features;

(iii) Details of earthworks and soil depths including finished levels and any mounding. The minimum soil depths for planting on structure must be 1000mm for trees, 450mm for shrubs and 200mm for groundcovers, excluding mulch and drainage layers. Small trees must have a minimum 9 cubic metres of soil volume;

(iv) Planting details, and location, numbers, type and supply size of plant species, with reference to Australian Standards and preference for drought resistant species that contribute to habitat creation and biodiversity;

(v) Details of drainage, waterproofing and watering systems;

(vi) Landscape maintenance plan. This plan is to be complied with during occupation of the property.

(b) All landscaping in the approved plan is to be complete prior to any Occupation Certificate being issued.

Reason

To ensure the development is supported by a good quality, buildable landscape scheme that meets the City's controls.

(35) TREE PRUNING SPECIFICATION - AMENDED

(a) An amended Pruning Specification Report, prepared by a qualified Arborist (minimum AQF Level 5) must be submitted to and approved by the City's Area Planning Manager and the Sydney Urban Forest Team prior to the issue of a Construction Certificate.

(b) The amended Pruning Specification Report must demonstrate:

(i) That the pruning amounts indicated within the AIA report by RainTree consultants dated 2/2/2026 will not cause further branch failures to Trees 1 and 2 located within Dixon St.

Reason

To ensure the development appropriately protects existing trees, ensuring any pruning undertaken does not impact the trees structural stability and long-term viability.

(36) DESIGN FOR ENVIRONMENTAL PERFORMANCE

(a) Prior to the issue of any Construction Certificate, the Registered Certifier must be satisfied that those matters listed in the following sections of the approved Design for Environmental Performance report prepared by Mitch Colak dated Thursday, November 13, 2025 (Council Ref: 2025/698211) are incorporated into the relevant construction plans and accompanying documentation:

(i) Section 3 – BASIX

A copy of the required completed BASIX certificate(s) accepted as part of this consent/as amended above must be lodged with an application for a construction certificate and the items nominated as part of the subject BASIX certificate(s) must be specified on the plans submitted with the Construction Certificate application.

Note: Any requirement detailed in the accompanying BASIX Certificate must be included as a specific notation or inclusion on any future Construction Certificate plans and specification in accordance with Division 1 of Part 6 of the EP&A Regulation, 2021.

(ii) Section 4 – Energy Efficiency and Greenhouse Gas Emissions Abatement

(iii) Section 5 – Passive Design for Thermal Performance – Building Envelope Design

(iv) Section 6 – On site Renewable Energy Generation and Storage

(v) Section 7 – Design for Resilience to Climate Change

(vi) Section 8 – Designing for mains potable water savings and water efficiency

(vii) Section 9 – Storm water quality

(viii) Section 10 – City Greening

(ix) Section 11 – Promoting Active Transport and Reducing Transport Emissions

(x) Section 12 – Materials, Embodied Carbon and Circularity

(xi) Section 13 – Waste Management and Resource Recovery

(xii) Section 14 – Third Party Certification and Design, Construction or Technology Innovations

(b) Changes to any commitments as listed in the approved Design for Environmental Performance report must be submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager/Coordinator prior to the issue of any relevant Construction Certificate.

Reason

To ensure the environmental performance of the development.

(37) EMBODIED EMISSIONS REPORTING

(a) Prior to the issue of a Construction Certificate, as per requirements under the Sustainable Buildings SEPP, embodied emissions reporting is to be updated to reflect finalised material specifications and increased design detail. If the NABERS Embodied Emissions Tool is active prior to submission of construction certificate documentation, then reporting is to be provided through the tool.

Reason

To ensure quantification of embodied emissions from the development.

(38) PUBLIC DOMAIN LEVELS AND GRADIENTS (WHEN NOT APPROVED AT DA STAGE) - MAJOR

(a) Prior to the issue of any Construction Certificate, a Public Domain Levels and Gradients submission for the building and site frontages must be submitted to and approved by the City's Public Domain Unit. The submission must be prepared in accordance with the City's Public Domain Manual and submitted with a completed Application for Public Domain Levels and Gradients. Information on how to complete the submission can be downloaded from the City's website at https://www.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au/development/public-domain-works/da-associated-works.

(b) Any requirements to comply with Disability Discrimination Act at the entrance to a building or publicly accessible space must be resolved inside the site boundary.

(c) Note: Public Domain Levels and Gradient plans are to be included with the Public Domain Plan – Detailed Documentation for Construction condition submission.

Reason

To ensure public domain levels and gradients comply with Council's requirements.

(39) PUBLIC DOMAIN LEVELS AND GRADIENTS

(a) The Public Domain Levels and Gradients submission Prepared by Candalepas Associates, Public Domain Diagram SK 1301 to 1304 Issue B, Date 3/3/2026 provided with the Development Application is approved in principle.

(b) If a Public Domain Plan Detailed Documentation For Construction condition applies to the development consent and or changes to the development entrances / floor levels occur after approval has been issued, a Public Domain Levels and Gradients submission must be submitted to and approved by the City's Public Domain Unit. The submission must be prepared in accordance with the City's Public Domain Manual and submitted with a completed Application for Public Domain Levels and Gradients prior to an approval being issued for the construction of public domain work.

(c) Any requirements to comply with Disability Discrimination Act at the entrance to a building or publicly accessible space must be resolved inside the site boundary.

Reason

To ensure public domain levels and gradients comply with Council's requirements.

(40) STORMWATER DRAINAGE DESIGN

(a) Prior to issue of any Construction Certificate a detailed stormwater management plan prepared by suitable qualified and experienced professionals must be submitted to and approved by the City's Public Domain Unit and must include:

(b) A certified stormwater drainage design complying with:

(i) Council's Sydney Streets Technical Specifications, Part A4 Drainage Design; Council's Sydney Streets Technical Specifications, Standard Drawings;

(ii) Council's Sydney Streets Technical Specifications, Part B10: Stormwater Drainage Construction;

(iii) Council's Stormwater Drainage Manual; and All relevant Australian Standards.

(iv) This information is available for download from the City's website at https://www.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au/development/public-domain-works/da-associated-works.

(c) Note: A Deed of Agreement (Stormwater Deed) for all proposed connections to the City's drainage system, and a Positive Covenant for all OSD systems may be required prior to issue of any Occupation Certificate.

Reason

To ensure stormwater drainage design complies with Council's requirements.

(41) FLOOD PLANNING LEVELS

(a) The development must be constructed to comply with the recommended flood planning levels indicated in Table 1 of the report titled Flood Risk Assessment and Flood Emergency Response Plan – Addendum Letter to the report issued on 31/10/2025 prepared by BMT dated 3 March 2026, reference L.003774.003.00.docx.

(b) All finished flood levels, thresholds and flood mitigation measures are to be designed to achieve the adopted Flood Planning Level (1% AEP flood level plus freeboard) at all entry points.

(c) The 1% AEP flood levels and freeboard are to be clearly defined for each entry point

(d) The top of all flood gates is either to be set at or above the adopted Flood Planning Level.

(e) All flood mitigation measures, including flood gates, are to be designed and certified by a suitably qualified Engineer.

(f) Detailed design is to be submitted demonstrating compliance with the adopted Flood Planning Levels. Details must be submitted to the Registered Certifier prior to the issue of any Construction Certificate demonstrating that the development will comply with the recommended flood planning levels.

Reason

To ensure the development complies with the recommended flood planning levels.

(42) PUBLIC DOMAIN LIGHTING UPGRADE

(a) Prior to issue of any Construction Certificate for excavation, civil construction, drainage or building work (whichever is earlier), a concept Public Domain Lighting Upgrade Plan for pedestrian and street lighting in the public domain must be submitted to and approved by City's Public Domain Unit. The Lighting Plan must be prepared in accordance with the Sydney Streets Technical Specifications A5 and B8, Sydney Lights Design Code and Public Domain Manual. This information is available for download from the City's website at https://www.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au/development/public-domain-works/da-associated-works.

(b) The lighting upgrade plan must cover all adjacent street frontages, being Dixon Street and Kimber Lane and shall be designed to include the following requirements;

(i) Remove existing wall lights on building facades along Dixon Street & Kimber Lane.

(ii) Supply and install City of Sydney standard wall mounted light fitted with new LED luminaires (in these streets) as listed below

(iii) Dixon Street: Lighting shall comply with requirement of AS 1158.3.1 Category PA2.

(iv) Kimber Lane: Lighting shall comply with requirement of AS 1158.3.1 Category PP1

(c) Notes:

(i) Lighting designs must be certified by a suitably qualified practising lighting engineer and must consist of two parts: illumination design and electrical supply reticulation design. City of Sydney (CoS) shall review electrical reticulation design once receiving final illumination designs.

(ii) Lighting design submission requirements are specified in "Sydney Streets Technical Specifications - A5: Street Lighting Design". Notes:

(iii) Plans should show calculation points as per Australian Standards.

(iv) Plans plot scale should not be smaller than 1:250 @ A1

(v) Provide a Calculation Summary table showing all relevant light technical parameters and compliance, including Maximum lux levels

(vi) Highlight all areas of non-compliance

(vii) All works shall comply with the requirements of all applicable standards and guidelines, including (but not limited to) AS1158, AS4282, and the City of Sydney's A5, B8 and Ausgrid NS119 documents.

(viii) If applicable, developers must submit site-specific structural footing designs certified by a practising structural engineer for council review before footing construction.

(ix) If applicable, provide temporary lighting complying with CoS public domain lighting specifications prior to removal of existing public lights.

(x) If applicable, undertake ASP works required to modify and remove redundant Ausgrid assets and carry out all electrical/civil works to ensure continuity of supply to the remainder of Ausgrid assets on the affected circuits.

(xi) Any non-standard installation due to site constraint must be reviewed and approved by the CoS' Infrastructure Planning.

(xii) All relevant engineering design plans (including electrical and lighting), design certificates, As-Builts plans, WAE plans, and construction certificates must be submitted for CoS review.

(xiii) For As-built plans, handover documents, testing and commissioning requirements to be referred to the City's technical specification A5.

(xiv) All new CoS lights must be connected to CoS' nearest metered supply point (subject to suitability assessment by Developer's electrical contractor). Otherwise, if required, supply and install a new CoS 3 phase MSB.

(xv) All new CoS lights will have Schreder NEMA 7P smart controller, including mesh node and DataLift node. The smart controller will be supplied by Schreder and installed by electrical contractor.

(xvi) Asset ID process: Contractor to create Geodatabase details for each asset IDs using the template file supplied by CoS' GIS team. File will be issued to GIS team to review and uploaded after being verified.

(xvii) Wall mount lights: Installation must be accessible for maintenance and upgrade by CoS-authorised technicians/contractors along the entire length. All cabling shall be installed on the building surface within galvanised steel conduits, or a similar approved method. Establish an access easement in favour of CoS for ongoing maintenance and upgrade of wall-mounted council lighting, if applicable.

(xviii) If applicable, under-awning lighting must comply with the requirements of CoS Awnings Policy and:

a. Under-awning lighting shall be fitted with LED technology (or

b. alternative technology demonstrating improved lighting power density, measured in watts per square metre). Batten-type fluorescent lighting is not permitted.

c. Obtrusive lighting assessment shall comply with requirement of AS 4282.

d. The intensity, colour, intermittency, and hours of operation shall be adjustable upon request by the City of Sydney.

e. Luminaires shall be designed and installed such that no direct upward light is emitted, and light is not directed toward nearby residential properties.

(xix) Proposals for Building exterior lighting, signage lighting, terrace lighting and lighting of landscape features are to be assessed under a separate DA.

(xx) New Luminaires:

a. Laneway, Narrow Streets:

b. NEOS 1 LED 16L_600mA_HP2_STD-5139AS-GL01

(xxi) Please do not hesitate to reach out to the below to obtain the photometric files Schreder Sylvania:

a. Belinda SAHLMAN

b. bsahlman@sylvania-schreder.com / T 1300 489 780 M +61 412 802 880

(d) Advice on site specific lighting requirements must be obtained from City's Public Domain Unit before proceeding with the preparation of any final lighting design proposals.

Reason

To ensure pedestrian and street lighting in the public domain complies with Council's requirements.

(43) DILAPIDATION REPORT - PUBLIC DOMAIN

Prior to an approval for demolition and preparatory works being granted or the issue of any Construction Certificate, whichever is earlier, a photographic recording of the public domain site frontages is to be prepared as described in the Public Domain Manual and submitted for approval by Council's Public Domain Unit. The City's Public Domain Manual is available for download from the City's website at https://www.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au/

The submission is to include written confirmation, issued with the authority of both the applicant and the photographer that the City of Sydney is granted a perpetual non-exclusive license to make use of the copyright in all images supplied, including the right to make copies available to third parties as though they were Council images. The signatures of both the applicant and the photographer must be included.

Reason

To establish and document the condition of the public domain for comparison as building work progresses and is completed.

(44) MECHANICAL VENTILATION

(a) The premises must be ventilated in accordance with the Building Code of Australia and AS1668.1 and AS1668.2 - The Use of Ventilation and Air-conditioning in Buildings - Mechanical Ventilation in Buildings.

(b) Details of any mechanical ventilation and/or air conditioning system complying with AS1668.1 and AS1668.2 - The Use of Ventilation and Air-conditioning in Buildings - Mechanical Ventilation in Buildings, the Building Code of Australia and relevant Australian Standards must be prepared and certified in accordance with Clause A5.2(1)(e) of the Building Code of Australia, to the satisfaction of the Registered Certifier prior to the issue of a Construction Certificate.

(c) Prior to issue of any Occupation Certificate and following the completion, installation, and testing of all the mechanical ventilation systems, a Mechanical Ventilation Certificate of Completion and Performance in accordance with Clause A5.2(1)(e) of the Building Code of Australia, must be submitted to the Principal Certifier.

Reason

To ensure the ventilation complies with relevant standards.

(45) STRUCTURAL INTEGRITY OF RETAINED BUILDING ELEMENTS -

(a) Prior to the issue of any construction certificate for above ground works, a report or certification from a practicing structural engineer experienced in dealing with heritage buildings must be submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager.

(b) The report must explain how the retained building elements, such as the building facades are to be retained, supported and not undermined by the proposed development and give details of any intervention or retrofitting needed.

Reason

To ensure the preservation of the building elements that are proposed to be retained.

(46) TREE PROTECTION ZONES (FOR STREET TREES)

(a) Tree Protection Zone(s) (TPZs) must be established in accordance with Australian Standard 4970 'Protection of trees on development sites' before the commencement of and until completion of the development works.

(b) The TPZ's are to be established in the location and manner outlined in the approved Arboricultural Impact Assessment (AIA), Tree Protection Specifications and/or Tree Protection Plan prepared by RainTree Consulting dated 2 February 2026.

(c) Tree trunk and major branch protection must be installed prior to the issuing of any Construction Certificate and maintained for the duration of all construction work, and must include:

(i) Tree trunk(s) and/or major branches to a height of 2m metres protected by wrapped thick underlay carpet or similar padding material to limit damage.

(ii) Timber planks (50mm x 100mm) placed around tree trunk(s). The timber planks must be spaced at 100mm intervals and must be fixed against the trunk with tie wire, or strapping. The thick carpet underlay or padding material and timber planks must not be fixed to the tree in any instance, or in any fashion.

(iii) Young street trees protected by the installation of three (3) wooden stakes around the edge of the tree pits or a minimum of 1 metre from the base of the trunk. Hessian must be wrapped around the stakes. If existing stakes or a metal tree guard are already in place, these suffice as tree protection.

(iv) Tree trunk and major branch protection must remain in place for the duration of the development works and be removed at the completion of the development works.

(d) Materials or goods, including sheds, must not be stored or placed:

(i) around or under the tree canopy or;

(ii) within two (2) metres of tree trunks or branches or any street trees.

(e) Temporary signs or any other items must not be fixed or attached to any street tree.

(f) Where installed, hoarding support columns are to be placed a minimum of 300mm from the edge of the existing tree pits/setts, so that no sinking or damage occurs to the existing tree pits. Supporting columns must not be placed on exposed tree roots.

(g) Existing sections of kerbs adjacent to any street tree must not be removed without approval from the City of Sydney Tree Team.

(h) Any trenching works for services / hydraulics / drainage etc must not be undertaken within any Tree Protection Zone (TPZ). Alternative installation methods for services, such as directional boring/drilling, or redirection of services shall be employed.

(i) Any damage sustained to street tree(s) as a result of any construction activities (including demolition), must be immediately reported to the City of Sydney Urban Forest Team on 9265 9333.

(j) Any damage to street trees as a result of any construction activities may result in prosecution under the Local Government Act 1993 and the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

(k) Compliance with this condition must be addressed in the Tree Protection Compliance Certificate prepared by a qualified Arborist (minimum AQF Level 5).

(l) Note: Refer to the City's 'Code of Practice: Hoisting and Construction Activities On and Above Roads' for further information.

Reason

To ensure the protection and ongoing health of the street trees.

BEFORE BUILDING WORK COMMENCES

(47) SITE AUDIT STATEMENT

(a) Before a construction certificate related to the built form of the development is issued, a Section A Site Audit Statement (SAS) must be obtained from a NSW Environment Protection Authority accredited site auditor. This statement must be submitted to the Council via email hbapplications@cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au.

(b) The SAS and accompanying site audit report must confirm that the site has been remediated in accordance with the approved Remediation Action Plan and must clearly state that the site is suitable for the proposed use.

(c) If the SAS includes conditions requiring ongoing review by the Site Auditor or Council, these conditions must be reviewed and approved in writing by Council.

(d) Any conditions attached to the SAS will form part of this consent. If there is any inconsistency between the SAS conditions and this consent, the development must not proceed until the inconsistency is resolved to Council's satisfaction (e.g. Section 4.55 modification under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979).

(e) The accredited Site Auditor must provide Council with a copy of the Site Audit Report and the SAS confirming it is suitable for the proposed land use.

(f) A construction certificate must not be issued by the Certifier unless the SAS has been submitted to and approved by Council in accordance with this condition.

Reason

To ensure that the site is appropriately remediated.

(48) TREE(S) THAT MUST BE RETAINED

(a) The tree(s) detailed in the table below must be retained and protected in accordance with the conditions throughout development works.

(b) Approval is NOT granted for the removal of the tree(s) detailed in the table below, which the City of Sydney has determined to be important landscape elements.

Table 1 – Tree Retention:

Tree Number	Species	Location
1	Ficus benjamina (Weeping Fig)	Street Tree - Dixon St

2	Ficus benjamina (Weeping Fig)	Street Tree - Dixon St

Reason

To identify the trees that cannot be removed and must be retained and protected.

(49) PUBLIC DOMAIN DAMAGE SECURITY BOND

(a) A Public Domain Damage Security Bond calculated on the basis of 60 square metres of granite site frontage must be lodged with the City in accordance with the City of Sydney's adopted fees and charges. The bond must be provided as security for repairing any damage to the public domain in the vicinity of the site.

(b) The City's Public Domain Unit must be contacted to determine the bond amount prior to lodgement. The Bond must be lodged with the City prior to an approval for demolition being granted or any Construction Certificate being issued, whichever is earlier.

(c) The bond in this condition will be released in full when the Final Occupation Certificate has been issued and, any rectification works to the footway and Public Domain, are completed to City's satisfaction. If rectification works are required the City will release 90% of the total Bond, with the remaining 10% balance to be held for the duration of a 6 months Defect Liability Period.

Reason

To ensure the site is appropriately managed.

(50) HAZARDOUS MATERIALS SURVEY REQUIRED

(a) A Hazardous Materials Survey Report must be prepared by a certified Occupational Hygienist (Australia Institute of Occupational Hygienists) and submitted to the satisfaction of Council's Area Planning Manager prior to any demolition / refurbishment work commencing at the site.

(b) The report must identify and record the type, location and extent of any hazardous materials on the site and make recommendations as to their safe management and/or removal to ensure the site is made safe for demolition, construction and future use/occupation.

Reason

To ensure that hazardous materials on the site are identified and appropriately managed.

(51) DEMOLITION, EXCAVATION AND CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT

(a) Prior to the commencement of demolition and/or excavation work the following details must be submitted to and be approved by the Principal Certifier:

(i) Plans and elevations showing distances of the subject building from the location of adjoining and common/party walls, and (where applicable) the proposed method of facade retention.

(ii) A Demolition Work Method Statement prepared by a licensed demolisher who is registered with SafeWork NSW. (The demolition by induced collapse, the use of explosives or on-site burning is not permitted.)

(iii) An Excavation Work Method Statement prepared by an appropriately qualified person.

(iv) A Waste and Recycling Management Plan – Demolition and Construction for the demolition and or excavation of the proposed development. The plan is to include details of materials that will be excavated and their proposed destination or reuse.

(v) Plans and elevations showing the location, construction and installation of temporary site fencing and any construction related temporary structures placed on and/or above roads used in connection with the development.

Note: Construction related temporary structures, including hoardings and scaffolding, proposed for erection on and/or above City-owned and controlled land (footways and roadways), and other activities, must comply with Council's Code of Practice: Construction related Temporary Structures On and Above Roads and the Code of Practice: Hoisting and Construction Activities On and Above Roads including obtaining all required approvals from Council under the provisions of the Local Government Act 1993 and the Roads Act 1993 prior to installation.

(b) Such statements must, where applicable, be in compliance with AS2601-2001 Demolition of Structures, the Work, Health and Safety Act 2011 and Regulation; Council's Guidelines for Waste Management in New Developments 2018, the Waste Avoidance and Resource Recovery Act 2001, and all other relevant acts and regulations and must include provisions for:

(i) A Materials Handling Statement for the removal of refuse from the site in accordance with the Waste Avoidance and Resource Recovery Act 2001.

(ii) The name and address of the company/contractor undertaking demolition/excavation works.

(iii) The name and address of the company/contractor undertaking off site remediation/disposal of excavated materials.

(iv) The name and address of the transport contractor.

(v) The type and quantity of material to be removed from site.

(vi) Location and method of waste disposal and recycling.

(vii) Proposed truck routes, in accordance with this development consent.

(viii) Procedures to be adopted for the prevention of loose or contaminated material, spoil, dust and litter from being deposited onto the public way from trucks and associated equipment and the proposed method of cleaning surrounding roadways from such deposits. (Note: With regard to demolition of buildings, dust emission must be minimised for the full height of the building. A minimum requirement is that perimeter scaffolding, combined with chain wire and shade cloth must be used, together with continuous water spray during the demolition process. Compressed air must not be used to blow dust from the building site).

(ix) Measures to control noise emissions from the site.

(x) Measures to suppress odours.

(xi) Enclosing and making the site safe.

(xii) Induction training for on-site personnel.

(xiii) Written confirmation that an appropriately qualified Occupational Hygiene Consultant has inspected the building/site for asbestos, contamination and other hazardous materials, in accordance with the procedures acceptable to SafeWork NSW.

(xiv) An Asbestos and Hazardous Materials Clearance Certificate by a person approved by the SafeWork NSW.

(xv) Disconnection of utilities.

(xvi) Fire Fighting. (Fire fighting services on site are to be maintained at all times during demolition work. Access to fire services in the street must not be obstructed).

(xvii) Access and egress. (Demolition and excavation activity must not cause damage to or adversely affect the safe access and egress of the subject building or any adjacent buildings).

(xviii) Waterproofing of any exposed surfaces of adjoining buildings.

(xix) Control of water pollution and leachate and cleaning of vehicles tyres (proposals must be in accordance with the Protection of the Environmental Operations Act 1997).

(xx) Working hours, in accordance with this development consent.

(xxi) Any SafeWork NSW requirements.

(c) The approved work method statements and a waste management plan as required by this condition must be implemented in full during the period of construction.

(d) All waste records from the recycling and/or disposal of any demolition and construction waste generated from the works must be retained on site. These records must be available for sighting on request by an authorised Council officer.

Reason

To ensure that impacts arising from demolition, excavation and construction are appropriately managed.

(52) EROSION AND SEDIMENT CONTROL - BETWEEN 250 AND 2,500SQM

Prior to the commencement of demolition/excavation/construction work, an Erosion and Sediment Control Plan (ESCP) must be submitted to and be approved by the Principal Certifier. The ESCP must:

(a) Conform to the specifications and standards contained in Managing Urban Stormwater: Soils and Construction (Landcom, 2004); the Guidelines for Erosion and Sediment Control on Building Sites (City of Sydney, 2004); and the NSW Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997.

Note: Refer to the City's 'Code of Practice: Hoisting and Construction Activities On and Above Roads' for further information.

(b) Include a drawing(s) that clearly shows:

(i) location of site boundaries and adjoining roads

(ii) approximate grades and indications of direction(s) of fall

(iii) approximate location of trees and other vegetation, showing items for removal or retention

(iv) location of site access, proposed roads and other impervious areas

(v) existing and proposed drainage patterns with stormwater discharge points

(vi) north point and scale

(c) Specify how soil conservation measures will be conducted on site including:

(i) timing of works

(ii) locations of lands where a protective ground cover will, as far as is practicable, be maintained

(iii) access protection measures

(iv) nature and extent of earthworks, including the amount of any cut and fill

(v) where applicable, the diversion of runoff from upslope lands around the disturbed areas

(vi) location of all soil and other material stockpiles including topsoil storage, protection and reuse methodology

(vii) procedures by which stormwater is to be collected and treated prior to discharge including details of any proposed pollution control device(s)

(viii) frequency and nature of any maintenance program

(ix) other site-specific soil or water conservation structures.

Reason

To ensure that appropriate erosion and sediment control measures are put in place during construction to protect the environment.

(53) SURVEY SETOUT

Prior to the commencement of construction all footings, walls and floor slabs adjacent to a boundary must be set out by a registered surveyor.

The building shall be sufficiently set back to ensure that no component of the building (such as the roof, guttering, or downpipes) encroach upon or overhang the boundaries of the site.

The registered surveyor shall provide a survey and report to the Principal Certifier indicating the position of the footings, walls and floor slabs in relation to the boundaries of the allotment.

Reason

To ensure the development does not encroach onto neighbouring properties.

(54) CHECK SURVEYS DURING CONSTRUCTION

(a) Prior to the concrete pour of the main slab at each level, a survey shall be made by a surveyor registered under the Surveying and Spatial Information Act, 2002, confirming that the formwork adjacent to existing or proposed boundaries is clear of those existing or proposed boundaries and is in accordance with approved setbacks and levels.

(b) This survey shall be provided to the Principal Certifier prior to the concrete pour. The concrete pour must not take place until the Principal Certifier receives a survey proving that the formwork has been constructed within the existing and proposed boundaries of the site, and is compliant with the setbacks and levels approved under this consent.

Reason

To ensure the development does not encroach onto neighbouring properties.

(55) OTHER REQUIRED APPROVALS

Any structure, attachment or activity which is proposed to be undertaken in, on or above a road reserve or the public domain (including a public footway) must have separate approval(s) obtainable through the lodgement of an application under Section 68 of the Local Government Act 1993 and/or Section 138/139 of the Roads Act 1993 prior to the commencement of work/activities within the road reserve/public domain. Such activities include but not limited to:

(a) installation of construction-related temporary structures including hoardings/scaffolding which must comply with the Code of Practice; Construction related Temporary Structures On and Above Roads;

(b) installation and/or alterations to advertising/business signs;

(c) installation and/or alterations to street awnings;

(d) crane operation and hoisting activities over roads and which must comply with the Code of Practice: Hoisting and Construction Activities On and Above Roads;

(e) temporary works (e.g. barricading, road openings, mobile hoisting devices) which must comply with Code of Practice: Hoisting and Construction Activities On and Above Roads;

(f) works zones (for loading and unloading from the roadway); and

(g) temporary ground-anchoring and shoring to support a roadway when excavating; and

(h) any other structure or encroachment including facade elements/architectural features.

Reason

To ensure use of a public place is managed appropriately.

DURING BUILDING WORK

(56) IMPORTED FILL MATERIALS

(a) All fill material imported to the site must be certified and validated by a certified environmental consultant. It should be accompanied by documentation from the consultant that confirms

(b) its classification and suitability for the intended use. The fill must also be compatible with the existing soil characteristics to support site drainage.

(c) Imported fill must be limited to the following:

(d) Virgin excavated natural material (VENM), classified in accordance with the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997

(e) Excavated natural material (ENM), certified in accordance with the Protection of the Environment Operations (Waste) Regulation 2014

(f) Waste-derived materials subject to a Resource Recovery Exemption under Clauses 91 and 92 of the Protection of the Environment Operations (Waste) Regulation 2014, and

(g) recognised by the NSW EPA as “fit for purpose” for the proposed development.

(h) Any waste-derived material received under a resource recovery exemption must be accompanied by documentation from the NSW EPA confirming compliance with the exemption conditions.

(i) This documentation must be provided to the Certifier and Council:

(j) Upon request

(k) Before the commencement of works under the Protection of the Environment Operations Act

(l) Before the issue of a construction certificate or occupation certificate or

(m) As part of the validation report for the remediation, as applicable.

(n) All imported fill must be accompanied by certification from the supplier confirming the material is not contaminated, based on analysis of the source site’s history and/or sampling and

(o) analysis must be conducted in accordance with the NSW EPA (2022) Sampling Design Guidelines.

(p) Any existing soils proposed for reuse onsite must be analysed and classified by a suitably qualified and experienced environmental consultant. This assessment must follow the relevant NSW EPA guidelines and the National Environment Protection (Assessment of Site Contamination) Measure 1999 (as amended in 2013), to confirm suitability for the proposed land use.

(q) The results must be included in the validation report for the remediation.

Reason

To ensure that imported fill is not contaminated.

(57) CLASSIFICATION OF WASTE

(a) All excavated material removed from the site must be classified in accordance with the EPA's Waste Classification Guidelines before it is disposed of at an approved waste management facility or otherwise lawfully managed.

(b) The classification, and the volume of material removed, and the receival facility's details must be reported to the Certifier or Council (where a Certifier is not required).

Reason

To ensure that waste from site is classified and disposed of appropriately.

(58) DISPOSAL OF SURPLUS SALVAGED MATERIALS

(a) Salvaged traditional building materials surplus to the requirements of this project including list items such as stone, bricks, structural timber, staircases, and joinery are to be sold to an established dealer in second-hand heritage building materials. Documentation of the salvage methodology must be submitted for the approval of Council prior to the commencement of demolition.

Reason

To ensure the salvaging and reuse of traditional building materials.

(59) PUBLIC DOMAIN WORKS - CONSTRUCTION APPROVAL UNDER SECTION 138 ROADS ACT 1993

Prior to the construction of any public domain works, approval under Section 138 / 139 of the Roads Act 1993 must be issued by the City's Public Domain Unit.

Reason

To ensure relevant approvals for public domain work are obtained.

(60) SWINGING DOORS OVER PUBLIC WAY

Any access doors to enclosures housing building services and facilities, such as hydrant and sprinkler booster assemblies or the like, must not open over the footway/roadway.

Reason

To ensure no element of the development obstructs the use of the public way.

(61) GENERAL HERITAGE

(a) The proposed works are to be carried out in a manner that minimises demolition, alterations and new penetrations/fixings to the significant fabric of the existing building which is listed as a draft Heritage Item.

(b) The fabric and features to be retained by the proposal must be properly protected during the process of demolition and construction. The protection measures are to be specified in the construction management plan.

(c) All conservation and adaptation works are to be in accordance with the Articles of the Australian ICOMOS Burra Charter 2013.

(d) New services are to be installed with minimal impact to heritage fabric and significant spaces. Where possible new services are to use existing service runs.

(e) Appropriately qualified tradespersons (as appropriate) are to be commissioned who are skilled in traditional building and engineering trades to carry out the proposed scope of works.

(f) Where internal partitions meet external walls they must abut window mullions, columns or other such building elements and not glazing.

Reason

To ensure that the development does not result in adverse heritage impacts.

(62) REPAIRS AND WORKS FOR MAKING GOOD

All new repairs and works for making good of existing building fabric are to be carried out on a like for like basis and match the existing in terms of materials, colours, finishes, sizes, profile and properties.

Reason

To ensure repairs and works for making good are appropriate.

(63) TACTILE GROUND SURFACE INDICATORS AND HANDRAILS

All tactile ground surface indicators, handrails and other elements required to provide access into the building / property must be located entirely within the private property boundary.

Reason

To ensure ground surface indicators, handrails and other elements required to provide access into the building/property are appropriately located.

(64) NO OBSTRUCTIONS

All public footways and paths of travel must be free from obstructions. If services are required to be relocated to clear paths of travel, then this must be undertaken at the developer's expense. All obstructions are to be removed prior to the issue of any type of Occupation Certificate.

Reason

To ensure there are no obstructions on public footways and paths of travel.

(65) NO OBSTRUCTION OF PUBLIC WAY

Unless otherwise approved by Council, the public way must not be obstructed by any materials, vehicles, waste receptacles, skip-bins or the like. Non-compliance with this requirement may result in the issue of a notice by Council to stop all work on the site.

Reason

To protect the amenity of the public domain.

(66) PAVING MATERIALS

The surface of any material used or proposed to be used for the paving of colonnades, thoroughfares, plazas, arcades and the like which are used by the public must comply with AS/NZS 4586:2013 (including amendments) "Slip resistance classification of new pedestrian surface materials".

Reason

To protect the amenity of the public domain.

(67) PROTECTION OF STONE KERBS

(a) The existing stone kerbs on the [Street Name/s] frontage[s] of the site are to be retained and properly protected during demolition, excavation and construction works.

(b) To avoid damage to stone kerbs during excavation and construction works for the development, temporary removal and storage of the stone kerbs may be approved by Council. Removed, serviceable stone kerbs (i.e. those that are in good condition as agreed by Council officers) must be re-installed in accordance with the City of Sydney's standard details and specifications after the construction works have been completed. A temporary concrete kerb will need to be constructed to retain the footpath until the stone kerbs can be reinstalled.

(c) Note the following:

(i) all costs associated with the works are to be borne by the developer.

(ii) Damaged kerbs are to be replaced to match existing to Council's satisfaction or as otherwise advised by Council officers.

(iii) Where new vehicle crossings or temporary crossings are to be constructed to access the property, the affected kerb stones should be salvaged and reused wherever possible.

(iv) All new driveway laybacks and kerbs are to be constructed with stone kerbs to match existing stones or as specified by City officers.

(v) Council approval is required before kerbs are removed.

(vi) Council approval is required prior to the cutting of existing stone kerbs for stormwater kerb outlets.

(vii) A bond may be required for stone kerbs and gutters in accordance with the City of Sydney's adopted Schedule of Fees and Charges. If so, this will be included with the Public Domain Damage Bond.

(68) ASSOCIATED ROADWAY COSTS

All costs associated with the construction of any new road works including kerb and gutter, road pavement, drainage system and footway shall be borne by the developer. The new road works must be designed and constructed in accordance with the City's "Sydney Streets Technical Specification" including amendments and "Sydney Streets Design Code".

Reason

To ensure all roadway works are designed and constructed in accordance with Council requirements.

(69) COST OF SIGNPOSTING

All costs associated with signposting for any kerbside parking restrictions and traffic management measures associated with the development shall be borne by the developer.

Reason

To ensure all associated roadway works costs are borne by the developer.

(70) PROJECTIONS OVER FOOTWAYS

(a) The architectural embellishments attached to the building, shown as overhanging the alignment of Hay Street, must comply with either the provisions of Schedule 4 ("Projections over or into public roads") or Section 3.2.4 ("Footpath Awnings") of the Sydney Development Control Plan 2012.

Reason

To ensure any projections over the public way are appropriately managed.

(71) ENCROACHMENTS – PUBLIC WAY

(a) Apart from projections referred to in the condition above, no portion of the proposed structure, including gates and doors during opening and closing operations, shall encroach upon Council's footpath area.

Reason

To protect the public way.

(72) INSTALLATION OF DUAL-FLUSH TOILETS

All toilets installed within the development must be of water efficient dual-flush or other water-saving capacity with at least a 4-star rating under the Water Efficiency and Labelling Scheme (WELS). The details must be submitted for the approval of the Registered Certifier, prior to a Construction Certificate being issued.

Reason

To ensure the provision of water efficient toilets.

(73) INSTALLATION OF WATER EFFICIENT SHOWER HEADS

All shower heads installed must be water efficient with at least a 4-star rating under the Water Efficiency and Labelling Scheme (WELS). The details are to be submitted for the approval of the Registered Certifier, prior to any Occupation Certificate being issued.

Reason

To ensure the provision of water efficient shower heads.

(74) INSTALLATION OF WATER EFFICIENT TAPS

All taps installed must be water efficient with at least a 5-star rating under the Water Efficiency and Labelling Scheme (WELS). The details are to be submitted for the approval of the Registered Certifier, prior to any Occupation Certificate being issued.

Reason

To ensure the provision of water efficient taps.

(75) INSTALLATION OF WATER EFFICIENT URINALS

New urinal suites, urinals and urinal flushing control mechanisms must use waterless technology. Where it is submitted that this is not feasible, it must be demonstrated that products have been selected with at least a 4-star rating under the Water Efficiency and Labelling Scheme (WELS). Systems must include "smart controls" to reduce unnecessary flushing. Continuous flushing systems are not approved. Details are to be submitted to and approved by the Registered Certifier, prior to a Construction Certificate being issued.

Reason

To ensure the provision of water efficient urinals.

(76) COMPLIANCE WITH DEMOLITION, EXCAVATION & CONSTRUCTION NOISE AND VIBRATION MANAGEMENT PLAN

(a) All works conducted on site which form part of this development must be carried out in accordance with the Demolition, Excavation and Construction Management Plan.

(b) Where all such control measures have been implemented and the resultant noise and/ or vibration levels at any sensitive receiver still exceed the council's applicable criteria stated in the Construction Hours/Noise Code 1992 and are giving rise to sustained complaints then the contractor must provide regular, appropriate and sustained periods of respite in consultation with Council's Health and Building unit.

(c) Approval to vary the authorised noise and vibration levels must be received in writing by the proponent from Council prior to activities being undertaken that exceed sanctioned emission levels. (Use where respite periods not specified under the approved DEC NMP). Such periods must be set and agreed to by Council's Health and Building Unit.

Reason

To ensure all parties are aware of the supporting documentation that applies to the development.

(77) ARCHAEOLOGICAL DISCOVERY DURING EXCAVATION

(a) Should any relics be unexpectedly discovered on the site during excavation, all excavation or disturbance to the area is to stop immediately and the Heritage Council of NSW should be informed in accordance with section 146 of the Heritage Act 1977.

(b) Should any Aboriginal objects be unexpectedly discovered then all excavation or disturbance of the area is to stop immediately and NSW Government Office of Environment and Heritage is to be informed in accordance with Section 89A of the National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974.

(c) Should any archaeological remains or Aboriginal objects be discovered, a copy of recording of the finds and the final archaeological summary report is to be submitted to Council prior to the issue of any Occupational Certificate.

(d) If the discovery is on Council's land, Council must be informed.

Reason

To ensure that the archaeology of the site is appropriately managed and protected.

(78) NOTIFICATION – NEW CONTAMINATION EVIDENCE

(a) Council and the Certifier (and accredited site auditor if required) must be notified immediately of any new information which arising during remediation, demolition or construction works which has the potential to alter previous conclusions about site contamination.

(b) Once identified, remediation, demolition or construction work must immediately cease.

(c) A certified environmental consultant must be appointed to undertake an assessment of the potential contaminants and works required to make the site safe from potential human health and environmental harm.

(d) If the duty to report contamination to the NSW EPA under Section 60 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 is triggered, the NSW EPA and Council must be notified immediately.

Reason

To ensure that any new contamination evidence or unexpected finds is reported and the site is appropriately remediated.

(79) SITE SUPERVISION AND REPORTING

(a) A qualified Arborist (minimum AQF Level 5) must oversee various stages of work within the Tree Protection Zone(s) (TPZs) of any tree listed for retention.

(b) The Arborist must undertake every 2 monthly inspections through the development works.

(c) The Arborist must certify compliance with each key milestone detailed below:

(i) Installation of tree protection measures (i.e. tree protection fencing, trunk and branch protection, ground protection, tree protection signage) prior to the commencement of the development works;

(ii) Demolition of ground surface materials (pavers, concrete, grass etc.) or inground structures within the TPZs of any tree to be retained;

(iii) Excavation and trenching within the TPZs;

(iv) Construction of hoarding and scaffold within TPZ of trees;

(v) Any tree pruning works that are approved as part of the development;

(vi) Landscape works within the TPZs;

(vii) Other times as specified in the Arboricultural Impact Assessment Report, Tree Protection Specifications (TPS) and Tree Protection Plan (TPP) or these conditions.

(d) A Tree Protection Compliance Report, which includes photographic evidence and provides details on the health and structure of tree(s), must be submitted within one week following each scheduled inspection and key milestone listed above. The report is to be submitted to, and acknowledged, by the City of Sydney Urban Forest Team. The Tree Protection Compliance Report must include:

(i) Confirmation that the tree protection measures have been installed in accordance with these conditions;

(ii) Details of any additional tree protection recommendations and subsequent implementation to ensure the tree(s) remain in a healthy condition;

(iii) Details of works undertaken on any tree to be retained or any works within the TPZs.

Reason

To ensure the protection and ongoing health of trees on the site.

(80) TREE PRUNING APPROVED

(a) The trees detailed in the table below are approved for pruning.

Table 2 – Tree Pruning

Tree No.	Species	Pruning Specification & Limitations
1	Ficus benjamina (Weeping Fig)	Pruning is to be conducted as per Section 1.5 Canopy Impact and Pruning within the Arboricultural Impact Assessment Report by RainTree Consulting dated 2 February 2026. Pruning is only permitted for the removal of the minimum required canopy clearances only. Excessive pruning is not permitted.
2	Ficus benjamina (Weeping Fig)

(b) All pruning must be carried out by an arborist (minimum AQF Level 3) in accordance with Australian Standard AS4373 'Pruning of Amenity Trees' and the SafeWork's Code of Practice – Amenity Tree Industry.

(c) Pruning of Tree 1 and 2 located on Dixon St is limited to providing a maximum clearance of 1m from any approved building, measured from the surface of the structural component (wall or roof) of the building's edge.

(d) A qualified Arborist (minimum AQF Level 5) must oversee any pruning works carried out with Trees 1 and 2.

(d) Any pruning works carried out under this condition must not adversely impact tree health, structure or form.

Reason

To ensure that pruning works to trees are carried out in an appropriate manner.

(81) TREE PRUNING - FURTHER APPROVAL REQUIRED

(a) Consent from the City of Sydney Urban Forest Team must be obtained prior to undertaking the pruning of any tree to be retained, including trees roots greater than 40mm diameter.

(b) Construction access and the location of the works zone must be planned to avoid adversely impacting any tree to be retained. Alternative work zone locations must be provided and suitable size cranes/machinery/equipment utilised to minimise tree pruning requirements. Only minor pruning works will be approved by the City's Urban Forest Team.

(c) Any approved pruning must be carried out by a qualified Arborist (minimum AQF Level 3) in accordance with Australian Standard 4373 'Pruning of Amenity Trees' and the SafeWork's Code of Practice - Amenity Tree Industry.

(d) Note: Refer to the City's 'Code of Practice: Hoisting and Construction Activities On and Above Roads' and the 'Code of Practice: Construction related Temporary Structures On and Above Roads' for further information.

Reason

To ensure that pruning works to trees are carried out in an appropriate manner.

(82) PROTECTION OF NATIVE WILDLIFE IN TREES

(a) In the event that wildlife is found during the course of tree removal works, work must stop until a trained wildlife handler attends the site or the animal relocates itself. In regards to tree pruning, works may only proceed if the animals will not come into direct harm.

(b) In the event that the tree(s) have nesting birds or native animals, works must be delayed until after the nesting period has been completed, unless in the event of an emergency.

(c) Note: Refer to the City's 'Code of Practice: Hoisting and Construction Activities On and Above Roads' and the 'Code of Practice: Construction-related Temporary Structures On and Above Roads' for further information.

Reason

To ensure that wildlife is adequately protected during tree removal/pruning works.

(83) PUBLIC DOMAIN WORKS SECURITY BOND

A Public Domain Works Security Bond will be required for the public domain works and for repairing damage that may be caused to the public domain in the vicinity of the site, in accordance with the City of Sydney's adopted fees and charges and the Public Domain Manual.

The City's Public Domain Unit must be contacted to determine the bond amount prior to lodgement. The bond must be lodged with the City prior to an approval being issued for the approval of the Public Domain Plan.

The bond will be retained in full until all public domain works, including rectification of damage to the public domain, are completed to City's standards and approval and the required works-as-executed documentation are approved. On satisfying the above requirements, and the issue of the Public Domain Works Letter of Completion Operational Acceptance by the City, 90% of the bond will be released. The remaining 10% will be retained for the duration of the specified Defects Liability Period.

Reason

To ensure public domain works are completed and any damage to the public domain is rectified.

(84) DRAINAGE AND SERVICE PIT LIDS

All existing or proposed drainage and service pit lids throughout the public domain must be to City of Sydney specifications and heel/bicycle safe, slip resistant, infill with material to match surrounding surface, finished flush with the adjacent pavement to avoid trip hazards and be clear of obstructions for easy opening and cleaning. Infill pit lids are to be detailed where specified by Council's Public Domain Officer. Private pits are not permitted within the public domain. All details of pit lids must be shown on the public domain plan and must be approved by the City's Public Domain Unit prior to the issue of an approval for public domain works.

Reason

To ensure drainage and service pit lids within the public domain are appropriately designed and installed.

(85) PUBLIC DOMAIN PLAN DETAILED DOCUMENTATION FOR CONSTRUCTION

(a) A detailed public domain plan and all relevant documentation must be submitted to and approved by City's Public Domain Unit prior to the construction of any public domain works.

(b) This Plan must document all works required to ensure that the public domain upgrade work complies with the City's specifications and requirements, as outlined in documents such as City of Sydney's Public Domain Manual, Sydney Streets Code, Sydney Street Tree Masterplan, Sydney Lights: Public Domain Design Code and Sydney Streets Technical Specification.

(c) The documentation must be *checked, accurate, and comply with specified requirement*s. Plans must be based on an accurate survey prepared, signed and dated by a registered surveyor, to scale and fully coordinated across all disciplines and submissions. The supplied documentation must be for Construction issue and will be approved under Section 138 of the Roads Act.

The Public Domain Manual and all other relevant documents are available for download from Council's website at https://www.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au/development/public-domain-works/da-associated-works.

The Public Domain Plan documentation must be submitted with an Application for Public Domain Plan Assessment and include the approved Public Domain Levels and Gradients documentation. If the proposed detailed design of the public domain requires changes to any previously approved levels, details must be submitted for approval with the public domain plan and additional fees may apply.

Reason

To ensure the public domain complies with Council's requirements.

(86) HOLD POINTS

Prior to an approval being issued for the construction of public domain and / or planning agreement works, including civil, drainage and subsurface works, a set of hold points will be provided by the City's Public Domain Unit in accordance with the City's Public Domain Manual and Sydney Streets Technical Specification. The list of hold point inspections will be included in the Public Domain works approval letter.

These hold point inspections must be adhered to during construction works. Prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate, confirmation from the City's Public Domain Unit, that hold point inspections have been completed and works have been accepted by the City must be provided to the Principal Certifier.

Reason

To ensure hold points are adhered to during construction works.

(87) STORMWATER DRAINAGE CONNECTION

For approval of a connection into the City of Sydney's drainage system an "Application for Approval of Stormwater Drainage Connections" must be submitted to the City, together with an application fee in accordance with the City of Sydney's adopted Schedule of Fees and Charges. This must be approved prior to approval being issued for the construction of public domain work.

Reason

To ensure approval of connection into the Council's drainage system is sought.

(88) PUBLIC DOMAIN LIGHTING RETICULATION

Prior to the issue of any relevant approval for the construction of public domain works, a detailed Public Domain Lighting Reticulation Plan for pedestrian and street lighting in the public domain must be submitted to and approved by the City's Public Domain Unit in accordance with the City's Sydney Lights Design Code, Sydney Streets Code, Sydney Streets Technical Specification and Public Domain Manual.

The Public Domain Manual and all other relevant documents are available for download from Council's website at https://www.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au/development/public-domain-works/da-associated-works.

If applicable, this public domain lighting documentation must include pole footing locations and structural details, location and details of underground electrical reticulation including connections and conduits, pit cabling and certifications as described in the City's Public Domain Manual. The public domain lighting is to be superimposed on the public domain plan to show any conflicts between lighting and the proposed landscape design.

Reason

To ensure the public domain lighting documentation complies with Council requirements.

(89) STOCKPILES

(a) Soil or other materials must not be stockpiled on footpaths or nature strips without prior written approval from Council.

(b) All stockpiles must be managed to prevent contamination of the underlying soil.

(c) Potentially contaminated soil must be stockpiled on a hardstand surface or over polyethylene sheeting.

(d) Stockpiles must:

(i) Be bunded to prevent runoff of potentially contaminated materials.

(ii) Be stabilised through compaction and contouring to minimise wind exposure and allow access for water trucks.

(iii) Not exceed the height of perimeter fencing to assist in controlling dust and odour emissions.

(iv) Be clearly labelled with a unique identification number and include records of the soil's volume and origin to enable tracking from excavation to final disposal or reuse.

Reason

To ensure that stockpiles of soil or other materials are appropriately managed.

(90) HOURS OF WORK AND NOISE – CBD

The hours of construction and work on the development must be as follows:

(a) All work, including demolition, excavation and building work, and activities in the vicinity of the site generating noise associated with preparation for the commencement of work (eg loading and unloading of goods, transferring of tools etc) in connection with the proposed development must only be carried out between the hours of 7.00am and 7.00pm on Mondays to Fridays, inclusive, and 7.00am and 5.00pm on Saturdays, and no work must be carried out on Sundays or public holidays.

(b) All work, including demolition, excavation and building work must comply with the City of Sydney Code of Practice for Construction Hours/Noise 1992 and Australian Standard 2436-2010 Guide to Noise Control on Construction, Maintenance and Demolition Sites.

(c) Notwithstanding the above, the use of a crane for special operations, including the delivery of materials, hoisting of plant and equipment and erection and dismantling of on site tower cranes which warrant the on-street use of mobile cranes outside of above hours can occur, subject to a separate application being submitted to and approved by Council under Section 68 of the Local Government Act 1993 and Sections 138/139 of the Roads Act 1993.

Note: Works may be undertaken outside of hours, where it is required to avoid the loss of life, damage to property, to prevent environmental harm and/or to avoid structural damage to the building. Written approval must be given by the Construction Regulation Team, prior to works proceeding.

The City of Sydney Code of Practice for Construction Hours/Noise 1992 allows extended working hours subject to the approval of an application in accordance with the Code and under Section 4.55 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

Reason

To protect the amenity of the surrounding area.

(91) USE OF HIGH NOISE EMISSION APPLIANCES / PLANT

(a) The operation of high noise emission appliances, plant and/or machinery such as pile – drivers, rock breakers and hydraulic hammers and those which are not listed in Groups B, C, D, E or F of Schedule 1 of the City of Sydney Code of Practice for Construction Hours/Noise 1992 and Australian Standard 2436-2010 Guide to Noise Control on Construction, Maintenance and Demolition Sites is restricted to the hours of 10:00am-12:00 midday and 2:00pm to 5:00pm).

(b) All reasonable and feasible steps must be undertaken to ensure that the work, including demolition, excavation and building complies with the City of Sydney Code of Practice for Construction Hours/Noise 1992 and Australian Standard 2436- 2010 Guide to Noise Control on Construction, Maintenance and Demolition Sites.

Reason

To protect the amenity of the surrounding area.

(92) LOADING AND UNLOADING DURING CONSTRUCTION

The following requirements apply:

(a) All loading and unloading associated with construction activity must be accommodated on site, where possible.

(b) If, it is not feasible for loading and unloading to take place on site, a Works Zone on the street may be considered by Council.

(c) A Works Zone may be required if loading and unloading is not possible on site. If a Works Zone is warranted an application must be made to Council at least 8 weeks prior to commencement of work on the site. An approval for a Works Zone may be given for a specific period and certain hours of the days to meet the particular need for the site for such facilities at various stages of construction. The approval will be reviewed periodically for any adjustment necessitated by the progress of the construction activities.

(d) Where hoisting activity over the public place is proposed to be undertaken including hoisting from a Works Zone, a separate application under Section 68 of the Local Government Act 1993 and Sections 138/139 of the Roads Act 1993 must be submitted to and approved by Council.

Reason

To protect the amenity of the public domain.

(93) NO OBSTRUCTION OF PUBLIC WAY

Unless otherwise approved by Council, the public way must not be obstructed by any materials, vehicles, waste receptacles, skip-bins or the like. Non-compliance with this requirement may result in the issue of a notice by Council to stop all work on the site.

Reason

To protect the amenity of the public domain.

(94) USE OF MOBILE CRANES

The following requirements apply:

(a) Mobile cranes operating from the road must not be used as a method of demolishing or constructing a building.

(b) For special operations including the delivery of materials, hoisting of plant and equipment and erection and dismantling of on site tower cranes which warrant the on-street use of mobile cranes, permits must be obtained from Council for the use of a mobile crane. The permits must be obtained 48 hours beforehand for partial road closures which, in the opinion of Council will create minimal traffic disruptions and 4 weeks beforehand in the case of full road closures and partial road closures which, in the opinion of Council, will create significant traffic disruptions.

(c) The use of a crane for special operations, including the delivery of materials, hoisting of plant and equipment and erection and dismantling of on site tower cranes which warrant the on-street use of mobile cranes outside of approved hours of construction can occur, subject to a separate application being submitted to and approved by Council under Section 68 of the Local Government Act 1993 and Sections 138/139 of the Roads Act 1993.

Reason

To ensure mobile cranes are used appropriately.

(95) DEFECTS LIABILITY PERIOD - PUBLIC DOMAIN WORKS

(a) All works to the City's public domain, including rectification of identified defects, are subject to a 6 month defects liability period from the date of Completion. The date of completion will be nominated by Council on the Public Domain Works - Letter of Completion Operational Acceptance.

Reason

To ensure all works to the City's public domain are protected under a liability period.

BEFORE ISSUE OF AN OCCUPATION CERTIFICATE

(96) CHANGES TO KERB SIDE PARKING RESTRICTIONS

(a) A separate submission must be made to the City's Traffic Operations team to approve the following changes to kerb side parking arrangements.

(i) residential waste must be collected in the morning on weekdays between 4:00am and 6:00am;

(ii) the proposed restriction is recommended as 'No Stopping Council Waste Vehicles Excepted 2 mins Limit 4:00am and 6:00am Mon-Fri".

(b) Notes:

(i) There is no guarantee kerb side parking will be changed, or that any change will remain in place for the duration of the development use. The proposal may require a submission to the Local Pedestrian, Cycling, Traffic Calming and Transport Forum (LPCTCTF) for advice.

(ii) The submission must include two plans. One showing the existing kerb side parking restriction signs and stems, the second showing the proposed kerb side parking restriction signs and stems. Both plans must include chainages to all signs and stems from the kerb line of the nearest intersection.

All costs associated with the parking proposal will be borne by the developer.

Note: As parking in the LGA is at a premium, it is recommended that the applicant should approach the Area Traffic Engineer to discuss the proposal before making a submission.

Reason

To require separate consent to be obtained for changes to kerb side parking arrangements.

(97) LOT CONSOLIDATION

All land titles within the site must be consolidated into one lot. A plan of consolidation must be registered with NSW Land Registry Services, prior to any type of Occupation Certificate being issued.

Note: Council consent will not be required prior to registration.

Reason

To ensure land titles within the site are consolidated.

(98) POSITIVE COVENANT

(a) Prior to the issue of any occupation certificate, a positive covenant must be created pursuant to Section 88B of the Conveyancing Act, 1919 burdening the site and benefiting the Council of the City of Sydney, in terms to the satisfaction of council, as follows:

(i) The registered proprietors of the site or any future Owners must indemnify Council against any damage, loss or liability relating to the overhanging awning, or encroaching components of the buildings

(ii) The registered proprietors of the site or a future Owners must effect and maintain public liability insurance in respect of third party personal injury or damage to third party property where the injury arises from or is caused by the overhanging awning or encroaching components of the buildings. The policy must be in the amount of $20,000,000 for any one occurrence and be indexed to CPI.

Reason

To ensure any future claims relating to building components beyond the site boundaries can be adequately dealt with by appropriate insurances.

(99) RESTRICTION ON RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENT

The following restriction applies to buildings approved for residential use:

(a) The accommodation portion of the building (levels 3-15) must be used as permanent residential accommodation only and not for the purpose of a boarding house or hostel, hotel or motel accommodation, serviced apartments, tourist and visitor accommodation or any other use.

(b) A restriction on the use of land is to be registered on the title of the development site in the above terms and restricting any change of use of those levels from residential accommodation as defined in the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012.

(c) The restriction is to be registered on title prior to any type of Occupation Certificate being issued or the use commencing, whichever is earlier. The covenant restriction must contain terms reasonably required by Council and will be drafted by Council's solicitor, at the cost of the applicant, in accordance with the City's Fees and Charges, or included with a Section 88B Instrument for the future strata plan and burdening all residential strata lots where no subdivision will occur.

(d) If a lot contains tenants, it must be subject to a residential tenancy agreement for a term of at least three months.

(e) No person can advertise or organise the use of residential apartments approved under this consent for short term accommodation.

Reason

To ensure the residential accommodation portion of the site is used for permanent residential purposes.

(100) COST OF SIGNPOSTING

All costs associated with signposting for any kerbside parking restrictions and traffic management measures associated with the development shall be borne by the developer.

Reason

To ensure all associated roadway works costs are borne by the developer.

(101) PHYSICAL MODELS

(a) Prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate an accurate 1:500 scale model of the development as constructed must be submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager or Area Coordinator for the City Model in Town Hall House.

Note:

(i) The models must be constructed in accordance with the Model Specifications available online at http://www.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au/development/application-guide/application-process/model-requirements Council's modellers must be consulted prior to construction of the model.

(ii) The models are to comply with all of the conditions of the Development Consent.

(iii) The models must be amended to reflect any further modifications to the approval (under Section 4.55 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act) that affect the external appearance of the building.

Reason

To ensure the provision of an appropriate physical model of the development.

(102) SUBMISSION OF ELECTRONIC CAD MODELS PRIOR TO OCCUPATION CERTIFICATE

(a) Prior to any Occupation Certificate being issued, an accurate 1:1 electronic CAD model of the completed development must be submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager or Area Coordinator for the electronic Visualisation City Model.

(b) The data required to be submitted within the surveyed location must include and identify:

(i) building design above and below ground in accordance with the development consent;

(ii) all underground services and utilities, underground structures and basements, known archaeological structures and artefacts;

(iii) a current two points on the site boundary clearly marked to show their Northing and Easting MGA (Map Grid of Australia) coordinates, which must be based on Established Marks registered in the Department of Lands and Property Information's SCIMS Database with a Horizontal Position Equal to or better than Class C.

The data is to be submitted as a DGN or DWG file on a Compact Disc. All modelling is to be referenced to the Map Grid of Australia (MGA) spatially located in the Initial Data Extraction file.

(c) The electronic model must be constructed in accordance with the City's 3D CAD electronic model specification. The specification is available online at http://www.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au/development/application-guide/application-process/model-requirements Council's Modelling staff should be consulted prior to creation of the model. The data is to comply with all of the conditions of the Development Consent.

Reason

To ensure the provision of an appropriate electronic model of the development.

(103) LOADING DOCK MANAGEMENT PLAN

(a) A Loading Dock Management Plan is to be prepared for distribution to relevant tenants outlining how the loading dock will be managed and used by all relevant tenants. The Plan must include, but is not limited to, management of deliveries to ensure vehicles are not waiting on public streets to enter the site. Commercial waste must be collected on-site. Details of the collection arrangement, including the vehicle size to be used by the private waste contractor, must be provided in the plan.

(b) The on-site B99 dock is also to be available for all residents for use by removal vehicles, bulky good deliveries and similar. This shall be managed either by a schedule showing residents when they can use the dock, or by a register managed on site to allow residents to reserve a time period for their deliveries. This information is to be made available to all residents/tenants of the building.

(c) The plan is to be prepared and submitted to and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager prior to issue of an Occupation Certificate.

(d) Once approved, this management plan is to be provided to all relevant tenants and external users of the loading area.

Reason

To ensure that the loading dock is appropriately managed.

(104) WASTE AND RECYCLING MANAGEMENT – RESIDENTIAL

(a) Prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate, Council's review and written approval of the as-built waste infrastructure, facilities, and vehicle access is required. The City Cleansing & Resource Recovery Unit of Council must be satisfied that:

(i) All waste management facilities, storage, and collection infrastructure comply with the stamped plans, approved Operational Waste Management Plan and Council's Guidelines for Waste Management in New Developments, the City of Sydney's DCP, and the developments Conditions of Consent.

(ii) All waste rooms, corridors, doors, and gates to be accessed by Councils collection contractor(s) are to be fitted and accessible via Council's master key system. Specifications of locks, barrels, and supporting infrastructure are to be submitted to Council's City Cleansing & Resource Recovery Unit.

(b) Site inspections are to be conducted by Council's City Cleansing & Resource Recovery Unit to review the site on-site waste collection, storage and loading bay infrastructure prior to the issue of an Occupation Certificate. The inspections are to be conducted a minimum 6-months prior to projects anticipated construction completion. Prior to the inspection an electronic copy of the latest architectural plans are to be submitted.

(c) An updated Operational Waste Management Plan is to be submitted to Council's City Cleansing & Resource Recovery Unit that aligns with the latest version of architectural plans and waste related updates identified during the site inspections. The plan is to be reviewed by Council's City Cleansing & Resource Recovery Unit and approved by Council's Area Planning Manager prior to the issue of an Occupation Certificate.

(d) The developer is to enter into a formal agreement with the City of Sydney Council for the utilisation of Councils Waste Collection Service. A signed agreement is to be submitted to Council's City Cleansing & Resource Recovery unit prior to the issue of an Occupation Certificate.

(e) The assigned strata manager for the development and direct contact details are to be provided to Council's City Cleansing & Resource Recovery Unit prior to the issue of an Occupation Certificate.

Reason

To ensure that facilities and arrangements are in place to enable the provision of a safe and efficient waste collection service responsive to Council's policies and contractual service provisions.

(105) ONGOING WASTE MANAGEMENT – RESIDENTIAL

(a) The ongoing use of development must be in accordance with the approved Operational Waste Management Plan, Council's Guidelines for Waste Management in New Developments, the City of Sydney's DCP, and the developments Conditions of Consent.

(b) All general waste and recycling stream(s) materials emanating from the premises must be stored in the designated waste storage area(s) integrated within the built form and must not be stored outside the premises (including any public place) at any time.

(c) The property manager is responsible for lodging requests for damaged/broken bins, managing the rotation of bins, ensuring the full allocation of relevant bins are available for scheduled collections, management of odour and the routine cleaning and maintenance of all waste storage areas.

(d) Contracts (or agreements) with cleaners, building managers and tenants must clearly outline the waste management and collection arrangements, identifying clear roles and responsibilities outlined within the approved Operational Waste Management Plan.

(e) The property manager is responsible for the installation and maintenance of all education signage for the respective waste stream(s) as requested by the City of Sydney Council responsive to the approved Operational Waste Management plan.

(f) Commercial waste and recycling stream(s) and supporting infrastructure to be stored in a separate lockable, enclosed, and walled area free from the residential waste and recycling stream(s) rooms. The residential rooms to have relevant locks to inhibit commercial tenants access to Councils residential waste streams.

Reason

To support the safe and efficient scheduled Council waste collection service and ensure the impacts of waste management on the public domain and public health are minimised.

(106) SCHEDULED COLLECTIONS - RESIDENTIAL

(a) Scheduled collections and waste management arrangements of Council's residential waste stream(s) is to be conducted in accordance with the stamped plans, approved Operational Waste Management Plan, the developments Conditions of Consent and the City's Local Approvals Policy Managing Waste in Public Spaces.

(b) Council's Domestic Waste Charge is applied to all residential rate accommodation properties in accordance with section 496 of the Local Government Act 1993. Residential accommodation is defined in accordance with the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 dictionary.

(c) Unobstructed access to be provided for Councils standard waste collection vehicles to access the waste and recycling storage area(s), loadings bays and supporting infrastructure between the hours 6am and 6pm on collection day(s) to support the provision of a safe and efficient waste collection service to the site.

Reason

To support the safe and efficient scheduled residential waste collection service and minimise the impacts on public amenity and safety.

(107) FLOOR SPACE RATIO - CENTRAL SYDNEY

The following applies to Floor Space Ratio:

(a) The Floor Space Ratio of the proposal must not exceed 7.87:1 calculated in accordance with the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012. For the purpose of the calculation of FSR, the Gross Floor Area of the approved development is 3,551.6sqm.

(b) Prior to an Occupation Certificate being issued, a Registered Surveyor must provide certification of the total and component Gross Floor Areas (by use) in the development, utilising the definition under Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 applicable at the time of development consent, to the satisfaction of the Principal Certifier.

Reason

To ensure the constructed development complies with the approved floor space ratio.

(108) BUILDING HEIGHT

(a) The height of the building must not exceed RL 58.59 (AHD) to the top of the building.

(b) Prior to an Occupation Certificate being issued, a Registered Surveyor must provide certification that the height of the building accords with (a) above, to the satisfaction of the Principal Certifier.

Reason

To ensure the constructed development complies with the approved height.

(109) ROOFTOP PLANT

All rooftop plant and associated equipment must be located within the approved building envelope.

Reason

To ensure the roof top plant does not exceed the approved height.

(110) SURVEY CERTIFICATE AT COMPLETION

(a) Prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate, a Final Survey Plan and Certificate prepared and signed by a Surveyor, registered under the Surveying & Spatial Information Act, 2002 must be submitted at the completion of the building work certifying the location and height of the building, and showing offsets, in relation to the boundaries of the allotment.

Reason

To ensure the development does not encroach onto neighbouring properties and is in accordance with the approved plans.

(111) CONSTRUCTION AND INSTALLATION OF VENTILATION SYSTEM

(a) Prior to the issue of an Occupation Certificate, confirmation that the mechanical exhaust system has been constructed and installed in accordance with the approved plans must be prepared by a suitably qualified person and submitted to the Certifier.

Reason

To ensure the premises is added to Council's database to allow for appropriate inspections.

(112) VERIFICATION OF ACOUSTIC REPORT PRIOR TO OCCUPATION CERTIFICATE

Prior to the issue of any occupation certificate, the Certifier must ensure the following:

(a) A suitably qualified acoustic consultant must be appointed in accordance with the definition noted in the City of Sydney - Environmental Noise Technical Requirements, dated October 2025.

(b) The consultant must inspect and review the completed development and ensure that:

(i) The final building work is assessed for compliance with the relevant acoustic Construction Certificate(s), the approved acoustic report, and all applicable noise-related conditions and documentation of this consent.

(ii) Any non-compliances identified under (i) above are documented in writing, with specific reference to the relevant acoustic criteria, and must include a scope of work necessary to rectify the issues and achieve compliance.

(iii) All requirements under this clause are completed to the written satisfaction of the Certifier.

(c) Following completion of item (b), the consultant must notify the Certifier in writing of any identified non-compliances.

Reason

To ensure the development complies with construction and fit out plans and the relevant standards in the approved acoustic report.

(113) SITE SUPERVISION AND REPORTING

A final Tree Protection Compliance Certificate, prepared by a qualified Arborist (AQF Level 5) demonstrating that all Tree Protection Compliance Reports have been submitted at each scheduled inspection and key milestone listed above must be submitted and approved by the City of Sydney Area Planning Manager prior to the issue of any Occupational Certificate.

Reason

To ensure the protection and ongoing health of trees on the site.

(114) PUBLIC DOMAIN WORKS COMPLETION

The Public Domain works are to be constructed in accordance with the Public Domain Works Approval letter, stamped plans for Public Domain Levels and Gradients, Stormwater, Public Domain Lighting, the City's Public Domain Manual, Stormwater Drainage Manual, Sydney Lights Design Code and Sydney Streets Technical Specification.

The public domain work must be inspected and a Public Domain Work Letter of Completion Operational Acceptance must be issued by Council's Public Domain Officer prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate or before the commencement of use, whichever is earlier.

Reason

To ensure the public domain works are completed in accordance with the approved documents and Council's requirements.

(115) PUBLIC DOMAIN COMPLETION - WORK AS EXECUTED DOCUMENTATION

(a) Prior to a Public Domain Works Letter of Completion Operational Acceptance being issued for public domain works, works-as-executed (As-Built) plans and documentation, must be submitted to and accepted by the City of Sydney for all public domain works, including where required Stormwater, Public Domain Lighting and road construction.

(b) These works must be certified by a suitably qualified, independent professional. Details of the documentation required for approval will be advised by the City's Public Domain Unit.

Reason

To ensure Council receives works-as-executed documentation for public domain works.

(116) POSITIVE COVENANT - FLOOD PROTECTION MEASURES

(a) Prior to the issue of an Occupation Certificate, the approved Flood Emergency Response Plan and positive covenant relating to the flood protection measures shall be registered with the Land Title office.

(b) Prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate for the development, a documentary Positive Covenant is to be created and registered on the Title of the development site, appurtenant to Council.

(c) The Positive Covenant is to be created in terms indemnifying Council against any claims and damages arising from flooding, and is to require the maintenance of a $20,000,000 public indemnity insurance policy to which Council is a named party and is to require the maintenance, upkeep and repair of all flood protection measures. Such indemnity is to be transferable to all future owners of the building.

(d) The positive covenant is to list all the flood protection measures installed in the building and record the ongoing obligation of the owners of the building to comply with the Flood Emergency Response Plan required to be submitted and approved under the condition “Flood Emergency Response Plan” in this determination.

Reason

To protect flood protection systems.

(117) FLOOD RISK MANAGEMENT

Prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate, a certification report prepared by a suitably qualified practitioner engineer (NPER), for flood risk management measures including flood planning level/s demonstrating compliance with the approved construction plans must be submitted to and be approved by the Principal Certifier. A copy of the report must be provided to Council for record keeping purposes.

Reason

To ensure flood risk management measures are complied with.

(118) FLOOD PROTECTION FEATURES

Prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate, the proposed Flood Protection System including all its features are to be tested by an independent floodplain management consultant, and a report confirming the full operation of the system is to be submitted to and approved by Principal Certifying Authority.

Reason

To ensure flood risk management measures are complied with.

(119) LAND REMEDIATION - SITE AUDIT STATEMENT (STAGED)

(a) Before the issue of any Occupation certificate related to the built form of the development (excluding works directly associated with remediation), a Section A Site Audit Statement (SAS) must be obtained from a NSW Environment Protection Authority accredited Site Auditor. This statement must be submitted to the Council’s Area Planning Manager via email hbapplications@cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au

(b) The SAS must confirm that the site has been remediated in accordance with the approved Remediation Action Plan and must clearly state that the site is suitable for the proposed use.

(c) If the SAS includes conditions requiring ongoing review by the Auditor or Council, these conditions must be reviewed and approved in writing by Council before the statement is issued.

(d) If any conditions of the SAS are inconsistent with this development consent, the development must not proceed until the inconsistency is resolved to Council's satisfaction (e.g. Section 4.55 modification under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979).

(e) A Certifier must not issue an Occupation certificate unless the SAS has been submitted to and approved by Council in accordance with this condition.

Reason

To ensure that the site is appropriately remediated.

OCCUPATION AND ONGOING USE

(120) DISCHARGE OF CONTAMINATED GROUNDWATER

(a) Contaminated groundwater must not be discharged into the City's stormwater drainage system.

(b) Options for the disposal of groundwater include disposal to sewer with prior approval from Sydney Water or off-site disposal by an EPA NSW licensed liquid waste contractor and disposed of by transporter to an appropriate licensed waste treatment/processing facility.

(c) Note: Refer to the City's 'Code of Practice: Hoisting and Construction Activities On and Above Roads' for further information.

Reason

To ensure that the discharge of ground water is appropriately managed.

(121) SERVICE VEHICLE SIZE LIMIT

The size of vehicles servicing the property must be a maximum length of 5.2m.

Reason

To maintain the orderly operation of vehicle parking and loading areas.

(122) VEHICLE ACCESS

All vehicles are to enter by reversing in and depart the site travelling in a forward direction.

Reason

To increase pedestrian safety at the site access.

(123) ON-SITE LOADING AREAS AND OPERATION

(a) All loading and unloading operations associated with servicing the site must be carried out within the confines of the site, at all times and must not obstruct other properties/units or the public way.

(b) At all times the service vehicle docks, car parking spaces and access driveways must be kept clear of goods and must not be used for storage purposes, including garbage storage.

Reason

To maintain the orderly operation of vehicle parking areas and to ensure the public domain is kept free from physical obstructions.

(124) LAND SUBDIVISION

Any proposal for land subdivision, including any stratum subdivision of the building to separate the commercial component of the building from the residential component, will require a separate application to Council to obtain development Subdivision Certificate under Section 6.15 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

Reason

To ensure separate development consent is sought for land subdivision.

(125) OCCUPATION CERTIFICATE TO BE SUBMITTED

An Occupation Certificate must be obtained from the Principal Certifier and a copy submitted to Council prior to commencement of occupation or use of the whole or any part of a new building, an altered portion of, or an extension to an existing building.

Reason

To ensure the site is authorised for occupation.

(126) COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT NOISE

(a) During ongoing use of the premises, the cumulative emission of noise from commercial and industrial activities must comply with Requirement 4 – NOISE FROM COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITIES, as specified in the City of Sydney – Environmental Noise Technical Requirements, dated October 2025.

Reason

To protect the acoustic amenity of surrounding properties.

(127) MANAGING NOISE

The premises must be operated and managed in accordance with the approved acoustic report for this consent.

All physical aspects of the building's structure must be installed to meet performance parameters in accordance with this condition, and requirements of this consent, must be maintained and correctly used at all times. Where there is a conflict with the approved acoustic report and a requirement of this development consent, this consent prevails.

Reason

To protect the amenity of the local area.

(128) STORAGE AND DISPOSAL OF WASTE MATERIALS DURING ONGOING USE

During ongoing use of the premises:

(a) An adequate number of bins must be put on the premises for the storage of any waste that is generated (including for recycling).

(b) All waste and recyclable materials generated from the premises must be stored wholly within any approved storage area and must not be stored outside the premises (including any public place) at any time.

(c) Arrangements must be implemented for the separation of recyclable materials from waste.

(d) Any approved waste storage area must be appropriately maintained to prevent litter and the entry of pests.

(e) Liquid waste shall be stored within a building or in a covered and bunded area in appropriate containers.

(f) Where Council does not provide commercial garbage and recyclable materials collection services:

(i) a contract must be entered into with a licensed contractor to provide these services for the premises; and

(ii) a copy of the contract must be kept on premises and provided to relevant authorities including council officers on request.

Reason

To ensure proper handling of waste, garbage and recyclable materials generated during operation of the premises.

(129) WASTEWATER TREATMENT DEVICES

(a) All wastewater treatment, containment and management devices (including drainage systems, sumps, grease traps & pumps) must be regularly maintained in good working order to ensure that they remain effective. Silt and gross pollutant traps must be fitted in all new stormwater pits.

(b) Prior to the issue of a Construction Certificate, a wastewater maintenance schedule must be developed and approved by Council. The approved schedule must be kept on-site at all times for staff to comply with. All liquid and solid wastes collected from the treatment device must be disposed of in accordance with relevant environmental protection and waste control legislation and NSW Environmental Protection Authority requirements.

Reason

To ensure wastewater treatment devices remain effective.

ON COMPLETION OF REMEDIATION WORK

(130) SITE AUDIT STATEMENT - ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT PLAN

(a) Where ongoing suitability of the land and the issuance of the final Section A Site Audit Statement is dependent on the implementation of an Environmental Management Plan (EMP) or Long Term Environmental Management Plan (LTEMP) for managing residual contamination, the EMP must be approved by the Site Auditor. A copy of the approved EMP must be submitted to Council before the release of the final Site Audit Statement.

(b) The EMP must be prepared, or reviewed and approved, by an appropriately qualified and certified environmental consultant.

(c) The EMP must comply with the relevant EPA guidelines for Site Auditors. It must clearly describe the nature and location of the residual contamination, outline the long-term management and monitoring measures, identify responsible parties, and specify the legal mechanism by which the plan will be enforced.

(d) The EMP must also include a contingency plan detailing the actions to be taken in the event of failure of any containment or management systems for the residual contamination.

Reason

To ensure that contamination is appropriately managed.

(131) REGISTRATION OF COVENANT – EMP/LEMP

(a) Before the issue of any occupation certificate, the applicant must register a covenant on the land title under the Conveyancing Act 1919, indicating that contaminated material has been contained onsite. The covenant must nominate Council as the sole authority with the power to release, vary, or modify its terms.

(b) The covenant must bind the current and future registered owners to the ongoing responsibility for maintenance, monitoring, and rehabilitation works, as required under any active or passive Environmental Management Plan. This includes managing any encapsulated or residual contamination, preventing the discharge of contaminants, and undertaking any works required by the NSW EPA.

(c) A copy of the updated certificate of title, showing the registered covenant, must be submitted to Council and the Certifier before the issue of any Occupation certificate.

Reason

To ensure that contamination is appropriately managed.

STRATA SUBDIVISION

BEFORE ISSUE OF A STRATA CERTIFICATE

(132) STRATA SUBDIVISION – APPROVAL OF STRATA PLAN REQUIRED

(a) A separate application must be made to Council or an Registered Strata Certifier to obtain approval of the Strata Plan and issue of a Strata Certificate under the Strata Schemes Development Act 2015.

Reason

To ensure separate approval is obtained for approval of the Strata Plan.

(133) STRATA TITLE STORAGE AREAS

(a) All storage areas must form part of a residential or commercial strata unit in any future strata subdivision. No storage spaces are to have their own individual strata title.

Reason

To ensure the on-site storage spaces are not to be used other than by an occupant of tenant of the building and form part of a tenancy and prevent individual sale.

(134) BUILDING/STRATA MANAGEMENT STATEMENT

(a) A Building/Strata Management Statement should be prepared to adequately address the ongoing maintenance, upgrading, redevelopment and structural adequacy of the development to Council's satisfaction, and be submitted with any application for strata subdivision.

(b) The Building / Strata Management Statement must not prevail over any easement, restriction on the use of land, or positive covenant that benefits Council.

Reason

To ensure the orderly development of land.

(135) USE OF COMMON AREAS AND FACILITIES

Any common areas or common facilities must be available for the use all residents of the building and must be designated as common property on any future strata subdivision of the site, with no exclusive use rights.

Reason

To ensure designated areas within the residential development are maintained as common property.

SCHEDULE 2

PRESCRIBED CONDITIONS

The applicant must comply with all relevant conditions contained in Part 4, Division 2, Subdivision 1 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulation 2021 which apply to the development:

Refer to the NSW State legislation for full text of the clauses under Part 4, Division 2, Subdivision 1 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulation 2021. This can be accessed at: http://www.legislation.nsw.gov.au

GENERAL TERMS OF APPROVAL – TRANSPORT FOR NSW

(136) GENERAL CONDITIONS

(a) The applicant must comply with all Altrac Light Rail Partnership (Altrac) or any subsequent operator of Sydney Light Rail (Sydney Light Rail Operator) policies, rules and procedures when working in and about the Sydney Light Rail corridor;

(b) The applicant must comply with the requirements of T HR CI 12090 ST Air Space and External Developments version 1.0 and Development Near Rail Corridors and Busy Roads- Interim Guidelines;

(c) Activities of the applicant must not affect and/or restrict Sydney Light Rail operations without prior written agreement between the applicant, Transport for NSW (TfNSW), Altrac, and the Sydney Light Rail Operator, and it is a condition precedent that such written agreement must be obtained no later than two (2) months prior to the activity. Any requests for agreement are to include as a minimum the proposed duration, location, scope of works, and other information as required by the Sydney Light Rail Operator;

(d) The applicant must apply to Altrac and the Sydney Light Rail Operator for any required network shutdowns four (4) months prior to each individual required network shutdown event. Each request for network shutdown must include as a minimum the proposed shutdown dates, duration, location, scope of works, and other information as required by the Sydney Light Rail Operator. The Sydney Light Rail Operator may grant or refuse a request for network shutdown at its discretion;

(e) The applicant shall provide safe and unimpeded access for Sydney Light Rail patrons traversing to and from the Sydney Light Rail stops at all times;

(f) TfNSW, and persons authorised by it for this purpose, are entitled to inspect the site of the approved development and all structures to enable it to consider whether those structures on that site have been or are being constructed and maintained in accordance with these conditions of consent, on giving reasonable notice to the principal contractor for the approved development or the owner or occupier of the part of the site to which access is sought;

(g) During all stages of the development extreme care shall be taken to prevent any form of pollution entering the light rail corridor. Any form of pollution that arises as a consequence of the development activities shall remain the full responsibility of the applicant; and

(h) All TfNSW, Altrac and Sydney Light Rail Operator's costs associated with review of plans, designs and legal must be borne by the applicant.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on transport assets.

(137) PRIOR TO THE ISSUE OF THE CONSTRUCTION CERTIFICATE

(a) Review and endorsement of documents:

(i) Prior to the issue of any construction certificate or any preparatory, demolition or excavation works, whichever occurs first, the applicant should consult with TfNSW, Altrac and the Sydney Light Rail Operator to confirm the timing of each construction certificate and associated documentation and activities prior to the preparation of requested documentation.

(ii) The applicant should provide the information to TfNSW for review and endorsement.

(iii) The Principal Certifying Authority (PCA) is not to issue the relevant Construction Certificate until they have received written confirmation from TfNSW that the following conditions have been complied with.

(b) Prior to the issue of any Construction Certificates, the applicant is to confirm in writing with TfNSW what each Construction Certificate stage will involve;

(c) Prior to the issue of the relevant Construction Certificate, the applicant shall liaise with TfNSW to ascertain its requirements in relation to the protection of TfNSW's infrastructure. The applicant is to submit to TfNSW all relevant documentation as requested by TfNSW and obtain TfNSW's written endorsement; and

(d) Prior to the issue of any construction certificate or any preparatory, demolition or excavation works, whichever occurs first, the following documentation shall be provided for the TfNSW endorsement:

(i) Details of cranage including Cranage Swing (Radius) Plans and Cranage Collapse Plans;

(ii) Demolition plans;

(iii) Final geo-technical and structural report / drawings. Geotechnical reports should include any potential impact on the light rail corridor located adjacent to the subject development site, easement and substratum;

(iv) Final construction methodology with construction details pertaining to structural support during excavation or ground penetration. Any temporary components, for example, shoring systems, formwork and falsework, that are located such that their failure has the potential to affect rail infrastructure facilities or operations shall have a minimum service life of 10 years;

(v) Details of the vibration and movement monitoring system that will be in place before excavation commences;

(vi) Final cross sectional drawings showing ground surface, rail tracks, sub soil profile, proposed basement excavation and structural design of sub ground support adjacent to the Rail Corridor located adjacent to the subject development site. Cross sectional drawings should also include the accurate RL depths and horizontal distances from assets (tracks, overhead lines, structures and cables) to the nearest point of excavation or ground penetration works. All measurements are to be verified by a Registered Surveyor; and

(vii) Detailed survey plan.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on transport assets.

(138) PRE-CONSTRUCTION WORK DILAPIDATION REPORT

(a) A pre-construction work Dilapidation Report of the Sydney Light Rail and its assets shall be prepared by a qualified structural engineer. The dilapidation survey shall be undertaken via a joint site inspection by the representatives of the Sydney Light Rail Operator, TfNSW and the applicant.

(b) These dilapidation surveys will establish the extent of existing damage and enable any deterioration during construction to be observed.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on transport assets.

(139) REQUIRED REPORTS

(a) Acoustic Assessment

(i) Prior to the issue of the relevant Construction Certificate, the final acoustic assessment is to be submitted to PCA demonstrating how the proposed development will comply with the Department of Planning's document titled "Development Near Rail Corridors and Busy Roads- Interim Guidelines". All recommendations of the acoustic assessment are to be incorporated in the construction documentation.

(b) Electrolysis Analysis

(i) Prior to the issue of the relevant Construction Certificate, the applicant is to engage an Electrolysis Consultant to prepare a report on the Electrolysis Risk to the development from stray currents. The applicant must incorporate in the development all the measures recommended in the report to control that risk. A copy of the report is to be provided to the PCA with the application for the relevant Construction Certificate.

(c) Reflectivity Report

(i) Prior to the issue of the relevant Construction Certificate, the applicant shall design lighting, signs and surfaces with reflective materials, whether permanent or temporary, which are (or from which reflected light might be) visible from the rail corridor limiting glare and reflectivity to the satisfaction of Altrac, TfNSW and the Sydney Light Rail Operator.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on transport assets.

(140) BALCONIES AND WINDOWS

(a) Given the possible likelihood of objects being dropped or thrown onto the rail corridor from balconies, windows and other external features (eg roof terraces and external fire escapes) that are within 20 metres of, and face, the rail corridor, the development must have measures installed, to the satisfaction of TfNSW (eg awning windows, louvres, enclosed balconies, window restrictors etc) which prevent the throwing of objects onto the rail corridor or as otherwise agreed by TfNSW as per Technical Direction TD 00015:2023. The Principal Certifying Authority is not to issue the Construction Certificate until written confirmation has been received from TfNSW confirming that this condition has been satisfied.

(141) CONSULTATION REGIME

(a) Prior to the issue of the relevant Construction Certificate, a detailed regime is to be prepared for consultation with and approval by TfNSW for the excavation of the site and the construction of the building foundations (including ground anchors) for the approved development, which may include geotechnical and structural certification in the form required by TfNSW.

(142) INSURANCE REQUIREMENTS

(a) Prior to the issue of the relevant Construction Certificate, the applicant must hold current public liability insurance cover for a sum acceptable to TfNSW. TfNSW's standard public liability insurance requirement for this type of development adjacent to a rail corridor is minimum of $250M. This insurance shall not contain any exclusion in relation to works on or near the rail corridor, rail infrastructure. The applicant is to contact TfNSW to obtain the level of insurance required for this particular proposal. Prior to issuing the relevant Construction Certificate the PCA must witness written proof of this insurance in conjunction with TfNSW's written advice to the applicant on the level of insurance required.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on transport assets.

(143) WORKS DEED / AGREEMENTS

(a) Prior to the issue of any construction certificate or any preparatory, demolition or excavation works, whichever occurs first, if required by TfNSW, Works Deed (s) between the applicant, TfNSW and/or Altrac and the Sydney Light Rail Operator must be agreed and executed by the parties. These agreements may deal with matters including, but not limited to, the following:

(i) Sydney Light Rail Operational requirements;

(ii) Sydney Light Rail access requirements;

(iii) Altrac and Sydney Light Rail Operator policies, rules and procedures compliance requirements;

(iv) Indemnities and releases;

(v) Security of costs;

(vi) Insurance requirements and conditions;

(vii) TfNSW, Altrac and the Sydney Light Rail Operator's recovery of costs from the applicant for costs incurred by these parties in relation to the development (e.g. review of designs and reports, legal, shutdown /power outages costs including alternative transport, customer communications, loss of revenue etc) risk assessments and configuration change processes;

(viii) Interface coordination between the Sydney Light Rail Operator and the subject development construction works, including safety interface;

a. Interface Assess Deed Poll and Safety Interface Agreement between the applicant and the Sydney Light Rail Operator must be agreed and executed by the parties. This agreement may deal with matters including, but not limited to, the following:

b. Pre and post construction dilapidation reports;

c. The need for track possessions;

d. Review of the machinery to be used during excavation/ground penetration / construction works;

e. The need for track monitoring;

f. Design and installation of lights, signs and reflective material;

g. Endorsement of Risk Assessment/Management Plan and Safe Work Method Statements (SWMS);

h. Endorsement of plans regarding proposed craneage and other aerial operations;

i. Erection of scaffolding/hoarding;

j. Light Rail Operator's rules and procedures; and

k. Alteration of rail assets such as the OHW along of track and associated hoarding demarcation system, if undertaken by the applicant.

(ix) Altrac and the Sydney Light Rail Operator's reviews and impact assessment of the applicant's proposal, engineering design and construction works methodology on Sydney Light Rail Operations and assets;

(x) Attendance and participation in the construction works risk assessment of construction activities to be performed in, above, about, and/or below the Sydney Light Rail Corridor;

(xi) Arrangements for shutdowns and Sydney Light Rail restricted operations related costs attributed to the applicant; and

(xii) Sydney Light Rail site works access approval and access permit to work.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on transport assets.

(144) DURING CONSTRUCTION

(a) Construction vehicles shall not be stopped or parked on Hay Street adjacent to the proposed development at any time without prior approval of TfNSW;

(b) Safe Work Method Statement describes the specific hazards identified for the high risk construction work to be undertaken and the control measures shall be in place so the work is carried out safely including machinery to be used/operated especially tower cranes/mobile cranes with associated safety measures to be taken;

(c) All piling and excavation works are to be supervised by a geotechnical engineer experienced with such excavation projects;

(d) No rock anchors/bolts (temporary or permanent) are to be installed into the light rail corridor;

(e) No metal ladders, tapes and plant/machinery, or conductive material are to be used within 6 horizontal metres of any live electrical equipment unless a physical barrier such as a hoarding or structure provides separation;

(f) During all stages of the development extreme care shall be taken to prevent any form of pollution entering the light rail corridor. Any form of pollution that arises as a consequence of the development activities shall remain the full responsibility of the applicant;

(g) The applicant must mitigate all noise and vibration to the extent possible and provide vibration monitoring equipment and provide the results to the Sydney Light Rail Operator at intervals required by TfNSW and the Sydney Light Rail Operator, and immediately implement corrective actions in the event that the noise or vibration exceeds acceptable limits;

(h) Rainwater from the roof must not be projected and/or falling into the rail corridor/assets and must be piped down the face of the building which faces the rail corridor. Given the site's location next to the rail property, drainage from the development must be adequately disposed of/managed and not allowed to be discharged into the corridor unless prior approval has been obtained from TfNSW and the Sydney Light Rail Operator (or the delegated authority); and

(i) No scaffolding is to be used within 6 horizontal metres of the rail corridor unless prior written approval has been obtained from the Sydney Light Rail Operator and TfNSW and a physical barrier such as a hoarding or structure provides separation. To obtain approval the applicant will be required to submit details of the scaffolding, the means of erecting and securing this scaffolding, the material to be used, and the type of screening to be installed to prevent objects falling onto the rail corridor.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on transport assets.

(145) PRIOR TO THE ISSUE OF THE OCCUPATION CERTIFICATE

(a) Post-construction Dilapidation Report

(i) Prior to the Issue of the Occupation Certificate, a post-construction dilapidation survey shall be undertaken via a joint inspection with representatives from TfNSW, Altrac, the Sydney Light Rail Operator and the applicant. The dilapidation survey will be undertaken on the rail infrastructure and property in the vicinity of the project. These dilapidation surveys will establish the extent of any existing damage and enable any deterioration during construction to be observed.

(ii) The submission of a detailed dilapidation report to TfNSW and the Sydney Light Rail Operator will be required unless otherwise notified by TfNSW. The applicant needs to undertake rectification of any damage to the satisfaction of TfNSW and the Sydney Light Rail Operator and if applicable the local council.

(b) Reflectivity Report

(i) Prior to the Issue of the Occupation Certificate, the applicant shall demonstrate that lights, signs and reflective materials, whether permanent or temporary, which are (or from which reflected light might be) visible from the rail corridor were installed limiting glare and reflectivity to the satisfaction of TfNSW, Altrac and the Sydney Light Rail Operator.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on transport assets.

PRESCRIBED CONDITIONS – SYDNEY WATER

(146) SECTION 73 COMPLIANCE CERTIFICATE

(a) Prior to the issue of an Occupation/Subdivision Certificate:

(i) A compliance certificate must be obtained from Sydney Water, under Section 73 of the Sydney Water Act 1994. Our assessment will determine the availability of water and wastewater services, which may require extensions, adjustments, or connections to our mains. The compliance certificate also identifies any applicable Infrastructure Contribution charges. Make an early application for the certificate, as there may be assets to be built and this can take some time. A Section 73 Compliance Certificate must be obtained before an Occupation or Subdivision Certificate will be issued.

(ii) Applications can be made either directly to Sydney Water or through a Sydney Water accredited Water Servicing Coordinator. Go to the Sydney Water website or call 1300 082 746 to learn more about applying through an authorised WSC or Sydney Water.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on civil assets.

(147) BUILDING PLAN APPROVAL (INCLUDING TREE PLANTING GUIDELINES)

(a) Prior to the issue of a Construction Certificate/Complying Development Certificate:

(i) The plans must be approved by Sydney Water prior to demolition, excavation or construction works commencing. This allows Sydney Water to determine if sewer, water or stormwater mains or easements will be affected by any part of your development. Any amendments to plans will require re-approval. Please go to Sydney Water Tap in® to apply.

(ii) Sydney Water recommends developers apply for a Building Plan Approval early as to reduce unnecessary delays to further referrals or development timescales.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on civil assets.

(148) TREE PLANTING

(a) Certain tree species placed in proximity to Sydney Water's underground assets have the potential to inflict damage through invasive root penetration and soil destabilisation. Section 46 of the Sydney Water Act specifies what might occur when there is interference or damage to our assets caused by trees.

(b) For any trees proposed or planted that may cause destruction of, damage to or interference with our work and are in breach of the Sydney Water Act 1994, Sydney Water may issue an order to remove that tree or directly remove it and seek recovery for all loss and associated compensation for the removal.

(c) For guidance on types of trees that can cause damage or interference with our assets see Sydney Water webpage Wastewater blockages. For guidance on how to plant trees near our assets, see Diagram 5 – Planting Trees within Sydney Water's Technical guidelines – Building over and adjacent to pipe assets.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on civil assets.

(149) TRADE WASTEWATER REQUIREMENTS

(a) If this development is going to generate trade wastewater, the property owner must submit an application requesting permission to discharge trade wastewater to Sydney Water's sewerage system. You must obtain Sydney Water approval for this permit before any business activities can commence. It is illegal to discharge Trade Wastewater into the Sydney Water sewerage system without permission.

(b) The permit application should be emailed to Sydney Water's Business Customer Services at businesscustomers@sydneywater.com.au

(c) A Boundary Trap is required for all developments that discharge trade wastewater where arrestors and special units are installed for trade wastewater pre-treatment. If the property development is for Industrial operations, the wastewater may discharge into a sewerage area that is subject to wastewater reuse. Find out from Business Customer Services if this is applicable to your development.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on civil assets.

(150) BACKFLOW PREVENTION REQUIREMENTS

(a) Backflow is when there is unintentional flow of water in the wrong direction from a potentially polluted source into the drinking water supply.

(b) All properties connected to Sydney Water's supply must install a testable Backflow Prevention Containment Device appropriate to the property's hazard rating. Property with a high or medium hazard rating must have the backflow prevention containment device tested annually. Properties identified as having a low hazard rating must install a non-testable device, as a minimum.

(c) Separate hydrant and sprinkler fire services on non-residential properties, require the installation of a testable double check detector assembly. The device is to be located at the boundary of the property.

(d) Before you install a backflow prevention device:

(i) Get your hydraulic consultant or plumber to check the available water pressure versus the property's required pressure and flow requirements.

(ii) Conduct a site assessment to confirm the hazard rating of the property and its services. Contact PIAS at NSW Fair Trading on 1300 889 099.

(e) For installation you will need to engage a licensed plumber with backflow accreditation who can be found on the Sydney Water website: https://www.sydneywater.com.au/plumbing-building-developing/plumbing/backflowprevention.html

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on civil assets.

(151) CONTINGENCY PLAN RECOMMENDATIONS

(a) Under Sydney Water's customer contract Sydney Water aims to provide Business Customers with a continuous supply of clean water at a minimum pressure of 15meters head at the main tap. This is equivalent to 146.8kpa or 21.29psi to meet reasonable business usage needs.

(b) Sometimes Sydney Water may need to interrupt, postpone or limit the supply of water services to your property for maintenance or other reasons. These interruptions can be planned or unplanned.

(c) Water supply is critical to some businesses and Sydney Water will treat vulnerable customers, such as hospitals, as a high priority.

(d) Have you thought about a contingency plan for your business? Your Business Customer Representative will help you to develop a plan that is tailored to your business and minimises productivity losses in the event of a water service disruption.

(e) For further information please visit the Sydney Water website at: https://www.sydneywater.com.au/your-business/managing-trade-wastewater/commercialtrade-wastewater.html or contact Business Customer Services on 1300 985 227 or businesscustomers@sydneywater.com.au.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on civil assets.

PRESCRIBED CONDITIONS – AUSGRID

(152) AUSGRID UNDERGROUND CABLES

(a) Special care should be taken to ensure that driveways and any other construction activities do not interfere with existing underground cables located in the footpath or adjacent roadways.

(b) It is recommended that the developer locate and record the depth of all known underground services prior to any excavation in the area. Information regarding the position of cables along footpaths and roadways can be obtained by contacting Before You Dig Australia (BYDA).

(c) In addition to BYDA the proponent should refer to the following documents to support safety in design and construction:

  (i) SafeWork Australia – Excavation Code of Practice.

  (ii) Ausgrid's Network Standard NS156 which outlines the minimum requirements for working around Ausgrid's underground cables.

(d) The following points should also be taken into consideration:

  (i) Ausgrid cannot guarantee the depth of cables due to possible changes in ground levels from previous activities after the cables were installed.

  (ii) Should ground levels change above Ausgrid's underground cables in areas such as footpaths and driveways, Ausgrid must be notified, and written approval provided prior to the works commencing.

  (iii) Should ground anchors be required in the vicinity of Ausgrid underground cables, the anchors must not be installed within 300mm of any cable, and the anchors must not pass over the top of any cable.

Reason

To ensure works will not have any significant impacts on civil assets.

Clause 4.6 Variation Request - Height of Buildings

Clause 4.6 Variation Request

Maximum Building Height (Clause 4.3) Sydney LEP 2012

96-100 Hay Street, Haymarket

Prepared by Planning Lab

Issued 12 November 2025

planninglab.com.au

1 Introduction

This request to vary a development standard has been prepared in accordance with Clause 4.6 (cl 4.6) of Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 (SLEP 2012) which accompanies a Development Application (DA)) to partially demolish and retain the façade of the existing 3 storey commercial building and to erect a new 16 storey mixed use shop top housing podium and tower building, including a basement level (plant and services only), three podium levels of commercial premises use, residential bike parking and communal open space areas on Level 3, and 12 storeys of residential tower above comprising 20 x two-bedroom apartments and 2 x 3 bed penthouses, located at 96-100 Hay Street, Haymarket ('the site').

This request specifically seeks to vary the maximum 50m building height development standard contained in Clause 4.3 of SLEP 2012.

This request report should be read in conjunction with the Statement of Environmental Effects and other supporting technical documents that accompany the DA.

The objectives of cl 4.6 provide an appropriate degree of flexibility in applying development standards to achieve better outcomes for, and from, development.

This request has been prepared having regard to the following considerations:

- The Department of Planning and Environment's Guide to Varying Development Standards (November 2023);
- The objectives of Clause 4.3 of the SLEP 2012, being the development standard to which a variation is sought; and
- Relevant case law in the New South Wales Land and Environment Court and New South Wales Court of Appeal including Wehbe v. Pittwater Council [2007] NSWLEC 827.

This variation request provides an assessment of the development standard and the extent of variation proposed to the standard. The variation is then assessed in accordance with the principles set out in the Wehbe matter.

2 Clause 4.6 Exceptions to development standards

Clause 4.6(2) of the SLEP 2012 provides that development consent may be granted for development even though the development would contravene a development standard imposed by the SLEP 2012, or any other environmental planning instrument.

However, clause 4.6(3) states that development consent must not be granted for development that contravenes a development standard unless the consent authority has considered a written request from the applicant that seeks to justify the contravention of the development standard by demonstrating:

(a) that compliance with the development standard is unreasonable or unnecessary in the circumstance of the case, and

(b) there are sufficient environmental planning grounds to justify contravening the development standard.

In accordance with clause 4.6(3) the applicant requests that the maximum height of building development standard be varied.

3 What is the Environmental Planning Instrument (EPI) that applies to the land?

The Environmental Planning Instrument (EPI) to which this variation relates is Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 (SLEP 2012).

4 What is the zoning of the land?

5 What is the development standard being varied?

Clause 4.3 of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 provides that the height of a building on any land is not to exceed that shown for the land on the Height of Buildings Map. The site is affected by a maximum height of building of 50m, as shown below in Figure 2.

6 Is the development standard excluded from the operation of Clause 4.6 of the EPI?

Cl 4.6(2) states that development consent may be granted for development even though the development would contravene a development standard. However, this does not apply to a development standard that is specifically excluded under cl 4.6(8) of the SLEP 2012. Given the maximum building height development standard is not identified under subclause 4.6(8), it is therefore not specifically excluded from the operation of cl 4.6 of SLEP 2012.

7 The site and its context

7.1 The Site

The site is known as 96-100 Hay Street, Haymarket, comprising of three land parcels, 96 Hay Street (Lot 4, DP 261942), 98 Hay Street (Lot 5, DP 261942) and 100 Hay Street (Lot 6 DP 261942). The combined site area is 450.9m2. The site has frontages to Hay Street and Dixon Street and access to the rear from Kimber Lane.

The site's existing three storey commercial restaurant building forms part of a broader site development across the properties 90-100 Hay Street, which was constructed in 1911 by the then Sydney Municipal Council as the Municipal Markets and leased to various market store and business enterprises of the Chinese community. The basic form and facade of these buildings remain, but each have undergone extensive internal modifications.

The Emperor's Garden Restaurant was established within the subject building in 1979 and has become a popular dining location within Chinatown.

The Restaurant currently operates across the building's three levels:

- The ground floor contains the main restaurant dining area and commercial kitchen, as well as a bakery fronting Hay Street;
- Level 1 accommodates additional restaurant seating and includes a self-contained managers apartment; and
- Level 2 is utilised for a secondary kitchen and restaurant storage.

The site is located directly adjacent to the southernmost of the Chinatown Gates, a paifang (pailou in Cantonese) style gate installed in the 1970s, in Dixon Street, a pedestrianised thoroughfare. Dixon Street is regarded as the main pedestrian thoroughfare for Chinatown, and features a variety of Chinese restaurants, cafes and shops. In keeping with the area's historical connections to the Chinese community and the 1970s Chinatown movement, many of the heavily modified ground floor shopfronts in Dixon Street have incorporated references to traditional Chinese architectural forms including pagoda style upturned double eaves, glazed terracotta tiles, Chinese-style screens, bamboo details and the colour red.

7.2 Adjoining and Surrounding Context

The three storey, heritage listed, Covent Garden Hotel building is located on the opposite side of Dixon Street. Immediately adjoining to the north is a two storey commercial building located on the property, 71-73 Dixon Street. Adjoining to the west is Kimber Lane, which separates the neighbouring, three storey, commercial building at 90-94 Hay Street. The heritage listed, Market City and Paddy's Markets commercial operations are located opposite across Hay Street to the south, separated by a section of the Sydney Light Rail operations.

The surrounding blocks, bounded by Hay (south), Little Hay (north), Harbour (west) and Sussex Streets (east) contain relatively low scale forms of older, commercial buildings, ranging from 2 to 5 storeys, which provide the primary commercial and hospitality focus of this southern section of Chinatown. These blocks are also characterised by a smaller allotment pattern, with fragmented ownership.

Despite the relatively low scale of the existing buildings, this block has been the subject of some recent development approvals that exceed the maximum 50m LEP building height control, highlighting the emerging redevelopment pattern in this area anticipated by Council's planning controls:

- D/2020/1386 – 413-415 Sussex Street and 82-84 – Dixon Street: approval to demolish the existing Dixon House, retain and upgrade commercial building (82-84 Dixon Street), and erect a new 17 storey mixed use building containing student accommodation and podium retail, including building height variations of 5m (55m) for the main envelope, and 9.75m (59.75m) for roof top plant and lift overruns.
- D/2022/184 – 417-419 Sussex Street – approval to demolish and existing 2 storey commercial building and erect a 13 storey commercial building, including a building height variation of 2.94m (52.94m) for roof top plant and lift overrun.

- D/2024/1066 – 683-689 George Street Haymarket: approval for the construction and use of a 13 storey commercial office building including building height variation of 5m (55m).

To the north, north-west and north-east of this site, there has been significant, contemporary, mixed-use redevelopments, up to a height 15-20 storeys:

- To the north, on the opposite side of Little Hay Street, is the 12 storey, mixed use, Furama Hotel and retail building (68 Harbour Street) and 17 storey mixed use building (49-53 Dixon Street);
- To the north-west, on the western side of Harbour Street is the substantive, State Significant Development precinct known as Darling Square, which is subject to the planning controls of the SEPP (Precincts-Eastern Harbour City) 2021; and
- To the north-east, on the eastern side of Sussex Street, a number of emerging mixed tower redevelopments in the block bounded by George Street.

7.3 Current and Emerging Chinatown/Haymarket Planning Policies

The site is not identified as a heritage item or located within a Heritage Conservation Area under SLEP 2012 but is located within the Chinatown/ Haymarket Special Character Area (identified in Section 5 of the Sydney DCP 2012).

However, the City of Sydney Council has recently progressed significant strategic planning and policy initiatives for the conservation and revitalisation of the Area.

An important driver and guiding influence on these initiatives is the Haymarket and Chinatown Revitalisation Strategy, adopted by Council in December 2023. The Strategy was prepared in response to the economic challenges that the Haymarket and Chinatown areas had been facing, such as the emerging competition from suburban East Asian precincts, limited investment in renewal, and a changing audience with different expectations, and the further impacts of the Covid-19 pandemic. The Strategy was formulated through an extensive community consultation process and evidence-based, economic and heritage studies. The resulting feedback identified:

> 'Local residents, workers and visitors have expressed that they would like to see Haymarket revive and become a vibrant and bustling place that celebrates diverse Asian cultures, a place that preserves its history and character while embracing contemporary forms of cultural expression'.

Two actions of the adopted Strategy that are most relevant to the subject proposal are:

- Encourage Fine Grain Renewal: recognising the constraints on the current maximum streetwall height of 15m, and 8m setback above, and consideration of raising the streetwall heights in the special character area (except for Dixon Street) up to 35m to 45m; and
- Recognise Cultural Heritage: the advancement of heritage item listings as potentially having cultural significance, particularly historic and social value linked to the Chinese community, including 96-100 Hay Street.

Arising from the adopted Strategy, the following new planning controls have been advanced:

SLEP 2012 Draft Amendments

- It was resolved at the 14 November 2024 meeting of the Central Sydney Planning Committee to publicly a Planning Proposal, involving an amendment to Schedule 5 of SLEP 2012 to add three Chinatown buildings, 50-54 Dixon Street, 75-77 Ultimo Road and 90-100 Hay Street (including the subject site 96-100 Hay Street), based on the investigation findings:
    - 'The building at 90-100 Hay Street was constructed as municipal stores for the markets and were occupied by Chinese Australian firms which played a role in pioneering the processes of the banana and commercial vegetable growing industries in Australia. It meets the threshold for local significance in terms of its historic significance, historical association, aesthetic / creative / technical achievement, social, cultural and spiritual, research potential and rare attributes.'
- The public exhibition of this draft Planning Proposal was undertaken between 18 August 2025 to 15 September 2025 and is expected to be reported back to Council in November 2025.

SDCP 2012 Housekeeping Amendments

- At the 23 June 2025 Council Meeting it was resolved to adopt amendments to the Sydney DCP 2012, and Section 5 built form controls for the Haymarket/Chinatown Special Character Area. The Section 5 amendments does not affect the existing maximum streetwall height of 15m, and 8m setback above that apply to the subject site, 96-100 Hay Street. Council resolved that the DCP amendments would not take effect until the gazettal of concurrent housekeeping amendments to SLEP 2012, which is due to occur before 28 November 2025.

The proponents of this DA have been monitoring the progress of these new planning controls and have sought Pre-Lodgement advice from Council to ensure that the current proposal is consistent with these emerging controls.

The subject site is located within close proximity to light rail and train services. Central Station is located an approximately 9-minute walk which accommodates intercity, interstate, and city lines. Light rail lines and stops located along George Street and Hay Street. The Paddy's Market stop, and Capitol Square light rail stops are located less than 200m of the site.

8 Extent of Variation to the Development Standard

This Variation Request accompanies a DA to partially demolish and retain the Hay Street and Dixon Street façades of the existing 3 storey commercial building and to erect a new 16 storey mixed use shop top housing podium and tower building, including a basement level (plant and services only), three podium levels of commercial premises use, residential bike parking and communal open space areas on Level 3, and 12 storeys of residential tower above comprising 20 two-bedroom apartments and two 3 bed penthouses, located at 96-100 Hay Street, Haymarket ('the site').

This request specifically seeks to vary the maximum building height development standard contained in Clause 4.3 of SLEP 2012.

The Variation Request applies to the 50m maximum building height control of SLEP 2012.

As identified in the axonometric plan below, the highest point of the building measured above the existing ground level is 54.87m, which exceeds the LEP's maximum 50m building height limit, a variation margin of 4.87m, or 9.74%.

9 Clause 4.6(3)(a) Is compliance with the development standard unreasonable or unnecessary in the circumstances of the case?

Clause 4.6(3)(a) of the SLEP 2012 requires that the request to vary a development standard demonstrate that compliance with the development standard is unnecessary or unreasonable in the circumstances of the case.

Historically the most commonly used way to establish that a development standard was unreasonable or unnecessary was the satisfaction of the first test of the alternative five tests established in Wehbe v Pittwater Council [2007] NSWLEC 827 which requires that the objectives of the standard are achieved notwithstanding the non-compliance with the standard.

In Wehbe at [42] – [51] and repeated in Initial Action Pty Ltd v Woollahra Municipal Council [2018] NSWLEC 118 at [17]-[21] the Chief Judge identified five alternative ways in which an applicant might establish that compliance with a development standard is unreasonable or unnecessary and that it is sufficient for only one of these ways to be established.

Although Wehbe concerned a SEPP 1 objection, it remains relevant to requests under clause 4.6 (as confirmed by Preston CJ in Initial Action at [16]).

The five potential methods established under Wehbe are that:

1. the objectives of the development standard are achieved notwithstanding non-compliance with the standard;

2. the underlying objective or purpose is not relevant to the development with the consequence that compliance is unnecessary;

3. the objective would be defeated or thwarted if compliance was required with the consequence that compliance is unreasonable;

4. the development standard has been virtually abandoned or destroyed by the Council's actions in granting consents departing from the standard and hence the standard is unreasonable; or,

5. the zoning of the land is unreasonable or inappropriate.

The five ways are not exhaustive, and it may be sufficient to establish only one to satisfy cl 4.6(3)(a).

For completeness, this request addresses the first of the five alternative tests established - in Wehbe v Pittwater Council [2007] NSWLEC 827, followed by a concluding position which demonstrates that compliance with the development standard is unreasonable and unnecessary in the circumstances of the case.

9.1 the objectives of the standard are achieved notwithstanding non-compliance with the standard;

Compliance with the floor space ratio development standard is unreasonable or unnecessary in the circumstances of this case because, as explained in Table 1 (below), the objectives of the development standard are achieved, notwithstanding non-compliance with the standard.

Demonstrating that the proposal will have no adverse amenity impacts is, therefore, one way of showing consistency with the objectives of a development standard.

Table 1: Achievement of Development Standard Objectives

Objective	Discussion
(a) to ensure the height of development is appropriate to the condition of the site and its context,	Section 7 of this report provides a detailed analysis of the subject site and its context. This analysis identified that Council's existing and emerging broader Strategy and LEP and DCP controls seek to achieve a balance between conserving the more significant historical and cultural elements of the Chinatown/ Haymarket Special Character Area, whilst providing the incentive for medium to high rise mixed commercial and residential buildings, as a catalyst for the economic and cultural revitalisation of this strategically important part of the City of Sydney. SLEP 2012 provides the subject site and the surrounding precinct with a maximum building height of 50m, complemented by the podium height and tower setbacks of SDCP 2012 for the Chinatown/ Haymarket Special Character Area. The proposed building height of 54.87m (a variation of 4.87m or 9.74% of the LEP maximum) is considered appropriate in the context of the scale and density envisaged by Council for this precinct, as evident by Council's recent approval of similar height variations for the redevelopment of nearby properties, 413-415 Sussex Street and 82-84 – Dixon Street, 417-419 Sussex Street and 683-689 George Street. The proposed building height is also considered appropriate in terms of the consistency of its built form profile and massing with the design controls of the SDCP 2012, as well as the retention of the Hay and Dixon Streets façades of the existing commercial building.

Objective	Discussion
(b) to ensure appropriate height transitions between new development and heritage items and buildings in heritage conservation areas or special character areas,	As identified in (a) above, the proposed mixed use podium and tower building at a height of 54.87m, inclusive of the retention of the Hay and Dixon Streets façades of the existing commercial building, achieves an appropriate balance between maintaining a respectful arrangement with the street level history and character of the Chinatown/Haymarket area, whilst also contributing to the revitalization and activation of commercial and residential activity envisaged by Council's current and emerging planning controls for this area. The building height and design further complements the site context in terms of visual impact, privacy and solar access. Urbis has conducted an extensive assessment of the heritage significance of this site and the potential impacts of the proposed development through the following accompanying reports: • Heritage Impact Statement • Historical Archaeological Report • Aboriginal Objects Due Diligence Assessment Report Each of these 3 reports identify that the site currently has no physical heritage significance, but rather a social heritage significance documented in the current Draft Planning Proposal, and conclude that the proposed development is suitable to proceed, subject to recommended actions to be implemented as part of the post DA and operational phases.
(c) to promote the sharing of views outside Central Sydney,	No significant or iconic view corridors from surrounding buildings or public places have been identified that would be impacted by the proposal. The scale of the building is compatible in relation to the surrounding built form and the site will be surrounded by both existing and recently approved buildings that already block any extensive district views.
(d) to ensure appropriate height transitions from	Extensive strategic planning and urban design analysis has been undertaken by the City of Sydney in recent years to ensure that the current LEP and DCP height and built form controls provide a suitable scale of incentive to revitalise and

Central Sydney and Green Square Town Centre to adjoining areas,	restore the commercial and cultural attractions of the Haymarket/Chinatown Special Character Area. Whilst the subject site is located on the south-western fringe of Central Sydney, it is considered that the proposed minor variation of the LEP maximum 55m building height will maintain consistency with this objective through the following design elements identified in the Design Verification Statement that accompanies this DA: The building's scale is guided by its surrounding context, CBD location and development controls applicable to the site such as the tower setback to Dixon Street Pedestrian Mall. The tower, positioned above the existing podium, draws on the architectural character of the original building by aligning with its key structural forms. This allows for development to occur which is both contextual whilst also responding to the immediate urban context. By maintaining the podium's height, scale and rhythm, the original street wall (including 90, 92and 94 Hay Street as well as the heritage listed Covent Garden Hotel at 102-108 Hay St) is able to maintain prominence, and read as the defining edge of the streetscape wall. The setbacks to the tower gives primacy to this podium element, mitigating impacts of scale. The tower's proportion, setbacks and the formal alignments to the heritage podium provide a contemporary counterpoint to this CBD gateway.
(e) in respect of Green Square— (i) to ensure the amenity of the public domain by restricting taller buildings to only part of a site, and (ii) to ensure the built form contributes to	Not Applicable.

Objective	Discussion
the physical definition of the street network and public spaces.

Compliance with the maximum building height development standard is unreasonable or unnecessary in the circumstances of this case because the objectives of the standard are achieved, and the non-compliance will not result in any major adverse environmental impacts.

The requirements of clause 4.6(3)(a) of the SLEP 2012 are therefore satisfied.

10 Clause 4.6(3)(b) Are there any sufficient environmental planning grounds to justify contravening the development standard?

In Initial Action Pty Ltd v Woollahra Municipal Council [2018] NSWLEC 118 the Land and Environment Court (Preston CJ) said that:

- for there to be 'sufficient' environmental planning grounds to justify a written request under clause 4.6, the focus must be on the aspect or element of the development that contravenes the development standard and the environmental planning grounds advanced in the written request must justify contravening the development standard, not simply promote the benefits of carrying out the development as a whole; and

- there is no basis in clause 4.6 to establish a test that the non-compliant development should have a neutral or beneficial effect relative to a compliant development.

As identified earlier in Section 8 of this report, this Clause 4.6 request specifically seeks to vary the 50m maximum building height development standard contained in Clause 4.3 of SLEP 2012.

The highest point of the proposed building measured above the existing ground level is 54.87m, which exceeds the LEP's maximum 50m building height limit, a variation margin of 4.87m, or 9.74%.

This section of the Clause 4.6 Variation Request report is required to focus on the extent of environmental impacts specifically related to the proposed components of height variations.

As identified in the accompanying architectural plans and shown below, the area of the building that exceeds the maximum 50m height limit is comprised of the upper level of proposed residential apartment 14.01 (Level 15) and servicing facility areas enclosed within the upper building parapet.

It is considered that these areas of maximum height exceedance will have minimal environmental impacts for the following reasons:

Overshadowing

The architectural plans that accompany the application provide the following shadow diagrams:

The most immediate area of publicly accessible open space is the adjoining section of the Dixon Street pedestrian mall.

As identified in the shadow diagrams, the main shadows generated by the proposal are to the south, south-east and south-west, and do not impact on the Dixon Street mall in mid winter.

In terms of potential impacts on the adjoining buildings with frontage to Hay Street, and buildings on the opposite side of Hay Street to the south, given the tall buildings to the north of the subject site, Hay Street and these buildings opposite (including the large commercial Paddys Markets building) are already significantly overshadowed in the mid-winter period, with only limited additional overshadowing created by the proposed mixed-use building. The proposed height exceedance contributes only a minor extent to this impact.

The minor overshadowing of the public realm caused by the development is consistent with what can reasonably be expected by a development located within the Sydney CBD and that is generally consistent with the core planning controls for the site.

Heritage and Special Character Area

The site is not listed as a heritage item nor is it located within a Heritage Conservation Area. It is however located in the vicinity of several locally listed heritage items as listed by the LEP 2012, including the following:

- Former Kwong War Chong & Co building (I12293) – also listed on the State Heritage Inventory (SHR item 02089)
- Former Burlington Hotel including interior (I865);
- King George Hotel (I832);
- Covent Garden Hotel including interior (I853);
- Haymarket Post Office (I831);
- Westpac Bank including interior (I1834);
- National Australia Bank (I833).

The site is located within the Chinatown/ Haymarket Special Character Area (identified in Section 5 of the Sydney DCP 2012.

It was resolved at the 14 November 2024 meeting of the Central Sydney Planning Committee to publicly a Planning Proposal, involving an amendment to Schedule 5 of SLEP 2012 to add three Chinatown buildings, including 90-100 Hay Street.

Urbis has conducted an extensive assessment of the heritage significance of this site and the potential impacts of the proposed development through the following accompanying reports:

- Heritage Impact Statement
- Historical Archaeological Report
- Aboriginal Objects Due Diligence Assessment Report

Each of these 3 reports identify that the site currently has no physical heritage significance, but rather a social heritage significance documented in the current Draft Planning Proposal, and conclude that the proposed development is suitable to proceed, subject to recommended actions to be implemented as part of the post DA and operational phases.

Of particular design merit, the proposed refurbishment of the existing podium facades, including reinstating and upgrading fenestration to original details, will maintain and upgrade existing commercial premises offerings sustaining the Haymarket / Chinatown Special Character Area.

In light of this assessment, it is considered that the area of exceeded height will not adversely impact on the heritage significance and special character of this part of the Haymarket/Chinatown area.

Privacy Impacts

As part of their Design Verification Statement, Candalepas Associates puts forward the following further justification for the setback variations and consistency with the Apartment Design Guide 3F-1 Objective in terms of visual privacy impacts:

> The windows of habitable spaces detailed in the proposal generally meet the criteria of this control.
> The primary openings of the habitable rooms are oriented towards the east, south and west. There are no north facing openings.
> To the east, an 8m setback within the site boundary is imposed, providing sufficient privacy protection from Dixon Street as well as buildings across Dixon Street.
> To the south, an existing distance in excess of 20m from the building across Hay Street provides sufficient privacy protect from it. Metal mesh screens will be installed in front of the lower portions of the operable windows, allowing natural ventilation while protecting privacy from pedestrian onlookers on Hay Street.
> To the west, in anticipation of a possible future neighbouring development on 90-94 Hay Street, privacy screens and louvres will be installed on the western facade. It is noted that these windows will not meet the visual privacy separation controls and fixed screening is offered in lieu of this compliance which is considered appropriate given the existing established city grid.

The same design principles of the above assessment have been applied to the exceeded height area of proposed residential apartment 14 01 on Level 15 to minimise any visual privacy impacts for both the new apartment residents and the residents of surrounding residential uses.

View Impacts

As identified earlier in this report, no significant or iconic view corridors from surrounding buildings or public places have been identified that would be impacted by the proposal. The scale of the building is compatible in relation to the surrounding built form and the site will be surrounded by both existing and recently approved buildings that already block any extensive district views.

it is considered that the area of exceeded height will have minimal adverse impacts on the views from adjoining properties or the public domain.

Visual Impacts

Careful attention has been given by Candalepas Associates to provide a building envelope and form that achieves design excellence and is consistent with the objectives of Council's LEP and DCP, particularly in terms of the site's context both in its overall siting, massing and materiality as well as by use.

The tower form is aligned to the Hay Street frontage with a 3m vertical offset between podium and tower. The tower is further setback from the Dixon Street frontage allowing the podium form to take primacy and connect directly to its immediate neighbours.

The Design Verification Report highlights the strong visual design character of the proposed building:

> This detailed development application considers the significance of what is there (the significant masonry brick construction) as a means to inspire the tower above.
> With regard to the existing building, the facade is proposed to be retained and revitalised. At the ground level the non-original granite elements and aluminum windows are proposed to be removed, and re-pointed brickwork with timber windows and doors are proposed. At levels 1, 2 and the podium roof, windows and brickwork are to be repaired as required as a means to re-instate the architectural character of the existing building. As part of these works, the non-original paint and signage is proposed to be removed.
> The tower form is referential to the geometry and materiality of the existing podium. The buttressing and window bays of the brick structure are reinterpreted in the new tower, forming a robust corner expression that provides occupants with dynamic views, natural light, and ventilation. The solidity of brickwork and off-form and precast panels gives way to the anodised aluminium and reflective glazing of the tower. Deep reveals and shadow gaps retain the proportional rigour of the grid, while responding to the tower's place as a civic landmark and gateway to the Chinatown precinct.
> The material palette shown is formulated around both long lasting and natural materials. This is seen to compliment the adjacent masonry heritage buildings as well as speaking to more lasting and substantive human values.

The height exceedance of the upper level residential unit and enclosed services parapet contributes to the appropriate building form sought by Council's LEP and DCP urban design controls, and therefore creates no adverse visual impacts.

Sustainable Design

As identified in the Candalepas Associates Design Verification Statement, the following passive and sustainable design elements have been incorporated:

> A high level of residential amenity is achieved through the orientation of the apartments' key habitable spaces (including the living rooms and private open space) to the eastern street frontages. All apartments receive directs unlight to their balconies and living spaces in the middle of winter. Amenity is also created by the provision of a number of dual aspect apartments. This dual aspect allows for high levels of light and air penetration into the habitable areas. All apartments achieve good district views.

Consideration has been given to wind velocities at height, with recessed ventilation openings moderating the flow of air and allowing ventilation to be maintained during inclement weather.

The exceeded height area of the residential apartment on Level 15 incorporates these same sustainable design qualities, whilst solar panels are provided above the enclosed parapet area.

On that basis, it is considered that the exceeded height areas contribute to a sustainable building for.

Pedestrian Environment Wind Impacts

Windtech have prepared both a Pedestrian Wind Environment Assessment report and Addendum Letter to accompany this application.

This assessment concludes that the architectural design will result in suitable wind conditions within the Ground Level trafficable areas and will comply with the relevant DCP controls for wind comfort and safety.

On that basis, it is considered that the proposed exceeded height area will have minimal impact on the pedestrian wind environment of this building and its surrounding public domain.

11 Conclusion

Strict compliance with the maximum building height development standard contained within clause 4.3 of the SLEP 2012 has been found to be unreasonable and unnecessary in the circumstances of the case. There are sufficient environmental planning grounds to justify the proposed variation. In this regard, it is reasonable and appropriate to vary the maximum building height development standard to the extent proposed. The proposed development is consistent with the objectives of the zone and the Secretary's concurrence is to be assumed.

Please accept this note as my objection to this proposal. The buildings in question whilst in some disrepair , are highly significant to both heritage and streetscape. Chinatown will not be Chinatown if this proposal proceeds.

The buildings should be retained and the streetscape preserved

To whom it may concern,
We are writing this email to express our concerns with regards to the proposed development of the construction of a new 16 storey tower,
We are strongly against having such a development built in such close proximity to our apartment. As we reside at unit 908/88 Hay Street Haymarket, on the top floor. This development will block our views, and this was a sole reason we purchased our property to begin with. This development will impose on our privacy and impact our property value. The proposed development will only be 1 property adjacent to ours. It will severely change the entire demographic of what we know as China Town. There will be increased noise and Haymarket is already a densely populated area.
Thank you for your time in this matter.
Kind regards
Rebecca Duong

Dear City of Sydney Planning Team,
I am writing to formally express my strong objection to the proposed apartment development in Haymarket. While I understand the city's need for growth, this particular project raises significant concerns relating to amenity loss, environmental disruption, and overdevelopment in an already densely populated precinct.
1. Severe Loss of Amenity and Natural Light
The proposed development will directly block the existing line of sight, natural light, and ventilation currently available to surrounding residences. Haymarket is already characterized by closely spaced buildings, and any further increase in bulk and height will materially diminish residents' quality of life.
The planned structure dramatically exceeds what is reasonable for the area's carrying capacity.
2. Environmental Disruption – Local Wildlife Impact
Our building currently provides habitat and perching space for a number of urban bird species, including local vultures/kites (adjust if needed). The proposed construction would remove an important resting and observation point that these birds rely on. High-rise developments can significantly disrupt urban ecosystem patterns, especially flight paths and feeding behaviours.
Sydney has made strong commitments to biodiversity and sustainable urban design, and allowing this project to proceed contradicts these priorities by further erasing the few remaining micro-habitats in the CBD.
3. Increased Noise, Congestion, and Safety Risks Haymarket is already facing intense pressure from:
heavy foot traffic
ongoing construction works high vehicle congestion limited open space
Adding another major residential tower will amplify noise pollution, reduce pedestrian safety, and escalate demand on local infrastructure that is already strained.
4. Overdevelopment Concerns
This proposal reflects a pattern of excessive densification in the Haymarket precinct. Without stricter controls on building height, shadow impact, and spacing, the area risks becoming overcrowded and architecturally inconsistent.
The City of Sydney's own planning principles stress the importance of preserving sightlines, solar access, and green corridors—this development directly undermines all three.
Request for Action
I respectfully urge the City of Sydney to: reject the current proposal in its existing form, or require significant amendments that reduce height, massing, and environmental impact, preserving both the liveability of current residents and the ecological balance of the area.
I appreciate your attention to this matter and trust that the City will uphold its commitment to thoughtful, sustainable, and community-focused planning.
Kind regards,
John Duong

Hi Adrian,

I am writing as a current owner and resident living in the Haymarket to formally object to the development application for the proposed high-rise building at 96 Hay Street HAYMARKET NSW 2000.

1. Loss of Existing Views and Natural Light
The height and bulk of the proposed structure would severely block existing views and reduce natural light for surrounding buildings. This will directly diminish the amenity and liveability of current homes, many of which were purchased with these views as a key consideration.

2. Increased Traffic Congestion
Additional residents, delivery vehicles, and visitors will place further strain on an already congested road network in the CBD. Current peak-hour traffic is already challenging, and the proposed development offers no practical solutions to manage the anticipated increase in vehicle movements.

3. Safety and Security Concerns
A significant surge in population density may lead to increased foot traffic and anonymous movement through previously quiet areas. This raises concerns about theft, property damage, and unprovoked incidents, particularly at night when access points and laneways are poorly monitored.

4. Detrimental Impact on Neighbourhood Character

The height and design of the building are inconsistent with the existing streetscape. Introducing another oversized tower risks overshadowing smaller heritage or low-rise buildings and eroding the character that currently defines this part of the CBD.

5. Construction Impacts

Extended construction periods will likely result in significant noise pollution, dust, reduced air quality, and road closures. For residents living in very close proximity, this will have a substantial and prolonged negative effect on daily life.

For these reasons, I strongly urge the council to reject the development application or request substantial amendments that meaningfully address these concerns.

Thank you for considering the views of the existing community. I would appreciate being kept informed of any updates regarding this proposal.

Kelvin

I object to the DA on the following grounds.

The following false statement appears on pages 22-23 of the Clause 4.6 Variation Request:

"In terms of potential impacts on the adjoining buildings with frontage to Hay Street, and buildings on the opposite side of Hay Street to the south, given the tall buildings to the north of the subject site, Hay Street and these buildings opposite (including the large commercial Paddys Markets building) are already significantly overshadowed in the mid-winter period, with only limited additional overshadowing created by the proposed mixed-use building. The proposed height exceedance contributes only a minor extent to this impact."

According to the 21 June at 12 noon overshadowing diagram on page 22 of the same document, the above statement is mistaken. The proposed new development is thesole cause of the 12 noon overshadowing of the podium area of the residential building at The Peak apartments, 2 Quay St, Haymarket. This area contains a communal garden and recreation facilities used by residents and guests of the 377 apartments in The Peak. If the new development proceeds without modification, and in particular if it reaches 50m height, there will be no time of day on 21 June in which the podium area isn't overshadowed by one or more buildings.

I therefore submit that not only should the new development not be allowed to exceed 50m height; it shouldn't be approved to be of a height which overshadows the Peak's podium area at 12 noon on 21 June.

Additional shadow modelling is required to calculate what lower height that would be.

Dear Assessing Officer,

Please find attached my formal objection to D/2025/1144 for 96 Hay Street, Haymarket.

I am the owner and resident of 88 Hay Street, approximately 50 metres west of the site. My building is 9 storeys and all east-facing apartments (Levels 1 9) rely solely on morning sunlight. The proposed 16-storey tower directly east of us will significantly reduce or eliminate this solar access.

As set out in my attached submission, the DA:

- Fails to assess overshadowing impacts on my building, contrary to SDCP 2012, the ADG and SEPP Housing 2021
- Relies on a Clause 4.6 height variation that is not properly justified
- Results in substantial heritage and character loss in Chinatown/Haymarket
- Provides inadequate sustainability measures
- Proceeds on preliminary geotechnical advice and a preliminary CMP which do not address key risks to neighbouring buildings.

For these reasons, I request that the City of Sydney refuse the DA in full.

Please confirm receipt of my submission and include me in any future notifications or reports relating to this application. Thank you.

Kind regards,
Vivien Tang

Formal Objection – D/2025/1144, 96 Hay Street Haymarket (REFUSAL REQUESTED)

Dear Assessing Officer,

I am the owner and resident of 88 Hay Street, located approximately 50 metres west of the subject site. My building is 9 storeys, and every east-facing dwelling from Levels 1–9 relies entirely on morning sunlight. The proposed 16-storey tower directly east of us will eliminate or severely reduce this essential sunlight. The DA documents do not assess this impact.

Based on evidence contained within the DA itself and the relevant statutory controls, I respectfully request that the City of Sydney REFUSE the development application in full.

1. Overshadowing omission – DA evidence and government controls

The DA repeatedly discusses overshadowing impacts only in relation to buildings and public domain to the south, south-east and south-west. It does not properly assess the overshadowing of existing residential buildings directly west of the site, including my 9-storey building at 88 Hay Street, despite it being the primary overshadowed receiver in the morning sun path.

Government requirements

Sydney Development Control Plan (SDCP) 2012 – Solar access

"New development must not reduce the solar access of existing development below a minimum of 2 hours of sunlight between 9am and 3pm at mid-winter."

"Development applications are to include diagrams that show the shadow impact of the proposal at 9am, 12 noon and 3pm at mid-winter on adjoining properties."
(SDCP 2012, Section 4.2.2 Solar Access, p.23)

Apartment Design Guide (ADG)

"The design of the building must consider the overshadowing of neighbouring properties to ensure reasonable amenity is maintained."
(ADG, Section 3.2.1 Solar and daylight access)

SEPP (Housing) 2021

"Development must demonstrate that overshadowing of existing dwellings has been minimised and does not result in unreasonable loss of sunlight."
(SEPP Housing 2021, Solar Access principles)

DA evidence

- The Clause 4.6 Height Variation report describes overshadowing as affecting "buildings and the public domain to the south, south-east and south-west", and relies on this to argue the height breach causes only "minor" additional impact. It does not identify or quantify overshadowing to 88 Hay Street or any other residential receivers to the west.
- The Statement of Environmental Effects (SEE) discusses solar access in general terms and focuses on proposed apartments, without providing the required mid-winter shadow diagrams for my building.
- The shadow diagrams submitted with the DA do not clearly assess solar access loss to 88 Hay Street, even though it lies directly west and has east-facing only apartments.

As a result, the DA fails to demonstrate compliance with SDCP, ADG and SEPP requirements for protecting solar access to existing dwellings, and completely omits the impact on an entire existing 9-storey residential building.

2. Height breach (Clause 4.6) – inconsistent and unjustified

The proposal exceeds the 50m maximum building height under the Sydney LEP 2012. The Clause 4.6 variation request states that the tower reaches approximately RL 54.87m, representing a significant departure from the height standard.

The justification depends heavily on the claim that environmental impacts, including overshadowing, are "minor" and acceptable. That conclusion is not reliable, because the overshadowing assessment has not considered 88 Hay Street or other west-facing residential buildings.

Government requirements

Sydney LEP 2012 – Building height objective

> "To ensure that the height of buildings is appropriate to the character, amenity and environmental capacity of the site and its surrounding area."
> (Sydney LEP 2012, Clause 4.3(1)(a))

Clause 4.6 of the LEP requires that:

1. Compliance with the development standard is unreasonable or unnecessary in the circumstances; and
2. There are sufficient environmental planning grounds to justify contravening the standard, including that the proposal will not result in unacceptable adverse impacts.

DA evidence

- The Clause 4.6 report contends that the additional height will not cause unacceptable impacts, on the basis that overshadowing allegedly falls on areas "already overshadowed" to the south.
- Because overshadowing of 88 Hay Street or other west-facing residential buildings is not assessed at all, the report does not demonstrate that the increased height has no significant adverse impact on existing residential amenity.

A 16-storey building directly east of a 9-storey residential building, removing or significantly reducing its morning sunlight, is not consistent with the LEP objective of protecting amenity. The variation request therefore does not satisfy the Clause 4.6 tests and should not be supported.

3. Heritage demolition / facadism

The site forms part of the former Municipal Markets complex and the DA acknowledges that 90–100 Hay Street is subject to a planning proposal to be listed as a local heritage item under Sydney LEP 2012.

Government requirements

SDCP 2012 – Chinatown / Haymarket Special Character Area

> "Development is to maintain the low-scale traditional character and reinforce the fine grain pattern of buildings in Chinatown."
> (SDCP 2012, Chinatown and Haymarket character controls)

DA evidence

- The DA's Reflectivity Assessment and design documentation describe the works as "retention of the existing façades to Hay and Dixon Streets and demolition of all remaining non-heritage buildings on the site."
- The Structural Engineering Report explains that the existing masonry walls will be temporarily propped and then tied to a new concrete frame, and explicitly notes that the existing walls will not be load-bearing in the final configuration.

In practical terms, the proposal amounts to facadism: the heritage building is reduced to a thin skin in front of a much taller tower. This outcome conflicts with the SDCP's intent to maintain low-scale traditional character and fine-grain built form in Chinatown and undermines the purpose of the proposed heritage listing.

4. Sustainability failure (rainwater, WSUD, greening)

Despite extensive discussion of environmental performance, the City of Sydney design for environmental performance documentation for this DA confirms that no meaningful on-site water or greening measures are provided.

Government requirements

SDCP 2012 – Water Management

> "Development is to incorporate water sensitive urban design measures to improve stormwater quality and reduce potable water use."
> (SDCP 2012, Section 3.7 Water Management)

DA evidence

- The Design for Environmental Performance Report states that there is no on-site rainwater or stormwater storage capacity, no rainwater reuse and no greywater reuse.
- It confirms that no WSUD elements (such as raingardens or bio-retention systems) are provided on this constrained CBD site.
- The documents also acknowledge there is effectively no deep soil zone, and planting is limited to small areas on podium levels.

For a 16-storey residential tower in a dense CBD environment, seeking a variation to the maximum height, this level of environmental response is inadequate and falls well short of the City's stated sustainability objectives.

5. Geotechnical gaps

The geotechnical advice submitted with the DA is expressly preliminary and warns that it is not suitable as the basis for final design.

DA evidence

- The Preliminary Geotechnical Assessment describes itself as “preliminary advice prior to intrusive geotechnical investigations” and recommends detailed subsurface investigations, including cored boreholes and groundwater monitoring, be undertaken before final design.
- It specifically recommends that the final design should not be carried out based only on the current preliminary report.
- A follow-up letter of advice notes that drilling on site had to be halted after refusal at shallow depth, forcing the assessment to rely heavily on desktop information for this DA.
- The SEE itself acknowledges that foundation conditions of adjoining properties are a key issue.

Approving a deep excavation and piled structure close to existing residential and heritage buildings, while detailed ground conditions are still unknown, presents unacceptable risk in terms of settlement, vibration and structural movement.

6. Construction impacts

The Preliminary Construction Management Plan (CMP) confirms that it is a preliminary document which will be updated later in response to authority requirements and detailed design. It outlines a multi-year construction program including façade works, demolition, bulk excavation, structural frame erection and fit-out, with construction vehicle access via Hay Street.

DA evidence

- The CMP indicates that detailed demolition and excavation methodologies are still “to be determined”, and further geotechnical investigation is required before finalising excavation and retention systems.
- Access for construction vehicles is proposed from Hay Street, which is already heavily used by residents, businesses, tourists and light rail.
- The Acid Sulfate Soil Management Plan and SEE acknowledge that works below natural ground present environmental risks, requiring careful management during redevelopment.

Given the acknowledged complexity of the ground conditions, the presence of potential acid sulfate soils, the need to retain heritage façades, and the close proximity of existing residential buildings, a multi-year demolition and excavation program accessed via Hay Street will have major amenity impacts. The CMP does not yet provide detailed, site-specific controls for vibration, settlement, noise and traffic affecting neighbouring residential buildings.

Requested outcome – refusal only

In summary, the proposal:

- Fails to assess or protect solar access for an entire 9-storey residential building at 88 Hay Street or other west-facing residential buildings;
- Relies on a Clause 4.6 height variation that is not adequately justified and conflicts with LEP objectives;
- Demolishes almost all heritage fabric behind retained façades, contrary to Chinatown/Haymarket character controls;
- Provides no on-site rainwater reuse, WSUD or meaningful deep soil greening despite significant intensification;
- Proceeds on the basis of preliminary geotechnical information explicitly not suitable for final design; and
- Defers critical construction impact details to later stages, despite the sensitivity of the site and surrounding neighbourhood.

For these reasons, I respectfully submit that the only appropriate planning outcome is refusal of D/2025/1144. No reasonable modification can resolve the fundamental overshadowing, amenity, heritage and environmental problems inherent in inserting a 16-storey tower in this location.

Yours sincerely,

Vivien Tang

Hi

As a resident of would also like to object to this proposed development for all the reasons my neighbour has already mentioned.

As a resident of the Peak apartments I agree fully that this proposed development will further reduce access to the direct and ambient light to our building. Th area Vaughn mentions is a key component of my lifestyle with my little garden and where I go for a breather on a hard day and where we the residents of this building gather a community together and connect.

The proposed new development is the sole cause of the 12 noon overshadowing of our level 6 Podium area of The Peak Apartments. This area contains a communal garden and recreation facilities used by residents and guests of the 377 apartments.

If the new development proceeds without modification, and in particular if it exceeds the 50m height guideline, there will be no time of day on 21 June in which the podium area isn't overshadowed by one or more buildings. We therefore submit that not only should the new development not be allowed to exceed 50m height; it should NOT be approved to be of a height which overshadows the Peak's podium area at all from 12 noon on 21 June. Additional shadow modelling is required to calculate what lower height that should be?

Given that the closing date for submissions is Monday 15th December 2025, we wanted to lodge this formal objection with you ASAP.

My wife and I have been owner/occupiers of The Peak Apartments SP54036 since 2001 and live directly opposite the proposed development at 96-100 Hay St.

The developers Clause 4.6 variation requests a height allowance of 54.87m, exceeding the 50m limit. Most importantly, the overshadowing of our level 6 Recreational Facilities in Winter is very significant (see diagrams).

Our Children's playground, BBQ area and Jogging track are completely overshadowed at 9am in winter which also reduces direct and ambient light into our Pool and gym areas!

Therefore the following FALSE and factually wrong statement appears on pages 22-23 of the Clause 4.6 Variation Request eg.

"In terms of potential impacts on the adjoining buildings with frontage to Hay Street, and buildings on the opposite side of Hay Street to the south, given the tall buildings to the north of the subject site, Hay Street and these buildings opposite (including the large commercial Paddys Markets building) are already significantly overshadowed in the mid-winter period, with only limited additional overshadowing created by the proposed mixed-use building. The proposed height exceedance contributes only a minor extent to this impact."

According to the 21 June at 12 noon overshadowing diagram on page 22 of the same document, the above statement is fundamentally WRONG.

The proposed new development is the sole cause of the 12 noon overshadowing of our level 6 Podium area of The Peak Apartments. This area contains a communal garden and recreation facilities used by residents and guests of the 377 apartments.

If the new development proceeds without modification, and in particular if it exceeds the 50m height guideline, there will be no time of day on 21 June in which the podium area isn't overshadowed by one or more buildings. We therefore submit that not only should the new development not be allowed to exceed 50m height; it should NOT be approved to be of a height which overshadows the Peak's podium area at all from 12 noon on 21 June. Additional shadow modelling is required to calculate what lower height that should be?

Attn: Adrian McKeown

Dear Adrian,

I am writing as an owner-resident of the same building from 1998 in The City of Sydney to formally lodge an objection regarding the proposed development at 96-100 Hay St.

As a long-time property owner in the area, my family has a deep interest in ensuring the ongoing livability and aesthetic integrity of our neighbourhood. We are particularly concerned about the significant impacts this proposed development will have on the local environment, community, and the quality of life for surrounding residents, especially in light of recent decisions made by the Council regarding public spaces and urban planning.

1. Loss of Natural Light and the Conflict with Recent Urban Design Decisions
I find it especially troubling that the same authorities that allowed the removal of trees along Dixon St to "open up more light" are now supporting a development that would block that very light in the name of an oversized building. The logic behind removing those trees was to improve the access to natural sunlight for the area. Yet, this proposal seeks to undermine that initiative by pushing for an extra-tall structure that would exceed the prescribed height limits and cast shadows over a wide area.

This seems contradictory and short-sighted. Why invest in opening up spaces for light if they are then immediately going to be overshadowed by an even taller building?

I strongly urge the Council to reconsider how these two competing interests, more sunlight and more building height, are being balanced in the planning process.

2. Impact on Community and Public Space
Our neighbourhood is already feeling the pressure of increasing development, with growing concerns around overcrowding, limited public open space, and access to light. The proposed building will exacerbate this problem.

The lack of open spaces in the area is already a significant issue, and the addition of such a large structure would only worsen this. Not only will the building further crowd the space, but it will also contribute to a more oppressive environment by blocking sunlight from public areas.

3. Overshadowing and Reduced Quality of Life
In addition to the impact on natural light, I am concerned about the environmental consequences of this development. Trees and open spaces are critical to mitigating the urban heat island effect, improving air quality, and maintaining local biodiversity. The increased shading and loss of green space would harm the area's environmental health.

I urge the Council to consider incorporating green infrastructure and sustainable design elements into this development to mitigate the negative effects on the surrounding environment.

Our building, in particular, is significantly impacted by the overshadowing that this new development will cause. For example, the proposal to exceed the 50m height limit will result in a shadow falling across our communal garden, recreational spaces, and children's playground, particularly in winter months. These areas are essential for the well-being and quality of life for the residents, including families and children.

The statement in the Clause 4.6 Variation Request that "the proposed height exceedance contributes only a minor extent to this impact" is, frankly, inaccurate. The proposed development is the sole cause of the overshadowing of our communal podium area, which includes a children's playground, BBQ area, and jogging track. The winter shadows, especially at 9am, will have a significant impact on these spaces, making them less usable and less enjoyable for residents.

Moreover, the reduction in natural light in our pool and gym areas will also diminish the quality of life for residents who rely on these facilities for their health and well-being.

4. Request for Modifications and Additional Modelling
We strongly believe that the proposed height exceeds what is acceptable for the site. Given the serious impacts of overshadowing, particularly on our communal spaces, we respectfully request that the development be scaled back to ensure that the podium area of The Peak Apartments is not overshadowed at all during the midday period on 21 June.

Additionally, we ask for further shadow modelling to determine the specific height limit that would avoid overshadowing and preserve natural light for all residents in the area.

5. Setting a Precedent for Future Developments:
Approving this height exceedance could set a troubling precedent for future developments in the area, encouraging other developers to bypass height restrictions, which shouldn't be allowed. It would lead to even more overshadowing, crowding, and a diminished quality of life for everyone in the neighbourhood.

While we appreciate the need for development in our city, it is crucial that we consider the long-term impacts on the community and the environment. This development should not proceed without significant modifications to address the issues of overshadowing, overcrowding, and the loss of open space. Please consider areas with less density for further development and expansion instead.

Thank you for your attention to these important concerns.

Yours sincerely,

Attention
Adrian McKeown

Given the amazing public transport options surrounding this location, I support the omission of on-site parking for this development. There are not enough space for driveway and car park ramp, anyway.

Along Kimber Lane, bins and other objects frequently (constantly?) occupy and reduce the Lane's width. Therefore it is unrealistic to expect even a B99 Van to travel along this Lane.
Instead council should provide off peak loading zone along Hay St to service the proposed development.
