I believe that we need more spaces for family entertainment, especially ones that are real and not screen based. Losing another space where people come together in a social and jovial manner will have a wide reaching negative effect on inner Sydney. In a time where we should be nurturing community based activities, we cannot afford to lose an institution such as Hyperkarting. I urge you to please reconsider closing down this fantastic venue especially in light of the necessity for more, not less, interactive entertainment venues in inner Sydney

Kind Regards

Hi,

Not sure what you're thinking is turning this place which is much better utilising the space back into a car park that's empty on the top floor 95% of the time.

Too many people use this space and for once Sydney has an opportunity for karting in the inner city area, something we should be happy about, so please don't ruin it.

Enough has been ruined in this city over the years.

Thanks.

Hello,

I am emailing as I saw on Hyper Kartings Instagram that they are at a risk of closing down.

I have recently moved to Sydney from Nz and thought that Hyper Karting was such a cool idea and how unique it is to be on a floor of a parking building. Would be a dream of some Nz people, specifically car enthusiasts that visit the Bayfair shopping Centre parking lot in Mount Maunganui.

It was the first thing on the list of things to do for when my family visited for Christmas and we had a blast!

It would be so sad if this got shut down as it is definitely somewhere I would take my friends and family when they visit.

Kind regards, Tracey Marr

Dear Lord Mayor Clover Moore and City of Sydney Planning Team,

As a Sydney resident, I urge you to reconsider the decision and approve the extension for Hyper Karting at the Entertainment Quarter.

This popular electric go-kart track has welcomed over 500,000 visitors since 2021. It supports 150+ jobs, activates the precinct, and delivers fun, family-friendly entertainment in line with a vibrant, people-focused Sydney.

Reverting the upper-level space to underused parking contradicts the council's own vision. I ask you to approve the two-year extension (or a reasonable alternative) and prioritise entertainment over empty car spots.

Thank you for your consideration.

Kind regards,

Dimitrios Kanis

Dear Shannon Rickersey,

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed closure of Hyper Karting at Moore Park to make way for additional car park spaces. Stripping away a vibrant community asset for the sake of an under-utilised parking lot is a profound step backward for our city.

As an educator and coordinator of youth sports programs, I see firsthand the critical importance of maintaining engaging, safe, alcohol free and accessible recreational facilities for young people in Sydney. Hyper Karting is much more than an entertainment venue; it is a true community staple. For my son, Harry, and countless other children, it has provided a fantastic environment to celebrate birthdays, build friendships, and engage in safe recreation.

Furthermore, during the intense pressures and isolation of the Covid lockdowns, this facility offered an invaluable outlet. The mental health benefits of having a local, accessible recreational space during that highly stressful time cannot be overstated, and losing it now would leave a significant void in the community.

In our current climate, we should be championing sustainable initiatives, not tearing them down. There are very few non-petrol racing options in NSW, and Hyper Karting leads the way in supporting sustainable, electric motorsports. It is baffling that a facility providing forward-thinking recreation and that hyper karting reports, supports over 150 local jobs is at risk of being dismantled for parking spots.

I strongly urge the council to reject this proposal. Please prioritise the wellbeing, employment, and sustainable recreational opportunities of the community over an unnecessary reclamation of parking infrastructure.

Sincerely,

Nick Spencer

Hi Shannon

Just wanted to show my support for keeping the Hyper Karting electric go-kart track in Moore Park.

I never used to come into Moore Park to eat at the restaurants, but since Hyper Karting opened it's given me a reason to head in — we'll go for a race and then stay for dinner after. I'm sure I'm not the only one.

It's a great, low-noise setup that suits the area and brings people in.

Would be great to see it stay.

Appreciate your time.

Hey,

Hyper karting is a awesome place, please let them be, i cannot express enough how much it helps people just going though something mentally to just go and have a little bit of fun time, i have been supported soo much by this place at my lows, and would hate if it closed down!!

This place is a safe space for all of us to enjoy even if we are sometimes just watching and not even participating.

Dear City of Sydney Council,

Closing Hyper Karting is an astonishingly reckless decision that demonstrates a complete lack of understanding of motorsport, community needs, and public safety. Karting is already a compromise in a cost-of-living crisis where $30 for a 10-minute session is not trivial, but enthusiasts accept it because it is one of the only accessible, safe, legal, and spontaneous outlets for motorsport thrills in central Sydney, particularly late at night. Hyper Karting is electric, fully contained, and silent, generating no noise complaints, yet you are considering eliminating it for a car park, despite ample surrounding parking.

This is punitive, illogical, and frankly insulting to a community that already plays by the rules.

I anticipate the council's predictable defenses, all of which are deeply flawed:

1. "Do track days at Sydney Motorsport Park / Eastern Creek, Luddenham, or other race tracks."

Track days are not practical alternatives. Sydney Motorsport Park (Eastern Creek) is technically within Sydney, but entry fees often exceed $300 per day, and additional costs for fuel, transport, and safety gear make it inaccessible for most enthusiasts. Tracks at Luddenham and Goulburn are even farther away, requiring a multi-hour drive each way and the same logistical and financial overhead. Even when booked, participants typically get only a few short sessions during a full-day event. These options are not spontaneous, affordable, or practical. Hyper Karting provides immediate and legal laps whenever enthusiasts want including late at night something no distant track can replicate. Removing Hyper Karting leaves enthusiasts with only extremely costly, time-consuming track days or illegal, unsafe street activity.

2. "Public safety will improve if we remove these venues."

This is completely backwards. Removing safe, sanctioned, electric karting increases unsafe, unregulated activity. People with a passion for driving will go where they can — Old Pacific Highway, Royal National Park roads, Macquarie Pass, Galston Gorge — roads already dangerous due to traffic, blind corners, wildlife, and mixed users. These roads are used precisely because legal, affordable alternatives are unavailable. Closing Hyper Karting does not eliminate risk; it redistributes it to uncontrolled public roads.

3. "These activities are antisocial / 'hoonish'."

Hyper Karting provides lawful, contained activity. Punishing law-abiding enthusiasts for the illegal behavior of a minority is irrational. Removing legal venues incentivizes illegal street use, creating exactly the behavior the council claims to prevent.

4. "Noise / disturbance complaints."

Hyper Karting is electric and silent. Noise complaints are nonexistent. Any bureaucratic argument invoking "disturbance" is invalid.

5. "Track closures improve community wellbeing."

There is no evidence for this. Motorsport interest does not disappear when venues close — it migrates to streets with no rules, no barriers, and no emergency support, creating real danger for both enthusiasts and the public.

6. "We're prioritizing public use, like parking."

There is already sufficient parking in and around the Entertainment Quarter. Removing Hyper Karting solves nothing but punishes enthusiasts and reduces legal recreational options.

And remember.. public roads will be the inevitable outlet if Hyper Karting closes:

Closing Hyper Karting will not stop enthusiasts.

It will outrage the community and push people onto public roads: Old Pacific Highway, Royal National Park roads, Macquarie Pass, and Galston Gorge.

These roads are inherently unsafe — narrow, winding, with blind corners, mixed traffic, wildlife, and pedestrians. Enthusiasts will use them anyway because there are no accessible, legal alternatives nearby.

The state is fully aware these roads are dangerous, yet continuing to remove the safe nearby outlets available ensures people will take matters into their own hands.

This is not a hypothetical. This is a predictable consequence of your decision. If Hyper Karting is closed, responsibility for the inevitable risk and outrage falls squarely on your council. Removing safe venues does not eliminate desire, it channels it into public spaces where accidents, injuries, and chaos are far more likely.

I urge your council to seriously reconsider before causing more damage to our community.

Regards,
Jordon Pollock.

Hi shannon

Email you About go karting possible closure.

I have enjoyed
The go karting at hyper karting
At Moore Park for many years since they opened .

They have a great space
That's safe
Fun and enjoyable
A great place for community to enjoy
It would be a loss to the local community with 150+ jobs

Its close to everything
Its a great use of space
That was barely every used
Unless football was on or a concert.

The small amount of car spaces that could be gained from Returning it to its former use
Is not a very good use of the space
In my opinion

Its employs many people the parking does not employ 150 + people
By changing it

Go karting at fox studios gives
More reasons to go to the fox studios precinct
There is no other go karting facility in the East
The closest one is blacktown

If its just to make more parking
Doesn't make sense .

The loss hyperkarting
Would be a big impact
On fox studios
Less people visiting
The loss of jobs for mostly younger people

Regards
Michael

Hey there,

Firstly, since hyperkarting has been a thing in Sydney, it's absolutely become a spot for tourist for people to go. When I have friends come from interstate or overseas, we always go and they always have a great time!

Being close to the cbd then really isn't another experience around like it unless you want to travel 1 hr plus to go out west.

I genuinely believe it's a place that SHOULD keep its place as it brings some much to the area.

Please reconsider this

Hi,

Hyper karting is one of the only karting places that allows kids as young as 3 to give it a go. My son is obsessed with this place.

The Eastern Suburbs has nothing for kids anymore, not even a trampoline park and not even a decent play land.

Even kids aside, adults love this place too.

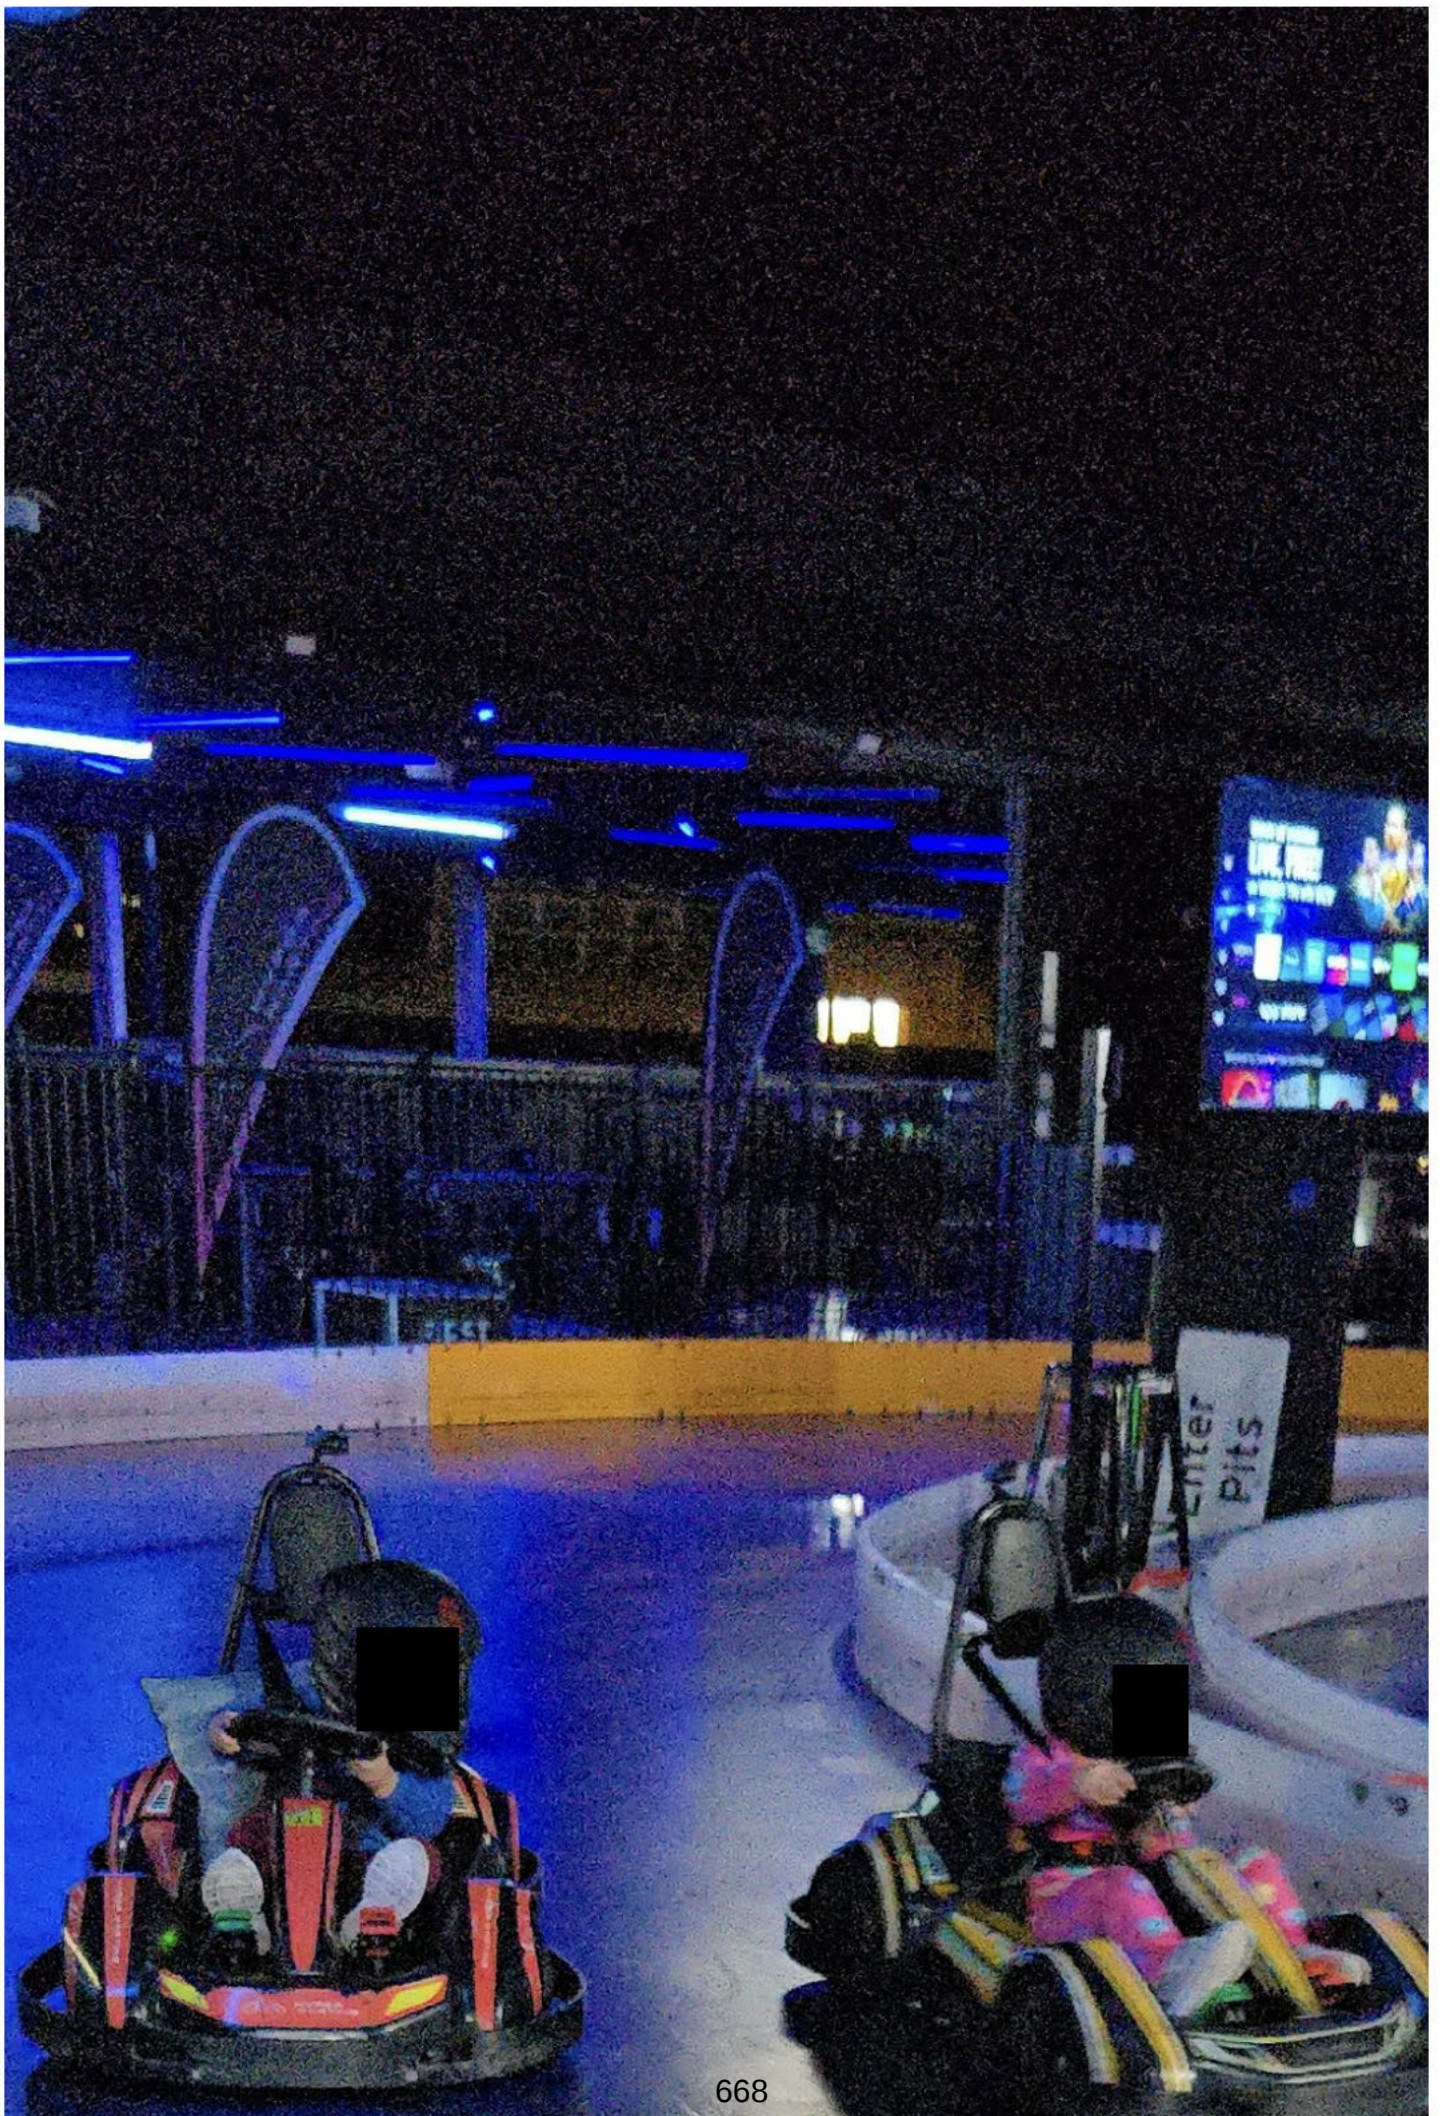

I've grown up in Phillip Bay my whole life then moved to Woodbine and now back to Philip Bay. The best part of living west was the abundance of things for people to do.

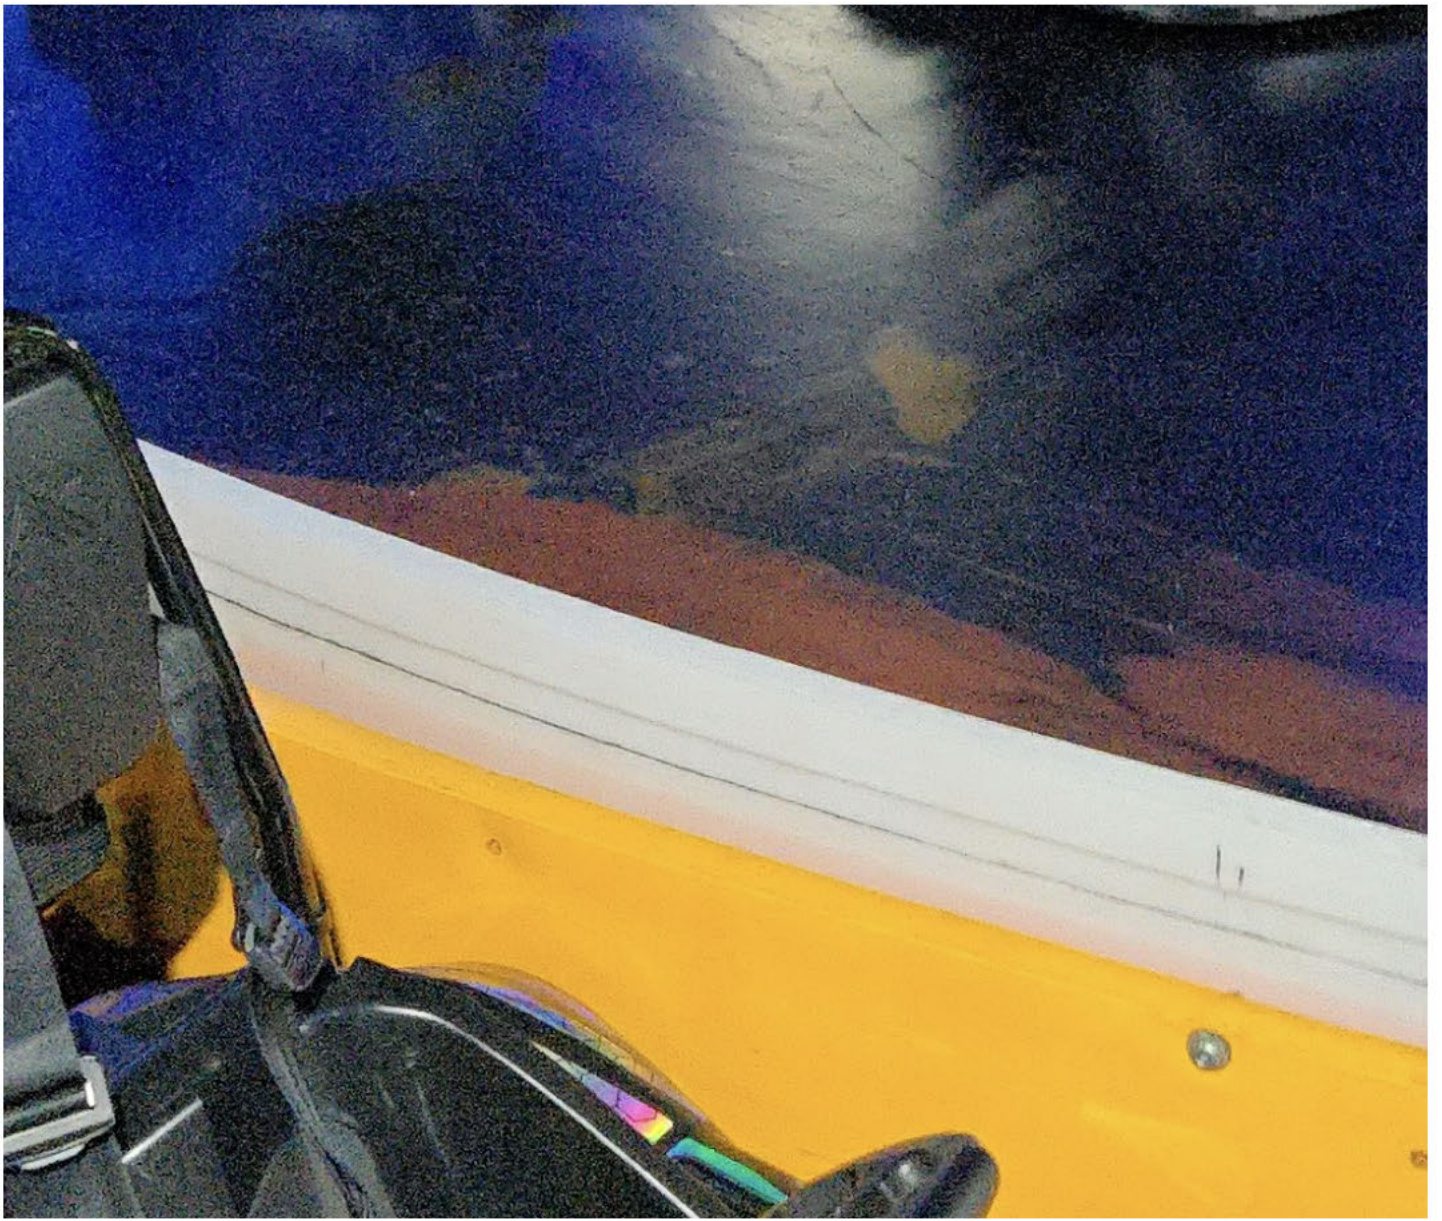

Please reconsider getting rid of hyperkart for more parking. Isn't the light rail meant to encourage public transport to sport games, outings etc to reduce pressure on the roads? Just imagine the car park was built with one less level.

I really hope you reconsider.

Thank you for your time.

the enjoyment of racing is a dying art
don't be idiots
do you really think that with all the shit happening in the world people are worried about having a few more parking spaces at the cost of an entire business which provides livelihoods for people and their families through jobs as well as fun and enjoyment for people of all ages no
everybody is getting bummed by the economy and governments and wars over stupid and selfish shit so dont add to that let people have fun if you could be so generous to give up a few parking spaces.

To the City of Sydney Council,

My name is Ethan Redwin, and I am from Caringbah. I am writing to respectfully appeal the proposal to shut down Hyper Karting at Moore Park in order to repurpose the space for additional car parking. I strongly urge you to reconsider this decision and preserve what has become a valued recreational institution for many in the local community.

I go out of my way to travel from Caringbah specifically to visit Hyper Karting. It is not something that is just convenient for me — it is a destination I deliberately choose. When I make the trip, I spend time in the surrounding area, buying food and drinks and often staying long enough to pay for parking. Without Hyper Karting, I would have little reason to travel to Moore Park, and that activity and spending would not occur.

Hyper Karting is far more than just a track occupying a few car spaces. It is a place where people gather, build friendships, develop skills, and create lasting memories. Personally, I have spent over 20 hours at the track and driven more than 700 kilometres there. Those hours represent meaningful time shared with friends, moments of excitement, and a safe, structured environment to enjoy motorsport. The joy and community value this facility provides far outweigh the limited benefit of additional parking spaces that often sit unused.

It is also one of the few places where I have genuinely connected with strangers. I have never interacted more with people I didn't know than at Hyper Karting. Through our shared passion for motorsport, I even made a great friend there — someone I likely never would have met otherwise. That kind of organic community-building is rare, and it speaks to the unique social value the track provides. For me, there is no greater entertainment.

If the intention behind removing the track is to increase financial return from the space, I believe keeping Hyper Karting is actually in the City's best interest. It attracts people like me from outside the immediate area, keeps us there for extended periods, and encourages spending within the precinct. Removing it would likely reduce the number of visitors who deliberately come to Moore Park.

In a time where many recreational venues are disappearing in favour of expansion and short-term financial gain, spaces like Hyper Karting are increasingly rare. Removing it would mean losing one of the few accessible motorsport experiences available to the public in the local area. For many people—especially younger enthusiasts—it provides a safe alternative to unsafe driving elsewhere, while fostering responsibility, skill development, and social connection.

I respectfully ask the Council to consider the community value, the friendships created, and the positive role Hyper Karting plays. Please do not take away a place that brings so much enjoyment to so many people for the sake of a small increase in parking capacity. Preserving Hyper Karting would demonstrate a commitment to community wellbeing, recreation, and maintaining the character of Moore Park as more than just a place for cars.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Ethan Redwin

To Whom It May Concern,

We oppose the closing down of Hyperkarting in Moore Park. It is an incredibly important entertainment venue in the area that we go to and the closest Go Karting place for miles. By closing this you'll reduce the number of people coming to Moore Park in addition to reducing available entertainment in the area.

To whom it may concern

The Hyperkart facility is important for entertainment for the young and the not so young. It is a good way to actually practice driving before getting behind the wheel as an Lplater. Young people can also get some thrills without resorting to stupidity on the roads.

A few more parking spots might be useful but perhaps these can be found elsewhere. If the Hyperkart facility is solvent and paying their rent and their other bills, then my suggestion is to leave them alone to provide entertainment, driving experiences and employment to many people. I doubt a few more car parking spots can directly offer the same. In fact, if you have any facts to demonstrate otherwise, please feel free to share those with myself and other interested parties.

Dear Council Members,

I am writing to strongly express my opposition to the proposed closure of Hyper Karting.

Hyper Karting is one of the very few recreational and social activity venues available in the eastern suburbs. For many residents, particularly young people and families, it provides a safe, accessible, and engaging space to spend time, socialise, and participate in a unique activity that is otherwise unavailable in the area. Removing it would significantly reduce already limited entertainment and community-building options within our local region.

For university students especially, this is one of the only activities where people genuinely come together and bond outside of academic settings. It has created countless memories for me and many others in the community. When my brother visited from overseas, Hyper Karting was one of the highlights of his trip — a place where we were able to spend meaningful time together and share a unique experience. For many of us, this venue represents shared experiences, friendships, and lasting memories that cannot simply be replaced.

Beyond its social value, Hyper Karting supports over 150 jobs and contributes meaningfully to the local economy. The proposal to replace a thriving community venue with additional car parking is difficult to justify. Existing parking spaces in the area are already utilised, and increasing capacity by an additional 296 spaces does not appear to provide a comparable community benefit. Hyper Karting represents a far more effective and valuable use of this space — one that actively serves people rather than remaining underutilised infrastructure.

Community spaces that encourage connection, activity, and local engagement are increasingly rare and should be protected, not removed. Once lost, venues like this are extremely difficult to replace.

I respectfully urge the council to reconsider this decision and prioritise the social, economic, and community value that Hyper Karting provides to residents.

Thank you for taking community feedback into consideration.

Kind regards,
Surina Saini

Hello

I was very surprised to see th at Hyperkarting might be closed down for a some more parking spaces.

As a parent of teenagers, this is the main reason we visit the Entertainment Quarter these days. We visit at least once a month and always stay on for a meal. Surely removing this unique offering will significantly reduce the attractiveness of a visit to the Entertainment Quarter?

Dear council,

I am writing to express my strong support for Hyper Karting and to request that Council reconsider any proposal that would result in its closure.

Hyper Karting is more than just an entertainment venue — it is a valued community space that brings families, young people, and local residents together in a safe and supervised environment. It provides a positive recreational outlet, especially for teenagers and young adults, and contributes to community wellbeing.

The venue also supports over 150 local jobs. Closing it to increase car park capacity by approximately 296 spaces does not appear to provide a comparable community benefit, particularly when those additional spaces may not be fully utilised. Removing a thriving business and community hub for underused parking would be a significant loss for the area.

Hyper Karting attracts visitors, supports the local economy, and offers a unique activity that is not easily replaced. Losing it would reduce recreational options for families and young people and negatively impact local employment.

I respectfully ask Council to:

- Consider the social and economic value of Hyper Karting
- Explore alternative parking solutions
- Work with the operators to allow the venue to remain open

Please prioritise preserving a facility that serves the community, supports jobs, and provides a safe and enjoyable space for people of all ages.

Thank you for considering community feedback.

Kind regards,
Suzy Bechaye

I'm writing regarding the City of Sydney's proposal to pave paradise and put up a parking lot.

This is where I go to de-stress and enjoy myself when I'm feeling down.

You can't say the same for another level of parking.

It's currently a well-loved brilliant use of space.

You're looking for a few extra bucks in milking Sydney residents for parking. You're removing joy rather than adding to it.

Could you honestly put this through and kick out the karting, get some extra parking spots (which should instead be facilitated by public transport), and then go pat yourself on the back and say "yeah we did good today"

Pull your heads in.

Most warmest regards,

Adrian Andreacchio

Dear City of Sydney Council,

I am writing to express my support for Hyper Karting and to respectfully urge you to reconsider any decision that may lead to its closure.

Personally, I have had many unforgettable experiences there, and it holds significant value not only to me but to many other friends and family of mine.

Local businesses like Hyper Karting contribute to the liveliness of Moore Park and The Entertainment Quarter. They support local employment, attract visitors, and offer recreational opportunities that have driven the Moore park and surrounding suburbs for a number of years.

Why try and fix something that isn't broken. It has always been beneficial for the city. It is one of the biggest amusements in the Sydney City area and it makes no sense to replace it with parking spots.

I would like to hear as to why you think parking spots would be more beneficial than this amazing venue. Maybe there is something I'm missing and I it would be great to get a better understanding of that were to be the case.

Thank you for taking the time to consider my perspective. I sincerely hope you will take steps to support Hyper Karting and allow it to remain operational.

Yours sincerely,

Theo Jenkinson

To whom this may concern,

I want to express my concern to hear Hyper Karting at Moore Park is potentially at risk of shutting down to make way for circa 300 car spaces.

Hyper Karting is a fantastic edition to the weekend calendar and complements the EQ perfectly. It employs a substantial amount of staff and adds excellent value to the community.

There are plenty of overflow car spaces available to commuters in the park across the road (from the Hordern). Additionally, light rail services are provided by NSW government, noting these are increased for major events.

Best,

Lachlan

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to you as someone who has worked at Hyper Karting for the past four years. This job is not just something I do on the side. It is my livelihood, and it is also something I genuinely care about. I have poured a huge part of my life into this place, and it is heartbreaking to see it facing closure.

Over the years, I have watched Hyper Karting become more than just a business operating in Moore Park. It is a place where people come to celebrate birthdays, build confidence, connect with friends and family, and enjoy something exciting and positive. I have met so many guests who return again and again because of the experience, the atmosphere, and the community that has been created here.

From the perspective of someone on the ground every week, it feels incredibly unfair and, honestly, silly that Hyper Karting could be shut down over planning concerns when the real world impact is so significant. Behind the venue are real people, real jobs, and real families who depend on this work. For many of us, there is no easy backup plan. We are not faceless numbers in an application. We are staff who show up, work hard, and take pride in what we do.

Hyper Karting has been a stable part of my life for four years. It has given me purpose, helped me build skills, and allowed me to support myself. The idea that it could all be taken away is devastating.

Please reconsider the decision, or at least provide a pathway that allows Hyper Karting to remain operating while concerns are addressed in a fair and realistic way. I am proud to work here, and I know I am not the only one whose future depends on it.

Thank you for taking the time to read this and for considering the real impact this decision has on the people behind the venue.

Dear Madam,

I am disappointed that to hear that the above submission to council is choosing carparks over go-karting. The go-karts add amenity to the Moore Park precinct, without it, there are fewer reasons to visit.

So much for the City of Sydney's green credentials in favouring carparks over an area well serviced by public transport.

I recently patronised Hyper-Karts because the karts are electric and low pollutant and are within easy reach of the CBD. Without this venue, there is little else to recommend in terms of entertainment at the so called Entertainment Quarter.

Yours sincerely,

Romi Zerbini

Hi City of Sydney,

My name is Scott Sinfeld. I am writing against the closure of a company due to poor city management.

Why not build another car park on one of the grass areas and charge some cheaper rates for light rail users to park and go to the city. Then have the pricing as per normal for event days.

If anyone who has been to a footy match and parked at Entertainment Quarter. They know the car parks take too long to exit due to the poor management around the area. Close roads, have police get the car parks emptied quickly. Taking the spots back from a business isn't going to make it any better for the victims on game day.

You are not only taking away jobs but you are taking away a place for families to go to enjoy Go Karting from around the area. Forcing families to go out West to enjoy the activity.

Please wake up and make better decisions for the people of Sydney and for a specialist business in the area.

Cheers,
Scott

Dear Council Members,

I am writing to express my concern regarding the planned closure Hyper Karting.

This venue is more than just a recreational space—it is a meaningful part of our community. For many people, including myself, it has been a place to connect with friends and family, relieve stress, and enjoy a safe and accessible form of motorsport.

It also provides opportunities for young people to engage in a positive, skill-based activity that fosters responsibility and confidence.

The closure of this facility would represent a significant loss, not only in terms of recreation but also in community engagement. Spaces like this are increasingly rare, and once they are gone, they are very difficult to replace.

I respectfully ask the council to reconsider this decision or explore alternative solutions that could allow the venue to continue operating—whether through modified hours, relocation, or community partnerships.

Thank you for taking the time to consider the perspectives of those who value this facility. I would greatly appreciate any opportunity for community input before a final decision is made.

Please do not close Hyper Karting. It is a place that means a lot to the community.

Noooo!

In an ever growing city where our social amenities are becoming less and less, WHY on earth would you consider closing down such an amazing facility for car park spaces???

How is this even possible?

We have attended hyperkarting since our children were little. Now they are all teenagers and we still attend with other families for a social outing. It is soo much fun. There is NOTHING ELSE LIKE THIS IN OUR CITY! (Or inner city location)

Please don't take it away!!!

On behalf of the Maquarie University Formula One Society, I urge for Hyper Karting to remain as this is the best place for a racing event located within Sydney and easily accessible by public transport. This makes getting people to attend karting events very easy due to travel and the amazing facilities this place offers.

This place MUST NOT GO. IT MUST STAY.

To the City of Sydney,

I am writing as a member of the public to formally object to the Council's recent decision to refuse the continued operation of Hyper Karting (D/2023/897/B) at the Entertainment Quarter (EQ). Replacing this active recreational hub with 296 parking spaces is a poor use of land that ignores the actual transport needs and social value of the Moore Park precinct.

I request that the Council reconsider its position based on the following points:

The Precinct Has Sufficient Parking Capacity

The primary reason for refusal, that the 296 car spaces are needed to offset the closure of on-grass parking, is not supported by the facts. Traffic data shows that the EQ car park reached capacity only 30 times between February 2024 and January 2026 due to wider Moore Park events. For over 80% of the year, this parking level would sit largely empty, providing no benefit to the public.

High Public Transport Accessibility

Moore Park is now one of the best-connected areas in Sydney. Light rail patronage has steadily surged since 2021, which more than compensates for the reduction in on-grass parking. The site has a "Very High" public transport accessibility rating (PTAL score of 6) and is within walking distance of major light rail and bus nodes. Council should be encouraging the use of this infrastructure rather than mandating more car parking.

Serious Social and Economic Loss

Closing Hyper Karting would result in the immediate loss of approximately 150 jobs, many of which are held by young people. Furthermore, the facility attracts around 300,000 patrons annually who support other local businesses in the Entertainment Quarter. Removing this venue would decrease foot traffic and negatively impact the vibrancy of the entire precinct.

Promotion of Orderly Land Use

Retaining Level 5 for electric go-karting is a far more orderly and productive use of land than a surface parking lot. The facility aligns with the Sustainable Sydney 2030-2050 goal of fostering a thriving cultural and creative life. A parking lot provides zero social value, whereas Hyper Karting provides a high-quality, all-weather entertainment option for the community.

The decision to prioritize 296 mostly empty parking spaces over a successful business and 150 local jobs is not in the public interest. I urge the Council to approve the Section 8.3 review and allow Hyper Karting to continue serving our community.

Thank you.

Dear Shannon Rickersey,

Don't close the Hyperkarting track. It's that simple.

For generations growing up in Sydney, I have seen the continual decomposition of anything that is accessible by the community or a point of interest for the younger generations. I have seen all structures made of concrete erected in place of parkland, reserves and shared spaces.

Frankly speaking, Sydney is turning into a place where there is nothing to do unless you have a wallet like Warren Buffet or a liver designed like an industrial bioreactor, and nothing to see unless you enjoy the slow autogenous healing process of lime.

Don't take away yet another thing for adolescents to do so you can have another car park where you charge $30 an hour. Perhaps you could be of use instead and solve the engineering problem of how to install an underground car park in Australia's shale surface.

Jack

Hey people,

Hyperkarting is one of the most accessible forms of racing in the whole of Sydney. Options are really limited here, and as a city notorious for cracking down on fun, you guys really don't want to be perpetuating a stereotype. Id argue it's worth is much greater than that of the car park, especially as that space goes completely unused outside of major events. Push public transport more (50c fares guys, it can be done!!!) and then you can keep an icon of Sydneys racing scene whilst keeping racing off the roads. Please don't shut it down we love it :(((

Don't shut down hyper karting! It provides jobs and a place of community for so many people all over Sydney. There are plenty of other options to open more parking in the area instead of just 1 level of the car park. The alternative should not just be shutting down a business that has remained open for multiple years and been a part of Sydney's night life and entertainment that continues to be deficient.

The Hyperkarting venue facility has been a great, unique activity to do in Sydney. Given there is no other electric karting available in Sydney or surrounds, it would be a real shame to see this facility close down. I've attended this venue multiple times with friends and family, and have always highly rated it. It has great potential to expand.

Please reconsider before shutting this facility down.

Hi Shannon,

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed closure of Hyper Karting.

Hyper Karting has been a place our family has truly enjoyed over the years. It offers a unique and exciting experience that brings people together, and it has become a valued part of our community. Spaces like this are rare, and they contribute far more than just entertainment—they create lasting memories for families like ours.

It is deeply disappointing to see such a vibrant and well-loved venue at risk of being shut down, particularly for the sake of additional car space. I believe the value Hyper Karting brings to the community far outweighs the benefit of replacing it with parking.

I strongly urge you to reconsider this decision and explore alternative solutions that allow Hyper Karting to remain open.

Kindest,

Zena

Hi Shannon,

I'm writing because I'm really concerned about the possibility of Hyper Karting at Moore Park closing down.

I live in Sydney and Hyper Karting is one of those places that actually gives people something different and fun to do. There really isn't many places like it around. It's become a staple of the area and a lot of people enjoy going there with friends or family recreationally.

It seems crazy to lose something unique and popular just to turn the space back into more parking, especially when there are already other parking options nearby, and new ones popping open anyway. Once something like this is gone, it probably won't come back.

I know there are bigger issues in Sydney too, but I think it's important to support businesses and venues that make the city more interesting and give people somewhere to go.

Please do what you can to support Hyper Karting and help keep it open.

Thanks,
Jake Gazzana,
Just a local Sydneysider.

To whoever this reaches,

The closing of Hyperkarting will decimate your traffic for all businesses inside EQ this would be a grievous mistake on your half please do not move forward and just resign their contract they have done more for EQ than the majority of businesses there.

Please don't close hyperkarting

Its such a great place for the community with tracks for the young kids and the older drivers who want to blow off steam with a quick race.

The prices are also competitive and the closest place for entry level drivers is Concord West and then further west.

Please reconsider and overturn this.

Let Hyperkarting stay open!

It may sound superficial but ive had so many precious memories at hyper karting. parking lots can be anywhere, there are a million in the area, but you cant tear down a business that means so much to so many people.

Lost jobs, lost memories, and a valuable piece of the community, lost.

To whom it may concern,

Hearing about the possible closure of hyperkarting deeply saddens me. The entertainment quarter, for years, has lacked a genuine attraction outside of live music. For a Western Sydney local, the trip out to Moore Park can take upwards of an hour. I myself, gladly make this venture out to Moore Park for things such as hyperkarting. Whether it's with mates, work colleagues or partners, hyperkarting has provided genuine excitement, healthy competition and a sense of adrenaline you can achieve without participating in a more extreme environment. With affordable prices and a wide variety of activities within the space, it has become a staple outing for myself and friends. The staff have been nothing short of professional, friendly and accomodating and have shown myself and others the upmost respect. Due to this, myself and two close friends have become regulars to which the staff have treated us with even more respect and care.

Closing it down for an extra level of car parking makes little to no sense logistically. I have been travelling to the Entertainment Quarter years prior to the opening of Hyperkarting and have always despised the layout and the difficulty of exiting the car park back onto Lang Road. I have worked jobs at Hordern Pavillion during event times at the venue as well as when sporting events are on at the neighbouring stadiums. Regardless of the event, the exiting of the area has always been frustrating and mind-numbing. Even with police assistance, the lights conjoining Lang RD & Errol Flynn Boulevard results in a tight bottleneck that can take upwards of 30mins plus to be clear of. This is without taking into account the traffic from Driver Avenue which creates a gargantuan traffic pile up which adds even more to the waiting time. An extra level of parking will just add more traffic to an already packed area and increase the waiting times for those stuck at the top.

Keeping HyperKarting at the Entertainment Quarter is imperative in order to maintain genuine interest in visiting the area outside of event blocks. If we are serious in "reigniting" Sydney's nightlife, then you shall understand that abolishing a business that has worked hard to build its popularity, is nothing short of foolhardy. If numbers dropped in visiting consumers within the area then it stands to reason that this decision was seriously ill-advised. To truly "reignite" our nightlife, a simple beginning step would be to keep a business such as HyperKarting alive and well. What needs more urgent attention, is the poorly designed layout of the area. There's an entire grass area next to Driver Avenue that patrons park on during events due to the poor parking options. One level of parking which equates to 300 odd parking spots will not make any difference to the larger problem. If more car parking is what is required, consider using the more obvious space across from Driver Avenue. The enormity of this space in comparison to ONE level of parking makes a lot more sense logistically and could ease the burden that is leaving Moore Park.

Hopefully, with these points in mind, you can come to a consensus that this is a much loved and adored place that many people from all parts of Sydney come to visit. If we are serious in reigniting our nightlife, which is in dire need of improvement, then you'll understand that the plan to abolish HyperKarting is foolhardy and unjustified.

I appreciate your time.

Kind Regards,
B. Rodriguez

We absolutely love Hyperkarting!y husband celebrates his birthday there every year and my son could not wait to host his as soon as he turned 13.

It's a great sadness that they'd shut due to more parking space ...what a waste of space!

There's nothing like hyperkarting in Sydney so there's a huge demand for it.

Please don't shut it down!

Hi,

Please keep hyper karting open. It is great for work events and a close and easy access to race friends that complements the other food options in the entertainment quarter.

I am surprised you want to remove this with such a big push for people to catch public transport to events as this would encourage more driving.

Hope to continue to see this open for the future!

Thanks,
Ben

Hello Shannon,

I'm writing to support the application to keep Hyperkarting operating in the Level 5 car park at Moore Park.

There is little reason to head to the entertainment quarter unless there is an event on, this business provides a reason to go there anytime. I have held several of my work Christmas parties there along with four team building events always staying after for drinks and lunch or dinner at the surrounding restaurants or pub.

It's also had a bigger impact than just a one-off activity. It actually got me interested enough to buy my own kart, and now my kids are getting into it too and have been to Hyperkarting several times. That kind of flow-on effect is brilliant and shows the value of having something like this in the city as you have to travel a long way out of the CBD for anything remotely as good as Hyperkarting.

What doesn't make much sense to me is replacing it with more car parking. The City of Sydney is generally trying to reduce the number of car spaces in developments and encourage people onto public transport, so it feels inconsistent to remove a successful business just to add more parking—especially when the car park hasn't really been full most of the time from the data reports I have looked at. I understand there might be a short period where parking demand is tighter while the Venues NSW car park is being completed, but that seems like a temporary issue. Losing a business like this long-term, along with over 200 jobs and the flow-on benefits to nearby restaurants and venues, feels like a much bigger downside.

Hyperkarting is also pretty unique, there's nothing else like it close to the city. It's bringing people in, creating jobs, and supporting other businesses nearby. Businesses like these provide a great boost to the local and state economy with many flow on effects to other businesses which additional car spaces just cannot do. It would be a real shame to lose something that's proven to add so much value just to bring back car spaces that don't seem to be in frequently high demand.

For those reasons, I support the application to allow Hyperkarting to continue operating.

Thanks.

Regards,

Michael Hughes

Hi City of Sydney

Please keep hyper karting alive. This is an amazing entertainment venue that we frequently go to with mates for an evening out. There is fewer and fewer entertainment venues of its calibre around the Sydney City area.

Additionally you don't need more carpark spaces congesting the roads around Moore park. People should be utilising the public transport infrastructure.

Dear Councillors,

I am writing with urgency and genuine concern about the proposal to close HK. The stated reason — that the land is needed for car parking — simply doesn't reflect what we see every day. The EQ car park is not full. It is difficult to understand why a beloved community space should be sacrificed for parking that isn't even needed.

HK is not just a venue. It is a home for many. It is where people find joy, connection, and belonging. It is a place that brings life to the precinct and brings people together.

As a resident in the Geroges River Council, HK is the only accessible place for carting and my family and friends would lost the usual place to go. Carting space is very rare these days already, and I do not see why are you not supporting the business running under such difficult circumstances. HK in fact, needs more support than any other kinds od entertainment business, like cinemas or amusement centers.

The business is taking it seriously, never let down of customers and have given quality services. I do not understand the reason about the car park. The public needs a proper explanation if that really happens.

Behind HK are 150 staff members — real people with families, mortgages, rent, and responsibilities — who will lose their jobs overnight if this closure goes ahead. The human cost of this decision is enormous and cannot be justified by an unnecessary expansion of parking capacity.

I am asking the Council to reconsider. To look at the real data. To listen to the community. And to recognise the value of HK not just as a business, but as a vital part of our shared social fabric.

Please do not let this place be lost.

Sincerely,
Jessica

To whom this may concern,

I am writing to express my support for Hyper Karting remaining open in Moore Park.

Hyper Karting is a popular karting venue across Sydney, and many of my friends and I choose to kart there over other local venues because it offers a unique recreational activity close to the Sydney CBD. It is accessible to people of all skill levels and remains relatively affordable compared to many other entertainment options in the city. It is also one of the main highlights of the Entertainment Quarter and adds variety to the activities available in Sydney, particularly when the city already lacks nightlife and unique recreational experiences.

There appears to be growing interest in karting and motorsport with the rising popularity of Formula 1. Seeing the races fully booked during the recent long weekend only supports this trend. So, closing such an exciting and well-used venue in order to build additional parking seems like a significant missed opportunity, especially when the existing car park appears to remain largely empty for much of the year.

I kindly request that you explore options that would allow Hyper Karting to remain open and continue providing this unique experience for the broader Sydney community.

Kind regards,
Nishant Goyal

Dear Shannon Rickersy and Council,

I write as a resident of the Eastern Suburbs to oppose the decision not to renew the operating licence of Hyper Karting, and to urge the Council to reconsider before the space reverts to general car parking.

Hyper Karting has, over the years it has operated, become a genuine community institution. It employs local staff at above-average wages, provides an accessible recreational venue for residents across a wide range of ages and backgrounds, and has demonstrated continuous improvement in its operations and community engagement. It is the kind of business that rarely appears in a suburb like ours: active, affordable, locally staffed, and genuinely beloved.

The stated rationale for non-renewal, the need for additional parking capacity during peak event periods, is one I understand. However, I would respectfully put to the Council that it is disproportionate. Converting a thriving, job-creating recreational facility into overflow event parking represents a significant and permanent loss of community value in exchange for a periodic and arguably manageable inconvenience.

I would also note that event-driven parking demand is intermittent and predictable. There may well be alternatives worth exploring: dynamic pricing for existing spaces, partnership arrangements with nearby private operators, improved transport activation on event days, or temporary arrangements that do not require the permanent loss of the karting facility. I would encourage Council to consider these before taking an irreversible step.

Finally, I note that the Council's broader planning policy has, commendably, moved in the direction of reduced car dependency and more active, people-centred land use. The permanent expansion of a surface car park runs counter to that direction, and it would be a shame if the pursuit of short-term parking supply came at the cost of a business that embodies exactly the kind of vibrant, community-oriented land use the Council's own policies aspire to encourage.

I would ask the Council to answer the following questions before proceeding:

- Has any modelling been done on alternative approaches to event-day parking demand, including transport incentives or demand management?
- What community consultation has taken place with residents who use and value Hyper Karting?
- How does this decision accord with the Council's stated commitments on reducing car dependency and supporting local employment?

I ask that the Council delay any final decision, consult with Hyper Karting and the broader community, and genuinely consider alternatives before proceeding.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Yours sincerely,
Jack Beck

Hi Shannon,

I hope all is well.

I am writing to express my support for the continuation of hyper cart's use of the space.

I believe that hyper carts adds a unique flair to the entertainment quarter and is a great use of space for families, couples and events.

I have personally been there on a number of occasions for a variety of reasons (bucks party, catching up with friends, etc.) and think it is a great alternative to going to a bar or a cafe.

Finally, I feel like when I drive to entertainment quarter there are often plenty of car parks available, thus I don't believe that hyper carts detracts from people's ability to park at the centre.

For the reasons outlined above I believe that it is a great use of space and should be allowed to continue trading.

Thank you,

Denis Mytcak,

Dear Shannon Rickersey & Council Members,

I am writing to express my concern regarding the proposal to close the long-standing Hyper Karting in the Entertainment Quarter to make way for a car park.

This business is a valued part of the local community and contributes significantly to the character and vibrancy of the area. Replacing it with a car park would mean losing a much-loved establishment that locals and visitors alike appreciate.

I respectfully ask the Council to reconsider this proposal and explore alternative solutions that preserve the businesses and culture that make our entertainment precinct special.

Thank you for taking community feedback into consideration.

Kind regards,
Shannon Bowie

Dear City of Sydney Council,

I'm writing to urge you to support and preserve HyperKarting in Sydney.

It's a valued recreational venue that brings people together, supports local jobs, and adds to the city's appeal. In a growing urban environment, spaces like this are increasingly rare yet highly valuable—especially for young people and community engagement.

Losing HyperKarting would mean losing a safe, accessible, and exciting activity that contributes positively to Sydney's culture and economy. I encourage the Council to explore options to retain or support it.

Thank you for your consideration.

Kind regards,

City of Sydney,

It's frankly ridiculous that a business with such a high economic impact on the area is even being considered to close for some car parking space.

I've been to EQ many times for hyperkarting and never have I had any issues finding parking.

Hi.

When something is, and always has worked so well, where so many memories are created, for such a large age gap, from as little as 3 years old, all the way through to elderly people..

It's always these moments that the government finds a way to just ruin.

Please do the right thing - and don't shut it down.

To the Members of the DA Council,

I am writing to formally express my strong opposition to the proposed closure of Hyperkarting at the Entertainment Quarter (EQ).

It is my understanding that the council is considering shutting down this vibrant community hub under the premise that the space is required for additional car parking. However, I urge the Council to reconsider this decision based on the following critical points:

1. Lack of Necessity for Additional Parking

The primary justification for this closure—a need for more car parking—does not align with the current reality of the EQ. The existing car park is rarely at full capacity. Replacing a thriving, high-demand recreational facility with redundant parking spaces is not only an inefficient use of urban space but a step backward for the precinct's vibrancy.

2. Significant Job Losses

Hyperkarting is not just a track; it is an employer. There are 150 real people behind this business—individuals with families to support and bills to pay. If this closure proceeds, 150 workers will lose their livelihoods overnight. In the current economic climate, the Council should look for ways to protect local employment, not eliminate it for the sake of empty concrete.

3. Social and Community Value

Hyperkarting has become a landmark for joy, belonging, and healthy recreation in our city. It provides a unique social outlet for people of all ages and contributes significantly to the EQ's reputation as a premier entertainment destination. Closing it would strip the community of a vital asset that fosters connection and excitement.

In summary: Hyperkarting provides immense value to the community and provides jobs for 150 people, while the proposed car park offers no proven additional utility to the area.

I ask the Council to prioritize people, jobs, and community spirit over unnecessary infrastructure. Please do not shut down Hyperkarting.

Sincerely,
Anish Ghai

Hi
Closing hyper karting would be a huge loss for the entertainment quarter and Sydney overall.

Honestly it's incredibly near-sighted that the city of Sydney is even considering shutting these guys down as hyper karting so clearly gets more people to the Moore park area and into the surrounding shops/restaurants. You wouldn't remove el Camino.

Kind regards and hoping for the right outcome.

Hi Shannon,

Just a quick email to say that as a long term customer of Hyper Karting I'm making this submission to try to keep them alive. Our family has gone many times to their kart track and we've had at least 3 kids parties there over the years. I really don't understand the logic behind kicking them out as the Entertainment Quarter is very quiet and dead most weekends. I've seen multiple other businesses come and go because of lack of foot traffic. Hyper Karting is the only business that keeps us going back there.

One of the reasons we do go there is because of the ease of parking, as there are heaps of available parking. So it seems out of place to remove a business to make way for more parking than is usually needed.

I will say that if Hyper Karting leaves EQ then our family will have very little reason to visit that area. We are from the lower north shore and make the effort to travel there for it too.

Cheers,
Ben Lee.

Dear Council Members,

I'm writing as a Sydney resident who is genuinely disappointed to hear about the proposed closure of Hyper Karting in Moore Park.

This venue isn't just another entertainment option—it's one of the few places in the city where people of all ages can come together, switch off from daily pressures, and share something genuinely fun and memorable. I've personally spent time there with friends and family, and it's always been a rare space that feels energetic, social, and inclusive.

Replacing it with a car park feels like a step backwards. Moore Park is already a heavily built-up area, and what makes it valuable is the mix of open space, recreation, and experiences—not just more infrastructure for cars. Removing a unique activity like Hyper Karting diminishes what makes the area special and reduces the diversity of things Sydney has to offer.

Cities thrive when they prioritise experiences, community, and vibrancy. Once a place like this is gone, it's very unlikely to be replaced with anything similar.

I strongly urge the council to reconsider this decision and explore alternatives that preserve spaces like Hyper Karting. They contribute far more to the social fabric of the city than a car park ever could.

Kind regards,
Julian

Hi,

I wish to make a submission to support the continued operation of Hyper Karting.

I have been a member for the past two years. My sons, 17 and 15 years old have also been members for the past year. My daughter, 9 years old, also has started racing in the past 6 months.

I truly believe that the venue is an important asset to the community. It provides my kids the opportunity to participate in a sport where there are very limited opportunities in greater Sydney.

For my children it has provided them an opportunity to increase skills, confidence whilst enjoying a sport they enjoy. It is a very well run operation, safety is impeccable and cost is excellent given the limited alternatives.

[REDACTED] - I didn't receive any notifications around the proposed closure. Jack told me. I imagine you also want to send your support for the continued operation of the venue for you and your kids.

Kind regards,

Ben Henderson

Dear city of Sydney,

I love hyper karting with a passion and I will be distraught if this beautiful octane fueled outpost is shut down. I have been coming here for half a decade and it provides me with great excitement and brings families together. I think I can say that almost everyone agrees that the floor is better to be a go-karting venue than un-needed car spaces, and it provides a big boost to the entertainment quarter, in turn making a decision to shut down the venue a double edged sword which will hinder the business of the entertainment quarter. Please take my word into consideration as a voice for the people and a lover of hyper karting.

Hi there,

Hyperkarting adds so much life to EQ, which otherwise is completely dead. An extra 150 car spaces isn't going to do much during an event, and hyperkarting adds so much value to the precinct as a whole.

Dear team,

I strongly oppose the idea of closing down Hyper Karting in the EQ. It simply doesn't make sense to remove such a beloved and popular attraction just to create parking. Traffic is bad for the environment and the health of our community. The EQ is well served by public transport, which should be encouraged. I have thoroughly enjoyed my visits to Hyper Karting and hope to continue visiting. Please do everything in your power to avoid closing down Hyper Karting.

Dear City of Sydney,

I am writing to express my concern regarding the closure of HyperKarting and to highlight the significant value this venue has provided to the community.

Hyper Karting has been a unique and highly accessible entertainment facility within Sydney, offering an affordable and enjoyable experience for people of all ages and all skill levels. This is one of the most kitted out go kart facilities that I have ever seen having visited a few and one of the best. It has served as a recreational hub where families, friends, and individuals could engage in a fun, safe, and engaging activity. Its presence has contributed positively to the vibrancy of the city, and supports visits to its local area. I know this by being a western Sydney resident who made the journey out to the location and went and explored the local area. This was a fun activity for me to do with friends and provided a unforgettable night experience in the city.

Affordable entertainment options such as HyperKarting are essential in a city like Sydney, where many recreational activities can be costly or inaccessible to a broad range of residents. The go karting scene in particular is fading away and is hard to reach in some areas with many locations becoming farther and farther away. The closure of such a venue reduces the availability of inclusive entertainment and limits opportunities for community engagement.

I respectfully encourage the City of Sydney to consider the importance of the venue and to maintain its current location and status.

Thank you for taking the time to consider this matter. I hope that the council will take into account the community value of such venues.

Yours sincerely,

Jayden

Good Evening,

Please keep hyper karting open.

This venue helped me during times when I needed it most. This place is somewhere where I've built a community, made friends and met like minded people.
My friends and I still go here to this day and don't know what we'd do without it.

This a safe community place, where anyone can feel at home, troubled youth, new immigrants and anyone looking for something to do late at night. We don't need a place like this closing down, as it helps take people off the streets.

With Sydney being Sydney, there is already limited places people of all ages can go, without getting intoxicated or into trouble.

Hyper Karting is a very important part of the community and I hope it will continue to be so. We don't need more parking at Moore Park and we need to prioritise day to day activities.

Kind Regards,

Jonathan D'Mello

Dear City of Sydney,

I am writing as a local resident to express my support for hyper karting at Moore Park.

It is a unique and inclusive activity that brings people together, encourages social connection, and adds to the diversity of things to do in Sydney. For many, it is a regular and valued way to relax and spend time with others - something we should value deeply in our city.

I encourage those decision makers to consider the strong community value it provides and to explore ways for it to continue operating responsibly.

Kind regards,

Cliff

Please reconsider shutting down Hyper Karting. One extra level of parking will do nothing. The removal of jobs and memories for thousands of people is too extreme. It is a great part of the EQ. Please reconsider.

Thanks,
Theo.

Hi Shannon,

I am writing to express my strong concern regarding the proposed closure of Hyper Karting. Hyper Karting is a cherished community institution that serves thousands of Sydney residents each year. We respectfully urge the Council to reconsider this decision for the following reasons:

Community Value - Hyper Karting provides a safe, well-managed, and highly rated entertainment option for families, young people, and groups across Sydney. With a rating of 4.7 stars from nearly 6,000 reviews, it is clear that this venue holds enormous value for the community.

Safe Spaces - The venue provides a structured, supervised environment where young people can enjoy motorsport-inspired activities safely.

Tourism & Local Attraction - The venue is a recognised attraction that draws visitors from across New South Wales and interstate. Its presence enhances Sydney's reputation as a world-class leisure destination.

Economic Contribution - Hyper Karting supports 150+ local employees and contributes to the vibrancy of the Moore Park entertainment district.

We respectfully ask the Council to explore alternative solutions that address any concerns raised, without resorting to closure.

Yours sincerely,

Marlan Hapuarachchi

To whom this may concern,

My name is Lucas McKillop, I started going to Hyper Karting around January this year with friends. A few days later, we all bought memberships because we loved it. Since January this year, I have completed almost 200 races and have just about kick started a potential go karting career which I never thought was possible beforehand, I even gone out and bought my own gear to start taking the sport seriously. None of this would have been possible without Hyper Karting and their amazing team!

Please back the community!

Regards,
Lucas

Hi there, can you PLEASE find another way to accelerate the bori-fication of Sydney, and leave hyperkarting at Moore park alone?

If it must go, the only acceptable terms I can see which would benefit our community would be to completely demolish the entire entertainment quarter, the studios and all of the stadiums, and build dozens of large and medium sized venues to replace those stolen from the LNP during its last tenure as chief in destruction of nsw.

So far successive councils and state governments have managed to demolish about 50 billion per year in entertainment revenue in Sydney, kill its globally calibrated mardigras, nuke practically every nightclub, destroy the festival scene, and come 2050 will have finished the job by deleting Sydney Olympic park to the west with no plans to replace any entertainment asset.

What will it take for people in the public service to actually understand that:

A - you are not the demographic

B - what you think is cool isn't

C - what you think sucks doesn't

D - most of the decisions you make cause more harm to communities than good (especially if they involve tourism, nightlife and entertainment)

While I have you, why don't you evict the AFL?

Why on earth did you build a stadium without a roof?

Do you know there is a venue crisis in Sydney and that it has nuked touring Australia wide?

Do you and your team and your colleagues know what fun is?

The entertainment quarter should be turned into an internationally renowned red light district. That should be your only goal. There should be nothing there but nightclubs, raves, festivals and all of the infrastructure that eco system needs to thrive.

This includes novel activities like hyperkarting which don't actually suck like everything else on offer in Sydney.

Thanks for your time.

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express strong support for the continued operation of Hyper Karting at the Entertainment Quarter, and to respectfully urge reconsideration of any plans to convert this space back into standard car parking.

Hyper Karting is not simply a recreational offering—it is a destination experience that contributes meaningfully to the precinct's identity, visitation, and economic activity. In a city like Sydney, where entertainment venues must constantly evolve to remain competitive and relevant, Hyper Karting provides a unique, high-energy attraction that draws both locals and tourists. It encourages longer dwell times within the precinct, supports surrounding businesses such as dining and retail, and strengthens the overall appeal of the Entertainment Quarter as a vibrant, multi-use destination.

Reverting this space to car parking would represent a step backward in terms of land utilisation. Parking facilities, while necessary, typically generate minimal engagement and often sit underutilised outside of peak event periods. In contrast, an active attraction like Hyper Karting delivers consistent foot traffic, repeat visitation, and a dynamic atmosphere that aligns with contemporary urban planning priorities—priorities that favour experiential spaces over passive infrastructure.

Furthermore, retaining Hyper Karting aligns with broader trends in city development, where entertainment precincts are increasingly designed to prioritise experience, community engagement, and economic vibrancy. Removing such a feature risks diminishing the uniqueness of the Entertainment Quarter and could impact its competitiveness against other lifestyle and entertainment hubs across Sydney.

Rather than reverting to traditional parking, there may be opportunities to further enhance or expand the current offering—integrating events, corporate functions, or partnerships that maximise the value of the space while continuing to meet transport needs through alternative solutions.

I strongly encourage decision-makers to consider the long-term cultural, social, and economic value that Hyper Karting provides. Preserving this attraction supports not only the immediate precinct but also the broader vision of a lively, modern Sydney.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Yours Sincerely

Brett Sutherland

To whom it may concern,

I'm writing to express my sadness around the potential closure of Hyper Karting at the Entertainment Quarter. This venue is one of the only Karting venues I know of that is close to public transport as well as also being undercover. It is also a lively event location in a vibrant area of the city for nights out, seeing movies, attending the markets or seeing a live show. If this venue were to shutdown, it would not only affect the lives of many workers in a very hard economy but also take away something fun and interactive for people of all ages to enjoy for what would be empty spots in a car park, how boring.

Please consider these points in your approach with this matter and think of the joy we need in these times over the monotony and hourly rate income over some cars filling spots.

Sincerely,
Nick Karras

Emailing about the decision to turn the hyperkarting arena into a parking lot.

It's an absolutely terrible decision, the good the business brings to the community, the jobs and the tourist attraction absolutely dwarf the benefit of an extra level of parking. Forcing the business to close down would be a great loss to the community, do better

I am writing to express my strong support for Hyper Karting Sydney and to urge the City to consider allowing it to continue operating.

Hyper Karting is more than just an entertainment venue—it is a valuable community space that provides a safe, controlled environment for motorsport enthusiasts of all ages. It offers young people and adults alike an accessible way to engage in a structured and supervised activity, which is far preferable to unsafe alternatives such as illegal street racing.

Beyond its recreational value, Hyper Karting attracts visitors to the area, supports employment, and encourages spending at nearby businesses. Losing this venue would not only impact customers but also employees and the broader local community.

Sydney is a global city that should support diverse and modern recreational activities. Closing down a unique venue like Hyper Karting would be a step backwards in providing engaging and positive outlets for the community.

I respectfully ask the City to reconsider any decision that would lead to its closure and instead work collaboratively with the business to address any concerns and allow it to continue operating.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Dear city of Sydney,

Hyperkarting is truly one of a kind in Sydney offering a unique experience that's accessible across all age groups unlike most other carting places they are electric making them quite safe and you're not sniffing fumes across the entire experience

Moreover, with the light rail connection Moore Park entertainment quarter is more accessible than ever through public transport

This experience is a unique experience in Sydney that we stop by every time we're at the entertainment quarter and it would be a shame to see it go for a few more car spots

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the council's decision to force the closure of the go-kart business at its current premises.

This action is deeply concerning and appears arbitrary, heavy-handed, and lacking in both transparency and procedural fairness. Shutting down an established local business simply because the council "wants the premises back" demonstrates a disregard for the livelihoods of those employed, the investment made by the business owners, and the community that relies on this facility.

The go-kart business is not just a commercial operation—it is a valued part of the local area, contributing to the economy, providing jobs, and offering a safe and accessible recreational outlet. The council's decision to displace it without clear justification, meaningful consultation, or a viable alternative raises serious questions about governance and accountability.

It is unacceptable for a local authority to exercise its power in a manner that undermines business confidence and destabilises the local economy. Decisions of this magnitude must be supported by proper process, fair notice, and genuine efforts to mitigate harm. At present, it appears none of these standards have been adequately met.

I therefore formally call on the council to:

- Immediately halt any action leading to the closure of this business
- Provide full disclosure of the reasons and legal basis for reclaiming the premises
- Engage in genuine consultation with the business owners and affected parties
- Offer a fair and reasonable alternative solution, including relocation support or compensation

Failure to address these concerns will leave affected parties with little choice but to consider escalating this matter through formal complaints, public scrutiny, and potential legal avenues.

This situation demands urgent reconsideration. The community expects and deserves better from its council.

Thank you
Maha

I request that my name and contact details be redacted from any publicly available documents associated with this submission, for confidentiality and privacy reasons.

I am writing to express my support for the proposed extension of use of Level 5 of the car park for Hyper Karting.

My family and I regularly travel from Sydney's North Shore to visit Hyper Karting at Moore Park. It has become a valued recreational destination for us, and importantly, our visits consistently extend beyond the venue itself. We typically spend time shopping and dining within the Entertainment Quarter precinct, contributing to the broader local economy.

We have also hosted a children's birthday party at Hyper Karting, catering through local restaurants and inviting guests from across Sydney. This brought additional visitors into the precinct who likewise engaged with surrounding businesses.

In our experience, the availability of parking at the EQ car park has been more than adequate. We have visited during peak periods, including Saturday mornings when the markets are operating, during major concerts at nearby venues, and throughout school holidays, and while it has been busy on occasion, we have never not been able to find a park in a timely manner.

Based on our consistent and positive experience, we do not consider that the continued use of Level 5 for Hyper Karting would create adverse parking impacts. Rather, the venue enhances the attractiveness of the precinct and supports increased visitation and economic activity.

For these reasons, I strongly support the proposed extension.

Yours sincerely,
[REDACTED]

I am writing to formally request reconsideration of the proposed closure of HyperKarting at Moore Park.

The venue is a unique and highly valued recreational facility that contributes significantly to the community. Its closure would result in the loss of an experience not readily available elsewhere.

I respectfully urge that the decision be reviewed and that measures be taken to allow HyperKarting to continue operating.

Hi City of Sydney,

Please do not let hyper Karting close. They worked hard on keeping the place interesting and fresh. A great for family fun as well as friends hangout.

Please reconsider your plans and give them a chance.

Thank you

Yours faithfully

I am the manager of a hostel in Sydney and I have personally enjoyed hyperkarting so so much with my own friends and heard a lot of people talk about how enjoyable their experience(s) have been there too. For new people to, not just the city but, country, it offers such a fun experience that anyone can be involved in. It's a great way for new friend groups to become closer, allowing their competitive side out in a safe but exciting way.

I will be so disappointed if it goes, for personal reasons and, for the great people who work there, I've always had a pleasant experience with the staff who deserve to keep providing this activity to people from all over the world, making them feel comfortable and excited somewhere new.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I write in support of RD/2023/897/A concerning the continued operation of Hyper Karting at 116 Lang Road, Moore Park.

This proposal represents a high-quality activation of space within the Entertainment Quarter precinct. Hyper Karting contributes to the area as a destination by providing a unique recreational offering that attracts visitors beyond major event times, supporting a more consistent and vibrant use of the precinct.

From a planning perspective, the adaptive reuse of car park space for an active recreational use aligns with broader strategic directions to optimise land use and reduce reliance on passive, low-productivity infrastructure where appropriate. Car parking is inherently a low-value use outside peak periods, whereas venues such as this provide continuous economic and social benefit.

Importantly, there does not appear to be clear evidence that the current use has resulted in material or unmanageable impacts on access, traffic, or precinct function. Moore Park already operates with established event-based traffic management systems and is supported by public transport, including light rail.

The venue also delivers tangible public benefits, including:

- Ongoing employment opportunities
- Increased activation of the precinct throughout the week
- A distinctive entertainment offering that enhances the appeal of Moore Park

Reverting an established, functioning recreational use back to passive car parking risks setting an undesirable precedent. It signals that activation within the precinct is temporary and reversible, which may discourage future investment and undermine confidence in the long-term evolution of Moore Park as a consistent, experience-driven destination.

On balance, the current use represents a more productive and community-beneficial outcome than its prior function as car parking, particularly outside peak event periods.

I respectfully encourage Council to support the continuation of this use.

Thank you for considering this submission.

Kind regards,
Cuneyt Ada

Please don't close down hyperkarting, it's genuinely one of the highlights of my trip when visiting Sydney. U can't get this type of speed anywhere else but here!!!! Also global warming is becoming an issue with the rise of temperature, we should encourage the use of public transport to minimize emission of CO2. Please please don't close down hyperkarting as I wish to come back in the future to meet the lovely staffs and experience the adrenaline again!!

Hi there,

I'm writing in support of Hyper Karting to remain in the EQ car park in Moore Park.

I have had many fun memories at Hyper Karting itself and also enjoyed the facilities at the Entertainment Quarter and surrounds numerous times and never had an issue parking due to the Hyper Karting operation.

My kids are just approaching the age where they can enjoy Hyper Karting for themselves. There are no other karting facilities nearby the CBD.

If anything I would support the increased footprint of Hyper Karting in the parking structure.

Thank you for your consideration.

Warm regards,
James

Hi city of Sydney,

I'd like you to reconsider the need to close the hypercarting facility in Moore park.

It's a fantastic facility that people travel to from all over Sydney and beyond, and to get rid of it will actually add less value to the precinct. I'm planning a visit there this week with a friend of mine, both traveling via public transport to venue. I'm coming from Baulkham Hills, and my friend from Moss Vale. I'm sure there are many more people do the same thing, all the time, so closing the facility would be a big loss to the area simply for more parking spaces.

Please reconsider.

Cheers
Brent

Dear Shannon,

Please leave Hyperkarting in Moore Park alone.

It is a place that's brought so much joy to the public and sustains 150 jobs.

Unless there is a real negative impact to the Moore Park community, please just let it be.

The world is already a negative place right now, please don't take away jobs and a place where people can escape to.

To whom it may concern,

Hyperkarts has been a welcome addition to Sydney where myself, my colleagues and my family have gone many times since they opened in the COVID era.

It's a well run business that many people enjoy and felt like a good use of otherwise empty carpark. I would say it also helps the whole entertainment quarter as whilst myself, my colleagues and our family would go for the karts, we'd also stay for the restaurants, arcade and other options.

Please keep it open, it's actually one of the cooler businesses in Sydney.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to express my strong support for the continued operation of Hyper Karting at Moore Park.

Hyper Karting has become a key attraction within the Entertainment Quarter, contributing to both foot traffic and the overall vibrancy of the precinct. It offers a unique recreational experience that appeals to a broad demographic, including families, young adults, and corporate groups.

The removal of this venue would diminish the diversity and appeal of the area, and in my view, negatively impact the precinct's ability to attract visitors.

I respectfully urge the Council to reconsider any proposal that would result in its closure and to support the retention of this well-utilized and valued facility.

Kind regards,

Dear Council Members,

I am writing to express my deep concern regarding the proposed closure of the Hyperkart racing venue to make way for additional car parking.

For many in our community, Hyperkart has been far more than just a recreational facility—it has been a vibrant hub for connection, celebration, and shared experiences. Over the past several years, families, friends, and local groups have gathered there to celebrate birthdays, milestones, and community events. It has created lasting memories for people of all ages and backgrounds, and its loss would be felt profoundly.

Beyond the emotional and social value, Hyperkart also contributes positively to local engagement, youth activity, and small-scale economic participation. It offers a safe and structured environment for motorsport enthusiasts and provides an accessible outlet for recreation that is increasingly rare in urban settings.

While I understand the pressures of urban planning and the need for infrastructure such as parking, I respectfully urge the council to consider alternative solutions that could preserve this much-loved venue. Some possible options might include:

- Exploring underutilized land nearby for parking development
- Implementing multi-level or shared parking solutions
- Adjusting zoning or layout plans to accommodate both parking and the venue
- Engaging with the community and stakeholders to identify creative compromises

The closure of Hyperkart would not just remove a facility—it would take away a meaningful part of our community's identity and shared history.

I kindly ask the council to reconsider this decision and engage with the community before moving forward. Preserving spaces like Hyperkart is essential to maintaining the vibrancy and wellbeing of our local area.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely and with best regards,
Dinesh

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express my deep concern regarding the proposed closure of Hyper Karting. I strongly urge you to reconsider this decision, as the facility plays a meaningful and positive role in the lives of many individuals in our community—particularly those who rely on inclusive and engaging recreational spaces.

As a disability support worker, I regularly take my NDIS client to Hyper Karting. For him, this is far more than just a leisure activity. It is something he genuinely looks forward to every single week. The excitement, joy, and sense of freedom he experiences while racing on the track are truly invaluable.

More importantly, Hyper Karting has provided him with an environment where he has been able to build confidence and social skills. Through interacting with staff and other participants, he has gradually become more comfortable engaging with new people—something that was once very challenging for him. These moments may seem small, but they represent significant personal growth.

There are very few places that offer this unique combination of accessibility, excitement, and social opportunity. For individuals supported under the NDIS, finding safe and enjoyable spaces that encourage independence and confidence-building is incredibly important. Hyper Karting is one of those rare places. Closing this facility would not only remove a source of entertainment, but also take away a space that fosters inclusion, personal development, and happiness for people who benefit from it the most.

I kindly ask that you take into consideration the broader social impact of this decision. Places like Hyper Karting are not just businesses—they are community hubs that support wellbeing, connection, and growth. Thank you for your time and consideration. I sincerely hope you will reconsider the closure and allow this important space to continue serving the community.

Yours sincerely,
Mustafa Syed

Please re-consider extending the Hyperkarting at the EQ car park. It is a unique facility which serves the community everyday in a car park which is normally pretty empty. This small space will make little difference to parking for major events where public transport should in any case be encouraged over cars.

Dear City of Sydney Council,

I'm writing as a local resident and regular visitor to the area to express my strong support for the continued operation of Hyper Karting and to urge the Council to carefully consider its value to the community before making any decisions that could impact its future.

Hyper Karting is more than just an entertainment venue — it provides a rare, accessible, and engaging recreational experience for a broad cross-section of the community. It offers a safe and structured environment for people of all ages to participate in motorsport, something that is otherwise difficult to access in an urban setting like Sydney.

From a community perspective, the facility plays an important role in activating the area, particularly during evenings and weekends. It attracts visitors, supports local businesses, and contributes to a vibrant, diverse city culture. These are outcomes that align strongly with the City's stated objectives around place-making and economic activity.

Chappy thinks this is where decisions like this can sometimes miss the bigger picture — it's easy to assess a venue through a narrow lens (noise, planning constraints, etc.), but the broader social and economic value often outweighs those concerns when managed appropriately. If there are issues, the focus should be on working collaboratively with operators to mitigate them, rather than removing the asset altogether.

There is also a broader equity consideration. Facilities like Hyper Karting provide an inclusive form of recreation that doesn't rely on elite-level access or expensive memberships. Removing it would further reduce the diversity of activities available to residents, particularly younger people and families.

I respectfully ask that Council:

- Recognise the social, recreational, and economic value of Hyper Karting
- Explore practical mitigation strategies for any concerns raised, rather than closure
- Engage with the community and stakeholders transparently before any final decision is made

Sydney benefits from having unique, experience-based venues that differentiate it from other cities. Losing Hyper Karting would be a step backwards in that regard.

Thank you for considering this submission.

Kind regards,
Cameron Schoer

Dear Assesment Officer,

I write to formally object to Development Application RD/2023/897/A, which proposes the removal of Hyper Karting Sydney to facilitate increased car parking capacity for intermittent sporting events.

This application raises significant concerns from a strategic planning, land use, and community value perspective—particularly within the policy framework of the City of Sydney.

1. Inconsistent with City of Sydney Strategic Planning Priorities

The City of Sydney has consistently prioritised:

- Active, engaging, and experience-based uses
- Year-round economic activation
- Reduction in car dependency and more efficient land use

This proposal directly conflicts with those priorities by:

- Replacing a high-activity, experience-driven venue
- With low-activation, car-dominant infrastructure used only intermittently

The outcome represents a regression in urban planning terms, shifting from activation to passive, underutilised space.

2. Disproportionate Trade-Off: Permanent Use vs Occasional Demand

Hyper Karting Sydney is a permanent, operational recreational facility delivering continuous value across:

- Social and community engagement
- Tourism and visitor economy
- Employment and local business activity

The justification for its removal—occasional peak parking demand during events—does not represent an equivalent or reasonable trade-off.

Planning outcomes should not prioritise infrequent peak demand over consistent, daily use.

3. Inefficient and Low-Value Land Use Outcome

Car parking—particularly for intermittent use—is widely recognised as a low-value urban land use, especially in a dense metropolitan context such as the City of Sydney.

The proposed outcome would:

- Leave the site underutilised for the majority of the time

- Reduce economic productivity per square metre
- Diminish the experiential and cultural value of the precinct

This is inconsistent with best-practice urban planning and the City's own strategic direction toward higher-value, activated land uses.

4. Loss of a Unique and Irreplaceable Facility

Hyper Karting Sydney is a specialised recreational offering with limited comparable venues within the metropolitan area.

Once removed, it is highly unlikely that:

- A similar facility would be reintroduced within the City of Sydney
- The lost recreational capacity would be replaced elsewhere

This represents a permanent erosion of recreational infrastructure, which should be carefully protected rather than displaced.

5. Availability of Alternative Event-Day Solutions

Event-based parking demand is a known and manageable challenge that should be addressed through:

- Integrated transport strategies
- Public transport utilisation
- Temporary traffic and parking management measures

It is not appropriate to remove an established business to accommodate non-permanent demand that can be addressed through established planning mechanisms.

6. Precedent Risk

Approval of this DA would set a concerning precedent whereby:

- Established, compliant businesses can be displaced
- Long-term land uses are subordinated to short-term operational convenience

This undermines planning certainty and sends a negative signal to businesses investing in experiential and community-oriented uses within the City.

Conclusion

This application prioritises occasional convenience over sustained community, economic, and strategic value, and is inconsistent with the City of Sydney's planning vision.

I strongly object to Development Application RD/2023/897/A and request that Council:

- Refuse the application in its current form; or
- Require a revised proposal that retains Hyper Karting Sydney while addressing event-related parking through alternative strategies

Thank you for considering this submission. I would appreciate being kept informed of any updates or determinations relating to this application.

Kind regards,

Craig Warren

Good morning

I would just like to make the statement that especially at a time like this with financial pressures and so forth that any business that is actually offering jobs to people should be retained over car parking spots.

The area has been notoriously bad and expensive for car parking that is true but that is not to say that this is the solution, by removing the hyper cart business.

This is also the only facility of its kind for those living near to the city and so it would be a significant loss to not be allowed to continue to operate.

Good day,

I am writing to strongly support the renewal of Hyperkarting's license and contract.

Hyperkarting is more than just a karting track. It provides a valuable place for people like me to go, compete with friends, and enjoy a safe and exciting activity. As someone who enjoys Formula 1, it gives me a real sense of the thrill of racing and a chance to experience that enjoyment in a hands on way.

It would be a real loss to the community as it is already being used for something that brings people together and creates a unique recreational experience. I believe Hyperkarting should be allowed to continue operating in its current location.

Please consider renewing their license and supporting the continuation of the track.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Kind regards,

Summary

I strongly support the continued operation of Hyper Karting Sydney at Moore Park and oppose the decision not to extend its approval.

This is not simply an entertainment venue—it is a proven, high-utilisation activation of otherwise underutilised space, delivering economic, social, and precinct-level benefits that outweigh its displacement for additional parking.

1. Efficient Use of Existing Infrastructure

The karting facility sits on an existing car park structure, representing a dual-use model of urban land:

Activates space that is otherwise idle outside peak event periods

Generates consistent daily visitation, rather than sporadic peak loads

Improves overall land productivity per square metre

Reverting this space back to full-time parking reduces the intensity and diversity of use, particularly outside major event windows.

2. Economic Contribution

Hyper Karting contributes to the local economy in ways that static parking cannot:

Direct employment (operations, hospitality, maintenance)

Indirect spend across the Entertainment Quarter precinct

Increased dwell time and cross-visitation to surrounding businesses

Replacing an active business with parking is a net downgrade in economic output per square metre.

3. Alignment with Strategic Planning Objectives

The removal of an active recreational use in favour of parking appears inconsistent with broader planning goals:

Encouraging activation of urban spaces

Supporting experience-based destinations

Reducing reliance on private vehicle use in inner-city precincts

Prioritising parking capacity over active use sends a conflicting signal about the future direction of inner-city planning.

4. Questionable Necessity of Additional Parking

Before removing an established, high-performing venue, there should be clear, evidence-based justification that:

Existing parking supply is insufficient across typical (non-event) conditions

Alternative solutions (pricing, traffic management, shared use) are not viable

In many precincts, parking demand is peaky and manageable, rather than requiring permanent reallocation of space.

5. Precedent and Risk

Allowing successful temporary activations to be removed despite strong performance creates risk:

Discourages private investment in similar adaptive-use projects

Signals that short-term approvals carry high uncertainty, even when successful

Reduces innovation in how Sydney utilises constrained urban space

Conclusion

Hyper Karting is a rare example of successful, high-engagement urban activation. Removing it in favour of additional parking represents a step backwards in land-use efficiency, economic output, and precinct vibrancy.

I urge the City of Sydney to reconsider its position and work towards a solution that retains this asset within the Moore

Park precinct.

Caution: This email came from outside the organisation. Don't click links or open attachments unless you know the sender, and were expecting this email.

Dear Shannon Rickersey and City of Sydney Council,

Hope you are well.

I strongly object to the refusal to extend the time limited development consent which had allowed the use of L5 Entertainment Quarter car park for entertainment facilities (used by Hyperkarting in my experience), detailed in RD/2023/897/A. I declare no conflicts of interest, and am writing this as a life-long resident of Sydney, and someone who thoroughly enjoys the Go-Karting and entertainment provided by Hyperkarting.

I find it difficult to reconcile the effective closure of Hyperkarting by RD/2023/897/A, with the broader cultural context of Sydney and Australia. Sydney lags behind global major cities (and honestly even much smaller cities), when considering accessible cultural and entertainment infrastructure. Speaking personally, I do not believe I would have developed into as productive a member of society as I am today (now working in neuroscience and medical sciences) without exposure to entertainment and recreational environments growing up (such as visits to Hyperkarting). Informal recreational venues and "third spaces" are often where curiosity, community, and creativity develop, and are critical for societal wellbeing. Take the widespread cancellation of major music festivals across Australia as an example (e.g. Splendour in the Grass, Groovin the Moo), this prompted the NSW Government itself to intervene with emergency funding packages to prevent further collapse of the live music sector. The fact that the government has had to establish multi-million dollar support programs simply to keep festivals operational highlights how fragile the cultural ecosystem currently is, and the recognised importance of entertainment accessibility. So then, the sensible decision for a location called the 'entertainment quarter' is to ... close an entertainment venue? This is repugnant.

I also do not see how removing one of the precinct's distinctive entertainment offerings benefits the Entertainment Quarter in the long term. State government communications acknowledge that it EQ currently "falling short of meeting its full potential" as a major entertainment hub (see: <https://www.nsw.gov.au/ministerial-releases/tender-process-opens-today-for-entertainment-quarter-redevelopment>), definitely a sentiment I feel and see in society around me when visiting EQ. So eliminating an attraction that actively brings people to the precinct seems counterintuitive. While the current cost-of-living climate may temporarily depress popularity, true for many entertainment venues, the appropriate long-term response would appear to be increasing the diversity of attractions, not reducing them. If the EQ gradually loses the entertainment experiences that draw people there in the first place, it is difficult to see what demand the additional parking would ultimately be serving. This decision may just cause EQ to be on the long list of Sydney's suburbs/precincts to rot away, seeming to fall in slow motion, and eventually be a shell that people only really visit for the odd large-scale event, remarking "Why is this place so dead?" while lamenting EQ's wasted potential.

Finally, I struggle to understand the logic of prioritising car parking. Moore Park has already seen substantial public investment in the light rail connection, which stops within walking distance of the Entertainment Quarter and major surrounding venues. This was a huge development for Sydney's public transport, and in my experience attending events at Moore Park, the light rail is already the predominant way people arrive. The clear intention of that investment was to reduce reliance on private vehicles and improve access to the precinct via public transport. Replacing a functioning entertainment use with additional parking therefore seems obstinate, and the result of an insufficient cost/benefit analysis.

I hope it is clear how the refusal to extend the use of L5 EQ carpark for Hyperkarting/entertainment use (RD/2023/897/A) is a poorly thought out decision, seriously ~~855~~ hurting Sydney, and in fact a major blunder for the long-term viability of EQ.

Kind Regards,
Yash Agarwal

Keep this space open! Any where people can enjoy this kind of fun, where people can gather, is slowly being eradicated from our city. To whom it may concern,

I am writing to formally express my opposition to the proposed plans for the Entertainment Quarter parking as it pertains to direct impact of Hyper Karting.

Over the course of some 1-2 decades, this precinct steadily lost what it is at its core and in its title - Entertainment. Since its introduction, Hyper Kart personally has been a breath of fresh air on a personal and business level.

I have used this in my spare time with friends randomly or before sporting events, as a team outing and celebration in my work arena and I too am hoping to give my 3yr old daughter her first taste of karting in a fun and safe environment.

I implore you to reconsider this decision.

Hello City of Sydney,

The removal of Hyper Karting would be an abhorrent decision by your council. You'd be taking activities away from the public and jobs away from so many young people in the area, whilst at uni or early stages of life will work there this is a great place to earn money.

Furthermore, I am not from the area, yet I've travelled there many times with different groups of friends, family and colleagues and turned it into a day where we then have lunch, visit a pub/restaurant in the evening or then go to watch a sporting event.

It is truly the reason we visit, without it I'd be unlikely to return to the area as all of those other things I can do in my local area of Cronulla.

Motorsport in general is so hard to come by in Australia, this is also a place where potential "hoons" can come to legally scratch that Motorsport itch, thus keeping our public roads safer. I hope to take my children there in the future and teach them that it's ok to have fun in vehicles in a safe environment, just like my dad taught me.

Taking things like this away from the public damage things in so many ways. The closest (decent) karting track if you remove this is in Liverpool, or Picton, or Luddenham, ridiculously far for us to travel.

We do not need more parking, a few extra spots will do nothing to stop the overflow that occurs on game days there for the swans etc, we need better public transport and infrastructure like the best cities in the world have.

The very small impact this will make on parking does not come close to the huge impact the removal of the business will have, and the flow on effects to follow.

Do the right thing.

Thanks,
A concerned citizen,
Matt.

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to strongly oppose any proposal to remove Hyperkarting from its current tenancy within the Moore Park multi-storey car park. I urge the City of Sydney to reconsider and allow Hyperkarting to continue operating in this space.

Hyperkarting occupies a single level of an existing parking structure, a level that currently serves a far more meaningful purpose than storing cars. I have visited on multiple occasions, and so have many people I know, ranging from complete beginners experiencing motorsport for the first time through to more experienced enthusiasts. It is the kind of activation that brings people together around a shared, energetic experience, and it adds genuine life and character to the Moore Park precinct. Venues like this are rare, and once they are gone, they rarely return.

Reclaiming that level for additional car spaces is, with respect, a poor trade. The evidence on induced demand is well established: expanding parking supply in urban areas does not relieve congestion, it simply generates additional vehicle trips to fill the new capacity. Adding one more level of car parking to a structure that already exists will not meaningfully ease pressure on the precinct. What it will do is remove a popular community venue in exchange for parking bays that will be full on event days regardless, and largely empty the rest of the time.

Moore Park is already well-served by public transport, with bus and light rail connections close by. For a precinct of this kind, active encouragement of those options is the right approach, not the quiet expansion of car parking at the expense of the things that make the area worth visiting.

I would ask the Council to consider what is actually being exchanged here. On one side: an active, community-facing entertainment venue that generates genuine economic activity and gives people a reason to come to Moore Park. On the other: a partial floor of a car park.

Please allow Hyperkarting Moore Park to stay. It is an asset to the area and to Sydney, and its removal would be a real loss.

Thank you for taking the time to consider this submission.

Yours sincerely,
Daniel Mobbs

Hyper karting is a unique, fun and safe way to entertain our youth and adults alike. Without it we end up with bored kids riding escooters and e bikes around for thrills risking public safety. Let hyper karting continue with their business.

Hello

Its come to my attention that there is a plan to not support the continuation of a wonderful business at Moore Park.

This business has significant positive flow on effects for the restaurants in the area and should remain open.

Hyper Karting is well run and even GREEN with electric power!

To whom it may concern,

I, Anthony Damcevski, would hate to see Hyper Karting forced to leave Sydney's entertainment quarter. This venue is immensely valuable to the community...

I am a former employee & regular customer of Hyper Karting. I can say, with absolutely certainty, that I took all the great things about Hyper Karting for granted during my tenure. It wasn't just a job - its an amazing place where like minded people, both staff members and customers alike, have the opportunity to meet others who share the same passion for racing and make lifelong friendships (across various ages and different walks of life). This is what makes Hyper Karting special.

My time at Hyper Karting provided me, and many others, with exactly what I have described above. Some of us always wanted to race at a higher level but never had the chance, some who used to race but gave up on their dreams, and others with little experience but a tonne of enthusiasm to get behind the wheel and sharpen their skills. Our ages, across the group of regular goers, spanned between late-teens all the way to 50+. Different ages, different races, united by our passion to go racing. Hyper Karting made us all excited to show up in the mornings/evenings for the dedicated "expert" sessions, almost everyday, to enjoy each other's company, strive for new personal best's on the track and enjoy the friendly competition too!

Where did this lead me and my new, large group of unlikely friends..? We formed multiple endurance racing teams, bought karts and currently race, semi professionally, in NSW's premier Endurance Karting Series - SEK NSW. No longer are we a group of strangers searching for a way to satisfy our need for racing. No...we got much more than we bargained for. Friends, Team-mates; a second family i dare say.

None of this would've been possible without Hyper Karting...

If you have read this far, I thank you very much for taking the time to do so. And I hope my submission has done justice to show how important and valuable Hyper Karting is on a social and communal level - I implore you to consider this deeply before pulling the plug...

Sincerely,
Anthony Damcevski

Hello,

I'd like to express my disappointment at hyperkarting being closed down for more car parking spaces.

My 6 year old son is a huge fan of the hyperkarting track. We had his 5th birthday there as have many of his friends.

I'm a local resident, who is a swans members, who uses the Moore Park facilities regularly and strongly believe we should retain the good, family friendly activities at Moore Park, rather than replace them with more car parking space.

That carpark is a nightmare to get out of already after sporting events - adding another level of parking trying to use the same number of exits is just going to increase the bottle neck and make things worse.

Keep hyperkarting!

Scott Abbot

Hypercarting isn't just a go-kart track. It's where kids have their first taste of real excitement. Where mates celebrate birthdays, couples go on dates, and families actually put their phones down for an hour.

And you want to replace it with a parking lot.

Parking lots don't create memories. They don't give teenagers somewhere safe and thrilling to spend a Saturday. They don't employ local staff or draw visitors to our community. They just sit there, grey and empty, collecting pigeon droppings.

Once Hypercarting is gone, it's gone. No one is getting that back. Please — don't trade something genuinely irreplaceable for a slab of concrete that could go anywhere.

To whom it may concerns,

This venue has become much more than just a recreational business for families like mine. It serves as a positive, safe, and inclusive environment where families, friends, and community members can come together to spend time together.

In an era where many Gen Alpha children are increasingly drawn to screens and iPads, Hyper Karting has become our go-to destination on weekends and during school holidays. It provides a much-needed opportunity to engage them in active, real world experiences and helps draw them away from excessive screen time.

At a time when engaging and accessible community spaces are more important than ever, Hyper Karting offers a unique environment that promotes social connection, physical activity, and shared experiences.

The facility has consistently demonstrated a strong commitment to safety, responsible operation, and community engagement. It offers a structured and supervised activity in a controlled environment, making it a valuable and reliable.

I strongly support the continuation of its permit to operate on Level 5 of the car park.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Fifi

Hi to whom it may concern,

Removing hyper karting from the entertainment quarter would remove such a huge part of why people go there, to be entertained and hyper karting provides so much of that. We don't need more parking, and for events such as concerts or sporting events there is public transport within walking distance, it literally does not make any sense to remove a flourishing business that people love for maybe 100 car spaces.

Please save hypercarting! It has a huge cultural benefit for Sydney and the community.

myself and my family don't see any logical reason to:

1. Remove more fun from sydney
2. remove jobs from the people
3. revert back to a lifeless car park that offers nothing to the city vs the minuscule convenience to a tiny few on a rare occasion.

Sort it out!

We should be opening more places like this, giving grants to make Sydney more fun and exciting, not trying to make it duller than it already is.

Thankyou for your time!

Hi Shannon,

I hope you're doing well.

I just wanted to share a quick thought regarding Hyper Karting. I understand it may be coming to a close, but I think it would be really worthwhile to preserve it in some form rather than letting it disappear entirely. In a time where more and more kids are becoming increasingly attached to their phones and screens, places like Hyper Karting offer something genuinely valuable a space for real-world interaction, activity, and fun. It gives kids and families the chance to step away from screens, be active, and create meaningful memories together. For many people, Hyper Karting has been a place of excitement, connection, and unforgettable experiences. It would be a real shame to lose something that has had such a positive impact on the community. Even preserving a small part of it, or recognising what it has meant to so many, could go a long way. Thank you for taking the time to consider this.

I'm sorry but how sick in the mind do you have to be to be removing hyperkarting to replace it with parking. I'd doesn't at all align with city of Sydney's vision to reduce car reliance, and everybody loves hyperkarting there. Take your rubbish nimby policies and quit and go elsewhere this is probably the most ridiculous thing I've ever heard only some disillusioned stuck up politician would come up with such a joke of an idea.

Good morning,

I am deeply concerned for the proposed removal of Moore Park's hyperkarting facility.

This poses a threat to local leisure and community engagement, and it undermines Sydney's position as a thriving city.

Additionally, the removal of Hyperkarting for parking spaces is counter to the City's development towards environmentally conscious movement. Any promotion of private vehicle usage (particularly vehicles with combustion engines) is a threat to the environment.

Please reconsider this decision, for the sake of thriving attendance of Moore Park, and for our environment.

Regards,
Hayley, resident of Sydney.

To Whom It May Concern,

The way I see it, we want people to take public transport and to have safe environments to enjoy themselves. Hyper Karting does both those things.

Not only is it easy to get to but I have been multiple times with family and co workers.
Every time I have visited on public transport.

It's also an outlet for people like me who love the feeling of speed but who like to be responsible on public roads. This facility is a brilliant space for all ages and its closure would be yet another dagger in the recreational heart of Sydney.

Please think carefully about the people employed, the users and the negative consequences of removing it. Do you really want to encourage more cars? It's the worst carpark to get out of after events and we refuse to use it anymore, especially with the light rail now.

Please think long term and give back to the community rather than take away.

Thanks

Hi,

I am a Sydney local, and would like to express my support for Hyper Karting to remain in operation in the EQ carpark.

It is a unique, efficient, and fun activity within near reach of the CBD, and its closure would be massively detrimental to Sydney's culture.

Dear City of Sydney,

Writing in regards to the plan to reject the extension of Hyper Karting's operating approval. Not only do I believe the removal of the Karting facility would be a great loss, it is in fact one of the few activities that me and my friends go to the EQ for. But more importantly, what the EQ needs is not more parking, but rather much improved public transport connectivity. Getting there on public transport from somewhere as close by as Bondi is terribly inefficient. And the same goes for many other areas. The trams are 700m away which is not good enough for a major location like this. It is due to the poor connectivity my friends and I don't go to the EQ more frequently to enjoy what is on offer.

In order for the EQ to really reach its full potential, it needs to be easier to reach on public transport, ideally a train or metro station. I recognize this would take time, but needs to be worked into the plan. Until then you need to add more direct and frequent buses to key destination.

Removing Hyper Karting would be a massive loss, and more parking is not the solution for the EQ overall. Hoping you will reconsider.

Many thanks,

Dear Shannon and the Planning team

With respect to the decision to not extend the temporary lease for Hyper Karting, and return the space to a private car park operator, there seems to be no public benefit. Statistics would prove the point, and the space would unlikely see high usage.

It is important to come clean about who would benefit from your decision. For instance, it is important such matters would not be subject to an ICAC investigation.

As a business who has used this facility for team building events (where we arrived and departed by public transport), with nothing similar anywhere near the CBD, your decision represents a return to the dark, cold days of concrete jungle emptiness that has plagued this city centre since the 1960s.

Sincerely

Paul

Dear Shannon,

Please accept this email as a letter of support for the ongoing operations of Hyper Karting at Moore Park.

I have used the facility many times over the last five years with both family and friends. It is a great way to have fun, and I find it is also helpful to get together with other Dad's to have some time to destress. We typically also support the surrounding cafes, etc. in the Entertainment Quarter when we go karting.

Hyper Karting is well located, accessible, available in all weather conditions and nice to have natural light and airflow with the open sides. I have never seen the carpark full so I don't see any problem with letting the operation continue.

Regards,
Owen Burnie

Dear City of Sydney,

I urge you to listen the voices of the people and community regarding Hyperkarting in Moore Park.

It was such a great place to hang out and celebrate with friends, and it would be the ultimate shame to see it go. Please reconsider your decisions and do NOT get rid of this community hub.

Dear City of Sydney Council,

I am writing to express my strong support for the petition to preserve Hyper Karting Sydney and to urge the Council to carefully consider the broader community impact before making any decisions that could affect its future.

Hyper Karting Sydney is more than just a venue—it is a unique and valuable recreational space that brings together people of all ages and backgrounds. It provides a safe, engaging, and social environment that promotes community connection, supports local tourism, and contributes to Sydney's vibrant entertainment landscape.

For many residents and visitors, Hyper Karting offers an accessible and exciting activity that is not easily replaced. Its presence adds diversity to the city's leisure offerings and helps make Sydney a more dynamic place to live and visit. Additionally, the business supports local employment and contributes to the local economy.

I respectfully ask the Council to take into account the strong community support demonstrated through the petition and to explore all possible options to ensure that Hyper Karting Sydney can continue to operate. Preserving venues like this is essential to maintaining the character and livability of our city.

Thank you for your time and consideration

To whom it may concern,

I've had numerous great experiences racing friends at Hyper Karting at Moore Park and it has been a great place to go to socialise and race friends, close to my my home. The news that it was at risk of shutting down a surprised me as the go karting track is a place that has brought so many memories, and is a very popular spot among many people n the area.

Why are you going to force them to close? Shutting down 100s of jobs and removing one of the few gokarting places in Sydney (they are already few and far between, and very far away travel). Youre going to force hyperkarting to close just so you can add another level to a carpark?

Sure, im sure another level to a carpark will make a whole lot of difference. We have to many car parks, we dont need more, especially when you are removing a go karting centre that the community loves.

I urge you to reconsider, you're going to force one of the few go karting places in Sydney and that is close to the city to close only so you can build an extra level onto a carpark. Please reconsider.

Declan

Dear Shannon,

I am writing to express my strong support for Hyper Karting and to respectfully request that Council reconsider any actions that may result in its closure.

Hyper Karting is a unique and valued community facility that provides a place for families, friends and young people to come together and enjoy themselves, rain, hail or shine. In a city where weather and limited options can restrict activities, venues like this play an important role in keeping communities active and connected.

Importantly, the venue also supports approximately 150 local jobs. Its closure would have a significant impact not only on those employees, but on the broader local economy and vibrancy of the area.

While I understand the need to balance competing priorities, including car parking, I strongly encourage Council to consider the broader community and economic value that Hyper Karting provides, and to explore alternative solutions that allow it to continue operating.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Kind regards,

Concerned resident, Marnie Rogan

To the Assessment Officer,

I write in support of Hyper Karting's application for a continued temporary use approval at Level 5, Entertainment Quarter Car Park, Moore Park.

I am a regular visitor to the facility and a resident of the Sydney metropolitan area. I ask that Council reconsider its refusal on the following planning grounds.

1. Parking demand does not justify the refusal

Transport for NSW data shows that since Allianz Stadium reopened in 2022, the Entertainment Quarter car park has reached capacity only a handful of times across 84 major events. The 298 spaces occupied by Hyper Karting represent approximately 15% of the car park's 2,003 total spaces - spaces that sit empty the vast majority of the time. The forthcoming 1,500-space underground car park at Allianz Stadium will more than offset both these spaces and the planned phase-out of on-grass parking at Lower Kippax and Hordern Pavilion.

2. The refusal is inconsistent with the NSW Government's stated precinct objectives

The NSW Government is actively seeking proposals to transform the Entertainment Quarter into a year-round destination for hospitality, events and culture. The Premier has publicly acknowledged the precinct has fallen short of its potential outside major event days. Removing a venue that operates seven days a week, has attracted over 500,000 visitors, employs more than 150 people, and has generated zero noise complaints directly contradicts this revitalisation objective.

3. Community and social value

The facility serves NDIS participants through structured social programs and has contributed to developing young racing talent, including drivers scouted for international development programs. These community outcomes are consistent with the social objectives of the Sydney Local Environmental Plan.

4. The temporary use has demonstrated no adverse impact

Since 2021, the facility has operated without a single noise complaint and has activated a previously disused section of the car park. There is no evidence before Council that the continued temporary use would cause unacceptable impacts on the amenity of the precinct.

I respectfully submit that Council's stated justification - that exclusive use of parking spaces for commercial activity is unacceptable - does not withstand scrutiny when weighed against actual parking utilisation data, the incoming Allianz Stadium car park capacity, the precinct's revitalisation goals, and the demonstrated community benefit of the facility.

I urge Council to approve the extension.

Hyperkarting should remain at Moore Park. It is such a fantastic addition to the entertainment quarter and has provided me and my friends many hours of laughs and fun over the five years it has been opened. Hyperkarting provides much more benefit than 1 more floor of a carpark.

Hi - I am a go kart enthusiast living in central Sydney. I've been to Hyperkarts many times.

It's rare to have a such a quality operation so central. An excellent team who run a tight ship, karts are great quality - and electric! - which is really cool.

Closing hyperkarts for the sake of one more level of car parks would be a great loss to Sydney and the entertainment quarter.

Thanks,

Cam

To whom it may concern,

I am writing in support of Hyper Karting Sydney to continue their operation at Moore Park parking space.

This place has been and will always be one to make great memories with my friends and family. With it being in the vicinity of Sydney CBD, it's the only one accessible for me and my friends to meet up with and catch up regularly.

I firmly believe that having Hyper Karting still operational will benefit foot traffic and interest around the entertainment square area much more than the proposed parking space area.

I appreciate your continued commitment with time and efforts in improving the local scene for the better. But I sincerely request for a re-consideration in your decision in this matter involving potentially removing Hyper Karting from the space.

Thank you in advance for your time in reading this email and consideration. Have a wonderful day ahead.

Hi, this is Ved, you probably dont know me but im a regular at hyper karting. Please do not close this place for car parking space and nobody will use, there's also heeps of floors or car parking that have never been fully filled, for crying out loud there's 4 levels or parking in the hyper kartign building, isn't that enough? Closing down hyper karting is ruin a lot of the income and revenue for moore park as since hyper karitng is so popular, most of the time people only go to moore park to go kart and then eat, restaurants there will suffer big losses aswell, just because of 1 more level for car park no one will use, mind you literally everyone doesn't want this to happen. Its going to be a waste of the councils, the governments and the citizens tax money. Please keep hyper karting open????????

To the councillors

I am part of a large group that attend Hyperkarting multiple times a week, it's become a meeting point for drivers of a diverse age and cultural background range, all of which I would not have gotten to know had it not been for hyperkarting.

Hyperkarting has become a huge part of my life, it's where I go to unwind after a hard day and also where I go when I just want to have some fun, I can unwind and have a laugh with friends there after races, it's a meeting point for peoples who enjoy the same activity as myself.

Hyperkarting is where I go to get a racing fix when my racecar is not fit for the track.

Hyperkarting has also become a introduction and development into the karting world for some that go there, with drivers I've seen arrive with limited knowledge of the sport go on to make their competitive karting debut.

Everything previous has been about my connection to the venue and to a precinct(entertainment quarter) that over the past 2-3 years I've been attending I've only been to 3 other times, the same has been said multiple times by others who frequent Hyperkarting. Hyperkarting itself brings in so much business for the surround precinct that will disappear if it closes.

Onto the parking situation, I've been at Hyperkarting on a few limited occasions where the carpark is full due to other events taking place at the entertainment quarter precinct, and the exit from that carpark is abysmal, it can take hours to get out from the top floors and adding more spaces to an already comprised exit will only exasperate the situation. The grassed areas that are used for parking are much more efficient and they have held up to being in use for over 20 years(well before Hyperkarting was even a concept), so I struggle to understand why they need to be closed due to preservation.

In addition there is a new carpark being built adjacent to the Football stadium that is supposed to add more spots than both the grassed areas and the top 2 levels of the entertainment quarter carpark combined, coupling that new structure with the light rail and the public transport to the area there really shouldn't be a need to add so many car spaces to the area, there has been an initiative by government to get major event attendees to leave the car at home and use those new and incumbent public transport options, this decision to close Hyperkarting goes against that, so this decision to close a thriving busines that brings thousands of people into the precinct each week does not make sense to me.

As stated Hyperkarting has become a major part of my life and I've met friends that I otherwise would never have met, it's kept me sane when life has not been kind and given me an outlet other than the streets to get my racing fix when I can not attend track days at race tracks, it's introduced and developed me young karting talents, most with hopes to make it into supercars and beyond(F1) and the decision to close this venue due to the need to more car spaces when there is amazing public transport readily available with a new parking structure of considerable size is being built does not make sense.

I do hope the decision to revoke the license to operate Hyperkarts is reversed and we can go on enjoying an activity that brings value into the area.

Dear S. Rickersey,

If you're fortunate enough to one day look back on your life, you might find yourself reflecting on what you achieved whilst alive.

I hope in that moment, the profits you've delivered to shareholders and the decisions you've insulated from scrutiny bring you genuine satisfaction. The way you've learned never to be challenged, and how much of yourself you've kept hidden from a shrinking circle of friends and an insular family—stand tall in that. It takes effort to build walls that high.

Please, by all means, add “demolishing a beloved local attraction to build a car park” to that deathbed reflection. Just another small, gleaming achievement in a career of gloriously antisocial choices, I'm sure.

Removing joy and enrichment from public spaces must align with several religious traditions—or at least with a particularly bleak corporate playbook.

I have every confidence you'll do the wrong thing. The fact that the people fighting to save HyperKarts have been reduced to begging on an Instagram ad tells me your mind is already made up. So, well done.

Personally, I would absolutely love another car park. Nothing would make me prouder as a Sydneysider. I'm genuinely passionate about concrete, poor planning, and the quiet death of things that make a city worth living in.

Satire aside: you hold an incredibly privileged position. Don't knock down this business. Do something that actually improves lives.

Hopeful regards,

Storm Andersson

To Whom Itat Concern,

This is probably the first time I've written in respond to an application, but I am getting fed up with the slow erosion of anything unique in this city.

The decision to close Hyper karting to reclaim a couple of hundred parking spaces is despicable, particularly given the council's rhetoric of wanting less car based travel.

In typical Sydney fashion, anything remotely interesting or different from an entertainment perspective is squeezed out, often due to the bottom line that more money can be made by developing the property into housing, or on this case carparks. Sydney used to have a vast array of activities such as roller and ice skating rinks, go-karting businesses and the like that both kids and adults could enjoy but sadly these are being squeezed out one by one due to escalating costs. As exciting as it is to see more carparks and luxury apartments in Sydney, let's not forget about the importance of entrainment that doesn't take place in stadiums.

Appreciate your time,

Josh Onikul

Hi Team,

It deeply troubles me that I have to send this email to justify the existence of this business. I can only imagine the impacts this has had on the owners.

Racing and Karting are my personal escapes, they help me with my mental health issues and bring me genuine joy in my grim existence in this particular troubling time in history.

I've shared many memories here with my friends and strangers. Together we have had over 100 races. We travel from all across Sydney to visit Hyper Karting because of the venue, staff and service quality. It would be a major loss for the local and extend community, for the local businesses in the precinct where we eat and drink. For the businesses all across the city that host their corporate events here.

This decision makes absolutely no sense. I hope your team truly takes the time to consider the impacts of your decision. We dont need more car spaces here.

Thanks,
Daniel

Love this place, can't possibly get rid of such an awesome venue!! It's a great way to fill that space, there's nowhere else like it in Sydney. Would be such a waste, along with decreasing the amount of people who eat out nearby because that's what most people do after a sesh in the karts, and surrounding businesses wouldn't want that, would they?

I want my children to experience this place when they come of age, so please, for the love of God, do not close this place and let me create more beautiful memories with my children in the future.

Hi,

I've gone to Hyperkarting before with my family and it was a great experience. It was really good to be able to do go-karting in the inner city with electric cars instead of carbon emitting fuel go-karts. Please reconsider shutting down this community experience.

Hi City of Sydney,

Hyperkarting has been an amazing place in which I have make many connections with people, as someone who came from another country it has been one of the only places in which karting and racing as a sport and hobby can be done, and I think it makes the Moore park entertainment quarter so much better, please re-evaluate and keep it open.

Good afternoon,

I write to you today to reconsider closing down businesses, specifically HyperKarting, in the EQ Carpark in Sydney.

Not many facilities are suitable for indoor go karting tracks, but the EQ Carpark is a safe and regulated space where all can enjoy racing go karts, as there is adequate Wilson and numerous other parking garages in Sydney currently.

I also ask that you reconsider due to the cost of living crisis, as myself and many others have hundreds of dollars worth of gift cards to use towards participating in a go kart race at HyperKarting, and shutting them down leaves people like myself out of pocket.

Thanks for taking the time to read and I sincerely hope that HyperKarting is not shut down for capitalist greed.

Cheers,
T Stevenson

Hello,

I am writing as I've heard that the city is considering shutting down Hyper Karting for additional parking.

I am part of four middle aged men that come together to ride. This has become a healthy hobby for us. It's our version of golf.

In a time when mass transit should be encouraged, it doesn't make sense to shut down a community for extra parking that will only be used a limited amount of days a year.

Please renew the lease for hyper karting.

Thanks,

Dereck Hooker

I've been coming to Hyper Karting for a few years now.

It's a great way to get out and have fun. Not only for my kids who love it but for me. Getting some adrenaline going after a tough day's work is very helpful.

Every time I'm there, new people experience this fun, including tourists.

Taking a unique go-karting experience out of Sydney city is ridiculous. Of all the times I've been here the car park isn't even close to full. On game day events I wouldn't park there due to the cost and inconvenience alone. Aren't we trying to get cars off the road?

The next closest karting experiences are in Bankstown in Concord. Too far out of the city.

I strongly don't believe getting rid of this company outweighs the benefits of having more empty spots on most days.

To be honest it's the only reason I come to EQ. You'll be doing a disservice to the whole place itself.

Please reconsider closing down hyperkarting, Sydney is a city for people, not for cars and carparks.

Hyperkarting is a place for enjoyment, competition, excitement, and is one of the greatest ways people of all ages and backgrounds can pursue an interest in motorsports safely.

There are precious few venues that can offer all that in Sydney. Don't rob the community of what already exists in such limited capacity for car spaces that won't be utilised for a majority of the time.

Thank you.

To whom it may concern,

I'm a mum of 2 and this place is such a core memory for our kids and their generation! Please don't replace it with a car park when the area is already well connected with bike lanes, buses and the light rail. More cars is not what we need.

This place also draws people to the area- we only visit to go hyperkarting and will then visit the markets or other restaurants and cafes after.

F1 is also on the rise and someone our kids are getting more and more into. Hyperkarting is one of the only outlets in the Sydney area that means our kids can get involved without driving hours.

Hope you will reconsider this decision.

To the City of Sydney,

We oppose the proposed removal of HyperKarting at the Entertainment Quarter in Moore Park to make way for on-grass parking.

HyperKarting is a valuable community space that brings people together for recreation, celebrations, and social connection. For many of us, it holds meaningful memories and plays an important role in making the Entertainment Quarter an active and engaging destination.

Replacing this venue with parking prioritises cars over people. Moore Park is already well-served by public transport, including the nearby light rail stop, which represents a significant public investment intended to reduce car dependency and support accessible, sustainable travel.

The removal of HyperKarting would reduce the diversity and appeal of the precinct, weaken its ability to attract visitors, and diminish opportunities for young people and families to gather and celebrate.

We call on the City of Sydney to:

- Retain HyperKarting or ensure the site continues to be used for active, community-focused purposes
- Prioritise people-oriented spaces over additional parking
- Align planning decisions with sustainable transport and public space goals

We urge you to reconsider this proposal and protect spaces that contribute to a vibrant, inclusive, and accessible Moore Park.

Sincerely,
Tazmin Barter - Planning student at Macquarie

To all who it may concern,
I write to you today with great concern regarding Hyper Karting at EQ and the possible termination of their space and as a result, the business as a whole.

Hyper Karting is one of the only things in the EQ that actually makes it feel like an entertainment precinct. Removing it for more parking doesn't really make sense, especially when it comes at the cost of around 150 jobs.

There's clearly a lot of people speaking up against this change, and it's hard to see where the demand is coming from to replace an active, functioning business with passive parking space. This is a step backwards for the city, the local economy and EQ holistically.

Extending their contract seems like a straightforward option. They provide jobs, they don't cause issues for neighbours, and they bring people into the area, particularly at night. That kind of activity is exactly what keeps a precinct like this alive, not benign parking spaces.

For a city that is trying to build up its nighttime economy and reduce reliance on cars, replacing a venue like this with more parking feels inconsistent with those goals. It removes something that adds energy and replaces it with something that doesn't contribute much beyond convenience.

There's already a fair amount of public attention on this, and it would be disappointing to see a decision like this go ahead without properly considering the value that businesses like this bring to the area.

Please think of this change with greater consideration for what you are doing.

The reality is that for most of us, there is little to no reason to visit the entertainment quarter if hyperkarting is removed. They are by far the most popular attraction in the area, please, keep this place safe. Additionally for any uni student attempting a quick race after class, the only other option is to drive to eastern creek. In this economy, thats not possible for many of us.

To whom it may concern,

This is my submission regarding the plans to close down Hyper Karting in favour of a carpark. This is a wonderful place that I've only had the opportunity to visit once and would love to go back, myself and a large portion of the community loves Hyper Karting and we do not want to see it closed down.

We do not need more parking, we need whimsy and things that bring people together in a world that is hard enough already.

Please please don't let this place go, the community wants it to stay!

Thank you

Hello,

I'm sending this email to please consider keeping the hyper karting at moore park open.
99% of the time the car park is empty but all throughout the day you can find people coming into the go karting place from kids to adults who also spend time and money in the entertainment quarter.

Additionally our workplace go their for many work bonding events visiting from the Disney lot.

People who visit the go karting place also have no choice but to pay for parking at the same car park that it resides in.
Increasing revenue of the car park.

the go karting place and it's a great addition to the area. It's one of a kind and hard to find something similar anywhere in Sydney.

To whom this may concern.

I am writing to express my strong support for Hyper Karting and for the approval of its continued operation at its current facility.

Hyper Karting is a valued entertainment and sports venue that brings people together. It is a place where friends, families, and work teams can connect through shared experiences in a safe and enjoyable environment. I have frequently visited this venue for social gatherings with family and friends, and also brought colleagues along for team-building activities. Hyper Karting plays a meaningful role in social connection and wellbeing for many people.

The business also provides clear benefits to the surrounding area, with visitors often supporting nearby cafés, restaurants, and bars, helping to sustain local hospitality and create a more active and vibrant Moore Park precinct.

I have been a customer of this venue since it first opened. What started as an excellent initiative to utilise unused space has evolved into a very popular venue with a product offering that is continually improved. It is also evident that the organisation employs over 150 people, many of whom are young people with an interest in Karting.

I believe Hyper Karting makes a positive contribution to Sydney's recreational and social offering, and I strongly support the continuation of its operating approval so it can remain an active part of the community.

Thank you for considering my submission.

Kind regards,

Niall Powers

Hi,

Really saddened to hear that Hyper Karting at Moore Park is under threat of closing down due to a desire to return the space to car parking.

It'd be such a shame to see one of the greatest activities available in the area and so easily accessible for many be shut. Hyper Karting provides so much fun and enjoyment and makes the entertainment quarter a destination to head to.

Additional food businesses in the area also benefit from HK, as the activity brings in a crowd, we'd always end up hungry and wanting to eat afterwards, enjoying the food and pubs on offer after karting. Spent many work functions at hyper karting, which gave everyone something fun to do and new experiences for many.

Please don't shut them down. It'd be a lose for the city of Sydney.

Cheers,
Michael

To Whom It May Concern,

I'm writing as a Sydney resident and regular patron of the Entertainment Quarter to express my strong opposition to the closure of Hyper Karting at Moore Park, and to urge the City of Sydney to reconsider its refusal of the DA extension application.

Hyper Karting is one of the most genuinely unique recreational offerings in inner Sydney. As a parent, I introduced my children to motorsport through this venue and they have chosen it repeatedly for their birthdays. That's not something I can say about many experiences in this city. It sits in a rare category: an activity that is thrilling, accessible, and appeals to a wide age range, right in the heart of Sydney.

The Parking Argument Does Not Hold Up

The council's stated justification, reclaiming car spaces on Level 5 of the EQ car park, is difficult to reconcile with observable reality. The EQ car park holds approximately 2,000 spaces. Under normal daily trading it operates well below capacity, with the first two hours offered free. Adding 298 spaces back to a car park that is regularly under-utilised does not meaningfully address any genuine parking shortage.

On the days when parking in this precinct is actually under pressure, such as major events at Allianz Stadium, the SCG, or Hordern Pavilion, the existing car parks have well-documented exit constraints that prevent efficient throughput regardless of total capacity. An additional 298 spaces will not resolve a systemic traffic management problem. Event-day overflow already spills to grass car parks, school grounds, and surrounding streets. The bottleneck is exit lane capacity, not the total number of bays.

Removing an active, 500,000-visitor venue to recover a fraction of that footprint is a disproportionate solution to a problem those 298 spaces simply cannot fix.

Public Transport Investment Should Be Leveraged, Not Undermined

The L2/L3 light rail was extended to service the Moore Park precinct, a significant public infrastructure investment. Services run every 5 to 15 minutes, connecting Moore Park directly to Circular Quay and Central from 5am to 1am daily. The Moore Park stop is a short walk from the Entertainment Quarter.

Closing one of the precinct's most popular daily attractions and replacing it with underutilised car parking sends the opposite signal to the one this investment was designed to support. It prioritises car dependency at the exact location where the government has invested to encourage the alternative.

Sydney is Losing City-Based Recreation

Inner Sydney has seen a steady contraction of recreational venues that offer real, active experiences for families and young people. Go-karting at this scale and quality, within reach of the city, is genuinely rare. Hyper Karting operates a 410-metre electric circuit, the kind of facility that would ordinarily require a trip well out of the urban area. Its location makes it accessible to a huge catchment of Sydney residents and visitors who don't own cars and rely on public transport.

At a time when the NSW Government has publicly committed to revitalising Sydney's entertainment and leisure offerings, this decision moves in precisely the opposite direction.

Jobs, Livelihoods, and Community

Over 150 people are employed at Hyper Karting. These are real jobs supporting families who would lose their income overnight if this closure proceeds. The venue has welcomed over 500,000 visitors since opening in 2021 and operates seven days a week. It is not a marginal or seasonal operation. It is an active, contributing business in the precinct.

Conclusion

I respectfully urge the City of Sydney to grant Hyper Karting's extension application and to undertake genuine public consultation before any decision to permanently repurpose this space. The case for closure, recovering underutilised car spaces that will not meaningfully resolve the precinct's parking dynamics, does not justify the loss of a unique recreational venue, 150 jobs, and a place that thousands of Sydney families, including my own, genuinely value.

Thank you for your consideration.

Hey City of Sydney,

Stop being woke!. Stop the bullshit! Stop the over development! Stop forcing business's to close down for your own benefit! Do the right thing and let Hyperkarting stay.

They are a great venue. Ive been a customer for years , bringing all my mates along.

Forget about the money, or about the extra car spots you'll get after kicking Hyper Karting out. Think about what your doing to this business, and how it will affect the community and the public.

I hope you take that into consideration. Im with Hyper Karting all the way on this one. Lets keep their doors open!

Anthony

I am sending this email in regards to Hyper Karting and the possibility of closure to build a car park.

This is a terrible idea & will be a tremendous loss for the community - not only for jobs, but also what this venue offers. Memories. Experiences. A hobby. An outlet. A sense of belonging. Excitement. Passion. Celebrations.

They are so few places left that everyone can go to and leave their worries behind and do something different.

Please, reconsider this proposal and help save Hyper Karting. Save this amazing place for everyone not only for more, but also into the future.

Dear Council Members,

I am writing to express my strong support for keeping HyperKarting open and operational.

HyperKarting provides a valuable recreational space for people of all ages in our community. It offers a safe, structured, and engaging environment where individuals, families, and groups can come together, stay active, and enjoy a unique experience that is not easily found elsewhere. Facilities like this play an important role in promoting social connection, local tourism, and overall community wellbeing.

In addition to its social benefits, HyperKarting contributes economically by creating jobs and attracting visitors to the area, which in turn supports other local businesses. Closing such a venue would not only remove a popular activity but also have a ripple effect on the local economy.

I understand that councils must balance a variety of concerns when making decisions. However, I strongly encourage you to consider the positive impact HyperKarting has on the community and explore any reasonable options that would allow it to remain open.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Yours sincerely,
Riley Schwarz

Why close Hyper Karting? It is such a fun and popular place, takes hooligans off the streets, giving a place to go fast without hurting others. It also serves as a stepping stone for prospective race car drivers, allowing them to practice to become professionals. Hyper Karting is also much cheaper than other places, and actually close to civilisation.

Is it really worth putting 150 people out of jobs and thousands more people out of a local track for some grass?

Reconsider your priorities please.

Thanks,

Rishab

> Dear Shannon Rickersy and Council,

> I write as a resident of the Eastern Suburbs to oppose the decision not to renew the operating licence of Hyper Karting, and to urge the Council to reconsider before the space reverts to general car parking.

> Hyper Karting has, over the years it has operated, become a genuine community institution. It employs local staff at above-average wages, provides an accessible recreational venue for residents across a wide range of ages and backgrounds, and has demonstrated continuous improvement in its operations and community engagement. It is the kind of business that rarely appears in a suburb like ours: active, affordable, locally staffed, and genuinely beloved.

> The stated rationale for non-renewal, the need for additional parking capacity during peak event periods, is one I understand. However, I would respectfully put to the Council that it is disproportionate. Converting a thriving, job-creating recreational facility into overflow event parking represents a significant and permanent loss of community value in exchange for a periodic and arguably manageable inconvenience.

The purpose of running events is to create employment and economic development. Shutting down a business that so strongly contributes to employment and economic development to create more event parking totally at odds with these objectives.

The current parking congestion is significantly caused by the fact that the car park at the stadium is under construction. Once construction is complete, the parking situation will materially improve.

> I would also note that event-driven parking demand is intermittent and predictable. There may well be alternatives worth exploring: dynamic pricing for existing spaces, partnership arrangements with nearby private operators, improved transport activation on event days, or temporary arrangements that do not require the permanent loss of the karting facility. I would encourage Council to consider these before taking an irreversible step.

> Finally, I note that the Council's broader planning policy has, commendably, moved in the direction of reduced car dependency and more active, people-centred land use. The permanent expansion of a surface car park runs counter to that direction, and it would be a shame if the pursuit of short-term parking supply came at the cost of a business that embodies exactly the kind of vibrant, community-oriented land use the Council's own policies aspire to encourage.

> I would ask the Council to answer the following questions before proceeding:

> - Has any modelling been done on alternative approaches to event-day parking demand, including transport incentives or demand management?

> - What community consultation has taken place with residents who use and value Hyper Karting?

> - How does this decision accord with the Council's stated commitments on reducing car dependency and supporting local employment?

> I ask that the Council delay any final decision, consult with Hyper Karting and the broader community, and genuinely consider alternatives before proceeding.

> Thank you for your time and consideration.

> Yours sincerely,

City of Sydney - don't dump hyper karting!!

I regularly work at moore park and park in the car park. There has never been a shortage of car parks on level 2 or 3. I don't think I've ever made it to level 4, even when there are sporting events on.

Moore Park is a weird place at the best of times. The only entertainment thing that makes sense there is the hyper kart. Maybe the cinema.

It would be a huge loss to kick them out!

Dear Shannon Rickersey,

I am writing to express my support for Development Application RD/2023/897/A for 116 Lang Road, Moore Park NSW 2021, specifically in relation to retaining Hyper Karting at the site rather than reverting the space back to parking.

My children regularly use Hyper Karting, and it has become an important recreational outlet for our family. It provides a safe, structured, and engaging activity that keeps young people active and socially connected. Facilities like this are increasingly valuable and should be preserved where possible.

I understand that there is a proposal to return the site to parking use. However, I strongly believe that this would be a step backwards. Moore Park already has substantial parking capacity, particularly to service major events, whereas unique recreational facilities like Hyper Karting are far less common and deliver far greater ongoing community benefit.

Retaining Hyper Karting contributes to a more vibrant, family-friendly precinct and supports a shift away from prioritising car storage toward more active and engaging uses of space. It enhances the overall appeal of the area for both locals and visitors.

For these reasons, I urge that the application be supported in a way that allows Hyper Karting to continue operating at this location, rather than replacing it with additional parking.

Thank you for considering my submission.

Kind Regards,

Heather Hibbert

To the Decision Makers regarding Hyper Karting Precinct,

I am writing to you today not only as a supporter of Hyper Karting, but as a dedicated member of the team. As an Accountant for the business, I see the real human impact this business has on our staff and the wider community.

Hyper Karting is more than just a track, it is a livelihood for over 150 people. In my role, I see the payroll and the personalities behind the numbers. These are individuals who rely on this business to support their livelihood and build their careers. Closing a thriving, high-growth business; effectively terminating 150 jobs simply to increase a car park's capacity by 296 spaces is, quite frankly, an unacceptable trade-off. It is a step backward for local employment and a blow to the hardworking people who have built this brand.

From a financial and community perspective, Hyper Karting acts as a massive anchor for the area. We draw thousands of visitors who don't just visit the track; they spend money at neighboring cafes, restaurants and retail outlets. After analyzing our growth and reading through countless customer reviews, it is clear that we are a primary reason people visit this precinct. Replacing a revenue-generating, high-traffic destination with static car spaces is a poor economic decision that will lead to a dead zone in the community, ultimately hurting other local businesses.

I see the feedback every day. People don't just come here to drive, they come here to create memories. Whether it's a kids' birthday party or a corporate team-building event, the reviews consistently highlight the joy and energy our facility provides. To lose such a vibrant hub of activity for the sake of more asphalt and concrete is a tragedy for the culture of our city.

I strongly urge those in the position of power to reconsider this decision. Hyper Karting is a successful, loved and vital part of this community. We provide joy to customers and stability to 150 employees. Please do not choose 296 parking spots over 150 human lives and a business that brings so much value to the area.

Kind regards

Ishit Patel

Dear City of Sydney council,

Hyper Karting is exactly the sort of business and activity that adds colour, interest and amenity to our wonderful city.

It is a smart and innovative business idea and use of space, the sort of thing that should be encouraged and rewarded. I know that the council likes to think of itself as a champion of these ideas.

I understand it is not high-brow, or a cultural endeavour but it does give many people, including kids, an opportunity to engage in an activity that is engaging, good exercise and most of all fun. Without this business, go karting will be effectively off limits to most young people in the city of Sydney, being replaced by effectively nothing.

Hyper Karting is an example of the innovation of use of space our city needs more of, while also providing a truly unique and otherwise off-limits experience to the residents of the City of Sydney. It should be celebrated and used as inspiration, not removed.

Sincerely

Duan Wong

I am writing in opposition to the decision to shut down Hyper Karting in Moore Park.

In a time when we're expected to use fuel moderately, it makes little sense to reconvert the Hyper Karting space back into a car park, especially when there's at least 2 public transport options in the area.

Hunter Clarke

Hyper karting remains to be a key entertainment location that is extremely accessible to many people, not limited to motorsport fans.

Its existence would be much more impactful than a potential conversion into car spaces.

Please consider Hyper karting's great impact to the community.

Dear Assesment Officer,

I write to formally object to Development Application RD/2023/897/A, which proposes the removal of Hyper Karting Sydney to facilitate increased car parking capacity for intermittent sporting events.

This application raises significant concerns from a strategic planning, land use, and community value perspective—particularly within the policy framework of the City of Sydney.

1. Inconsistent with City of Sydney Strategic Planning Priorities

The City of Sydney has consistently prioritised:

- Active, engaging, and experience-based uses
- Year-round economic activation
- Reduction in car dependency and more efficient land use

This proposal directly conflicts with those priorities by:

- Replacing a high-activity, experience-driven venue
- With low-activation, car-dominant infrastructure used only intermittently

The outcome represents a regression in urban planning terms, shifting from activation to passive, underutilised space.

2. Disproportionate Trade-Off: Permanent Use vs Occasional Demand

Hyper Karting Sydney is a permanent, operational recreational facility delivering continuous value across:

- Social and community engagement
- Tourism and visitor economy
- Employment and local business activity

The justification for its removal—occasional peak parking demand during events—does not represent an equivalent or reasonable trade-off.

Planning outcomes should not prioritise infrequent peak demand over consistent, daily use.

3. Inefficient and Low-Value Land Use Outcome

Car parking—particularly for intermittent use—is widely recognised as a low-value urban land use, especially in a dense metropolitan context such as the City of Sydney.

The proposed outcome would:

- Leave the site underutilised for the majority of the time
- Reduce economic productivity per square metre
- Diminish the experiential and cultural value of the precinct

This is inconsistent with best-practice urban planning and the City's own strategic direction toward higher-value, activated land uses.

4. Loss of a Unique and Irreplaceable Facility

Hyper Karting Sydney is a specialised recreational offering with limited comparable venues within the metropolitan area.

Once removed, it is highly unlikely that:

- A similar facility would be reintroduced within the City of Sydney
- The lost recreational capacity would be replaced elsewhere

This represents a permanent erosion of recreational infrastructure, which should be carefully protected rather than displaced.

5. Availability of Alternative Event-Day Solutions

Event-based parking demand is a known and manageable challenge that should be addressed through:

- Integrated transport strategies
- Public transport utilisation
- Temporary traffic and parking management measures

It is not appropriate to remove an established business to accommodate non-permanent demand that can be addressed through established planning mechanisms.

6. Precedent Risk

Approval of this DA would set a concerning precedent whereby:

- Established, compliant businesses can be displaced
- Long-term land uses are subordinated to short-term operational convenience

This undermines planning certainty and sends a negative signal to businesses investing in experiential and community-oriented uses within the City.

Conclusion

This application prioritises occasional convenience over sustained community, economic, and strategic value, and is inconsistent with the City of Sydney's planning vision.

I strongly object to Development Application RD/2023/897/A and request that Council:

- Refuse the application in its current form; or
- Require a revised proposal that retains Hyper Karting Sydney while addressing event-related parking through alternative strategies

Thank you for considering this submission. I would appreciate being kept informed of any updates or determinations relating to this application.

Kind regards,

Craig Warren

I'm writing to express my strong support for Hyper Karting remaining at Moore Park. I request that my name and contact details are not published with my submission.

Since opening, Hyper Karting has been a great entertainment asset in the inner city. It fills a gap that very few venues in Sydney manage to fill - a fun, safe, any-weather activity that appeals to families, friends, corporate groups, and visitors alike. I have hosted multiple work events there, bringing many colleagues into the precinct and directly supporting surrounding businesses for lunch and post-event drinks. I have also attended and organised numerous social outings with friends at Hyper Karting, all of which have been consistently positive and memorable.

As a long-term resident of Sydney, I have watched the city invest heavily in public transport, particularly the light rail connection with Moore Park. That investment has finally made the precinct accessible without relying on cars. In that context, the proposal to remove a thriving entertainment venue - one that employs more than 150 people - simply to reinstate 296 car spaces is difficult to justify. It runs counter to the city's own transport strategy and undermines the purpose of the light rail.

Hyper Karting brings people into Moore Park, supports local jobs, and adds real value to the area. Closing it would be a loss for the community and for the many businesses that benefit from the activity it generates.

I strongly urge that Hyper Karting be allowed to continue operating.

Dear Shannon and City of Sydney

I am a rate payer and work in the City of Sydney.

I write to expressing my support for the ongoing operation of Hyper Karting in the EQ car parking. Even as an infrequent visitor to the race course, I see it is clearly having a positive impact on the centre and it a much higher and better use of the space.

I encourage council to further extend their right to operate in the car park.

Good morning,

Please keep Hyperkarting at Moore Park, it was part of my recovery from carer burnout. I had such lovely memories with other young carers with Carer Gateway and continue going back there for a fun, safe, friendly time. It is the safest gokarting venue in NSW and one of the few venues for young people that are safe and do not involve any alcohol. Sydney has a great lack of third spaces that are affordable, please consider keep Hyperkarting open.

Thank you for your consideration

Please do reconsider the closure of the Hyper Karting rink.

It is rare to see people in western Sydney have opportunities for nightlife and I fear that if you shut down this place you are risking alienation with future voters of your electoral and also diminishing the economic value of the area by its closure.

We do not need more profitable businesses that have a tandem-positive effect with other local businesses that help generate revenue for your local landlords it would be a real shame for patrons to have less of a reason to spend money in your area.

Do better or risk votes simple as.

Council, please reconsider the move to shut down Hyper Karting.

Not only are they an incredible business that has made memories, but brought much needed life to the entertainment quarter district that has been lacking for so long.

I would not have dined or otherwise visited the EQ over the last few years if it weren't for Hyper Karting. Shutting them down would have far reaching impacts on local businesses in their vicinity.

Hyper karting is one of the best go kart tracks in Sydney. Closing it down for car park spots would be a huge mistake as hyper karting is one of the only reasons I actually visit the Sydney entertainment area at More park otherwise I would see no interest in traveling there. Closing it down would be a huge mistake for Australians as well as the thousands of tourists that would visit the venue.

Hi Team,

Please keep this great venue alive. We are local residents and take our young children here frequently. With the light rail links and additional Allianz Stadium parking I can't see the reason to shut this down for one extra level of parking. Especially given the city's push for public transport and green transportation.

Cheers. Phil

Is the City of Sydney council really this ridiculous??!! Closing down a fantastic go-karting entertainment activity for kids when Sydney is already pretty much the most boring city in the world!! What's there to do?! Time zone?! The beach?! We don't have a single theme park!! At least let kids and adults have a speck of entertainment in their lives!! What a deadbeat Government we have

Hi,

I am so sad to hear the news that Hyper Karting is at risk of closure. My nephew loves this place so much.

This is such an immersive experience and just a peaceful one, I hate go karting with petrol yuck it stinks!!! But this place is so fun, clean, doesn't stink lol. And is actually such a fun time.

It would truly sadden me if this place closed and 150 people + were affected or without any work.

This feels inhumane and people should do better! This is the most empty car park in Sydney unless there's a concert but I always find parking on the residential streets nearby.

It would be a true loss to lose Hyper Karting

DO NOT SHUT DOWN HYPER CART RACING!

This place is such an amazing attribute to the community and the entertainment quarter. I've had so many great memories racing there with friends and family, and countless birthday parties hosted there too. Please do not shut it down, there's no reason too it will only affect other businesses and the markets in the entertainment quarter. Parking is not what Sydney needs - it is simply greed, there is also more than enough parking in the area too.

DO NOT SHUT IT DOWN PLEASE!!! It will be a very big mistake.

Hi Shannon,

I wanted to reach out regarding the future of Hyper Karting at Moore Park, as I understand there are plans that may see it removed. I felt it was important to share some concerns from a community and visitor perspective.

Moore Park has increasingly become a destination precinct, not just a place people pass through. Venues like Hyper Karting are a big part of that. They give people a reason to spend time in the area outside of major events, which supports surrounding businesses and keeps the precinct active throughout the week. Removing an attraction like this risks creating quieter, underutilised spaces rather than vibrant ones.

From a visitor point of view, it also fills a unique gap in Sydney's entertainment offering. There are very few experiences that are accessible, group-friendly, and suitable for a wide range of ages while still being something a bit different. It is often one of the only options for team events, birthdays, and casual group outings that isn't centred around food or drinking. Losing that kind of offering makes the city feel more limited.

Another important factor is the sustainability aspect. The electric karting setup is a strong example of how recreation can evolve in a more environmentally responsible way. It feels counterintuitive to remove a low-emission facility and replace it with additional car parking. If anything, this feels like an opportunity to double down on reducing car dependency in the area. Better public transport access, event-based transport planning, or incentives to reduce driving would be a more forward-thinking approach, especially with fuel costs continuing to be a concern for many people.

There is also a broader signal this sends to businesses. Hyper Karting represents a significant private investment into Sydney's entertainment landscape. When a venue like this is removed despite its popularity and uniqueness, it can create uncertainty for other operators considering investing in similar concepts. Supporting innovative, experience-based businesses should be a priority if Sydney wants to remain competitive with other major cities.

The employment side is also worth highlighting. Venues like this provide accessible jobs for younger people and those looking to build experience in customer service, operations, and events. Removing it reduces those opportunities and impacts a large number of workers who rely on consistent shifts.

It's also hard to ignore the optics of replacing a high-engagement community venue with more parking. With ongoing conversations around congestion and urban planning, this feels like a missed opportunity to rethink how Moore Park evolves. Encouraging people to stay longer, engage more, and access the area without relying on cars would deliver far greater long-term value.

I completely understand that planning decisions are complex and involve competing priorities, but I would strongly encourage reconsidering this direction or at least exploring alternatives. Whether that means retaining the venue in its current location or identifying a suitable relocation within the precinct, it would be a positive outcome for both the community and the city.

Thanks for taking the time to read this. I appreciate the work that goes into these decisions and hope this perspective is helpful.

Kind regards,

1021

Dan

Hi Shannon

After hearing some of the recent media coverage around the potential closure of Hyperkarting at The Entertainment Quarter I felt compelled to send a short note to express my views.

I live somewhat local to EQ and visit there semi regularly for events (Swans/NRL/A League games as well as movies and dining at EQ). I have been to Hyperkarting many times with my teenage sons who over the years have held and attended birthday parties there. It is a brilliant small business and we would be seriously disappointed if it was denied an extension to its DA approval by Council.

My understanding of the Council's reasons for the refusal all relate to the issue of car parking. In a world class city like Sydney with an amazing transport network (including a recently completed light rail system servicing the Moore Park Precinct), why are we trying to cater for car parking as opposed to encouraging the use of public transport?

In the many occasions I have been to EQ I have never experienced the car park facility to be at capacity. Whilst I admit that I have not attempted to park there for any major sporting events (for which I would use the light rail), I again make the point that the general public should be encouraged to take other forms of transport to this area which becomes choked with traffic during significant events. The reduction of parking spaces would be the ideal means to achieve this, with the added benefit of extending the Hyperkarting operation into the future which brings other benefits (including social and commercial) to this area.

Council should be looking to encourage and increase the commercial entertainment/activities in and around EQ, not diminishing them.

These 296 spaces will remain unused for the vast majority of the extension period sought by Hyperkarting and would be better used in their current format which would also result in financial benefit to Council and the precinct generally.

I sincerely hope Council reconsiders its decision and allows this small business to continue its use of the car parking spaces. I have no interest in this apart from being an occasional visitor to Hyperkarting and EQ, but strongly urge Council to weigh the benefits attached to Hyperkarting's existence against a mostly empty car park through to July 2028.

Thanks for considering my views.

Please keep this place open, there's nowhere else like it!

Hi there,

We were really saddened to hear that Hyper Karting is at risk of closing.

This place is so much more than go-karts. We held our Christmas party at Hyper Karting, and it was one of the most genuinely fun and memorable team events we've had. It's rare to find a venue that brings people together across ages — Hyper Karting does exactly that. It's not just a place for kids, but a space where adults can let loose, have fun, and reconnect with that sense of joy we don't often get in everyday life.

Beyond the fun, there's a real sense of community when you walk through the doors. You can feel the energy, the passion of the staff, and how much effort has gone into creating a place where people belong. Losing Hyper Karting wouldn't just mean losing a venue — it would mean losing jobs for real people, families, and livelihoods, all for a car park that isn't even being fully used.

Hyper Karting adds life, character, and vibrancy to the area. It's the kind of place people talk about, recommend, and come back to. Sydney needs more spaces like this — not fewer.

We truly hope this decision can be reconsidered and that Hyper Karting gets the support it deserves to continue operating. It would be a real loss to the community if it didn't.

Thank you for everything you've created and for the joy you've brought to so many people.

Kind regards,

Jesse
